The Supreme Court of the United States and state and national courts generally shall have no power to pass upon the constitutionality of congressional enactments, and the courts of the respective states shall have no power to pass upon the constitutionality of the enactments of their respective legislatures; except so far as they are contrary to the National Constitution or to national laws or treaties, which are given constitutional recognition.

Coronado Coal Company vs. United Mine Workers of America.

A decision has just been rendered which makes necessary once more a review of this case, the facts of which as they had then developed were presented by the Executive Council to the St. Paul (1918) Convention. On July 25, 1914, A. S. Dowd, the receiver for nine coal corporations, brought action against the United Mine Workers of America charging that the organizations since 1898 had been in a gigantic conspiracy with union operators to interfere with the production and commerce of the corporations that followed a non-union policy by means of strikes and attendant violence. We, therefore, recommend that this convention of the American Federation of Labor authorize the Executive Council to co-operate with the officers of the United Mine Workers of America and render such assistance as may lie within their power in appealing from the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Reconstruction Program.

The St. Paul Convention instructed the Executive Council to appoint a committee on reconstruction, this committee to thoroughly investigate the problem of reconstruction and to take such steps as might be found possible to safeguard the interest of the soldiers and sailors and workers during the period of reconstruction. The committee as appointed was composed of John P. Frey, editor of the International Molders' Journal; B. M. Jewell, Acting President, Railroad Employees' Department; John Moore, President of the Ohio District of the United Mine Workers of America; G. W. Perkins, President, Cigarmakers' International Union of America; Matthew Woll, President, International Photo-Engravers' Union of North America.

The report of this committee was rendered to the E. C. at its meeting in New York on December 23, 1918, and was there endorsed by the E. C. We desire to say that the reconstruction program drafted by this special committee is not only the most complete and most constructive proposal yet made in this country for the reconstruction period but constitutes practically the only program in existence having to do with the period of rebuilding the national life on a peace basis.

Liberty Bond Purchase.

True to its record of supporting the government in its just cause during the war and in furtherance of that purpose, the American Federation of Labor subscribed $10,000 to the Fourth Liberty Loan and $10,000 to the Fifth Loan, making a total of $50,000 invested in Liberty Bonds in the United States.

In addition, since we reported upon this subject to the St. Paul Convention, the purchase of $5,000 of Canadian Victory Loan Bonds has been effected, making a total of $15,000 of Victory Bonds.

Labor Political Policy.

With independent political labor activity engaging attention in a number of localities during the year, the views of President Gompers were sought by a great many members of the labor movement. In December President Gompers took advantage of a gathering of the committees on health insurance and reconstruction to express his views on the question of political policy. A number of representative men and women of labor were invited to meet with the members of these two committees in New York City on December 9, 1918.

The address delivered by President Gompers at that time was later considered by the Executive Council and endorsed by the Council as expressing the views of the Council.

Labor Legislation.

Summary of Legislation Enacted.

Extending the use of the special fund and authorizing acceptance of gifts under the Rehabilitation of Disabled Soldiers' Act.

Commission to fix minimum wage for women and minors in the District of Columbia.

To readmit to United States after discharge from foreign service aliens in cobelligerent friendly armies.

To enable the President to carry out the price guarantee for the 1918 and 1919 crops of wheat. Revenue Act, approved February 24, 1919, provides a 10 per cent tax on income of concerns employing child labor.

Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Law carried $184,000 to enforce the child labor provision in the Revenue Law.

Government grants $240 temporary increase in compensation to all employees.

Bonus of $60 is given to soldiers, sailors and marines at the time of their discharge.

Increase in compensation for postal employees.

Provision for commission to reclassify salaries of the Government employees.

Provision for commission to investigate the salaries of postmasters and employees of the Postal Service with a view to the reclassification and readjustment of same.

CORRESPONDENCE

Washington, D. C., July 23, 1919.

Dear Sir and Brother: Orders are now being received at A. F. of L. Headquarters for copies of the proceedings of the thirty-ninth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, held at Atlantic City, New Jersey, June 9-23, 1919.

Included in the proceedings are the report of the Executive Council and the convention's action thereon. These cover a wide range of subjects and are a record of trade union advancement during the past year. Addresses by the fraternal delegates from the British Trades Union Congress and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the reports of A. F. of L. fraternal delegates to these organizations are included, as is a verbatim report of the discussion on the League of Nations.

The proceedings also contain the convention's action on every other industrial, legislative, judicial and social question of interest to the trade union movement.

Because these proceedings are an official report of the most widely discussed convention the American Federation of Labor ever held, they should be given the widest circulation possible among the delegates to your body and among trade unionists generally.

I would suggest that your organization forward its order as early as possible.

The price has been placed at 50 cents per copy and $40 per one hundred copies.

With best wishes, I remain,

Yours fraternally,

FRANK MORRISON,
Secretary, American Federation of Labor.

A circular of Boston under recent date publishes a personal letter of Mr. I. Sommerfeld, with the inference that the letter comes from the J. A. B., Chicago.

Such is not the case, and Boston is playing a misleading game, which the membership should repudiate when they use a personal letter to place J. A. B., Chicago, in the light of endorsing their "One Big Union" idea. We did send them $100 on their appeal for financial assistance and that is the extent of our official action in the case.

The membership should weigh well any statements made in circulars of this kind, and it is usually the safer plan to discredit any circular or letter not signed by duly accredited officials.

R. E. VAN HORN,
Secretary J. A. B., Chicago.

St. Louis, Mo.

To Organized Labor—Greetings:

You are probably not aware of the fact that the Copper Clad Malleable Range Mfg. Co. and Heinz Stove Co. of St. Louis, Mo., are unfair to the above named organizations. Strikes are on at the plants of these companies and have been endorsed by the Central Trades and Labor Union, the Metal Trades Council of St. Louis and vicinity, and the Missouri State Federation of Labor.

We urgently request that your organization appoint or elect a committee to wait upon the dealers in your city and inform them that "Copper Clad Ranges" and Heinz Stoves are strictly non-union made.

Kindly send us the names of dealers handling Copper Clad Ranges and Heinz Stoves.

Thanking you in advance for your co-operation in this fight, we remain,

Fraternally yours,

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

Special Notice.

To the Officers and Label Custodians:

In compliance with Section 150 of the Constitution, as amended in regard to size of label, let me say—

We have enough of the large labels on hand to last until about Monday, October 20, 1919. Label custodians will issue the smaller sized labels on and after that date.

Label custodians requiring additional large labels before October 20 should state as nearly as possible the number of large labels they will need to carry them to October 20. Those who will have more than they will need, please notify this office stating the surplus number they will have, but do not return them to this office unless notified to do so.

The President, Secretary, and Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Label Custodian should meet as soon after October 20, 1919, as possible, and the Label Custodians produce all large labels he may have on hand, both stamped and unstamped. An exact record of the number of labels on hand and the numbers of said labels must be taken and recorded, and duplicate record forwarded to this office, same to be signed by all four officers. The officers will then be instructed as to what disposition to make of the labels on hand.

The new label will require a new set of type and type holder. The old press can be used. When ordering small new type and holder, state revenue district. The price of the type is 85c.

a set, and the holders 85c each. Do not delay ordering them; it will take some time to fill these orders, as the type and holders have to be made to order.

Yours Fraternally,

G. W. PERKINS,
International President.

The day of the non-unionist is going.
Police of Boston has a charter from the A. F. of L.

Co-operation is in the air.
English mines get 7 hours.
Boom the label—all labels.
First organize, then reduce the hours.
The standard of living must not be lowered.
If ever we needed a convention we need one now

Let us organize the cheap districts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and New Jersey.

No one should be great enough to cover all liabilities and all emergencies.

All hospitals and dispensaries ought to be open nights.

Will your state have a free university next year? If not, why not?

Study co-operation.

We must have a free press and free speech.

Less talk about better housing and more action.

HENRY ABRAHAMS.

Washington, D. C., August 1, 1919.

To the Secretaries of National and International Unions and City Central Bodies.

Dear Sirs and Brothers: When the Atlantic City convention of the American Federation of Labor had under discussion the report of the Executive Council on the co-operative plan and the report of the committee thereon, special attention was called to the national and international unions and the city central bodies which have thus far failed to contribute to the special fund for carrying on the co-operative plan of work. They were urged to make their contributions, or otherwise the special committee on co-operation which was continued by authority of the Atlantic City convention will be just that much hampered in the work.

If you have not already sent in your contribution I ask that you do so immediately, sending it to the undersigned who will promptly receipt therefor.

Counting upon your active assistance in this matter and with best wishes, I am,

Fraternally yours,

FRANK MORRISON.

Milwaukee, Aug. 5, 1919.

To the Secretaries: I notice that the President advises unions to vote "Yes" or "No" on strike applications having commenced to number them so as to permit of easy identification. This permits unions to vote secretly on a postal card by simply stating "We vote Yes or No on application 15, 16 or 17," as the case may be.

It obviates the necessity of writing a long letter specifying that the Executive Board of No. 50 and so met last night in hall so and so and voted by vote of so and so, were unanimously in favor of or against the strike application of union No. 50 and so, wherein the union asked for an increase of $2, $3 or $4 per thousand, and much other material not necessary and simply adds to the work of the secretary and requires considerable time to look over to ascertain just how a union voted. By simply saying "On No. 15 or 16 we voted 'Yes,' or we voted 'No,' it will answer all purposes and save one-half or more of the cost of answering, stating how you voted. I offer this as a suggestion to the secretaries. It simplifies their work, and simplifies, I am sure, the work of the International office.

Yours fraternally,

JAS. HAHN, Cor. Sec'y,
Union 25, Milwaukee, Wis.

St. Louis, Mo.

We would like to have an article in Journal on the following:

We noticed an ad in the "Tobacco Leaf" of a Gen. Pershing cigar. We wrote for information and found it is made in a non-union trust factory.

Now we believe if every one of our members who served under Gen. Pershing would write him a letter and draw his attention to the miserable low wage paid in those factories it might induce him to have that brand stopped, for we feel that a man like him who went out and fought for humanity will not stand to have his name used in that manner against organized labor.

Also they opened a non-union factory in Louisville, Ky., with no other object in view than to bring about a 50 per cent reduction in wages in St. Louis, for it is self-evident that a firm that will not pay $17 to $22 per M. if they can get them for $10.50 and $11.50 per M. like they are having them made in Louisville, Ky.

If it is within your power to publish something along these lines it will be appreciated by the joint union of St. Louis and East St. Louis.

Thanking you for any efforts you may put forth, I remain,

Fraternally,

FRANK OTTING,
Secretary.

Chicago, Aug. 13, 1919.

Regarding the report of delegates I wish the members to know that I am unalterably opposed to the Covenant of the League of Nations, and particularly to the so-called labor charter included therein.

I shall just cite one vital point of objection in each instance:

As an American citizen I am opposed to the British Empire having eight votes on questions affecting international relations while the United States has only one vote.

As a trade unionist I object to the labor charter, which gives the capitalists three votes in matters pertaining to labor legislation, working conditions, etc., while an alleged labor representative has only one vote.

However, when it came to action upon the covenant of the League of Nations it was coupled with the following rider or amendment: "That nothing in the League of Nations as endorsed by this convention can be construed as denying the right of self-determination and freedom of Ireland as recognized by the vote of this convention on Tuesday, June 17, 1919." Being in favor of the amendment relating to Irish freedom I was compelled to vote aye upon the subject as a whole.

NO. 390, THOMASVILLE, GA.

The books and accounts here at this time are in very fine condition. Cash and stamp accounts correct. Ledger nicely indexed and posted. All benefit cards and vouchers for expense on file. Only for their deficiency would say everything was in excellent condition. The deficiency is the amount embezzled by ex-sec. T. H. Wilcox, while the charter was in Valdosta, Ga. This man should be located and brought to trial. Wilcox also owes $19.00 int'l loan and $16.00 private loan collected from H. A. Jahn, one bad actor.

Statement as follows:

Int'l balance for April 1, 1916..... $441.02

The books and accounts here at this time are in better condition than I ever found them in before. Cash and stamp accounts correct. Benefit cards and vouchers for expense all on file. Ledger posted to show each member's standing in dues and benefit drawn, correctly—$5.00 overdrawn sick benefit had been called to their attention by the Int'l Office, as a result is not included in this statement. The deficiency, $4.00, is Int'l loan collected from L. Morrow No. 109655, and was omitted by ex-secretary Andy Marx. Has been refunded this month, May 1919.

Statement as follows:

Int'l balance for April 1, 1916..... $297.48

REPORT OF ORGANIZERS.

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1919.

This is the eighth week of Binghamton cigarmakers' strike and unless employers get down to honest business and do collective bargaining with the workers the struggle will continue for many days to come.

The cigarmakers of Binghamton have been asleep for 29 long years and never dreamed of doing anything to improve the shop conditions, shorten the hours of labor, or to get a raise in wages, or to organize so that they might progress along with the other organized workers of America so as to maintain American standards of living.

While the workers were inactive the employers grew so that no consideration was given to the workers at all. On the other hand, they went on scheming right along to get more out of the workers to keep them divided and to hold them in bondage. But the autocratic, get-rich-quick bosses went a step too far, as the women toilers, after being driven so far by improper methods used upon them, picked up enough courage and went on strike, demanding a raise in wages, shorter working hours, improvement in shop conditions, and collective bargaining—demanding what is coming to them, what is just and what is American.

Employers are there with all kinds of means that might serve their improper cause, but they shall not succeed as the striking cigarmakers will not let up until justice is done.

STEVE BABICH,
Organizer.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c. to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Note—The 25c assessment continued up to Feb. 3, 1919.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transactions on their books.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

C. W. Alden appealed against 280, Owego, reference closing of a shop. The appeal was not sustained.

DECISIONS OF EXECUTIVE BOARD

Washington, D. C., July 24, 1919.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A. by Union 98 of St. Paul, Minn., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative: None.

Negative: Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was, Union 98, by vote ordered that all members not actively engaged at the trade should take out retiring cards. Certain members appealed from the action of the Local Union to the International President. The International President sustained the appeal of the members; the union thereupon appealed to the Executive Board against the decision of the International President.

The International President bases his decision on substantially the following grounds: That Sections 76 and 77 of the constitution provide that "any member leaving the trade or becoming a foreman, as defined in Section 67, may take a retiring card." This is qualified by Section 78, which reads as follows: "Nothing in Section 76 shall be so construed as to mean members engaged as agents or employees of the Bureau of Labor Statistics or other occupations of interest to organized labor"; that the only question of fact in the two cases is whether the occupations they were engaged in are of interest to organized labor. In the two cases quoted the International President feels that both are employed in occupations of interest to organized labor; therefore, under the above sections these members should not be forced to take out retiring cards.

In accordance with the vote cast and above recorded, the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally yours,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

Washington, D. C., July 31, 1919.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by A. Bernard of Union No. 94, Pawtucket, R. I., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative: Stack.

Negative: Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was, Mr. Bernard, a 20-cent member, was suspended for non-payment of dues.

Mr. Bernard claims that the secretary of Union 94 had promised to notify him when he was reaching the limit in dues, and had he been informed he would have paid his dues and avoided suspension. He appealed to the International President against the action of the union. The International President refused to sustain his appeal. He therefore appealed to the Executive Board against the decision of the International President.

The International President bases his decision on substantially the following grounds: That this member is a 20-cent insurance member working at another occupation, and that it is his duty to keep his dues paid; that the member was constitutionally suspended, and the International President has no authority under the law to override the action of the union in enforcing the law.

The statement that the secretary promised to keep this member informed of his delinquency does not in any way change the facts of the case.

In accordance with the vote cast and above recorded, the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally,
SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

The greatest issue confronting America and the world, is fundamentally the economic issue. After all, the wages, hours of labor and working conditions is what fundamentally most concerns the workers. Here in America right thinking men and women rejoice in our political freedom and democracy, and many, especially of the workers, should like to see an equal amount of industrial democracy and justice therein. We fought to make the world safe for democracy. The workers are now striving to bring about a fair measure of industrial democracy, opportunity and justice.

The war shook civilization to its very foundation, and has brought a new conception to the mind and the heart of the great mass of the workers. The autocratic employer who does not understand this—or, if understanding it does not heed—has not grasped the full significance of the outcome of the world war.

The constructive trade unionists and the constructive trade union movement does not want to destroy anything on the economic field of endeavor except tyranny, brutality and injustice. It seeks to build up and make better our institutions, and more bearable and more pleasant the lives and the conditions under which the toiling masses must labor.

While the war is over, it has left a terrific burden that must be shouldered and mastered. Labor will do its full share in the reconstruction and rehabilitation period, and not one jot more. Capital and capitalists must carry their full share of this burden. All loyal American citizens should look the matter squarely in the face, unflinchingly meet the issue, and all stand ready to do their just and rightful share in maintaining our institutions and the prosperity and happiness of all our people.

For centuries the industrial autocrats with whip in hand have ridden rough-shod over the just rights and laudable aspirations of the toiling masses. With the rise and development of the constructive trade union movement the ruthless, autocratic industrial exploiter of labor has in many instances been tumbled off his high horse, and there are more to follow. We have reached that stage where the mass of the workers understand their rights as wealth producers and are more and more insistently demanding a full realization of these just and equitable demands. The beneficial achievements to labor, obtained by the constructive trade union movement, will continue to grow in helpful results just in proportion to the amount of judgment exercised and the real justice, from the broadminded standpoint, of the demands made.

Industrial Justice.

We are in receipt of an unsigned communication complaining against the action of the Executive Board in levying the recent two-dollar assessment. This complaint is unjust and unfair.

Assessments. Section 183 of the constitution reads as follows:

"The International Union shall maintain a fund, to be known as the General Fund, which shall consist of the funds in the hands of the local unions, and shall at all times amount to the sum of ten dollars per member."

And Section 184 provides—"Whenever such General Fund of the International Union shall fall below the sum provided for in Section 183, the Executive Board shall levy an assessment on each member to replenish the same."

This is a verbatim quotation of our own, self-made constitution.

Through the payment of sick and death benefits and the unprecedented expenditure for strike benefit purposes, the constitution made it imperatively necessary for the Executive Board to levy the assessment. The Executive Board had no choice in the matter. These benefits, provided for by the constitution, can not be paid without the membership's furnishing the funds with which to pay them.

Since January 1, 1919, 150 unions have made application to increase wages all the way from one to three dollars per thousand. Some unions have made more than one application. These applications, counting the unions where more than one application has been made, involved 24,000 members, who secured substantial increases of wages. The foregoing has no reference to the successful strikes for increase in wages last year or the year before, and does not include unions and members that secured an increase without an application or without leaving their benches.

Within the last few weeks three distinct and separate wings of the Socialists have met in convention in the City of Chicago, that is the Socialists Split. Socialist Labor Party, the left wing of the Socialist Party, and the extreme radical left wing of the Socialist Party. They declare themselves—The Socialist Labor Party, The Socialist Communist Party, and The Socialist Communist Labor Party.

We have not the slightest objection to their meeting and splitting into as many wings as they please, or all joining one Socialist Party. We maintain, however, that it is neither advantageous nor helpful to the strictly constructive trade union movement to in any way ally itself with these radical, revolutionary political parties that can not agree among themselves. Labor then in the purely economic field, in order to be entirely successful, must be united in one strong, compact, constructive trade union movement.

Society as a whole and at its best is not perfect, and probably never will be. To properly function it must have law, not oppression against the masses and in the interests of the few, but rather the natural law of restraint, which protects the right of one as against another, and ultimately society as a whole.

The same principle applies in our economic trade union movement. If we are to achieve the full measure of deserved success, we must proceed with right and justice in our minds and hearts, and in compliance with our own laws.

In the economic field of endeavor it is always advisable to build up. If the structure (the trade union movement) needs improvement, and it always does, the proper thing to do is to make the necessary improvements to the structure rather than to start hammering with destructive intent, at the foundation. Trade unions are the natural outgrowth of economic conditions. They exist through absolute necessity, that is to increase wages, reduce hours, and improve working conditions, and that necessity will keep the trade union movement alive. The trade union movement is fundamentally well grounded and right, and if permitted to function in the orderly way in compliance with its own laws and the will of the majority, it will go forward with leaps and bounds.

No just or honest man is afraid of the truth or the facts. No man, however, is entirely safe from lying mis-statements, innuendo, and insinuations. No one endowed with the common Propaganda. elements of fairness and justice will be moved or guided by underhanded misrepresentations, false insinuations, and accusations. The labor movement is too big and too important and there is too much at stake to permit the formation of opinions and judgment and action upon lying insinuations emanating from the venomous character assassins, even though they resort to these things to bolster up a losing game or to further the political machinations of a radical revolutionary movement.

It can not be said too often that the economic movement is a movement that more directly concerns labor than any other movement. Without discussing any other movements, political or otherwise, experience has taught that after all the thing that concerns us most is the economic or constructive trade union movement.

The Workers' Real Help. Political freedom and democracy are indispensable for the proper development of the masses industrially, politically, and socially. Political freedom and democracy, however, will not feed, clothe nor shelter the workers hence we must have then, with political freedom and democracy, the constructive trade union movement to guarantee to the workers that which is absolutely necessary to their wellbeing, comfort and happiness even in a democracy, because it is through constructive trade union activity that wages, hours of labor, and working conditions are controlled.

The self-appointed and self-styled radical who would even injure or destroy the trade union movement in his efforts to establish a different form of political government is the greatest enemy the real workers have to contend against. His poisonous propaganda aimed against constructive trade unionists and the trade union movement is intended to undermine and destroy all their influence and helpfulness. These radicals are not content to further their revolutionary, political movement, but are bending every effort to capture the constructive trade union movement by fair means or foul. They don't hesitate to spread insinuations or half truths, which are worse than whole lies, by word of mouth, by circular, or otherwise.

The constructive trade union movement is either right or wrong. Experience and the best minds in the labor movement declare that it is right, and it must and should be followed to its logical conclusion, without any deviation into byways and highways of fanatical, destructive, radical, revolutionary policies. Civilization, society, the state and the nation have grown up through the process of evolution and education. In the early struggles for political freedom and democracy it became necessary to resort to revolution, but wherever the masses have obtained political freedom, democracy, and, of course, the ballot, evolution and education are the surest means to permanent advancement and greater achievement. In organizations such as our own we have democracy, and the right of self-determination and self-government, and through the exercise of these rights, if guided by self-made law, our position will be more stable as we, through education and evolution, move forward to a more just and fair economic condition.

We have information that a circular is being circulated the concluding paragraph of which reads as follows:
O. B. U. "What do you say? Let's call a national convention, union and non-union, of all those working in the cigar industry, from the cellar to the garret, for the purpose of reorganizing along the line of one big union. On with the fight."

The circular also attacks Union 97, Boston, because it had the good sense to settle its strike with a give and take, conciliatory spirit.

It moreover proves the oft repeated warning in this Journal that at least some of these radicals are out for the one-big-union form of organization.

Review of General Trade Conditions.

The month of August was marked by little progress in constructive policies. The larger problems are as yet unsolved. The Peace Treaty, the League of Nations, the railway question, constructive legislation and any successful method of lowering the H. C. L. are still matters to be adjusted. The war—even yet not technically ended—has left its heritage of difficult problems in its wake, problems that need statesmanlike and even-handed justice in their adjusting.

Under such conditions a reactionary tone is to be expected in the markets. The drop in our excess of exports over imports from $625,000,000 in June to $225,000,000 in July is one of the results of this condition.

The steel industry is making steady progress toward larger production and wider markets. The volume of sales in nearly all lines of finished steel gained steadily during August, especially wire products, tubular goods, sheets and tin plate. Export business was active, particularly in railroad equipment. Exports have been mounting steadily, in June totaling 16 per cent of the capacity of the country, whereas before the war the heaviest steel exports amounted to but 10 per cent of the capacity.

The unfilled orders for steel shows an increase of 685,806 tons during July despite the fact that operation is increasing. The industry as a whole is now operating on an 80 per cent basis, with some departments up to capacity.

The Railroad Administration has asked for bids for 200,000 tons of rails which in itself is a stimulating factor.

Unfavorable weather conditions during the past six weeks, too much rain in some localities and too little in others, took a heavy toll of the crops. The yield in general will be much less than was predicted earlier in the season—yet there is no sign of a shortage in any particular crop and we will have an abundance for our domestic use and much to spare to those abroad where according to Mr. Hoover "100,000,000 people must live on imports." There is still no reason, nor has there been at any time, for the prevailing prices of food products.

American dressed meat production, including lard, amounted in 1918 to 20,129,800,000 pounds—a quantity never before approached in magnitude by the live stock industry of this or any other country. The corresponding figure for 1917 was 16,317,300,000 pounds.

Three-fourths of this enormous increase was in pork and one-fourth was in beef.

The meat surplus in 1918 was so great that extra export demands made little impression on it, although 1918 export shipments of meat and lard nearly doubled the 1917 figures—rising from slightly less than 1,750,000,000 pounds to slightly more than 3,000,000,000 pounds—and these figures do not include shipments to American military forces abroad.

The aggregate 1917 consumption of dressed meat and lard in the United States was approximately 14,500,000,000 pounds, but in 1918 it rose to 17,250,000,000 pounds. This means, after allowing for increase in population, an addition of 23 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country—despite the food conservation campaign which in 1917 caused consumption to decline considerably.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A minimum wage of $16.50 a week for women employed in all mercantile establishments in Washington, has been agreed upon by a conference of employers and workers which was called by the minimum wage board of the District of Columbia. The scale is said to be the highest yet reached through minimum wage legislation for women.

The Nolan $3-a-day minimum wage bill has passed the house by a vote of 327 to 48, and is now before the senate. It provides that no government employe shall be paid less than $3 a day. The bill was approved by the house at the last session of congress by a vote of 252 to 16, but failed to receive consideration by the senate. The bill has been urged for several years by Congressman Nolan of California, a member of the Iron Molders' union and a member of the congressional labor group.

While anti-union elements have been blaming organized labor for present high prices, along comes Annalist, financial paper, and prints a war industries board report which declares that high prices have spread throughout the commercial world. Therefore the statements of the antiunionists are already without foundation in fact, or organized labor is credited with power it did not realize it possessed.

The Canadian Government's latest Commission on Industrial Relations puts the following paragraph, pregnant with good sense, into their report:

"The commission believes that the day has passed when an employer should deny his employees the right to organize—a right claimed by employers themselves and not denied by the workers. Employers gain nothing by opposition, because the employees organize anyway and refusal only leaves in their minds a rankling sense of injustice. The prudent employer will recognize such organization and deal with its duly accredited representative."

The quicker our employing class senses the above opinion the sooner we shall be able to solve many of the problems confronting us today.

Collective Bargaining is, after all, the easier and most satisfactory method of bargaining and the closer the organization, of either employers or employees, the quicker wage disputes and working conditions are adjusted.

The Labor Union is the greatest "League to Enforce Peace" we have in this country today.

Does organized labor patronize the union label? According to reports to the executive officers of the Label Trades department of the American Federation of Labor they do not, at least to any great extent, and they base their argument in support of this contention on the reported output of union factories throughout the country. There are nearly four million organized workers in this country, and if each spent one dollar a day for union-made goods it would mean about $4,000,000 a day income to these factories, which, on a salary of $1,200 a year, would give employment to about 1,000,000 union workers. Four million workers earning each $5 per day could, if they were consistent, turn that $20,000,000 a day into an organizing campaign for union-made products that would bring startling results in a very short time. Think this over, Mr. Union Man, and see what you think about it.—Union Labor Bulletin.

TRADE NOTES.

While Americans are complaining of an advance of one or two cents on a cigar the prices in European countries have advanced ten and in some cases twenty times what they formerly were, and in Germany, especially, pure tobacco in any form is almost impossible to be found.

The Philippine tobacco crop for 1919 has suffered greatly from the drought, and as a result, the production is expected to be from 40 to 50 per cent smaller than last year.

The gross sales of the United Cigar Stores Company of America for 1919 are officially estimated at about $62,000,000 as compared with $52,037,748 in 1918 and $42,913,405 in 1917. On May 31 last, the company had in operation about 990 stores throughout the United States and 401 agencies.

All records for cigar production in the Ninth Pennsylvania district were broken during the month of July. The total production of all grades of cigars was 76,932,745. These figures have never been equalled, the nearest approach to them being in July and August, 1918, when 72,353,225 and 72,767,415 cigars respectively were manufactured.

Income account of the General Cigar Company for five months ended May 31, 1919, as filed with the New York Stock Exchange is as follows:

Gross earnings	$2,876,150
All expenses, taxes, etc.	1,895,462

Net earnings five months	$ 980,688
Previous surplus	4,667,081

According to figures cabled to the War Department, there were 397,715,765 cigars exported from the Philippine Islands for the 12 months period ending June 30, valued at $8,601,889. Of this number 276,289,377 cigars, valued at $6,757,451.50, were exported to the United States.

Regarding tobacco imports to England from British colonies, "Tobacco" of London says: "Trade comments are tentative, on the whole they are favorable. Thus with regard to Indian cigars it is expected that they will now compete successfully with Continental goods. The Rhodesian tobacco industry which is most promising will receive a great impetus. The country produces good cigarette tobaccos which can take the place of both Virginian and Turkish. They have a great merit in their excellent burning qualities. In the years to come Rhodesia is destined to be a great tobacco-producing country. Canada grows useful cigar tobaccos, and their use will be greatly extended. The same may be said about Jamaica."

Miss Anna Adams Gordon, of Chicago, President of the W. C. T. U., admitted that her organization is conducting a campaign for an amendment to the constitution to prohibit the manufacture and sale of tobacco.

"For nearly 40 years," said Miss Gordon, "the National Women's Christian Temperance Union has been conducting an educational campaign against alcohol and all narcotic poisons, including tobacco. This campaign is being conducted in the public schools, the Sunday schools and through the circulation of literature."

"Our organization is now conducting a campaign for an amendment to the national constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of tobacco."—Cincinnati "Enquirer."

The following statistics are taken from the preliminary statement relating to the collection of internal revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919, as submitted by Daniel C. Roper, Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The totals for 1919 are subject to revision on the verification of collectors' accounts.

The following table shows the number of cigars, cigarettes, etc., withdrawn for consumption, and on which tax was paid, for the fiscal year 1919, with comparisons:

All classes of cigars show an increase except Class A (cigars retailing at 5 cents or less). The increase shown in all other classes combined is not sufficient to wipe out the decrease of 1,813,467,175 shown in Class A, therefore a decrease of 673,422,580 is shown for the fiscal year. The above statistics appear to prove that increased prices mean decreased consumption.

The following table shows the tax paid with-drawals for consumption for the past seven years and should be studied carefully:

Latest reports from the cigar leaf markets show a strong demand for Connecticut broad-leaf. There is an apparent shortage in light wrappers of this kind and stocks of light wrappers, as well as seconds, are being rapidly bought up at prices ranging higher than last year. In view of this condition Wisconsin binders are being rapidly absorbed as they come on the market.

Havana types show an excellent quality, including a fine aroma and a good burn, the only objection being poor colors. There were no stocks carried over from last year, hence the new crop is in big demand at prices ranging higher. In Partidos, which this year must furnish much of the wrapper supply, the prices have been about 25 per cent higher than last year. The Remedios crop is almost entirely in the hands of speculators who are demanding exorbitant prices at the present time, but with an exceptionally good crop of Vuelta of an extra fine quality packers are of the opinion that prices in general will not reach the prohibitive mark that has been feared in some quarters.

The total stock of leaf tobacco for cigar wrappers and fillers held in bonded warehouses of the United States on June 31, 1919, was 54,552,122 pounds, compared with 59,817,- hand, while 1,627,233,876 pounds were held on April 1, 1919. Any tobacco in the hands of original growers and small dealers is not included in the accompanying report. These statistics represent the quantity of leaf tobacco reported as held by manufacturers who according to the returns of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue manufactured during the preceding calendar year more than 50,000 pounds of tobacco, 250,000 cigars or 1,000,000 cigarettes, and by dealers in or manufacturers of leaf tobacco who, on an average, had more than 50,000 pounds of leaf in stock at the end of the four quarters of the preceding calendar year.

The total quantity of cigar leaf tobacco on hand July 1, 1919, was 323,531,216 pounds, compared with 315,915,205 pounds, showing an increase for the current year of 7,616,011 pounds.

The total cigar leaf of New England, including Connecticut, was 65,909,056 pounds, against 63,719,176 pounds, or an increase of 2,189,880 pounds; Broad Leaf increased 375,624 pounds; Havana Seed decreased 199,382 pounds; shade-grown increased 2,011,638 pounds; New York

The production of tobacco in the United States this year will be 1,335,052,000 pounds, according to indications August 1, as published in the August Crop Reporter of the Agricultural Department. This is slightly less than the official estimate of last December for the 1918 crop, which was 1,340,000,000 pounds, but considerably more than the five year average for 1913-17, which was 1,090,000,000 pounds. Yet the acreage of the crop this year is given this month by the department as 1,774,000, or 114.5 per cent of the 1918 acreage.

Details about the condition of the crop and forecast for leading states and for the whole country, are also included in the August Crop Reporter as follows:

CORRESPONDENCE

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 7, 1919.

The joint unions of St. Louis are making a determined fight to show the attitude of the F. R. Rice Mercantile Cigar Co. of St. Louis.

The trade of this firm extends throughout Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas, Kentucky and Missouri. That part of St. Louis and vicinity we are able to take care of; it is that trade throughout the states that we are not able to reach so readily. Therefore we are asking you to publish an article in the next Journal drawing the members' attention to the fight we have on against this firm, as it is a fight, pure and simple, for the maintenance of our Blue Union Label, and ask the members in the territory mentioned to put forth all efforts and assist us wherever they can.

This firm has been able to establish quite a substantial business through the support of organized labor, and they opened a non-union factory in Louisville, Ky., with no other object in view than to bring about a 50 per cent reduction in wages in St. Louis. For it is self evident that a firm will not pay $17.00 to $22.00 per M if they can have them made for $10.50 and $11.50 per M, like they are having them made in Louisville, Ky.

If it is within your power to publish something along these lines it will be appreciated by the joint unions of St. Louis and East St. Louis.

Thanking you for any efforts you may put forth, I remain, fraternally,

FRANK OTTING, Secy.

Report of International Financier.

REPORT OF ORGANIZER.

San Francisco, Aug. 24, 1919.

I take considerable pride in submitting my report this week. I have negotiated agreements with the gentleman who has the concessions for cigar stands within the three steel plants, agreements to handle, display and feature strictly union made Blue Label cigars. This means putting before the eyes of not less than twenty-three thousand men Blue Label cigars. This job has kept me very busy every day, most of the time at the three plants, but the results obtained have been surely worth the time. In labor circles it is conceded to be one of the biggest things pulled off here in Frisco in many years. Attached you will see an item clipped from one of the daily newspapers. There are still some of the details to be attended to which I will do this coming week. Much more might be written on this subject.

I surely have left nothing undone to hammer the United Cigar stores during my stay. What was told to me before coming here, that the union men here know very little about union labels I've found to be true, but I am of the opinion, because of the many unions I've visited here, that I've created a strong sentiment against these United Cigar stand rat holes. When I depict the conditions under which these cigars are made it has a wonderful effect upon my hearers.

Fraternally,
SOL. SONTHEIMER, Organizer.

Contracts have been negotiated with the cigar stand proprietors of the Schaw-Batcher shipyard at South San Francisco and the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation providing for strictly union conditions in the future by Sol Sontheimer, general organizer of the Cigarmakers' International Union. A similar contract was signed by the concession proprietor at the Union Iron Works of this city one week ago. The work of Organizer Sontheimer in this city has been of a wonderful character insofar as obtaining results for the cigarmakers is concerned, according to local union officials.

In the future in these yards it will be impossible to obtain non-union products without specifically calling for them. Union label brands are to be pushed to the front and advertised extensively. All of these cigar stand managers have voluntarily agreed to display over their stores banners printed at their own expense advertising the blue label of the Cigarmakers' International Union.

During his stay in the city Sontheimer has visited almost 100 unions in the interest of his union label work. He reports that the demand for union label cigars is increasing to an appreciable degree, according to the reports reaching him from officers of the Label Section of the San Francisco Labor Council and members of the local Cigarmakers' Union, No. 238.—The Bulletin.

Just recently in San Francisco we were afforded a practical demonstration of the force in the union label as a lever to organize and help sister unions. The Union Iron Works, for the convenience of its employees, let out a concession for a cigar and tobacco stand within its gates. The concessionaire, apparently, was unaware that such a thing as union-made tobacco and cigars existed. However, through the agitation of the cigarmakers and the splendid support given them by the boilermakers, machinists, molders and all the other unions employed within the gates, the concessionaire soon began to realize that he ought to be carrying union-made stock, so he forthwith got in touch with the Cigarmakers' Union and signed an agreement to handle union-made cigars, tobacco and cigarettes. The result of this will be increased sales of union-made cigars in San Francisco and more employment for union men, while there will be that many less scab cigars sold and the chances for non-union labor to undermine the conditions of the organized cigarmakers will be diminished by so much.

This is a clear demonstration of the power we possess to solve our problems without any recourse to the waste of strikes and all the hardship they entail. More of this sort of work should be done by the unions in every line.—The Labor Clarion.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR

History—Encyclopedia—Reference Book.

Greatest labor work ever published. Every local union and every trade unionist should have a copy, which is now ready for distribution. Price, $2 net. Send orders to Frank Morrison, A. F. of L. building, Washington, D. C.

What the Book Contains.

Extracts from the "Foreword" of the history, which explains the remarkable features of the book:

"It was believed the membership would welcome a publication that would give in as concise form as possible every important proposition acted on by all the conventions. To that end the many questions considered in the thirty-eight sessions of the Federation have been compiled and published in encyclopedia form.

"While each subject is briefly treated the intention has been not to omit anything that would prevent a thorough understanding of every principle. The rule followed was to use the official language of the conventions. The belief was that it should be an American Federation of Labor book, not the work of any individual or group of individuals. The real authors are the delegates to conventions, extracts from whose resolutions and speeches are printed literally but in condensed form. It is the American Federation of Labor officially talking to you as you read, not an individual author. Every delegate who presented a proposition, discussed any issue or in any way left the impress of his thoughts on the trade union movement will recognize the result of his work in the book.

"Interesting information for everybody also is published. Tables of weights and measures, perpetual calendars, statutes of different states and a thousand and one other subjects that all together go to make up the most complete labor history in existence. And the great idea is that it is the American Federation of Labor speaking in its own language to the reader."

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged in-sane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Con-stitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commences on Feb. 8, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

The Executive Board levied a $2.00 assess-ment commencing Sept. 15, on all members (Class A to pay one-half). This assessment is in addition to the 20c weekly running assess-ment.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assess-ments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a mem-ber has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and as-sessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves with-out any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secre-taries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary in-formation thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the Interna-tional office. In order that you may fully un-derstand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Con-stitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitu-tion.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the per-son or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was de-pendent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict com-pliance with the law. Several cases have oc-curred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of member-ship, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and travel-ing card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transactions on their books.

Many secretaries have asked the question whether the $2.00 assessment, levied September 15, takes the place of the weekly 20-cent as-sessment. The postal card sent to unions ref-erence the stamps plainly states that it is in addition to the 20-cent weekly assessment. Every member is subject to the 20-cent weekly assessment and in addition to the $2.00 assess-ment. Those who join after assessment was levied are not subject to the $2.00 assessment but must pay the 20-cent weekly assessment.

NOTICE.—It is suggested that unions that have not yet ordered holder and set of type for canceling new labels do so without delay in order that they may be ready when the new labels are issued.

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work; Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149, inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 25 Milwaukee, Wis.—Ernst Meissner, who died August 21.

Union 243 Chicago Heights, Ill.—Julius Oschman, who was accidentally drowned August 24; a member since July 3, 1980.

Union 197 Warsaw, Ind.—Bert Brant, who died August 22, 1919.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

Eugene Howland and C. K. Bowman appealed against the action of the Joint Unions of Chicago in permitting the members of the Class A Union, who under the International Constitution are not permitted to work in union label factories, to vote on the question of increasing the bill of prices, affecting the regular thirty-cent dues paying members working in strictly union label factories, which proposition provided for an increase of fifty per cent in the bill of prices, with other restrictions and conditions affecting the union label shops; and for ordering the members on strike August 4 regardless of whether the strike be approved or unauthorized—(the date, August 4, to strike, made it impossible for the popular vote to approve or disapprove before August 4th. The members based their appeal on the following two paragraphs, Sections 3 and 4, of the agreement made between the Joint Unions of Chicago and the Class A Union, and upon which their charter was granted, at the time the dual Progressive Union came into the International Union, as Union Class A No. 527:

"The members of Class A to be granted delegates as representatives to the Joint Board with a right to vote only upon such propositions as affect the regulation of Class A shop conditions, but not on anything that affects the established bill of prices or label shops. (Number of delegates to be determined by the constitution). This shall also apply to the joint meetings."

"Class A members are exempt from all label assessments, but on questions of assessments to pay local benefits, they shall pay one-half, receive one-half, of allotted benefits, and be entitled to one-half vote, if they elect to pay full assessments they may do so and have full vote in disposition of said fund, the same to be determined at their own meeting."

And for levying a 20 per cent assessment on all members working. They based their appeal against this 20 per cent assessment on Section 193 of the constitution which in part reads as follows: "Local unions shall have the right to levy assessments and suspend members if the same be not paid in eight weeks, provided said assessment be not in aid of an unauthorized strike."

The appeal involves two separate and distinct questions.

On the right of Class A members to vote, this office has no official information that the agreement entered into between the Joint Unions of Chicago and the Progressive Union, now Union Class A 527, has ever been rescinded or changed, and in the absence of any such action the members of Class A Union 527 are prohibited from voting, by the signed agreement, on questions affecting the bill of prices of regular thirty-cent dues paying members working at a higher bill than they, in strictly union label factories.

On the question of the 20 per cent assessment, the application of the Joint Unions not having been approved, the question is clearly settled by the foregoing quoted part of Section 193, which gives the right to levy assessments—"Provided such assessments be not in aid of an unauthorized strike."

The appeal on the 20 per cent assessment is sustained.

F. Hough appealed against 55, Hamilton, for annulling his 20-cent card, for working in the tobacco department of the Tuckett Ltd. Cigar and Tobacco Manufacturers' Association. The appeal was not sustained. However, Mr. Hough may re-obtain his card by immediately quitting his present position.

F. Rabido appealed against 97, Boston, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. Appellant claims mixup in stamp account, which union doesn't dispute. The member is given the benefit of the doubt, and the appeal was sustained.

A. Dirkmán appealed against 97, Boston, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

G. Phillips appealed against 97, Boston, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

E. J. Callahan appealed against 97, Boston, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

A. Lenich and A. Paulus, both twenty-cent members, appealed against 236, Reading, for compelling them to pay purely local assessments. The appeal was sustained.

F. G. Argenta appealed against 300, Michigan City, for refusing him labels and suspending him for failure to pay percentage on fines. The appeal was not sustained.

O. Koepe appealed against 77, Minneapolis, for refusing his claim for out of work benefit. The appeal was not sustained.

D. H. Sheahan appealed against 277, Ocala, reference levying and collecting a local assessment. The appeal was not sustained. The appellant, however, should always be given an opportunity to vote on propositions to levy assessments.

F. Liebold appealed against 245, Ashland, for refusing his claim for out of work benefit. The appeal was not sustained.

C. W. Alden appealed against 280, Owego, reference packers. The appeal was not sustained.

W. C. Roescher appealed against 49, Springfield, for giving him a non-beneficiary retiring card. The appeal was not sustained.

J. Spiegel appealed against 25, Milwaukee, for donating money from the local fund, which was collected for label agitation and the payments of benefit, to the Socialist party. The appeal was sustained.

F. Comparetto appealed against 462, Tampa, for compelling him to pay deficiency assessment. The appeal was not sustained.

Note.—Letters remaining uncalled for at the office after being advertised in the Journal for one issue must be returned to carrier of Chicago postoffice by order of Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C.

Returned the following to Postoffice Department since the last issue of the Journal: H. Kurblitz.

Union 41 Aurora, Ill. for Eddy Rounds.

Union 44 St. Louis, Mo., for Wm. Borneman, Frank Peralta, W. A. Frather.

International Office, for Wm. Began, Elmer W. Fair, E. W. Fair, H. Kurblitz (2), Bert Seely (3), W. H. Seymour.

Demand the union label. If you are the right sort of a union man one suggestion of this sort is all that is necessary.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

Amendments proposed by Union 197, Warsaw, Ind.:

1. Every local union shall each month set apart 50 per cent of its gross receipts, which shall constitute a separate fund, to be known as the Sick, Death and Disability Fund. That 75 per cent of the General Fund held by the local unions at the time preceding the month in which this law shall become effective shall be added to said Sick, Death and Disability Fund, and no orders shall be drawn on said fund other than for sick, death and total disability claims.

2. The International President shall be and is hereby empowered to transfer any portion of the Sick, Death and Disability Fund from one union to another union to assist in the payment of all lawful sick, death and disability claims.

3. The International President shall cause to be created a Sinking Fund out of all the surplus of said Sick, Death and Disability Fund remaining in possession of the unions at the end of each fiscal year and to have same deposited in some reliable trust company in the name of the Cigarmakers' International Union by three Trustees, said Trustees to be elected in the usual official manner.

4. All interest accruing on said Sinking Fund shall be added thereto and become a part thereof and deposited as aforesaid until said Sinking Fund shall amount to or equal the total sum expended in the year preceding for sick, death and total disability claims, and said fund shall be continued and maintained as aforesaid.

5. All orders drawn against said Sinking Fund shall be signed by the International President and the three Trustees and no orders shall be so drawn until the combined local union Sick, Death and Disability Fund shall become lawfully exhausted.

6. No salary shall be paid out of said Sinking Fund for any reason whatsoever.

7. The International President shall publish annually in the Official Journal the complete and distinct condition of said fund or funds, together with the laws governing the same.

8. It shall be the duty of local unions to render monthly reports to the International President, who shall keep a record thereof.

Amendment proposed by Union 197, Warsaw, Ind.:

1. Each local union shall be and is hereby required to create and at all times maintain a sinking fund to be known as the General Sinking Fund.

2. Each local union shall, on or before the last day of June and December of each year, set apart 50 cents per member out of the funds of said local union exclusive of the fund provided for the Sick, Death and Total Disability Fund until said General Sinking Fund shall amount to a sum equal to $10 per member of said local union. All interest accruing on said fund shall become a part thereof, and said fund shall be continued and maintained.

3. Said General Sinking Fund shall be invested in government bonds or deposited in some reliable trust company in the name of Cigarmakers' Union No. —, as the International President may direct for the safety of said funds.

4. No orders shall be issued against any part of said General Sinking Fund until all other general funds shall become depleted or exhausted. All orders shall have the approval of the International President and be signed by the local president and the three Trustees.

5. Every local union shall, during the first week in July and January of each year, make a semi-annual report to the International President showing a complete and distinct condition of said General Sinking Fund. The International President shall publish the same in the annual financial reports.

Amendment proposed by Union 197, Warsaw, Ind.:

To amend Section 83.

No application to strike shall be sustained unless approved by a two-thirds vote of the membership of the local union making said application.

The amendment of 248 Jacksonville, Fla., increasing the reinstatement fee for suspended members, as published in the July issue—

Received the endorsement of 218 Binghamton, 130 Saginaw, 274 Pekin, 179 Bangor, 4 Cincinnati.

Not having received the required number of endorsements, it can not be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of 248 Jacksonville, changing the percentage allowed local unions for running expenses, as published in the July issue—

Received the endorsement of 218 Binghamton, 130 Saginaw, 274 Pekin, 292 Brooklyn, 384 St. Augustine, 215 Logansport.

Not having received the required number of endorsements, it can not be submitted to popular vote.

The amendment of 202 Portland, Ore., to raise a fund to carry on a campaign against the United Cigar Stores Co., as published in the July issue—

Received no endorsements, and hence can not be submitted to a vote of local unions.

Union 25 of Milwaukee hereby proposes an amendment to our constitution as follows: Amend Section 218 of our constitution, by striking out in line 6 the following (except those adopted at the convention) shall be valid unless two-thirds of the members voting, and insert the following (shall be valid unless a majority of the members voting). Section to read as follows: And no amendment shall be valid, unless the majority of the members voting, vote in favor thereof.

No one can deny that a widespread unrest exists in all parts of the globe. Many differ as to the cause, but society as a whole can not safely close its eyes with indifference to the fact that this unrest is here. Some of the causes can be safely asserted without fear of successful contradiction. Chief among these have been the brutal indifference and haughty attitude of autocratic employers, often augmented by the dyspeptic foreman who typifies the old saying of the beggar on horseback. Another is the denial of the right of the workers to organize for collective bargaining. Added to this is the greatest of all sins against the tranquility and stability of our institutions—daylight, legalized highway robbery, but commonly referred to and misnamed profiteering.

Since the beginning of time we have heard the oft repeated quotation, "As Ye sow so shall Ye reap." The plutocracy and aristocracy of Russia have reaped the inevitable harvest due from their acts of oppression and repression from a political as well as an economic standpoint. The affair in Russia did not just happen. It was the inevitable outcome of cause and effect.

Something akin to the same intolerable spirit prevalent under the Czar's regime is reflected in the attitude of certain Bourbon, autocratic manufacturers, of whom heretofore it has been said, "They can not learn anything new or forget any of their old methods and modes of procedure." Great changes have taken place. We are living in a new age, new environment, and revived hopes and aspirations. The new signs of the times can not be ignored without grave danger. This unrest is not confined to organized labor. In many instances never heretofore surpassed thousands of unorganized workers have dropped their tools, and marched out on strike with their fellow workers, and have maintained a spirit of determination to win, that is some indication of what these people can and will do when once organized. Because of a lack of organization these people may be beaten down today, but they will arise again as truly as the sun rises in the east and sets in the west. The days of cheap labor and long hours and the rule of autocracy in industry are nearing their end. Organization along constructive trade union lines is the only hope for the worker, for society, and even for our government.

The following amendment submitted by Union 191, Morris, has been adopted, as per vote published in this issue

Convention. of the Official Journal:

"That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Sections 2 and 3 of the constitution." This amendment, providing that the International President shall call a convention at the earliest possible date, having been adopted by popular vote, the convention will be called at the earliest possible date consistent with the laws governing the election of delegates, making of combinations of unions of less than twenty-five members, and the nomination and selection of a convention city. The International Executive Board now has the matter under consideration and will reach a conclusion in time for publication in the November issue of the Official Journal.

Section 3 of the Constitution provides: "The convention may on the last day of its session designate a place to hold the next convention, and at the same time name four additional cities as possible places for such purpose." For the information of the members attention is directed to the Proceedings of the Baltimore Convention, which sets forth on page 133, the following:

"Nominations for city in which to hold the next convention were called for and the following nominated: Saratoga, Chicago, Oneida, Kansas City, Mo., Tampa, Indianapolis, Memphis, Pueblo, Atlanta, Springfield, Ill., Saginaw, Salt Lake City, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Montreal, St. Louis, Rochester, Springfield, Mass., Washington and Brooklyn.

"At this time the delegates, tired of their long day's confinement, broke loose in a wild jubilee of joyous excitement, preventing the completion of the nominations and selection of a convention city.

"A suggestion by the President that the matter be left to a referendum at some future convention call was agreed to."

The suggestion of the President that the question of the place for holding the next convention be left to a referendum at some future time was agreed to.

In order to comply with Section 3 of the constitution, it will be necessary that local unions nominate cities in which the convention is to be held. You will notice that Section 3 provides that a city may be selected and that four additional cities as possible places for such purpose may be nominated. It further provides: "Whenever a convention shall be called the President shall ascertain which of the cities offers the best conditions as to hotels, etc., from a union standpoint. And if time permits he shall submit the names of the two fairest to a referendum vote, and a majority vote shall decide the question. Should lack of time preclude the possibility of referring the matter to a referendum, then a majority of the Executive Board shall be empowered to make the selection."

In order to comply with the provisions of the constitution and the action of the last convention the Executive Board unanimously adopted the following: "That the International President immediately notify local unions to nominate a city in which the convention is to be held, and that the five cities receiving the largest number of nominations be referred to the Executive Board, and that the International President then ascertain which of the cities offers the best conditions as to hotels, etc., from a union standpoint, and that the Executive Board then select the city."

If time will permit the two most favorable cities from a union standpoint will be submitted to a referendum vote.

A circular letter will be issued calling attention to this matter of nominating a city. Each local union may then, if it so desires, nominate one place, and the five cities receiving the largest number of nominations will be submitted to the Executive Board and to popular vote if time will permit after the information as to hotel and restaurant accommodations from a union standpoint has been ascertained, and the city most favorable in that respect selected.

Full information as to the dates on which combinations of unions with less than twenty-five members are to nominate and elect delegates, and the time for electing delegates by unions with more than that number of members, and the date for holding the convention will be published in the November issue of the Official Journal, and all members will have an opportunity to participate in the nominations and elections. No nominations or election of delegates can take place until the dates are officially fixed by the Executive Board and published in the November issue of the Official Journal.

Laws are made for the purpose of holding society, institutions, and organizations together. No government, as-

Laws sociation, or union can properly function without laws.

A disregard of self-made laws in a democratically administered organization leads to chaos, confusion, and defeat. Any man (or set of men) professing to believe in democracy, and in an organization functioning under self-made laws, who violates such laws, is in the long run working against his own best interests and those of his fellow workers. If the laws are wrong the proper thing to do is to amend them.

Deep thought should be given to the par-amount constructive issues that must receive attention in the Convention coming convention. Chief Delegates among these are:

Organization of the industry. What should be done to hasten organization?

The so-called Class A problem.

The bunch-breaking and roll-up team system. (The team system is growing.)

Benefits.

Dues and assessments.

Discipline and the enforcement thereof, especially in strikes.

The cigar machine.

The use of machinery, such as the suction table and the bunch-breaking machine.

The use of the union label. Can some plan be devised whereby the label will more effectively assist in organizing the trade? This merits deep thought and discussion.

The percentage of women employed in the industry is steadily increasing. What if any special legislation, especially in connection with sick and death benefits, shall be adopted for them?

All of the facts relating to our industry obtainable, in the possession of the International President, will be placed before the convention.

Local unions should take up the vitally important questions and fully discuss them and make known their combined judgment, to the delegate, who, of course, should reflect the opinion of those who send him and vote their convictions provided indisputable facts brought out at the convention do not make it necessary for the delegate to exercise his own judgment after hearing all evidence and facts in the matter. The very nature of the convention, in order to be entirely successful, makes it necessary that the delegate chosen have some leeway in the exercise of experience and knowledge gained in conference and debates with delegates from all parts of the country.

More democracy in industry carries with it responsibility just in proportion to the degree of democracy we demand and exercise.

Responsibility When demanding fair union wages we expect to and do give the equivalent in the work performed. In demanding and having a say in working and shop conditions the same rule applies, that is we must and do carry our share of the responsibility for the success of the enterprise.

One of the causes of friction and pronounced opposition of the employers to this just and equitable arrangement is a few mischievous makers who refuse to assume the responsibility and whose chief desire seems to be to destroy industry as conducted under the present plan of production and distribution. The great mass of the workers are right-minded, just, and fair, and can be depended upon to do their full share of work, and to assume their full share of responsibility. The men and women, however, of industry, of that mind and temperament know that labor can not be driven beyond a certain point without endangering health and longevity. With the elimination of unscientific and unnecessary waste and the turn-over system in industry, better wages can be paid and better conditions obtained and without increasing the cost of production. The really sensible thing is for right-minded employers to see the new light and to deal with and go along with the constructive trade union movement.

History is replete with would-be leaders who inaugurate a movement with high-sounding purposes, and then when it fails brazenly blame somebody else for their own mistakes of omission and commission.

The popular vote has wisely decided upon the holding of a convention. We need it.

Momentous questions will have to be met. We need all the brains and experience at our command. Men of ability, experience, judgment, and faith in the constructive trade union movement should be selected as delegates.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Men farm laborers in Japan average 19 cents a day and the women 11½ cents.

Great Britain has gone much further in the industrial employment of women than has the United States.

The membership of the National Union of Railway Men in England has passed the 460,000 mark.

Ninety-five per cent of the phonograph cabinets produced in the United States are made at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The New York State Federation of Labor convention adopted resolutions urging congress to ratify the peace treaty and the league covenant.

Ninety per cent of the consumers in Great Britain are workers.

Alaska's fish for 1918 will bring more than its gold, according to government statistics, the salmon being worth $51,000,000 wholesale at northern canneries.

On the extreme exchange quotations of July it cost the Englishman $1.14 to buy $1 worth of American goods; the Frenchman $1.42; the Italian $1.67; the German, if he were buying, $4.00. On the other hand, the American could buy a dollar's worth of goods for only 88 cents in England; 70 cents in France; 60 cents in Italy, and 26 cents in Germany.

The city of San Francisco still enjoys the 5-cent car fare, while cities elsewhere are paying 6, 7, 8 and 10 cents. The 5-cent fare is maintained in this city because we have a municipally owned and operated system which has demonstrated that it can pay the highest wages in the country to employees, observe the eight-hour day and decent conditions, and at the same time pay off its indebtedness, set aside a large depreciation fund and meet all other drafts on its funds out of a 5-cent fare. The secret of this is the fact that the capitalization of the Municipal Railway is not half water. There is a lesson here for other communities, other states and the nation.—Labor Clarion.

The most intolerant person connected with the trades union movement is the self styled "Radical." He is always prating about the rank and file, free speech and democracy, but only on rare occasions do we find one of them in a meeting practicing what they preach. They invariably endeavor to confuse the issue under a gas attack of abuse directed at any one who dares think or express an opinion at variance with their own. They hiss and they howl at a speaker who expresses a view with which they are not in sympathy and any one who does not immediately fall into line behind their blatant band is branded as a crook and in league with the boss.

The regular meeting of any union should be the freest forum in the world. The trade union movement is democratic and democracy stands for the free expression of the opinion of its members, but just watch the fellow who will go to any effort to vilify the officials, question the integrity of members placed on committee work, cuss the A. F. of L. for being reactionary and autocratic and you will find he is the same bird that leads the hissing and howling when one who does not agree with him takes the floor.

Basil Manly says he finds that 82 corporations which in pre-war years had an average profit of $325,000,000 jumped the figure in 1916 to $1,000,000,000 and in 1918 "after the deduction of state and federal taxes of every conceivable charge which they could devise for reducing and concealing their apparent profits, they still had left $763,000,000, an increase of more than 100 per cent."

It is said that one flour mill made a million by profiteering, for which burst of enterprise it was compelled to turn over a million dollars' worth of flour to the Food Administration. The Wall Street Journal finds that 104 corporations "from December 31, 1914, to December 31, 1918, after heavy expenditures for new constructions and acquisitions, and record-breaking dividends, added a total of nearly $2,000,000,000 to working capital. Practically all of this increase came from surplus earnings." After meeting all of their obligations, paying all of their bills, rewarding their stockholders with handsome profits, and improving their plant and equipment, these 104 corporations were able to add nearly two billions to the loose change that they carry for the purpose of doing business.

Nor was this the end. The final surplus, in the hands of these corporations, after all dividends had been paid, and all other charges met, was $1,941,498,000. This surplus consists of funds that may be appropriated by the board of directors for any purpose that they see fit. It is really free cash that is no longer needed in the business.

Besides that the inventories showed that the properties of these 104 corporations had increased in value during the four war years, $1,522,000,000.

Just how much toll these profiteers, the meanest, most inhuman form of burglary known, will exact this year and the years to come is problematical. That it will be much is certain.

Men who are willing, for the sake of profit, to jeopardize the nation's very existence at this crucial period in the history of the world should have no standing in a court of justice.

Fines are in no measure a cure. In order to pay the fine imposed they simply advance the price of the articles by them controlled and we are then compelled, as consumers, to pay the fine that we have imposed with the hope of relief.

The conscientious objector, during the war, was perhaps a handicap to the war's successful termination. They were, without any trouble and with great dispatch, put where they could do the least harm.

Now that the war is over, how about this class of UNCONSCIENTIOUS profiteers? Are they not a serious handicap to the successful and peaceful reconstruction period?

Would their being out of the way during these critical times have a beneficial effect on the present situation?

Propaganda having for its purpose the importation of Chinamen for farm work is being distributed among members of Congress. Several post cards signed by the "Food Producers' Union," have been received by each member. They were mailed from Brooklyn, N. Y., and read:

"Gentlemen: With Chinese farm labor under contract for five years at $30 a month and feed themselves, can food be produced at cost; otherwise not. Agriculturists are tired of being made the goat and now pass the buck to Congress. Low cost farm labor provided in time to sow the winter grains means low priced food in one year. It's up to you."

Written on the cards is this appeal: "Help save America."

Cheap labor is the Savior these "Food Producers" are praying for.

Did the advent of coolie labor in California make grapes any cheaper in Chicago? Not so that you could notice it.

There are millions of tons of foodstuffs produced now and allowed to rot in the fields because these "Food Producers," that do not produce anything but high prices for the consumer and profits for themselves, will not allow it to come on the market.

Take bananas for example. The labor cost of production is comparatively small, wages of the natives who produce the crop being miserably low, yet we are asked 60 cents a dozen for them, while boatload after boatload is dumped into the bay at Mobile, Alabama.

Labor is of the opinion that it is the middlemen who are to blame for much of the extortion in the necessities of life.

Labor can eliminate the middleman's profit at any time they so desire. The Co-Operative Association will do it. Look into this matter, get literature on the subject. See what it has done in other places. Ask for an organizer, and when he comes, form your Association, affiliate with the nearest wholesale, boost the proposition of controlling all our needs from the planting to the table or from the raw material to the finished product, as the case may be, and you will have started on one apparently successful road to final emancipation from the H. C. L.

TRADE NOTES.

Low grades of most types of tobacco are scarce in the United States today. One large handler of leaf says that it is impossible to purchase 5,000 cases. "Practically all low grade have been sold for export."

Leaf tobacco shipments from Sumatra for the first three months of 1919 amounted to 8,792,491 pounds, distributed as follows: United States, 452,496 pounds; Netherlands, 3,244,397 pounds; Great Britain, 3,280,112 pounds; Singapore, 1,624,075 pounds; and other countries, 191,411 pounds.

For the fiscal year ended July 31, 1919, the American Sumatra Tobacco Co., reports surplus after all charges and taxes of $890,388, equivalent after preferred dividends to $5.56 a share earned on the $13,532,885 common stock, the latter amount of common stock, however, includes an increase of $5,696,900, which became effective approximately as of July 5, 1915. In the previous year surplus amounted to $2,164,654, or $29.75 a share on the $6,813,900 common stock then outstanding.

The following table shows the Porto Rican output of cigars, cigarettes and manufactured tobacco for the past two year with comparisons:

Announcement was made early in September of the reorganization of the Schulte Cigar Stores. The new corporation will be known as the Schulte Retail Stores Corporation, and the capital stock has been increased from $1,500,000 to $15,000,000.

New stores are to be opened and a general expansion of business is planned. Ten years ago they operated twenty-two stores in three cities. Today they operate 151 stores in twenty cities, and leases have been secured in thirty more. They operate no stores and hold but one lease west of the Mississippi river, that being a lease at Oklahoma City.

Fourteen thousand bales of Sumatra tobacco consigned to dealers in New York arrived Sept. 15. This is the largest single shipment received so far this year. Other shipments are on the way, but it is asserted that Sumatra suitable for American consumption will be curtailed at least 20 per cent on account of the crop shortage of last year.

According to a recent bulletin issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the First District of Pennsylvania led in the number of cigars manufactured in 1918. This was followed by the Ninth District of Pennsylvania, the Third District of New York, the District of Maryland (including the District of Columbia), the District of Florida, and the Second District of Virginia, as in the order above.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor has received replies from 51 cigar factories showing the employment in June, 1918 and 1919. There were 17,624 persons employed in these 51 factories in June of last year, decreasing in June of this year to 15,016, showing a decrease of 14.8 per cent. The pay rolls in these 51 factories decreased from $269,237 in June, 1918, to $243,630 in June of this year, showing a decrease of 9.5 per cent.

There were 16,265 persons employed in these 51 cigar factories in May of this year, decreasing in June of this year to 15,096, or a decrease of 7.2 per cent. The pay rolls in these establishments decreased from $266,305 in May of this year to $245,689 in June, or a decrease of 7.7 per cent.

Exports of cigars from Havana show an increase of 5,294,009 for the month of August, 1919, over the same month last year. The first eight months of the year show a decrease of 12,254,092, as compared with the same period last year.

United States imports of Havana cigars for August showed an increase of 2,649,876 over August, 1918.

As an indication of the general trend of the trade in tobacco products we refer to the following dividends declared.

The United Cigar Stores Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on preferred stock, payable Sept. 15th.

For more detailed information in reference to the production of cigars in the various districts for the month of August, though incomplete, we refer to the table published in this issue.

CORRESPONDENCE

United Garment Workers of America.
Local 261.

Dear Sir and Brother:

We, the above local, have been struggling to keep ourselves within the ranks of organized labor and we have to depend upon the loyalty of organized labor to carry our campaign to a successful conclusion.

We therefore ask if you will bring this matter to the attention of your fellow union men, informing them of the immediate need of their co-operation by purchasing union label collars when in need of them—namely, the Bell brand.

We have been going over this matter of late and we find there are a number of dealers who only buy from two to three styles and then tell the union man that these are the only styles available with the union label on. Now, brother, we wish to correct this statement as we work on 58 different styles, both soft and stiff, and we know for a fact the Union Label Collar Co. is putting forth their earnest endeavors to make the union label collar superior to the non-union brands.

Trusting you will comply with the above request and use your influence to create a demand for the above, we remain,

Fraternally yours,

LOUISE LANTZ, President.

PEARL MATSON, Secretary,

39 Second Ave., Rensselaer, N. Y.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 6, 1919.

To the Labor Press.

Greeting: Recently there have appeared in some of the official journals and labor papers large advertisements of the E. & J. shoe, manufactured by the Endicott, Johnson Corporation of Endicott, New York.

We are writing to advise organized labor that the Endicott, Johnson Corporation operate strictly non-union factories.

When purchasing shoes look for the union stamp of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, the only guarantee that shoes are union made.

Fraternally yours,

C. L. BAINE,

General Secretary-Treasurer.

Washington, D. C., October, 1919.

To Organized Labor and Its Friends:

Greeting—Cigarmakers Local Union 97, Boston, has submitted, through the officers of the Cigarmakers' International Union, and with its endorsement, the following appeal for the moral assistance and co-operation of all trade unions and their friends:

"The Boston cigarmakers asked for improved

One Big Union.

(From "The Textile Worker.")

Much was heard in some quarters about the "one big union" idea before the Atlantic City Convention of the American Federation of Labor. The notion seemed to have a sort of magnetic attraction for a number of persons. Always there have been those whose fancy is easily captured by a formula or a slogan. Always there have been those easily enamored of a short cut to salvation. Such a delusion has been the "one big union"—a few swift strokes—emancipation and a fanciful life without trial and tribulation. That seems to have been the notion that took possession of the "one big union" advocates.

There is no short cut to anything save trouble. There is no easy road to anything save destruction. There is no "great white way" down which working people may proceed in holiday parade to freedom from industrial oppression. There can be no forgetting of the facts and conditions which make the struggle and no ignoring of them in finding the way through to the final goal.

It is of some significance that no advocate of the "one big union" plan had sufficient confidence in the idea to place it before the Atlantic City Convention where it might stand upon its merits before the whole mass of labor opinions of America. Conventions of the American Federation of Labor take things upon their merits. There is no forum in the country in which ideas, plans and programs are subjected to a fiercer fire or given a warmer endorsement when merit is proved. The fact is, however, that the fallacy of the "one big union" idea and its host of more or less allied schemes has long since been proved to the satisfaction of the working people of America. They have long understood the fundamental error of the "one big unionist" who began by imagining a state of conditions and ended by endeavoring to construct a fanciful organization to meet those imaginative conditions.

The success of the American trade union movement has been built upon its refusal to ignore facts. The trade union movement has been molded constantly by the industries and the institutions of the land in which it functions, and having been thus molded its steady growth and sure progress was inevitable.

That men and women waste their efforts in such fruitless endeavors as that of the "one big union" is regrettable. The combined efforts of all along right lines ought to be the state of affairs. Undoubtedly the one big union movement as we are seeing it today is one of the products of the unsettling influences of the war. It is an effect of tremendous emotional upheaval. Already it is clear that the movement is doomed to early failure as it was always clear that it was doomed to ultimate failure. Persons who reach conclusions and formulate policies through the processes of reason can agree upon conclusions and policies and remain faithful to those conclusions and those policies. Persons who arrive at conclusions through processes of emotion and who formulate policies to fit conclusions so reached, are certain to find themselves in disagreement quickly. Emotion is not stable. Passing breezes blow it hither and beyond and render it the most unstable of all things.

The world has known powerful emotional movements. The more powerful the emotion the more temporary power the emotional movement has had, but in every case, sooner or later, with the cooling of the emotion and the disagreement of the emotionalists, disruption and failure has been the sequel. Movements founded upon reason and mindful at all times of the actual facts of life have come through centuries, working and exerting their steady and ordered influence upon the progress of society. There is nothing about the present situation to alter the case. Dreams are with us all, but he who attempts while dreaming to make his dream come true is doomed to sad and bitter disappointment.

REPORT OF ORGANIZERS.

Lima, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1919.

To the Journal.

While in Syracuse, N. Y., Union 6 made demands for increase of bill of prices. The local committee after several conferences with the manufacturers made a very complete and fair report and recommended a compromise on one class of work, which was adopted by the Union and the question settled without strike. I remained in Syracuse on Labor Day and paraded with Union No. 6. Stopped at Oneida, N. Y., and found business very good and jobs open, proceeded to Utica, N. Y., where a new shop was opened and will be run as a label shop, if successful will be a boon for Utica, which is needed, for that city has been somewhat slow in cigarmaking. Visited Albany and found they received an increase without strike. Visited Schenectady, N. Y., spoke at meetings several evenings. Returned to Utica, spoke at several union meetings, then proceeded up the state to Buffalo, N. Y., and from Buffalo proceeded here, to Lima, Ohio. I find the big non-union shop here, with a chain of shops, has given increases to the cigarmakers volutarily. This, together with the fact, that some outside concerns are moving into this territory and bidding for help, makes plenty of jobs open just now at better prices than was paid here formally.

Most of the cigarmakers here are women and girls, they made an attempt to organize here some years ago and, after having a fair organization started, they got a small increase, then dropped the union. The war came on, then they got another increase, and now, owing to the need for cigars, they got another small increase. These circumstances make the women now hesitate as to taking on organization believing they can get increases without organization. They never think they may need an organization to hold what they have. If other union men whose wives and daughters are working at cigarmaking would point out to them why they should organize, better results would come to the organizing of cigarmakers. Many other crafts in this state are on strike now, and women, who have been cigarmakers, but were away from the business, will now return to help support the family owing to the men being out of work.

Many circumstances now surround the industry here which make it hard to get the women and girls to listen to organizing. If promises made by the manufacturers are not kept, then the women workers will see the necessity of organization to get equal pay with men, which they do not get now.

Fraternally yours,

New Orleans, La., Oct. 3, 1919.

I herewith submit my report of activities in the interest of our organization. In the state of Florida, of recent date.

On July 24 I received instructions from President Perkins to proceed to Tampa, Fla.

I reached Tampa on July 27 and immediately went into conference with the local strike committee. The new proposed bill of prices carried an increase of 25 per cent and binders. After remaining in conference with the employing cigar makers for a week, without reaching a satisfactory agreement, a strike was ordered.

After our members had been on the street for three weeks, a request for a conference was received from the independent manufacturers, and on the same day the request was complied with by the local strike committee. After going over the situation very thoroughly with the independent manufacturers, they proposed, as a compromise proposition, an increase of 15 per cent and binders. The conference then closed, to give us an opportunity to put their proposition before the membership.

The strike committee reported back to the membership, and on Aug. 23 a vote was taken by the members on the 15 per cent and binders, as proposed by the manufacturers. The vote resulted in the compromise, as offered by the manufacturers, being carried by a very large majority, and our members returned to work on Monday, Aug. 25.

In my opinion it was one of the best strike committees that we have ever had in Tampa to handle matters of this character and who, at all times, followed our international laws to the letter.

On Sept. 3 I received instructions to return to New Orleans. En route I stopped at Orlando, Sanford, Jacksonville, and Pensacola, Fla., also Mobile, Ala. At all of these points more cigar makers are needed, and our label is being demanded more than at any other previous time.

While at Pensacola I was successful in organizing a factory, and the prospects of once more putting the city on our "map" looks very bright. At Mobile I found a one hundred per cent organization, and everything running along very smoothly. At the close of this report I am stationed at New Orleans on organization work.

HENRY M. HEIDT,
Organizer.

During the strike of about forty of our male members by the Grill Bros. Cigar Company. We made an effort to organize the twenty-five hundred girl cigar makers working at the trade at that time in the city of Evansville. The work of organization was necessarily slow, owing to the fierce opposition to the union on the part of the cigar manufacturers of the city. I was compelled to leave Evansville with the understanding that I was to return in a short time to continue the work. On my return from Porto Rico I received information and instructions from International President Perkins that sent me to Evansville. On my arrival I found that the organization committee of the Central Labor Union of Evansville, who are working to make Evansville a 100 per cent organized city, had held a meeting of some of the cigar girls of the city, and from the talk indulged in they became convinced that the girls could be organized. They caused this information to be sent to our international president. The president of the Central Labor Union, Mr. Chas. Fitch, was very active in an effort to organize the cigar girls.

With all forces working together we succeeded in writing applications for membership in the international union of girls in every shop in Evansville. In order to stop the work of organization increases of wages were given to the girls in every factory in the city. In most of the factories, including all of the large ones, the increase amounted to $1.00 per thousand for rolling and 50 cents per thousand for bunches. As the increase did not have the desired effect, in the factory of Englehardt Bros., where we had a majority organized, they resorted to the discharge of girls who were most active in organizing. This resulted in a meeting of all the girls working in that shop on Wednesday, Sept. 17th, and a unanimous vote to strike for an increase of wages, shorter hours of labor and the reinstatement of the girls discharged. Upon the firm refusing to meet the demand every girl of the about 120 employed walked out on Thursday morning, Sept. 18th, and they are out three weeks today, with the exception of a few girls who have been induced to return by the offer of $1.50 per thousand for rolling and 50 cents for bunches.

We are making every effort to win this strike, and at this writing chances are good.

The number of girls now working in the factories of Evansville is less than two thousand. Two years ago the H. Fendrichs factory employed eighteen hundred (1800) girls making cigars; they now have less than nine hundred (900).

Los Angeles, Oct. 4, 1919.

Have devoted my time to visiting local unions nightly, exploiting the Blue Label. Out here on the coast union labels have never received the attention and support they should have received. This is particularly true of the cigar makers' label. Trust made cigars, and also cigars made in the Philippine Islands, have the call here and have had the call for many years; but a gradual change is taking place as a result of recent strenuous agitation on the subject. Cigar manufacturers and dealers are a unit in saying there's a growing demand for union label cigars. All our members are working with still plenty of jobs open.

Recently have succeeded in negotiating contracts with the owner of three cigar stands, located in three different plants of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, one in San Francisco, one in South San Francisco, and one in Alameda. Heretofore all kinds of non-union made cigars were sold. Under the agreements none but union made Blue Label cigars will be featured in the future. In one of these plants not less than 12,000 people are employed.

Trade here is very good, all manufacturers being behind in their orders.

SOL SOUTHEIMER, Organizer.

Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 8, 1919.

To make a complete report of my work for the past three months neither time or space would allow.

Briefly, or a partial report, is as follows:

June 23, (Monday), the strike started in New Brunswick, N. J., where I was stationed at that time. The women and girls employed by Bayuk Bros. came out that forenoon. The following morning, June 24, the employees of Gans, and the General Cigar Co. came out, those employed in Lipschutz 44 shops were given an increase of $1.50 per thousand and remained at work.

Tuesday, July 1, I was informed by Sub-Organizer Mrs. Rose Dobosi that she had received a telephone message from Bethlehem, Pa., telling her and me to come there at once, which we did. On my arrival in Bethlehem I met three of the girls on strike from New Brunswick, who informed me that there was to be a strike called the next morning.

Wednesday, July 2, the employees of the following concerns all came out: General Cigar Co., Bayuk Bros., Lipschutz 44, and Tri-State Cigar Co.

Tuesday, July 8, in Allentown the employees of the following concerns came out: General Cigar Co., Consolidated Cigar Corp., Bayuk Bros., Allen R. Cressman Sons, and Lipschutz 44.

Monday, July 14, a strike was declared in the General Cigar Co.'s shop in Northampton, and the Copley Cigar Co. in Copley, the latter is connected with the Consolidated Cigar Corp.

This made a total of approximately twenty-five hundred women and girls on strike, not one of which had any previous experience or knowledge of organization. Add to this the fact that less than 25 per cent of them could not speak or understand English, and it will give my readers some idea of the situation I was confronted with.

Despite this handicap to both them and myself, I venture to say that the showing made by these women and girls has never been equaled. The longer they remained out the more determined they seemed to be, and the unfortunate part of this whole affair is that the ones who engineered it never figured on the magnitude of their undertaking, with the result that these women and girls were out from eleven to fourteen weeks, while other employees of the same concern were still working.

At the time of writing this report all of these women and girls have returned to work, simply compelled to return when many of them received letters from personal friends and relatives informing them of the situation in other cities.

They all returned to work this week, having been granted an increase of $1.50 per thousand on all jobs. I had some misgivings as to the attitude of these women and girls on organization after this strike was over, but these have all been dispelled. I think the answer of one of these women to one of the superintendents a few weeks ago expresses the sentiments of practically all of them. This particular superintendent had been trying ever since the strike was declared to get his employees to return to work. He met the woman I have in mind, and among other things mentioned the number of weeks she had been on strike and asked her what she had got for it. She answered him by pointing to her forehead and said: "Mr., I got lot up here I don't know before."

They not only realize the benefit of organization, but I venture to say that before they are induced to strike again they will have to be shown that all other employees working for the same concern are going to do the same at the same time.

The mayor of Bethlehem has issued a proclamation in which he forbids the holding of meetings on account of the Steel Strike. Until such time as this ban is removed we cannot have a meeting, but this does not prevent us from going ahead with the perfecting of a local.

I have received charter and books for Bethlehem. We will hold a meeting in Allentown this Friday evening, at which applications for charter will be made. It is not decided yet whether Northampton and Copley will make application of their own or come in with Allentown.

In conclusion, let me say these women and girls I have met in this district have been an inspiration to me, and I feel sure that their becoming members of the Cigarmakers International Union of America will not only add strength and encouragement to its members but will also give same to the labor movement in the locality wherein they live.

AUSTIN P. KAVENEY, Gen. Organizer.

To all Central Labor Unions, State Federations and Labor Papers, Greeting:—

Your attention is called to the extensive advertising campaign now being waged by the Willys-Overland Automobile Company for the disposal of its stock. Practically every daily newspaper of any prominence carries a large ad. covering the wonderful opportunities for investors.

When you realize that we have waged a battle against this unfair concern for over five months and cut their production in half you can readily see why they are desirous of disposing of some of their stock. They need it to crush labor and to destroy the right of collective bargaining. They also are advertising from coast to coast for labor and conveying the impression that the strike has been settled. Each week we are able through our pickets to turn away hundreds of men who have been lured to Toledo by false statements only to find that the strike is still on. These men come from every state in the Union, have their transportation paid and are left on our hands to get out of town. The new cars manufactured by this company are known as the New Willys Six and their flivver which is known as the Q-4.

We have the situation well in hand and all this camouflage advertising does not deceive us locally, but it may have its effect on industrial centers outside of Toledo, and we urge your Central Body to give the widest publicity that this fight is still on. Five months is a long time to wage a battle of this kind but we are not downhearted and our slogan is STICK. Thanking your Central Body and Local Unions for your assistance to date and urging your continued co-operation, we beg to remain,

Fraternally yours,

TOLEDO CENTRAL LABOR UNION,

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commences on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

The Executive Board levied a $2.00 assessment commencing Sept. 15, on all members (Class A to pay one-half). This assessment is in addition to the 20c weekly running assessment.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences . . . (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transactions on their books.

Many secretaries have asked the question whether the $2.00 assessment, levied September 15, takes the place of the weekly 20-cent assessment. The postal card sent to unions reference the stamps plainly states that it is in addition to the 20-cent weekly assessment. Every member is subject to the 20-cent weekly assessment and in addition to the $2.00 assessment. Those who join after assessment was levied are not subject to the $2.00 assessment, but must pay the 20-cent weekly assessment.

BUY U. S. WAR SAVINGS STAMPS.

Victory is won. Now let's work to pay the bills and finish the job.

The only way to do it is to SAVE. Do not waste a cent. Put every spare nickel into the bank. Buy Thrift Stamps with every spare quarter.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

Under "Decisions of the President" in the September Journal was published the notice that F. G. Argenta has been suspended. This was a mistake. It should have read that the label had been stopped.

M. J. Cole, who has gone into another occupation, appealed against Union 132, Brooklyn, for refusing him a twenty-cent retiring card. The appeal was sustained.

Union 462, Tampa, appealed against Financier W. A. Campbell, who charged them with paying illegal strike benefit. The appeal was not sustained.

H. Johnson appealed against 97, Boston, for fining him for working Saturday mornings. The appellant claims that the union had not changed the working hours; that it was merely a shop rule. Claim was not denied by the union. The appeal was sustained.

Mrs. George Loughrey appealed against 278, London, for fining her $100.00 for repeatedly allowing herself to be suspended and working in strike shops. The appeal was not sustained.

The Executive Board of Union 4, Cincinnati, appealed against the action of Union 4 regarding sick benefit to two of its members, both of whom had violated the International and Local constitutions reference the payment of sick benefits. The appeal was sustained.

INTERNATIONAL FINES

The International Executive Board approved the application of No. 102, Kansas City, to fine O. E. Marshall, 2538, $25 for working in the non-union shop of C. F. Persch, after drawing strike benefit. Vote, affirmative 7, negative 0.

Approved the application of No. 97, Boston, to suspend and fine the following members $200 each for taking the foremanship in the Watt and Bond non-union shop: F. Houtenbrink, 84326; J. Finn, 108,993; H. Goldstein, 58507; Chas. Judeson, 42778, and H. E. McKenzie, 301165. Vote, affirmative 7, negative 0.

Approved the application of No. 402, Quakertown, to suspend and fine Chas. O. Lachwan, 29110, $100 for working in a strike shop. Vote, affirmative 5, negative 0. One member approved $25 and one member approved the fine, but not the suspension.

Approved the application of 281, St. Louis, to fine Fred Goos, 50708, $50 for working in a strike shop of F. R. Rice. Vote, affirmative 6, negative 0.

Approved the application of 130, Saginaw, to fine Theo. Le Beau, 2537, $25 for working in a non-union shop. Vote, affirmative 6, negative 0.

Fines of $10.00 or Less.

Chas. F. Haus, 2544, was fined $10 for working in a non-union shop, by Union 130, Saginaw, Mich.

Sol Katzkin, 55480, was fined $10 by 90, New York, for working in a closed shop.

The government needs the money. You need your self-respect, the respect of the world for this government and for your own interest. Lend the government money to pay the honorable bills it incurred in maintaining the army during the war and during the occupation and to bring the boys back home. Lend money to reconstruct those who were wounded in taking the first objective. Loan money to save money.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments together. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment that you wish to endorse.)

The amendment of Union 197, Warsaw, as published in the September issue, is as follows:

To amend Section 83.

No application to strike shall be sustained unless approved by a two-thirds vote of the membership of the local union making said application.

Received the endorsement of Union 218, Binghamton, and 214, Pekin.

The amendment of Union 25, Milwaukee, as published in the September issue, as follows:

Union 25 of Milwaukee hereby proposes an amendment to our constitution as follows: Amend Section 218 of our constitution, by striking out in line 6 the following (except those adopted at the convention) shall be valid unless two-thirds of the members voting, and insert the following (shall be valid unless a majority of the members voting. Section to read as follows: And no amendment shall be valid, unless the majority of the members voting, vote in favor thereof.

Received the endorsement of Union 90, New York.

Amendments of Union 197, Warsaw, Ind., as published in the September issue, as follows:

1. Every local union shall each month set apart 50 per cent of its gross receipts, which shall constitute a separate fund, to be known as the Sick, Death and Disability Fund. That 75 per cent of the General Fund held by the local unions at the time preceding the month in which this law shall become effective shall be added to said Sick, Death and Disability Fund, and no orders shall be drawn on said fund other than for sick, death and total disability claims.

2. The International President shall be and is hereby empowered to transfer any portion of the Sick, Death and Disability Fund from one union to another union to assist in the payment of all lawful sick, death and disability claims.

3. The International President shall cause to be created a Sinking Fund out of all the surplus of said Sick, Death and Disability Fund remaining in possession of the unions at the end of each fiscal year and to have same deposited in some reliable trust company in the name of the Cigarmakers' International Union by three Trustees, said Trustees to be elected in the usual official manner.

4. All interest accruing on said Sinking Fund shall be added thereto and become a part thereof and deposited as aforesaid until said Sinking Fund shall amount to or equal the total sum expended in the year preceding for sick, death and total disability claims, and said fund shall be continued and maintained as aforesaid.

5. All orders drawn against said Sinking Fund shall be signed by the International President and the three Trustees and no orders shall be drawn until the combined local union Sick, Death and Disability Fund shall become lawfully exhausted.

6. No salary shall be paid out of said Sinking Fund for any reason whatsoever.

7. The International President shall publish annually in the Official Journal the complete and distinct condition of said fund or funds, together with the laws governing the same.

8. It shall be the duty of local unions to render monthly reports to the International President, who shall keep a record thereof.

Received the endorsement of 218, Binghamton, 447, Kenosha.

The amendment of Union 197, Warsaw, as published in the September issue, as follows:

1. Each local union shall be and is hereby required to create and at all times maintain a sinking fund to be known as the General Sinking Fund.

2. Each local union shall, on or before the last day of June and December of each year, set apart 50 cents per member out of the funds of said local union exclusive of the fund provided for the Sick, Death and Total Disability Fund until said General Sinking Fund shall amount to a sum equal to $10 per member of said local union. All interest accruing on said fund shall become a part thereof, and said fund shall be continued and maintained.

3. Said General Sinking Fund shall be invested in government bonds or deposited in some reliable trust company in the name of Cigarmakers' Union No. —, as the International President may direct for the safety of said funds.

4. No orders shall be issued against any part of said General Sinking Fund until all other general funds shall become depleted or exhausted. All orders shall have the approval of the International President and be signed by the local president and the three Trustees.

5. Every local union shall, during the first week in July and January of each year, make a semi-annual report to the International President showing a complete and distinct condition of said General Sinking Fund. The International President shall publish the same in the annual financial reports.

Received the endorsement of Union 218, Binghamton.

Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y., offers the following amendment to Constitution:

Amend Section 154 by striking out on line 21 the figures "$8.00," and inserting the figures "$9.00," the section as amended to read: "But in no case shall the Union Label be used in a factory in the United States which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making," etc., etc.

Union 44, St. Louis, offers the following amendment to the International Constitution:

Add to Section 11—to be named Section 11-A—"No International officer shall be renominated or re-elected to same office while occupying such and having held same for two consecutive terms. This shall not bar any ex-officer to be re-elected to any office previously held, provided one intermediate term intervenes.

Union 49, Springfield, proposes following amendment to International Constitution, to be known as Section 154-a.

The label shall not be granted to a manufacturer who pays less than $17.00 for making 4 1/4 inch straight or less than $18.00 for making 4 1/4 inch shape seed and havana cigars. Seed and havana to include cigars made of sumatra, seed, broad leaf wrapper or binder, havana or other imported filler or seed filler mixed with havana or other imported filler whether made by hand or mold or in shaper.

This law not to apply in Canada unless approved by a majority of the members voting in the Canadian unions.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.:

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Secs. 2 and 3 of the Constitution.

By Union 39 of New Haven, Conn.:

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50.00." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

J. C. Clark, 23802, lost card reported found by 487.

New York, August 18th, 1919.

To Organized Labor, Greetings:

As you know from recent communications from the Metal Polishers International Union Publicity Department of 25 Third Avenue, New York City, also from articles in the Labor Press of our country, twenty-six members of local union No. 44 of Newark, New Jersey, are on strike at the Gilchrist Manufacturing Company, 236 Bank Street, Newark, N. J., for a shorter workday and a reasonable increase in wages.

Permit us to again inform you that the Gilchrist Company manufactures ice cream measuring devices and general soda fountain appliances such as soda holders, spoons, ice picks, ice cream scrapers, etc. In former communications we asked you to have some of the merchants of your city handling the Gilchrist product to write the Gilchrist Company, and also to request your secretary to write.

We, the Publicity Committee, find that Mr. Gilchrist in answer to the communications sent to him by secretaries of central bodies and hardware merchants states that a strike does not exist, that the men left his employ before the expiration of our agreement. We desire to state that this is an absolute falsehood. We have the contracts to show to the contrary, but the only question which seems to trouble Mr. Gilchrist is the one in relation to increase in wages and shorter workday.

Now, Brothers, the Publicity Committee have Mr. Gilchrist on the run. He has his room filled with strikebreakers and is sending his work out to three job shops. Still, he is unable to get fifty per cent of his former production. We again request of you to keep up the fight in your respective locality. Have your merchant as well as yourself write Mr. Gilchrist requesting of him to settle with the Metal Polishers of Newark. If you will co-operate to that extent with the Publicity Committee, it is only a matter of days when this strike is settled, as we know that Mr. Gilchrist does not relish publicity.

In anticipation of your co-operation and thanking you for past favors, we remain with kindest wishes,

Fraternally yours,
METAL POLISHERS INT'L UNION.

UNION NOTES

Union 463, Pontiac, Mich., fined J. Slater $1.45, the amount of his unpaid board bill which this union went good for and had to pay. Secretary holding his card please collect and remit same to Union 463.

Union 312, Livingston, Mont., has a running 25 cent assessment on to help locals who are out on strike.

The fine of $25.00 against Jas. H. Stilas was rescinded by Local 297, Canton, at regular meeting in March.

The secretary holding the card of P. J. Rutz, No. 110985, is requested to collect board bill of $15.00 which he has owed 312, Livingston, Mont., since February, 1912.

Any secretary holding card of Harry Peterson please have him write secretary No. 118, Peoria, Ill. A friend wishes to know his whereabouts.

Financial Secretary, Union No. 367, Ogden, Utah, would like to hear from Harry Siedner, No. 98166. He has some money for him.

List of unions that have contributed to our appeal for aid up to the close of September. Complete list will be furnished next month.

312, Livingston, $3.45; 499, Trinidad, $3; shop collection from Tampa members, $445.64; 42, Hartford, $50; 250, Belleville $5; 4, Cincinnati, $25; 122, Warren, $1; 307, Reno, $1; 58, Montreal, $15; 334, Saratoga Springs, $2; 228, San Francisco, $10; 437, Cairo, $2; 107, Erie, $2; 187, Covington, $5; 305, Monmouth, $5; 81, Peekskill, $1; 172, Davenport, $2.50; 25, Milwaukee, $20; 321, New Britain, $2; 49, Springfield, $25; 48, Toledo, $2; 77, Minneapolis, $1; total, $628.59. Several contributions have come in since the first of October which will be acknowledged in due time. Union 129, Denver, Colo., desires to thank those unions donating.

D. W. SANFORD,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Donations received from local unions by Local No. 188, Seattle, Wash., in response to appeal in behalf of Bro. Wilber L. Dow, card No. 103509. Local unions please accept our sincere thanks. Second list: Nos. 7, $1; 498, $2; 282, $1; 312, $2; 205, $1; 449, $2; 381, $1; 463, $2; 180, 1; total, $115.15.

Don't preach union labels with non-union clothes on, or shoes, collars, neckties or stockings. Is it consistent? Is that what you term class conscious? Why don't you raise the dues and do away with assessments? In order to pay strike, sick and death benefits you must have the money. The great number of strikes has reduced our treasury. Some of our locals need waking up. Do you know Blackstones, Totems, C. C. A. and Quincys are made by machine? Our delegates to state branch did good work. Our International President has been of great help in getting the label trade department to issue circular. How can a man keep up his standard work when two or three look over his work? We donated $750 to our boys on strike in Pennsylvania. Yes, we gave $200 to the Boston police now on strike. You see we are still in the game. We need a convention; when and where shall we meet? Now is the time to build. Collective bargaining is here and here to stay. Cheap pay goods are a menace and have always been to the fair-paid districts. All eyes upon the Labor Congress. Don't pay label assessments and buy trust made cigarettes. We can't lick the trust that way. Give your money to a union manufacturer.

HENRY ABRAHAMS.

Beware of the fellow in or out of the union who urges and suggests by inference or otherwise that you commit unlawful acts. Usually this gentry are smooth talkers with arguments plausible on the surface. Practically all such have a purpose in view and that purpose is to destroy or cripple the constructive trade union movement.

There is an old saying, "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad."

The following maxims seem appropriate: Sit tight. Do nothing rash. Stand firmly for your rights. If necessary suffer to maintain them. Always keep within the law. If the laws are wrong smash them by the lawful means of the ballot. The privileged few, big interests and profiteers want you to commit overt acts and are "sicking" you on. Don't be fooled; don't play into their hands. Maintain your organization; build it up; and courageously stand for right and justice. Be true to yourself, your interests, and your fellow men, and the right will finally triumph.

There is plenty of so-called labor unrest and what is more to the point, it will continue until criminal profiteering ceases. The cost of living has gone up with leaps and bounds. The workers are unable to maintain their standard of life and meet the unnecessarily high cost of living. So long as this condition exists there will be mighty serious discontent and unrest.

Practically all the strikes, including the independent and unauthorized, in which we have been engaged for the last five or six months, have been settled. The independent strike in New York was settled by compromise in most of the shops. Some manufacturers, however, have failed to live up to the compromise settlement. The unauthorized strike of Chicago was settled by compromise. All of the strikes in Pennsylvania, of which we have any knowledge were settled some time ago. We have a few authorized strikes at this time. The only ones involving any considerable number of members, from which we have no reports at this writing are San Francisco, Baltimore and St. Paul. Probably the most of these will be settled before this is printed and reaches our readers.

Nearly every member of the International Union has received a considerable increase in wages and practically every non-unionist in the country has received an increase varying from one dollar to two dollars a thousand.

Much of the opportunity to promote organization in our industry where it was badly needed was frittered away by wild strikes which took place. Many non-unionists were rushed on strike with the cry "Strike, strike, strike," without any attention whatsoever to the important question of organization. Thousands of non-unionists rushed on strike, and at the first favorable offer of the employers for an increase of wages went back to work and forgot all about the union, and in some cases those responsible for getting them on strike paid little attention to the important question of organization, especially into the ranks of the International Union.

Big interests, the cheap John manufacturers, through our liberal immigration laws scoured the four corners of the earth to secure cheap labor, and they have got it.

The thought uppermost in their minds was to get cheap labor regardless of whether they were illiterate, morally degenerate, radicals, Bolsheviki, mental incompetents or otherwise. No thought of Americanism or radicalism of the destructive type, the perpetuity of our institutions, our democracy, and our country ever entered their minds. The dollar mark was above country. "Get the money, honestly if you can; but get it anyway," seemed to be their slogan.

This same gentry, with the American flag in one hand and their bank roll in the other, have set up a howl heard from coast to coast demanding that some of the immigrants that they broke their backs to get here be deported, and a certain percentage of those who formerly demanded absolutely unrestricted immigration, except of the insane and dependent, are now with a look-wise expression, demanding that our immigration laws be amended.

We firmly believe in our democracy and representative form of government. We believe in justice to all and the fullest freedom of action consistent with the orderly rise, development, and control of organized society, the nation and the state, with its political subdivisions. There can be no such thing as democracy, self-government, and a representative form of government, under judge-made laws. Any exercise of the writ of injunction that interferes with the inalienable rights, constitutional and political freedom of our people is a presumption and flagrant violation of the principle of democracy, self-government, and freedom of action, and is just as autocratic as any edict ever issued by king or potentate and is just as destructive of liberty. All real patriots who believe in liberty should not tolerate any autocratic authority which seeks to interfere with the constitutional right of freedom. The Declaration of Independence marked the birth of democracy, justice, liberty, and the right of self-determination—the right to govern ourselves. There is no statutory law in nation or state which has abrogated, amended, or taken away these rights. Our liberty demands that they should not be taken away by judge-made law.

The ascending rights of human kind! All through recorded time from the inception of modern civilization the privileged few, either by alleged divine right, heredity, assumption, or by legislation, have put property rights, most of which were stolen, above human rights. The dollar mark has too long been the guiding star. It is time and away past when human rights should be put above the dollar mark and the rights of humanity in general should be placed above property rights. Activity and results with this end in view cannot safely be ignored much longer.

While there may be an honest desire on the part of some to eradicate by deportation or otherwise the destructive radicals, there is apparently

Who Is an element hiding behind this

What? movement who would seize the present opportunity to fasten upon the statute books of the nation and state legislation calculated to restrict and nullify the activities of the constructive trade union movement. These trade union opponents operating behind the mask of "Down the Reds" are trying to put on the statute books laws to prevent the constructive trade unions from carrying forward their legitimate, lawful trade union activities.

Against these people we protest, and denounce them as sailing under false colors. All liberty-loving people, even those outside of the trade union movement, stand in danger of having their rights and liberties curtailed or abrogated under the guise of "Throttle the Reds." We are not of the destructive, radical type and hold no brief for such, but we don't propose to see the trade unions strangled or crushed by the same gentry and tactics they employ in their efforts to strangle and crush somebody else.

Just so long as there is miserable profiteering there will be discontent and unrest which repressive laws will not prevent. Deport the "Reds" and continue profiteering, and two discontented protestants against the profiteering gang of robbers will spring up in the place of every one deported.

The popular vote having ordered a convention to be held at the earliest possible date, the convention will be held April 12, 1920, at such place as is agreed upon by the International Executive Board, and the popular vote.

Paragraph 2, of Section 3, of the Constitution, reads as follows:

"The convention may on the last day of its session designate a place to hold the next convention, and at the same time name four additional cities as possible places for such purpose."

At the Baltimore Convention, before nominations could be made for a convention city the delegates, tired of their long day of confinement, broke loose in a wild jubilee of joyous excitement, preventing the completion of the nominations and selection of a Convention City. The President then suggested that the nomination of a city be left to a referendum whenever a convention was called. This was agreed to. In order to comply with Section 3 and the action of the Baltimore Convention, local unions are requested to nominate a convention city. The city receiving the largest number of nominations and the next four highest will be acted upon in compliance with paragraph 2, Section 3, which reads:

"Whenever a convention shall be called the President shall ascertain which of the cities offer the best conditions as to hotels, etc., from a union standpoint. And if time permits he shall submit the names of the two fairest to a referendum vote, and a majority vote shall decide the question. Should lack of time preclude the possibility of referring the matter to a referendum, then a majority of the Executive Board shall be empowered to make the selection."

Section 4 provides:

"The basis of representation in the International Union shall be one delegate for each local union, provided that said union shall not contain less than 25 members for three consecutive months previous to the election of delegates. Unions having less than 25 members shall combine with their nearest sister unions for the purpose of electing delegates. Unions having more than 500 members shall be entitled to two delegates, and for each additional 500 or fraction thereof, not less than 200, one delegate more. In the election for delegates to the convention by unions it shall require a majority vote to elect."

Unions having 25 members or more will nominate delegates at their first meeting in December and elect at the last regular meeting in January.

Section 9 of the Constitution provides that the International President shall notify all local unions having less than 25 members to combine with the nearest sister union or unions. Such notice shall contain the location of the nearest union or unions, also number of members each union represents, and that on receipt of such notice the union shall nominate one candidate by ballot, and that the election shall take place on the second Tuesday in the month following. Unions having less than 25 members have been notified of the combinations made.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sweden has over 1,000,000 trade unionists.

Canada has over 250,000 trade unionists.

Nearly 25 per cent of India's factory workers are women.

Six per cent of the workers in the metal trades in England are women.

Over 400,000 people are employed by the United States Steel corporation.

The average daily wage of men has increased 241 per cent and of women 266 per cent since 1914, according to the German Imperial Workers' Gazette.

Factory wages in New York state have advanced 75.49 per cent since 1915, according to figures gathered by the New York state industrial commission. The average weekly earnings of a factory employe in New York City increased from $12.99 in 1915 to $22.48 in 1919; and in factories outside the city, but within the state, the increase was from $12.43 in 1915 to $22.93 in 1919. The figures are for March of each year.

Notwithstanding the fact that the existence of trade unions is forbidden under Japanese law, the workers in practically every industry in Japan have recently combined to present claims for increased wages and shorter hours, and almost universally their claims have been conceded without any strike resulting. The increase of wages ranges from 20 to 60 per cent, and there has been a general reduction in the number of hours worked, the general effect being to increase the cost of labor to twice and in some cases thrice the pre-war level.

The New York Tribune's London correspondent sends the following story, dealing with the cooperative movement in Great Britain from which are taken these excerpts:

The great trade-union movement in Britain with its 5,000,000 members, has decided to join forces with the Union of British Cooperative societies, with a membership of about 5,000,000, in order to dominate production, consumption, and distribution in Britain.

This amalgamation will represent the greatest business combination in history. It will dwarf, in power if not in funds, the gigantic Federation of British Industries, with its capital of $20,000,000,000.

The new combination is organized to fight such organizations as the British Federation. In its international aspect the combined trade-union and cooperative movements will be the greatest enemy of "big business" interests throughout the world.

In Britain alone the combined unions would include nearly three-quarters of the inhabitants. If the organizers have their way it will be invincible in the industrial field.

It is estimated that after allowing for overlapping of membership the combined movements control 7,000,000 adult members. Close on 7,000,000 families would support the trust and each of these families would include on an average two adults and three children.

A joint advisory council of cooperators and trade-unions has been constituted to draw up a plan of campaign for the new organization.

The total internal revenue collected by the Government for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919, amounted to $3,339,950,600. Income and excess property taxes yielded $2,596,008,790, but the old reliable sources, distilled and fermented liquors and tobacco, made an excellent showing even in the face of the above new war taxation.

Distilled spirits yielded $365,211,900, fermented liquors yielded $117,339,690 and tobacco came strong with $206,003,090. These three items, we find, furnished nearly one-fifth of the total internal revenue.

"Moral reformers" will have through prohibition cut off $483,050,890 supplied heretofore from liquor taxation and an equal amount will have to be supplied from other sources. Not satisfied we find the same forces now actively planning to further plunder the public treasury to the extent of the revenue accrued from the tax on tobacco and tobacco products. Despite denial the campaign to make the use of tobacco an infraction of the moral law is well under way and is receiving the support of the promoters of the prohibition movement.

The medium through which their propaganda is distributed is the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Practically every branch meeting throughout the United States this year has, through resolutions adopted, denounced the use of tobacco in any form as a sin and called for legislation to prevent its use, even in some instances going so far as to ask that it be made unlawful to plant tobacco.

Efforts to have the public schools teach that the use of tobacco is immoral reached its height in Philadelphia where little children were taught to deny their fathers' kisses because they were users of the "vile weed."

The fight is here and if we may hope to preserve any personal liberty whatever for ourselves or our posterity we must prepare ourselves through organization for a battle to the finish. It is time that the grower, the manufacturer, the retailer and the tobacco worker come into a closer relationship for the preservation of our industry as well as for the general good such association might bring.

The Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Labor in a report just made public presents an interesting discussion of the cost-of-living problem for families whose incomes aggregate $1,200 to $1,500 in ninety-one cities in all parts of the United States. In the income indicated expended in the past twelve months an average of $547. In Boston the expenditure was $547, in New Orleans $539, in Philadelphia $533, in Chicago $535, in Kansas City $514, in San Francisco $504, and in St. Louis $504.

"The average annual expenditure," says the report, "for food by all the families in all the cities listed was $511." The largest sum, $624, was spent in Fall River, Mass., and the smallest sum, $427, in Savannah, Ga. The cities having the smaller expenditures for food are for the most part in the Middle West, with some from the South.

According to the same Bureau, the latest reports indicate that retail prices for August were 1 per cent higher than in July. In analyzing the report the Bureau says "that the report under consideration makes the total cost of twenty-one articles of food, upon which this comparison is based, the highest on record."

The Bureau further shows that since August, 1918, prices have increased 12 per cent, and that during the six-year period, from August 1913 to 1919, food prices increased 91 per cent. These figures disprove most conclusively the claim that is being made in certain quarters that the cost of living is decreasing, which is misleading and apparently given out for the purpose of deceiving the public. Except for meats, which show slight decreases, price increases were in the articles most largely used.

The increase in August prices took place during the height of the Government's campaign to reduce living expenses. At the same time all official records show that wholesale prices and prices paid producers fell slightly. This would seem to put the responsibility for the increases on the middlemen and retailers.

TRADE NOTES.

As an indication of the general trend of the trade in tobacco products we refer to the following dividends declared.

The American Sumatra Tobacco Company has declared a quarterly dividend on common stock of 2½ per cent, payable November 1st.

The American Cigar Company has declared a quarterly dividend on common stock of 2 per cent, payable November 1st.

The General Cigar Company has declared a quarterly dividend on common stock of $1.50, payable November 1st.

Tobacco Products Corporation has declared a quarterly dividend on common stock of $1.50, payable November 15th.

Complete statistics for the month of July, 1919, as shown by the Bureau of Internal Revenue shows a decline from the previous month as well as a decline from the corresponding month of last year.

There is no doubt that this decline is due largely to decreased production caused by the recent unrest in the trade, many districts producing practically no cigars during the month. Normal conditions would have no doubt shown a substantial increase and now that matters have been in most cases amicably adjusted, cigar-makers having received an increase in wages in practically every instance, we may safely assume that the future will see unprecedented increases in production in all districts.

Class A, (cigars retailing for not more than five cents) showed an increase of 80,717,817 over July, 1918, and we find Class C showing an increase in the same comparison. From a close study of the appended table, showing the different classifications with comparisons, it appears that cigars retailing at 5c, 10c, and two for 25c are still the popular sellers and we should take cognizance of the fact and shape our demands to provide for the manufacturing of goods to retail at these popular prices.

With the enormous cut in Internal Revenue receipts caused by the institution of prohibition we may expect to see legislation proposed to further tax tobacco.

Machinery is finally and forcefully making its way into parts of the cigar and tobacco industry where hand work was considered the only method practical. A machine is now on the market, and said to be in successful operation, for the sizing of all kinds of leaf tobacco. The machine is said to be not only a remarkable saver of labor but of stock as well it being claimed that with the use of the machine breakage is reduced to practically nothing.

The American Sumatra Company has announced their plans to build a $500,000 home office in Hartford, Conn. This company recently acquired the holdings of the Griffin Tobacco Co. which was the largest exporter of leaf tobacco in the United States with branches in Holland, Belgium, Cuba and China. The newly organized company will control some 5,000 acres of tobacco land in Connecticut alone as well as large holdings in other states.

The total stock of leaf tobacco for cigar wrappers and fillers held in bonded warehouses of the United States on August 31, 1919, was 55,290,974 pounds as compared with 62,623,881 pounds in the corresponding period last year, showing a decrease of 7,613,907 pounds for August, 1919. The amount of leaf tobacco held in bonded warehouses for cigar wrappers was valued at $35,460,423 compared with $46,900,419 representing a decrease in value to the amount of $10,439,996 for August, 1919.

Exports of domestic cigars for the month of August amounted to 2,888,000 as compared with 2,651,000 for the corresponding month last year and a gain of 323,000 over July of this year.

Imports of cigars from the Philippines, duty free, amounted to 283,172 pounds as compared with 238,200 pounds imported during August, 1918, also showing an increase in imports of 33,501 pounds over the previous month of July.

The total exports of leaf tobacco from the United States to foreign countries during the month of August, 1919, amounted to 77,284,061 pounds as compared with 57,202,588 pounds in the corresponding period last year, and 59,359,909 pounds in the previous month of July, 1919, and 38,616,642 pounds during the month of July, 1918, which represents increases of 20,081,473 and 17,924,152 and 38,667,419 pounds respectively.

The total amount of raw leaf tobacco exported during the month of August, 1919, was valued at $26,691,628 compared with $18,240,028 in the same period in 1918, showing an increase in value to the amount of $7,251,600.

England was the largest purchaser of our domestic leaf her purchases amounting to 38,046,718 pounds as compared with 21,632,817 pounds during the previous month.

Holland ranked second with an increase of 2,041,563 pounds over the previous month, their total amounting to 7,981,432 pounds.

Italy and France came next in the order named. Every European country shows an increase over the previous month and when compared with August of last year the increase is enormous.

This increased foreign demand is one of the factors that tends to make the present high prices of tobacco and while it is true that most of the tobacco exported is not of the cigar type a corresponding reflection is bound to follow all through the market.

The following table shows both exports and imports of tobacco and tobacco products with comparisons.

On October 1st, the total quantity of leaf tobacco on hand in warehouses of manufacturers and dealers in the United States was 1,263,769,070 pounds, as compared with 1,264,883,788 on October 1, 1918, and 1,400,963,523 pounds on July 1, 1919, and 1,627,233,876 pounds on April 1, 1919, representing decreases of 1,114,718 pounds, 137,194,753 pounds and 363,464,806 pounds, respectively.

The stock of leaf tobacco of imported types in this country on October 1, 1919, was 69,163,094 pounds, as compared with 69,908,648 pounds on October 1, 1918, representing a decrease of 745,554 pounds, and for the previous quarter of July 1, 1919, 65,176,917 pounds, representing an increase of 3,986,177 pounds, and compared with the quarter on April 1, 1919, represents 69,163,094 pounds, as compared with 67,793,743 pounds, representing an increase for the quarter of October, 1919, of 1,364,351 pounds.

The total quantity of cigar leaf tobacco on hand on October 1, 1919, was 302,972,044 pounds as compared with 274,638,167 pounds in the same period last year, showing an increase of 28,333,877 pounds.

The total cigar leaf of New England, including Connecticut, was 53,630,636 pounds as compared with 54,599,947 pounds in the corresponding period of last year, representing a decrease of 969,311 pounds; Broad leaf increased 728,390 pounds; Havana Seed decreased 2,830,590 pounds; Shade Grown increased 1,132,839 pounds; New York decreased 310,209 pounds; Pennsylvania increased 5,569,228 pounds; Ohio increased 2,591,287 pounds; Wisconsin increased 17,928,933 pounds; Georgia and Florida decreased 731,034 pounds; Porto Rico increased 3,446,422 pounds, and all other domestic type decreased 191,339 pounds.

Review of General Trade Conditions.

The present widespread industrial unrest, brought about mainly through the machinations of our "Gentleman Burglar Class," the profiteer, is so demoralizing the larger industries, especially those dependent on steel products, that no sane review of general trade conditions is at the present time possible. Almost every line of industry is affected through either the steel or the coal situation and the future is only a guess insofar as the return to normal is concerned.

The financial situation remains steady with few business or bank failures, which is in itself an accurate barometer of the general solidity of the Nation's affairs. Our outstanding credits are being repaid by some of our allied debtors. Great Britain has repaid $32,000,000 of the money she borrowed during the war, and through these payments and other sources the Treasury Department has redeemed $717,537,550 in Liberty Bonds, leaving the national debt on August 30 $26,526,701,648.

Crops, now generally harvested, are above the average and prices for farm products are and will remain high, thus insuring liberal purchases of all manufactured articles by the rural communities. Retail trade in all lines is reported brisk, with a heavy holiday trade anticipated.

Building operations, despite the high price of material, are in full sway in all sections, and with favorable weather conditions will provide work for thousands of men far into the winter months.

With an early readjustment of our industrial affairs hoped for the producer should come in for more of a share than was his lot under past conditions.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28, 1919.

To All Organized Labor:

Greetings—The American people are facing a most critical situation. We are facing problems the determination of which will condition the fundamentals of our common life. The most urgent of these problems is the attempt at drastic legislation effecting the rights of the railroad workers and in connection therewith all the workers of our country.

It is with greatest concern and deepest regret we have to advise you that the United States Senate now has before it for consideration a measure dealing with this subject which if enacted would menace the welfare and freedom of all American people—wage earners and all others. This Senate measure, known as the Cummins bill, would deny railway employees the right to strike.

The essential difference between free men and slaves is the right to quit work at will. The only effective way in which wage-earners can exercise this right for protection of their rights and interests is to quit work by mutual agreement—or to strike.

The Cummins bill provides that wages, hours and conditions of work for railway employees shall be determined by a governmental board. The determinations of this railway transportation board shall be final and binding. Railway workers would lose their economic power and freedom under the following provision:

It shall be unlawful for two or more persons being officers, directors, managers, agents, attorneys or employees of any carrier or carriers subject to the Act to Regulate Commerce, as amended, for the purpose of maintaining, adjusting or settling any dispute, demand or controversy which, under the provisions of this act, can be submitted for decision to the Committee of Wages and Working Conditions or to a Regional Board of Adjustment, to enter into any combination or agreement with the intent substantially to hinder, restrain or prevent the operation of trains or other facilities of transportation for the movement of commodities or persons in interstate commerce, or in pursuance of any such combination or agreement and with like purpose substantially to hinder, restrain or prevent the operation of trains or other facilities of transportation for the movement of commodities or persons in interstate commerce; and, upon conviction, any such persons shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment, not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Provided, That nothing herein shall be taken to deny to any individual the right to quit his employment for any reason.

In order to make all activity to secure protection and progress through trade unions of railway workers unlawful, the following section was added to the bill:

Whoever knowingly and with like intent shall aid, abet, counsel, command, induce or procure the commission or performance of any act made unlawful in the last preceding sections hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Labor of America is as anxious as any citizen or group of citizens of our country to avoid and avert strikes and only resorts to them when every other agency to secure justice is denied. But read again the language of the proposed legislation, and you will find that it is the prohibition to do certain things. As a matter of fact, a strike is not the doing of a thing, but it is the declaration not to do anything; a declaration not to give service until a new arrangement has been reached between workers and employers by which the toilers may return to work and then to do things—produce.

It is the right of the workers to do nothing which is attacked and which it is proposed to make unlawful and punishable by fine and imprisonment. The workers do not want to strike, but the right to strike cannot be abandoned.

Study the meaning of this provision in contrast with the following constitutional declaration, written with the blood of American citizens shed during four years of fratricidal strife:

Neither slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

When that amendment was won, we thought our Republic had done with the idea that the government or any group of men could hold their fellows in involuntary servitude.

This legislation in directed particularly against the 2,000,000 railroad workers. It indirectly menaces the freedom and interests of all wage-earners, including the members of your union. This nation, as we have learned, cannot exist part slave and part free. Tying railroad workers to their jobs endangers the free action of all.

The Cummins bill which the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce reported to the Senate represents the culmination of Congressional hostility to Labor manifest in dealing with measures which involve the interests and the welfare of the humans who work in industry. All too many members of the Senate and the House have in the recent past manifested a course of policies reactionary in an extreme degree.

Fellow workers, we solemnly advise you your rights and interests are in jeopardy. Only utmost vigilance and prompt action will safeguard you against aggressively hostile enactments by Congress, which will take away the gains of years of struggle and sacrifice.

Workers, rouse yourselves for your own protection. Act before it is too late. Hold meetings, send telegrams and letters of protest to your representatives and senators at Washington, D. C., against this proposed legislation or any legislation of a similar character.

Use every lawful and honorable means at your command in a most earnest protest against this most wrongful and unjust attempt to restore slavery within our Republic—slavery not of another race, but of our own kind.

We make this appeal to you as Americans who love the free institutions of this republic. The welfare of wage-earners is inseparably bound up with that of all other citizens. The maintenance of our rights and interests is not subversive to general interests and welfare. It is essential to national progress.

Do your full duty as American trade unionists and citizens. Again you are asked to telegraph, write and have all organizations, friends of labor, sympathizers with the cause of liberty, protest against the enactment of this legislation or the enactment of any legislation which would destroy or impair the rights and freedom of the wage-earners whether they are railroad workers or others.

What Is the Percentage of the Organized Workers in the Organizable Occupations of the United States?

By J. W. SULLIVAN,
New York Typographical Union.

When Elbert H. Gary, speaking October 24 at a meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute, asserted that "from 80 to 90 per cent or more of labor in this country is non-union," he intended the assertion to be of use chiefly among his class of anti-union, plutocratic employers and their retainers, to mislead the masses of unorganized, un-Americanized foreign labor, ignorant as to the strength of trade unionism in the United States. This is one of the stock-in-trade "thumpers" so often repeated by the imitators of Chairman Gary that it is being echoed in a part of the public press which should know better. Its untruth comes to light on a moment's examination.

The latest census gives the number of persons "in gainful occupations" as:

Males 30,000,000
Females 8,000,000

Total 38,000,000

This total was thus classified:

	Pct.
Agriculture	12,650,000 33.2
Domestic and general service....	3,770,000 9.9
Professional service.....	1,700,000 4.4
Public service	460,000 1.2
Clerical service	1,700,000 4.4
Trade	3,600,000 9.5

Total	23,900,000 62.8
Extracting minerals.....	965,000
Manufacturing and mechanical work	10,658,000
Transportation	2,637,000

Total 14,100,000 37.2

Grand total 38,000,000 100

In no country are workers of the first group (23,900,000) organized to any extent in trade unions.

In the second group (14,100,000) besides wage workers there are employers big and little, the higher salaried employees, young persons learning trades, unskilled, unassimilated foreigners, craftsmen in small industries or in non-industrial communities and numerous persons self-employed. Only estimates can be formed for the numbers in these classifications, which either have interests apart from those of the wage workers or in all countries are unorganizable.

In this group of 14,100,000 are there 2,000,000 or 4,000,000 employers and high salaried employees? Are there 2,000,000 or 4,000,000 youths of the apprentice age? Are there 2,000,000 or 4,000,000 adults in its other categories? These queries, when put to statisticians, bring no positive figures as they involve the uncertainties of guess work. If there is an average of 2,000,000 in each of these three classifications (total 6,000,000) the number of organizable men and women in industry in this country is 8,000,000 (14,000,000 minus the 6,000,000). The American Federation of Labor and the railroad brotherhoods now count up 4,500,000. This would give 55 per cent of the total 8,000,000 organizable organized. But if the three classifications have 7,000,000 instead of 6,000,000, the percentage of the organized becomes 63 (4,500,000 out of 7,000,000); and if 8,000,000, the percentage is 75, (4,500,000 out of 6,000,000).

But, come to the practical question. In any particular industrial contest between buyers and sellers of labor power the proportion of the organized to the unorganized in all the extent

CORRESPONDENCE

Enclosed please find letter containing data which might be useful to the union.

Mr. James McKenna, the undersigned, is a member of this local. I have known him for 19 years and I think his information is reliable.

He asked me some time ago to write to the big locals and tell them about the raise on scab goods here, so I asked him to get the brands, factory numbers and district, which the enclosed shows he did. It might cheer the boys up.

OTTO SCHILLER.

The names of the factory brands and numbers, as I could obtain them so far is as follows: "Green Seal," Green Seal cigar factory, Detroit, raised $7.50; "Rose Coughlin," factory No. 32, 3rd district, New York, $7.50; "Chas. Carrol," Sy Y. Davis, New York City, factory 39, 3rd district, $5 and $10; "El Sidelco," S. Y. Davis, New York City, factory 993, 14th dis-of America has little bearing. The outcome of any such struggle depends upon the number of the unorganized and unemployed who are qualified to work at the occupations affected and reachable within a practicable hiring area and willing to undermine union conditions. It is to be kept in mind that in every community masses of the unorganized are union sympathizers, showing themselves within the sphere of union influence whenever there is a strike. Statistics fail to enumerate these potential unionists.

The wage conflict being most active in industrial centers, the workers in them are in general thoroughly organized. The more highly skilled trades in many American communities have an effectiveness in unionized labor of 100 per cent.

Yet employers' spokesmen go on repeating that "the trade unions represent 10 per cent (or 15 per cent) of American labor," that only "one-eighth (or one-tenth) of the workers" are in trade unions in the United States. "Here are the official figures," they say. "Thirty-eight million workers; less than four million unionists." They substitute "workers" for the census phrase "persons in gainful occupations," and thus make up their fiction.

In the light of the foregoing analysis of the census statistics the American trade unionists have the better of the argument. They can certainly claim for industry 50 per cent organized as a minimum. They can claim more without venturing into vague probabilities. They can admit that the census figures are not fresh, but none others except rough estimates are to be had. They can also admit that in the first of the groups above mentioned are some wage-workers possibly organizable. They can further admit that in the A. F. of L. are comprised more than one hundred thousand Canadians. But, these modifications made, the percentages here claimed for union labor are not seriously affected. It is to be kept in mind, too, that in the A. F. of L. statistics there are included neither the Independent unions nor the I. W. W. Under-rating the numerical strength of the American trade union movement is frequently accompanied by an over-rating of the British movement. A member of an American employers' commission was recently quoted in the London Times as saying: "While your workers are 85 per cent organized in unions, the trade unions of the United States have only about 10 per cent so organized," and the impression that the proportion given to Britain is a fact seems to prevail generally.

But the statistics for Britain do not show 85 per cent of "the workers" organized. Far from it. Mr. H. G. Williams, in a carefully prepared paper read at the annual convention of the British Industrial League in August last, estimated that in 1906 there were in the Kingdom 19,420,000 "occupied persons," of whom 1,000,000 were income tax payers, the remaining 18,420,000 having incomes under £160 ($500) a year. For the latter the groupings were:

Domestic service	2,050,000
Commercial, professional	2,240,000
Persons working for themselves	3,920,000
Manufacturing trades	6,410,000
Railways	610,000
Mines and quarries	1,000,000
Casual labor	500,000
	18,420,000

The four classifications last named in the table number 8,520,000. If, as reported at the Derby Trade Union Congress in 1918, the number of British trade unionists was 4,500,000, and the foregoing table as a whole warrants an estimate of about 8,000,000 persons organizable, the proportion organized in Great Britain is somewhere about 50 per cent. But Mr. Williams also says that "in 1913 there were about 15,200,000 persons with incomes under £160 employed by others," a statement indicating considerably less than 50 per cent organized.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 6, 1919.

We are to have a convention in the near future and the proper time for suggestions as to what can or should be done is now. For its members I would suggest we name it: "The Cigar Makers' and Workers' International Union of America."

Have three classes of membership:

First, or A Class—Initiation fee, $1. Weekly dues: Females, 10 cents per week; males, 15 cents per week. No sick or death benefit for First, or Class A.

Second, or B Class—Initiation fee, $2. All members wanting sick benefit, 10 cents per week extra, making their dues 20 cents for females and 25 cents per week for male members.

It shall be optional for each member whether he wants sick benefit or not. Experience has shown that 10 cents per week will pay no more than $5 weekly.

Third, or C Class—Initiation fee, $3. All members who want to have death benefit adopt the American Experience Fraternal rates per M.

All members to be classified according to their age when becoming members of the C. M. I. U. Place all present membership who want death benefit in class at the age they were when they became members. For example, rates per month: Age of 20 years, rate $1.10 for $1,000 death benefit, making the same 11 cents per $100. Age at 30 years, rate $1.42 for $1,000 death benefit, or 14 cents per $100. Age 50 years, rate $2.97 for $1,000 death benefit, making 30 cents per hundred for each $100.

Death Benefit—No death benefit to be more than $500. Each member to have as great amount of death benefit he wants to pay for from $100 to $500. No death benefit to be for a greater amount.

We are not in the insurance business. It shall be optional for any member whether he wants sick or death benefit or belong to Class A. There are many members who are not looking for sick and death benefits but who would pay their union dues. Females who are in the trade merely so, why should they pay for sick or death benefits? Few of them expect to stay at the trade. Government statistics show that seven years is the average time for females to work at the industrial trade. Many male members have old line, fraternal or industrial insurance and would belong to Class A or First Class and pay weekly dues.

International Assessment—Twenty cents per 1,000 on cigars made by members, or 2 cents per hundred.

Bunch and Rolling System—One cent per 100 on bunchmaker, or 10 cents per 1,000. One cent per 160 on rolling, or 10 cents per 1,000.

Day workers and all others, 2 per cent on their earnings.

Don't levy assessments on members who are out of work or walking around with one foot in the grave. They have all they can do to pay weekly dues.

We have had many years' experience and know that female workers will not pay high dues for sick and death benefits; also many male workers. Therefore make it optional for all members if they want sick and death benefits. They must expect to pay for it like any other association of benefits.

We have about 140,000 working in the cigar industry. We know what our membership is. If we don't get them they may get us ere long.

Question.—We have about 1,400 old 15-cent members. What are they paying national and local assessments for? They receive no sick or death benefits. Many of them have been reinstated, same as many other members. Is it fair play or justice to them?

Form a constitution according to these ideas. Let's hear from many others.

G. B. HUEKEL, Union 88.

Superior, Wis., Oct. 9, 1919.

The membership of our International Union has again through its referendum called a convention.

I believe there has been no time in the history of our existence when a convention was more in need not to destroy through political strife or radical ideas our usefulness or the good of the past.

The membership as a whole do feel and think we need a certain amount of reconstruction on broader lines to meet the conditions of the present day and the future.

Brothers, let us bear in mind there are two kinds of reconstruction—DESTRUCTIVE and CONSTRUCTIVE. Which shall it be?

The question rests with every local in the country, bear this in mind when electing your delegates. This is no time to elect a favorite son or a good fellow. This should not be considered as a vacation trip or merely a good time.

For the future good and welfare of our International elect MEN who will and can RE-CONSTRUCT, men who will inject new life, new ideas in the reconstruction of our constitution based on good common horse sense and trade unionism pure and simple. That is the very foundation of our existence, we must begin to realize that our union is a business proposition as well as charitable and fraternal.

Our constitution while good has not kept pace with the times and conditions and should be revised. A real revision to meet the present and the future, this can best be done through a convention if the right men are chosen.

Let this convention to be go down in history as one that accomplished things, not for any particular section of the country or any faction of members, but for the whole International Union.

In conclusion let me say to those that may assemble in our next convention, the membership is sending you there for a purpose. They will demand the best there is in you, let us hope you will be big enough for the task to accomplish the work entrusted to you, so that it may be an everlasting benefit for our International and its membership.

Fraternally yours,

JOHN JOSEPHSON.

Shreveport, La., Nov. 10, 1919.

Our city is booming more than the average man thinks, because we are directly in the oil and natural gas fields, and organized labor claims a vast number of men of all kinds in the oil field workers. Under the Shreveport jurisdiction we claim about 3,000 to 4,000 members and more. Still our city is full of cigars without the union label. We have two factories here with a fair bill of prices—$12, $13, $14, $17, $18 and others. If we can only get some more good men to come here. One factory has sold out to a good local business man, whose ambition will be a good-sized shop. There are about ten jobs open at the present time. For further information write to me.

I believe I am safe in saying that never before in the cigar trade was there such a strike as this four (4) months' struggle here in New York City and vicinity. None of the time was it a movement in the interest of the Intl. Union or its members. No matter what the leaders of this strike ever claimed, no matter what may be said now, the Council and the old Resistencia never conceived so big a plan for the disruption of our Intl. Union as this one was. The "One Big Union" was the big thing with them. This was proven every time anything was attempted along organization lines—during the strike—from the first to the last days of the strike.

Do not say anything like that. You have no right to at this time. Wait until the strike is over. If you start anything like that now, (requesting striking cigar makers to join the union—less than 700 applied for membership during the strike—can you imagine this?) you will break the strike. Try that and you will break it today, and these same men would tell you the Council and the Old Resistencia, now called the Spanish auxiliary, were out of existence—that the cigar trade was united—but later on when a couple of the Council members committed an "awful crime," dared to join the Intl. Union, they were threatened with all kinds of punishment. One day they had the matter up before the—one of the various—strike committees, and after a motion regarding this circumstance was made, the then acting chairman, Mr. Silver, stated that it did not properly belong before this body, as the charges against these men would be brought up before the Council, that we had been told was out of existence. Do you get that, the Council would try men for the "crime" of joining the Cigar Makers' Intl. Union, during a strike, when they were appealing to any, every, union, claiming the Union was not backing the strike; trying every way imaginable to get money to keep the strike going. Money, money and more money was the continuous cry from men that will try a man for committing the "crime" of joining the Cigar Makers' Intl. Union. Who ever before heard of 15,000 or 18,000 non-union cigar makers, or from any other trade, and organization never mentioned? And if it was to have most of the leaders cry out, don't do that unless you want to break the strike. These are some of the reasons for me telling you that a strike like this never happened before and I feel safe in saying never will again. Thousands of cigar makers learned their lesson; even many of our own members had to be shown. Well, they were shown and it will not happen to them again.

When the General Strike Committee fired the J. A. B. Delegates off the Committee they were only continuing their pre-arranged policy. They fully expected to continue the Council and the Spanish Auxiliary. (We used to know these fellows as the Resistencia) in existence as was evidently intended from the start, as they in their original Bill of Prices never mentioned Intl. Union or any other union, simply said Bill of Prices of the Cigar Makers and Packers of New York, Brooklyn and Hudson county, and one of the clauses in the "Bill" read as follows: In unorganized shops the same rules shall apply, except in the case where the grievance committee, not being able to adjust grievances, shall report the same to the settlement and revision committee of the General Strike Committee of New York and vicinity. And this was the idea of firing the J. A. B. members off the General Committee—this they felt would leave them a permanent committee outside the union, in the belief that it might assist them in continuing the Council and Auxiliary. Well it looks like they were pretty well fooled. There seems almost no one but the committee left to operate on. Yes, there are some few, as they seem to pick out a label shop or organized shop to kick up a row in just to make trouble. It isn't a question of merit; just a case of trouble is what they are after. Well, they will keep this up until patience ceases to be a virtue. When that time comes they will either behave or get out of the shop and perhaps the union. Pure, unadulterated cussedness will not be tolerated these days, for very long. Many times I have heard the leaders of these factions declare there was no more Council, no more Auxiliary; that that were all in one body now to win the strike (and back of all that to either control or drive the Intl. Union out of New York). Many of them even dreamed that this would apply to the whole Intl. Union. Well, most of them have wakened up. That nightmare is over, and they now realize that all their wonderful leaders got for them was a four (4) months on the sidewalk. When it came to anything relating to a finish of the strike, victorious or otherwise, it was the same Intl. Union that came to their rescue. After going to Boston and Manchester by direction of the Intl. president, and helping those locals all I could in settling those strikes. Under instruction of President Perkins, I returned to New York, fully expecting to comply with action of the J. A. B. where they at a meeting of the J. A. B. on July 8, 1919, held for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee on the revision of the Bill of Prices. The revised Bill was read by Delegate Rynar. The revised Bill of Prices was the same as the proposed Bill of Boston. After considerable discussion it was decided to approve the Bill and that the manufacturers be informed that the proposed bill of prices is the Bill which they must pay, but in the event that the Boston Bill is either raised or lowered, our Bill will be changed accordingly. This was carried unanimously. For this reason I supposed that when I returned to New York City that we would start in doing business in compliance with the action of the J. A. B. But much to my surprise no such thing would be tolerated. The General Strike Committee accused us of everything imaginable. And to make it still worse they had the assistance of some who should have known better, mistaken or not. This was unfortunate as we could have settled the strike at that time with better conditions than were finally accepted; better prices, then; and to think this would have saved 10 or 11 weeks of all these thousands walking the sidewalk. Living, I can not imagine how many of them managed, simply to satisfy the ambitions of a radical leadership, men that can create trouble, that give earnest men sure enough heartache, before a settlement can be made. And the J. A. B. and the Union men stood for all of this until they were kicked off the Strike Committee. Now the reaction has come. Now they realize that their wonderful leaders are badly bent little tin gods instead of men that would get them beneficial results. This strike showed a most wonderful exhibition of courage among the strikers in the ranks. Too bad that it was mostly wasted "but it was." And strange as it may seem, there are yet a few that imagine they are still leading a strike. The One Big Union is the only thing they can imagine. There was a time when some of our members were saying, see what these fellows are doing for us. All they could see was the demands made. And now they are saying—after four months on the bricks—if that bunch ever tries that again they never will get me, no sir, once is enough. Truly it is.

At last, when it looked like the people might run back into the shops and the leaders were looking like a bunch of frightened sheep, a conference was arranged. At this conference an offer was made that was even better than the one finally accepted, but this one was rejected instantly by the acting chairman of the committee, Mr. Rynar, and later on a very much less attractive offer was made and was supposed to be submitted to the strikers. Instead it was submitted to what was politely called a mass meeting, but quite the contrary, it was simply a meeting arranged to suit an element that had no idea of settling the strike. Had this offer been submitted in a fair manner it would not have been accepted, as a better offer had been turned down by the acting chairman the week before. But the idea of turning a supposed strikers' mass meeting into the disgraceful thing they at last worked this meeting into—fairly a riot, was most likely a more extreme finish than they desired; at any rate they at that meeting started the sentiment that in a few weeks made a settlement necessary unless they wanted the people to go back into the shops well licked. And again the Intl. Union came to the rescue and secured another conference at which time an offer was made that was later accepted by a referendum vote of the strikers. Not nearly all of them voted—however, the vote was nearly 6 to 1 in favor of accepting the offer. When it became known that the offer had been accepted it brought both tears and curses, but the really dissatisfied ones were few. The mass of strikers were all ready to go to work, and of course this result pleased them. The time is here in New York for level-headed men to become active. Reconstruction in the cigar trade is a present need. There must be better relations between the "makers" and the manufacturers. We now have a start for a uniform bill for the New York district. Collective Bargaining and all that goes with it, reasonable leadership now means much for the future of the cigar makers. The cigar industry of New York is almost in the balance. A bad move now would work injury that would be hard to cure. The experience gained in this strike should influence the makers in or out of the union toward temperate action. When once Collective Bargaining is introduced, rough tactics should not be permitted. Wild strikes only lead to want and suffering; a general benefit has never been produced through strikes of that character. A strike is the last weapon to be used. Never strike until all reasonable means have been exhausted. But when you do strike, have your mind made up, before you start; let it be known that it is to a finish, such is the position of what our radical friends call the conservative. But tell them, all of them, that the Conservative, when once he is ready to strike, that there is no such idea in his head as lose. They are the fighters not the talkers, and as we go on and see radical movements and see them fail because of lack of preparedness, lack of moral courage, that is the principal failure of the radical, too temperamental, simply a flash in the pan, not mentally well prepared for a real struggle. They are either flaming with childish pomposity or in despair, continuously. Idealists, dreamers, and too often their dreams come tumbling down about them, which frequently brings disaster to those unfortunate enough to be for the time led by them.

When all these conditions are at last settled and the cigar makers have time to think it over I am sure that there will be an awakening and organization will commence from a healthy desire to affiliate with the cigar makers' Intl. Union. I hope to see nine or ten thousand new members in New York in the next couple of years. It will bring needed results to the cigar makers of this vicinity. And also encourage other districts that need organization as much or more than does New York. Any one that would have guessed that the cigar trade in this district could be in the condition it is now, even seven or eight weeks ago, had he let his thoughts become words, would have been thought unsound in mind—a real start to a Uniform Bill of Prices, and Collective Bargaining, for New York City is a wonderful achievement. And if you of New York will watch your step, your position in a short time will be still more improved. You may be sure that the Intl. Union will be with you; will assist you in any manner possible. My hopes for your future are that you may do all this and more.

W. A. CAMPBELL,

Intl. Organizer and Financier.

Report of Organizer.

The cigar girls of the Englehardt strike factory of Evansville, Ind., gave a benefit dance which was held on Friday, Oct. 24. A very enjoyable time was had by the large number of people who attended. I addressed a few remarks from the stage to the assembled cigar girls who are not yet with us on the necessity of organization and inviting them to become members of the union.

The Central Labor Union of Evansville has a plan of strike assistance in force that is not in general use elsewhere and which is very helpful to new organizations of labor, to-wit: Each affiliated union is asked to levy an assessment of 25 cents per week per member for a period of ten weeks, the money so collected to be turned over to a secretary-treasurer elected by the central body to handle this fund. The money is paid out on the order of the Executive Board of the Central Labor Union. The

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commences on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

The Executive Board levied a $2.00 assessment commencing Sept. 15, on all members (Class A to pay one-half). This assessment is in addition to the 20c weekly running assessment.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

Many secretaries have asked the question whether the $2.00 assessment, levied September 15, takes the place of the weekly 20-cent assessment. The postal card sent to unions reference the stamps plainly states that it is in addition to the 20-cent weekly assessment. Every member is subject to the 20-cent weekly assessment and in addition to the $2.00 assessment. Those who join after assessment was levied are not subject to the $2.00 assessment, but must pay the 20-cent weekly assessment.

Notice.—A number of label custodians seem to be under the impression that the new-sized label takes the place of both sizes formerly used. This is not the case. It takes the place of the large label, but the use of the small label will also be continued for the present.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

Strike out all in Sec. 87 after the word "first," on line 4.

Amendment proposed by Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.

To amend Section 106, by adding after the word "constitution," on line 32, the following: "Members owing International loans on June 30 (of each year) shall pay a loan fee of 5 cents for each dollar indebted, up to and including May 31, payable in eight weeks if employed, or sixteen weeks if unemployed, or upon withdrawal of card. Date of payment and amount paid to be entered on the member's card, with signature and seal of secretary. Local unions shall be entitled to percentage on loan fees collected, as provided in Section 175."

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.:

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Secs. 2 and 3 of the Constitution.

By Union 39 of New Haven, Conn.:

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 143 to 149, inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows, and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 220, New Orleans, La.—Gaston L. Mansion.

Union 129, Denver, Colo.—Abe Brouse, 83567, who died October 17.

UNION NOTES

Secretary holding card of P. J. Rutz, No. 110955, is requested to collect board bill of $15.00 which he has owed $12, Livingston, Mont., since February, 1912.

In last month's Journal the suspension of Geo. W. Tozer (63527), Margaret Collins (108802), and Elmer Thornton (100749), by 218, Binghamton, was published. This was a mistake. These members were fined but not suspended.

Union 27, Toronto, announces that there are fifty jobs open on hand work in the factory of John McKnee & Sons, and jobs in some of the other factories.

Secretary of 42, Hartford, would like to hear from Harry Falltrick (5789). Business of importance.

Secretary of 77, Minneapolis, wants to hear immediately from Merritt Havens (9270), and Vincent Miller (12527).

Union 170 state they have raised their bill of prices from $1.00 to $4.00 per M., $12.00 low, and average of nearly 15 per cent on all but four jobs, and the outlook for business this winter is good.

Union 129, Denver, desires to inform the members through the Journal that our strike was settled and all returned to work October 9, after being out 7 weeks and 3 days. $1.00 increase for making and $0.10 for packing was secured pending settlement of the New York strike. All members are working and manufacturers calling for more cigarmakers.

Secretary holding card of Louis Godfrey (2489) is requested to enter $3.50 board bill due Union 76, Hannibal, Mo., and collect and forward same.

Unions holding private loans against Ed Yowell (85288) please cancel them, as his death benefit is insufficient to pay them.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 6th, 1919.

List of donations received from local unions in aid of our strike acknowledged in the Oct. Journal amounted to $628.59. Those received since that date are shop collection from Tampa members, $297.35; Union 27, Ft. Wayne, $5; 5, Rochester, $10; 68, Albany, $5; 42, Hartford, $50; 150, Sioux City, $5; 98, St. Paul, $5; 9, Troy, $10; 120, Muscatine, $3; 122, Warren, $1; 367, Ogden, $5; 55, Hamilton, $4.30; 20, Decatur, $2; 118, Peoria, $2; 41, Aurora, $2; 429, Niagara Falls, $2; 336, Tampa, $4; 206, N. Adams, $5; 162, Green Bay, $1; 93, Omaha, $5; total, $438.65.

Unions that sent money after the settlement and which has been returned are: 332, 42, 76, 122, 225, 153, 447, 282, 44, 425, 304, 208, 335, 339, 119, 179, 205, 297.

Any unions that have not received a receipt or the return of their money will confer a favor by calling it to our attention. However, we are sure none has been overlooked.

J. W. SANFORD.

The Clique.

Every lodge and every association member who has struggled along year after year bearing the burdens of the organization of their particular association, carrying the hod, taking the blame, doing the work, taking the steps, losing the time, putting in the overtime, working without pay or reward, all for the good of their particular secret order or industrial organization, will fully appreciate and understand the poem printed below. And maybe some of the kickers and critics will be able to see themselves in a new light as reflected by these keen, true lines.

What is the Clique? 'Tis a body of men
Who attend every meeting, not just now and then;
Who don't miss a meeting unless they are sick.
These are the men that the grouch calls the Clique.

Who don't make a farce of the sacred word
"brother,"
Who believe in the motto "to help one another."
Who never resort to a dishonest trick —
These are the men that some call the Clique.

The men who are seldom behind in their dues
And who from the meetings do not carry news;
Who attend to their duties and visit the sick—
These are the men that the crank calls the Clique.

We should be proud of members like these—
They can call them the Clique or whatever they please;
They never attempt any duties to dodge;
These are the Cliques that run most every lodge.

But there are people who always find fault,
And most of this kind are not worth their salt;
They like to start trouble, but seldom will stick,
They like to put all the work on the Clique.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28, 1919.

To All Organized Labor.

Greetings: The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor has discussed at length the entire situation relating to the strike of the employees in the various iron and steel centers. The organizing committee of the twenty-four national and international unions involved made a detailed statement to the effect that the published reports of the strike are misleading and untrue, and that the men are standing solid. The committee emphasized the necessity of financing the strike, that is, that funds are essential to maintain the commissary places which were opened up in order to furnish the most needy with some food so that they can live and maintain their position.

The Executive Council declared its support of the organizations on strike and that an appeal should be made to all organized labor and friends urging their financial and moral support. In this contest the moral support and financial assistance of all are necessary. Every dollar received will be devoted to the purpose of sustaining the needy and their families.

As already stated, the officials in charge of the strike have arranged to open commissaries to feed all who are really in need.

There are now four hundred thousand workers and their families affected.

The necessity for help is pressing.

Every local union is urged to contribute as generously as its resources will permit, and every member of every organization is urged to do likewise. Every central body is requested to conduct a campaign to raise funds in the shortest time possible.

In addition to financial assistance, union men everywhere are asked to use every moral influence in behalf of the men who are involved in the strike, to tell the great public the truth about the strike and to leave nothing undone that will bring it to an honorable conclusion.

Send all contributions to Frank Morrison, Secretary, American Federation of Labor, Washington, D. C.

Fraternally yours,

SAM'L GOMPERS, President.

CUT OUT TOBACCO, CARDS AND FEATHERS.

J. H. Burnham Has Given Notice of Motion to Prohibit About Everything.

(Canadian Press Dispatch.)

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—J. H. Burnham (Peterboro) has given notice that on the reading of orders of the day for the first sitting of the committee on the whole on the prohibition act, he will move the following resolution:

"That it be an instruction to the committee of the whole on the said bill that the committee do have the power to extend the provisions of the bill to playing cards, the feathers of wild birds for dress or other ornamental purposes, and to tobacco in any form."

Referring to his proposed amendment, Mr. Burnham said today:

"I believe the scope of such a bill should be as wide as the request of the people of a province may require and not be confined to one article. For example, a nation-wide crusade has been begun in the U. S. for Sunday observance, and if the present bill does not show itself capable of extension a province would not be properly equipped to express its wish by referendum. A new era of expressing the people's will has arrived and the methods defined by a federal bill should be complete."

Entered as second class matter, Nov. 25, 1894,
at the Post Office at Chicago, Ill., under Act of March 3, 1879.

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all!

The amendment of 218 Binghamton has received the required number of endorsements and will go to popular vote. The amendment proposes to strike out "$8.00 per thousand" and insert "$9.00 per thousand," as the lowest making price for a cigar bearing the union label. In view of the fact that we are to hold a convention in April this matter might rest until that time. Extremely interesting information and questions will come before you, one of which relates to this very matter. In any event, it can do no particular harm if it rests until that time, when the delegates from Binghamton or any other union can bring it before the convention for further consideration, discussion and action.

The conference of representatives of the public, the manufacturers, and organized labor, called by President Wilson, to settle the great economic issues and questions affecting the employed and the employer in their relations, a subject which is world wide and as old as recorded time, went to pieces on the rock of collective bargaining. The reactionary forces, who were protected by the unit rule, really declined to even concede the right of collective bargaining and the right of representation of the workers by those of their own choosing, and there was nothing left for the labor delegates except to retire from the conference. All honor and credit to them for doing it!

Ex-Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Wm. G. McAdoo, says that the mine operators made a profit of from 15 to 2000 per cent. In Chicago on December 5 eggs were $1.00 a dozen, and butter, $0.80 a pound. And you can still hear people saying that the high cost of living is due to increased wages. Of course, the hens organized, joined the union, and demanded better chicken feed and better working conditions! The cows also organized, joined the union, and demanded better alfalfa, more meal, and better working conditions! Still it is said organized labor is responsible for the high cost of living!

No organization, including labor, is perfect or ever can become perfect. In the process of evolution that Perfection which seemed an ideal organization or state, if Never. reached would in a few years become old-fashioned and unsatisfactory, and would not be a perfect organization. It is well that this is true and it will always be true so long as hope and ambition last, and both will probably last forever. The natural evolution brings with it new ideas and increased intelligence and fresh hope.

Having laid the foundation it is neither wise nor helpful nor desirable to destroy or secede from an existing organization or to form dual organizations. The real red-blooded man or woman gets inside and stays inside of the ranks of organized labor and there fights man-fashion against what he thinks are wrongs, and in advocacy of his ideals. The self-styled progressive is often too shortsighted and impatient with the evolutionary process and what he thinks is slow progress and is inclined to rush off and start something new—a dual organization. This something new invariably fails, chiefly because it attracted the erratically inclined who never want to stay hitched, and they then start out with something new again, while the solid, substantial, plodding, evolutionary, constructive trade union movement continues to improve. The constructive trade union is always reliable, ready to sacrifice, willing to meet the other fellow halfway, and always ready to fight for principle, justice and right. Courageous men stand up and fight within the organization along constructive, evolutionary lines; the coward runs away. He labors under the mistaken idea that the way to build up is to tear down. Regardless of how earnest or well meaning he may be he is usually headed in the wrong direction.

The Cigar Makers' International Union, as we understand it, draws no line or distinction as to the opinion, hopes and aspirations of journeyman cigarmakers. Its door is wide open. It welcomes all engaged in our industry to come within. We neither fear nor shirk from meeting those who hold adverse opinions. The dissenters and dreamers serve a good purpose in the labor movement. They stimulate thought, counteract inertia and general lethargy. After all the desire for constructive progress, guided by common sense and justice, usually prevails.

In these more or less trying times politically and economically, among other things that should be done, is to let the unvarnished truth shine forth resplendent. One of the greatest drawbacks to rational, progressive advancement, politically speaking, is a lack of knowledge, hidden facts, and all round general misstatements. Civilization, moral and material advancement, have been half strangled for the want of truth. The truth should be told regardless of whom it may hurt, and if the people generally were once placed in possession of all the real facts, many of these perplexing questions would be quickly adjusted without any drastic laws. True publicity and knowledge are the greatest attributes to quick and orderly advancement. If all newspapers on all occasions and at all times told only the exact truth there would be no need of drastic legislation. There would be no profiteering, no manipulation of big industries, no interlocking directors, and no one concern with its bonding companies, its holding companies, and its operating companies, each drawing profits. Certain alleged statesmen would not like to see in print that they were owned body and soul by certain trusts and big financial interests.

The coming convention will stand out as the most momentous in the history of the International Union. Questions affecting the organization will be met and will have to be handled with intelligence, fidelity, and courage. Local unions and the members thereof are, after all, the ones most vitally concerned, and it behooves them to select delegates whose unionism, fidelity, ability, and courage are beyond question. Evolution in the industry has brought us to a point where some changes should be made if we are to successfully continue the effort to completely organize the industry. It is to your own interests to send your best.

The recent election in France resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the destructive radicals, while at the same time the character of the people elected is a pretty sure indication to the powers that be that rational, constructive measures are the only thing to bring about a semblance of content, and the preservation of the free institutions of France. The profiteers and unscrupulous, money mad big financiers in this country have no occasion for rejoicing because of the defeat of the radicals in France. It is true that an election here would witness a defeat of the destructive radicals but it would not cure the unrest, neither would it lend encouragement to the profiteers.

The thing to cure unrest in France or a semblance of it here in this country is the plain, old-fashioned application of justice and fair dealing. The right to organize, collective bargaining, and the right to strike will still go forward despite any hardship that may occur. The people of America are liberty-loving, law-abiding, and in the final analysis are not going to surrender any of their rights or their liberties, despite what any 2000 per cent profiteers may temporarily do.

Review of General Trade Conditions.

The signing of the armistice found all the powers like sick men.

The fever of actual warfare abated, they attempted to immediately resume their business, but we find, in nations as in men, there is a period called convalescence which is seemingly as hard to overcome as was the disease of war itself.

The iron hand of war brushed aside every obstacle in the way toward victory, but with the coming of peace selfish passions and interests hitherto suppressed (or given unlimited freedom under the guise of patriotism) surged upward with a clamorous demand for more and yet more profits.

Such a paroxysm of jumbled complications has been heaped upon the convalescent nation that we are now suffering from a relapse that may be more dangerous and far-reaching than was even the illness of war.

The steel situation is practically unchanged, and despite the daily statements of the press that "production is nearing normal" we find on investigation that the volume of business as gauged by actual shipments of manufactured steel is far below the quantity the papers would have you believe is being produced. Even the trade journals admit a "serious shortage of common labor in the steel industry," and as the strike is largely composed of this particular kind of labor it is safe to assume that the industry is far from normal.

The coal situation, made critical by academic meddling and blunders, is one that reflects on almost every activity in the nation. However, there is no need for undue pessimism, for we as a nation are not going to allow any internal problem to perplex us for any great length of time.

General business conditions remain good with a demand in almost every line outstripping production, not through any desire on the part of labor to hamper production, but from an organized effort on the part of big business to keep production at such a low ebb that demand will insure great profits.

It is in this machination of supply that the time-worn slogan, "Supply and Demand," held by many to be the solution of every problem both financial and industrial, gets a jolt that is hard to explain away. Demand is a natural result of the unfilled wants of the people, ever in the ascendancy yet never satisfied, while supply is a thing over which the people as a whole have little control and which can be juggled to best suit the desires of a class whose aim is always toward the one thing—dividends.

That we are in a general way prosperous and on a sound business basis is evinced from the fact that R. G. Dun & Company report but 4,586 failures involving $38,941,608 in the nine months ending September 30, compared with 8,069 failures involving $122,975,024 in the corresponding period for 1918, while statistics of freight imports and exports for the year ending August 31, issued by the Department of Commerce, show that the year's commerce exceeded that of last year by more than $1,500,000,000, while the balance of trade in favor of the United States was more than $1,000,000,000 larger.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The employer who insists on dealing with his employes his own way is the employer who produces strikes.

The largest railroad organization in America is the Railway Brotherhood Carmen of America, with over 175,000 members.

Danish co-operative trade unions have a membership of 255,000, an increase of 93 per cent in two years.

During the past year 16,000,000 union label brooms were made in the United States, reports Will R. Boyer, secretary-treasurer of the international union. Do you have one in your home?

During the war the postoffice department was the only department of the federal government which did not recognize the right of men and women to do collective bargaining.

The leather industry ranks as the third greatest manufacturing industry in the United States. According to the census of manufacturers for 1914, about 250,000 persons are engaged in the leather industry of the United States, some 55,936 of whom are in the tanning and leather trades, the remainder being principally shoemakers and harness makers.

Female labor constitutes a main part of the factory economy of Japan. In nearly 20,000 factories employing not less than ten operatives each, male labor amounts to 42 per cent and female labor 58 per cent of the total.

The number of women who are recruited as factory workers in Japan reaches 200,000 every year, but of these 120,000 do not return to the parental roof. Among the 80,000 women who return to their homes something like 13,000 are found to be sick, about 25 per cent of them having contracted consumption.

Union wages spent for non-union goods marks the purchaser as a counterfeit union man. The purchase of a non-union article by a union member is inexcusable. Every time you as a union man purchase an article produced by unfair labor you are just as surely doing organized labor an injustice as if you actually broke a strike.

Don't be a strike breaker through your purchasing power. Insist on the Union Label.

An interesting experiment is going on in Washington which seemingly attracts little attention throughout the country, the public press giving it very little space and the reading public less attention.

We refer to the International Labor Conference which is an integral part of the League of Nations.

Practically every other country in the world is giving it serious consideration through the press and therefore the people of other lands appear to be more keenly interested in its deliberations than we Americans who are, perhaps, responsible for its being.

To secure some measure of international agreement among forty nations differing each from the other in industrial development, business practices and speaking every language known to civilized man is no small job.

Capital is to a great extent already internationalized and it is imperative that we standardize our labor relations.

While the general public is apparently apathetic we have the assurance that our affairs are being handled in a way to best safeguard the interests of labor by those in charge of labor's part of it, the level headed leaders of the A. F. of L.

The public press is working overtime trying to saddle the present high cost of living onto organised labor by claiming that we "Refuse to produce."

Labor has been forced to use their last weapon, the strike, in order to secure for themselves more hours in which to produce. One of the demands of the stock yards workers was for "Not less than forty hours per week." The six-hour day demanded by the coal miner is for INCREASED hours of labor, hence INCREASED PRODUCTION.

Edgar Wallace, representative of the United Mine Workers, says:

"The coal miners can show by the United States geological survey that they have not averaged six hours a day for 17 years. Reports by the government bureau show that since 1902 the miner has worked from 150 to 228 days a year. The latter figure applies to 1918 when, under war stress, the mines were operated more regular and the men received 228 days' employment. Their average yearly employment since 1902 is 206 days.

"What the miners are really asking is not a reduction of hours, but a guarantee that they will have work six days a week throughout the year."

We have repeatedly charged the H. C. L. to our Super-patriots (?), the profiteers, most of whom were in the employ of the Government at $1.00 per year wages and as many millions as they could get away with through preferred contracts for supplies.

Their reports are now coming in and it would seem that our judgment on them is pretty well established.

Is it any wonder that shoes cost so much that they are positively painful when we find that the quarterly report of the American Hide and Leather Company shows a three months surplus of $1,212,416 after all charges and taxes have been paid? This is equivalent to $9.33 on the $13,000,000 preferred stock, as compared with $4.90 a share during the same period in 1918.

The decision of Federal Judge Anderson granting an injunction against the miners on the application of the Attorney General marks it as the most serious and far reaching document ever used against labor in this country.

Notwithstanding the assurance of officials high in governmental affairs that the Lever Act, under which the injunction was granted, was not to be used against labor, we find its application now making of the laborer a serf, helpless in the face of a writ severing him from every conception of American freedom.

The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, in dealing with the question, well says:

"In a free country to conceive of a Government applying for and obtaining a restraining order prohibiting the officials of a labor organization from contributing their own money for the purpose of procuring food for women and children that might be starving, is something that, when known, will shock the sensibilities of men and will cause resentment. Surely the thousands of men who are lying in France, under the soil, whose blood was offered for the freedom of the world, never dreamed that so shortly afterwards in their own country 450,000 workers, endeavoring to better their working conditions, would have the Government decide that they were not entitled to the assistance of their fellow men and that their wives and children should starve by order of the Government."

An injunction is "An extraordinary writ issued out of equity enjoining a threatened injury to property or property rights, where there is not a plain, adequate and complete remedy at law."

Our form of government was intended to be a government by law, and the Constitution provides that laws must be enacted by Congress, interpreted by the judiciary and enforced by the executive. Government by injunction, that is by the judiciary, is revolutionary, retroactive and at absolute variance with every conception of the ideas of popular government as set forth in the Preamble to our Constitution.

Injunctions issued by courts of equity against labor are issued to protect business and several courts have held business to be property. The Century Dictionary defines property as follows, "Property is the exclusive right of possession, enjoying and disposing of a thing." Under this definition of property it would seem that an individual might claim his labor power as an exclusive right of possession and retain the exclusive right as to its disposition. We find, however, that the injunction, so far, has failed to provide any protection whatsoever to the laborer in the safeguarding of his property rights or the disposition of the same. The laborer becomes merely a chattel bound by the despotic ruling of an autocratic judge.

Let organized labor serve warning here and now that it will not consent to government by injunction. Our blood was not poured upon the soil of European battlefields that such a brand of Democracy might be instituted.

TRADE NOTES.

The General Cigar Co. reports its earnings for the first nine months of 1919 as $1,801,841.

The Owl cigar, it is said, is the largest selling cigar in the United States and in the world to-day. Sales at present are at the rate of 150,000,000 cigars a year.

According to a statement issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Washington, D. C., the earnings per hour of cigar makers have increased 52 per cent since 1913.

The total number of wage earners in all tobacco manufacturing industries in 1914 amounted to 178,873.

As an indication of the general trend of the trade in tobacco products we refer to the following dividends declared:

The General Cigar Company has declared a quarterly dividend on preferred stock of 1½ per cent, payable Dec. 1st.

The Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company has declared a quarterly dividend on common stock of 3 per cent, payable Dec. 1st.

The American Tobacco Company has declared a quarterly dividend on common stock of 5 per cent, payable Dec. 1st.

United Cigar Stores Company has declared a dividend of 6 per cent on its common stock payable Jan. 2nd.

From Aug. 15, 1918, until May 15 of this year the United Cigar Stores Company has been distributing 2¼ per cent quarterly. No distribution has been made to the common shareholders since the latter date. With the payment of 6 per cent in January, the distribution within the twelve month period will be brought up to $10.50 a share.

Never in the history of the trade has there been such enormous sales of leaf tobacco reported for so early in the buying season.

Lancaster, Pa., reports that at least 80 per cent of the 1919 crop has already been bought up with prices advancing with the demand.

Hartford, Conn., reports buyers routing the growers out of bed before daylight and even halting them on their way to church to make an offer for their holdings. Here, too, the prices paid were higher than had been anticipated at the start of the buying season.

Exportation of tobacco from the United States for the first nine months of 1919 was valued at $28,914,616 compared with $23,650,134 for the corresponding period in 1918. This is not merely an increase in valuation, but an actual increase in quantity for 10,160,000,000 cigarettes were shipped in 1919 compared with 9,751,000,000 in 1918 and 4,681,011,000 in 1917. Exports of cigars in 1919 was twice that of previous year and thirty-five times the number exported in 1917.

The exports of leaf tobacco, from the port of Havana, from Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, 1919, totaled 287,376 bales, of which the eleven principal countries received the following quantities, viz:

	Bales.
United States	199,708
Argentina	30,528
Spain	14,599
Canada	9,660
Sweden	9,540
Holland	7,177
Uruguay	4,692
Chile	3,373
England	2,398
France	1,341
Belgium	1,231

Exports of cigars, from the port of Havana, through the Havana Custom House, as per official returns, during the month of October, in the years 1919 and 1918:

	1919.	1918.
England	7,981,614	7,539,532
United States	5,147,615	3,670,023

France	1,276,000	330,000
Argentina	687,658	181,500

The United Retail Stores Corporation, whose policy was outlined in the July Journal, have through a reorganization plan absorbed Montgomery Ward and Co., the second largest mail order house in the world.

The acquisition of this mammoth concern which retails everything by mail order gives the United Retail Stores Corporation a good boost toward their avowed policy of establishing a chain of stores around the world to distribute every article necessary to the needs or fancies of mankind.

The United Cigar Stores Co., recently absorbed by the United Retail Stores, will have opened 108 new stores this year which is equal to the total opened in the preceding three years. In the first nine months of this year, 66 new stores were leased and opened, more than the total in 1916 and 1916 combined, while 42 new leases have been closed and the stores are now in process of being opened. This will bring the number of its chain stores to near 1,350 by next year. Many leases have been closed by the United Retail Candy Stores in New York, Syracuse and other parts of the country. Candy stores are being opened in Memphis, Mobile and Montgomery.

There is no doubt that we are entering an era of distribution by the chain store plan. The effect it will have on the independent small dealer in every line is worthy of earnest consideration and study.

The total stock of leaf tobacco for cigar wrappers and fillers held in the bonded warehouses of the United States on Sept. 30, 1919, was 58,647,894 pounds, as compared with 63,138,065 pounds in the corresponding period last year, representing a decrease for the current year of 4,490,171 pounds. The amount of leaf tobacco held in warehouses for cigar wrappers during the month of September, 1919, was valued at $49,581,423, and when compared with the value of leaf in the same period last year shows an increase of $14,548,121 for September, 1919.

The following table gives in detail the amount of tobacco, both wrappers and fillers, remaining in bonded warehouses of this country on Sept. 30, 1919 and 1918:

	1919. Pounds.	1918. Pounds.
Leaf, suitable for wrappers. 7,018,800		6,899,511
All others	51,629,094	56,238,554
Total	58,647,894	63,138,065

Leaf tobacco held by manufacturers and dealers in the United States on Oct. 1, 1919, aggregated 1,263,769,470 pounds, as compared with 1,627,233,876 on April 1, 1919, the Census Bureau says: Chewing, smoking, snuff and export types, 891,633,933 pounds as compared with 1,255,969,364 on April 1; cigar types, 302,972,044 pounds, as compared with 302,565,869, and imported types, 69,168,094 pounds, as compared with 67,798,743.

According to figures recently given out by the department of commerce, on Oct. 1, this year, there were 68,712,252 pounds of leaf tobacco held by Wisconsin manufacturers and dealers, as against 50,784,419 pounds Oct. 1, 1918. On April 1, this year, tobacco handlers in Wisconsin, other than the original growers, had a total of 79,406,887 pounds on hand, while on July 1, this year, the total was 72,146,234.

The bonded stock of cigars and cheroots amounted to 12,727 pounds as compared with 18,784 pounds in the same period last year, showing a decrease of 6,057.

From a recent bulletin issued by the War Industries Board we glean the following interesting facts relative to our tobacco industry:

"In the United States about 1,500,000 acres are planted each year in tobacco. The farm value of the crop in 1918 was $374,318,000. Our exports of tobacco and tobacco products are valued at about $100,000,000 annually.

"In 1914 tobacco manufacturing occupied 13,951 establishments, employed the labor of 173,872 wage earners, used $303,840,000 worth of capital and paid $77,856,000 in wages. The commissioner of Internal Revenue reports of Jan. 1, 1918, 1,976 tobacco, 311 cigarette and 13,874 cigar factories in business. Since 1915 over 600,000,000 pounds of leaf tobacco have been used annually by these factories from which over 160,000,000 pounds of plug, 15,000,000 pounds of twist, 11,000,000 pounds of fine cut, 240,000,000 pounds of smoking, 33,000,000 pounds of snuff, 8,000,000,000 cigars and 35,000,000,000 cigarettes have been manufactured.

"Probably about one-third of our population, or about 35,000,000 people, are consumers of tobacco products. These consumers may be classified approximately as follows: Tobacco users, 20,000,000; cigarette users, 9,000,000; cigar users, 6,000,000; snuff users, 3,000,000. The total consumption of tobacco leaf in the United States runs over 700,000,000 pounds annually. This means an annual consumption of about 7 pounds per capita and over 20 pounds per tobacco consumer. The money spent each year by consumers for the finished product amount to over $1,000,000,000."

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Daniel C. Roper, in his annual report to congress says, "Tobacco has become one of the great sources of revenue for the Government." This statement is conclusively proven by the mass of statistics he offers in his most comprehensive report, of which a brief review follows.

One of the most important changes made is the new law effective Dec. 1, 1919, which not only requires each leaf dealer to be bonded but provides that monthly and annual reports must be made to the department. This law will enable the Government to more readily detect fraud as well as aiding in an equitable collection of the internal revenue on manufactured tobacco products.

The total receipts from all tobacco taxes during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919 amounted to $206,003,091.84, an increase of $49,814,431.94, or 31.8 per cent over the preceding year. It is estimated that under normal conditions the revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, will amount to approximately $275,000,000.

The following table shows in detail the decrease in the number of manufacturers of tobacco products during the past six years:

In business Dec. 31—

	Cigars.	Cigar-ettes.	To-bacco.	Dealers in leaf.
1913	19,841	447	2,766	4,004
1914	16,754	381	2,364	3,164
1915	15,732	367	2,214	3,497
1916	14,576	311	2,085	4,129
1917	13,217	311	1,915	3,668
1918	11,291	263	1,803	3,002

The above statistics appear to prove our oft repeated statement that centralization, not only in our own line but in all departments of the tobacco industry, is going forward with leaps and bounds.

With this fact in full view our membership must now determine to provide legislation under which we may be able to meet these changing conditions.

To bring the subject down to our own particular branch of the industry and to show exactly what is happening in our own trade we offer for your further consideration the following table, which shows the number of cigar factories in business Jan. 1, 1918, the number opened during the year, the number closed, the number in business on Jan. 1, 1919, and the total amount of cigars manufactured during the year 1918:

During the year 1918 there were 27,842,323 cigars reported used for personal consumption as compared with 34,146,471 used during the year 1917.

Internal revenue receipts from cigars from the Philippines amounted to $1,088,184.35 in 1919, as compared with $792,654.59 for 1918, and from Porto Rico $574,383.57 for 1919, as compared with $680,937.96 in 1918.

The rapid increase in the number of cigar-ettes manufactured is shown when we find that last year there were more pounds of leaf tobacco used in the manufacture of cigarettes than there were used in the manufacture of cigars. In 1910 there was approximately the same amount of cigarettes manufactured as cigars, while last year there were nearly eight times as many cigarettes as cigars, increasing from 8½ billions in 1910 to 46½ billions in the past year, while the number of cigars has remained approximately the same for this period, 8 billions.

Exportation of tobacco from the United States during the first nine months of 1919 was valued at $28,914,516 compared with $23,650,134 for the corresponding period in 1918. This is not merely an increase in valuation, but an actual increase in quantity for 10,160,000,000 cigarettes were shipped in 1919 compared with 9,751,000,000 in 1918 and 4,681,011,000 in 1917. Export of cigars in 1919 was twice that of the previous year and thirty-five times the number exported in 1917.

The increase in exportation for 1918 over 1917 may be explained by the great amount sent to United States troops in France, but that the increase is permanent is shown by the fact that only 50 per cent as many cigarettes were shipped to France in 1919 as in 1918, while the total exportation to all countries not only remained the same but increased. The United Kingdom used $981,580 of American cigarettes in September, 1919, compared with $93,854 in September, 1918, or ten times as much.

For more detailed information in reference to the production of cigars in the various districts for the month of October, though incomplete, we refer to the table published elsewhere in this issue.

CORRESPONDENCE

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 15, 1919.
To the Officers and Members of Local Cigar-makers' International Unions.

Greeting: At the regular meeting of Cigar-makers' Union No. 46 of Grand Rapids, Mich., held November 14, 1919, a convention committee was appointed to place before you for your consideration some of the reasons why Grand Rapids Local No. 46 feels that the best interests of all concerned would be served if Grand Rapids should be the convention city of the coming convention of Cigarmakers' International Union.

In August, 1919, the Trust Cigar Co., known as the General Cigar Co., with head office located at 119 West 40th St., New York City, invaded Grand Rapids and secured a long time lease on the Arbeiter Hall property and remodeled the same into an extensive non-union cigar manufacturing plant, advertising for 300 cigar rollers and bunch breakers; also for beginners who were promised 10 per week while learning.

The last week in August, 1919, the cigar manufacturing concern known as Many & Blank, of Chicago, moved to Grand Rapids and opened up for business, advertising for 200 rollers and bunch breakers, also non-union.

The first week in September, 1919, a strike shop from Chicago, doing business under the name of Triangle Cigar Co., proceeded to do business as a cigar factory of the non-union class and advertised for 150 bunch breakers and rollers, with promises of steady work and no docking of employees. About this time the union cigarmakers of Grand Rapids were making frantic efforts to get from under the spell that had been cast over us by the rapid influx of non-union shops, when there appeared on the scene an agent representing the Consolidated Cigar Co., with 40 non-union factories now in operation in the various cigar centers of the United States. They paid $1,050,000 in cash for the large non-union cigar factory known as the G. J. Johnson Cigar Co., now employing over 500 people, with the intention of doubling the force if the help can possibly be secured.

It is rumored that another large non-union shop from Detroit is seeking permanent quarters in Grand Rapids. Just why these non-union shops were wished on this city in the avalanche is problematical, but we do know that everything that can make our lives miserable is being heaped on us in bountiful profusion by the cigar trust.

There are now about 1,100 non-union cigarmakers in Grand Rapids, and by the time the convention is called this number will be doubled.

We think that the good influences of the convention would have a tendency to organize those outside of the fold. We have an international organizer at work at present and he is doing all in his power to bring about the desired result, but with all of these shops for the girls to go to work in it is very hard work, to say the least.

Local No. 46 was organized and chartered in 1879. We have just one charter member left alive. He is still working at the bench.

Now, fellow craftsmen, if you can vote for Grand Rapids as the convention city it will do much toward the goal we seek. The organizing of the female cigarmakers in our city at the same time would be legislating the greatest good to the greatest numbers. If your local has voted on a convention city before you receive this, the conditions set forth should warrant you in reconsidering your action. The convention will be a period of hard and laborious sessions with the entire delegation working in harmony to meet the many perplexing problems that are bound to arise. To legislature with sound judgment for the very best interest of all concerned is the work cut out for us. Grand Rapids, Michigan, is the logical city. For the convention, vote for Grand Rapids and success.

Grand Rapids as a convention city is excelled by no city of a population of 150,000. We have 7,000 union members in various organizations; the largest furniture market in the world; largest gypsum production in the world; second city in the United States of home owners; healthiest large city in the United States; has five steam railroads, including New York Central and Pennsylvania R. R.; also three inter-urban roads with direct boat connection with Chicago and Milwaukee; has twelve first class hotels, unlimited rooming houses and restaurants. Hotel rates—rooms one dollar per night and up; meals 25c up; can fit any delegate's purse to his satisfaction. Has large convention halls:

The Armory, seating capacity 2,860.

Coliseum, seating capacity 2,400.

K. of C. Hall, seating capacity 1,000.

Hotel Pantlind Ball Room, seating capacity 500.

And a large number of other halls.

Hotels, first class—Hotel Pantlind, Morton. Cody, Livingston, Herkimer, Browning, Mertens, Eagle, Crathmore, Burleson, Charlevoix, Hermitage, Ohio House. Can accommodate all delegates at hotels if so desired.

As a convention city Grand Rapids has entertained Michigan State Teachers' Association, 6,700 delegates, three times in six years.

International Police Chiefs' Association, 450 delegates.

Michigan Retail Hardware Dealers, 1,000 delegates.

Order of the Eastern Star, 2,500 delegates.

National Grange in session at this writing with 3,000 in attendance.

Grand Rapids is centrally located in the middle west and is a time and money saver for the delegates with adequate accommodations in a beautiful city of homes.

We bid you a fraternal and hospitable welcome. Vote for Grand Rapids for the convention city.

Respectfully submitted,

W. O. MARRIN, Chairman,
T. F. NIELSON,
CHAS. KLINK,

Committee.

Would like to state that Grand Rapids is fairly well organized with the exception of the woodworkers, restaurant and hotels and cigar makers, and we think a lot of good can be done in our city by the convention.

Fraternally yours,

T. F. NIELSON,

Fin. Sec'y Union No. 46, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Philadelphia, Pa.

In order to reduce the frequent assessments that we are subject to, we should call a halt on expenses. I don't know how the feeling is in other sections of the country, but in Philadelphia and vicinity there is a general complaint against so many assessments. I was in the office of 165 last week when a member came to pay his dues when he was informed by the secretary that he owed the $2. He said he had a 31-year card, but that he would not pay another cent assessment, that he might go to h— and walked out of the office. That is an exceptional case, but there is a general kick against assessments. The question comes, how are we going to appease it. I realize that we must have funds to meet our Constitutional obligations regarding benefits, but is there not some way that we can retrench in expense? I noticed in October that we paid over $3,500 to organizers and in November we paid over $2,500. At that rate it would cost us over $36,000 for organizers. In my mind the present financial condition of the International Union does not warrant that expenditure. I believe at most three organizers would be ample at the present time. That would lessen our expenses considerably and if more stringent means were adopted to collect outstanding loans that would prove to be another beneficial measure. I give these suggestions for the coming convention. Trusting that some action may be taken to place the International Union on a firmer basis.

I. W. BISBING.

Note—It is rather surprising that one with the experience and knowledge of affairs possessed by the writer of the foregoing article should fall into the more or less common error of straining at the mole and neglecting the mountain when looking for the cause of assessments. The same argument has been advanced and answered on an average of about once a year.

The only remedy the gentleman suggests to save assessments is to have fewer organizers. Let us again point out where the great cost lies. The constitutional benefits paid in the year 1918 were as follows:

Strike benefit	$121,310.12
Sick benefit	218,993.99
Death benefit	331,938.63
Out of work	12,616.60

Total paid in benefits in 1918$684,858.74

The total cost per member for the year to pay these constitutional benefits amounted to $16.38.

During the same year, 1918, the salaries and expenses of organizers amounted to $14,403.03, or a cost per member for the year of $0.32. During the past ten months of 1919 when we were carrying on a more intensive campaign of organization the total expense for organizers was $18,878.80. Based upon the same membership the cost per member for the first ten months of this year would be $0.42.

The cost of maintaining the International office for 1918 was $1.24 per member, and of this amount $0.32 per member went for the salary and expense of the organizers. Also included in this $1.24 per capita for the year for maintaining the International office are the rent of the office, wages of the President and the clerks, printing of the official Journal, salary and expense of the Financier, printing of all of the supplies furnished free to local unions, such as labels, due books, constitutions, circulars, due stamps, application blanks, traveling cards, loan cards, retiring cards, loan receipt books, postal loan receipts, personal loan receipts, wills, death report blanks, loan and employment cards, out of work register books, out of work traveling cards, out of work certificates, loan receipt blanks, sick relief cards, monthly report blanks, strike report blanks, financial secretary seal, organization circulars, supply order blanks, and several others that are furnished free.

It should also be remembered that the constitution calls for at least six members to be known as label agitators and organizers.

Again we say that the cost per member per year to pay the constitutional benefits is $16.38, and for maintaining the International office, including all of its fixed expenses, $1.24 per member per year. It is obvious then that we shall have to look beyond the expense of the organizers for the cause for assessments. One assessment of $0.32 would pay the full expense and salary of the organizers for one whole year. Some local unions levy more local assessments in addition to their fixed income for their own local maintenance per year than the International Union does.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 24th, 1919.

To all affiliated Local Unions, Central Labor and Metal Trades Councils.

Greeting: The Central Labor Council of Seattle, under whose auspices the affairs of the Mooney defense for the northwest has been conducted, at its regular meeting, Wednesday, October 15th, discharged all committees in connection therewith and ordered them to discontinue any further activities or collection of funds.

Despite this official order of the Seattle Council, which possessed full authority in the premises, former members of this committee are continuing their activities and are obtaining money from local unions and individual members of organized labor under false pretences. This betrayal of the trust reposed in them by the labor movement of Seattle, on the part of some of the members of the Mooney committee, is not wholly unexpected. The failure to secure any material benefit for Thomas J. Mooney—in fact, the serious injury done this just cause—is almost entirely due to their activities.

The cause of "Mooney" was subordinated to a campaign of disruption of the American Federation of Labor, of lying, slanderous attacks on the officials of the movement generally, and to spreading propaganda inimical to the best interests of our movement. Since the action of the Seattle Council of October 15, in dismissing them, a more vicious campaign than ever has been launched by them. Charges that Jimmie Duncan, secretary of the Council, had sold out; that the Union Record has sold out; and many other equally vicious and preposterous statements, are now being made by them. Proof of such statements being made by them has been furnished this office.

The following official figures of funds collected and expended by this committee should prove interesting to the rank and file of our movement:

Total amount collected.....	$9,673.07
Expenditures for salaries, expenses and office supplies....	$6,239.34
Miscellaneous expense for printing, etc.	2,632.86

Total expense incurred by committee... 8,872.20

Balance on hand.....$ 800.87

It should be noted that not a dollar of the money collected by the committee has been sent to Mooney's defense. An official report is being compiled by the Seattle Central Labor Council giving a complete itemized statement for distribution as early as possible. This flagrant commercialization of Mooney's misfortune by a few men should arouse the disgust and contempt of every real unionist of the state.

A new program will be prepared looking towards bringing all aid and relief possible in the Mooney case. Meanwhile, all local unions are warned to ignore any further attempt by this band of impostors to further mulct the treasuries of your organizations for their own private gain, and the destruction of your organizations.

Fraternally yours,

W. M. Short, President.

L. W. Buck, Secretary.

Union 300, Michigan City, Ind., in offering an amendment to the International constitution, is a very feasible and sound one in our judgment and should be read and endorsed by unions who want legislation of secure type to protect our finances. Just consideration should be given this matter of vital nature, to insure just settlement of claims to benefits, the highest ideal in transmission of thought, word and action, incorporated into laws, so justly implied without malice in our broad policies of constructive legislation within the confines of our organization.

The last cigarmakers' international convention could have used the knowledge and advice of the international financier, which should be still fresh in the minds of those delegated there. It is time for constructive financial ideas and policies to be brought forth for adoption, which at no other time in our existence were they or could they be better appreciated. Sound finances properly guarded is one of the best advance guards that we can offer the unorganized cigarmaker today.

Think it over, fellow members, and give this amendment your endorsement.

H. R. CHAPP,

E. J. O'NEIL,

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6, 1919.

I would like to get in touch with a practical cigar maker who would join me in taking over a factory that was established in 1868, for over 50 years in continuous operation by the present owner who wishes to retire. Brookfield, Mo., is a modern little city of 8,500, supported by manufacturing, mining and in the center of a rich farming country, besides an important railroad division. There is a local demand for a high grade cigar. Address

JOHN W. SHIRCK, Brookfield, Mo.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1919.

Inasmuch as a convention was ordered by a constitutional vote calling for such to meet the spirit of the times, I deem it appropriate to suggest in amending our organic laws to consider well the step we are about to take. I am interested chiefly in three things, financial, benefits and organizing. The convention is to suggest methods for their best results.

No doubt the dues question will be an important factor, as much depends on the finances as to our standing or undertaking. In my humble opinion, by careful study and past experiences, to raise the dues would be unwise and unpopular. No doubt those advancing such a step now will again appeal to you it would do away with assessments as was done at the Detroit convention in 1896, my first experience sitting in a convention. I have no hesitation to state that those interested at the time were perfectly honest and well meaning, but it did not take very long to show the step taken did not meet the intent. It looked good to me at the time, but no one is going to get me this time. I say, let well enough alone; if our present dues are not adequate at times, there is a well applied constitutional provision to exercise for to meet any shortcomings.

Unpopular! Yes, see the different attempts fall by the wayside when proposed, hardly any seconds.

Another interesting question, the benefits. I fear to change those features drastically, would meet with discomfot as has been suggested by Mr. Huekel at this time. We have in Union 74 over twice as many 20c members as 30c or active, and we must give them due consideration to be fair.

A good many points touched by Mr. Huekel would meet my approval. At the time of the drastic change in our death benefit feature—from $50 to $550—I could not see then the wise part to make such a leap; $100 was my limit, and I haven't changed my viewpoint today; but inasmuch as we have set the amount for years I do not propose a change except an optional clause is inserted for the benefit of the many. We have a chain of benefits and everyone has a merit, and I would be one of the last ones to do away with any of them.

In conclusion, I assume the convention was chosen chiefly to meet the condition of the trade as regards the different methods employed in the trade and their rapid introduction, and I hope and trust a way will be found to meet the situation.

GEORGE F. HITZ,

Sec.-Treas. Union 74.

Cigar makers of Chicago take this method of expressing their most sincere thanks for all donations received during our strike from locals of our own craft, unions of other trades and individual friends.

To address each separate organization would entail an expense not in keeping with conservation, so again, WE THANK YOU.

By order J. A. B., Chicago.

R. E. VAN HORN, Secretary.

A friend advises that his local has submitted an amendment proposing to raise the pay of delegates to our conventions.

Such an amendment is timely and worthy of the serious consideration of every member of the International Union.

The great majority of the delegates will have dependent loved ones who would be seriously inconvenienced should the pay envelope be diverted from the family locker for even a single week.

The pay now allowed is based upon a cost of living seemingly gone forever. It will be impossible for the delegate to the coming convention to provide for a family at home and expect to eat regularly himself (to say nothing of securing a place to sleep) on five dollars per day.

Seven dollars per day is the least amount we can expect our delegates to accept, and this amount will provide for only the barest necessities of life.

The coming convention is too important to jeopardize through any policy of penny splitting therefore let us second this amendment to raise the pay at once and then put it over unanimously.

R. E. VAN HORN,
Union No. 14, Chicago.

REPORT OF ORGANIZERS.

Bethlehem, Pa., Dec. 3, 1919.

Since my last report I have continued my efforts to establish locals in Bethlehem, Allentown, Coplay and Northampton, the last two being adjoining towns.

I have been surprised and disappointed at the attitude of the women and girls in these localities since they returned to work. I had hopes that the strike, which lasted about three months, would instill in their minds the value of organization, but it seems, at least up to date, they have not shown any great desire to join with the organized cigarmakers who are responsible for whatever improvements they have received in wages or working conditions. I have a very strong suspicion that some so called friends (?) of these people are advising them not to join the C. M. I. U. of A. In fact, I have the statement of one of the women in Bethlehem for proof. This particular woman informed me that a gentleman here who conducts a jewelry store advised her against joining with the C. M. I. U. and suggested that they have an independent union here in Bethlehem and his wife, who was present, volunteered to look after their money and see that it was deposited in the bank.

I have met this gentleman referred to and know that he is one of those fellows who prides himself on being a progressive. "Deliver us from all evil."

The indications at present are that the local established in Bethlehem will continue, the membership of which up to date comprises some of the most active and intelligent women and girls in the industry and I believe that with the interest they at present display will eventually influence every cigarmaker and packer in this city to also join.

I believe Allentown, Northampton and Coplay will also be influenced by the result in Bethlehem. While I was in this vicinity I came to the conclusion that I would proffer my services to the members of No. 402, Quakertown. Accordingly, I suggested to Sub-Organizer H. Kuhn that he arrange a committee meeting composed of one or two members from each shop, notify me of time and place of meeting and I would attend same, being under the impression that working jointly we might possibly build up the membership of Local No. 402. I received a notice from H. Kuhn that the committee would meet Wednesday evening, Nov. 12. On receipt of same I went to Quakertown, where I met the committee. After discussing the situation in general and the need of organization, I inquired if there was anything I could do to help build up their membership, assuring those present that as the representative of the International I would be glad to give them my assistance in trying to strengthen their local. Financial Secretary H. Small informed me quite emphatically that the only one who could accomplish anything would have to be a native of Pennsylvania and selected by Pennsylvanians. This statement evidently expressed the sentiments of those present. At least there was no one who took exception to it. Needless to say that I have not visited Quakertown since, realizing that if that was the feeling of the natives it would simply be wasting time and energy.

I have visited Lebanon in an effort to do something along organization lines, but up to date have not got a great deal of encouragement. I have attended two meetings of No. 44 and find with the exception of the officers none of the members seem inclined to attend the meetings. I tried to arrange a meeting to which some of the non-members were invited to come and discuss organization, but am sorry to report no one was sufficiently interested to attend.

Right here I want to call attention to what is in my opinion a most vicious program introduced by the general strike committee of Pennsylvania, namely, the issuing of a credential to those cigarmakers who they say remained loyal during the strike period. Aside from the fact that this system will keep the cigarmakers divided, thereby playing right into the hands of the employers, I want to voice my protest most emphatically against any program that would pin a medal on a non-unionist and discredit a loyal member of the C. M. I. U. If these so called loyal strikers had followed the example of the men and women who were members of our organization I doubt very much that the strike would have lasted three weeks. Coming from a section of this country which is thoroughly organized and where it is quite the style to become a member of the C. M. I. U., I have always had the highest respect for a cigarmaker who came from the so called cheap district, simply because I knew they joined our organization, not through style or compulsion, but from principle. There is a lot might be said in regard to the late strike which space would not permit my going into.

As we are going to have a convention next April, no doubt the question will be given considerable attention.

In conclusion let me say the best and only credential a cigarmaker needs is a due book of the C. M. I. U. with his or her dues paid up to date. This is the weapon the employer fears most. The history of our grand organization teaches us all that where we have the organization follow its law and practice real trade unionism—there's where we have the highest bills of prices and the least strikes. Fraternally yours,

AUSTIN P. KAVENEY.

Bethesda, Ohio, Dec. 4, 1919.

While working in and around Dayton, O. I was instructed by International President Perkins to go to Bethesda, O., and straighten out the affairs in the newly organized local of that town. I found a new local had been started and the members thought they were classed as a stogie makers' local, but upon investigation I found they should come rightly under the Class A plan of cigarmakers, for they are making cigars with a binder and a paste head.

The secretary had no experience in how to keep our books and was trying to keep day book and ledger accounts in one book. While instructing the secretary and officers how to keep the accounts of the union and conduct the offices, I held several meetings in Bethesda and an adjoining town in the jurisdiction of Bethesda named Belmont, O. Through these meetings we secured new members and induced those who had previously joined to pay dues and assessments.

This section is one of the poorest paid sections in the country for cigarmakers and although the cost of living has been soaring up for the last four years, the cigarmakers of this section and adjoining districts have received very little in increases of prices for making cigars, and now that some of them have had the courage to induce their fellow workers to organize and look for an increase of prices through collective bargaining to meet this high cost of living, they are discriminated against and cannot secure a job in any of the shops. The manufacturers here are paying fourteenth century prices and want to keep up fourteenth century conditions for the workers, but I hope the cigarmakers of these cheap districts will see the light in this new era of democracy and stand up for equality of opportunity, and the right to organize, so that these poorly paid workers will demand some more of the profits of the products they produce. The manufacturers here have grown rich while the workers only exist from day to day, but they deserve credit in having enough of hope left to organize and appeal to their fellow workers to join with them for to make demands for a better life and conditions. Let us hope all will see the light of organization and move on until justice does prevail for the cigarmakers. Fraternally yours,

WM. A. McCABE.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 9, 1919.

On November the 17th I received instructions from our president to proceed to Tampa for organization work. Arrived in Tampa the 21st and found some work going on to organize the cigar packers and that the packers asked for a charter for a packers' union, and at the present time we have a packers' union here in Tampa again with a membership of 400, and well organized. There are jobs open for packers and it looks bright for a good season for next year. Now we are going to try to make Tampa 100 per cent union, for the cigarmakers that are working here in Tampa see by this time that they cannot stand alone, for if they asked for anything it is always the Cigarmakers' International Union that they have to look to to receive anything. There is a great change in the trade here in Tampa, for five years ago there were most all clear Havana hand work, but now it is most all team work and seed Havana, and it seems like all shops are having mold work done. The blue label is in good demand around Tampa and right here in Tampa we have more of a demand for the label. The committee on organization work are working hard. At the present time we have a few shops 100 per cent organized. You will hear more about our good work that is being done in Tampa in my next report.

HENRY M. HEIDT,

Organiser.

Quakertown, Pa., Dec. 3, 1919.

Organization of the Pennsylvania cigarmakers is now a possibility. Nearly all the locals in Quakertown, Perkasie, East Greenville, and Sellersville are getting new members at every meeting. The effect the late strike had here is convincing evidence that some good will result. The increases gained here (from $1 to $3) has had the effect of awakening many as to what organization can do. Just think of an organized parade with 900 and three bands and banners marching through all these towns during the strike, if such is possible. I cannot see any reason than be optimistic for the future. We have organization committees in nearly all factories and are keeping up a determined effort to get them into the union. House to house and heart to heart talks with many is going on now. Just think, a few years ago cigars were made here as low as $5.50 to $7 per thousand; now $12 up to $21.50 jobs are easy to get. The firms here are all in need of more hands at present. In many shops the strikebreakers are isolated on one side of the shops and the loyal ones on the other. Some have been kept out of work for nine weeks on account of strikebreaking. Many are sorry now for their actions, and I am sure we will soon have some of them with us. We have taken in a few already. We must learn to forgive them and show them that we are trying to benefit them more than the bosses. Unions in this center are now active in furthering a complete organization campaign.

HERMAN KUHN,

Sub-Organiser.

Sault Ste. Marie, Can., Dec. 3, 1919.

Since my last report I have covered Canada from Halifax to Windsor, Ont. In Halifax, Moncton and St. John by devoting much time to the general labor movement the interest of the central bodies was aroused and they now have a committee to work in the interest of our label. This has been the dumping ground for non-union cigars, and our members should give them every assistance in their effort to place the label cigar here.

In Windsor and London we conducted strikes against the Vallance Co. which resulted in both becoming label shops. The strike in London has been on for three years. Great credit is due to Union 278. In an organization campaign following the strike we added about sixty members and almost closed the Tuckett strike shop.

I attended a conference of labor representatives and manufacturers at Toronto, called for the purpose of drafting a bill to allow union labels to be registered the same as trademarks. The bill will be presented to the next session of Parliament.

From there I went to Montreal to assist Union 58 in an organization campaign. We were very successful with the men, but it was hard to get the girls to join. About fifty girls signed up but they would not strike. But we are not going to give up, we will keep after them until Montreal is organized. Our members here have all received increases, all are working and jobs are open.

At Ottawa I attended the Industrial Conference between employers and employees. The following subjects were taken up and resolutions presented to the Government in regard to them: Unifying and codifying labor laws of Canada; appointment of bureau to assist in the establishment of industrial councils; establishment of minimum wage for women and children; state pensions in connection with unemployment, sickness, inability, old age and widows; proportional representation in federal elections; education; freedom in press and speech. The employers group and the employees group presented separate reports relating to the eight-hour day, forty-four-hour week, and recognition of the union with the right of collective bargaining. I believe the conference will be the means of a closer relation between capital and labor.

At Hamilton I attended the Dominion Trade Congress, and the Congress passed a resolution requesting all union men to purchase only cigars with the Blue Label on the box.

Yours fraternally,

J. A. SULLIVAN,
Canadian Organizer.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

* Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commences on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 78 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

NOTICE TO SECRETARIES.

Many requests are received for blank monthly reports about this time. Monthly blanks are mailed from Jan. 18 to 18 to the corresponding secretary of each union and contain the following supplies for the year:

- 24 Financial statements.
- 12 Label reports.
- 12 State of trade.
- 12 Sick and out of work.
- 2 Officers' reports.
- 10 Supply orders.

Secretaries who do not receive the package within a reasonable time should make inquiries at the postoffice, and if it is not there, they should notify this office at once so the proper inquiries may be made.

Report of Committee on National Co-operation.

The undersigned committee, consisting of representatives of the organized labor movement, organized farmers and the organized co-operative movement, herewith submits for the consideration of the delegates attending this conference the following observations and recommendations:

Farmers and industrial workers are alike producers and consumers. The one produces the raw materials. The other prepares them for use, and both are consumers of their own and the other's products respectively.

Recognizing the fact that each group receives in return for its labor but a small portion of its product, and that the high prices now demanded for the necessities of life are due not to what the workers receive, but to the increase in the selling price of goods, due to the wasteful methods, speculation and profiteering, burdened upon the system of distribution by the long line of middlemen, including retailers, wholesalers, commission men, traveling salesmen, brokers, warehousemen, cold storage dealers, manufacturers and bankers. We believe the solution for the so-called "high cost of living" lies in the closer union of industrial and farm workers through co-operative associations that will effect the exchange of products between producer and consumer without the intervention of any middlemen. Not only must the ordinary middlemen be eliminated, but the control of our natural and manufactured resources must be wrested from the hands of the financial interests that now dominate our system of production and distribution.

Co-operation is nothing more than a system by which the people manage the ordinary business of production and distribution of wealth for the common good. This system has become recognized as the working out of the world-wide tendency for industrial democracy.

The best principle of co-operation were used in all the countries during the late war in feeding the people, and are recognized as having a tremendous influence in this reconstruction period following the great war.

The enormous growth of the movement abroad has spread to America, and where, before the war, there were about 500 or 600 co-operative stores in the United States, the number has now increased to between 3,000 and 4,000, with a total business mounting up to hundreds of millions of dollars, in the handling of farm products and manufactured goods. Co-operative factories, warehouses, grain elevators, insurance, wholesale houses and even co-operative banking are now in successful operation throughout the United States.

The most successful form of co-operation developed in all countries has been known as the Rochdale system, after the early English co-operative store at Rochdale.

The American movement should profit by the experience of the successful co-operators abroad, and adhere as closely as possible to the fundamental principles of Rochdale co-operation in which each member has one vote, regardless of the amount of capital stock owned; an average market price for goods maintained; not more than the legal rate of interest on capital stock; net profits, after setting aside depreciation, educational and insurance funds, rebated to customers on the basis of their patronage.

Particular attention should be given to the development of schools in different parts of the country for training co-operative managers and employees, and for the inauguration of proper accounting and auditing systems. The aim should be to strengthen and guard the existing co-operative organizations so that the movement may be founded on a strong and permanent basis rather than to encourage the rapid development of the movement without the necessary safeguards to its growth.

We believe the time is now ripe for the forces of the organized farmers and labor to join in a nation-wide campaign of co-operation, so that the millions of dollars saved annually by the workers of the country may be diverted to the uses of the people instead of as now into the hands of the financial interests for the purpose of exploitation.

We recognize, however, the futility of indiscriminate and haphazard organization of local co-operative associations without the protection and supporting influence of a co-operative wholesale, and we endorse the efforts which have been put forth to unite and solidify the co-operative movement along the lines of the strong national co-operative movement in Europe.

We recommend that the chairman appoint a committee of 12 representing the farm, labor and co-operative organizations, to act as a joint board in developing the co-operative movement, so that the interests of farmer and labor alike in the production and distribution of the necessities of life shall be safeguarded from the exploitation of the present inequitable system.

We recommend that this report be submitted to the labor conference called under the auspices of the American Federation of Labor, to be held at Washington, D. C., December 13th, next, and that a national convention of all farm organizations, labor unions and co-operative associations be held February 13th, 14th and 15th in the city of Chicago, to which the committee selected by this conference shall report, and submit a program for the organization, standardization and financing of the co-operative movement along national lines, to an extent and in a manner worthy of the cause at issue and the organization involved.

CO-OPERATIVE COMMITTEE.

RESOLUTIONS.

We are reliably informed that the railroad security holders have organized an advertising propaganda campaign through the press, to cost over ten million dollars, to secure the enactment by congress of legislation to put into effect these security holders' plan for the return of the railroads.

This plan involves a government subsidy to railroad security holders, through congressional instructions to the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix rates which will yield at least 6 per cent upon the present capitalization of the railroads, which includes at least seven billion dollars of watered stock. The plan will increase the cost of living by about four billion dollars, based upon the increase of freight charges of about one million dollars.

The efforts of the railroad security holders to buy the press of the country, democracy's last line of defense, is the most un-American act recorded in our nation's history. It is moral treason to the principles upon which our republic was founded. We therefore respectfully petition the United States senate, which has devoted months to consideration of how to preserve Americanism in our country's relations with the world, to investigate this effort of the railroad security holders which is a cancer in the vitals of Americanism itself.

Resolved, That this joint conference of farmers and labor urges the extension of the period of federal operation and control of railroads for two years from January 1, 1920, in order that we may work out a solution of our railway problems, and sense a plan for the ultimate disposal of our railroads that is fully fair to all interests involved.

Resolved, That we are opposed to large standing armies in times of peace, and any form of universal compulsory military service.

Action of the Conference on Co-operation.

The Chicago conference met for action, not for discussion. It acted efficiently. Early in the meeting a committee on a joint co-operative plan for farmers and labor and one on a joint farm and labor legislative program were appointed. Each committee reported a definite plan. The committee on co-operation recommended that a plan for co-operation be developed that would not only eliminate unnecessary middlemen but wrest the control of our natural and manufactured resources from the "hands of the financial interests that now dominate our system of production and distribution." It urged that particular attention be given to the development of schools in different parts of the country for training co-operative managers and employees and for the inauguration of proper accounting and auditing systems, and declared its belief that the time is now ripe for the forces of organized farm and labor to join in a nation-wide campaign for co-operation. It recommended that the chairman appoint a committee of twelve, representing farm, labor and co-operative organizations to act as a joint board in developing the co-operative movement, also that the report be submitted to the labor conference to be held in Washington, December 13th, under the auspices of the American Federation of Labor, and that a national convention of all farm organizations, labor unions and co-operative associations be held February 13th to the 15th, 1920, in Chicago to which the committee of twelve, selected by the conference, should report and submit a program for the organization, standardization and financing of the co-operative movement along national lines. C. H. Gustafson, president of the Nebraska Farmers' Union, and Dalton T. Clarke, president of the National Co-operative Association, were elected as joint chairmen of this committee.

The recommendations of the committees were almost unanimously adopted.

It Will Be Ready for Anti-Smoking League.

Canada's smokers will not be caught napping when the W. C. T. U. and other anti-smokers' organizations determine to ask the Dominion and provincial parliaments to legislate against smoking. Recently throughout Canada a new "smoke party" has been organized, and when the anti-smokers inaugurate their crusade to cut out smoking the "smoke brigade" will be all ready and waiting for action.

Another feature about the new organization is that the members pledge themselves not to buy cigars or tobacco made by firms whose employees are on strike. So far the biggest branches are in Hamilton and Toronto. The organization is progressing wonderfully and expects to enroll a membership of one million before Christmas.—Canadian Press Dispatch.

G. W. PERKINS.....Editor and Publisher

Vol. XII. JANUARY 15, 1920. No. 1

Subscription price, $1.00 per year.
Single copies, 10 cents.

Entered as second class matter, Nov. 23, 1894,
March 3, 1879.

One striking illustration of the criminal profiteering of a certain gentry, who pride themselves upon their Americanism and their standing in society, is brought out by the strike, and subsequent injunction proceedings against the people employed by the American Railroad Company at Porto Rico, the employes of which, who were working for eleven and fourteen cents per hour and as low as thirty-three dollars per month, went on strike for better pay and improved conditions.

The sugar trust of Porto Rico immediately secured a temporary injunction restraining them from interfering with the movement of sugar on the island, and here follows the profiteering. These sugar barons on the Island of Porto Rico pay the people who do the work seventy-five cents a day for ten and more hours' work per day. Sugar is one of the big industries of the Island of Porto Rico. Here in the States the profiteers are charging from seventeen to twenty-two cents a pound for sugar, for which the workers received seventy-five cents a day for the work performed in converting the cane into sugar, and still these people tell us the high cost of living is due to high wages.

In Captain Kidd's day they called them Pirateers (pirates). They have softened up the term somewhat and now call them profiteers. It required some courage to operate in the Cap'n's day; he operated with his life in one hand and a gun in the other, and was generally known and referred to as a robber. Time works wonders. They are operating today under the shield of respectability and are referred to as shrewd financiers.

LABOR, ITS GRIEVANCES, PROTESTS AND DEMANDS.

Taking cognizance of the exigencies of the situation confronting Labor, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor in conjunction with the officers of the four railroad brotherhoods invited the affiliated national and international unions and the organizations of farmers to meet with them in conference in the council chamber of the A. F. of L. Building, Washington, D. C., December 13, 1919.

The conference represented nearly five million organized workers. The declarations of the conference follow.—Editor.

We speak in the name of millions who work—those who make and use tools—those who furnish the human power necessary for commerce and industry. We speak as part of the nation and of those things which we have special knowledge. Our welfare and interest are inseparably bound up with the well-being of the nation. We are an integral part of the American people and we are organized to work out the welfare of all.

The urgent problems that sorely trouble our nation and vitally affect us as workers make necessary this special consultation.

The great victories for human freedom must not have been won in vain. They must serve as the instruments and the inspiration for a greater and nobler freedom for all mankind.

Autocratic, political and corporate industrial and financial influences in our country have sought, and are seeking, to infringe upon and limit the fundamental rights of the wage-earners guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

Powerful forces are seeking more and more aggressively to deny to wage-earners their right to cease work. We denounce these efforts as vicious and destructive of the most precious liberties of our people. The right to cease work—strike—as a final means of enforcing justice from an autocratic control of industry must be maintained.

The autocratic attitude and destructive action of the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiary branches to oppress the workers by denying them the exercise of their freedom of action, freedom of association, freedom of expression, must give way to a better understanding and relation and to secure the wage-earners in the exercise of their rights and liberties as free workers and citizens.

We realize fully all that is involved in the exercise of the right to strike, but only by the exercise of that right can industrial autocrats be compelled to abandon their tyranny and give way to the establishment of freedom and justice in industry.

American Labor sets for itself the task, gladly and proudly assumed, to preserve and perpetuate this standard of justice and measure of liberty.

We protest against the attitude and action of the majority of the representatives of the employers in the employers' group who participated in the President's Industrial Conference October 6-23, 1919.

The proposals which the representatives of labor submitted to that conference were conservative, constructive and helpful. They were calculated to establish a working basis for the promotion of better relations between employers and workers—the right to organize, the right to collective bargaining through representatives of the workers' own choosing. The representatives of the public constituted as a group endorsed and voted for that principle. By a small majority the employers' group voted against it and thus the proposals were defeated and the conference failed.

The protection of the rights and interests of wage-earners in national, state and municipal service requires for them the right of organization. Since the interests of these workers can be best promoted through legislation and administration, their right to organization and affiliation with the American Federation of Labor must at all times be fully safeguarded.

The paramount issues that concern all the people of the United States, and in particular the wage-earners, are the perversion and the abuse of the writ of injunction and the necessity for full and adequate protection of the voluntary associations of wage-earners organized not for profit.

Government by injunction has grown out of the perversion of the injunction process. By the misuse of that process workers have been forbidden to do those things which they have a natural and constitutional right to do.

The injunction as now used is a revolutionary measure which substitutes government by judicial discretion or bias for government by law. It substitutes a trial by one man, a judge, in his discretion, for a trial by jury. This abuse of the injunctive process undermines and destroys the very foundations of our free institutions. It is subversive of the spirit of a free people working out their destiny in an orderly and rational manner.

Because we have reverence for law, because we believe that every citizen must be guardian of the heritage given us by our fathers who fought for and established freedom and democracy, by every lawful means we must resist the establishment of a practice that would destroy the very spirit of freedom and democracy. Our protest against the abuse of the writ of injunction and its unwarranted application to Labor in the exercise of Labor's normal activities to realize laudable aspirations is a duty we owe to ourselves and to posterity.

Formerly injunctions issued in labor disputes were of a prohibitive character. Within the recent past this abuse of the injunction writ has been enlarged to include mandatory orders whereby men have been compelled to do specific things which they have a lawful right to refrain from doing.

We declare these abuses in the exercise of the injunction writ are clearly violative of the constitution and that this issue must be determined definitely in accordance with the guarantees of the Constitution of the United States.

Workers are free citizens, not slaves. They have the constitutional right to cease working. The strike is a protest against autocratic management. To penalize strikes or to make them unlawful is to apply an unwarrantable and destructive method when a constructive one is available. To reduce the necessity for strikes, the cause should be found and removed. The government has a greater obligation in this matter than to use its coercive powers.

Legislation which proposes to make strikes unlawful or to compel the wage-earners to submit their grievances or aspirations to courts or to governmental agencies, is an invasion of the rights of the wage-earners and when enforced makes for industrial serfdom or slavery.

We hold that the government should supply information, assistance and counsel, but that it should not attempt by the force of its own power to stifle or to destroy voluntary relations and policies of mutuality between employers and employees.

We specifically denounce the anti-strike provisions of the Cummins bill and all similar proposed legislation as un-American, as being vicious in character, and establishing by legislation involuntary servitude.

The warning given by Jefferson that the danger to the people of this Republic lies in the usurpation by our judiciary of unconstitutional authority, has been fully demonstrated. A judiciary unresponsive to the needs of the time, arrogating to itself powers which neither the constitution nor the purposes of our laws have conferred upon them, demands that at least in our time Americans must insist upon safeguarding their liberties and the spirit of the sacred institutions of our Republic.

We urge that the judges of our federal courts shall be elected by the people for terms not exceeding six years.

We assert that there can not be found in the Constitution of the United States or in the discussions of the congress which drafted the constitution any authority for the federal courts of our country to declare unconstitutional any act passed by Congress. We call upon the people of our country to demand that the Congress of the United States shall take action for the purpose of preventing the federal courts from continuing the usurpation of such authority.

We declare that the voluntary organizations of the workers, organized not for profit, are agencies of human progress and promote justice in industry and trade. Despite legislative declarations that trade unions do not come under the provisions of anti-trust legislation, courts have not understood and are not now able or willing to understand that the organizations of wage-earners are not conspiracies in restraint of trade.

We submit that anti-trust legislation has not only been interpreted to serve the purpose of outlawing trade unions, robbing them of their treasuries and the savings of their members and depriving them of their legal and natural rights to the exercise of normal activities, but that it has also failed completely to protect the people against the outrageous machinations of combinations and monopolies.

The United Mine Workers of America did all in their power to avert an industrial controversy in the coal industry. The autocratic attitude of the mine owners was responsible for the losses and sufferings entailed. While the miners have returned to the mines and have only now been afforded the opportunity of having their grievances and demands brought to the light of reason, it is our hope that a full measure of justice will be accorded them even at this late date.

There is a widespread belief that wages should be fixed on a cost-of-living basis. This idea is pernicious and intolerable. It means putting progress in chains and liberty in fetters. It means fixing a standard of living and a standard of life and liberty which must remain fixed. America's workers can not accept that proposition.

They demand a progressively advancing standard of life. They have an abiding faith in a better future for all mankind. They discard and denounce a system of fixing wages solely on the basis of family budgets and bread bills. Workers are entitled not only to a living, but modern society must provide more than what is understood by the term, "a living." It must concede to all workers a fairer reward for their contribution to society, a contribution without which a progressing civilization is impossible.

No factor contributes more to industrial unrest and instability than excessive costs of necessities of life. It is a demonstrated truth that the cost of living has advanced more rapidly than have wages. The claim that increased wages make necessary increased prices is false. It is intended to throw upon the workers the blame for a process by which all the people have been made to suffer. Labor has been compelled to struggle desperately to keep wages in some measure up to the cost of living. The demand for higher compensation to meet new price levels has made industrial readjustment necessary.

Existing high and excessive prices are due to the present inflation of money and credits, to profiteering by those who manufacture, sell and market products, and to burdens levied by middlemen and speculators. We urge:

The deflation of currency; prevention of hoarding and unfair price fixing; establishment of co-operative movements operated under the Rochdale system; making accessible all income tax returns and dividend declarations as a direct and truthful means of revealing excessive costs and profits.

The ideal of America should be the organization of industry for service and not for profit alone. The stigma of disgrace should attach to every person who profits unduly at the expense of his fellow men.

Labor is fully conscious that the world needs things for use and that standards of life can improve only as production for use and consumption increases. Labor is anxious to work out better methods for industry and demands it be assured that increased productivity will be used for service and not alone for profits.

Wage-earners aspire to be something more than numbers on the books of an industrial plant, something more than attendants of a machine, something more than cogs in an industrial system dominated by machinery owned and operated for profit alone. The workers insist upon being masters of themselves.

Labor understands fully that powerful interests today are determined to achieve reaction in industry if possible. They seek to disband or cripple the organizations of workers. They seek to reduce wages and thus lower the standard of living. They seek to keep free from restriction their power to manipulate and fix prices. They seek to destroy the democratic impulse of the workers which is bred into their movement by the democracy of the American Republic.

Labor must be and is militant in the struggle to combat these sinister influences and tendencies. Labor will not permit a reduction in the standard of living. It will not consent to reaction toward autocratic control. In this it is performing a public service.

Only in high-wage countries is productivity in industry greatest. Only in high-wage countries do the people enjoy high standards of living. Low-wage countries present the least degree of productivity and offer to their people only low standards of living and restricted liberties. Autocracy always insists upon restricting the income and the activities of workers.

Creative power lies dormant where autocratic management prevails. No employer has a vested right to the good will of his employees. That must be earned, as between men. It can be earned only when management deals with workers as human beings and not as machines. There can not be a full release of productive energy under an autocratic control of industry. There must be a spirit of co-operation and mutuality between employers and workers. We submit that production can be enhanced through the co-operation of management with the trade union agencies which make for order, discipline and productivity.

We hold that the organization of wage-earners into trade unions and the establishment of collective bargaining are the first steps toward the proper development of our industrial machinery for service.

To promote further the production of an adequate supply of the world's needs for use and higher standards of life, we urge that there be established co-operation between the scientists of industry and the representatives of organized workers.

Credit is the life blood of modern business. At present under the control of private financiers it is administered, not primarily to serve the needs of production, but the desire of financial agencies to levy a toll upon community activity as high as "the traffic will bear."

Credit is inherently social. It should be accorded in proportion to confidence in production possibilities. Credit as now administered does not serve industry but burdens it. It increases unearned incomes at the expense of earned incomes. It is the center of the malevolent forces that corrupt the spirit and purpose of industry.

We urge the organization and use of credit to serve production needs and not to increase the incomes and holdings of financiers. Control over credit should be taken from financiers and should be bested in a public agency, able to administer this power as a public trust in the interests of all the people.

Since the government has not worked out a constructive railroad policy, we urge for and on behalf of the railway workers and of the general public, that the railroads be retained under government administration for at least two years after January 1, 1920, in order that a thorough test may be made of government operation under normal conditions. The common carriers of this country are the arteries of travel, commerce and industry. Transportation service and rates are intimately bound up with industrial production in all parts of the country. It is essential that a thorough test be given to all phases of railroad control and operation before a definite peacetime policy be finally concluded.

Never has the world been confronted with a more serious situation. Millions are in want, facing starvation. The children of war-stricken Europe, half-fed, under-developed, appeal for help. Only with infinite pain, unnecessary loss of life and slowness of result can Europe rebuild her industries, restore her agriculture, and re-establish her commerce, without the help of America.

The treaty setting forth the terms of peace has not been ratified by the United States. Boundaries are not fixed. Peoples are uncertain as to their allegiance. Under such conditions exchange and credit have lost voltage and in turn have paralyzed industry.

As members of an organized labor movement that has for years maintained fraternal relations with the working people of Europe, we feel that our nation can not with honor and humanity maintain a policy of isolation and disinterestness from the distress and suffering of the peoples of Europe. Even if the necessity of the peoples of Europe did not have a compelling appeal, the interrelated economic interests of the world would prevent our limiting our attention solely to this hemisphere.

The Peace Treaty includes provisions in an international agreement to prevent war among nations, with all its cruelties and sacrifices of human life, with its burden on indebtedness and taxation; for reduction in standing armies, the diminution of great navies, and the limitation of the production of arms and ammunition. If the Senate shall fail to ratify the treaty of Versailles, our nation may be isolated from other countries of the world which at some time might be pitted against us. Such isolation and possibilities would make necessary the creation and maintenance of a large standing army and a greater and more effective navy in order in some degree to protect the Republic of the United States from aggression by those countries which were our allies in the great war and which were and are now our friends.

In addition, the workers of America have a deep interest and concern in the Labor Draft Convention of the Treaty and in its purposes to raise to a higher standard the conditions of life and labor among the peoples of all countries. Its cardinal declarations and provisions are, that labor should not be regarded as a commodity; that the eight-hour day and forty-eight-hour week are standard; that there shall be one day of rest, preferably Sunday, in each week; that child labor shall be abolished, and continuing education for young workers assured; that men and women shall receive equal pay for equal work; that industrial betterments shall be enforced by proper inspection, in which women as well as men shall take part; that wages shall be sufficient to maintain a reasonable standard of living, as this is understood in each time and country, and that employees as well as employers have the right of association for all lawful purposes.

The United States is protected by this draft convention in two ways: (1) That the recommendations which international labor conferences under the Treaty may recommend may be accepted or rejected by our government; (2) That no recommendation that would set a lower standard for the people of the United States than already exists within our borders can be at any time presented for consideration and action by the United States.

To give the united support of our Republic and of the allied countries to effective machinery to raise the standard of the workers' condition in backward countries, to help humanize industry for the common world weal, is, we insist, a paramount duty which our republic must perform. We insist, for the reasons herein set forth, that it is the immediate duty of the Senate to ratify the Treaty of Versailles.

The American labor movement resents the attempt of reactionaries and autocrats to classify the men and women of Labor with those groups which have nothing in common with its constructive purposes and high ideals, and with the fundamental principles of our country. Those who aim to strike a blow against the legitimate aspirations of the workers in their struggle for freedom and for a higher and a better life must be met and overcome.

We call upon all those who contribute service to society in any form to unite in the furtherance of the principles and purposes and for the rectification of the grievances herein set forth. We call especial attention to the fact that there is a great community of interest between all who serve the world. All workers, whether of the city or country, mine or factory, farm or transportation, have a common path to tread and a common goal to gain.

The issues herein enumerated require the action of our people upon both the economic and political field. We urge that every practical action be taken by the American Federation of Labor, with the co-operation of all other organized bodies of workers, farmers and sympathetic, liberty-loving citizens of the United States, to carry into effect the principles and purposes set forth in the declarations of this conference.

We call upon all to join with us in combating the forces of autocracy, industrial and political, and in the sublime task of ridding the world of the power of those who but debase its processes and corrupt its functions.

In all struggles for justice and human freedom, sacrifices have been made. Having made supreme sacrifices to crush militarism and political autocracy in Europe,

America's workers will not surrender to political and industrial autocracy at home. In the struggle now before us, we will contest every effort made to fasten tyranny and injustice upon the people of our Republic. We are confident that freedom, justice and the opportunity for a better day and higher life shall be achieved.

Changes in the Retail Price of Food in the United States.

According to reports received by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor from retail dealers in 50 cities, the retail cost of 22 staple food articles increased two per cent in November as compared with October. The foods upon which this comparison is based are: Sirloin steak, round steak, rib roast, chuck roast, plate beef, pork chops, bacon, ham, lard, hens, flour, cornmeal, eggs, butter, milk, bread, potatoes, sugar, cheese, rice, coffee and tea.

The articles which increased during the month from October to November were: Eggs, 13 per cent; onions and sugar, 10 per cent each; raisins, 9 per cent; butter, 6 per cent; storage eggs and prunes, 4 per cent each; canned salmon, fresh milk and potatoes, 3 per cent each; rice and bananas, 2 per cent each; evaporated milk, oleomargarine, cheese, lard, crisco, bread, flour and macaroni, 1 per cent each; tea and coffee, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent. Nut margarine, cornmeal, rolled oats, corn flakes, cream of wheat, cabbage, canned peas, and tomatoes remained the same price as in October.

The following articles decreased in price: Pork chops, 5 per cent; ham, 4 per cent; bacon, 3 per cent; round steak, plate beef, hens, navy beans and oranges, 2 per cent each; sirloin steak, rib roast, chuck roast, lamb, baked beans and canned corn, 1 per cent each.

Changes in One Year.

The average family expenditure for these 22 articles increased 5 per cent during the year from November, 1918, to November, 1919. The articles which increased during this year period were: Onions, 73 per cent; prunes, 64 per cent; coffee, 55 per cent; raisins, 44 per cent; rice, 26 per cent; potatoes, 18 per cent; sugar, 16 per cent; canned salmon and storage eggs, 14 per cent each; butter, 13 per cent; flour, 10 per cent; strictly fresh eggs, 9 per cent; fresh milk, cheese and lard, 6 per cent each; tea, 5 per cent; bread, 4 per cent, and cornmeal, 2 per cent. The articles which decreased were: Navy beans, 24 per cent; plate beef, 18 per cent; bacon, 13 per cent; chuck roast, 12 per cent; round steak and rib roast, 6 per cent each; lamb, 5 per cent; ham, 4 per cent; sirloin steak and pork chops, 3 per cent each, and hens less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

Changes Since 1913.

For the six-year period, November, 1913, to November, 1919, the increase in the cost of the 22 articles of food, combined, was 84 per cent. Articles which increased more than 100 per cent were: Rice, 102 per cent; bread, 104 per cent; potatoes, 105 per cent; cornmeal, 113 per cent; flour, 124 per cent; lard, 129 per cent, and sugar, 131 per cent.

Based on the average price for the year 1913 as 100, the retail price index number for the 22 articles of food, combined, for the United States, was 188 for October and 192 for November, a percentage increase of 2 per cent, which makes the cost the same as it was in August, the previous high water mark during the six-year period.

Changes in Retail Prices of Food in Fifty Cities.

According to reports received by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor from retail dealers in 50 cities, the average expenditure for food increased in all but two of these cities. In New Orleans and Louisville, the decrease was less than five-tenths of 1 per cent. In Newark, Peoria and Washington, the increase was less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

Baltimore, Buffalo, Cleveland, Columbus, Milwaukee, Omaha, Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., Seattle and Springfield increased 1 per cent each. Boston, Bridgeport, Chicago, Denver, Detroit, Fall River, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Manchester, Minneapolis, New Haven, Norfolk, Pittsburgh, Providence, Richmond, St. Louis, St. Paul, Salt Lake City and Scranton increased 2 per cent each. Rochester, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Charleston, Little Rock, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Butte increased 3 per cent each. Birmingham, Portland, Me., Houston, Memphis and New York increased 4 per cent each. Dallas increased 5 per cent and Mobile 7 per cent.

During the year period, from November, 1918, to November, 1919, Minneapolis showed the greatest increase, or 11 per cent. Three cities decreased as compared with a year ago, as follows: Baltimore, 2 per cent; Newark, 1 per cent, and New Haven, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

As compared with the average expenditure for the year 1913, all cities increased from 70 per cent in Los Angeles to 104 per cent in Birmingham. Five cities, other than Birmingham, increased 100 per cent or over, as follows: Washington, 100 per cent; Richmond, Detroit and Charleston, 101 per cent each; and Memphis, 102 per cent. Boston increased 89 per cent; Philadelphia, 92 per cent; New York, 95 per cent; Baltimore and St. Louis, 99 per cent each; Chicago, 94 per cent; New Orleans, 90 per cent, and San Francisco, 77 per cent.

All comparisons are based on the average retail price and on the average family consumption of the following articles: Sirloin steak, round steak, rib roast, chuck roast, plate beef, pork chops, bacon, ham, lard, hens, flour, cornmeal, eggs, butter, milk, bread, potatoes, sugar, cheese, rice, coffee, and tea.

At a conference participated in by nearly two hundred national and international union executives, at Washington, D. C., December 13, the ringing declaration of principles published in this issue was practically unanimously adopted.

In the November issue of the Official Journal, page 3, under the caption "Who Is What?" we said, among other things, "These trade union opponents operating behind the mask of 'Down with the Reds,' are trying to put on the statute books laws to prevent the constructive trade unions from carrying forward their legitimate, lawful trade union activities." In this connection we publish herewith a warning and splendid exposé of the Sterling-Graham Peace-Time Sedition Bill, by that intrepid, peerless, outspoken leader of labor, President Samuel Gompers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Ten years ago 4,000 motor trucks were in use in the United States. Now there are between 400,000 and 500,000.

The International Union of Carpenters and Joiners now has a total of 2,300 locals, with a membership of 320,322.

In 1917 there were 1,460 local unions in Massachusetts, with a total membership of 277,720, of which number 38,874 were women.

It is estimated that 10,000 women now are employed in Cincinnati factories that formerly employed only men for jobs of the kind.

A recent study, including more than 20,000 women employed in factories and stores in New York, revealed that more than half work for less than $14 a week.

The reports of international and national labor organizations carry the information that they issued during the year a total of 6,743 charters, and that 1,719 lapsed or were surrendered. The gain in individual membership as reported by the secretaries of 66 international organizations was 826,449.

The good standing membership of the American Federation of Labor for the month of November was 4,056,768.

The average membership from May, 1919, to and including November, 1919, was 3,912,878.

This is an average gain of 652,807 over the last membership statistics reported to the convention of the A. F. of L., held last June in Atlantic City.

The November figure—4,056,768—makes a new record. The 3,000,000 mark of a few years ago has been reached. The 4,000,000 mark has been passed, and now the slogan is the 5,000,000 mark.

Just a few months ago the press of the nation was patting organized labor on the back and handing us editorial bouquets praising our patriotism and unselfish war service. A good many of these same papers are now advocating patting us in the face with a spade and are continuously harping on the "unreasonable demands of labor."

Did you ever notice a newspaper having anything to say about the "unreasonable demands" of their advertisers? One illustration will serve to answer the whole question. The day before the Government surrendered to the sugar trust the papers were full of gloom from the fact, as they put it, that there was no sugar in the country. The day following they were accepting advertising announcing that there was all the sugar any one wanted, no restriction whatever as to the amount purchased, for 21c per pound.

Statements from the Mine Workers of Alabama claim that in one district alone over one thousand miners have been refused reinstatement unless they surrender their union cards.

A union official who advises his members to cease work at a certain time in conformity with a strike vote previously taken is immediately enjoined and cited for contempt if he deviates as much as a hair's breadth from the judge-made law of the injunction.

The operator refuses to employ the miner, who is willing and ready to work under a supposed bonafide settlement of the controversy, and nothing is done about it.

Is not the operator who refuses to reinstate the miner curtailing production and thereby violating the Lever Act? Or is the law only intended to be used against organized labor in their efforts to gain a living wage?

There is a rumor, low sounding at present but none the less persistent, that a united effort on the part of capital will be made soon to "make labor more reasonable."

Judge Gary was heartily cheered recently by 1,500 members of the American Iron and Steel Institute, the organization of the iron and steel masters of the nation, when he declared that he would never deal with a representative of a labor union.

A prominent manufacturer declares that employers are in a better position to fight now than ever before from the fact that they have enormous (money) surpluses from the prosperous war period and also from the fact that a strike now would cost only about one-half as much as in ordinary times on account of the savings in income and excess profits taxation.

While organized labor rarely, if ever, welcomes strife we do not intend giving up the right of organization, the right of collective bargaining, nor shall we submit to lowering our standard of living.

Capital must understand that it was labor that produced the income upon which the super-patriot hopes to evade taxation and that excess profits taxes are but fruit purloined from the producer and the consumer.

If capital is of the opinion that labor is unaware of these facts or that labor is in a mood to allow the manufacturers to pile up still greater excess profits through a cut in wages it is steering into a storm which may wreck their craft.

The right of labor to strike can never be legislated out of existence.

England had tried it from 1349 down to 1906, when the adoption of the trades-dispute act made combinations and agreements among laborers legal.

Had there been any merit to legislation prohibiting strikes it would surely have been manifest during all these years, but on the other hand it not only failed to lessen strikes, it served to make the struggle all the more bitter.

The right of labor to strike has been conceded by the greatest of our American statesmen, Lincoln, especially, who declared in a speech delivered in 1860 that he was glad that he lived in a country and under a government which gave labor the right to strike when they wished.

It cost the lives of many men and millions of dollars in money to write into our Federal Constitution the Amendment declaring slavery and involuntary servitude null and void. Yet we find forty-six of our supposed super-patriots voting for the Cummins bill in the United States Senate, a bill which would make the strike a crime and every one of our 4,057,000 organized workers potential criminals.

Labor has been the moving factor in all of the great strikes in history which have made for progress. We aided materially in striking the chains from the limbs of the chattle slaves. We were the dominant factor that succeeded in striking the hand of the Hun from the throat of civilization. We expect to keep on striking as long as human hope endures. It is safe to predict that legislation of the kind proposed by the Cummins Bill will call a strike against every Senator or Representative who votes in favor of it, a strike at the ballot box, where we are able to remove such obstacles without the loss of a single day's time or the cost of a single penny in strike benefit.

In many places union manufacturers are begging for union workmen to work at good trade union bills of prices. There is not the slightest excuse in the world for any union man working on jobs that do not net them more than $8.80 per week.

After all, the very best way to protect wages and the earning capacity of cigar-makers is through their bill of prices. This is worth having and anything worth having it worth fighting for. The sooner we wake up to this indisputable fact and stop trying to lift ourselves out of the mire of miserable starvation wages by some other process, the sooner we shall get nearer to the real thing in constructive trade unionism.

The label is a help in sustaining and maintaining union shops and bills of prices. The strong, compact, thoroughly-organized union, with men and women possessed of the militant spirit, is the surest thing to establish and maintain good wages and reasonably fair working conditions. There is an old Biblical saying that the Lord helps those who help themselves. This saying is absolutely true in so far as economic conditions are concerned. One way for the workers in our industry to help themselves is to organize and pin their economic faith to the constructive trade union movement.

Labor here and elsewhere, with the closing of the world war, has taken a new concept of life. They know and instinctively feel that they are entitled to fair compensation for work performed. The sooner they learn that their hopes and expectations in this connection can only be realized through the constructive trade union movement, and put that thought into action the sooner they will be in a position to realize their ambitions.

The war destroyed political autocracy. The only potential force that can destroy economic autocracy is the constructive trade union movement. We never can have industrial democracy until we have a strong, compact economic movement.

Employers, like everyone else, often need object lessons. The surest way to teach employers that the worker is determined to get his full share of the value he creates is to organize and stay organized in constructive trade unions. Employers pay little or no attention to the rights and interests concerning wages and hours, of unorganized labor.

Power through organization brings with it responsibility. No enterprise can thrive and prosper until both parties assume full responsibility and do their full share to create success. The one-hundred per cent organization of the workers can destroy or build up the industry.

Any industry must, in order to fully protect the just rights and interests of the workers, be fairly well organized. Industries that are the best organized have the fewest trade disputes. The more complete the organization the fewer are the strikes. Employers will meet and deal with the organization that is one-hundred per cent organized, and meet its just demands without resort to strike.

The paramount duty then is to completely organize.

TRADE NOTES.

The coming Porto Rican tobacco crop is estimated at 40,000,000 pounds, more than double that of the previous year.

Italy has made the government of Ecuador an offer for an absolute monopoly of the tobacco industry of that country.

The General Cigar Co. is now operating more than 50 factories in various parts of the United States.

Anti-tobacco propaganda has hit England. The British Anti-Tobacco League has compiled exhaustive statistics, which have recently been distributed, showing the amount of tobacco consumed, its cost to the nation and the increase per capita.

These "antis" seem to work along the same lines in all countries and are no doubt financed from the same general source.

The total cost of administering internal revenue laws in the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919, was $20,573,771.63, compared with $12,003,214.07 for the fiscal year of 1918. The expenditures were equivalent to 0.534 per cent of the total collection.

The year 1919 witnessed a phenomenal growth of the tobacco industry of America in all branches except cigars. Indications are for a continued increase during the coming years. Many of the larger tobacco companies are increasing their capital stock and negotiating for additional plants. New companies are being organized and combinations effected, all of which tend toward further centralization of the industry.

The year also shows a rapid and wonderful expansion of American tobacco business in Europe. Asiatic countries are demanding more and more of our manufactured products, China especially, where the American cigarette is fast becoming the native smoke.

A joint survey, just completed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Bureau of Statistics, States Department of Agriculture, shows that there were planted last year in Pennsylvania 41,288 acres in tobacco, or almost 4,000 acres more than was anticipated. Crops were grown in thirteen counties. Lancaster led, with 33,000 acres. Counties with more than 100 acres are Lebanon, Chester, Berks, Juniata, Tioga, Clinton and Bradford.

As an indication of the general trend of the trade among the larger tobacco and cigar concerns, we refer to the following reports of two representative corporations:

Earnings of the American Tobacco Co. for November were $17,000,000. This is at the rate of more than $200,000,000 a year and there is no sign of a letup in business. The earnings reported do not include those of subsidiary companies.

Earnings of Consolidated Cigar Corporation in October and November approximated $211,000 net, despite the fact that the company had two of its three big factories idle, due to a strike among employees. Earnings are now running at the rate of approximately $150,000 a month net. This is at the annual rate of more than six times the dividend requirements on the preferred stocks.

There was exported during October 63,882,910 pounds of domestic leaf as compared with 39,901,489 pounds in October, 1918. This also represents a gain over the previous month of 2,914,298 pounds.

Cigars were exported in October to the amount of 6,947,000 as compared with 330,000 in the same month of 1918, an increase of 6,617,000 cigars.

Cigarettes show an ever increasing demand. The United Kingdom alone using 379,476,000 in October, while the total exports to foreign countries amounted to 1,450,838,000.

The year just ended was one of perplexing reckoning in so far as prices for raw material were concerned. The new year finds the market pretty well cleaned up on desirable stock which will keep the present high prices intact with every indication of still more to come as the demand increases.

The binder situation is positively acute. There has been a premature buying campaign in both Connecticut and Wisconsin at an extremely high range of prices and everything available seems to have been absorbed.

It is estimated that 80 per cent of the 1919 Pennsylvania filler crop has been purchased by the larger manufacturers. There is quite a lot of the 1918 crop still available, but the increased consumption of domestic cigars will tend to absorb this quickly to the end that no lowering of prices is expected.

The Havana crop for the year was large and is generally satisfactory, but the small yield of desirable tobacco in 1918 makes the present crop the dominant factor and prices range higher in all grades.

With approximately 10,000 bales of Connecticut shade grown wrappers less than last year owing to decreased acreage, the wrapper situation is really critical; in fact, almost anything in the way of tobacco suitable for wrapper stock commands any price the dealer may put on it. It is hoped that the imported types, especially Java and Sumatra, will relieve the situation to some extent, but so far it is next to impossible to get an accurate line on the situation owing to the still unsettled conditions of European markets.

On the whole, the coming year looks extremely bright—for the grower and dealer in cigar leaf tobacco.

Exports of cigars from Havana during the month of November totaled 18,376,200 as compared with 10,824,060 for the corresponding month last year.

The United States received 5,504,420, which was an increase of 3,530,060 over November, 1918.

The total amount exported for the first eleven months of this year was 133,804,775, which was an increase of 3,389,285 over the corresponding eleven months of 1918.

The following interesting statistics with reference to the cigar industry of Tampa were taken from a recent issue of the Tampa Times: "Cigars made since July 1, 1918, to Dec. 30, 1919, amount in round figures to 586,638,638; the average length of cigars is 5 inches, which makes a total of 244,432,764 feet.

"If these cigars were to be placed end to end they would reach approximately 46,000 miles, or twice around the world.

"The entire population of the United States amounts to about 110,000,000 people, and if the cigars which have been made since July 1, 1918, to Dec. 30, 1919, were to be divided among the population each would receive a little over 5 cigars each."

The following shows the number of cigars manufactured annually since 1898:

The greatest increase in the production of cigarettes in any single month in the history of the industry occurred in September, 1919.

Production for this month amounted to 4,283,685,000, an increase of 877,000,000 over the corresponding month of 1918 and constituted a record month's production.

When you consider that production for this one month was but approximately 2,500,000,000 less than the entire output for 1909, the remarkable growth of the cigarette industry becomes apparent.

Serious consideration should be given the following table which shows in detail the total number of cigars and cigarettes manufactured during the past ten years.

A fair and comprehensive analysis will, if applied, answer many of the criticisms advanced by misinformed, though well meaning, critics of our organization.

Review of General Trade Conditions.

The world war ended Nov. 11, 1918, left in its wake a host of problems not all of which are solved at the close of the year 1919.

A year ago our greatest problem was the difficulty attending the replacing in industry of the millions of service men.

There were many pessimistic forebodings as to the probable disastrous results made possible by widespread unemployment.

The most of these fears proved to be mental and we have managed, as we usually do, to penetrate the darker clouds and find beyond the sunshine of continued progress.

No doubt the same will prove true with regard to our difficulties not yet solved. There is no reason for worry but every reason for safe, sane reasoning and the application of our ample balance of common sense.

The continuously mounting H. C. L. is perhaps the problem that will offer the most stubborn resistance and cause the most widespread discontent.

President Wilson's proposed federal regulation "to prevent unconscionable profits" will be a help in the right direction—if the regulating is not left to those directly concerned in the industry to be regulated as was the case in many supposed "regulations" during the period of war.

Any attitude that attempts to curb the just demands of labor by regulating, or attempting to regulate, the scope of labor's activity and makes no attempt to curb the profiteer in his exploitation of the public will meet with labor's most aggressive opposition. We intend to be masters of ourselves.

There is at present no indication of approaching business stagnation. On the contrary, it is safe to assume that at least the first half of the year will see some expansion. There is an active demand for almost all lines of manufactured goods, as well as raw products, at home and European trade is limited only by their ability to finance their needs.

Steel enters the new year with a quantity of unfilled orders on hand due in the main to the serious handicap of the strike. Any accurate summary of the trade as a whole is still impossible owing to the conflicting reports as to production. It is admitted that production cannot possibly catch up with the present demand before the end of the year. Prices in all lines are being boosted, but the new business to be done will not be a matter of price so much as assurance of eventual delivery.

The coal situation is fast assuming normal proportions, it being estimated that production is now about 80 per cent. Practically all of the emergency measures taken by the Fuel Administration have been revoked and the only matter of concern is transportation.

It is the gr ever e) States costing costing schools ments, road i church work r period trades all down the line.

The United States leads in shipbuilding. According to returns for the third quarter of 1919 issued by Lloyd's register of shipping, merchant vessels under construction throughout the world, with the exception of Germany, aggregated 2,328 vessels of 8,048,528 gross tons. The United States leads with 3,470,000 tons to Britain's 2,816,000 tons, while British dominions rank third and Japan fourth.

The foreign commerce of the U. S. made a new high record in the year 1919. Foreign trade exceeded by more than a billion dollars that of any previous year and was two and one-half times greater than in 1914. The increase was in both imports and exports. Imports exceeded $3,750,000,000, while exports totaled approximately $6,800,000,000.

According to the annual report of the Secretary of the Agriculture, the American farmer cannot be branded as a nonproducer, having produced three times as much last year as in the five years directly preceding the war. The total value of all crops for 1919 is placed at $15,873,000,000, and for the five year period above mentioned it averaged but $5,829,000,000. He raised approximately 100,000,000 bushels more wheat than in 1918 and about 300,000,000 bushels more corn. Live stock was increased as follows: Cattle, 8,500,000, hogs, 16,700,000, and horses and mules 1,000,000; 25,500,000 barrels of apples were grown.

R. G. Dun & Co. report 124 commercial failures for the last week in December as compared with 92 in the preceding week and 14 in the corresponding week in 1918. There were 6,445 failures during the past year as compared with 9,982 in 1918, this being the smallest amount recorded since 1881.

CORRESPONDENCE

Los Angeles, Calif.

We wish to call the closest attention of our members to the resolution drawn up and endorsed to a referendum vote by Union 225.

There is so much said in the recent journals to run the union on a business scale and we think the resolution of 225 will just be the first step to accomplish this.

Any life insurance is based on the rules of a professional mathematician.

Why do not we do the same with our union?

We think it will be the easiest and the only way to bring the finances of our union on a sound basis, something we have not got so far.

There were some good suggestions in our last journals; to apply them would be all right. If we would start in from now. But there are old members to whom have been made promises, members who paid all their lifetime to this union, who always had the greatest confidence—we have to be just to them. To figure this we are not capable, that is the work of a mathematician. To meet all our liabilities we ought to have at the present time a fund of approximately 12 millions. Our liabilities increased from 5 to 13 while our fund decreased from 5 to 2. That is the end of our science.

Our dues and the benefits are a mathematical impossibility, without consideration to any mathematical and natural law, and our next convention will not accomplish anything without the scientific advice how and what to do. The way the resolution is drawn it will give any local union the right to present their wishes and resolutions to the mathematician, who will give them his most severe consideration, if they are acceptable. This will avoid long discussions and reduce the work of the convention to a minimum.

Therefore, vote for this resolution and endorse it. We think it is good.

Cigarmakers' Union 225,

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 12, 1919.

The union label must be visible to purchasers of cigars to make its purpose effective. The passing of the saloon reduced the sale of cigars to showcases, within which the union label is not readily seen, consequently destroying its efficiency. Union 192 has proposed an amendment to the Constitution so as to substitute the word "inside" for the word "outside" on line four, section 150. The amended section to read. To be pasted on the inside of the box, so the label will be conspicuously displayed.

Fellow Craftsmen:

In the November issue of our Journal there appeared an article signed by G. B. Hereckels, Union 88, to which the members of Union No. 88 take exception. The article as written would lead one to believe that it was endorsed by our local when in fact we were entirely ignorant of its existence until it appeared in our Journal. Union 88 in no way questions the right of any member to use the columns of our Journal to express his or her views, but we most strenuously object to any misleading manner of signing it so as to make it appear as though it had the endorsement of our local. Our staunch belief in the stability of the C. M. I. U. of A. would make it impossible for us to endorse such criticism of the laws embodied in our constitution governing degrees of membership, the levying of dues and assessments and above all our system of pecuniary benefits. The many years of experience and the apparent success of the existing laws which govern our benefit system prove that they were compiled with intelligence and forethought and should not be impulsively tampered with through hasty amendments. The adoption by other trades unions of our benefit system and laws governing same is ample proof of their worth. We do not see why members who cheerfully accept all increases in wages gained through their affiliation with the C. M. I. U. of A. should begrudge the slight increases in dues or assessments which become necessary from time to time to tide us over in the carrying out of our obligations toward the unfortunate sick or the faithful brothers whose membership has been terminated through death. We also believe that all 15 and 20-cent members are fully reimbursed for their contribution to the funds of the union. We must not forget that they are not 15-cent members by our choice, but by their own and for reasons best known by themselves.

We earnestly hope that when our delegates are in convention assembled that they will tolerate only such legislation bearing strictly on trades union lines and that any further attempts to make our union a haven for the undesirable personnel of our trade be frustrated. Nor would it be just to try to make a cheap 10 or 15-cent insurance society out of the C. M. I. U. of A.

Local 83.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 24, 1919.

Owing to the increased cost of living the cigar makers asked the Boston manufacturers for a wage increase of 13 per cent. It was refused.

Rather than sever the friendly relations which had existed, the cigar makers asked for a conference with the manufacturers. This was granted, but the three firms manufacturing Blackstones, Totems, C. C. A. and Quincy cigars declined to grant an adequate increase to the cigar makers.

The fact that Waitt & Bond, the C. C. A. Co. and Breslin & Campbell were always friendly to organized labor led the cigar makers' committee to investigate and they were surprised to learn that these firms were then preparing to close their factories in Boston and had already established factories in New York and New Jersey to make their cigars by machine, which they have since been doing; and we are informed that even these machines were made by non-union labor.

We wish the public to know, in its own interest, that machine-made cigars are not classed as union made and that they are obviously inferior to hand made goods. The public should also know that no union cigar makers work in the shops of these firms.

If you want well made, hand made, union made cigars, do not smoke cigars made by these firms.

Your guarantee is the blue union label of the Cigarmakers' International Union on the box.

Issued by the New England Label Conference.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 10th, 1919.

To the Members of the Cigar Makers' International Union of the United States and Canada; and to the Members of Local Union No. 87 of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Gentlemen: I should like to explain through the columns of the Cigar Makers' Journal what I believe should be done to improve our conditions.

First. We should change our method of advertising the Blue Label. This can be done by placing the advertising under international supervision instead of local supervision. Local management is effective in some cases, but these are in the minority; in the majority of localities it is a failure.

The Blue Label should be strongly and effectively advertised in all parts of the United States and Canada and the only way to do this effectively is through a central source—the international. The trust is daily growing stronger through this method of concentrated advertising. All parts of the country are thoroughly covered. Their advertising is as consistent and persistent in Maine as in California, in Wisconsin as in Florida, and we, if we are to wage successful competition, must do the same.

I do not want to be misunderstood. I am not advocating that the local boards lose their power. But I am urging for the common good that the Blue Label should meet the eye and become as familiar to every man in these United States and Canada as is the label of our common foe, the trust.

This brings me to my second point. How shall we provide funds for this purpose. To do work as great as this there must be a separate fund to be handled by the international union. My suggestions are: First, to abolish the out of work benefit and use this money by the international advertising fund. This money will furnish the foundation with which to start. For the last four years the out of work funds have totaled as follows: 1915, $122,954; 1916, $57,119; 1917, $19,835.50; 1918, $12,616; making a grand total of $212,524.50. Second, this fund should be regularly added to by an assessment of 10 cents per month. With such an amount to start with and a regular monthly income for advertising purposes an advertising system could be built up and advertising experts engaged to make a successful appeal to an increasing demand by smokers all over the country for Blue Label cigars. Third, in addition to our lack of advertising another great source of evil to us all is the dishonest manufacturer. Some method of dealing with him must be found if our advertising is to win and retain popular confidence.

Should there be a demand to retain as a section of the constitution an out of work benefit, let it be for the man over 70 years of age, for he is the only one who might need it. With, however, a boom of continued success for the label shops, even he would not need it. Let us then for the benefit of all give these matters earnest and serious consideration with a fund large enough to do excellent work and confidence in our goods. Let us fight the trust with its own weapon—effective advertising.

Edw. J. Strachion.

Cleveland, Ohio, is one of the five cities receiving the highest vote to entertain our convention in April. We herewith give a few reasons why the convention should be held on the shore of Lake Erie, in the "city on the hill."

Cleveland has not had a convention since 1880. Cleveland was mentioned as a convention city at the Baltimore convention.

One of the old international union presidents, one who has been instrumental in no small degree of helping to build up our union from a struggling infant in the early days to the present time—we have reference to Bro. Wm. J. Cannon, who lives here, but has been sick since his retirement as secretary of No. 17, being confined to the house most of the time.

We have a Central Trades Council representing 70,000 members of affiliated unions.

We are centrally located as to our union membership, with all kinds of railway and electric facilities for transportation for the delegates.

We have plenty convention halls of every size, having held the miners' convention of 2,400 delegates.

We have plenty of union printing plants to handle the daily proceedings. Every hotel of any note is organized. All restaurants, especially those centrally located, are organized. Plenty of rooming houses and eating places for all. In fact, accommodations for officers and delegates of every description, at prices guaranteed to be lower, upon investigation, than any large city in the country.

For the above and many other reasons too numerous to mention, we ask you, brothers, to vote for Cleveland for the coming convention city.

•Cigar Makers' Local No. 17,
Cleveland, Ohio.

January 15, 1920.

Dear Sir and Brother: It was the unanimous action of the delegates of the Central Body in meeting assembled Jan. 7th that I extend to you an invitation to hold your next convention in the city of Cleveland.

Accommodations are adequate and the city is ideally situated for same.

Trusting you will take favorable action in the premises, I am,

Yours fraternally.

CLEVELAND FEDERATION OF LABOR,
JOHN G. OWENS, Secretary.

To the Officers and Members of Local Cigar Makers' Unions:

A few words relative to the proposed amendment of No. 218, Binghamton, to section 154, which has received the required number of endorsements and will be submitted to popular vote. There is no doubt that all members of our international union stand for the slogan "that a union cigar maker is entitled to a living wage"—a pay that will insure subsistence for him and his family, with opportunity to educate his children, and with no reasonable comforts denied him or any member of his family. The question for your consideration is, how many cigars do you consider is a day's work? Do you know that some cigar makers cannot make over 200 cigars in eight hours? Do you know that with many 250 cigars is a good day's work? Do you know that 300 cigars is probably more than the average cigar maker will make for a day's work? Then remember there is a "half holiday" on a Saturday—making a cigar maker's working time five and one-half days per week—which does not include time lost for lack of stock, trade depression and various other conditions, quite familiar to all. With 300 cigars as a day's work and no lost time we have the munificent sum of $13.20 as a weekly wage. The less fortunate members who could make but 250 cigars per day would receive $11.20. The 200 per day workman would be forced to wear an "O be joyful" look on a weekly pay of $8.80. Possibly some members would derive consolation with the thought that they were union workmen employed on a union job and at the constitution price of $8.00 per thousand, but with eggs at $1.00 or more per dozen and butter at 80c per pound and all other necessities of life of every description advanced proportionately, the living wage for some union cigar makers is certainly far from being a joke.

Brother members, constructive unionism should be ratified at any time—in January or February as well as April. There certainly can be no claim of radicalism against a proposition to increase a union cigar maker's weekly wage from $8.80 to $9.90 or from $11.20 to $12.60, or even from $13.20 to 14.85. This proposed amendment of Union 218, Binghamton, is a mere step toward a living wage, and under present living conditions there should be no question or doubt regarding its adoption. Yet if you think $8.00 per thousand is price enough for a union cigar maker—vote against our amendment—or don't vote at all. Either will help its defeat.

Please remember that the C. M. I. U. of A. is practically in convention every month in the year, and not a reason presented why a worthy proposition should be sidetracked until next April. Now is the time to adopt this amendment—next April who knows but what cigar makers may be doing the "coast to coast" stunt looking for jobs.

John F. Wardell, Sec'y.

To the Officers and Members of Local Unions:

This communication aims to direct the attention of organized labor toward the benefits and possibilities of practical co-operation.

Every local union is urged to consider the subject now and to give at least $1.00 out of its funds to promote the campaign for co-operation under the guidance of the American Trade Union movement.

At the Buffalo convention of the A. F. of L., 1917, a special committee appointed by President Gompers, under the direction of the Baltimore convention, held in 1916, made a short but clear report which was unanimously adopted.

The members of this committee are all veteran trade unionists and have been earnest co-operators for years, and who know the pitfalls that should be avoided in any co-operative enterprise. They know that the pathway of co-operative effort in all countries is strewn with failures, largely due to lack of knowledge, incompetency, indifference, of proper safeguarding of funds and in many instances to the fact that sometimes exploiters with mercenary purposes have wrecked the enterprise.

Criminal profiteering, to which is largely due the high cost of living, can be checked without any legislative enactment only by the co-operative movement. We have it in our hands without interference of state or federal government or any law making authority to check the legalized, robbing profiteering through the co-operative movement. We can check it in so far as it affects the purchase of the necessities of life and the costs thereof now controlled by a minority, which is bleeding the giant majority white through criminal profiteering. Let us apply that remedy.

The A. F. of L. committee on co-operation recommended to the American Federation of Labor the following short program, which was unanimously adopted:

1. That a qualified trade unionist co-operator be appointed by the president of the American Federation of Labor to serve one year as lecturer and adviser on the practical work of Rochdale co-operation.
2. That this appointee shall have office room in the American Federation of Labor building in Washington, which shall be the center of information by correspondence and otherwise on the subject.
3. That he shall visit localities in which co-operative societies are in process of formation or have already been formed, and give practical information to the officers and members of such societies, making out routes of travel for this purpose so as to conserve his time and perform the work at a minimum of expense.
4. That it shall be understood that central labor unions and local trade unions as such shall not form co-operative societies, but shall appoint committees from their membership to act in co-operation with other citizens who are in sympathy with the trade union movement in assisting in establishing and upbuilding a general co-operative movement.
5. That every local trade union under the jurisdiction of the American Federation of Labor be requested to contribute the sum of one dollar ($1.00) in order to establish successfully the Federation Bureau for promoting and advancing the cause of true co-operation in the United States and Canada.

Your committee has excluded from its consideration all forms of associated work which do not fall within the limits of the Rochdale co-operative system.

The simple principles of this system are:

1. A democratic organization.
2. One vote for each member with equality in share ownership. No voting by proxy.
3. Cash returns quarterly to members of the difference between the total amount they have paid for their purchase and the lesser total cost of these purchases to the co-operative society; including among the cost depreciation and a reasonable amount for a reserve fund to meet emergencies and extend the business.
4. Rejection of the principle of profits.
5. Current interest on loan capital.

6. Sales where possible preferably to members only.

7. Distributive co-operation to precede production.

8. A sufficient number of retail stores to be established to assure a market before a wholesale department is created.

9. Observance of methods recommended by the International Co-operative Alliance.

Following this action of the convention of 1917 President Gompers sent a circular letter to our international organizations calling attention to the provision in clause 5 of the report which requested every local trade union to contribute the sum of one dollar to enable the A. F. of L. to start this co-operative work. All but a few of the international headquarters officials, owing to the war and other unavoidable pressing obligations, postponed or overlooked the appeal, so that up to the present date the total amount subscribed is but $3,250. Up to the present this sum has not been expended, the committee as well as the executive council, A. F. of L., deciding that a sufficient sum ought to be in the fund to insure the success of our effort to place the necessary knowledge and information in the hands of our members to successfully start their efforts at co-operation.

The matter is now put to the local union membership directly so that it may contribute an infinitely small sum to make this campaign of education successful. Today every wage worker knows that co-operation is not limited to benefits of a purely business character. Through it the workers can secure more comfort, better health and greater individual and collective independence. The co-operative store affords a working class education in equitable business.

Sensible men look at real problems of life in a sensible way. The members of trade unions may by their action on this occasion crystallize into activity the A. F. of L. project for co-operation.

A prompt response from local unions in contributing their mite is earnestly requested. The money should be sent to Frank Morrison, Secretary, A. F. of L., Washington, D. C.

G. W. PERKINS,
President, International.

While at luncheon the other day, a prominent leaf tobacco importer, using the tablecloth for a scratch pad, took his pencil and figured out that one cigar machine plant, without enlarging its capacity, can, if its present rate of production is maintained, produce enough cigar making machines in the next seven years to produce the annual output of cigars between and including the 5-cent and two-for-a-quarter varieties.

It is rather a startling thought that within the comparatively brief period of seven years the most important portion of our cigar production may be entirely machine made. It is a well known fact that, at the present time, the demand for cigar making machines is far in excess of the output, and that the makers of the machines are something like a year behind their orders. That this demand may continue until cigars generally throughout the United States become a machine-made product is by no means beyond the pale of possible things.

More immediate, however, and certainly more manifest, is the transition of Spanish "hand-made" factories to "team-work" factories.

The sudden interest in cigar making machines is due in a large measure to the epidemic of strikes with which the trade has been infested during the past year. It was persistent labor trouble which brought the subject of making cigars by machine to the fore; and it is quite possible that a temporary cessation of strikes and lockouts may divert trade thought from that particular direction.

On the other hand, the trend toward the team-work method was not incited by labor difficulties, but has been observable for a number of years.

It is a transition that was well under way long before the cigar making machines had begun to be taken seriously. It progressed steadily and continues to progress steadily.

A few years ago there were possibly half a hundred medium to large cigar factories using exclusively the Spanish hand-made system of cigar production. Today the well known firms in this class could be counted on the fingers of one hand, without using up all the fingers.

The first distinct impetus given the higher priced mould-made cigar was several years ago when there sprang up a great demand for large cigars made of good tobacco and which could be purchased by the consumer at a fairly moderate price. Confronted with this problem, factories which had for years employed only Spanish hand-made workmanship began to introduce team-work.

The second impetus, and that which is now manifest, is due to the growing belief on the part of cigarmakers that team-work offers higher earning possibilities than hand work.

This last is the feature upon which many base the prediction that strictly Spanish hand-work cigar making will soon become a lost art.

It is probably true that as a general rule, now that team work has taken in the higher priced sizes of cigars, the average earnings of the average team-work cigarmaker in the clear Havana and shade grown factories are greater than those of the average Spanish hand worker. This, it is claimed, will slowly but surely attract all of the younger generation of cigar workers to the team-work factories, with the ultimate result that the hand-work factories will find it impossible to compete and will gradually adopt the mould system.

Past history and present conditions give substantial basis for this reasoning.

There is, however, one obstacle which is likely to retard in greater or less measure the utter abolition of the one-man method.

We refer to the temperament and traditions of the Latin and Latin-American cigar workers.

Team-work is an American idea, born of American efficiency. Its earning possibilities are greater, not because of a higher scale of wages, but because in team-work one man makes only a part of a cigar and specializes in that part; and because each of the two or three employed in making the same cigar is involuntarily competing with the other.

In other words, the team-work cigarmaker can earn more money than the hand-work cigarmaker because he works faster and harder.

No one can gainsay that every passing year sees fewer cigars made in this country by the Spanish hand method and in view of the great changes that are taking place in the cigarmaking trade one could hardly venture to deny that eventually mechanical contrivances will entirely replace the artisan's hand.

But until the element in all clear Havana cigar manufacturing centers has outlived old traditions and become completely reconciled, the hand-made cigar will occupy a distinct place, though it may be a restricted one, in the cigar manufacturing industry.—The Tobacco Leaf.

Oklahoma is a soft coal producing state. It has several thousand coal miners whose condition is, on the average, about the same as the condition of soft coal miners in other states. One of the comparative lists received at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers in this city is from a retail firm which has stores in Alderson and Gowen. This firm was asked by the miners for a list of prices at which it sold its goods to the miners in 1914 and the prices at which it sold the same article to the miners in 1919. The figures supplied by this are set out herewith, and the miners' officials say that they represent fairly what the miners of the country are up against. The 1914 price list was dated November 25 in that year, and the 1919 price list was dated December 31 last. A study of the list will be interesting. It is as follows:

United Mine Workers' Journal.

The Union Label.

By W. B. Lubin.

On the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice, an assemblage of men and women from all over gathered to celebrate the ending of the world's great war, and speeches and expressed sentiment constituted the order of the day.

An old man related how he had given five sons to the war, and he proudly called attention to a button which displayed five silver stars. One followed the other in the attempt of each to recount his share in bringing the great war to its successful termination, and enthusiasm knew no bounds.

An old, gray haired woman, dressed in black, wore a sleeve band bearing a gold star.

"My son died in France," she said, "but his soul lives on for mankind." And all shouted "Amen."

There were many soldiers with silver and gold chevrons, with various insignia and stripes for service and wounds. Each of these men had done his part to win the war, and had done it well; all were received with great applause.

Then rose, one by one, men and women who wore five different kinds of buttons—one for each war loan subscription. Following these were men and women who were decorated with the Red Cross, with the badge of the Y. M. C. A., the K. C., and other similar organizations, and all delighted in narrating their own personal share in the victory. They had helped to win the war—all were deserving of the truest praise.

Just before the meeting came to an end, there arose a man of wrinkled face, calloused hands, and stooped shoulders. In rude accents and halting speech he requested permission to speak.

"Let him talk!" and "Platform!" were the shouts.

So he ascended the platform, and thus he spoke:

"Now, folks and friends, I can show no gold or silver stars and no wound stripes as a result of my part in this war. Nevertheless I bear a lot of scars and wounds, for I have lost toes and fingers through personal injuries received in my work. I had no children to give to Uncle Sam, as my only two sons were killed before the war—one in the mill, and the other while railroading. Although I offered myself, they said that I wasn't fit to be useful in field service because I was a cripple, so I stayed at home and made soldiers' supplies.

"But I have with me the labels that helped to win the war, and let no true patriot forget them, for they played a most important part. I am not trying to take one bit of credit from any of you for what you did, but let me say to you that it was ORGANIZED LABOR standing behind this war and fighting for democracy long before the war for democracy was conceived, that made possible the winning of the war for democracy."

Taking a piece of pasteboard from his pocket, he said:

"This is my union card. There is a little emblem on it—that is the printers' label."

Removing his coat, he turned his inside pocket out and called attention to the tailors' label. His hat bore the hatters' label inside the sweat band, and stripping off his collar and tie, he showed the textile workers' labels. Then he continued:

"If this were not a public meeting, I'd take off my shoes and socks, my shirt, suspenders, and underwear, and you would find that every article bears the union label."

There was no laughter. All knew that he was serious, and his audience likewise was serious.

"What do these labels mean? They mean that everyone who works and is permitted to put the label on what he makes testifies to the fact that conditions are satisfactory, hours not too long, and wages sufficient to keep a man in decent living. Each of these labels stands for militancy, for war upon foreign methods of industry and against industrial slavery. Through these labels, each wage earner is made a free, upright human being.

"The war in Europe is over, and the emblems that you wear as a result of the war spell memories of the past, however fresh those memories may be. But each label that I wear means that we must go on fighting to humanize industry, to make the world safe for democracy, to place industry on such a level that the workman is able to enjoy democracy."

This was his message—and he had both the fire and the aim. When he had finished he was acclaimed with great applause.

By Samuel Gompers, President American Federation of Labor.

Labor has put forth a program of thoroughly constructive criticism and suggestion. Its demands are the demands of forward-looking citizens who seek the advancement and perfection of our civilization.

The representatives of the workers met in Washington on December 13 and adopted a document that is a fit companion to the declaration adopted by labor on March 12, 1917, when our country stood on the threshold of war. This present declaration is intended to help avert calamity in our republic. It is intended to help promote the national well-being. For that reason labor unhesitatingly condemns that which it holds to be unjust and unwarrantable.

Labor's declaration condemns the unwarranted use of the injunctive process. To quote from the declaration: "Formerly injunctions issued in labor disputes were of a prohibitive character. Within the recent past this abuse of the injunction writ has been enlarged to include mandatory orders whereby men have been compelled to do specific things which they have a lawful right to refrain from doing.

"We declare these abuses in the exercise of the injunction writ are clearly violative of the constitution and that this issue must be determined definitely in accordance with the guarantees of the Constitution of the United States."

Labor's declaration condemns legislation calculated to make strikes unlawful. It condemns such autocratic and unbearable conduct as that of the United States Steel Corporation and the bituminous coal mine operators. It must be remembered that arbitrary restrictions have never in the world's history stilled the voices crying for justice or halted except for a moment the march of progress.

America faces a great and sublime task. In this she can succeed only if those ideals that were given such vitality during the war are carried effectively into our industrial and social life today and tomorrow.

This declaration of labor is more than a bill of rights. It is a constructive program for the industrial life of America.

The solemn warnings and the constructive policies set forth are measures conceived by a most practical statesmanship in response to the experiences and needs of those who serve in the hard reality of the world of work.

Broad purpose and deep patriotism underly every word written into this declaration. There is in it no thought of gain except for freedom and humanity and justice. We have the right to call upon all of our countrymen for support and helpfulness in the furtherance of such principles.

The war we have fought together has brought us a victorious peace, the problems of which can be solved only by united and unselfish effort.

We declare ourselves unrelenting in condemnation of malpractices in our democracy. We cannot and must not tolerate autocracy of any character in our land. Those who would defy the ethics and the law and the morality of civilization we can know only as foes of humanity.

The warning of labor is sincere and the product of understanding.

The declaration calls together all those who give service in every walk of life to arise and purge the land of abuse and wanton exploitation and autocracy of conduct.

Freedom makes stern demands upon those who would enjoy freedom. Labor's declaration is its avowal of understanding and its pledge of loyalty to that noble concept.

Sterling-Graham Peace Time Sedition Bill. By Samuel Gompers.

The American Federation of Labor will oppose with whatever power it may possess the pending Sterling-Graham Peace Time Sedition Bill. The proposed bill, if enacted, would violate the constitution and rob the whole American people of their most cherished and basic guarantees of free government.

Alfred Bettman of Cincinnati, special assistant attorney general of the United States, who had charge of sedition cases during the war, declares this bill is "contrary to the fundamental principles of American and Anglo-Saxon institutions, and if enacted, will place upon the American statute books a Prussian and Czaristic Russian institution."

If the American people, and in fact a majority of the members of Congress, were awake to the dangers concealed in this bill, a storm of indignation would sweep the nation. It has been widely advertised that this measure protects free speech fully, but prevents advocacy of forcible revolution, bolshevism and anarchy. In fact, it would perpetuate an autocratic censorship over the entire American press. It can be used to kill free speech and free assembly. It strikes a deadly blow at legitimate organizations of labor or any other progressive movement for the betterment of the masses which may be opposed by the advocates of privilege and reaction.

We yield to no man, in public office or out, in our loyalty to the constitution and institutions of this republic; no self-respecting man has questioned or dare question that loyalty. We are for evolution, not revolution; for ballots, not bullets; for a majority rule, not class dictatorship of bolshevism, plutocracy or of the profiteer. We oppose this bill because every legitimate purpose for which it is framed is already covered by existing law. Its illegitimate features, which compose two-thirds of the draft, are utterly autocratic, imperialistic and un-American.

The supreme danger of this bill lies in its vagueness and in the manner in which it may be administered; and to bring home these perils to liberty, I submit the following bill of particulars which illustrates but in small part what may actually happen.

Passing over Sections 1 to 4 because they are covered by the existing Penal Code, let us refer to Attorney General Palmer's contention that new laws are necessary to reach the individual who advocates opposition to the government by violence, then what is the meaning of Section 4 of the Penal Code, which reads:

"Whoever incites, sets on foot, assists, or engages in any revolution or insurrection against the authority of the United States, or the laws thereof, or gives aid or comfort thereto, shall be imprisoned not more than 10 years, or fined not more than $10,000, or both."

If revolution is afoot, why has not the Department of Justice made prosecutions under that section?

Section 5 of the bill, unbelievable as it may seem, may be easily construed to mean, if indeed it does not make it, a crime, so vague and involved is the terminology, to wear in public any button of an organization whose purpose it is to secure an amendment to the constitution of the United States or any existing Federal law.

Section 6 perpetuates the censorship of the Postmaster General over all newspapers and printed matter. The so-called Borah Amendment, providing a court review of the Postmaster General's action, is sound in principle, but is inadequate to afford protection as a practical matter to a publisher against the autocratic action of the Postmaster General. More amazing still, the proviso sets up a censorship over any man's private correspondence by the Postmaster General. It would be criminal, for example, for a man to send a letter advocating resistance to an injunction issued by a federal judge ordering workers on strike to go back to work. Moreover, this section can be used to prevent the organization of colored labor on the grounds of inciting "racial prejudice the intended or probable result of which appeal is to cause rioting, etc." No doubt advocacy of, or opposition to, the cause of Irish freedom would in some sections be prohibited.

Section 7 would exclude from this country, even for libraries and investigators, a large portion of the labor literature of Europe.

Sections 9, 10 and 11 contain a grave threat aimed at labor. Section 9 makes unlawful every association which seeks "directly or indirectly" to make political change by injury to private property. It is unhappily true that even a legitimate strike may result in indirect injury to the employer's private property right in his business. The recent steel and coal strikes were both falsely heralded as attempts to overthrow our government. If a hostile federal judge should decide that any particular strike has a political end in view and the striking union is "affiliated with" the American Federation of Labor, the A. F. of L. would be compelled at once to expel the striking union or itself become unlawful. And it would at once become a crime punishable by up to 20 years imprisonment or up to $20,000 fine, or both, for any person anywhere in the nation to rent a hall or business office to any labor organization affiliated with the A. F. of L. or to give or loan it money to send strike relief to starving women and children.

In general this is a bill against opinion and advocacy. It proposes to set up not a government of law but of men, because under its vague and sweeping terms no man would know what the law is until the federal judges interpret its meaning. For example, the whole spirit and context of the bill would indicate that the prohibition of "force" is intended to include industrial activity and is an inhibition of strikes.

The inevitable result of this bill, if enacted, would be to spread a reign of terror over the United States, fill the country with spies and special agents of the Department of Justice, fill the land with suspicion and heresy hunting would quickly become a national industry. American citizens who love liberty and love America cannot stand idly by and permit this legislation to be enacted. Unless we oppose it our children and our children's children will regard us as cowards and poltroons, faithless to the heritage of our fathers and the struggles of the human race for liberty. If the principles of Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States are not worth fighting to preserve, I have wholly misconceived what patriotism and love of freedom means.

Union Label Store.

There is at 904-906 Broadway, Brooklyn, a little triangle store known as the Union Label Store.

This little store is the property of labor unions affiliated with the C. F. U.

Local unions and members of local unions capitalize and patronize the venture.

The membership of unions affiliated with the C. F. U. is over 350,000.

What a compelling figure when it comes to co-operation. Three hundred fifty thousand class-conscious working men and women interested in a co-operative venture that has for its object economic freedom of the masses. That sounds so big, doesn't it? Why, one is tempted to see a square block building stored from the basement up to the roof with everything that a family of a million souls is in need of from day to day. One imagines a weekly turnover of at least $750,000, employing about 500 people, together with 25 auto trucks and automobiles constituting the business magnitude of the Union Label Store,

But what is the fact?

A little store, capitalized at $5,000, badly squeezed in between larger and more conspicuous stores, with one or two devoted men and women giving their time and doing their best in the presence of innumerable obstacles.

This is not doing credit to organized labor!

Nothing is gained from floating in ideas and falling flat when it comes to realize them. But this seems to be the case with labor. There is no sense in agreeing upon a theory and support the other fellow on business.

Were the capital of $5,000 evenly divided among 350,000 people it would accredit each one with less than 1½ cents. What a grand total! Now the patronage of these 350,000 union people seems to be in proportion to their financial contribution, perhaps a little below.

Suppose the financial contribution of each member would be $1.50 instead of 1½ cents and their patronage in due proportion, wouldn't that give color, life and enthusiasm to the scheme?

Why not give that much for your own good, your own future? Labor can have almost anything with a united effort at the bottom; 350,000 union people with a following two times that much can have considerable, providing they know what they want and go out to get it.

Wouldn't it be nice, if we could walk along Broadway, Brooklyn, pointing with pride at a building as described above instead of stealing away from it when we happen to get in that neighborhood? Yes, you can have such a business if you put your mind and your soul in that direction.

In the wee little past you worked hard, you gave much and you risked all in order that democracy might live. Why not manifest the same spirit, the same earnestness in the building up of the new social structure, your world's dream, in order that the principle of reciprocity and co-operation might triumph?

Let Labor erect an Eldorado in every city and town—solidarity of mind and action will do it.

REPORT OF ORGANIZERS.

Traverse City, Mich., Dec. 15, 1919.

When I reached this city I got in touch with the unorganized cigar makers, spoke to them about the union, and they all seemed willing to learn about it and be organized. The management of the local firm heard of this and with cheap employers in other industries tried to poison the minds of the girls, telling them the union men were after their money and also that if they joined the union they would close the factory. The girls became somewhat undecided and some of them asked their friends, among them the union railroad men and electricians, and of course these men encouraged them to become organized.

Last Wednesday I appeared before the Electrical Workers' Union and asked them for assistance. We decided to call a meeting of the girls for Sunday at 3 P. M., and the electricians promised to co-operate with me. Sunday morning I was informed by a man who runs a union restaurant that the American Legion was preparing to break up the meeting. I at once called up the chief of police, who told me he would be at the meeting. About 1:50 P. M. seven men, led by the manager of the Consolidated Cigar Company's local branch, walked into my room at the hotel. I asked them what they wanted and they said they were members of the American Legion and were going to stop the meeting. I asked them on what grounds and they opened up with "radicals, Bolsheviks, I. W. W., trouble-makers, grafters," and then informed me there was a train leaving Traverse City at 2:30. I explained to them my mission in Traverse City, and then they told me they were members of the American Legion and sons of the most prominent citizens; that they could take care of the people of Traverse City and did not need help from anyone from Chicago. They were all probably under 30 years of age, and were evidently unconsciously being used by the interests opposed to unionism. The man who led them was older and was not a member of the American Legion, but was there he said simply because, "I am so well acquainted with the boys." At 3:05 p. m. I told them I must be going to the meeting and invited them to come. They said they would go to tell the people that there would be no meeting. I asked them whether they did not think they were overstepping their authority and they replied that I did not know how strong the American Legion was. Well, we went over to the hall and I made my speech and one by one these boys, who had insisted that the meeting be not held, left the hall. I said in my speech, among other things, "Regardless of what class of society they belong to, those that are trying to destroy the present form of government and those also who possess an idea that this popular form of government can be made to serve the interests of the few are both wrong and the sooner they see that the better off we shall be."

Although it was four below zero, thirty-two girls attended the meeting. I had planned to organize a local at this meeting, but on account of all the disturbance and excitement this could not be accomplished and we have now arranged to meet at some home for this purpose.

I inclose letters which were published in the Traverse City Record-Eagle, which explain the outcome of the affair related in my report of December 15.

LEGION DENIES INTERFERENCE.

Say No Attempt Was Made to Interfere with Speech of Labor Organizer.

Dec. 16, 1919.

Record-Eagle: Referring to the article in last night's paper, we wish to state that the American Legion did not attempt to interfere with the labor organizer's speech to which your article refers.

No delegation from the American Legion was authorized to call upon the speaker.

We stand for law and order and have no intention of interfering with free speech, so long as the principles of our government are respected.

Traverse City, Mich., Dec. 20, 1919.

To Whom It May Concern: While on my mission in this city, an organizer of Cigar Makers' International Union of America, in the interest and welfare of men and women employed at making and packing of cigars, my work unquestionably was highly misunderstood by some well-meaning people of the city.

My work is not to bring trouble or discontent to a city or citizens, but to get in touch with fellow cigar makers, to talk about the progress and final ends of the trade, that concerns the welfare of cigarmakers, and to devise ways and means whereby cigarmakers could unitedly, honorably and legitimately better our conditions, so that we will be able to keep up to the American standard of living, under which we will be in better position to become of better service and contribute more to the ideals and progress of America and Americanism.

Therefore, if the incident of last Sunday is to bring injury to any individual or individuals, I wish to state I personally very much regret it, and I hope that the friendship of citizens of Traverse City will continue in the same status as before my coming here.

Respectfully,

STEPHEN BABICH,
Organizer Cigar Makers' International Union.

Record-Eagle: Through my connection with the visit to the rooms of Stephen Babich, organizer of International Cigar Makers' Union, the report has been circulated that I am opposed to labor organization and labor union; but such is not the case. On the contrary I am much in favor of organized labor and labor unions.

Through misinformation I was led to believe that Mr. Babich was not a labor organizer, but since meeting and talking with him, I am convinced that he is not as represented to me, but is a true representative of the International Cigar Makers' Union.

I endorse his work and will gladly answer any questions in my power relative to same.

Respectfully submitted,

M. O. CHAMPNEY.

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

G. W. Perkins, President.
Monon Building, Chicago.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, 318 W. 51st St., New York City, First Vice-President.

L. P. HOFFMAN, 729 N. Diamond St., Jacksonville, Ill., Second Vice-President.

A. GARIEPY, 239 Ave. Hotel De Ville, Montreal, Canada, Third Vice-President.

JOHN REICHERT, Brisbane Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., Fourth Vice-President.

E. G. HALL, 4124 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn., Fifth Vice-President.

E. J. STACK, 412 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland, Ore., Sixth Vice-President.

CHAS. H. STEVENS, 334 Roehrer Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., Seventh Vice-President.

GIBSON WEBER, care Cigar Makers' Union 165, 232 N. 9th St., Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences * * * (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

INTERNATIONAL FINES

The International Executive Board approved the application of Union 97, Boston, to fine Morris Greenman, 113126, $200.00 and suspend him for working in the C. C. A. non-union shop in Newark, N. J. Vote: Affirmative, 6; one member approved $100.00.

Approved the application of 97, Boston, to fine Joseph Greenman, 103201, $200.00 and suspend him for working in the C. C. A. non-union shop in Newark, N. J. Vote: Affirmative, 6; one member approved $100.00.

Approved the application of 300, Michigan City, to fine Peter J. Koszla, 103797, $100.00 for going to work in the Winner factory. Vote: Affirmative, 6; negative, 0.

Approved the application of 17, Cleveland, to suspend and fine Elmer Owen $100.00 for working in the Upson Nut and Bolt Works, a strike plant. Vote: Affirmative, 5; negative, 0; one member disapproved the suspension.

Approved the application of 346, San Antonio, to fine Chas. M. Gabbart $100.00 for working in a non-union factory and selling cigars made by a non-union factory, and condemning unionism generally. Vote: Affirmative, 6; negative, 0.

Approved the application of 118, Peoria, to fine Henry Kritzmeier, 94757, $100.00 for going to work in the Keystone Steel and Wire Mill while they were on strike. Vote: Affirmative, 6; negative, 0.

Fines of $10.00 or Less.

Union 90, New York, fined Jonas Luxenberg, 57342, $5.00 for conduct unbecoming a union man.

Union 231, Amsterdam, N. Y., fined Frank J. Buttridge, 27417, for working overtime.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

George Reimann appealed against 149 Brooklyn for suspending him for nonpayment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

S. U. Williams appealed against 42 Hartford for refusing to allow him eight weeks' time in which to pay local assessments. The appeal was sustained.

P. E. Primeau appealed against the Joint Unions of St. Louis' reference reinstating members in a certain shop. The appeal was not sustained.

E. Brinkman appealed against Union 281 St. Louis for fining him $50.00 for packing cigars in a shop that had been called on strike. The fine was reduced to $20.00.

A. F. Franks Cigar Co. appealed against the Joint Unions of St. Louis for compelling them to pay $1.00 more on a cigar that wholesaled for a certain price, as per the Joint Unions' bill of prices. The firm denies selling the cigar for more than the price stipulated in the Joint Unions' bill of prices. The decision is that this manufacturer must pay the price called for in the bill of prices of the joint unions.

Chas. Heller, et al., appealed against Union 218 Binghamton for suspending and fining him for working in a strike shop. The appeal was not sustained.

L. Petrolia appealed against 225 Los Angeles for refusing her claim for sick benefit. The appeal was not sustained.

J. N. Graver appealed against 97 Boston for suspending him. Owing to extenuating circumstances the appeal is sustained, with the understanding that he be placed on the ninety-day list.

A. Holwerda appealed against 97 Boston for suspending him for nonpayment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

G. H. Moore appealed against 97 Boston for suspending him for nonpayment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

S. DeWolf appealed against 97 Boston for suspending him for nonpayment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

B. Everett appealed against 97 Boston for suspending him for nonpayment of dues. The appeal was sustained providing he is placed on the ninety-day list.

T. Sercus appealed against 97 Boston for suspending him for nonpayment of dues. The appeal is sustained providing he is placed on the ninety-day list.

Union 361 E. St. Louis appealed against the J. A. B. St. Louis for levying and collecting an assessment before the strike was approved. The decision is that the assessment could commence only on approval of the strike. After the strike was approved the assessment holds good.

I. Strauss appealed against 132 Brooklyn for compelling him to pay twenty per cent of wages for an unauthorized strike. Section 193 in part says: "Local unions shall have a right to levy assessments and suspend members provided the assessments be not in aid of an unauthorized strike." The appeal was sustained.

DECISIONS OF EXECUTIVE BOARD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10, 1920.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by B. Feifer & Co. of New York against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—None.

Negative—Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was that the Joint Label Committee decided that a certain make of cigar made by the above-named firm should be paid for at the rate of $1 per thousand higher than the firm contended should be charged, and also that the cigars already made in this shape should be paid for at the increased rate. The Label Committee claims that this is a new cigar and that the new price was justified therefor. The appellant claims that this cigar has been made by them for the past fifteen years and is no different from those manufactured in the past and is not a special brand as claimed by the Local Label Board.

The International President bases his decision on substantially the following grounds: That the evidence submitted by the Joint Label Committee of New York is that the cigar in question has never been made before; that it is thicker and harder to make in that mould; that two ounces more of filler is used in this new shape, which would make it correspondingly harder to handle; that it is the rule that if it is discovered that cigars already made have not been paid for according to the list of prices, the adjustment should be retroactive; therefore the claim of the appellant that they are willing to pay the scale for cigars to be made but not for those already made is not sustained.

In accordance with the vote cast and above recorded, the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice-President.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by Union No. 4 of Cincinnati, O., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—Hoffman (aside from the fine).

Negative—Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was that Union No. 4 fined certain members $10.00 each for drawing salaries and strike benefits while acting as strike committee for the union, and ordered them to return allowances drawn as salaries. These members appealed against the action of the union to the International President. The International President rendered a decision removing the fine on these members for drawing salaries and strike benefits, and decided that the union had authority under their by-laws to pay the salaries, but that these members were not entitled to the strike benefit while drawing the stipulated pay for committee work. The union thereupon appealed against the decision of the International President to the Executive Board.

The International President bases his decision upon substantially the following grounds: That the strike committee was ordered to devote its full time to the carrying out of the strike, therefore it is not right under the local by-laws, which specify that, "any member who may be required to perform any duty for the union during working hours shall be paid 40 cents an hour"; that this committee was not working at the shop but was working under orders of the union, and the union as such had the right to pay them for the work performed; that the union does not deny that this committee performed the work required, and it has the moral and legal right to pay them for this work; that the International Union does not attempt to say what wages should be paid from its local union funds to members for doing legitimate union work; that the decision simply removed the fine imposed upon members for drawing 40 cents per hour for work performed, and provided that they could not at the same time draw strike benefits from the International Union; that if the union did not desire to pay this committee for the work, action should have been taken before the work was performed instead of waiting until the strike was over and then raising the claim that these members were not entitled to this pay. There is no constitutional point involved in this question since it is a local question and the money paid comes out of the local funds, or out of the 20 per cent allowed for running expenses,

In accordance with the vote cast and above recorded, the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10, 1920.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by Mr. M. Berlyn, of Cambridge, Mass., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—Hoffman (and for reinstatement), Stack (in favor of having the member subjected merely to the 90 day penalty).

Negative—Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was that Union 97 of Boston, Mass., suspended the appellant for being over the time limit in dues. Mr. Berlyn appealed to the International President against the action of the Union, claiming that there was sufficient money to his credit as overpayment on local assessments which, if transferred, would have prevented his being over the limit. He claims he was sick at the time, otherwise he would not have permitted himself to run over the limit. The International President sustained the action of the union. The appellant thereupon appealed to the Executive Board against the decision of the International President.

The International President bases his decision upon substantially the following grounds: That the matter of the member being overpaid in assessments has absolutely no bearing upon the payment of dues; that the secretary has no right to transfer money from one statement to another without the request of the member; that the member having reached the ninth week in dues he has been lawfully suspended, and the International President had no authority to reverse the action of the union.

According to the vote cast and above recorded the decision of the International President should be sustained.

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10, 1920.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by William H. Trainor of Union 68 of Albany, N. Y., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—None.

Negative—Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was that Union 68 refused to pay Mr. Trainor out-of-work benefit claimed by him, and he appealed to the International President against the action of the union. The International President sustained the action of the union. He thereupon appealed to the Executive Board against the decision of the International President. The appellant claims that he worked only a short while in order to hold a job which was offered him for the following week; that the action of the secretary was purely spite work.

The International President bases his decision upon substantially the following grounds: That the officials of the union claim and submit evidence that Mr. Trainor worked a part of the time during which he claims out-of-work benefit. Therefore, under Section 117 of the constitution he was not entitled to the benefit; that the secretary of the union acted strictly within the law in refusing to pay this benefit, and his action should be sustained.

In accordance with the vote cast and above recorded the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments together. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment that you wish to endorse.)

The amendment of Union 200, Michigan City, as published in the November issue, as follows: "That the International Financier shall, by virtue of his office, be a delegate to all conventions held by the Cigar Makers' International Union."

Received the endorsement of Unions 172, Davenport; 179, Bangor; 168, Oshkosh; 218, Binghamton; 72, Burlington; 191, Morris; 14, Chicago; 150, Sioux City; 111, Des Moines.

Not having received the required number of endorsements it can not be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of Union 227, Chicago, as published in the November issue, as follows:

Add to Sec. 86, after the word "cast," on line 6, "but this shall not deprive local unions of the right to go on strike without receiving any International strike benefit." Strike out all in Sec. 87 after the word "first," on line 4.

Received the endorsement of Unions 218, Binghamton; 72, Burlington; 179, Bangor; 42, Hartford; 49, Springfield, and 90, New York.

Not having received the required number of endorsements it can not be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of Union 218, Binghamton, as published in the November issue, as follows:

To amend Section 106, by adding after the word "constitution," on line 32, the following: "Members owing International loans on June 30 (of each year) shall pay a loan fee of 5 cents for each dollar indebted, up to and including May 31, payable in eight weeks if employed, or sixteen weeks if unemployed, or upon withdrawal of card. Date of payment and amount paid to be entered on the member's card, with signature and seal of secretary. Local unions shall be entitled to percentage on loan fees collected, as provided in Section 175."

Received the endorsement of Unions 72, Davenport; 10, Providence; 150, Sioux City; 16, Binghamton.

Not having received the required number of endorsements it can not be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of Union 500, Tampa, as published in the December issue, as follows:

For reasons well known to all, Union 500, Tampa, proposes the following amendment:

Amend section 6 by striking out on line 2 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 4 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 5 the figures $3.50 and inserting the figures $5.00; the section amended to read as follows:

The International Union shall allow every delegate $7.00 per diem for time necessarily spent in going to and from the convention, and transportation rates by the shortest route; and $7.00 per diem, including Sundays, for the first fifteen days, and $5.00 per diem for each additional day the convention remains in session. No other appropriation from the general fund shall be made in favor of the delegates.

The adjusters are required to submit weekly reports to the International President, which report shall be published in the official journal.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.:

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Secs. 2 and 3 of the Constitution. Adopted Oct. 8, 1919.

By Union 39 of New Haven, Conn.:

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

PRIVATE LOANS

Secretaries holding the cards of the following members please call on the cards of the following members and forward same:

Thos. Velan, 86484; R. Kelmer, 6089; John K. Kesterfield, 112821; T. Franklin, 65566; Peter Ling, 22868; Peter Petlings, 69562; Dan Shee, 62381; Ed. Cowell, 852; Jansen, 42856; Chas. F. Stuart, 71531; W. C. Lewis, 46478; Jack P. 100617; Louis Godfrey, named members owe 50c, and Martin Flynn, 18558, owes $5.

It surely seems strange that it should be necessary for any secretary to take the extreme measure of having to advertise a member in the journal in order to collect a private loan, as the old maxim "A friend in need is a friend indeed" seems to be forgotten as soon as a local union is the friend indeed, and by such forgetfulness they are only making it harder for the next honest, deserving brother who may come through looking for the same friend indeed, that they were so successful in finding when they came along. Any man carrying a union card, securing a private loan and then going to work, who does not pay according to our laws a percentage of his wage, so as to get his indebtedness cleared away, making it possible for the next "good fellow" down and out to find the same friend is a man unfit to be a holder of any kind of a card.

(Signed) Al. Welland, Sec. of 222.

UNION NOTES

Union Notes of 97, Boston:—From 1873 to 1879 the feeling against the trade union was just as strong as it is today. A reaction is bound to follow.—Now is the time to demand the Union Label, Button or Window Card.—Yes, we donated $25 to the Utica Textile Workers who were on strike.—New England conference has issued a circular for publication in all trade and labor papers.—97 has issued usual blue label calendars for 1920.—In 1833 there were children from 7 to 14 years of age working from dawn to 8 o'clock at night.—In 1833 there were one million children in the U. S. who could neither read nor write.—I hope all local unions will elect delegates to our coming convention who can draft and defend amendments.—In the history of our organization no more important convention was ever held than the coming one.—The question of dues, benefits, the evolution of the trade, its future policy, all are to be acted on; it will need the best brains of the trade.—Boston is the ideal city for a convention. It would not only benefit New England, but the entire craft. It would focus the minds of all on the trend of events to hold it here.—The success of the trade union is due to holding fast to economic lines.—The outlook for 1920 is good.—While you holler for the Blue Label don't forget the label, card or button of the other fellow.—Employers divide their employees into three classes, salaried men, skilled artisans and unskilled workers, giving the salaried men more money because they claim the salaried man has a higher standard of living.—By direction of our international president organizers are doing good label work.—Why don't the coal miners and steel workers of Pennsylvania help organize the women in the cigar industry?—Henry Abrahams.

Secretary holding card of P. J. Rutz, 110985, is requested to collect board bill of $15.00 which he has owed Union 312, Livingston, since February, 1913. The secretary of 123, Denver, Colo., would like to hear from Carl Fischer, who came from Fort Collins last August and worked a week or two in Denver. Mr. Fischer is a musician. Knopke Brothers, box makers, have asked us to make this inquiry.

Mr. Frank Harding states that although Union 114, Jacksonville, has him advertised for a private loan he doesn't owe that union anything.

March 3, 1879.

The amendment of Union 500, Tampa, Florida, proposing to pay the delegates seven dollars per day for Amendment of wages and expense instead of five dollars a day, Union 500. having received the required number of endorsements, has been submitted to popular vote for approval. It should be remembered that the compensation allowed under the present law, five dollars per day, is for wages and expenses. Five dollars a day would hardly pay hotel and restaurant expenses for the delegate, and we are in reality asking him to work for nothing. Many of the delegates have to maintain their homes while they are at the convention. They can not sustain themselves at the convention and their homes on the amount allowed. It should be remembered that all hotel rates, and even room rates, and restaurant rates, have doubled and trebled since the last convention. While demanding a living wage for ourselves we can ill afford to ask our representatives to work for nothing. The amendment should be unanimously adopted.

The coming convention will be historical and probably the most momentous in the history of the The International Union. The natural Convention. evolution that has taken place in the last ten or fifteen years has brought us face to face with a crisis in the affairs and destiny of the International Union. Momentous questions pressing for the right solution will confront the delegates. The convention becomes the legislative mill through which important questions will pass for review, adoption, or rejection.

In the October issue of the Journal we say:

"Organization of the industry. What should be done to hasten organization?"

"The so-called Class A problem.

"The bunch-breaking and roll-up team system. (The team system is growing.)

"Benefits.

"Dues and assessments.

"Discipline and the enforcement thereof, especially in strikes.

"The cigar machine.

"The use of machinery, such as the suction table and the bunch-breaking machine.

"The use of the union label. Can some plan be devised whereby the label will more effectively assist in organizing the trade? This merits deep thought and discussion."

The delegates and unions should discuss these and other important questions. We shall require the best thoughts and judgment at our command in selecting the best course to pursue.

The industrial workers are working out their own destiny through the constructive trade union movement.

The Constructive Trade Union. We have built up a wonderful movement, which can not be destroyed by enemies within or without or by its pretended friends, and volunteer patrons and advisers.

The trade union movement was born of necessity and will continue to live for the same reason. Nothing can destroy it. We can not even destroy it ourselves. We can injure it, wound it, cripple it, and set it back, but we can not destroy it. The labor movement is infested with all kinds of agencies intended to destroy it. Here and there, and occasionally it has had to contend with grafters, with bribe-takers and bribe-givers, with spies, hirelings, thugs, and gunmen, politicians, hostile judges, injunctions, conspiracy, and other restrictive and repressive laws, as well as the manufactured prejudice carefully nursed in secret, and much subtle propaganda by powerful interests. Despite them all it still lives.

We, however, are not in a shell. We don't exist for wholly selfish reasons. We are mindful of the rights and interests of all other elements of society. We concede to others the right to mold their own methods and to shape their own destinies without interference from us, so long as in the exercise of this they don't interfere with our just rights and privileges. We welcome the disinterested advice and co-operation of others, but reserve to ourselves the right to select our own ideals and to choose our own methods of obtaining them, so long as we don't interfere with the just rights, privileges, and interests of anyone else.

At a recent conference in Washington the representatives of four farmers' organizations are said to have adopted a resolution in substance denying that organized workers have a right to strike; that the city population of the country is dependent upon the farmer for food; that no set of men has ever had the moral or legal right to destroy property; that if the farmers went on strike they would be condemned; that if the farmers have no such right those who handle their products have no such right.

Farmers as such have an unquestioned right to organize and to give expression to their thoughts and opinions. Manufacturers, who thrive on the profits of labor, have a right to organize and give expression to their opinions. Profiteers have a right to organize and give expression to their opinions; and so with others who exist chiefly through and by the profits on labor. And so also, have the real workers and producers upon whom after all everything else depends, in the larger sense of the term. It is true that the farmer could eke out a miserable existence upon the farm without the workers in the industrial centers, just the same as the Indian did, but he could not and would not own automobiles and telephones, and all the other things that go to break the monotony of medieval or early life on the farm.

The farmer, generally speaking, is a producer and merchant combined, just the same as is the manufacturer of products in the industrial centers, and as such he is doing everything in his power through organization and otherwise to increase his material well being. Of course, when demanding a certain sum for his produce he does not call it a strike, but in effect it amounts to such, just as much so as the combination of workmen who strike for better pay and better working conditions. The farmer does not sell his grain, beef, and eggs, and other things, until he gets his price. The organized industrial worker does not sell his labor until he gets his price.

It is fair to presume that the representatives of the farmers' organizations, that met in Washington, are farm owners and employers of labor. We have heard of some instances in which it is claimed that the alleged representatives of the farmers are professionals and do not and never did do a stroke of work on a farm. The type of representative farmers who met in Washington overlooked the absolute fact that their prosperity in a large measure depends upon the ability of the masses in the industrial centers to consume. There is absolutely no means whereby the workers in the industrial centers can obtain and maintain fair wages except through organization backed up with the strike after all other means have failed. The farmer does not thrive and prosper on what he raises and eats himself. It is that part of the produce which he sells to the consumers in the industrial centers that makes him prosperous. Take away the right of the worker to maintain his economic standing and condition in life through organization and the right to strike, and by the same token and logic the farmer can be deprived of his right to organize and his right to maintain prices and decent living conditions and standards on the farm.

The farmer really has nothing to fear from the industrial workers. He knows, at least he should know, that the profiteers, middlemen, transportation agents, big financiers, owners of big warehouses and elevators, partly control his produce, and are more largely responsible for the high cost of living and the high cost of farm produce than anyone else. While labor does not ask the farmer to carry any of our burdens or to shape our policies, we do say to him that if he will join hands with us, not for the purpose of raising wages or shortening the hours of labor, but for the sole purpose of getting his produce into the hands of the industrial workers and consumers at the least possible cost and through a system whereby both the farmer and the workers will materially profit, he will be doing something worth while for himself, the industrial workers, and all concerned. There can be genuine co-operation between the farmers and the industrial workers along these lines. One of the surest, simplest, and best means, and easiest of accomplishment, is the co-operative system.

If the farmer and the industrial worker will join hands in the co-operative movement for mutual benefit they will strike at the real root of the evil. They will destroy profiteering, excessive transportation rates, and compel a lot of leeches, who live and thrive upon the workers and farmers to the disadvantage of both, to become useful and productive citizens. The farmer can engage himself in better business than slamming at the organized workers, by taking a shot at the real root of the evil.

Labor Cost of Shoes.

Claims that the high cost of labor is responsible for the high retail cost of shoes are answered by Editor Baine, of the Shoe Workers' Journal, who says:

"From authentic information which we have before us, we know that the increase in the actual cost of labor in making the better grades of men's shoes has been not to exceed 35 to 40 cents per pair.

"It is true that most of this actual increase in labor cost has come in the last five years, or during the war period, and these are the extreme advances in actual increase of labor cost.

"How many other expenses may be figured as labor cost as a matter of figuring, we are unable to say. We only know our own end of the industry.

"That an advance of not over 40 cents per pair on labor cost does not account for the present price of shoes is obvious. In the case of shoes, labor is not the goat, and is not willing to have the appearance of being the goat.

"Speaking of goats reminds us that goat skin leather is selling at an advance of 500 per cent over pre-war prices, with calf skin leather approximately the same. Sole leather and side upper leathers are approximately 300 per cent higher."

Editorial Notes.

Speaking of increased production, why not insist that Congress produce legislation to alleviate rather than accentuate the present strained conditions? . . .

The open shop is a shop where the door is always open—for the worker who dares to claim any rights to pass out through. . . .

Firm names, brands and trade-marks lose their significance through the changes constantly in progress in the commercial world. The Union Label, owned by the union and subject to its control, represents at all times the same thing, fair wages, sanitary shop conditions, short hours and competent workmanship. . . .

Women comprise more than 36 per cent of the total number of shoe workers in Massachusetts. . . .

Of the 38,000,000 working men and women in the United States, the division of safety engineering finds that 700,000 annually lose limbs or are laid up by accident for an average of four weeks. The money loss in wages aggregates $50,000,000.

Comparing the figures of last December with those of identical establishments for December, 1918, the United States bureau of labor statistics reports that in 10 industries there are increases in the number of persons on the pay roll. The largest increase, 26.9 per cent, appears in automobile manufacturing. Three industries show decreases, the largest being 25.8 per cent, in car building and repairing, and 21.6 per cent in iron and steel. . . .

What is known as "contented" workers can only be secured by paying good wages in order that they may be well fed; they must not work too long at a time and the monotony of their toil must be relieved by all available means, says the Medical Journal, New York City, in an editorial on "Health and Work."

An increase in the number of working children and a longer working day for children under sixteen was the effect of the war on child labor, according to a statement issued by the department of labor. In a number of states an appreciable increase was noted in the violations of state laws following the decision of the Supreme Court declaring the federal child labor law unconstitutional. In one case 47 out of 53 factories inspected were employing children under twelve, and in another state, where the minimum age for employment in the canneries was fourteen years, 721 under that age, including 50 not yet ten years old, were found at work in the summer of 1918, the statement says. . . .

C. B. Ames, assistant attorney general of the United States, is neither a Bolshevik or labor agitator, yet he has the courage of his convictions and the following statement made by him proves him a student of present day conditions. He says: "Organized capital is a greater menace to this country than is organized labor. I believe that the United States Steel Corporation is the father of the economic ills from which we are suffering today."

A noted student of industrial economics, Ralph Hellman, dean of Northwestern University, has the following to say of the bonus system:

"The employee receiving a bonus, which comes to him suddenly a few days before Christmas, takes it as a gift rather than as anything he has earned. In fact, many employees look upon the bonus as patronage or charity—something given them, as a crumb from the overburdened table of riches, or as an incentive to keep on working without asking a raise."

Organized labor insists that the "bonus" be in the pay envelope each week. A regular rate of pay under a wage agreement backed up by a bona-fide trades union is something tangible while a bonus is up to the employer, something to be added or not as he sees fit.

A bonus can be discontinued at any time and the worker is helpless in his protest from the fact that his wage has not been reduced, while a cut in wages, especially in an organized industry, is something not so easily put over. . . .

If we are to judge by the utterances and the acts of some governmental officials the Melting Pot is in danger of boiling over, and they recommend the reduction of its contents by deportation. Those not subject to deportation are to be taken from out the pot and thrown in jail.

The present hysteria of "Red raids" if aimed at members of trades unions, is not warranted. The labor movement is constructive rather than destructive and labor has no desire to destroy a government that it regards as its own.

The real aim of these raids, in some cases, is to discourage the foreigner from joining the union of his craft and is a part of the program to destroy organized labor in America. Besides discouraging the foreigner's idea of affiliating with trades unions those responsible hope to cast a stigma on organized labor that will discredit the movement in the eyes of the public.

Any program of coercion of free speech and free press will serve to intensify rather than ameliorate unrest. Give labor an even measure of justice with an opportunity to live under conditions commensurate with the wealth it produces and all the "Red" oratory in the world, spouted from platform or soap box, will not cause a ripple on the placid sea of normal contentment. Deny this inherent right of freedom of speech and press and you will find workers everywhere lending a listening ear to the song of the revolutionist.

Revolution thrives in the soil of oppression, real or imaginary, while evolution is the orderly process of rational progress. The sacrifices endured by the world during the war just ended should make revolution absolutely unnecessary and should prove to all right thinking men that evolution must not be thwarted.

Figures compiled by the federal bureau of labor statistics prove that the widely heralded campaign against the high cost of living has failed. No appreciable results were obtained and there has been no reduction. In the few instances where a reduction has been noted in wholesale quotations it has not shown in the retail prices. The retail price of twenty-two articles of food in December was the highest ever recorded. They were 89 per cent higher than in December, 1913, 5 per cent higher than in December, 1918, and 2.6 per cent higher than in the preceding month.

In these circumstances it is but natural that the demand for vigorous prosecution of profiteers by federal, state and municipal authorities has been renewed in all parts of the country. The consumer, however, has become skeptical as to the integrity of these various agencies supposedly set up to relieve a situation that is becoming critical, and unrest is bound to prevail.

The war against European autocracy ended Nov. 11, 1918.

Democracy was heralded as the victor.

Tears of gratitude made green the graves of those who died that Right and Justice might live.

Our people gave freely that their concepts of Liberty might become the basis of the world's reformation.

We asked nothing in return except that our ideals might be more firmly inculcated into the governing powers of all lands.

Since that memorable date a set of reactionary demagogues within our own administrative and law-making bodies have attempted to make a farce of American freedom.

They are befouling the nest that gave them being.

Among the more recent and far reaching measures proposed by these autocratic high-binders we find the Sterling bill, passed by the Senate, and the Graham bill proposed in the House of Representatives.

They are called Anti-Sedition bills.

They are in reality the most seditious attacks on American freedom ever proposed and if they are passed and enforced the very danger they aim to prevent, revolution, will be a thousand times more probable.

Circulating copies of the Declaration of Independence would constitute a crime under the proposed law, for the Declaration itself advocates the overthrow of government when the people see fit to do so.

Any federal judge could decide that a strike had a political end in view and he could then send the members of the union on strike to jail for twenty years.

Any law allowing the judiciary greater latitude in governmental affairs is foreign to all constitutional rights.

This law would give judges the balance of power in every wage dispute, in every campaign of organization and in fact would place a censorship over the acts, speech and thought of the American people.

The times do not warrant such retroactive measures. If our present laws were able to protect and perpetuate our government during the war just ended they are surely adequate for the same purpose in time of peace.

Labor will never agree to such measures. We are going to ask for such Democracy at home as we fought for in Europe.

Trade Notes.

Miss Lucy Page Gaston, the lady who founded the anti-cigarette league, is willing to accept the nomination for President of the United States.

The chief plank in her platform is "Opposition to Tobacco" and there will be no scandal as to the amount of her campaign expenditures for "Smokes."

The Tobacco Products Export Corporation is building additional factories in several parts of the world and preparing to extend its business to embrace every country where tobacco is used. The company has factories now in the United States, China, England, Egypt and Canada. Cigarettes comprise the bulk of their business at the present time, but the plans are now for an expansion of products as well as territory and trade.

Through the encouragement offered the tobacco industry by the government the importation of tobacco into British South Africa is rapidly diminishing and a considerable quantity is now available for export. American experts have had charge of the propaganda in the agricultural colleges where a special course in growing and curing the leaf has been one of the regular courses for the past few years.

Haas Bros., of Cincinnati, have leased a large building in Brazil, Ind., and will establish a cigar factory there employing 300 women and girls.

If conditions continue as they are it is not uncertain that $1 tobacco will be again heard of. This year past the average price was nearly sixty cents and in a few cases 65 cents was paid, assorted. If everything keeps going up as it has in the past six or eight months the farmers feel that it will be necessary to obtain a much higher figure than this past season and some of them look for $1 a pound tobacco.—East Hartford Gazette.

The export of domestic cigar tobacco appears to have a doubtful future. The unsettled condition of the foreign money market is acute reasons for this condition and much tobacco remains unsold in the warehouses of Holland and Belgium. American exporters complain that on sales that have been made the drafts are not honored.

Sales of the United Cigars Stores Company of America, which is owned by the United Retail Stores Corporation, aggregated $62,038,000 in 1919. This was the largest year in the company's history and represented an increase of $10,067,000 over 1918. December was the largest month, establishing a new record at $7,593,000, which is at the rate of $91,116,000 a year.

Julius Klorfein, manufacturer of the Garcia Grande cigars, opened a new factory on Jan. 10th at Trenton, N. J., which will be the seventh factory to come under Mr. Klorfein's control.

A woman opening headquarters in Chicago to campaign for the Republican nomination for President on an anti-tobacco platform is just another of those happenings that remind the country how little reason it has to smile at things it once thought foolish.—New York Evening World.

Recently compiled statistics show that the exportation of tobacco, in all its manufactured forms, from the United States for the first nine months of 1919 was valued at $28,914,615, compared with $23,650,134 for the corresponding period in 1918, and $11,144,822 in 1917. Price advances alone do not account for the increase in valuation, for 10,160,000,000 cigarettes were shipped in 1919, as compared with 9,761,000,000 in 1918 and 4,681,011,000 in 1917.

The tobacco crop of the United States in 1919 is reported as being 1,389,458,000 pounds, valued prior to manufacture into its various retail forms at $542,547,000. Leading tobacco manufacturers of the country represent a capitalization of $302,133,170, with reported earnings for 1918 of $51,975,527, or 12.99 per cent on the capital invested. These manufacturers during 1918 paid dividends totalling $30,410,855.

It now appears that the dissolution of the American Tobacco Company by the Supreme Court in 1911 was one of the best things that could have happened in so far as the market value of the stock is concerned.

Those who held one hundred shares of the old stock now find it worth $93,472.00 on an original investment of only $62,947.00, or an accrued profit of $30,525.00.

The following table gives in detail the amount of tobacco, both wrappers and fillers, remaining in bonded warehouses of this country on Nov. 30, 1919 and 1918:

	1919. Pounds.	1918. Pounds.
Leaf, suitable for wrappers.....	6,707,629	5,991,220
All others	49,732,940	52,659,894
Total	56,440,569	58,051,114
Manufactures of—
Cigars and cheroots	21,881	6,871
Cigarettes	664	699
All others	56,281	37,119

The State Senate of South Carolina has passed a bill which prohibits smoking in hotels and other public places. It is expected that the House of Representatives will refuse to concur in the bill and it will therefore fail to become a law.

It is surprising to find legislation of this kind coming up in a state that produces the amount of tobacco as does South Carolina, but it only proves that the anti-tobacco propaganda is making headway.

No "Watchful Waiting" policy will preserve the tobacco industry. It is absolutely necessary that the entire industry be organized into a concrete militant body and every effort be made to combat this movement.

This work can be more easily accomplished through one central organization than through a dozen local bodies each striving to do the impossible and succeeding in doing nothing but cover ground already tilled by another similar organization. Let us all get together and map out a general campaign that will win and then pull together until our aim is accomplished.

For more detailed information in reference to the production of cigars in the various districts for the month of December, though incomplete, we refer to the table published elsewhere in this issue.

Cigar types of tobacco are produced in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, the Miami Valley in Ohio, Wisconsin, Georgia and Florida. Of the entire tobacco crop of 1,389,000,000 pounds in 1919, the cigar types constituted about one-sixth, and the chewing, smoking, snuff and export types most of the remainder, according to the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. The cigar types are heavy producers per acre, the average for 1919 being 1,265 pounds, while the other types had an average of 679 pounds.

Before 1919, the average farm price of the cigar types of tobacco was always above that of the other types, as a whole, but in that year the extraordinary European demand for tobacco other than the cigar classes and the immensely increased use of tobacco for cigarettes raised the average farm price of the composite chewing, smoking, snuff and export types to 41.3 cents on December 1, or greatly above the price of 21.9 cents for cigar tobacco. Indeed, the latter class of tobacco had a lower price than in either 1918 or 1917, not because of increase of production, but because of weaker demand. The cigar has been overtaken and passed by the cigarette.—Tobacco.

Review of General Trade Conditions.

There is no denying the fact that we are involved in a period of unrest.

Conditions are for the present unsettled and the future is problematical, yet how comparatively small are our troubles as compared with those of other countries.

The woods are full of prophets of woe and coming disaster, however, there has never been a time in the history of civilization when the end of all things good was not within the vision of someone.

While this is no time for false optimism or sentimentality there is no reason for building a psychology that is in itself a handicap.

Our capacity for production coupled with our natural resources insure our eventual prosperity even though the immediate future may possibly present conditions that will require the full measure of combined thought and energy to surmount.

Modern industry is more fully dependent upon minerals than upon the commodities of any other natural group. We therefore find steel to be a fairly accurate barometer of the general trend of business activity. Considerable improvement is noted in the steel industry in recent weeks, although producers are as yet a long way behind in their deliveries.

The pig iron output has shown a decided increase, no doubt stimulated by higher prices. There is a marked upward tendency in prices of all finished and semi-finished steel products.

The export demand is increasing, Japan and France being especially heavy buyers. British competition is decreasing from the fact that they are no longer able to undersell American steel makers, in certain lines especially.

Railroad orders for equipment and rails are awaiting the final disposition of the entire railroad question. An extensive buying campaign is bound to follow the final settlement of the question no matter what the decision may be.

An alleged shortage of cars is the only thing restricting the output in the coal industry. Export demand is very active and the United States is rapidly assuming the leadership in the export coal trade formerly held by Great Britain. The price outlook is uncertain, depending largely on the continuation of government control.

Crop reports are favorable for the coming season and the area of harvested crops for 1919 amounted to a total of 359,124,743 acres, more than 2,645,311 acres larger than last year. The value of farm crops harvested last year totaled $14,092,740,000, exceeding the value of 1918 crops by $1,492,214,000. The above figures show conclusively that in-so-far as the "Back-bone of the Nation" (the farmer) is concerned there is no cause for complaint. Let us consider rice, one of our newer crops as compared with wheat and corn, to further substantiate the claim for rural prosperity. The rice growers of the United States are sending out of the country ten times as much domestic rice as in the year before the war and receiving thirty times as much money for it. The exports of rice in the 10 months ending with October, 1919, the latest available figures, are 282,000,000 pounds, against 26,420,000 pounds in the 10 months ending with October, 1913, the year immediately preceding the war. The value of the rice exported in the 10 months ending with October, 1919, is stated by the Government at $25,182,000, against $833,-000 as the value of the rice exported in the corresponding months in 1913.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 7, 1920.

Since my last report for the Journal we certainly are having an uphill fight to make Tampa 100 per cent, but the members are out to make it so, and with the help of all the members we will accomplish that end. Now at present time we have it up to 94 per cent. With all that a dual organization here in Tampa is doing it seems like the bosses can always find some one that is willing to help them in destroying any good work that the true union members do. This dual organization has only a membership about 70 or 80, and a great many of them are strikebreakers, for they have broken strikes here in Tampa and elsewhere. But they still will have to come to us some day. At present time 11 of our members are indicted for conspiracy, and the same ones are all sued for $25,000 damages by some girls that were only working from 18 months to 4 weeks at the trade as packers. Now, here in Tampa the daily papers are against us and the only time that we can get anything in the papers is to pay for it, but last week, Jan. 31st, we gave out a circular to the public and told them just what the manufacturers are doing to our members, for they discharged 150 of our shop delegates. They thought by so doing it they would stop our campaign of organization, but it didn't, for the members are more determined to organize Tampa complete.

Now it does not look like the first of the year here in the factories, for they are working just like they have been before the holidays, and all over the state they are asking for cigar makers. The outlook is that we will have a good year in the cigar trade.

Now, boys what we most need all over the country is to boost our blue label, for now is the time to do it and you will see the fruits of your labor in a short while, for the more blue label cigars that are placed on the market the better it will be for our membership. Now, boys, let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and see if we can't double our membership in the next year. We can do it if all of us will appoint ourselves a committee of one and go out among the ones that don't belong to the C. M. I. U. of A.

Now, boys, one and all, boost the organization campaign.

HENRY M. HEIDT,
Organizer.

GIBSON WEBER, care Cigar Makers' Union 165, 232 N. 9th St., Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union. Union when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just 60 cents in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal will" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

Quite a number of local unions have not reported the result of the election for delegate to this office. Section 10 of the Constitution reads as follows: "The corresponding secretary of each local union shall immediately after the election of delegates notify the International President of the result of such election." Secretaries are requested to immediately send the name of their delegate to this office in compliance with the foregoing quoted section of the Constitution.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

G. Sandler appealed against 97, Boston, for suspending him. Owing to extenuating circumstances the appeal was sustained.

Joseph Rosen appealed against 138, Newark, reference the payment of local assessment. The appeal was not sustained.

Theo. Billinghamer appealed against 132, Brooklyn, for initiating three members who were not present at the time. The appeal was not sustained. However, applicants who are accepted to membership when not present must present themselves at the subsequent meeting for the purpose of being obligated.

John Schulz appealed against 53, New Orleans, for fining him for non-attendance at a meeting. The appeal was not sustained.

James A. DeBell appealed against 90, New York, for declaring two members elected who had not received a majority vote. The union was entitled to four delegates, two of whom did not receive a majority vote. The appeal was sustained.

E. L. Gochia appealed against Union No. 77, Minneapolis, Minn., for refusing to permit him to work at the cigar industry while working steadily as a musician. The appeal was not sustained.

INTERNATIONAL FINES

The International Executive Board approved the application of 192, Manchester, to fine Morris Sandberg, 66831, $25 for conduct unbecoming a union member. Vote: Affirmative, 6; negative, 0.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments together. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment that you wish to endorse.)

The amendment of Union 500, Tampa, as published in the December issue, as follows:

For reasons well known to all, Union 500, Tampa, proposes the following amendment:

Amend Section 6 by striking out on line 2 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 4 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 5 the figures $3.50 and inserting the figures $5.00; the section amended to read as follows:

The International Union shall allow every delegate $7.00 per diem for time necessarily mission.

Having received the required number of endorsements, it will be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of 225, Los Angeles, as published in the January issue, as follows:

That the International President be instructed to obtain the assistance of an approved life insurance mathematician, whose recommendations shall be carried out in the next convention of the C. M. I. U.

The President shall instruct all local secretaries to furnish a list with the present age and length of membership of their members.

Traveling members have to show a note in their card of being registered for this purpose.

Any local union shall have the right to send their resolutions concerning financial adjustment to the mathematician.

He shall have the right to reject any resolution which is not in accordance with the mathematical laws. After the preparatory work of the mathematician is completed, a copy of his recommendations shall be sent to each local union so they will have a chance to instruct their delegates for which recommendation to vote.

A reasonable remuneration for the mathematical work shall be allowed from the International fund.

Received the endorsement of Unions 402, Quakertown; 218, Binghamton; 274, Pekin; 179, Bangor; 174, Joliet.

The amendment of Union 192, Manchester, as published in the January issue, as follows:

Amend Section 150, the Blue Label.

Strike out the word "outside" on line 4, Section 150, and insert therefore the word "inner-side." The amended section to read: To be pasted on the inside of the box, so the label will be conspicuously displayed.

Received the endorsement of Union 402, Quakertown.

The amendment of Union 16, Binghamton, as published in the January issue, as follows:
Strike out all of Section 56 and substitute the following:

The president shall appoint, subject to the confirmation of the executive board, at the request of any J. A. B. or union having difficulty with employers, or the opportunity arises to organize the unorganized, a man to proceed to the seat of the trouble, whose duties shall be to assist in adjusting the difficulties. Said adjuster to be recommended by those involved in the difficulty. Said adjuster to be a resident worker, or living within 200 miles from the seat of the difficulty. Said adjuster to receive the same salary as prescribed in Section 57 while adjusting the difficulty.

The adjusters are required to submit weekly reports to the International President, which report shall be published in the official Journal.

Received the endorsement of Unions 402, Quakertown; 179, Bangor; 174, Joliet; 218, Binghamton.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Sections 2 and 3 of the constitution. Adopted Oct. 8, 1919.

By Union 39, New Haven, Conn.

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50.00." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

By Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.

Amend Section 154 by striking out on line 21 the figures "$3.00" and inserting the figures "$9.00," the section as amended to read: "But in no case shall the Union Label be used in a factory in the United States which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making," etc.

In effect March 1, 1920.

The amendment of Union 218, Binghamton, providing that the union label shall not be used in any factory in the United States that pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making, has been adopted by a vote of local unions. The vote is approximately 7,360 for and 418 against. The exact totals will be published in the March issue of the Journal.

The union label, symbolizing as it does the conditions which the union itself is established to secure and maintain, is proof that these conditions obtain in the making of the article upon which it appears. Firm names, brands, trademarks and other devices by which products are advertised may lose their original significance through changes in the fortunes of those who own them. The union label, being owned by the union and subject exclusively to its control, represents the same thing always, namely, fair wages and hours, clean workshops and good workmanship.

The union label is peculiarly adapted to the nature of that factor which typifies the highest morality and controls the purchasing power of every community, to wit, the mistress of the household.

The union label appeals not to force, but to reason; establishes confidence in place of fear; makes no one ashamed; but, on the contrary, invites and encourages the people to take pride in well doing.

The union label is a standing declaration of the moral duty devolving upon the purchaser to inquire into the cost at which an article is produced, as well as the cost at which it is sold.

The union label organizes the purchasing power upon lines of fair conditions of labor, as against those conditions that destroy the health and morality of the producer and endanger the well-being of the purchaser.

"Democracy in industry" is a much misunderstood and abused phrase. Every other one giving expression to this Democracy in phrase has a little meaning Industry. of his own, which differs from the other fellow's meaning. Even the workers themselves often disagree as to what is meant by the term "democracy in industry." In the absence of any clear declaration as to just what is meant by "democracy in industry" it is futile to attempt to say just what the term implies.

There is a clear difference between "industrial democracy" and "democracy in industry." The two terms should not be mixed or confused. Speaking of democracy in industry, the term should not be misunderstood, and when once understood and defined clearly should not be abused.

There is no question that the organized constructive trade union movement includes within its sphere of activity increased wages, shorter hours, and improved, proper working conditions. It has long since been established that we have the right, through collective bargaining, to fix the wage scale and the hours of labor. The movement now is seeking to establish the justice and its right through trade union activity and collective bargaining to a proper say as to conditions under which it shall work. Under the present system of production and distribution it would be dangerous to carry this right beyond a fair, square position. The day has gone by when an arrogant, autocratic employer or a dyspeptic superintendent or foreman can abuse workmen under him simply to gratify a whim or a dislike, or for some fancied offense, which in the final analysis under square dealing is not an offense. The kind of democracy in industry that applies only to the workroom and working rules and not to the board of directors or the commercial management should not be questioned. If we go beyond working rules and the working rooms proper, we must assume responsibility for the successful conduct of the business, and by the rule of fairness stand a proportionate share of the losses.

The paramount issue now before us is organization and of a constructive permanent character. Trade unions are fundamentally Food for Thought. economic organizations. The primary object is a complete workable union for the purpose of maintaining a wage scale that will sustain labor in decency and comfort and in conformity with the American standard of living, and hours of labor and working conditions promotive of the mental and physical development and well-being of the workers and their families.

Quite equal to this in importance is the stability and power and permanency of the organization. This necessary qualification implies we must have intelligent, honest leadership, faith in the organization and in ourselves, fair dealing, adherence to law, the maintenance of discipline, and the payment of benefits sufficiently attractive to be an impelling force to attract and bind us to the organization.

Ever present is the all important question of placing and keeping the organization on a solid financial basis and without getting too far from the fundamental, primary object—economic organization, and without letting the insurance or benefit system interfere with organization work and a perfect economic constructive trade union movement.

Well regulated benefits, properly circumscribed, are powerful, helpful features in making the organization permanent and stable, and should not be overlooked.

A multitude of advice is being heaped upon labor by doctrinaires, fussy high-brows, and others; some of which is good, much of it, Proper bad, and the rest, indifferent. Organization.

We hear a lot about profit sharing, shop management, democracy in industry, and shop committees, and not a word about constructive trade unionism. We thank these people for their advice but bitter experience gleaned from past history has taught us that the constructive trade union movement is the Simon pure, all powerful, and proper system and mode of organization for the industrial workers.

Profit sharing is a snare and delusion; shop committees, the most vicious in its ramifications of all other panaceas that have been gratuitously handed to us. The shop committee management organization plan is just one short remove from individualism. There is no particular difference between an organization limited to one particular shop, and the single individual idea. The shop committee plan of organization, which is held up to us in glowing terms, is limited to the single shop. The members of one shop are cut off from any alliance with the workers in the same trade of another shop. This would defeat, if carried out, labor's aims, hopes and ambitions. It could mean the payment of one scale of wages in one shop and another scale in another shop in the same industry and in the same town. The plan means splitting up the unit in the trade into a multiplicity of small units, all working without cohesion or knowledge of the other units of the same trade in the same town, and the destruction of the constructive trade union movement, and consequently the very opposite result of what the workers are seeking to achieve.

We have gathered a mass of facts and figures which brings the historical development and evolution of the Evolution in cigar trade right down to Industry. date. These interesting and striking facts and figures will be presented to the convention which convenes in Cleveland, O., April 12, 1920. They will show the necessity of remodeling some of the organic laws of the International Union.

While the evolution in the industry has been sharp and pronounced it doesn't warrant any alarm or question as to the future success of the International Union. It, however, is of such nature that certain minor charges must be made if the International Union is to function in a manner calculated to make future success doubly sure.

Reports based upon facts indicate that in Cleveland, Ohio, as elsewhere, hotel accommodations and rooms in Attention, rooming houses and private Delegates. families are none too plentiful. A circular has been issued from this office, % corresponding secretaries, giving the rates at which accommodations may be had at the hotels as well as approximately at rooming houses and private families. Delegates are warned to make immediate reservations and in compliance with your choice. Don't wait until you get to the convention city. The name and address of the local committee, to whom delegates may apply to make reservations for them is given in the circular. The convention will be held at Bricklayers' Hall, and the headquarters of the International Union will be at Gilky Hotel.

Vote on Convention City.

The vote of local unions on Convention City resulted as follows: For Cleveland, Ohio, 7,604, and for St. Louis, Mo., 2,807. Therefore the convention will convene at Cleveland, Ohio, April 12, 1920. The hour of convening, the hall, hotel accommodations, etc., will be announced later in a circular letter.

Facts and figures are daily multiplying which go to prove to even the most skeptical and dullest of comprehension that the increase in wages is not the primary cause of the high cost of living. On the contrary these multiplied facts and figures prove that the increase in the wage scale is among the very lesser causes of the high cost of living. Living costs have advanced chiefly because of profiteering in all basic material used in industry and for the purpose of sustaining life, such as food, clothing and housing.

Section 19 provides that the President shall appoint a Committee on Constitution to meet one week prior to the convention, and provides that any local union may send proposed amendments to the chairman of this committee. Any union proposing or desiring to propose an amendment for consideration by the Committee on Constitution should send it in a sealed envelope addressed to The Chairman, Committee on Constitution, % G. W. Perkins, Monon Bldg., Chicago Ill., and it will be promptly forwarded to the Chairman of the Committee on Constitution. Or such amendments may be sent to the Chairman of the Committee on Constitution, % Mr. John Hetzner, 409 Superior Ave., W., Cleveland, Ohio.

The damaging effect of profiteering in rents is far reaching in its destructiveness. Any amount of the family income, above a normal fair percentage, spent for rent, means the robbing of the income for that purpose, which results in cheaper food and clothing. This results in malnutrition and a future generation weaker physically and mentally. Our country's greatest possible asset are people, in mass, who are strong mentally and physically.

The union label is the medium through which the public may enforce its rightful power of arbitration between employer and employee.

Trade Notes.

With cotton cloth at its present price it costs about $400.00 to cover an acre of shade-grown tobacco.

Based on the Internal Revenue collections Tampa's cigar production for January, 1920, was 37,964,600, the largest January production in its history. Production for January, 1919, was approximately 31,000,000.

We hear a good many complaints of increased cost of cigars, yet when we compare their increase with the increases on other commodities we find that where other articles, necessities as well as luxuries, have increased from one hundred to three hundred per cent, cigars have increased less than fifty per cent.

There is a well founded rumor to the effect that the American Sumatra Tobacco Company and the Consolidated Cigar Company, already controlled by allied interests, will soon be merged into a single corporation.

It is estimated that this year's acreage of shade-grown tobacco will equal that of 1918. While the 1919 acreage was smaller by twenty per cent than that of 1918 the yield was really larger in the quantity of high grade wrappers produced. The prevailing high prices for shade-grown tobacco is causing many of the smaller growers to turn to this particular type.

Reports from the various tobacco districts of Cuba are optimistic as to the general crop conditions. With ordinary conditions prevailing during the balance of the growing season the crop promises to be of good yield and excellent quality.

The total exports of cigars from Havana to all countries in 1919 were: 157,717,694 cigars, while in 1918 the total exports amounted to 147,957,070, an increase in 1919 of 9,760,624 cigars over 1918.

Sales of the American Tobacco Co. in January showed an increase of $2,350,000 over the corresponding month of 1919. The demand for cigarettes was larger than ever before.

Tobacco growing is one of Paraguay's important industries; most of the product is exported, while the remainder is made up into cigars for the local trade. A small amount of tobacco in the leaf is imported from Cuba and Brazil to be used in the manufacture of cigarettes. Official statistics show the following exports: 1914, 4,517,195 kilos; 1915, 7,145,781 kilos; 1916, 6,826,914 kilos; 1917, 6,943,203 kilos; and in 1918, 7,051,478 kilos.—Tobacco.

A. W. Ferrin, American trade commissioner in Melbourne, reports that in 1917-18, the latest year for which details are available, Australia manufactured 11,107,323 pounds of tobacco, 397,507 pounds of cigars, and 3,074,727 pounds of cigarettes, using in their production 11,530,419 pounds of imported and 1,635,589 pounds of Australian leaf. In that year the home consumption of tobacco was 9,730,710 pounds; of cigars, 461,222 pounds; and of cigarettes, 3,162,452 pounds; and there were exported overseas 1,128,041 pounds of tobacco, 233 pounds of cigars, and 81,224 pounds of cigarettes.

It is reported that the city of Cheboygan, Mich., will erect a factory building for the American Cigar Co., using a part of $25,000 raised through city bonds.

Cigar types of tobacco are produced in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, the Miami Valley in Ohio, Wisconsin, Georgia and Florida. Of the entire tobacco crop of 1,389,000,000 pounds in 1919, the cigar types constituted about one-sixth, and the chewing, smoking, snuff and export types most of the remainder, according to the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. The cigar types are heavy producers per acre, the average for 1919 being 1,265 pounds, while the other types had an average of 679 pounds.

The production of tobacco in Canada has increased over 300 per cent during the last three years, almost entirely in Quebec and Ontario. In 1917 these provinces produced 8,495,000 pounds, whereas in 1919 the production was 27,379,400 pounds. The area and yield of tobacco in Canada during the period 1917-1919 was as follows:

Provinces.	1917, Acres.	1918, Acres.	1919, Acres.
Quebec	5,000	6,903	22,360
Ontario	2,930	6,500	9,226
Total	7,930	13,403	31,586
Provinces.	1917, Pounds.	1918, Pounds.	1919, Pounds.
Quebec	5,000,000	7,732,000	16,770,000
Ontario	3,495,000	6,500,000	10,609,400
Total	8,495,000	14,232,000	27,379,400

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor has received replies from 56 cigar factories showing their employment in January, 1919, to have been 18,273, decreasing in January of this year to 17,492, showing a decrease this year of 4.3 per cent. The pay rolls in these 56 factories on the other hand increased from $291,278 in January of last year to $365,467 in January of this year, or an increase of 25.5 per cent.

The Bureau also received replies from 56 cigar factories showing their employment in December, 1919, to have been 18,285, decreasing in January to 17,663, or a decrease of 3.4 per cent. The pay rolls in these establishments decreased from $399,345 in December to $368,363 in January, or a decrease of 7.8 per cent.

The following table shows the number of tax-free cigars allowed under the "smoker bill" for personal consumption as reported by manufacturers for the year 1918.

Careful analysis of these figures, which we submit without comment, provide a basis for many interesting comparisons and may, perhaps, answer some of our eternal "whys."

The Consolidated Cigar Corporation has issued its quarterly earnings statement, which shows that the company is manufacturing at the rate of about 400,000,000 cigars per annum. Net earnings, after all charges and Federal taxes, are at the rate of $2,000,000 per annum, which is equivalent to over $50 per share on the preferred stock, and after preferred dividend to about $20 per share on the common stock. It has 28 factories, located in different parts of the country.

Curious bits of tobacco history crop up now and then, as witness the fact that in 1642 the colony of Maryland passed a law "punishing drunkenness by a fine of 100 pounds of tobacco." And in 1715 the same colony forbade the selling of "more than one gallon of liquor a day to any Indian, under penalty of $,000 pounds of tobacco." With the present prices of tobacco, such fines would put even the most daring and plutocratic bootlegger in a contemplative frame of mind.—Southern Tobacco Journal.

Present arid conditions would tempt some "Indians" to pay even this enormous price for "one gallon of liquor a day."

Official figures compiled by the Wall Street Journal show the rapidly increasing sales of cigarettes both at home and abroad.

American factories are producing an increasing amount of cigarettes for foreign consumption as is evidenced by the gain in exports. Exports from the United States in the eleven months of 1919 ended with November totaled 14,326,700,000 cigarettes, a gain of 2,856,897,000, or 24.9 per cent, over the same period in 1918, and of 8,652,771,000 cigarettes, or 152 per cent, compared with 1917. This increase is a genuine foreign demand, for during 1919 the American troops that had been sent abroad the year before, were rapidly returned. In fact, exports for the American Expeditionary Forces in 1919 were negligible.

The following tables shows exports of cigarettes from the United States to some of its principal customers during the first eleven months of the last three years:

	1918.	1919.	1917.
United Kingdom	1,874,470,000	1,386,503,000
France	617,892,000	1,238,539,000
China	5,887,676,000	6,314,513,000	4,090,079,000

The demand for cigarette tobacco has caused that type to now bring a higher price than cigar tobacco while prior to 1919 the quotations on cigar tobacco were always the higher.

An indication of the general trend of the trade among the larger cigar and tobacco concerns we refer to the following dividends declared:

The American Sumatra Tobacco Co. has declared a 3½ per cent preferred dividend payable March 1st.

The American Tobacco Co. has declared a 5 per cent quarterly dividend on common, payable March 1st, and a 1½ quarterly on preferred payable April 1st.

Earnings of the American Tobacco Co. reported for January show an increase of more than fifty per cent over the corresponding month of last year.

General Cigar Co. has declared a dividend of $1.75 preferred quarterly, payable March 1st.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. has declared a 3 per cent dividend on common, quarterly, payable March 1st, and a 1½ per cent dividend on preferred, payable April 1st.

Porto Rico-American Tobacco Co. has declared a 3 per cent quarterly dividend, payable March 1st.

United Cigar Stores Company have declared a 10 per cent stock dividend, payable April 1st, and a dividend of 1% quarterly on preferred, payable April 1st.

The following table shows the amount of leaf tobacco, cigar types, held by manufacturers and dealers on January 1, 1920, with comparisons:

The total quantity of cigar leaf tobacco on hand on Jan. 1, 1920, was 283,303,899 pounds, compared with 254,309,051 pounds in the same period of last year, or an increase of 28,994,848 pounds. The total cigar leaf of New England including Connecticut was 56,523,208 pounds, compared with 52,972,346 pounds in the corresponding period last year, showing an increase of 3,560,862 pounds. The broad leaf increased 1,003,010 pounds.

To the woman of the trade unionist household the union label affords a guarantee that the wages earned under union conditions are expended upon union products and for the maintenance of union conditions, to return with interest in improved conditions for all.

By demanding the union label the wife of the trade unionist becomes truly the helpmeet of the breadwinner, her powerful influence being thus extended from the home to the workshop, from which she is otherwise totally excluded.

The child who demands the union label wields more influence than the man or woman who strikes. The strikers' place may be filled, but there is no substitute for the union label.

The union label transforms the women and children of the working class into towers of strength. Without it they are often elements of weakness in the struggle for bread.

The union label is the unmistakable sign of practical cooperation between employer and employee. The demand for the union label completes the relationship necessary to the most effective practice of cooperation by making the purchaser also a partner in the business.

The union label unites all interests that lie in the improvement of industrial conditions through the abolition of the sweatshop, tenement house, insanitary factory, convict labor, Chinese labor, night labor and child labor. Each of these evils has its antidote in the union label.

CORRESPONDENCE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20, 1920.

To All Organized Labor:

Dear Sirs and Brothers—By direction of the last convention of the American Federation of Labor and by the instructions of the Labor Conference held in Washington, Dec. 13, 1919, the National Non-Partisan Political Campaign Committee of the American Federation of Labor has been formed to carry on Labor's political program for the purpose of securing legislation demanded by Labor and to defeat the legislators and other aspirants for public office who have been indifferent to the rights of Labor and the best interests of our people.

Arrangements have been made for a most intensive and extensive campaign both during the primaries as well as the election of candidates for President, Congress, State Legislatures and all other public offices.

The campaign includes every possible means of publicity, the circularizing of every labor and trade union and other associations, the arranging for meetings and speakers and all such other activities essential for the conduct of a successful political campaign.

In order that this campaign will be successful organized labor must give all possible encouragement and support to this movement by voice, in deed and through financial aid. To this end the Executive Council at its last meeting unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas: A most bitter and unwarranted propaganda is in progress in Congress for the purpose of misrepresenting the trade union movement and its hopes and desires; and,

"Whereas: This propaganda is for the purpose of preparing the people for reactionary legislation that will not only enslave the workers but will endanger the constitutional rights of the great masses of the people; and,

"Whereas: The American Federation of Labor, realizing the danger threatening, will conduct a most vigorous campaign during the year 1920, to stand faithfully by our friends, oppose and defeat our enemies, whether they be candidates for President, for Congress or other offices, executive, legislative or judicial; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Executive Council urge every organized labor body, whether national, international, state, city central or local, to make contributions of money to assist the campaign. Where the means of an organization can afford it large contributions should be made, but every union, its members and friends, are urged to contribute as much as possible. This is a crucial time in the struggle of the workers for the protection of their rights and their industrial and social welfare. Never before has it been so necessary for us to demonstrate our convictions at the ballot box in the primaries and elections. Now is the time to hold to strict account all aspirants for public office who are or have been hostile or indifferent to the great fundamental principles for the recognition of which the labor movement is struggling."

There never has been a time in the history of organized labor that the workers must make their political power felt more than now. This campaign must be carried on with the utmost vigor. No opportunity must be lost to rebuke our enemies and favor our friends. Labor is on trial in this campaign. Its success or failure depends on the willingness of your organization and of all trade unions and friends to assist financially and give service for the great work before us. Do not let it be said when the polls are closed that labor failed to do its duty to the country and was untrue to itself.

All donations should be forwarded to Frank Morrison, A. F. of L. Building, Washington, D. C., who will receipt for same, and upon the conclusion of the campaign shall have printed an itemized statement of receipts and expenses, a copy to be forwarded to every contributor.

Send in your contributions immediately!

Yours fraternally,

A proposition, a resolution adopted by Union No. 185 and indorsed by Cigarmakers' Conference of Pennsylvania at Reading, Pa., December 7, 1919, has been submitted for your earnest consideration.

No doubt every local of the C. M. I. U. of A. has received a copy of this resolution by this time and its members are more or less aware of the real meaning of this resolution.

It virtually means the reconstruction of our organization into a craft union by doing away with all beneficial features of our organization. It means the elimination of the 20 and 30c dues paying membership and turning our union into a 25c dues paying membership with increased strike benefits, so that in case of a long strike a three months' member can draw $340 a year out of our union in strike benefits. It would actually take twenty-six years to pay in that amount at 25c a week or $13 a year. It means to encourage strikes and discontent. It means class strife and disagreement in our organization. It means that the membership, the 15, 20 and 30c class who have faithfully stuck through war reconstruction and strike and disease, who have made the sacrifice and who have paid all dues and assessments during these terrible and trying times incumbent on them to keep our organization intact, shall receive no more consideration, but shall stand passively by while an element in our industry that we have had to fight at times, support at all times and compete with at all times, and it was unfair competition at that, shall now, when they realize that they cannot live and bargain individually and stay in the craft, that they must have an organization behind them, they now want to come into our organization, not on our terms or under the laws of our constitution, but on their own terms and under laws made by themselves. In fact, to take our organization over, redraft our constitution and graciously let us keep up our sick and death benefit independently or drop it and come over to them and the 25c class.

They do not intend to consult us or the members who have held our union together, but intend to go to the convention and take us over, whether we want to or not. They would be the great majority ever after, should this happen, and would rule by virtue of their majority. It would gradually diminish our number of 30c members by winning over a certain number of our members who have not been members long enough to have the sick and death benefit to any great amount in their favor and who would rather pay 25c dues and no assessments. It would preclude all chance of increasing the 30c class because all new members would come in under the 25c class first and stay there, so in time the 30c class would be passing out. They propose to call an actuary into our convention to ascertain what it actually costs to maintain our benefits. Well and good. But let this same actuary also ascertain what dues it would take to maintain a $10 a week strike benefit for sixteen weeks and $5 a week thereafter for the duration of the strike.

We are in favor I think of increasing the strike benefit if the majority of members so desire, also the sick benefit, for it is when sick that we need help most. When on strike we are able to fight and able to work and at something outside of the craft if necessary until such time as we can go back to our craft under better conditions. This is the thing that the present 15 and 30c classes have had to do in the past in order to pay the increased dues and assessments and hold our organization together.

By all means let us do away with the out-of-work benefit. A man can find work these days if he wants to work outside of the craft temporarily and can get along without the out-of-work benefit; a much abused benefit it has been for years.

The resolution speaks of making a place in our organization for the new element, the machine workers. By all means, if possible, but not at the price of control of our union by this new element. We are willing to take them in, but are not in favor of letting them take us in and eventually making our craft a machine craft. We are willing to take them all in under our constitution and let them acquire membership in our organization with all benefits and advantages we have acquired and under better conditions than ever before, for at no time has our craft had better wages and better conditions than at the present time, and no one knows it better than the cigar-makers of Pennsylvania, who have made such giant strides toward better conditions and better wages, with our help, in the last few years.

We do not want too many classes. We have a 15c class, a 20c beneficiary class, a 30c standard class and a class A or half-membership class, who pay half dues and half assessments, and who are entitled to half benefits. Classes enough, I should think, for all the people who work in or at our craft. No use for a 25c class. It would bring dissension in our ranks, bring jurisdictional disputes on craft lines and eventually disrupt our union. Too many classes are like too many cooks, it "spoil the broth." For example, see what is happening to the United Garment Workers, too much class, not enough unity. The result: The Amalgamated Garment Workers.

What we need in our organization is unity. Unity of thought and action. The very thing that the employer and trusts are spending millions of dollars to destroy and break up. Class dispute would help them, not us.

I should like to see all who are employed in our craft in our union. One union, one class if possible. One for all and all for one to bring about a living wage for all, living conditions for all and the right of education for our children, the citizens of the future.

CHAS. H. MARTIN, Secy.

January 20, 1920.

Dear Sir and Brother:

Responding to an ever increasing demand for accurate information and reliable data upon the philosophy of trade unionism, labor's relation to the government and law, labor and the war, labor's challenge to socialism, "I. W. W."ism and Bolshevism, relations between employer and employe, and the economic basis of higher wages, shorter workday, child labor, women in industry, collective bargaining, co-operation and profit sharing,—responding to this demand, Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, consented to have his writings and addresses compiled, edited and published in permanent book form.

The work of compiling and editing Mr. Gompers' writings and speeches has been undertaken by Hayes Robbins, who has long been connected with the labor movement, and has been in close association with Mr. Gompers.

Messrs. E. P. Dutton & Company have undertaken to publish this work in two volumes; the first volume is entitled, "Labor and the Common Welfare," and the second volume will be called "Labor and the Employer."

These volumes give us in compact, ready-reference form the gist of Mr. Gompers' best thought, the fruits of his vast experience, and the heart of his philosophy. In them we see his vision of social and industrial justice and the surest means of progress thereto, as learned in the storm and stress of battle for the uplift of humanity, through a long life-term of the most remarkable and constructive labor leadership the world has ever known.

The books are made up of carefully chosen selections from Mr. Gompers' writings, speeches, reports and testimony during the last thirty-five years. They are grouped and classified by subjects, so as to make them of greatest practical service to the busy trade union official, the wage earner, the employer and the student. To all these, they will form handbooks of wise counsel and experience, of inestimable value long after Mr. Gompers' individual help in the solution of these great problems can no longer be given.

At a critical time like the present, to have lost this close view and permanent guide to the principles and policies which have brought to organized labor a power and standing, industrial, social and political, never before known, would have been a misfortune not to be remedied. Most fortunately the care with which Mr. Gompers' writings and addresses have been preserved during all these years has now made possible this publication, in crystallized form, for the benefit of labor, in the age-long struggle for improvement, as well as of the whole community.

There is no element in the body politic that can fail to profit from a study of these volumes but to the men of labor, now and in the years to come, they will be of constant practical help, as well as a priceless record of mind and heart of their greatest leader.

These books should be in the hands of every trade unionist and wage earner, and every trade union office and officer, and every editor of a trade union journal or labor publication should be in possession of these remarkable volumes.

Will you not, please, undertake to direct the attention of your readers to these books of Mr. Gompers' writings and addresses? May I not anticipate your hearty co-operation in giving wide distribution to this life's work of Mr. Gompers, especially at this time when labor is thrown on a stormy sea of unrest and conflicting emotions and at a time when the keen grasp and wide experience of a tried and true and remarkably equipped man is essential to bring the ship of labor into a safe harbor and to a land of abundance?

The first of these volumes, "Labor and the Common Welfare," is now out, and can be secured from any book store, or direct from the publishers. The price is $3.00. The manuscript for the second volume, "Labor and the Employer," is now in the hands of the publishers and it is anticipated that it will speedily be published and placed on sale.

Appreciative of your co-operation, I am,

Faternally yours,

MATTHEW WOLL,

President, International Labor Press of America.

REPORT OF ORGANIZERS.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 6, 1920.

Having received instructions from our International President to make an earnest effort to organize Jacksonville, then proceed north to adjoining territory, for the purpose of disseminating the tenets and principles of organization and advocate the desirability and necessity of a better understanding with trades unionists as to what their attitude should be toward our label I have this to say: Relative to the program staged here in Jacksonville, Fla., and also what might be expected in the way of organization in the towns of Brunswick, Waycross and Savannah, all of these last mentioned places being located in Georgia. Beginning with Jacksonville in our field of endeavor, I have to say that results accomplished are of a satisfactory and encouraging nature, considering the short span of time engaged in this work, but I wish to emphasize the fact that the new members come exclusively from the ranks of the white cigarmakers, of whom we have approximately 98 per cent organized in this city. Unfortunately, I find our colored brethren's attitude of an apathetic character toward organization in this city, and consequently I am very much disappointed in them, more especially as they must surely appreciate the fact that whatever additional value has been attained in wages and improved working conditions, generally speaking, it can be discovered that the organized workers are truly responsible for these goodly circumstances prevailing at this writing, so as a reflection it is very evident that the attitude assumed by the colored cigarmakers of this community is one which is not in harmony with the Scriptural quotation, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," but rather to accept any or all benefits accruing from the activities of the organized cigarmakers without the thought of a reciprocal emotion, although I am much disposed to believe that with an intelligent and sympathetic thought for what is for their own best interests, perhaps the visions of these craftsmen of our trade might develop a more constructive idea, and come into the fold of the union, so that their interests can be permanently safeguarded, while on the other hand, if they but reflect intelligently what privileges they are enjoying now may be only of a transitory character. I wish to say further and dwell upon the fact of the seeming impotency of Union 29 here. For instance, during the campaign for organization this union has not added one new member to its credit, and I am inclined to a suspicion that there might perhaps be some sinister force abroad disseminating the wrong brand of doctrines to our colored comrades. Permit me to say right here that one of the bones of contention, and much amplified upon, is the so-called discrimination between the races here. Relative to this phase of the atmosphere, I will say that from my own personal observations I am unable to find this kind of feature existing in this locality, with perhaps just one rare exception, and I stand to say that through the solidarity of organization this particular exception could be easily converted and the situation clarified along those lines.

As a conclusion, relative to my work here in Jacksonville, I will advise that we have every reason to feel proud of the position occupied by our blue label with the public. Several shops here are using the label. Their trade demands its use.

In my next report in so far as Jacksonville is concerned, I hope sincerely that I may be able to tell you that the craft is now 100 per cent in this city.

Relative to Brunswick, Ga., will advise that there is not a union label cigar in evidence in the town, and the town boasts a shop of approximately 20 people employed. Some of them I found to be ex-members of our union, and of course with many and varied grievances to proclaim, as a reflection upon the incompetency of different officers of different locals, assuming that these circumstances were responsible for their not now being members of our union. However, I got them grouped together and had a heart-to-heart talk with all of them, and I am looking for the establishment of a local there. Incidentally, I was in touch with some of the other unions in this city and have been assured of their co-operation in an attempt to create a demand for the label, in which event, if successful, we can anticipate an early rehabilitation of the cigarmakers of Brunswick, Ga.

I visited Waycross, Ga., and found that cigarmakers were barely visible in so far as pertains to quantity and I find the label on exhibition to some extent in this town. However, Waycross is a fairly well organized town, particularly among the railroad workers, and I am gratified with the reception accorded me and promises of co-operation to boost the label.

My next trip was continued to Savannah, Ga., where I find we have a very desirable field to work, both as regards organization work and an earnest endeavor to introduce the label to the Savannahians. Organization is fairly good here in this city among all other trades but ours. We have about 100 cigarmakers in the industry here, mostly girls. I had arranged for a meeting with some whom I had interested in the basic principles of trades unionism, when I was recalled by wire to return to Jacksonville for a specific purpose. However, I expect to return at an early date and resume the work where I left off.

In conclusion, as a whole, I think there is some room for congratulation as to the prospects for advancement along organization lines in the South; and believe me, it has certainly needed it, always did and it does now, so permit me the indulgence of saying that the general Southland shall see a new era dawn for them and may it not be too long in coming.

S. J. BUTLER,
Special Organizer.

Bethesda, Ohio, March 8, 1920.

After January 1 I worked my way toward Ohio. As soon as possible I proceeded to the Ohio district. I found here where a new local was established some discussion caused by the poor judgment of the financial secretary, whom the members had lost confidence in and would not pay dues. After holding several meetings, I have been able to get a good portion of the members to come back and they promise me they will work to make the organization a live factor hereafter. I have promises and hopes of organizing a new local in a nearby town. This may give new life to organization in this district. This is needed, for in this cheap district of Ohio, where cigars have been manufactured for the last 25 or 30 years, and all these years this district turned out a large share of the cigars sold two for five cents and three for ten cents. We find them now going to the five-cent retail class. This is due to the fact that the factories which formerly made this class have gone to the eight-cent class or two for fifteen cents. No doubt the manufacturers here are making larger profits than ever, but the workers are receiving very little more in wages. Just think, men and women who are good, two-handed rollers getting the large sum of from thirty to forty-five cents per hundred for rolling and the bunch makers getting from seventeen and a half to twenty cents per hundred for bunches. Many of the suction table factories which are enjoying the prices of eight cents or two for fifteen cents retail prices are trying to locate factories in this district and some of them have already established them, getting near hand work at suction table prices. If they can secure these workers at a small increase of prices per thousand they will have no fear of the new cigarmaking machine, for the rollers here roll from 1,000 to 1,400 per day. The people working at the industry through this district are all American-born and cannot say the foreigner is keeping down the prices. Let us hope they will see the light and join hands with their fellow workers of the craft in our country and bring up the standard of wages to a decent living wage for an American.

Fraternally yours,
WM. A. McCABE,
Organizer.

Quakertown, Pa., Jan. 3, 1920.

Since my last report, wherein I stated that it is possible to organize this district of Pennsylvania, we have taken in many new members —in fact, we have trebled our membership; many have been discharged for their activity and agitation, especially in the one shop where we got over 40 new members. Everyone there was in the union but the foreman's wife. When the firm found it out, they had signs put up that it was an open shop and all that can produce the goods can work there. The boss made a speech and told them that never in his many years was he confronted with such a bold and abominable demand as a three dollar raise in prices, and on the following Friday nine were discharged, and most of them could not get jobs here in town. It appears to us as a clear case of victimization. Many have quit since and got other jobs. He raised one dollar now, but the hands are gradually leaving there, and we believe he will soon see his mistake. I was informed that a strike was in progress at E. Greenville, Pa. I went there and the hands put in a demand for the dollar increase. They all went out, and some got jobs in other shops, but the case is identically the same as Quakertown. The secretary of the union has been compelled to go out of town for work. So far only 12 went back. The boss will be there this week and they hope to settle it then, as he also has a shop in Allentown, and all are back there, they also had been out. These things are going to happen right along now. We think here the bosses here are 100 per cent organized against us, but we will stick, determined to get stronger all the time. Here in Quakertown we gave out large union calendars and boosted label cigars so strong that we succeeded in getting them in nearly every place in town where cigars are sold. The Iron Moulders Union here, who are good union boosters, passed a resolution and pledged themselves to buy only union label cigars. I have the resolution in my possession and I read it to some of the dealers. They told me they have demanded and will get them, so the town is pretty well covered with them now. A new union has just been organized here, the railroad workers and shop employes, with a large membership. I was there and also Allen Grant of the A. F. of L. We are invited to their next meeting again, our object of course is to co-operate with them, but our main object here is to combine the four unions here and get regular headquarters where we can have meetings at all times to discuss and debate the best ways and means for all concerned, many of these happenings such as victimizing our members and discharging them just because they are trying to get organized the same as the bosses are 100 per cent, and whereas the United States Government recognizes the A. F. of L. and the C. M. I. U. as legitimate labor organizations we think it is certainly an un-American act and unbecoming to men who are supposed at least to use reason and common sense towards those that are making them prosperous.

HERMAN KUHN,
Ex-Sub-Organizer.

The union label stands always for the facts of today, never for a tradition of yesterday.

lions of labor from the clutches of greed, degradation and poverty.

The union label is the inspiration, the guide-post and the rallying point of the energetic and conscientious women in every community. It gives us the Woman's Union Label League.

The union label is a weapon that profits the employer equally with the employe, but only so long as both aim at the same object. It can never be turned against the employe, because it is the latter's exclusive property, to be given or withdrawn at pleasure.

The union label is an appeal to principle—principle that is above price; the principle that a dollar expended in the maintenance of fair labor is worth more in the end than a dollar saved at the bargain counter.

The union label stands primarily for union industry. As such it is an indispensable complement of "home industry," or other shibboleth of business, in the mind of the purchaser who holds principle above local pride.

State of Trade, March 1, 1920.

The mistress of the household represents the "purchasing power." She can not go on strike, but she can obviate the necessity of striking by demanding the union label.

The union label is the "In Hoc Signo Vincas" of the crusade to rescue the child from the workshop, factory and mill; the woman from the sweatshop and tenement house, and the mil-

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union. Union when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just $1.00 in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal will" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel, he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

International Fines.

The International Executive Board approved the application of Union 1, Baltimore, Md., to fine the following members for scabbing, but reduced the fines as follows: Jacob J. Banner, 12346, foreman, $50; Robert Brooks, 37378, Jacob Muller, 17191, and George Walters, 10461, $25 each. Vote: Affirmative, 4; two members approved $50 and $25 and one member approved $25 each.

Approved the application of 455, Galena, Ill., to fine Harry Medelender, 113457, $25 for working in the Standard Cigar Co. factory. Vote: Affirmative, 6; negative, 0.

Stated in concrete terms, the union label is powerful because it accomplishes by peaceful means, with absolute certainty and at little cost, that which the strike and boycott seek to accomplish, always at great cost and sacrifice.

UNION NOTES

In accordance with Sections 58, 59 and 60 of the Constitution, the following unions are hereby notified and requested to remit the following amounts for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the office of the International Union:

Ray White, 55041, is requested to write to Union 415, Elkhart, Ind., as some good news awaits him.

The secretary of 491, Huron, S. D., reports that there are thirty jobs open in Union 491, Huron and Pierre, S. D.

Union 345, Rapid City, S. D., notifies us "The Gate City Cigar Factory is still closed on account of the strike. Keep away."

Union 302, Tecumseh, Mich., writes: "A new factory open here April 1. Jobs open; $10 mold work and up."

I. W. Yalden, 59345, is requested to send his address to Union 14, Chicago, Ill.

Notes by Union 97, Boston: The Tobacco Association will meet in Washington next May. They expect to have leaf dealers, jobbers, manufacturers and salesmen represented. Everything affecting our industry will be discussed.—Will light wines and beer come back?—The co-operative shop in Boston is a success, having over 100 employees at present.—Representatives of New England Conference are doing good work.—97's label committee are always on the job; the new circular letter for householders is a gem.—Encourage home industry—appeal to civic pride.—Poll tax is a direct tax; those who don't pay it go to jail.—Co-operation is a move in the right direction.—How did your representative vote on labor questions?—Demand the union label on every commodity that you buy.—Funny that men who carry union cards will buy trust-made cigarettes, isn't it?—What have you done to make conditions better for your neighbor?—Many manufacturers here advertise hand made union made.—When the price of sugar jumped in price it became suddenly plentiful.—All eyes on Cleveland.—Kaveney has left us. He is a very resourceful, earnest and persistent worker.—The last few years has shown us the necessity of a large reserve fund.—Strike out assessments and make dues higher.

The union label enlists and arms in labor's cause those elements which determine the issue of every cause in civilized society—namely, the women and children.

The union label is a constant reminder of the common interest and common duty of all trade unionists in and toward each other, and a certain guide in the discharge of that duty.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Sections 2 and 3 of the constitution. Adopted Oct. 8, 1919.

By Union 39, New Haven, Conn.

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50.00." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

By Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.

Amend Section 154 by striking out on line 21 the figures "$8.00" and inserting the figures "$9.00," the section as amended to read: "But in no case shall the Union Label be used in a factory in the United States which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making," etc.

In effect March 1, 1920.

The vote of local unions on the amendment of Union 218, Binghamton, providing that the union label shall not be used in any factory in the United States that pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making, which went into effect March 1, was as follows: For, 7,680; against, 422.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments together. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment that you wish to endorse.)

The amendment of 225, Los Angeles, Calif., as published in the January Journal, providing that the President be instructed to employ an insurance mathematician:

Received the endorsement of 403, Quakertown; 218, Binghamton; 274, Pekin; 179, Bangor; 174, Joliet; 130, Saginaw; 168, Oshkosh; 132, Brooklyn, and 332, San Diego.

Not having received the required number of endorsements, it cannot be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of 192, Manchester, N. H., as published in the January issue, providing that the label shall be pasted in the inner side of the cigar box.

Received the endorsement of 402, Quakertown, and 129, Denver.

Not having received the required number of endorsements, it cannot be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of 16, Binghamton, N. Y., as published in the January issue, providing for changes in the appointment of organizers.

Received the endorsement of 402 Quakertown; 179, Bangor; 174, Joliet; 218, Binghamton; 168, Oshkosh, and 44, St. Louis.

Not having received the required number of endorsements, it cannot be submitted to a vote of local unions.

Please insert the following in next month's issue of the Journal:

Resolution adopted by the executive board of Union No. 25 of Milwaukee, Wis., sends this notice to all members owing private loans to this local to make arrangements at once to pay percentage on the said loans and to continue to do so until the same has been paid. We are not going to beg or plead with you to pay us what you owe, but we insist on you paying. Suspensions will be published in the May Journal of all members that fail to pay up. Do not write any excuses, unless the secretary's seal is on the letter. Read Section 106 of the constitution, it may do you some good, so if you owe this local any private loans, get busy; if you don't, we will.

Union 335, Hammond, Ind., would like to hear from Arthur Emmet, 85018, in regard to private loan of $3 granted a year ago.

Union 174, Joliet, Ill., would like to hear from Carl Hanson, 50744, in regard to private loan, before next meeting, or some action will be taken.

Unions holding private loans against John Zimmer, 3962, can receive same by writing to Union 61, La Crosse, Wis.

Book Review.

At the express suggestion of Mr. Matthew Woll, president of the International Labor Press of America, we wish to make you the following offer of club rates on the two volumes of Mr. Gompers' speeches and writings, entitled: "Labor and the Common Welfare" ($3).

"Labor and the Employer" ($3) (not yet published).

On all orders that you will send in for ten or more copies of either title, we shall be glad to give you a discount of 40 per cent off the retail price of the book ($3), providing you will pay the cost of transportation and accompany your orders with the cash. This agreement will continue for the second volume, when it is published. It will be impossible to grant this discount for any orders amounting to less than ten copies of either one of these books. We hope you may be able to take advantage of this special arrangement, and assure you that your orders will be promptly and carefully taken care of.

Very truly yours,
E. P. DUTTON & CO.

The power of the union label is proved by its progress.

The union label is invulnerable to the injunction, the lockout and the blacklist.

The union label supersedes the boycott by concentrating the purchasing power upon union products.

The distinguishing characteristics of the union label is its assurance against deception. When an article ceases to be union-made it ceases to bear the union label.

The union label facilitates organization by increasing the demand for the products of organized workers.

The workers who strike in protest against their wrongs may be defeated, but the public protest registered in the demand for the union label is invincible.

In this issue we publish the annual financial report, which contains much useful information as well as food for reflection.

We also publish the address of the President made to the delegates at the Cleveland convention.

The proceedings of the convention, containing all amendments and resolutions adopted, will be published in the May issue of the Official Journal.

ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT.Greeting:

Owing to pronounced changes in methods of production in our industry, the Cigar Makers' International Union is confronted with a condition which demands the best thought and judgment we are capable of giving, and in greeting you at this time in the development of the International Union I do so with renewed and added faith in our organization and its ability to find a course that will meet requirements to quicken the work of organization and add to the potentialities of the International Union. It should be deemed a privilege to participate in this convention, difficult and perplexing though its problems may seem, and which in any event will be momentous and far reaching in effect.

The constructive trade union movement of which we are an integral part, and its wonderful achievements, its stability, and ability to cope with conditions confronting the workers, need no defense nor elucidation in this paper. The constructive trade union movement is here and is with us to stay. It was born of necessity and will be kept alive for the same reason. However, all constructive movements thrive, and grow in strength and numbers in proportion to correct principles held and methods employed, and moreover, prosper just in proportion to the faith the membership at large have in the institution. Organized society since the beginning of recorded time has been held together by faith in ourselves and the inherent justice of mankind. Destroy faith in mankind and in organization, and advancing civilization will falter and constructive trade unionism be retarded.

Wherever there has been faith in our union, coupled with reasonable demands the organization has prospered. We have the foundation for a growing organization, and a well-built structure which only needs alteration to meet changed conditions in our trade, which the framers and builders of our constitution could not foresee. Little time should be wasted on minor details; our time, energy and ability should be devoted to careful thought, mature consideration and sound judgment on the big things which should be crystallized and woven into the organic law of the International Union. I shall present to you herewith only the material facts, that in my judgment are the fundamental issues that must be met and solved.

Convention.

We should meet at least every five years and oftener during the next 10 years.

Organization.

First in importance is organization, and such changes as are required to accelerate substantial organization of a lasting character. When the present laws were made they were predicated upon conditions then existing and were the result of the best judgment of the delegates and framers. They were, generally speaking, the best laws fitting that period that could be adopted. However, time and revolution have materially changed the methods of production, and these changed methods of production, in my judgment, call for corresponding changes in our organic law.

The first cigars produced in our country were made by hand. Hand work was the prevailing method without exception until late in the sixties of the nineteenth century, at which time, because of the scarcity of cigarmakers, the molds made their appearance, and the manufacture of cigars by molds, bunch breaking, and the roll up system, machines, and suction tables has steadily increased, until recently a machine has been perfected which makes the complete cigar. At no time during the sharp changes has it been claimed that molds or machinery were the better way to make cigars. In every instance these deviations from hand work have been caused either by lack of cigarmakers or more largely and chiefly to enable manufacturers to obtain cheaper labor. Unskilled labor could be pressed into service more quickly through the molds, machine and bunch breaking system than by the more skilled hand work methods. The employment of women in our industry has steadily and rapidly increased in the last twelve or fifteen years. The advent of women into the industry was for the sole purpose of more quickly introducing the bunch breaking and roll up or team work system.

An analysis of the replies to the questionnaire filled in by local unions shows that there are employed at making cigars 105,901 and 5,477 packers, which makes the total number employed in the industry, making and packing cigars, 111,378. Of this number 40,737 are reported as belonging to the union and 70,641 are reported as being non-union.

Of this number 50,375 are men and 61,003 are women. Of the 50,375 men 33,699 are members of the union and 16,676 are non-union; of the 61,003 women 7,038 are members of the union and 53,965 are non-union.

The total number employed in cities or towns at the seat of the union is 98,084, of which 37,692 are union and 60,392 are non-union. Of this 98,084 employed at the seat of the union 43,017 are men and 55,067 are women. Of the 43,017 men 30,852 are union and 12,165 are non-union and of the 55,067 women 6,848 are union and 48,219 are non-union.

The total number employed in jurisdiction cities or towns is 13,294, of which 3,045 are union and 10,249 are non-union. Of this 13,294 employed in jurisdiction cities or towns 7,358 are men and 5,936 are women. Of the 7,358 men 2,847 are union and 4,511 are non-union and of the 5,936 women 188 are union and 5,748 are non-union.

A comparison with the recapitulation shown at the Baltimore convention, 1912, 7 years 6 months ago, shows: At that time we had 65,835 men, now 50,375, a decrease of 15,460; at that time we had 41,956 women, now 61,003, an increase of 19,047.

Those employed in the industry, union and non-union, are classified as to method of work as follows:

Hand-workers, 17,346, of which 15,596 are union and 1,750 are non-union.

Mould-workers, 17,361, of which 15,762 are union and 1,599 are non-union.

Bunch breakers and rollers, (team-workers), 71,194 of whom 7,661 are union and 63,533 are non-union. (Of this number 11,469 are employed on suction table work and 451 are employed on the new machine.)

Packers, 5,477, of which 1,718 are union and 3,759 are non-union.

Not included in any of the totals there are reported 969 stogie makers, of whom 914 are union and 55 are non-union.

The total number of shops reported is 7,462, of which 4,419 are union and 3,043 are non-union.

The total number of small shops (not employing a journeyman) reported is 2,883, of which 2,544 are union and 339 are non-union.

The total number of trust shops reported is 98, employing 21,383, of which 2,772 are men and 18,611 are women.

In view of the foregoing facts I recommend for your serious consideration the elimination of the optional clause reference the recognition of the bunch break, roll up, or team system from the Constitution. There are 71,194 men and women working under the team system, as against 35,102 making the cigar complete by hand or mold. In order to be entirely successful in organization team workers must be organized.

Suggestion is made that you seriously consider a plan confining all eligible cigar-makers to one class and all treated alike in the payment of dues and assessments and benefits received, and the abolition of the present Class A System as it applies to cigarmaking, provided we abrogate the optional clause in Section 61 of the Constitution.

I recommend that you consider the organization and affiliation of strippers, binders, casers and such other wage earners as may be eligible, and placing them under laws similar in principle to what is now known as Class A.

I also recommend that you consider the question of claiming jurisdiction over the entire tobacco industry, with the understanding that such jurisdiction be consummated through friendly intercourse with the Tobacco Workers' International Union.

I invite your consideration and judgment reference exemption of newly initiated members from the payment of all international assessments for the first three months of their membership, unless it be a special assessment levied purely for strike or lockout purposes.

Our apprenticeship law, because of the steadily increasing specialization in our industry, has become antiquated; it varies from natural requirements necessary to promote organization. There are some branches of the industry that do not require a three years' apprenticeship. I recommend that you seriously consider making all apprentices members of the union without vote or benefits, except strike benefit, at nominal dues, and that in all cases where scales of wages are being negotiated the compensation of the apprentice members be considered and fixed on a graduated scale; and that you seriously consider a reduction of the number of years an apprentice shall serve, and in according with that branch of the trade that such apprentice is to learn, such as:

All apprentices to serve a maximum of years and minimum of years; apprentices learning hand work to serve at least one year as such; those working at mold work where the full cigar is made to serve; those working at either bunch breaking or rolling to serve; if an apprentice serves one year under the team system, and desires to become a hand workman such apprentice should serve an additional

The New Cigar Making Machine.

There has been patented and placed on the market a machine which makes the complete cigar. I have seen this machine in full operation. The machine costs about $4,500.00 and a royalty of $1,000.00 per year is charged for each machine, on cigars that sell for ten cents or more, and $750.00 on cigars that sell for less than ten cents. It requires four persons to operate one machine. One feeds the filler; another handles the binder; another, the wrapper; while the fourth does the patch work as the cigar comes out complete.

One machine will make only one size cigar and can roll only a right hand or a left hand wrapper. Two machines, however, could make two different sizes or shapes by rolling only right hand wrappers on one size or shape and left hand wrappers on another. A manufacturer could produce ten sizes with ten machines by using left hand wrappers on five sizes and right hand wrappers on the other five.

One skilled machinist is required for every six machines. The capacity of one machine is said to be from four to six thousand cigars a day.

According to reports submitted, there are 112 machines now in operation, giving employment to 451 people. I am of the opinion, however, that there are more of these machines in operation than have been reported by our local unions.

As stated in another part of this report, the hand work method is the Simon-pure, proper and most satisfactory way of making cigars. Whether the general public can be educated to the point of using the machine made cigars, and whether such cigars will prove successful, remains to be seen.

These are the facts in connection with the new machine as I understand them. This question merits your active thought. Your judgment, after debate, must determine what the attitude of the International Union shall be toward the new machine.

Production of Cigars.

The following table, taken from the federal internal revenue reports, shows the number of cigars and cigarettes that have been manufactured yearly from 1913 to and including 1919:

Year.	Cigars
	Weighting More Than 3 Pounds Per 1,000.	Weighting Not More Than 3 Pounds Per 1,000.
1913	7,699,087,543	1,033,778,160
1914	7,870,832,230	1,036,793,000
1915	7,058,122,323	972,263,220
1916	7,390,183,170	947,537,360
1917	8,266,770,593	960,130,520
1918	7,784,300,180	947,618,961
1919	7,110,877,600	788,529,323
Year.	Cigarettes.
	Weighting More Than 3 Pounds Per 1,000.	Weighting Not More Than 3 Pounds Per 1,000.
1913	14,294,895,471	16,427,088,016
1914	16,427,088,016	16,786,179,973
1915	21,087,677,077	30,539,193,533
1916	30,539,193,533	36,959,334,804
1917	36,959,334,804	38,104,738,310
1918	38,104,738,310
1919

The foregoing table shows that the manufacture of cigars has decreased in number notwithstanding the increase in population. It moreover shows that the manufacture of cigarettes has had a phenomenal increase. In 1913 the number of cigarettes was 14,294,895,471, while in 1919 it was 38,104,738,310, which shows an increase of 23,809,842,839 in the past seven years.

It is said that more pounds of tobacco were used in 1918 in the manufacture of cigarettes than were used in the manufacture of cigars.

Strikes and Lockouts.

The record of strikes and lockouts since the last convention (1912) is given in full. It shows that 960 applications for all causes were made, of which 938 were approved and 22 disapproved through constitutional channels. These applications involved 141,062 members. The applications approved involved 131,733 members, and those disapproved involved 9,329. The number of members entitled to benefits total 121,048, of which number 112,037 were involved in the approved applications and 9,011 in the disapproved applications. In the 960 total applications 57,941 nonunionists were involved.

The principal causes of the 938 approved applications were as follows: 633 for an increase of wages, involving 93,312 members, of whom 81,724 were entitled to benefits, and 85 against a reduction of wages, involving 9,368 members, of whom 8,477 were entitled to benefits.

Five hundred and twenty of these applications for an increase in wages were successful and 60 were compromised; 43 of the applications against a reduction of wages were successful and 6 were compromised.

During the period of 7½ years covered by this record the total expenditure for strike and lockout purposes was $585,655.23; of this amount $406,698.04 was expended during 1918 and 1919, and $285,387.92 was expended in 1919, or we have expended in 1919 almost one-half of the whole amount expended in the 7½ years.

The record shows a gratifying increase in the scales of prices in the last eight years, and in most instances with very little loss of time or expenditure of money. It shows that 483 unions obtained an increase in wages without a strike, the loss of time, or the expenditure of funds, and that in the last two years, out of 385 applications for an increase, 255 were obtained without a strike, loss of time, or expenditure of funds.

This was in part the result of abnormal trade conditions and circumstances prevailing in the whole economic field, and may not occur again in a decade. The high cost of living and the determination to obtain wages sufficient to maintain the American standard of living, together with the inflation of our currency and the consequent depreciation of the purchasing power of the dollar, made our demands in most instances just and fair. The success of most of the unions in obtaining in some instances two and three increases and without leaving the factories was made doubly sure by the fact that about 15,000, mostly non-members, were on strike for three or four months in New York City, and from 1,000 to 6,000 or 7,000, for short periods in other places. The fact that the workers in all industries were generally employed at increased wages was helpful.

Where the unions abided by our own self-made laws by waiting until their applications were approved, and then met their employers through committees their demands for increased scales of wages were obtained in most cases without the loss of time or funds. In view of bitter experience gleaned through adversity in the past it is well to shape strike laws to fit any emergency, and unless we do so there will be a possibility of grave danger in store for us. Strike laws are made for the protection of the members in the International Union as a whole. One, two, or more local communities should not be permitted to create confusion, discord and damage, not only to themselves, but to the organization as a whole, by ignoring self-made laws. All institutions may live and prosper for a time because of favorable, abnormal circumstances and conditions, but no institution can successfully ride through a crisis under subnormal conditions and adverse circumstances unless it adheres to its own laws and maintains discipline.

I submit for your consideration the adoption of some fair and equitable method whereby all of the material facts in connection with strike applications can be placed before the members when voting upon strike applications. We demand the right to be heard, and a full exercise of free speech, and we can afford to concede it to others. No just cause need fear publicity and the presentation of material facts. Hasty strikes inaugurated before applications have been approved or passed upon, especially in subnormal times or periods of industrial stagnation, should receive your serious consideration, and the law should be amended so as to reduce such practice to a minimum. No local union either in good or dull times should be accorded the privilege of going on strike even when their application is approved without first meeting the employers and endeavoring to settle the difficulty without a strike. The successful application of this principle and policy proves that it should be made the rule in all instances, and if it is and such a law adhered to, it will save us many shops, many dollars and much misery, want and privation. Gainful results will follow an application of this principle and many a dollar will be saved to pay other benefits and many an assessment avoided.

The right to strike should be maintained at all hazards. In the final analysis it is labor's sure guarantee to obtain and maintain living wages, but any portion of the membership, no matter how small, should be made to understand that this sacred right so fundamental and necessary must always be respected and never abused.

I strongly recommend that you consider the creation of a special fund to be used exclusively to defend members in lockouts and in resisting reductions of wages, which may follow the first real depression that may occur.

In addition to the recorded applications showing the increases in wages there have been about 100 increases in wages granted in the last two years, without a strike or even an application being made, which were later reported to this office. No doubt other such concessions and increases were made but never reported to headquarters.

Hundreds of instances have been reported to headquarters, where non-unionists were given an increase in wages in the last two years, this for the sole purpose of holding the employees and preventing organization. The arrival of an organizer in a non-union community was the signal for a slight increase in wages. While I have no official information, I estimate that nearly every non-unionist in the industry has received an increase in wages as a direct result of the union and its activities.

The remarkable increase in the wage scales since 1912 is shown in the following figures taken from the reports of local unions, with a comparison of the various kinds of work, namely, hand work, prices, low and high received; mold work, prices, low and high, received; with the style of work subdivided into three classes. These statistics are grounded upon the approximate length of the cigar from 4½ to 5 inches, as these lengths are specified in the great majority of the reports. The figures are also based on straight work except in the Clear Havana, and in the majority of unions' reports it is shown that an additional one dollar per thousand is charged for the shape cigar, with fancy shapes carrying an increase of from one to three dollars.

The above is based on the seed and Havana classification.

The following table shows the amount of strike benefits expended from the general funds from July 1, 1912, to January 1, 1920, by the respective unions, the number of members and non-members involved, the number of members entitled to benefits, as per original applications, and the number of difficulties, and the number of firms involved in the respective strikes, etc., as taken from the strike reports, general account books, and records in the International office:

The General Fund and Our Benefit System.

In addition to the regular thirty-cent weekly dues for 1919 we collected through International assessments $519,769.39. The increase in the general fund amounted to $46,494.66. The amount expended for death benefit purposes was $317,441.86, which was $14,496.77 less than we paid for a like purpose in 1918. We, however, expended for strike benefit purposes in 1919 $285,387.92, while for this purpose in 1918 we expended $121,310.12, or $164,077.80 more in 1919 than in 1918. A careful analysis of the financial transactions for the year 1919, which is given in this report in convenient form with the recapitulation of 1918, will give you the exact facts concerning our receipts and our expenditures.

The amount of benefits, especially death benefits, to be paid, is one of the serious problems we have to meet at this convention. While I have said organization of the industry comes first in importance, the fact remains that other issues, such as the payment of benefits, have a direct bearing upon organization work. They help to cement the fraternal ties that bind us more securely to the organization and to stabilize it during periods of industrial depression, and are humanely just and the personification of fraternal generosity. The present amount of benefits can not be paid on the present amount of dues, and I estimate that it would require a rate of dues of at least sixty cents per week to continue to pay the present benefits.

In the past 8 years 5,836 beneficiary members of all classes have died.

Their combined length of membership was approximately 108,468 years, or about 18½ years each.

The average paying time of the 5,836 beneficiary members from date of initiation to death and computed on the basis of 30c dues per week, with due allowance for 15c and 20c weekly dues paying members, is about 18½ years.

As the average age at time of death is approximately 52½ years it follows that the average age of these members at time of initiation was about 34 years.

A member paying 18 years' dues at 30c per week would contribute $280.80.

We have collected in the last 18 years $30.90 International assessments per member, which with the regular dues made an average weekly contribution of 33c, and about $3.00 initiation fee, making a total of $314.70 as the average paid by each deceased member.

From this $314.70 we must deduct an average allowance of 25 per cent to local unions' expenses, amounting to $78.67, leaving a balance to the International Union fund contributed by the deceased member in 18 years for the payment of all benefits and all other expenses about $236.00.

Assuming that for 18 years we had collected 50c per week, it would have amounted to $468.00. We are paying out an average of $402.80 death benefit and it costs $117.00 for local running expense, and approximately $11.50 per member for other benefits, and this shows that we should still be operating on a loss of $63.30 per death.

However, as stated, our total receipts based on actual fixed rates, 30c dues and assessments, were $314.70, while the total expenses based on actual requirements were $492.97, leaving an actual average deficit of $178.27 on each death.

In the last 8 years we have paid out $2,407,625 for death benefit, including $57,440 for wives and mothers. Leaving this $57,440 out of consideration, the average payment per death was approximately $402.80.

Aside from the cost per member for death benefit, there is to be added about $11.50 as an average paid for other benefits.

There is another point to remember in our financial condition—we figure that we receive on an average $15.60 a year from our 30c members, but as a matter of fact our average 30c members divided by our average collections of 30c dues shows the average to be only $14.75 per member.

To meet this average death benefit requirement it has been necessary to continuously draw on our accumulated surplus which we had in 1907.

I am unqualifiedly in favor of high dues and a chain of benefits consistent with a sound financial system. The question reduced to facts means that we must increase the dues and continue levying necessary assessments or reduce the benefits to such a point that an increase in dues, not so great as to stifle organization, will meet requirements.

I venture the opinion that the adoption of an optional benefit system would ultimately prove unsatisfactory. If we separate the membership into classes, making it optional upon the part of the present membership to continue in the beneficiary class or for those coming in, the inevitable result would be a top heavy beneficiary class. It should be remembered that no fraternal insurance association can prosper without a wide field to draw from. The statistics just read to you show that the overwhelming percentage of those now outside of the organization are women and girls, most of whom are working for small wages compared with the wages received by members of the organization. You must determine whether they would come in under a rate of dues and assessments that would make sure the payment of the present amount of benefits. It is said that the average duration of woman's time in gainful occupations is from about seven to twelve years.

The Union Label.

The union label is helpful in organizing and maintaining strictly union shops with fair bills of prices, and should not be underestimated, nor should its power in that direction be overestimated. We place our label on the box, and after the cigar is taken from the box it bears no evidence that it is union made. The Hatters' label is placed in the hat; the Boot and Shoe Workers' label, in the shoe; the Garment Makers' label, on the garment; and the Printers' label, on the printed matter; and remains there as evidence that the hat, shoe, garment or printing is union made. Despite this handicap in so far as we are concerned we have made as great progress in label propaganda work as any other organization.

However, in no instance has the union label enabled any trade to become 100 per cent organized. There are thousands of consumers who don't belong to any union and who know little and perhaps care less for the hopes and aspirations and interests of the organized workers. There are also thousands of employers, merchants, bankers, professional men and others who for selfish reasons are trade union opponents and who are openly or secretly plotting against the union labels and discouraging their use.

The elements that make an organization strong, militant and permanent are the membership and state of mind developed. An organization thrives and becomes militant just in proportion to their faith in the union, their own character, their courage, their fortitude, and belief in constructive trade unionism. These qualities are not manufactured out of union labels nor glittering promises. This thought is to impress upon your mind that we must have something in addition to the union label and do more than the label in itself can accomplish. We must have a membership with thoughts well grounded in the faith, with a philosophy that can not be shaken by adversity nor destroyed by our enemies.

The union labels of other trades have an entirely different meaning, in so far as conditions of use are concerned, from ours. We are the only organization that I know of that makes the union label carry the making and selling price of the article produced. The Boot and Shoe Workers' label is granted to the manufacturer who agrees to pay the wage scale and to employ only such as are members of the union. In that organization no attention is paid to the minimum making price of the shoe or its selling price. The same applies to all other organizations. In our own case where we fix a minimum making and selling price we have many members paying the same dues and assessments who, during the early stages of their affiliation and until they have been able to establish fair bills of prices, are not protected by the union label. This condition will grow in the future if we adopt laws and put into use methods that will accelerate complete organization of the trade. The laws governing the use of the label are of sufficient importance to at least invite your attention to the matter and to suggest a full discussion upon this important question.

Attention is also directed to what in my judgment are defects in the present law governing the use of the union label. There are now manufactured thousands of cigars less than $4\frac{1}{4}$ or $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length. Practically every one of our bills of prices commences by saying " $4\frac{1}{4}$ inches or under \$9.00, \$10.00, or \$12.00," and the present law says that no label shall be granted for any cigar made for less than \$9.00 per thousand and sold for less than \$25.00 per thousand, and gives the local unions the right to stipulate a higher selling price. If we are to completely organize the trade we must make provision for the small cigar and give it the benefit of the use of the union label. This could be accomplished by regulating the use of the label to length and size by adding a clause to the present minimum making rate of \$9.00 and selling price of \$25.00 providing for small cigars selling at market prices for such cigars. If the manufacturer is given the right to make the small cigar (and he should be) and he does so with union labor, there is no logical reason why he should not be given the use of the label for such cigars. This would encourage manufacturers to make such goods and would enable them to employ an agent fortified with everything in the line of cigars to supply an enlarged outlet for union cigars, that we must cultivate.

The method of advertising the label should be brought up to the highest point of efficiency. It is generally agreed that a goodly portion of the one dollar per capita allowed for label agitation, and assessments raised, are wasted because of a lack of proper methods and means of label propaganda. Advertising in all lines of industry has evolved into a trade and a science, and only those versed in this kind of work can do effective advertising. I recommend for your serious consideration the advisability of authorizing the president, with the advice, consent and full co-operation of the International Executive Board, to hire an advertising expert for the purpose of devising the best means possible for advertising our label, and if the Executive Board agrees with the advertising expert's recommendations that he or someone else versed in advertising methods or work be employed to carry on that part of our work, and that the $1.00 per capita now allowed local unions be used for this purpose.

The following table shows the number of labels printed and issued, by years, since September 1, 1912. (See page 17.)

Conclusion.

The revolution in our industry, to which your attention has been called, it seems to me, makes it necessary that we apply the required new methods in so far as we can without weakening or losing sight of the fundamental principles upon which the International Union is grounded. Let us seek and vigorously apply constructive methods made necessary by marked changes, such as will safeguard the future of the International Union, and protect and advance the best interests of the members thereof.

No delegate should be expected to sacrifice principle for the things that are not in accord with his judgment, but we should all courageously stand for what we may think is the best thing to do, from a constructive trade union standpoint, for our fellow man and the Cigar Makers' International Union, regardless of personal wishes.

The future welfare of the International Union and the best interests of the membership thereof under our laws and regulations is now entrusted to your care. It is a mighty responsibility. To do the things that will be helpful in mitigating the misery and sorrow of the toiling masses is a duty that should inspire a determination in the minds and hearts of all right-thinking men and women to put aside personal likes and dislikes, glittering generalities, methods and means which have no place in the sphere of constructive trade union activity, and devote our whole thought, ability and collective judgment to the things which demand our undivided attention.

Labels returned to International Office and reshipped are not included in labels returned.

We are fortunate to live during, and participate in, the greatest epoch-making period in the history of the world. A new light has flashed across the vision of mankind; new thoughts, fresh hopes and ambitions now permeate the minds and hearts of the great mass of our peoples throughout the whole world.

During the period of reconstruction and rehabilitation following the great war we must do our part and do it well. The natural evolution of working men and women to a higher and better life must not be interfered with. The well-being of the toiling masses and the opportunity to live their lives in freedom and decency and comfort is the paramount issue now confronting the organized workers of our time. I deem it a privilege to participate in this mighty task. May your work here result in the greatest good for the greatest number, and in still further building up and strengthening and increasing the efficiency and stability and numerical strength of the Cigar Makers' International Union, and the general constructive trade union movement.

Fraternally submitted,

G. W. PERKINS,
International President.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

According to statistics compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, union wage scales in the United States in the general trades averaged 17 per cent higher in 1919 than in 1918, and 55 per cent higher than in 1913.

More than 11,000,000 women in the United States are employed as wage earners, according to a report submitted to the vocational education convention at Chicago.

According to the current British Labor Gazette the general level of retail prices of food and other items (including rent) of working-class family expenditure in the United Kingdom at January 1, 1920, was approximately 125 per cent above the pre-war level.

A report by the United States Bureau of Labor statistics does not support the claim that high wages are responsible for increased living costs.

Of 13 manufacturing industries studied, it is shown that in February of this year, compared with last January, two industries (iron and steel, with 5.9 per cent, and silk, with 2.2 per cent) show an increase in wages.

The remaining 11 industries show a decrease. The largest decrease is 10.4 per cent, in cotton manufacturing, followed by cigar manufacturing, with a 7.9 per cent increase, and boots and shoes, with a 6.7 per cent decrease.

Despite wage decreases in cotton and shoes, retail prices of these commodities continue to advance.

Interesting facts relating to the nation's industries are brought to light in a compilation just finished at the office of the American Federation of Labor. The chart was made up from reports on the conditions obtaining in 111 trades and occupations, as submitted by officials of unions.

The number of workers involved in these trades borders close on 8,000,000. Additional reports from a score of other unions with a membership of 750,000 are not included in the report.

The table shows roughly that long hours of work and other evils still obtain in many trades. Of 90 trades which gave complete figures, 22 report that they enjoy a 44-hour week, 41 others work 48 hours per week, while 27 trades work more than 50 hours per week. Of these the following are most important:

Fire fighters, 24 hours daily, 7 days continuous employment; hatters, 10-14 hours daily; retail clerks, 10 hours daily, averaging 60 to 63 hours weekly; glove makers, 8-9 hours daily, 44 to 50 hours weekly; marine engineers, 8-12 hours daily, and 7 days per week; hotel and restaurant employees, over 9 hours daily for six and a fraction days per week; iron, steel and tin industry, 8-12 hours; lace operatives, 52 hours per week; laundry workers, 48 to 54 hours weekly; masters, mates and pilots, 8-13 hours daily, "no limit"; seamen, 8-12 hours daily; stage employees, "indefinite."

Of the 111 trades listed, 77 required overtime work. Most of the overtime, however, is compensated for by time-and-one-half or double-time rates of pay. Ten trades give unemployment benefits to their members, in practically every case the amount of such benefit, however, being limited.

TRADE NOTES.

The Tobacco Manufacturers' Association will convene in Washington, D. C., on May 19, 1920, in what promises to be the greatest convention in the history of the organization. Present indications are that every branch of the industry will be represented.

Switzerland built up an export trade in cigars during the war to the extent of $719,210 in 1918. Their imports of cigars decreased approximately $100,000 during the same year.

William M. Williams, of Alabama, became Commissioner of Internal Revenue on April 1, 1920, succeeding Daniel C. Roper. Mr. Williams will have entire charge of the Bureau of Internal Revenue as well as having charge jointly with the Department of Justice of the enforcement of prohibition. Mr. Williams is a lawyer and has been solicitor of the Department of Agriculture since 1917.

It is estimated that this year's Porto Rican tobacco crop will be only 60 per cent of normal, owing to excessive rains. Prices are continuously advancing on this grade of tobacco as well as most all others.

A French company operating in Cameroon, West Africa, have at the present time 80,000 acres available for tobacco growing. Cameroon tobacco, like Sumatra, is used chiefly for wrappers. It is very thin and has the desired burning and color characteristics. Manufacturers here who have sampled the tobacco claim that it is a fine worker and has none of the bitter taste associated with certain grades of Sumatra. Two crops a year are grown in this district and as the yield is large, the development of this crop will no doubt serve to ease the present question of wrapper supply.

Canada received $21,510,250 from tobacco in the form of revenue and fees during the fiscal year. Cigar manufacturers last year show a decline, 218,497,375 being manufactured last year, while 253,824,568 were manufactured the previous year, 1,109,635 cigars were exported last year, which is an increase over previous years.

As an indication of the general trend of trade we refer to the following dividends declared:

The American Tobacco Co. has declared a 1½ per cent dividend, quarterly on preferred, payable April 1.

The British-American Tobacco Co. has declared a 6 per cent inter. dividend, payable March 31.

The General Cigar Co. has declared a 1½ per cent quarterly dividend on preferred, payable April 1.

The American Snuff Co. has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on preferred stock, payable April 1, and a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock, payable April 1.

Production of tobacco in Canada increased more than 300 per cent during the last three years, almost entirely in Quebec and Ontario. In 1917 these provinces produced 8,495,000 pounds, whereas in 1919 the production was 27,379,400 pounds. The area and yield of tobacco in Canada during the period 1917-1919 was as follows:

Province.	1917. Acres.	1918. Acres.	1919. Acres.
Quebec	5,000	6,903	22,360
Ontario	2,930	6,500	9,225

Total	8,495,000	14,232,000	27,379,400

OFFICIAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

G. W. Perkins, President.

Monon Building, Chicago.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, 318 W. 51st St., New York City, First Vice-President.

L. P. HOFFMAN, 729 N. Diamond St., Jacksonville, Ill., Second Vice-President.

A. GARIEPY, 239 Ave. Hotel De Ville, Montreal, Canada, Third Vice-President.

JOHN REICHERT, Brisbane Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., Fourth Vice-President.

E. G. HALL, 4124 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn., Fifth Vice-President.

E. J. STACK, 412 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland, Ore., Sixth Vice-President.

CHAS. H. STEVENS, 334 Roehrer Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., Seventh Vice-President.

GIBSON WEBER, 1710 N. Gratz St., Station C, Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to sane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union. Union when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just $1.00 in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Members who while at work refuse or fail to pay per cent on loans suspend themselves without any action of the secretary.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there be no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel, he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

UNION BUSINESS

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

Jacob Lampert appealed against the Joint Unions of St. Louis for compelling him to pay lost time of certain members who were discharged for alleged cause. The appeal was sustained.

A. Jander appealed against Union 90, New York, for dropping his name from the list of candidates for delegates to the convention. The union replied that they were compelled to drop all but the four highest, two to be elected, in order to secure an election, and cited the law in the International Constitution reference election of International officers as their authority for doing so. The appeal was not sustained.

M. Goldman appealed against 129, Denver, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

J. Baker appealed against 37, Boston, for suspending him. Owing to sickness and other extenuating circumstances the appeal was sustained and the member placed on the ninety-day list.

Ed Ebert and Oscar Mueller appealed against 444, Walla Walla, for suspending them for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

Frank Ruff appealed against 228, San Francisco, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

Frank H. Talbert appealed against 4, Cincinnati, for refusing to return his initiation fee. The appeal was not sustained.

M. J. Zellbor appealed against 335, Hammond, for suspending him for non-payment of assessments. The appeal was not sustained.

J. VanValkenburgh appealed against 68, Albany, for suspending him for non-payment of dues and assessments. The appeal was not sustained.

INTERNATIONAL FINES

The International Executive Board approved the application of 44, St. Louis, Mo., to annul the card of Roy Lenhardt, 876, and fine him $500.00 for working against the union, but reduced the fine from $500.00 to $100.00. Vote: Affirmative 3, two members approved $100.00.

Approved the application of 32, Louisville, Ky., to suspend and fine Pearl Karl, 8205, George Guillaume, 113716, and Doris Lynch, 30773, for working in a non-union shop, but reduced the fines from $200.00 to $100.00. Vote: Affirmative 3, three members approved $100.00, one member approved $25.00, one member disapproved the suspension.

Approved the application of 493, Watertown, S. D., to annul the cards of and fine H. H. Housen, 106467, and J. T. Kiley each $100.00 for working in the L. N. Schuler non-union factory, after being warned not to do so. Vote: Affirmative 5, one member approved $25.00, one member disapproved the suspension.

Approved the application of 184, Bay City, Mich., to fine John Dresden, 37219, and A. Dardas, 114657, each $25.00 for working in non-union shops. Vote: Affirmative 6, negative 0.

Approved the application of 367, Ogden, Utah, to suspend Herman Hahn, 80878, and fine him for working in a non-union shop, but reduced the fine from $100.00 to $50.00. Vote: Affirmative 4, one member approved $50.00, and one member approved $25.00.

Approved the application of 192, Manchester, N. H., to fine J. V. Cousins, 26861, $25.00 for conduct unbecoming a union man. Vote: Affirmative 6, negative 0.

Approved the application of Union 77, Minneapolis, Minn., to fine A. M. Menham, 112343, and Frances Shikany, 106347, $50.00 each and suspend them for working in a closed shop. Vote: Affirmative 4, one member approved $25.00, and one member disapproved the suspension.

Fines of $10.00 or Less.

Union 179, Bangor, Me., fined J. D. Richards, 81942, $5.00 for making open head work in violation of the bill of prices.

Union 24, Muskegon, Mich., fined Paul Medema, 38946, $10.00 for allowing himself to become suspended the second time because he knew he was going to quit the trade.

Union 502, Pittsburgh, Pa., fined Henry Fry, 1384, Max Gottlieb, 829, August Miller, 882, $10.00 each for working in a non-union shop.

UNION NOTES

Notes by Union 97, Boston: Yes, we started a cigar week in Boston; placed framed lithographs in the stores, streamers in the windows and notices in all the daily papers.—The Co-Operative is a brilliant success and will soon remove to larger quarters.—The boys in the various districts of Greater Boston are co-operating with the label committee to boom our label, making a house to house canvass.—We will place a beautiful sign in all of our street cars.—Label committee interviews dealers, distributes literature during the day and addresses meetings at night; some work, but 97 has always been an up-to-date union.—Well, when this is in print no doubt the convention will be over and there will be some revisions in our constitution.—Boston Co-Operative Factory is an object lesson not only to our craft but all of the workers.—It is idle to talk of "workingmen of the world uniting" when we find two distinct unions in one craft in the same city, each antagonistic.—Box makers of Boston are out; manufacturers are without boxes; Boston needs another box factory.—If there is a man, woman or child in Greater Boston who don't know of our label we should like a picture of him or her.—Yes, we gave $500 to the machinists of Beverly, on strike for collective bargaining.—Three hundred dollars to Hartford and $200 to Belgium.—New England Conference doing good work.

Union 246, Olean, N. Y., reports trade good and jobs open.

Union 487, Baker, Ore., writes that jobs are open.

Union 165, Philadelphia, reports that George H. Ullrich, former Financial Secretary-Treasurer of Union 165, has made good and has paid every penny due Union 165.

The card of Chas. Elix, 93868, was annulled by Union 33, Indianapolis, Ind., because of his working for the Ensley Iron Works, which is unfair to the Iron Workers' Union.

Any secretary holding the card of D. P. Brown, 99570, please notify Union 321, New Britain, Conn.

Union 407, Norwich, Conn., reports that John H. Madden, 104402, former secretary of Union 407, has made good his shortage to the satisfaction of the members and officers of the union, who made it good at the time it occurred, and that Mr. Madden has been reinstated and is a member in good standing now.

Union 97, Boston, Mass., would like to hear from Ed A. Harney, formerly of Boston. Has not been heard from in five years.

Union 129, Denver, Colo., would like to hear from John Ness, 27831.

Union 302, Tecumseh, Mich., announces that there are 25 jobs open there at from $12.00 up.

Boston, March 12, 1920.

To the Officers and Members of the Local Unions of the C. M. I. U. of A.

We, the undersigned, wish to and do thank you, one and all, for your kind and generous donations in aid of John De Jong, our old member of Union No. 97, Boston. Wishing you all success, we remain fraternally.

WILLIAM COLLINS,

Chairman.

SOL. JACOBS,

Secretary.

WILLIAM R. MCCOOL,

Treasurer, 11 Appleton St., Boston, Mass.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Sections 2 and 3 of the constitution. Adopted Oct. 8, 1919.

By Union 39, New Haven, Conn.

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50.00." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

By Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.

Amend Section 154 by striking out on line 21 the figures "$3.00" and inserting the figures "$9.00," the section as amended to read: "But in no case shall the Union Label be used in a factory in the United States which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making," etc.

In effect March 1, 1920.

By Union 500, Tampa, Fla.

Amend section 6 by striking out on line 2 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 4 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 5 the figures $3.50 and inserting the figures $5.00; the section amended to read as follows:

The International Union shall allow every delegate $7.00 per diem for time necessarily spent in going to and from the convention, and transportation rates by the shortest route; and $7.00 per diem, including Sundays, for the first fifteen days, and $5.00 per diem for each additional day the convention remains in session. No other appropriation from the general fund shall be made in favor of the delegates.

The amendment of Union 500, Tampa, Fla., to section 6, increasing the per diem of delegates from $5.00 to $7.00 for the first fifteen days of the convention, and from $3.50 to $5.00 thereafter, was adopted by a vote of 3,147 for and 461 against.

The union label guarantees full return on the outlay in the form of increased business and employment.

NOTE.—The amounts to be replaced by local unions will be found in column of "Deficiency in Funds of Local Unions on January 1, 1920."

Deficiency in Funds of Local Unions on January 1, 1920.

Section 177 of the constitution reads as follows :
Sec. 177. Unions expending more than the percentage provided for in Sec. 175 must replace the same within ninety days after receiving official notice. Failing to do so they shall be suspended. But local unions having a deficiency in their funds on Jan. 1, 1913, shall make up the deficiency upon the following basis: 50 cents per month per quarter. Any union failing to comply with this provision shall be suspended.

Review of General Trade Conditions.

The gradual recovery of foreign exchange has shown a corresponding revival in foreign trade and while exports are nowhere near the previous high mark, there is a firmer tone and a more optimistic feeling as to the immediate future.

It is obvious that in some lines the limit has been reached in both volume and prices. Supply is encroaching on demand, due largely to the fact that the consumer is refusing to buy at the prices he is asked to pay.

Iron and steel products remain high in price and hard to get, this holding good from gigantic plates down to an 8d wire nail. A demand for railroad equipment is noticeable and will no doubt increase rapidly as the steps toward reorganization materialize. The Railway Age says that $6,000,000,000 will be required for railroad improvements in the coming three years.

Crop reports continue favorable and farmers generally are buying new and improved machinery to replace the man-power which has seemingly deserted the farm for the city's industrial life. Livestock is reported in good condition and in increased numbers, especially milch cows and sheep.

Manufacturers in most lines report a continued placing of orders but the surplus of unfilled orders is decreasing in every article noted. This seemingly shows a recession in the near future, and while the storm signals are at present but dimly seen in the distance it is well that we trim our sails and prepare for what may prove to be a storm, or a squall, in the coming few months. Should the storm not materialize we have lost nothing and gained much by the period of preparedness.

The foregoing table is one of the most complete historical resumes of the financial transactions of the International Union ever issued. It presents a bird's-eye view of the benefits paid, the cost per member per year and the cost per member for the given number of years, and the balance on hand at the end of each fiscal year. For instance, in the payment of Out-of-Work benefit the amounts fluctuate according to the state of trade. The highest cost per member per year for Out-of-Work benefit was $6.43 4/10 in 1886, and the lowest cost per member per year was .37 6/10 cents in 1918.

The Out-of-Work benefit has been paid for a period of thirty (30) years, commencing January 1, 1886, and the average cost per member per year for the first ten years was $2.96 1/10. This is instructive information as to the cost of the Out-of-Work benefit, and the average cost per member per year of normal action was

Out-of-Work Benefit: A 30-cent member having paid weekly dues for a period of two years is entitled to an out-of-work benefit of $3 per week, and 50 cents for each additional day; and the Class A member is entitled to $1.50 per week and 25 cents for each additional day. No benefit is paid for the first one week after a member was discharged from employment or laid off. Any member receiving benefits for six weeks is not entitled to any benefit for seven weeks thereafter, and no member shall receive benefits exceeding 18 weeks in any one year.

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149, inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.—Mrs. Jennie Austin, 63131, who died April 1.

Union 129, Denver, Colo.—Donato Vega, 101728, who died January 27; and W. E. Cullom, 114014, who died February 5.

Union 5, Rochester, N. Y.—George Kraus, 3219, who died January 10; and Martin Gabel, 82956, who died February 23.

PRIVATE LOANS

Secretaries holding cards of the following will confer a favor by collecting private loans as set forth and remit to Union 291, San Jose, Cal. When figures are not given, the amount is $1: Chas. C. Collins, No. 77519, $2.50; Frank Gonzales, 64873, $2; John Watkins, 97525, $2; Dan Burns, 75776; Logan Paul, 69915; W. Schnabel, 50994; John Klein, 6838; Hosea Kent, 102719; Chas. King, 5321; Bernard Hogan, 59213; J. J. Pollard, 86680; Jas. Brown, 66930; John A. Rhein, 21301; Erwin Collins, 9302; H. A. Hays, 80616; Frank Gonzales, 1793; Phil Knorr, 94118; John Hay, 83231; A. Scholl, 87340; W. T. Lichtenstein, 15971; W. G. Hightower, 10433; C. P. Brown, 120674; Frank Wilson, 31713; J. S. Jensen, 33243; F. Perry, 3107; and J. O. Caldwell.

LETTER BOX

Note—Letters remaining uncalled for at the office after being advertised in the Journal for one issue must be returned to carrier of Chicago post office by order of Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C.

Returned the following to Postoffice Department since the last issue of the Journal: Henry Thiess.

Union 129, Denver, Colo., for W. C. Mummell, T. W. Alexander, Wm. Springer, George Gies, George Hahn, Louis Rojas, Herbert Bean, Carl Malchow, J. J. Gillam.

Union 114, Jacksonville, Ill., for J. Kirchhoffer.

Union 14, Chicago, Ill., for James Bishop, Edw. Hirt, and James Knudsen.

Union 332, San Diego, Cal., for James Randall, 50938, and Fred Alexander.

International office, for Chas. F. Duke.

Each circle formed in the interest of a particular reform expands toward the others, until all meet and merge in one great body, constituting a purchasing power quickened by conscience, directed by intelligence, and concentrated with unerring precision.

The instincts of woman and the interests of labor are conjoined in the union label. Both stand for cleanliness, morality, the care of the young, the sanctity of the home; both stand against strife and force.

It is time that we must take more cognizance of the wheels of progress and change our ideas and our laws to meet the revolution-
Looking Forward. ary changes which have taken place in our industry.

In the report which I submitted to the Cleveland Convention a careful analysis was made and the facts and figures therein portrayed which show the remarkable changes made in our trade. That report should be carefully read and studied, and action taken if we are to keep abreast of and control changed conditions. We must do that or changed conditions will control us and to our detriment. It is hard to break away from old traditions and harder still to suddenly realize the necessity of so doing, but the changes and absolute necessity make it necessary that we do so.

While the Cleveland Convention provided for another convention in 1922, two years hence, it is well that we consider and inaugurate sooner some of the demands that are pressing for immediate solution.

We live and work in an age of specialization and improvement in methods of production, and if we are to keep abreast of the times and maintain a numerically strong organization it is imperatively necessary that we reach out and bring into the fold all who are working in and around our industry.

Our prospects will brighten just in proportion to the speed with which we accomplish these necessary things. The lesson should be taken from the past history of other organizations. The machinists realized that a rapid system of specialization in that industry was going on and that the former work of the so-called skilled machinist who had served a long apprenticeship and was able to do almost anything in the machine shop, was gradually being performed by specialists who did only one part or one particular thing in the big factory, and that the number of real skilled machinists who could do many things was growing less, while the number of people employed under the specialization system was growing larger. The same principle and same idea applies in the building trades, among the molders, among the sheet metal workers, and among the carpenters and others. These people then realize that to maintain their organizations and through it their wages, they must organize all these workers, who were split up into squads and were doing one simple special thing in the factory. Wherever they have put this principle into effect they have grown numerically and have increased wages and improved working and shop conditions.

Nearly all of the jurisdiction fights and squabbles we have in the American Federation of Labor are caused by this reaching out of these various organizations to get members in correlated trades doing special work, into their respective organizations. All of these industries, including the printers, who have recognized the machine and proceeded to organize the operators, have been successful.

The organizations that closed their eyes to the changed methods of production steadily lost in membership and influence in the industry. This can perhaps be best illustrated by the Journeymen Tailors, who makes clothes to measure. They made no effort to organize the readymade clothing workers. The result was that these people organized and have made wonderful progress, while the Journeymen Tailors have steadily receded in membership.

We live and have been living for some time in an age of concentration, centralization, and crystallized effort in production as well as in distribution. Centralization and co-operation in productive industry was quickly followed by the chain store distributive system. Centralization and co-operation and control have been the watchword of the captains of industry in its productive as well as its distributive capacities. To keep abreast of the onward march of progress in industry, we must adopt the means that will first permit us to organize all of those in the industry and then maintain a strong, formidable organization with high dues and attractive benefits.

The convention just closed has made considerable material progress. Their efforts, however, should be supplemented by additional legislation which will enable us to carry forward the policies of a complete organization of all engaged in our industry.

There are no wage earners in the industry who should not be organized. They are all human beings entitled to fair living wages and conditions, and it is our duty to see to it that they have the opportunity to have them. The cigarmaker can be of material assistance to all others in and around the cigar shop, and the others if once organized and working in unison can be of material benefit to the cigarmaker. There is no such word as fail. These people can be organized, should be organized, must be organized, and will be organized. Other trades have organized all in their industries or nearly so. There is no reason in the world why we can not do the same if we first see the necessity and then make up our minds that we will do it.

The calling of names and the throwing of mud at the organization or its officers will accomplish nothing; on the contrary it is one of the biggest deterrents to rapid and substantial organization. The mud-slinger and the knocker does more to retard organization than even the employer. Let the watchword from now on be—Organize all in our industry regardless of what positions they fill.

The amendment to the Constitution, creating an expert advertiser as label advertising agent, does not fit the present needs. In my report to the convention I recommended that an expert advertiser be employed for a short time to map out the very best, up-to-date, scientific advertising and exploitation plan for our label, and that the Executive Board then take up the matter and endeavor to put such a plan into successful operation. This expert could not be got for less than at the rate of five thousand dollars a year, but would have to be employed only for a short time.

Under the plan adopted the President is authorized to appoint, subject to the confirmation of the International Executive Board, an advertising expert at a salary of three thousand five hundred dollars a year. A real advertising expert can not be obtained for less than five thousand dollars or more a year. Their salaries range all the way from five thousand to thirty thousand dollars a year. Under the proposed plan we are to employ an expert advertiser at a salary of three thousand five hundred dollars a year, and at the same time the President, who receives a considerably less salary, is made responsible for what the expert may do.

What we really need is an expert to show us how to do this work, and then go ahead and do it ourselves with a general label advertising agent who could oversee the work of label agitating, as well as doing much of this work himself.

The passing away of William J. Cannon, the former International President, who served from 1873 to 1875, removes one of the noted figures who was prominent in making the early history in organization work among cigarmakers. He learned his trade and joined the union in England, and came to this country a well grounded, constructive trade unionist, in 1863, and he immediately joined the union here and remained a member until his death, May 1, 1920. He was devoid of isms and theories and stuck steadfast to constructive trade union lines.

He was president during the terrific industrial panic and long period of stagnation which commenced in 1872 and 1873. The union at that time had practically no funds. All, however, wanted to resist reductions of wages and at the same time. The result was that strike benefit could not be paid. This had a disastrous effect upon the strikers, as well as upon the union. It was during this period that Cannon wrote his famous declaration and advice on indiscriminate strikes, the substance of which was that first of all a strike benefit fund should be established and maintained and that no union should go on strike until its application had been approved, and that it would be better to avoid strikes until the return of more prosperous times and save the union. His advice was not followed. One union after another plunged into strikes with no funds to sustain them. The result was the loss of the strikes and the loss of unions and membership which required years of ceaseless struggle to regain and rebuild. In a future issue we shall publish practically the whole of Mr. Cannon's remarks on the question of strikes at that time.

Billy Cannon was a sturdy, faithful trade unionist, a wise counselor, a courageous and outspoken official, thoroughly honest, and a natural born leader. Up to the time of his passing away he retained the respect and confidence and affection of not only the members of Union 17, Cleveland, but of the labor movement generally in Cleveland, where he lived the greater part of his life.

Suitable resolutions will be adopted by the International Executive Board and forwarded to his family.

The attempt to amend the laws in reference to the appointment of organizers, if ratified by popular vote, will disorganize the system of the appointment of organizers and their control by, as well as their responsibility to, the International Union. Forty-five or fifty years ago the International Union was divided into districts and state organizations, which led to confusion and discord, and was finally abandoned entirely.

The so-called Tampa amendment, which you will be called upon to vote upon between June 15 and July 15, provides that in certain districts local unions shall elect an organizer, they to be the sole judge as to whether he is competent to perform the work, and that such organizer can be removed only by the locals or districts that nominated and elected him, and that he cannot be shifted about from one section of the country to another by the International President. In plain English, this means that local unions may elect, but that the organizer, who is to be responsible only to the local unions that elect him, shall be paid by the International Union at large for his salary and expense.

Organizers of experience and capacity are hard to obtain. Few men possess the quality to make them successful organizers. Men who have families and homes don't like to take these positions. It requires a few years' training in any event to make a successful organizer.

Under the proposed amendment the organizer can not be sent into another district. In that event the local organizer may, for a hundred different reasons, become entirely useless in his own locality and district. He may incur the enmity of the people he seeks to organize, especially since the question of race and religion often enters into the matter. Falsehoods may be started against him which would be hard to disprove to the entire satisfaction of the non-unionists, whom it is hard to reach. The Vigilance Committees in some sections would make it mighty uncomfortable for him and the worst feature of it all is a divided authority and real responsibility to no one. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. The local organizer in a district would have as many bosses as there are unions and members in the district, while under the present system he is responsible directly to the President.

The surest way to organize our industry is to remove all restrictive bars and let everybody then boost for the union. They can then soon create a state of mind favorable to organization and the trained organizers can then get them into the union much more quickly than a local organizer can that has friends and enemies with many likes and dislikes, and a multitude of other things that would naturally work against him.

In addition, this amendment does not specify what is a district or a locality. It is utterly unworkable because of its loose construction and decided vagueness and indefiniteness.

Through circumstances over which we had absolutely no control and are in no wise responsible for a portion of the April issue of the Official Journal did not reach local unions until after May 1. As you know, the Journal is printed on union made, union watermarked paper. We ordered the paper in ample time. It was loaded onto the cars on April 1, and should have reached Chicago within five days at the utmost, and as the Journal does not go to press until the 15th ordinarily there would have been ample time. However, owing to the switchmen's strike the paper was tied up either enroute or in the yards in Chicago, and no trace could be found of it, and it was not delivered to the printer until May 1. We regret this delay but are in no wise responsible directly or indirectly.

President Perkins, in closing the convention, in part said: To say I am satisfied would not be expressing the true thought within me. I want to say, however, in explanation of that remark, that the man or the woman who is satisfied is standing still. I accept everything that has been done here during this convention. I accept it as an expression of your judgment, as the majority expression of the delegates here assembled. Satisfied? No! No man can be or should be satisfied in this struggle for a better life, for better conditions industrially, socially, and politically, for working men and working women, and I hope that I never shall be satisfied, and that no delegate here will be satisfied, until such time as we go into that condition befitting working men and women, until the time that we come into our own—a happier life for ourselves and our dependents.

It may be said that that is a long row and a hard struggle, that there is no patent route nor short cut to that condition. The industrial and social development of working men and working women is carried forward through the evolutionary process, and while dissatisfied with the progress made there is no question in my mind—there should be absolutely no question in the mind of anyone—that we shall gradually evolutionize into that higher condition and better life in which those who toil and produce will be considered the most important of all mankind and be rewarded accordingly.

The labor movement, the trade union movement, was born of necessity, not by accident, nor was it conceived in any one man's mind. Working men and women standing alone found themselves hopelessly divided and at the mercy of merciless employers, and they eventually did the natural thing for men and women to do—they united into a labor organization and through it made wonderful progress, and I venture to say, moreover, that no matter what we do we can not destroy the trade union movement. We may retard it through mistakes and errors of judgment, but we can not destroy the trade unions. Neither can any employer or any combination of employers ever destroy the Cigar Makers' International Union.

I see in this convention an aggressive spirit that, even though at times it has been hostile to me, spells progress. It means development, and if I ever had any far remote fear that the International Union might be destroyed (I never did) I am sure now it could not be. I am sure that this fighting spirit displayed here, misguided though it may have been from my viewpoint on certain occasions, spells determination to push forward to better conditions. Those who may have differed in thought as to line of action, if put into positions of responsibility, I am sure, would see things differently; their added knowledge and their judgment and their desire to make substantial progress would make them look through entirely different spectacles from those through which they have been seeing.

So again I say—I want organization. You want organization, and the men and women who work at the bench need it and need it badly, so that I hope when you go out of here today, when you go back to your homes, back into the field of activity, that you will forget any differences, as I have already forgotten them, and there, one and all, unitedly and earnestly work to organize the cigarmakers of our country. If those unorganized do not agree with the laws and our methods and you can get them into the union, it will then be within their province, through the exercise of that democracy afforded by our constitution, to make laws that will carry out their thoughts, their hopes, and their ambitions. So that I say to you, go out and organize these people, bring them into the union, and when you have done this you will have done more for those people than you can through any other process. You may divide, scatter, and split us up into two or more organizations of cigarmakers but you will not be doing the thing that will bring into the lives of cigarmakers a happier and better condition of life, or more money into their pockets.

With all good wishes to the membership and the delegates here assembled, I wish you good luck and a safe return home.

A. F. of L. Fund.

Since the publication, in the March Journal, of the receipts and expenditures of the special fund derived from voluntary contributions in aid of striking cigarmakers, we have received $607.87 from Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, which amount we have forwarded to the striking cigarmakers of Tampa, Fla.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The amendments to the Constitution and resolutions adopted at the Cleveland Convention are published in this issue of the Journal. The amendments and resolutions are numbered consecutively. A voting blank for these amendments and resolutions will be sent you, which will be numbered consecutively to correspond with the numbers in the May issue of the Journal.

Members and officers should preserve this Journal to be used in connection with the official voting blank, as the amendments and resolutions will not be again printed. The printed amendments and resolutions in the May issue of the Journal are official and should be used in connection with the official voting blank which will be numbered to correspond with the voting blank numbers in this issue. Voting on amendments and resolutions commences June 15th and ends July 15th. Official voting blanks will be sent to all unions in due time.

CORRESPONDENCE

On receipt of information that W. J. Cannon, an ex-president of the International Union, had passed away, the following telegram was sent to Mrs. W. J. Cannon:

Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1920.

Mrs. W. J. Cannon,
69th and Prospects Sts.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

With profound regret I learned of the irreparable loss you have suffered in the passing away of your husband. Few men in the early rise, development and struggle of the trade union movement were better known and none more highly respected than William J. Cannon. I personally knew him as an upright citizen, a wise and safe counsellor upon whose judgment I often relied in the many crises we have passed through. The convention just closed in Cleveland expressed its appreciation and gratitude for the constructive work he performed. May the thoughts expressed herein and others of a similar nature bring a ray of sunshine and be some solace and consolation in this, the most trying time of your life.

(Signed.) G. W. PERKINS,
International President.

Washington, D. C., May 4, 1920.

It was with the deepest concern and regret that I learned of the death of our honored past International President, William J. Cannon. At the Cleveland Convention I took personal pride in suggesting and preparing for the Committee on Resolutions the declaration of our appreciation of the services of William J. Cannon and Adolph Strasser for their great services as international presidents to our organization and its work, and to express the hope for long life of health and service of both these men. The sentiments expressed were put in the form of a resolution which the convention adopted by a unanimous vote.

It was an inspiration to hear Mr. Cannon at the opening session of the convention of our International Union express the loyalty and the devotion and the hope which he did.

At the time, before the resolution was presented to the convention, I saw Mr. Cannon in the hall and spoke to him and tried to induce him to ascend the platform so that he might be observed by the delegates and witnesses what I was sure would be a demonstration in his honor. In his modesty and his part infirmity he asked to be excused, and I felt that it was necessary to yield to his desire. That was the last I saw of him. To learn now that he has passed away from among us grieves me beyond adequate expression. I feel his loss very keenly. I know of no better advice ever given by any member of our International Union than was given by President Cannon during the period of his official position, and I cannot refrain, despite my busy time, from writing to express to you and through the Official Journal to our great membership, the loss which our International Union and the cause of labor has sustained by the passing of William J. Cannon. Sincerely and fraternally yours,
SAM'L GOMPERS.
First Vice-President.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 10, 1920.

Received assessments stamps today, and Financial Secretary asked me to write you how many weeks the $1.00 assessment is for, as the members have been asking how many weeks the assessment is going to run.

Please let me have an early reply.

EDW. HEITKAM, Cor. Secy.
May 13, 1920.

Mr. Edw. Heitkam,
Sec'y. Union 33,
Indianapolis, Ind.

Dear Sir:

Replying to yours of May 10, in which you ask how many weeks the one dollar assessment is going to run, I have to say that no one can tell at this time how long it will run. The popular vote sustained the Tampa and several other strikes. There are, or were, about eight thousand members on strike in Tampa. This requires about $40,000.00 a week, or would, if they all remained and drew strike benefit. How long the strike will last no one can tell. The one dollar assessment will be discontinued just as soon as the state of the funds will permit.

Sections 183 and 184 of the Constitution read as follows: "The International Union shall maintain a fund, to be known as the General Fund, which shall consist of the funds in the hands of local unions, and shall at all times amount to the sum of ten dollars per member. Whenever such General Fund of the International Union shall fall below the sum provided for in Section 183, the Executive Board shall levy an assessment on each member to replenish the same."

The funds having dropped below the constitutional limit, the Constitution automatically levies these assessments. The Executive Board simply had to execute the law; they have no alternative. The minute the state of the funds will permit, the one dollar assessment will be discontinued or reduced, and local unions will be promptly notified.

Yours fraternally,
G. W. PERKINS, Int. Pres.

CONVENTION CALL—AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

April 12, 1920.

To All Affiliated Unions, Greeting:

You are hereby notified that the Fortieth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Labor will be held at St. Denis Theatre, Montreal, Canada, beginning 10 o'clock Monday morning, June 7, 1920, and will continue in session from day to day until the business of the Convention has been completed.

It is, of course, entirely unnecessary here to enumerate all the important subjects with which our forthcoming Convention will concern itself, but the reminder is not at all amiss that every effort must be made to broaden the field and means for the organization of the yet unorganized workers; to strive to bring about more effectually than ever a better day in the lives and homes of the toilers; to defend and maintain by every honorable means in our power the right to organize for our common defense and advancement, for the exercise of our normal and constitutional activities to protect and promote the rights and interests of the workers; to assert at any risk the equal rights before the law of all workers with all other citizens; to aid our fellow-workers against the effort to entangle the workers in the meshes of litigation, before the courts in the several states; to make effective in our every day lives the principle declared in the law of our Republic (the Clayton law), "That the labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce"; to arouse our fellow-workers and fellow-citizens to the danger which threatens to curb and take away their guaranteed rights and freedom; to meet and help solve the vexatious problems of peace and reconstruction; to emphasize the dominating and determining economic character of our movement and to carry on such political action as the interests of labor will warrant and the trade union movement has directed; these and other great questions of equal importance will, of necessity, occupy the attention of the Montreal Convention.

Therefore, the importance of our movement, the duty of the hour and for the future, demand that every organization entitled to representation shall send its full quota of delegates to the Montreal Convention, June 7, 1920.
Sam'l Gompers, President.

Attest:

Frank Morrison, Secretary.
James Duncan, 1st Vice-President.
Joseph F. Valentine, 2nd Vice-President.
Frank Duffy, 3rd Vice-President.
William Green, 4th Vice-President.
W. D. Mahon, 5th Vice-President.
T. A. Rickert, 6th Vice-President.
Jacob Fischer, 7th Vice-President.
Matthew Woll, 8th Vice-President.
Daniel J. Tobin, Treasurer.

Executive Council, American Federation of Labor.

CONVENTION CALL, UNION LABEL TRADES DEPARTMENT OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Washington, D. C., April 20, 1920.

To All Affiliated Unions, Greeting:

You are hereby notified that in pursuance to the Constitution of the Union Label Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor, the thirteenth convention of this department will be held in Montreal, P. Q., beginning at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, June 3, 1920, and will continue in session from day to day until the business of the convention has been completed.

J. W. Hays, President.
John J. Manning, Secretary-Treasurer.
Jacob Fischer, 1st Vice-President.
G. W. Perkins, 2nd Vice-President.
A. McAndrew, 3rd Vice-President.
Matthew Woll, 4th Vice-President.
Joseph Proebstle, 5th Vice-President.
Executive Board.

OFFICIAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

G. W. Perkins, President.
Monon Building, Chicago.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, 318 W. 51st St., New York City, First Vice-President.
L. P. HOFFMAN, 729 N. Diamond St., Jacksonville, Ill., Second Vice-President.
A. GARIEPY, 239 Ave. Hotel De Ville, Montreal, Canada, Third Vice-President.
JOHN REICHERT, Brisbane Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., Fourth Vice-President.
E. G. HALL, 4124 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn., Fifth Vice-President.
E. J. STACK, 412 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland, Ore., Sixth Vice-President.
CHAS. H. STEVENS, 205 Southampton St., Buffalo, N. Y., Seventh Vice-President.
GIBSON WEBER, 1710 N. Gratz St., Station C, Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union. When notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to be insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

The International Union cannot authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel, he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of $1.00 to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 50c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on May 17.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent, 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 50c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just $1.00 in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 191, Morris, Ill.

That the President of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall call a convention of the International Union at the earliest possible date, as provided for in Sections 2 and 3 of the constitution. Adopted Oct. 8, 1919.

By Union 39, New Haven, Conn.

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50.00." The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

By Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.

Amend Section 154 by striking out on line 21 the figures "$8.00" and inserting the figures "$9.00," the section as amended to read: "But in no case shall the Union Label be used in a factory in the United States which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making," etc. In effect March 1, 1920.

By Union 500, Tampa, Fla.

Amend section 6 by striking out on line 2 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 4 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 5 the figures $3.50 and inserting the figures $5.00; the section amended to read as follows:

The International Union shall allow every delegate $7.00 per diem for time necessarily spent in going to and from the convention, and transportation rates by the shortest route; and $7.00 per diem, including Sundays, for the first fifteen days, and $5.00 per diem for each additional day the convention remains in session. No other appropriation from the general fund shall be made in favor of the delegates.

Union Notes by H. Abrahams, Boston.

Convention has come and gone; the interchange of thought will be of benefit to the craft. Let us hope the interval between the last and the next will not be eight years.

All sympathize with our first vice-president in the great loss he has sustained.

"Machinery benefits the manufacturer, sometimes the consumer, but never the laborer."

The change from the holding of the convention from September to June was wise.

The acceptance of strippers was wise.

The standard of living must be maintained. Trade unionism means more than paying your dues.

It seems strange that in the twentieth century that employes should be so short-sighted as to try and prevent organization of the workers.

Citizens have certain rights guaranteed them by the Constitution of the United States.

Why don't some one write up sidelights of the convention?

United Shoe Machinery Co. has a strike on its hands. They are trying to compel their employes to sign individual contracts. This is like holding a revolver to a man's head and asking him to sign a blank check.

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149 inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.—Joseph Miller, 83051, who died May 6, 1920.

LOST CARDS

40297, Frank Tschida, initiated Dec. 4, 1916, at 221; lost April 21, 1920.

121162, Gregorio B. Ortiz, initiated Feb. 2, 1918, at 350; lost April 6, 1920.

Proceedings of the Twenty-third Convention of The Cigar Makers' International Union

Monday, April 12, 1920, Cleveland, Ohio

The Twenty-third Convention of the Cigar Makers' International Union was called to order at ten o'clock a. m. on the above date in Bricklayers' Hall by Mr. William Dawson, chairman of the local arrangements committee.

Jacob J. Cohen, President of Cleveland Local No. 17, was introduced as temporary chairman, and after extending a brief welcome to the delegates he presented to the convention Mr. Thomas Farrell, Director of Public Utilities, and, until his appointment to that position, secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor. Mr. Farrell spoke in behalf of the mayor, who was unable to attend the convention on account of a death occurring in his family.

In extending a welcome to the delegates for the mayor and for the city, Mr. Farrell said:

"It is no small honor for any man to welcome to a city an organization that holds within its membership leaders of the type of Gompers and students of the type of Perkins, and speaking officially for the population of this community, I say that Cleveland is proud to have you within her gates; she knows what your organization stands for; don't hesitate to wear the insignia of your organization while you are here, because the great mass of the people of this community understand that that badge stands for an ideal, and they stand ready to co-operate with you in the securing of that ideal. Cleveland's people are a patriotic and liberty-loving people. I shall not bore you by telling you what we did during the time of stress, during the time our nation was passing through a crisis, but I just want to say, to the everlasting credit of the working people of Cleveland, that there was less turmoil and less industrial disturbance here than in any other large industrial city during the war.

The people of Cleveland believe in free speech, free press, free assemblage and the right to organize, so I say to you delegates that you need have no reluctance or hesitation in expressing, during the time of this convention your innermost thoughts. The people of Cleveland recognize, as do the thinking people of every community, that the men and women of labor have certain rights, and they have not been swept off their feet by this hysteria of greed and propaganda, like other communities have. They recognize, my friends, the fine hand of greed and of avarice trying to get into the saddle after the armistice was signed, but, my friends, propagandists of that type haven't made any headway in Cleveland.

I am commanded to offer a special word to one of your delegates this morning. The mayor does not assume, nor do I assume that that gentleman desires to step out of his role as a delegate to this convention, but the people of this community cannot help but recognize the presence in this convention of a distinguished citizen of our nation who has contributed so much to the welfare of the United States, a man who, when we were in the throes of war, lent his every effort to the end that the war might be successful. We specially recognize in that delegate the President of the American Federation of Labor, that organization that has done so much for mankind and has contributed so much to the cause of humanity, and I am directed by his honor, the Mayor, to say just a special word to you, Mr. Gompers, to say there is a hearty and cordial greeting extended to you and to all of you."

In closing, Mr. Farrell presented to the convention the key to the city and expressed the hope that all would enjoy a pleasant and profitable stay in the city.

Chairman Cohen introduced Mr. Joe Cassello, representing the Cleveland Advertising Club.

Mr. Cassello spoke interestingly of Cleveland's industries, her parks and boulevards, her proposed civic center, the contemplated subway and new union station, etc. He entertained the hope that all the delegates would enjoy the time spent in Cleveland and that they might return at some later date.

Mr. Henry Raisse, secretary of the Steel Workers' Union, was the next speaker. He told briefly of the accomplishments of the 70,000 trade unionists of Cleveland and dwelt in particular upon the success of the steel strike. Although the steel workers in Cleveland did not at the outset feel that the time was opportune to call a strike in the steel industry, they responded almost one hundred per cent when the committee finally decided that the strike should be called, and out of a possible 19,000 men to be organized in the industry, they succeeded in organizing 18,000.

Mr. Raisse spoke of the successes of the organized labor movement along political lines in Cleveland, pointing out that all their gains had been made by adhering to the long-standing policies of the American Federation of Labor and by electing their friends and defeating their enemies, regardless of party affiliation. He stated that all the working men and women of Cleveland asked was a square deal and the same kind of treatment accorded the employers by the city officials and by the courts.

Before closing his remarks of welcome, Mr. Raisse paid tribute to President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, expressing the hope that he might be spared for many years to lead the labor movement in the future as he had in the past.

The official welcome of Local Union No. 17, of Cleveland, was extended by Brother W. J. Cannon, international president of the organization from 1871 to 1875. Brother Cannon spoke interestingly of the old days and said that President Gompers and himself were the only two delegates in the convention who attended the last convention of the organization in Cleveland thirty-nine years ago. He related the following interesting incident of that meeting:

We had a system of proxy representation in vogue at that time, and Mr. Gompers was the only delegate from the city of New York. He came to us a young man in the prime of life, and I believe he had in a little valise which he carried in his hand some forty-three votes. So he was dubbed the "man of many votes"; that is what he was known by.

President Garfield was lying dead, and the catafalque was on view in the Public Square. Our meeting hall was hardly a block away from the Square, and on the first morning of the convention, after certain preliminaries, a motion was made to adjourn. The delegate from New York took the floor and made a very long and extensive speech in behalf of the working people of the United States, the Cigar Makers in particular; he went over the whole ground. We had invited the press, and after we had adjourned a reporter from the Morning Herald came up to me as the local delegate. He pointed to him and said: "Who is that man?" I said: "His name is Sam Gompers, he is the only delegate from New York and he represents the Cigar Makers; we have a system of proxy representation and he represents all the unions down there." He said: "He is a dangerous man." I said: "Dangerous? In what way?" And he said: "If those sentiments that he expressed are distributed broadcast all over the country, there will be turmoil and trouble." I said: "There is no fear; Mr. Gompers knows what he is talking about."

Now you gentlemen and every one who is connected with organized labor knows whether Mr. Gompers fulfilled that prediction or not. Mr. Gompers is known in every nation where trade union men live, at every table his name is a household word."

In closing, Mr. Cannon expressed the hope that the convention would be a pleasant and harmonious one, that the wrongs of past conventions would be corrected, and that many things left undone be accomplished at this meeting.

International President Perkins was next introduced and he replied with a brief acknowledgment to each of the previous speakers.

Touching on present industrial conditions, President Perkins said: "It is true that there is unrest, and as far as I personally am concerned—and I think I voice the sentiments of the delegates to this convention—I am glad of it. I would not stop unrest if I could, and I could not if I would. And it will be a mighty sorry day for working men and women, for the community at large, for our people, for our country and for our destiny, in which I am a profound believer, if there were no unrest. If there wasn't wrapped up in the minds and hearts of our people a firm desire and a determination upon the part of men and women to struggle onward and upward in our constructive trade union movement until there comes a better time and a better day in the lives of working men and women, and one such as befits them and which they are entitled to receive, then life would not be worth the living."

Responding to the welcome of Mr. Farrell, on behalf of the mayor, President Perkins assured him that there would be no occasion on the part of any one to regret the presence of the convention in Cleveland.

Acknowledging the address of Mr. Cassello, President Perkins referred briefly to the many fine buildings in Cleveland which the speaker had mentioned, and pointed to the splendid new Bricklayers' Hall, dedicated to the uplift of working men and women. He recalled the time when trade unionists found it difficult to obtain a place in which to meet and drew a comparison between those days and the present, when one of the most commodious halls in the city, owned and operated by union labor, was placed at their disposal.

Referring to Mr. Raisse's address, President Perkins complimented the labor movement of Cleveland on all that it had done in the way of aiding the reconstruction movement, and particularly on its efforts for the advancement of the interests of the working people.

He expressed pleasure at the presence in the convention of Brother W. J. Cannon. He reviewed briefly Brother Cannon's early activities in behalf of the trade union movement and stated that he had carried a union card ever since he first affiliated with the movement in 1864. He said that during Mr. Cannon's presidency, from 1871 to 1875, at a time when a man who belonged to a trade union was looked upon with suspicion, some of the best advice ever given came from Mr. Cannon, that during all those years in which we were proud to take counsel of Mr. Cannon, and from which we profited so much, there has always flowed from his heart the warm glow of unionism, and from his splendid mind wisdom and helpful advice, and he expressed the hope that at some time before the convention adjourned he would have the opportunity to again present some of the statements made by him at that time.

The President declared the convention in order and announced the appointment of the following Committee on Credentials: James Connelly, William D. Dawson and Henry Wheatcroft.

Miss Kitty Donnelly, representing the Waiters' Union, advised the delegates where they might obtain meals served and cooked by members of her organization.

At 11:40 a. m. the convention was adjourned to reconvene at 2:30 o'clock.

Section 163. Strike out the entire Section and substitute the following:

INT. ADVERTISING BUREAU.

Section 163. There shall be established an International Union Label Advertising Bureau, which shall be located in the same city as the International Headquarters.

The functions of this Bureau shall be to promote through a systematic form of advertising a greater demand for the use of the Union Label, and the distribution of propaganda and advertising matter for Union Label goods.

(a) An expert Advertising Agent shall be employed at a salary not to exceed thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500) per annum, whose duty shall be to purchase or secure the most practical and up-to-date advertising matter, such as calendars, display posters, novelties, and all other class of advertisement that in his judgment may be deemed necessary.

The International President shall be empowered to appoint said agent and shall have supervisory control over the agent and the bureau, with the consent and approval of the International Executive Board. The President shall advise and confer with him in all matters relating to the purchase and distribution of advertisements.

All advertisements pertaining to the Blue Label must be distributed to all local unions under the jurisdiction of the International, under such terms and conditions as may be agreed on by the President with the consent of the International Executive Board.

(b) State Federations, Union Label Leagues, Central Labor Bodies and all organizations shall be encouraged to co-operate with said Bureau for the purpose of maintaining a more uniform system of advertisement and general distribution of our Union Label Products.

Organizers and Label Agitators shall be directed by the President to co-operate with and assist officers and members of local unions in promoting the work of agitation.

(c) The funds necessary for defraying the expense of the International Advertising Bureau shall be provided for from a $1.00 per capita tax on all 20 cent and 50 cent contributing members to be taken from the general fund, based upon the membership as computed from the May Report.

GENERAL FUND.

Section 172. Strike out on line 5 the word "and," and on line 7 after the word label, insert, and International Assessments which are levied for special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b. Section to read:

Section 172. The funds of the International Union shall consist of the initiation fees, dues, assessments, interest on money in bank or on bonds, as hereinafter provided, and fines specified in these laws, except fines imposed by local unions for non-attendance at regular meetings; fines imposed for failure to do committee work or attend authorized meetings in the interest of the union label, and International assessments which are levied for special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b. Such fines so imposed by local unions shall not exceed 50 cents for any one offense.

EXPENSE ALLOWED LOCAL UNIONS.

Section 175. Strike out after the word fines on line 14, the words, "or from," and on line 15 after the Word Loans, insert, "or from International Assessments for the special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b." Balance of Section unchanged.

Section 177. Strike out the figures 1913 on line 5 and insert the figures 1921. No further change in Section.

GENERAL FUND, HOW SUSTAINED.

Section 183. At end of Section add "but this shall not apply to "Special Strike Fund," as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b. Section to read:

Section 183. The International Union shall maintain a fund, to be known as the General Fund, which shall consist of the funds in the hands of local unions, and shall at all times amount to the sum of ten dollars per member.

But this shall not apply to "Special Strike Fund," as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b.

THE HOURS OF LABOR.

Section 202. Strike out $5 and insert $7 on last line.

THE OFFICIAL JOURNAL.

Section 204. Strike out on second line after the word journal, and up to the word languages on fourth line. Add to Section after word "board" on last line, "Proceedings may be printed in foreign languages at the discretion of the International President." Section to read:

Section 204. The official journal of the International Union shall be entitled Cigar Makers' Official Journal. It shall be edited in conformity with the principles and resolutions of the International Union. The International President shall be the editor and publisher; he shall be empowered to secure such assistance as may be necessary to aid him in the issuance of the Journal. The salary to be regulated by the Executive Board. Proceedings may be printed in foreign languages at the discretion of the International President.

Section 205. Corrected typographical error in spelling the word "each." No other change in Section.

APPRENTICES.

Section 212. Strike out the entire Section and substitute the following:

Section 212. All persons learning cigar-making or packing must serve apprenticeship in the respective class of the cigar industry in which he or she may be employed, as hereinafter provided:

Apprentice learning the trade and alternating between hand and mould work, shall serve two years and four months and shall be required to serve at least one year and four months on hand work during the term of apprenticeship. If only mould work is being learned then two years and two months shall be served.

Those learning packing shall serve two years and two months.

After serving at the bench one year and six months, apprentices in this case shall receive at least 80% of the regular bill of prices under the jurisdiction of the Union where they are employed.

They shall be entitled to strike benefits as provided in Section 79, whenever strike application has been approved.

Section 212a. Apprentices learning team work—bunch breaking and rolling or those operating cigar machines, shall serve two years.

If a strike or lockout should occur during the period of apprenticeship in shops where such are employed, they shall be entitled to strike benefits as provided in class A.

Apprentices having served their time as cigar machine operators, may join the International Union as Class A members.

REFERENDUM AMENDMENTS.

Section 219. Strike out on line 3 after the word the, all up to the word Official on line 4. Balance of Section unchanged.

INTERNATIONAL AUDITORS.

Section 221. Correct typographical errors after word year on fourth line. No member of the International Union shall be elected on the Committee more than once in any one year. The Committee shall publish a report of their examination in the Official Journal. Strike out on line 8 $5 and insert $7. No further change in Section.

WHEN CONVENTION AMENDMENTS TAKE EFFECT.

Section 223. Strike out the word January on line 2 and insert the word August. Strike out on line 6, page 53, the word November and insert June. Strike out on line 8 the word "December," which appears twice, and insert the word "July" in each case. Section to read:

Section 223. The amendments to this Constitution shall take effect and remain in full force from August 1st succeeding the convention, provided the same has been duly ratified at that time by a majority of the members of local unions under the jurisdiction of the International Union voting on the question. All resolutions adopted by the convention shall be submitted to a popular vote of the members, and if ratified by a majority of members voting, shall be printed in the Constitution.

All amendments and resolutions shall be submitted to local unions for consideration at the earliest possible moment, and not later than June 30, following the convention.

The voting in local unions on amendments and resolutions shall commence July 1st and end July 31st, following the convention.

Respectfully submitted by Committee on Constitution.
R. S. SEXTON, Chairman.
ALEX RAMSAY
W. T. POWELL
MANUEL GONZALEZ
D. W. KENNEDY, Secretary.

President Perkins explained the procedure of past conventions, whereby any delegate has the right to offer an amendment from the floor while the report of the Committee on the particular section affected by the amendment is in progress, all such amendments to be presented in writing in duplicate.

Report of Committee on Constitution
Section 1. No change.

The report of the committee was concurred in.

By the committee:

Sec. 2. Strike out the first and second paragraphs up to and including the word "decide" on line six and insert the following:

The next Convention of the International Union shall be held in the month of May, 1922.

After two years have elapsed from the date of that Convention, a majority of the members voting on the question shall decide when the next Convention shall be held.

Section to read:

The next Convention of the International Union shall be held in the month of May, 1922.

After two years have elapsed from the date of that Convention, a majority of the members voting on the question shall decide when the next Convention shall be held.

Any amendment to postpone or delay or do away with the holding of a Convention previously provided for shall not be entertained by the International President unless submitted at least six months previous to the time set in the amendment already carried.

(The committee accepted an addition to their report, specifying that the convention shall be held on the first Monday in May.)

Delegate Billow, No. 527, submitted the following amendment:

That the Convention be held every year for the next three years coming.

Delegate Hilfers, No. 138, moved that Section 2 as amended by the committee be adopted. (Motion seconded.)

The question was discussed by Delegates Roman, No. 383, Black, No. 27, Grube, No. 39, and Billow, No. 527.

The amendment offered by Delegate Billow was lost, and the section as amended by the committee was adopted.

Section 3. Delegate Burcum, No. 393, moved to amend by striking out the word "may" in line 1 and inserting the word "shall." (Seconded and carried.)

Section 4.—The following amendments were submitted:

By Delegate Billingsheimer, No. 132:

Amend by striking out on lines three and five the figures "25" and inserting the figures "100," the section to read: The basis of representation in the International Union shall be one delegate for each local union, provided that said union shall not contain less than 100 members for three consecutive months prior to the election of delegates. Unions having less than 100 members shall combine with their nearest sister unions for the purpose of electing delegates. Unions having more than 500 members shall be entitled to two delegates, and for each additional 500 or fraction thereof not less than 200, one delegate more. In the election of delegates to the Convention by unions it shall require a majority to elect.

By Delegate Sommerfeld, No. 15:

Amend by striking out on line three the figures "25" and substituting "100;" strike out on line five the figures "25" and substitute "100."

(Similar amendments were offered by the delegation from No. 90, New York, and by Delegate Grube, No. 39.)

The chair suggested that all the proposed amendments of the same intent be acted upon collectively.

The question was discussed by Delegates Cooper, No. 336, Grube, No. 39, Sexton, chairman of the committee, Sonnefeld, No. 15, Brown, No. 144, Campbell, No. 488, Roman, No. 383, Connelly, No. 9, Rhine, No. 90, Spangenberg, No. 33, Meyer, No. 233, Perrone, No. 462, Stolze, No. 47, Lipschitz, No. 90, Estabrook, No. 202, Martinez, No. 460, Riley, No. 180, Black, No. 27, Billingsheimer, No. 132, Kain, No. 14, Otto,

No. 381, Van Horn, No. 14, Wackerman, No. 5, Boisseau, No. 220.

Vice-President Reichert occupied the chair during a portion of the discussion.

Most of the delegates who opposed the various amendments based their arguments on a plea for the small unions in localities where the product manufactured in the larger industrial centers is shipped for sale.

The discussion was still in progress at the hour of adjournment.

Opportunity was given for the introduction of resolutions, and at 12 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock p. m.

THIRD DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

The convention was called to order at 1:30 o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

Discussion was resumed on the amendments presented at the morning session to Section 4, and Delegates Heslop, No. 225, and Dehan, No. 251, discussed the matter.

Delegate Coon, No. 188, presented a further amendment, which provided that where the representation of a State does not meet with the number required by the amendments proposed, the State or Province shall be allowed a delegate. (The later action of the convention on the amendments to Section 4 made it unnecessary to consider Delegate Coon's amendment.)

Delegate Sommerfeld, No. 15, requested a roll call vote. The request was supported by a sufficient number of delegates, and the Secretary proceeded to call the roll. The result was as follows:

The following delegates voted in the affirmative—representing 174½ votes:

Jos. Bauer, Fred G. Schnabel, M. Schuencke, I. Sommerfeld, John Klevering, John Reichert, J. Brueggeman, F. A. Grube, John Guetens, Wm. H. Goodacre, Jacob Liepschitz, A. Groelinger, Jacob Rhine, P. The result of the vote being unfavorable to the amendments under consideration, the chair declared the amendments lost.

Delegate Coons, No. 188, then withdrew his amendment.

At this time the report of the Committee on Constitution was interrupted in order to hear the report of the Committee on Rules.

Report of Committee on Rules

Delegate Dehan, chairman of the committee, submitted the following report: To the Officers and Delegates of the Twenty-third Convention of the Cigar Makers' International Union:

Your Committee on Rules have met and beg leave to submit for your consideration the following Rules:

Rule No. 1.—That the morning session be from 9 o'clock until 12, and the afternoon session from 1:30 o'clock until 5 P. M.

Rule No. 2.—That no delegates be allowed to leave the hall without permission from the chair, and for violation of this rule the respective union represented shall be notified.

Rule No. 3.—That all resolutions and amendments to the Convention be submitted to the Secretary in writing, and in duplicate.

Rule No. 4.—That no delegates shall speak more than once on the same question until all who wish have had an opportunity, nor more than ten minutes the first time and five minutes the second time, unless permission be given by a majority vote of the convention.

Rule No. 5.—No document shall be read more than once except by consent of the majority of the convention. This shall not be so construed as to apply to reports of Committee.

Rule No. 6.—It shall require forty delegates to call for the Ayes and Nays.

Rule No. 7.—Any amendment of resolution properly introduced cannot be laid on the table until the introducer of such amendment or resolution has had an opportunity to speak. No motion to lay on the table shall be entertained unless seconded by twenty-five delegates.

Rule No. 8.—Upon the call of a question by twenty-five delegates the President shall inquire, shall the question now be put, and if decided by a majority of votes the President shall place the various resolutions and amendments in their respective order without further debate before the convention. If a majority is not secured for the question it shall not again be put until other business has intervened.

Rule No. 9.—All resolutions to be numbered in rotation as introduced. The number to be announced by the clerk.

Rule No. 10.—That the convention shall not adjourn while a delegate has the floor.

Rule No. 11.—That no motion to lay on the table to postpone or for the previous question shall be accepted from any delegate at close of his argument on any pending motion.

Rule No. 12.—Resolutions shall be introduced 15 minutes before the hours fixed for adjournment.

Rule No. 13.—Members on entering the hall for the morning or afternoon sessions shall deposit a card furnished by the clerk of the Convention with his name and number of the union he represents with the Sergeant at Arms. No card shall be accepted by the Sergeant at Arms after 9:30 A. M. or 2:15 P. M. Delegates failing to comply with Rule 13 shall be marked absent.

Rule No. 14.—Debate shall not begin on any question unless the mover has had the opportunity to preface the same.

Rule No. 15.—That no Rule adopted can be altered except by two-third vote of the Convention.

Rule No. 16.—All questions not provided for in these Rules shall be decided in accordance to the American Parliamentary Procedure as provided in Cushing's Manual.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH DEHAN, Chairman;
J. A. KAIN,
L. P. HOFFMAN,
J. A. ROBERTS,
JAS. A. SULLIVAN, Secretary.

The report of the committee was taken up seriatim, and each section was adopted as read.

On motion of Delegate Dehan, the report of the Committee on Rules was adopted as a whole.

Delegate Dehan, No. 251, moved that the convention at this time grant the privilege of the floor to Mrs. Lucy Robins, representing the General Amnesty League.

Vice-President Gompers presided during the address of Mrs. Robins.

The speaker told of the efforts being made to have the espionage laws repealed and of what had been accomplished towards a general amnesty for all political prisoners. She praised the American labor movement as represented in the American Federation of Labor and expressed the confident belief that the things for which labor is striving could be obtained by labor being true to itself and presenting a united front.

President Perkins resumed the chair at the conclusion of Mrs. Robins' address.

The report of the Committee on Constitution was continued, as follows:

Section 4.—Delegate Riefkin, No. 129, moved to amend Section 4 by changing the last sentence to read: "In the election for delegates to the convention by unions, it shall require a plurality vote to elect."

The question was discussed by Delegate Riefkin, Delegates Rhine, No. 90, Campbell, No. 488, Gompers, No. 144, and Sexton, chairman of the committee.

Delegate Hilfers, No. 138, moved the previous question. The motion for the previous question was adopted.

The amendment proposed by Delegate Riefkin was lost on being put to vote.

Delegate Steigerwald, No. 332, proposed the following amendment:

Amend Section 4 by striking out on lines three and five the figures "25" and substituting therefor the figures "50."

After a brief statement by Delegate Steigerwald his amendment was put to vote and lost.

The delegation from Union No. 90 proposed the following amendment:

Add to Section 4, after the word "elect" in the last line the following: "Should no candidate receive a majority of all votes cast upon the first ballot, there shall be a new ballot taken and all candidates shall be dropped from the list except twice the number of delegates to be elected."

The question was discussed briefly by Delegate Rhine, No. 90, President Perkins, and Delegate Grube, No. 39, after which the vote was taken and the amendment lost.

Section 5.—The following amendments were proposed:

By Delegate Heslop, No. 225:

Strike out "100" on line two and insert "25;" strike out "100" on line three and insert "25," section to read accordingly.

By Delegate Escassi, No. 474:

Amend Section 5 to read: "Each delegate shall be entitled to one vote for every 25 members of the union or combined unions which he or she may represent. The votes of unions having more than one delegate shall be equally divided among such delegates."

The question was discussed by Delegates Heslop, No. 225, Escassi, No. 474, Golden, No. 227, Perrone, No. 462, and Chairman Sexton of the committee.

Chairman Sexton attempted to make an explanation to clear up what he believed to be a misunderstanding on the part of the delegates in regard to the amendments, but did not do so until after the vote had been partially taken.

A delegate raised a point of order that the vote had already been taken, and President Perkins declared the point of order well taken.

The vote by show of hands resulted in 114 votes in the affirmative and 177 in the negative. The amendments proposed by Delegates Heslop and Escassi were declared lost.

Delegate Claramunt, No. 500, asked to be recorded as protesting against the vote cast on account of intervention on the part of a member of the Committee on Constitution.

Delegate Levitsky, No. 165, asked if the delegates did not have the right to a roll call vote on this question.

President Perkins replied that they did have that right, but that the request was not made and that the vote was deliberately taken and deliberately announced.

Section 5.—Delegate Hamilton, No. 49, submitted the following:

"Amend Section 5 by adding on line three the words, 'including twenty-cent members.'"

Delegates Hamilton, No. 49, Black, No. 27, Grube, No. 39, Spangenberg, No. 33, Levitsky, No. 165, and Lipschitz, No. 90, discussed the amendment.

The amendment was lost on being put to vote.

Section 6.—The committee offered the following:

Sec. 6. Strike out on line two $5 and insert $7.

Insert after word rates on line three—including sleeping car accommodation. Strike out on line four $5 and insert $7. Strike out on line five $3.50 and insert $5.00. Section to read:

The International Union shall allow every delegate $7.00 per diem for time necessarily spent in going to and from the Convention, and transportation rates including sleeping car accommodations by the shortest route; and $7.00 per diem, including Sundays, for the first fifteen days, and $5.00 per diem for each additional day the Convention remains in session. No other appropriations from the general fund shall be made in favor of the delegates.

Note—This Section was corrected to conform to recently adopted amendments by Union 500, Tampa.

Section 6.—Amendment by Delegate Steigerwald:

Amend Section 6 as offered by the committee on Constitution by inserting between the words "including" and "sleeping" the word "tourist," and after the word "route" on line four, add the following: "But where no tourist sleeping car accommodations are obtainable, the standard sleeping car rates shall be allowed the delegates." (Amendment lost.)

The motion to adopt the report of the committee was carried.

Section 7.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Amend Section 7 by striking out the words "for one year" on line three, and inserting the words, "in good standing."

The question was discussed by Delegates Billow, No. 527, Levitsky, No. 165, Kain, No. 14, Brown, No. 144, Grabenstein, No. 144.

The previous question was called for and the motion for the previous question carried.

The amendment of Delegate Billow was defeated by a unanimous vote.

Section 7.—Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Add on line four, after the word "election," the following: "And a resident of the locality or its jurisdiction for a period of at least three months prior to the election."

Delegates Roman, 383, Golden, No. 227, and Grube, No. 39, discussed the question.

On a viva voce vote the chair declared the amendment lost. Delegate Roman asked for a division, and the result of the vote showed 98 votes opposed to his amendment and 161 in favor.

The amendment was declared adopted.

Section 8.—Amendment by the Committee:

Sec. 8. Strike out the word "June" on line three and insert "February."

Section to read:

Sec. 8. All delegates to the International Convention shall be elected by their respective unions at the last regular meeting in February preceding the Convention, except as provided in Section 9. The union shall, at the time of electing a delegate, elect also an alternate to serve in case of disability of the regular delegate. No appeal against the election of a delegate or alternate shall be entertained unless the same be made within thirty days after such election. In the event of a vacancy in the office of delegate and alternate of any local union, such union shall have the right at any meeting prior to the

The report of the committee was adopted.
Section 9.—Amendment by the Committee:

Sec. 9. Strike out the word "May" on first line and insert "January." Strike out on line nine the word "July" and insert the word "March."

Section to read:

Sec. 9. In the first part of the month of January, prior to each Convention, the International President shall notify all local unions having less than twenty-five members to combine with the nearest sister union or unions; such notice shall contain the location of the nearest union or unions, also the number of members each union represents. On receipt of such notice each union shall nominate one candidate by ballot. The election shall take place on the second Tuesday in the month of March preceding the Convention; the candidate receiving the majority of all votes shall be the delegate; the candidate receiving the next nearest vote approaching an election shall act as alternate in case of disability of the delegate.

Amendment by Delegate Steigerwald, No. 332:

"Strike out all of Section 9 after the word 'delegate' on line 10.

The question was discussed by Delegates Steigerwald, No. 332, Orr, No. 87, and President Perkins. The amendment was lost on being put to vote.

Sec. 10. Strike out the word "August" on line ten and insert the word "April." Strike out the word "August" on line eleven and insert the word "April."

Section to read:

Sec. 10. The Corresponding Secretary of each local union shall, immediately after the election of the delegate, notify the International President of the result of such election. But in case where two or more unions combine to elect a delegate and alternate, the secretaries of each of said unions shall notify the other and the International President of the number of votes cast for each candidate. The delegate and alternate-elect shall be so notified by the International President, who shall publish a list of delegates and alternates in the April Journal.

On the fifteenth day of April preceding the Convention, the International President shall appoint a committee of five (5) on constitution, and the delegates so appointed shall convene in meeting one week previous to the Convention; all amendments to be proposed by the local unions shall be forwarded to the chairman of the committee, the local unions to be notified by the International President of the address of said chairman.

The amendments to be proposed by the Committee on Constitution shall be printed before being presented to the Convention.

Section 10.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Strike out paragraphs two and three of Section 10, the Committee on Constitution to be elected the same as the Committee on Officers' Reports.

Section 10.—Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Strike out second paragraph entirely and insert "After two years have elapsed from the date of this Convention and prior to any Convention a general Committee on Constitution shall be elected, consisting of twelve members. The laws governing the election of the International Executive Board, with the exception that one delegate shall be elected by the Porto Rican unions and one by the Canadian unions, and that the country shall be divided into ten districts, each district to be apportioned an equal or an approximately equal number of members by the International President. This committee shall meet at the seat of the International office and shall receive the same compensation that the delegates to the Convention receive. The President and the International Executive Board shall furnish all the information that this committee may solicit. All laws and amendments adopted by a majority vote by this committee shall be submitted to the general vote of the general unions, a majority vote to decide, and if, after this is done, the local unions by a two-thirds majority so decide, a Convention shall be held."

The hour of adjournment having arrived, consideration of the report of the Committee was discontinued.

A member of the local committee made several announcements and cleared up misunderstandings in the minds of the delegates in regard to union eating places in the city.

At 5:05 p. m. the convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, April 15.

F. G. HOPP,

Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD,

Assistant Clerk.

FOURTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 15, 1920.

The convention was called to order at 9 o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

The report of the Committee on Constitution was continued, and the chair stated that the amendment to Section 10, offered by Delegate Billow, No. 527, was before the convention. The amendment is as follows:

Strike out paragraphs two and three of Section 10, the Committee on Constitution to be elected the same as the Committee on Officers' Reports.

With the consent of the convention Delegate Billow withdrew that portion of his amendment providing that Paragraph 3 of Section 10 be stricken out.

After a discussion of the amendment by Delegate Hilfers, No. 138, the amendment was put to vote and lost.

Section 10.—Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Strike out second paragraph entirely and insert "After two years have elapsed from the date of this Convention and prior to any Convention a general Committee on Constitution shall be elected, consisting of twelve members. The laws governing the election of the International Executive Board, with the exception that one delegate shall be elected by the Porto Rican unions and one by the Canadian unions, and that the country shall be divided into ten districts, each district to be apportioned an equal or an approximately equal number of members by the International President. This committee shall meet at the seat of the International office and shall receive the same compensation that the delegates to the Convention receive. The President and the International Executive Board shall furnish all the information that this committee may solicit. All laws and amendments adopted by a majority vote by this committee shall be submitted to the general vote of the general unions, a majority vote to decide and if, after this is done, the local unions by a two-thirds majority so decide, a Convention shall be held."

The amendment was discussed by Delegates Roman, 383, and Hilfers, No. 138, and was lost on being put to vote.

Amendment by the Committee:

Sec. 10. Strike out the word "August" on line ten and insert the word "April." Strike out the word "August" on line eleven and insert the word "April."

Section to read:

Sec. 10. The Corresponding Secretary of each local union shall, immediately after the election of the delegate, notify the International President of the result of such election. But in case where two or more unions combine to elect a delegate and alternate, the secretaries of each of said unions shall notify the other and the International President of the number of votes cast for each candidate. The delegate and alternate-elect shall be so notified by the International President, who shall publish a list of delegates and alternates in the April Journal.

On the fifteenth day of April preceding the Convention, the International President shall appoint a committee of five (5) on constitution, and the delegates so appointed shall convene in meeting one week previous to the Convention; all amendments to be proposed by the local unions shall be forwarded to the chairman of the committee, the local unions to be notified by the International President of the address of said chairman.

The amendments to be proposed by the Committee on Constitution shall be printed before being presented to the Convention.

Adopted.

Section 11.—Amendment by Delegate Kindorf, No. 44: Amend Section 11 by adding the word "editor" on line 3.

In answer to an inquiry, President Perkins stated that the amendment of Delegate Kindorf, if adopted, would make the editor of the journal a member of the Executive Board.

The question was discussed by Delegates Kindorf, Grube, No. 39, Spangenberg, No. 33, Campbell, No. 53, Perrone, No. 462, Riefkin, No. 129, Sexton, chairman of the committee, Stolze, No. 47, Billow, No. 527, President Perkins and Butler, No. 248.

During the statement of Delegates Riefkin the chairman of the Constitution Committee rose to a point of order, claiming that the amendment under discussion properly referred to Section 50 and not to Section 11.

President Perkins ruled the point of order not well taken on the grounds that the amendment of Delegate Kindorf contemplated the election of an editor in the same manner as the other officers of the International Union, and that if his amendment was adopted, it would necessitate also the amendment of Section 50.

President Perkins pointed out that he had no objection to the creation of an assistant editor, but that in the final analysis the President of the International Union was called upon to bear the responsibility for any statements that might be published in the journal, and that he therefore should have a veto power.

The amendment offered by Delegate Kindorf was lost.

Section 12.—Amendment by the Committee.

Strike out the third paragraph beginning on last line on page five and up to and including the word "delegate" on page six.

Adopted.

Sections 13 to 20 inclusive were passed without amendments or changes being offered.

Section 21.—Amendment by Delegate Prida, No. 462:

Amend Section 21 by striking out the words "one year" on line two and inserting the following: "Ninety days in good standing."

Section to read:

"Every member of the International Union who has been such for ninety days in good standing continuously immediately preceding the election for officers of the International Union shall be entitled to vote at such election, and none others; but this shall not apply to members admitted by retiring card."

The amendment was discussed by Delegates Prida, No. 462, Brown, No. 144, Grabenstein, No. 141, and Grube, No. 39. (Amendment lost.)

Section 24.—Amendment by the Committee:

Strike out the figures "40" on line four and insert the figures "55." Balance of section unchanged.

The recommendation of the committee was adopted.

Sections 25 to 28 inclusive were passed without change.

Section 29.—Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Amend Section 29 by striking out the words "three blanks" and inserting the following: "Of as many blanks as there are candidates, plus one blank." And by striking out after the word "board" on line three, up to and including the words "First Vice-President" on line four, and inserting the following: "and one to each candidate," the section to read accordingly.

Delegates Roman, No. 383, Hilfers, No. 138, Van Horn, No. 14, discussed the question. (Amendment lost.)

Sections 30, 31 and 32 were passed without change.

Section 33.—Amendment by Delegate Guetens, No. 39:

Add the following: "That any candidate or his representative be permitted to be present at the counting of the ballots, without expense to the organization."

Delegates Grube, No. 39, Campbell, No. 53, Gompers, No. 144, Guetens, No. 39, and President Perkins discussed the question.

President Perkins explained the many safeguards now surrounding the counting of the ballots and further explained that under the requirements it would be physically impossible for any representative to watch the count.

Upon motion debate was closed.

The amendment to Section 33 offered by Delegate Guetens was lost.

Sections 34, 35 and 36 were passed without change.

Section 37.—Amendment by Delegate Liepschitz, No. 90:

Strike out all of the section after the word "election" in line two.

Delegates Liepschitz, Campbell, No. 53, Levitsky, No. 165, Hilfers, No. 138, discussed the question.

Delegate Black moved the previous question. (Motion seconded and carried.)

The amendment of Delegate Liepschitz to Section 37 was lost.

Section 38. No change.

Section 39.—Amendment by the Committee:

Strike out $5 on line four and insert $7. balance of section to remain unchanged.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Section 40.—Amendment by Tampa delegation: Amend by adding the following:

"No International officer shall be a candidate for the same office after having served two consecutive terms; this shall not prevent on ex-official from presenting his candidacy after the expiration of one or more intermissions."

Section 40.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Amend by striking out the word "five" on line two of paragraph one and line two of paragraph two, inserting the word "two," the balance of the section to remain unchanged.

(Amendment lost.)

The amendment offered by the Tampa delegation was discussed by Delegates Cooper, No. 336, Kindorf, No. 44, Brown, No. 144.

Delegate Martinez, of Porto Rico, presided during a portion of the discussion.

The amendment of the Tampa delegation was lost.

Sections 41 to 47 inclusive. No change.

Section 48.—Amendment by Tampa delegation:

Add after the words "trial by," on line six, the following: "A jury composed of the Executive Board and an equal number of members elected by the four locals established in the four cities nearest to the accusing local."

After a discussion of the amendment by Delegates Cooper, No. 336 and Hilfers, No. 138, a motion was made to close debate. (Motion carried.)

Amendment of Tampa delegation to Section 48 lost.

President Perkins in the chair.

Section 49.

In answer to a question by Delegate Rhine, No. 90, as to the advisability of sending to all the Vice-Presidents at one time all the papers in appeal cases, First Vice-President Gompers explained that it was physically impossible on account of the nature of the exhibits and documents in such cases which could not be copied.

Section 49.—Amendment by Tampa delegation: Strike out all of Section 49 and insert:

"A Board of Appeals, composed of ten members, shall be elected in the same manner as the International officers. This board shall elect a President and Secretary. This board shall decide all questions of law or regulate any controversy or difficulty which may arise between the local unions, or members of the unions, or local unions and the International Union, subject to an appeal to a popular vote. A majority vote of all members shall be final. The number of votes, both in the affirmative and negative, shall be returned to the secretary of the Board of Appeals. When an appeal is taken from any decision rendered by the board, ten days' notice of same shall be filed with the board, in order to give time to show cause for having rendered such decision; and no appeal shall be taken cognizance of by any member of the Board of Appeals unless such provisions have been complied with. In the event of an appeal being taken from the decision of the Board of Appeals, the President of said board shall have the casting vote and shall be the officer to whom all communications upon the subject shall be addressed. Any member of the Board of Appeals (after having been duly notified by the President of the board) refusing to return his vote within ten (10) days on an appeal, the President of this board shall demand the resignation of said member for refusing to perform his duty. When a decision has been rendered by the Board of Appeals, a communication shall be sent by the Secretary of the Board of Appeals to the International President, who, within 30 days, shall publish the same in the Official Journal.

The amendment was lost on being put to vote.

Section 49.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Amend by striking out the word "President" on line one and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Executive Board," the remainder of the section to be re-arranged so as to make the Executive Board the judges of appeals, subject to other laws of appeals.

Delegate Billow discussed the amendment after which it was put to vote and lost.

Section 50.—Amendment by the Committee:

Strike out $40 on line five, page fourteen, and amend the amendment of Union No. 39, New Haven, by striking out "$50.00" and inserting "$60.00."

Section 50.—Amendment by Delegate Burcum, No. 394:

Amend by striking out "$40.00" on last line and inserting "$100.00."

Section 50.—Amendment by Delegate Spangenberg, No. 33:

Amend by striking out the words "$40.00 per week" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "$300.00 per month."

Vice-President Gompers in the chair.

At the suggestion of the Vice-President, the convention agreed to take up the one proposition of increasing the salary of the President from $40.00 to $60.00 per week.

Delegate Roman, No. 383, stated that he had no objection to the suggestion for an increase in salary, providing the suggestion came originally from the rank and file, and not from the Committee on Constitution. He asked to be recorded accordingly.

Delegate Grube, No. 39, favored the proposed increase and pointed to the fact that many men engaged in the cigar making industry, with no greater responsibility than the performance of their daily labor, were receiving wages equal to, and greater in some instances than the salary of the International President.

Upon motion, debate was closed.

The proposition to increase the salary of the International President to $60.00 per week was adopted by practically a unanimous vote.

At 12 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 p. m.

FOURTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

The President stated that there were two proposed amendments to Section 50 which were before the convention at the time of adjournment and which, according to parliamentary rules and usages, should have been voted upon prior to the last action of the convention at the morning session. Since the President's salary was involved in the two propositions, Second Vice-President Hoffman was called to the chair and asked to rule on the amendments presented by Delegates Burcum, of No. 394, and Spangenberg, of No. 33, the former providing for a salary of $100.00 per week and the latter a salary of $300.00 per month for the International President.

Vice-President Hoffman ruled both amendments out of order, in view of the action already taken by the convention before the noon adjournment.

President Perkins in the chair.

Section 50.—The Tampa delegation presented the following amendment:

Add after the words "once a month" on the twenty-second line, the following: "shall publish information relating to the industry and an annual summary of the financial state of the International Union; shall specify, if possible, all causes of the numerical increase or decrease of the organization, shall publish the results of the referendum vote of all locals in regard to strike applications, shall give information as to the causes of all strikes and how and when they terminate."

President Perkins called attention to the fact that the law already provides for the publication of the numerical strength of the organization annually, and that it is published each year in the Official Journal for April. He stated that the remainder of the amendment properly belonged under the caption of "Strikes" and ruled that it could be considered when that part of the report of the Committee on Constitution was reached.

Sections 51 to 53 inclusive. No change.

Section 54.—Amendment by the Committee:

Insert after the word "fare" on line five "including sleeping car accommodation." Strike out $5 and insert $7.

Section to read:

Sec. 54. The President of the International Union shall have the power to call a general meeting of the International Executive Board whenever, in his judgment, he may deem it necessary. The members of said board shall receive railroad fare, including sleeping car accommodation, and $7 per diem for actual time lost.

(Amendment adopted.)

Section 54.—Amendment by J. Billow of Local No. 527:

DUTIES OF THE INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD

Strike out all of Section 54 and insert the following:

Section 1. The International Executive Board shall consist of the seven vice-presidents and the International Treasurer. They shall elect their own chairman and recording secretary among their own members. They shall meet semi-annually in the months of November and May, or oftener when required. The International President shall have no vote.

Sec. 2. The International Executive Board shall decide all points of law between members and locals and locals and the Joint Advisory Boards. All appeals submitted to them in proper form and their decisions shall be binding, unless reversed by vote of the general membership. They shall have the general supervision of the affairs of this organization.

Sec. 2. The International Executive Board Executive Board shall deem a new law necessary to govern this organization in a matter not provided for in the constitution, or a change in the constitution, they may recommend such law or change in the law or laws. Such recommendations shall take the regular course as provided by Section — on the Referendum.

Sec. 4. They shall have full control and supervision over all general and special organizers, agents, International financiers and the editor. They shall appoint and discharge whenever in their judgment they may deem necessary any of the non-elective employees of the International office.

Sec. 5. Between sessions of the International Executive Board the International President-Secretary shall conduct the office in accordance with the duties as specified under the head of International President.

Sec. 6. The members of the Executive Board shall receive $7.00 a day and railroad fare, $2.50 each day for hotel expenses. This should be for actual loss of time in going to and from Executive Board meetings.

Section 54.—Amendment by Delegates from No. 90: Amend as follows:

Strike out on lines one and two, after the words "shall have power to," and after the word "Board" on line three the words "when-ever, in his judgment, he may deem it necessary," and insert in lieu thereof the words "at least once a year."

After a discussion by Delegates Rhine, No. 90, and Kindorf, No. 44, of the amendment presented by the delegation from No. 90, it was adopted.

The amendment proposed by Delegate Billow to Section 54 was defeated, after a discussion by Delegates Billow, No. 527, Hilfers, No. 138, and President Perkins.

Section 55. No change.

Delegate McGregor, No. 228, moved that consideration of the report of the Committee on Constitution be deferred at this time in order to take up the important question of organizers and organization, as covered in Section 56. (Motion seconded.)

President Perkins explained that the amendments submitted to Section 56 covered the whole range of the subject of organizers and organization.

Delegate McGregor's motion was lost on being put to vote.

Section 56.—Amendment by the Committee:

Amend by striking out last sentence of section, after the word "Journal."

Section 56.—Amendment by Union No. 25: Amend as follows:

"The Cigarmakers' International Union shall be divided into districts of ten thousand members. An organizer shall be elected by the locals of such district for one year. There shall be created a District Board and the organizer shall be under their supervision."

Section 56.—Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Strike out the word "six" on line two and insert after the words "may direct," on line seven the following: "The organizers shall be appointed from three names of members selected by election in District Divisions based upon the principle of the label leagues now existing and submitted by such District Divisions."

Section 56.—Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Add to Section 56 on line three of paragraph three, after the words "official journal," the following:

"And the local union or unions in which jurisdiction an organizer or organizers are operating shall submit a final report on the work of organizer or organizers, to be also published in the Official Journal."

Section 56.—Amendment by Delegate Liepschitz, No. 90:

Strike out lines one and two up to the words "Executive Board," and insert:

"Each J. A. B. in its respective district shall appoint one or more label agitators and organizers." Strike out on lines six and seven the words "International President" and insert "J. A. B." likewise on lines eight, nine and eleven, and arrange balance of section accordingly.

Section 56.—Amendment by Unions No. 336, 462, 464, 474 and 500, of Tampa:

"Whenever the International President shall consider it necessary to appoint organizers he shall notify all of the locals in the district where said organizers are necessary, and said locals shall nominate candidates whose names shall be forwarded to the International office. Ten days after said notification the nominations shall be closed and the International President shall immediately send the election ballots to the local unions in question. A majority vote shall elect. In case of a tie the election shall then be carried on as specified in Sections 41 and 42. The organizers shall act only in the district for which they are elected. They shall send a weekly report to the International office and to the local unions of their district. The local unions are entitled to examine the work of the organizers. All local unions shall communicate to each other the results of the election and they shall also notify the International President, who shall publish the name of the member elected in the next issue of the Journal. The International President shall notify and instruct the members elected as to the duties to him entrusted as organizer. Any local union that may present convincing evidence of the incapacity of the organizer of their district, or of conduct unbecoming an official of this organization, shall be authorized to ask for his impeachment, sending all the evidence required to the International President, who shall at the same time submit the petition to a vote of all local unions in the district and shall also give information as to the cause in said decision. The work of the organizer shall cease as soon as his services become unnecessary."

The amendment offered by the Committee to Section 56 was acted upon first and adopted.

Chairman Sexton reported, on behalf of the Committee on Constitution, non-concurrence in the amendment offered by the Tampa delegation, and moved the adoption of the report of the committee. (The motion was later withdrawn temporarily, to give the Tampa delegation an opportunity to prepare a duplicate copy of their amendment.)

First Vice-President Gompers in the chair.

The amendment by Delegate Liepschitz was next considered and discussed by Delegates Liepschitz, No. 90, Brey, No. 97, and Grube, No. 39.

A motion for the previous question was adopted.

The amendment to Section 56 offered by Delegate Liepschitz was lost.

The amendment submitted by Delegate Roman, No. 383, was discussed by Delegate Roman and Delegate Gompers.

A motion for the previous question was adopted, and Delegate Roman's amendment defeated.

Delegate Grube's amendment was discussed by Delegate Grube, No. 90, Hamilton, No. 49, Levitsky, No. 165.

Upon motion, debate was closed, and on being put to vote the amendment of Delegate Grube was lost.

President Perkins in the chair.

The amendment offered by the Tampa delegation was then taken up and discussed by the following delegates: Escassi, No. 474, Perrone, No. 462, Alonzo, No. 389, Estabrook, No. 202, Gompers, No. 144, Brey, No. 97, Black, No. 27, Rhine, No. 90, Velleman, No. 97, Golden, No. 227, Sexton, chairman of the committee, Grube, No. 39, Kain, No. 14, Pederitch, No. 247, and Brown, No. 144.

Near the hour of adjournment, Delegate Sexton moved that the rules be suspended and that the question before the convention be disposed of before adjournment, in order to save time. (Motion seconded.)

Delegate Velleman, No. 97, moved as an amendment that the convention adjourn and continue the discussion on the following morning. President Perkins declared the motion out of order, it being a negative motion.

President Perkins read the following telegram:

Tampa, Fla., April 14, 1920.

G. W. Perkins,
Gillay Hotel, Cleveland, O.:

Manufacturers refuse to discuss or accede demands. Twenty-nine shops strike. Tell the convention we are going to have a one hundred per cent union town.

(Signed) JOSE MUNIZ,
Secretary.

The following resolutions were introduced and referred to the appropriate committees:

RESOLUTION NO. 17

Submitted by Delegate J. F. Burcum, of Union No. 394, of Sycamore.

Resolved, that any committee appointed (under the provision of Resolution one) shall be instructed to work from the basis of the retail price of the cigar.

RESOLUTION NO. 18

Submitted by Delegate Manuel Roman, of Union No. 383, of Chicago.

Whereas, the cost of living is increasing in every city of the United States, and

Whereas, the necessities of the cigarmakers are getting to be almost the same everywhere in this country, and

Whereas, there are cigarmakers in local unions working on scale of prices in some instances ten to twenty dollars per thousand lower than cigarmakers and unions of other localities, and

Whereas, cigar manufacturers are taking advantage of the situation, moving their factories or establishing branches of them in cheaper districts, or making arrangements in those cheap districts where branches are already established with the cigarmakers or their representatives to secure a permanency, or to minimize any probability of interruption in the manufacture of cigars, and

Whereas, this is detrimental to the welfare of the cigarmakers and detrimental to the principles of the C. M. I. U., be it

Resolved, by this Convention that C. M. I. U. adopt as one of its aim the securing of a uniform bill of prices, taking into consideration all the local conditions and necessities of the trade and local interests of the cigarmakers and establishing wherever the case will so require it, a reasonable differential of prices to meet those local conditions, necessities or interests, and be it further Resolved by this Convention that whenever, in the judgment of the International Executive Board, a sufficient number of the unorganized element have come into the organization or whenever the entire membership of local unions, by a majority, so demand, a committee shall be appointed by the International Executive Board to select the highest bill in the country to be used as a basis for the uniform bill and to present a plan on how to promote the enforcement of it.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 19

Submitted by Delegate N. L. McGregor, of Union No. 228, of San Francisco.

Be it Resolved, that a committee of five be elected from the floor of this Convention to present a practical plan of organization for the entire cigar industry.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, the chairman declared the Convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Friday morning, April 16th.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't. Clerk.

FIFTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 16, 1920.

President Perkins called the convention to order at 9 o'clock.

On motion by Delegate Hayford, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The Clerk of the convention announced that delegates from the following unions had not attended any of the sessions of the convention: Delegates Schneberger, No. 35, Wm. R. Speece, No. 64, P. Rivera, No. 119, Samuel Shomo, No. 146, Jose Garcia, No. 333, J. P. Ritter, No. 361, F. A. Lugo, No. 376, and C. H. Siple, No. 463.

He also announced that Delegate R. H. Morris, representing Unions No. 276-451-499 had attended only one session, and that the following delegates were marked, according to the attendance cards, as being present at only one or two sessions: A. T. Gibbs, No. 29, Wood, No. 27, Kaiser, No. 57, Collins, No. 97, Rafferty, No. 97, Smith, No. 102, Levitzky, No. 165, Hernfeld, No. 165, Dixon, No. 223, Barthold, No. 288, Doyle, No. 293, Smith, No. 301, Wagaman, No. 316, Prida, No. 462, Chimini, No. 462, Vaccoro, No. 464, Escassi, No. 474, Herbert, No. 476, Bilbas, No. 500.

Delegate Connelly, No. 9, moved that the case of Delegate Morris be referred to the Credential Committee for investigation. (Seconded and carried.)

Delegates Prida, Hernfeld, Smith (301), Herbert, Levitzky, Escassi, Barthold, Dixon and Collins gave satisfactory excuses for their non-attendance or oversight in depositing attendance cards, and the Clerk was instructed to make a note of their explanations in the minutes.

President Perkins stated that the matter before the convention was the amendment to Section 56 proposed by the Tampa delegation, which was under discussion at the hour of adjournment on the day previous. He further stated that an additional amendment to Section 56 had been presented and requested the Clerk to read it. The amendment follows:

Section 56.—Amendment by Delegate Auman, No. 242:

Amend Section 56 on line two, after the word "Board," by striking out the words "at least six," and inserting the word "four." Balance of this paragraph to remain unchanged. Strike out the whole of paragraph two in Section 56 and insert the following: "Where, in the opinion of two or more local unions in any locality, after taking a vote, it should be decided by these locals that it is necessary to have one or two special sub-organizers appointed, each local union should place the names of two of its members with the International Organizer in that section, said International Organizer to investigate as to who, in his opinion, would be the most capable person or persons to be appointed and submit the same to the International President, who should then appoint, subject to the confirmation of the International Executive Board, said sub-organizer to be removed at any time it should be so advised by International Organizer in that section. Sub-organizer to receive same salary as International Organizer."

Amend paragraph three of Section 56 by striking out all after the word "Journal" on line three.

The entire morning session was consumed in the discussion of the Tampa amendment, and the question of organization was gone into thoroughly. Local situations were cited in support of the various arguments for and against the amendment, and questions and answers pertaining to purely local conditions were passed between the delegates during the discussion. The following delegates spoke on the question: Brown, No. 144, Levy, No. 13, Van Horn, No. 14, McGregor, No. 228, Hilfers, No. 138, Collins, No. 97, Campbell, No. 53, Goldhoff, No. 22, Dawson, No. 17, Joel, No. 97, Sexton, No. 110, Borden, No. 217, Billow, No. 527, Connelly, No. 9, Grube, No. 39, and Nace, No. 192.

On motion the time of Delegates Levy, No. 13, and Goldhoff, No. 22, was extended so as to permit them to complete their statements.

Delegate Black, No. 27, with the consent of the convention, at this time withdrew an amendment to Section 50 which he proposed on the afternoon of the 4th day's session, and which President Perkins ruled would properly come up under the caption of "Strikes."

At 12 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 p. m.

FIFTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

The convention was called to order at 1:30 o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

Delegate Connelly, chairman of the Committee on Credentials, reported that the case of Delegate Morris had been investigated and it was found that he had been in attendance regularly at the convention.

The report of the committee was accepted.

The discussion on the Tampa amendment to Section 56 was resumed, and the following delegates spoke: Malhado, No. 144, Dehan, No. 251, Levitzky, No. 165, Spangenberg, No. 33, Martinez, No. 460, Horne, and President Perkins.

On motion, the time of Delegate Dehan and Delegate Martinez was extended.

President Perkins reviewed the work of the International Organizers and stated that he at all times welcomed criticism or information from any locality where any organizer, International or Local, was not performing his full duty. He also answered questions put by Delegates Horne, Rhine and Escassi.

Delegate Roman, No. 383, stated that a Porto Rican delegate who could not speak English wished to speak on the question. President Perkins ruled that the English language was the official language of the convention, and that anything the delegate might say would necessarily have to be translated.

Upon motion debate was closed on the Tampa amendment. A sufficient number of delegates asked for a roll call.

Delegate Cooper, No. 336, stated that his co-delegate was forced to return to Tampa on account of the strike in that city and asked for a ruling as to whether or not he might vote the full strength of his union.

The chair ruled that, while the law is not clear on this point, as a matter of fairness a union entitled to four delegates and sending only one to the convention should have the right to cast the full vote of that union.

The Clerk then read a letter from Delegate Vicarro, No. 464, asking that Delegate Claremont be designated as his proxy in all matters coming before the convention.

President Perkins ruled that no proxy representation was permitted in the convention.

The Clerk then read the amendment to Section 56 proposed by Delegate Aumen, No. 242, printed elsewhere in the minutes, and the following amendment proposed by the committee:

Amendment to Section 56.—By the Committee:

Amend paragraph two by striking out, after the word "salary" on line five, up to and including the word "sub-organizer" on line six. Insert, after the word "direction" on line three the following: Local unions or J. A. B. (where such bodies are operative) may nominate a member, and the choice agreed upon shall be appointed. Paragraph two to read: "Organizers shall be empowered to appoint (subject to confirmation by the International Executive Board) sub-organizers to be under his immediate control and direction. Local unions or J. A. B. (where such bodies are operative) may nominate a member, and the choice agreed upon shall be appointed. Said sub-organizers to work at trade whenever practicable, the amount of money so earned to be deducted from stipulated salary."

(Prior to the vote being taken, a delegate from No. 144 stated that Delegate Brown was absent and asked if the delegation would be permitted to cast his vote. President Perkins ruled that the remaining three delegates would be permitted to cast one-third each of the vote of the delegation.)

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll on the Tampa amendment, and the result was as follows:

The following 112 delegates voted in the affirmative—representing 245½ votes.

Ayes.—John L. Gilliam, Jos. Bauer, Fred. G. Schnabel, J. B. Sigel, M. Schuencke, I. Sommerfeld, John J. Ellis, S. S. Smith, Roy A. The chair declared the Tampa amendment to Section 56 adopted.

The amendment to Section 56 proposed by the committee was next taken up and discussed by Delegates Levitzky, No. 165, and Chairman Sexton, of the Committee.

The vote by show of hands on the adoption of the committee's amendment resulted as follows: 166 in favor; 99 against.

The chair declared the committee's amendment adopted.

Delegate Brey, No. 97, moved that the Clerk be instructed to prepare a new and complete roll call and furnish each delegate with a copy of same. The motion was seconded and carried.

Delegate Dawson, No. 17, moved that Mr. Clark, a representative of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International Union, be given the privilege of addressing the convention at the opening of Saturday's morning session. The motion was seconded and carried.

The report of the Constitution Committee continued.

Amendment by the Committee:

Sec. 57. Strike out on line five, page sixteen, $21 and insert $30. Strike out on line seven $2.50 and insert $3.50. Balance of Section unchanged. Section to read:

Sec. 57. The President shall appoint, subject to the confirmation by the Executive Board, one or more members, whose duties shall be to examine the financial accounts of local unions, instruct the financial officers in the discharge of their duties, and submit a financial statement of the condition of the unions examined by them to the International President; the report of the financiers on the condition of financial accounts of local unions to be published in the Official Journal. The Executive Board shall have power to regulate the salaries of organizers and financiers from time to time, but in no case shall the same be less than $30 per week, as in their judgment they may deem fit. But the allowance for the expenses of the organizers and financiers shall be $3.50 per diem and railroad fare. The President, with the consent of the Executive Board, shall at any time have power to remove the organizers and financiers. But he shall have the power to suspend either, pending the decision of the Executive Board. But no person shall be appointed who has not been a full contributing member for at least one year.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Amendment to Section 57 by Delegate Cooper, No. 336:

Insert after the word "President" on line six the words "and by no means shall be authorized to interfere in any other matter, otherwise they shall be subject to suspension. The President shall not be empowered to appoint more than two financiers to work over the same period of time."

The question was discussed by Delegates Cooper, No. 336, Grube, No. 39, and President Perkins.

A motion to close debate was unanimously adopted.

The amendment of Delegate Cooper was defeated.

Delegate Dehan, No. 251, made a motion that the convention remain in session, on convening Saturday morning, until one o'clock p. m. and then adjourn until Monday morning. The hour of adjournment having arrived, the chair declared the motion out of order.

The following resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper committees:

RESOLUTION NO. 20

Presented by Delegate J. Billow, of Local No. 527.

Disability and Death Benefits

Whereas, the International Cigarmakers' Union reached a stage where due,

First, to the increase in the age of its membership,

Second, lack of increase in membership,

Third, not enough lapses of old members, it became impossible to maintain the chain of benefits at the present rate of dues, thirty cents weekly; and

Whereas, the International Union is now and has been for some time past in a state of bankruptcy, due to the chain of benefits and the increase in the death rate of its members; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the International Executive Board be and is hereby instructed that within five days after the close of this Convention shall employ an actuary, said actuary shall have full power to act with the instructions that he shall make the rate of payments for death benefits, to be based upon the fraternal mortality rates, but in no case shall the death benefits be less than $50.00 nor more than $50.00. Said actuary shall have full power to write such laws, rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to protect the organization and membership in the payment of the death benefits heretofore prescribed, and in no case shall such laws, rules or regulations be such that it will make it compulsory on a member or members to take any part of the mortality benefits of this organization, but shall be optional on the part of the member or members, old or new. Said actuary shall stand further instructed to write such laws, rules and regulations and rates for the payments of disability benefits. Said disability benefits shall not be less than $5.00 per week nor more than $20.00. Said disability benefits shall be optional with the members.

Be it further Resolved, that the national office shall furnish such information and data that the actuary may from time to time call for, without question. Be it further

Resolved, that the findings and reports of the actuary shall be submitted to the members for their endorsement. Be it further

Resolved, that in the event the finds and report of the actuary is endorsed by the membership, the International Executive Board shall stand instructed to take immediate action to organize an auxiliary to be known as the Insurance Department of this union, but in no case shall the laws, rules or regulations of the Insurance Department be made a part of the general constitution of this union, but shall be furnished only to such members that hold mortality and disability benefits.

RESOLUTION NO. 21

Submitted by Delegate Wm. D. Dawson, of Union No. 17, of Cleveland.

Resolved, that the Cigarmakers' International Union in Convention assembled in the city of Cleveland, Ohio, on April 12th, 1920, go on record as unqualifiedly indorsing the strike of the policemen of Boston, Mass., and give to them our moral and financial support as far as possible.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 22

Submitted by Delegate Joseph Dehan, of Union No. 251, New York City.

Resolved, by the Cigarmakers' International Union of America, that we urge upon the Congress of the United States the enactment of a law permitting the manufacture, sale and use of beers and light wines for beverage purposes.

RESOLUTION NO. 23

Submitted by Delegate Joseph Dehan, of Union No. 251, New York City.

Whereas, with all the agitation that has been carried on, the response of organized labor in the demand for the union label is not what it should be, when we consider the large increase in membership made by the organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor during the past few years, and

Whereas, it behooves the National and International Unions using the label to be more militant in bringing to the attention of the newly organized workers the truism that the advance of our cause can only be conserved by our interest in the whole, and the best method of accomplishing this is by consistently demanding the label on all purchases, and

Whereas, the United Hatters of North America have long been conducting a campaign to familiarize the workers with union-made hats, and have also advocated the cause of all union labels, and

Whereas, the United Hatters of North America are now engaged in an effort to organize the millinery workers; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the delegates of the Twenty-third Convention of the International Cigarmakers' Union carry back to their respective localities the greetings of the United Hatters of North America, and also their profound thanks for past assistance rendered them in their efforts to thoroughly organize the hatters by the purchase of only union label hats, and that the rank and file be further urged to a more strict adherence in the matter of spending their union earned money for union made product, and to do all they can to assist in organizing the millinery workers, so that our women members may also enjoy the pleasure of wearing hats bearing the union label.

RESOLUTION NO. 24

Submitted by Delegate Eugene Escassi, of Union No. 500, of Tampa.

Whereas, owing to the great difference existing between the bill of prices in the different manufacturing centers, and owing to the fact that the prices there existing constitute a continual threat against the aspirations that should be maintained by the workers in the tobacco industry, the betterment of our moral and economic conditions, and

Whereas, owing to the aforesaid circumstances, and considering that the manufacturers are sustaining an illegitimate competition, based on the low cost of production, which proves detrimental to the industry, and

Whereas, the only ones injured by these conditions are the workers, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the delegates in session at this Convention in accordance with the new method of organizing may study and determine the best method of organizing all of the workers in the tobacco industry, and be it further

Resolved, that an educational and agitation campaign take place, based on our resolution and that the subject be studied to determine the best method of attaining a uniform bill of prices throughout the country, using the present highest bill as the basis for equalization.

At 5 p. m. the convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, April 17.

SIXTH DAY

Cleveland, Ohio, April 17, 1920.

The Convention was called to order at 9 o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

President Perkins informed the Convention that after the vote on the Tampa amendment to Section 56 had been announced at Friday's session, the clerks of the Convention had verified the vote and found that an error had been made in their original report as announced to the Convention, that the result of the roll call vote was as follows: 245 $\frac{1}{2}$ votes in favor of the Tampa amendment, and 239 $\frac{1}{2}$ votes opposed to it.

The amendment offered by the Tampa Union was therefore declared adopted by the Convention.

President Perkins introduced to the delegates Mr. Francis J. Clark, past President of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor and a representative of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International Union.

Mr. Clark conveyed fraternal greetings on behalf of the Boot and Shoe Workers and then spoke briefly on the importance of educating the women in wage earners' families and teaching them the importance of demanding the union label in all their purchases. He expressed the hope that the convention would be a constructive and harmonious one.

Report of Committee on Constitution

Chairman Sexton continued the report of the committee as follows:

Sections 58 to 60 inclusive were passed without change.

Amendment by the committee:

Sec. 61. Strike out on line twelve the word "help," the following sentence:

"The acceptance of rollers and filler breakers as members by initiation or by card shall be optional with local unions, except in places where the system has been already introduced."

Balance of section unchanged.

Section 61. Amendment by Union No. 4, Cincinnati:

Strike out all on line 14 after the word "except" and insert the following: "In jurisdictions where the team system is established and is now in operation."

Section 61. Amendment by Delegate Sigel, Union No. 6:

Strike out on line twelve all after the word "acceptance" and insert: "of all classes as members by initiation or by card shall be optional with local unions." Balance of section to remain unchanged.

Section 61. Amendment by Delegate Black, No. 27:

Strike out on line twelve all after the word "help" and insert the following: "Local unions shall accept rollers and filler breakers as members by initiation or card in localities where the system has been introduced." Balance of section to follow.

Section 61. Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Amend Section 61 by striking out all after the word "help" on line twelve and substitute the following: "It shall be optional with local unions to permit the introduction of the roller and bunch breaking system under their respective jurisdictions wherever this system does not exist at the present time."

Section 61. Amendment by Delegate Collins, No. 97:

Amend by adding after the word "coolie" on line two the words "automatic machine operators," also insert on line three, after the word "include," the words "tobacco strippers, selectors, casers, stock handlers, banders and such other wage earners in our industry as are eligible."

Section 61. Amendment by Delegate Kane, No. 192:

Strike out on line fourteen the words "already introduced," and insert instead the words, "recognized by the local union."

Section 61. Amendment by Delegate Levitzky, No. 165: Amend first sentence of section as follows:

"All persons engaged in the cigar industry, regardless of color or nationality, except Chinese coolies and tenement-house workers shall be eligible to membership, etc."

The chair stated that the vote would be taken first upon the amendment proposed by the committee.

The question was then discussed by Delegates Billow, No. 527; Sommerfeld, No. 15; Velleman, No. 97, and Levitzky, No. 165.

Delegate Sexton in the chair.

Delegate Velleman's time was extended, on motion.

The discussion on the committee's amendment to Section 61 was temporarily interrupted to permit President Perkins to make the following statement:

Several delegates have called attention to an apparent mistake in the proceedings, and in order to forestall any further inquiries I will say that on page 2 of the fifth day's minutes you will find, following the vote on the Tampa amendment, the following: "The chair declared the Tampa amendment to Section 56 defeated." That is a true record of the proceedings last evening. This morning I stated that on the revised figures the amendment was adopted. Of course, that will appear in this morning's proceedings, and when the final proceedings are gotten out the word "adopted" will appear in place of the word "defeated."

A delegate then called attention to the committee's amendment to Section 56, which had been adopted after the Tampa amendment was erroneously declared defeated.

Delegate Sexton, who was then presiding, stated that the committee's amendment was announced as adopted, on an aye and nay vote, but that President Perkins' statement as recorded reversed the situation as regards the committee's amendment.

President Perkins in the chair.

Delegate Levitzky's argument on Section 61 touched upon the question of machine operators, and the chair ruled that while it was not technically a matter for discussion at this time, the discussion of eliminating the optional clause had taken a wide range and that therefore the statement of Delegate Levitzky was in order.

The discussion on the committee's amendment was continued, and the following delegates took part: Van Horn, No. 14; Perrone, No. 462; Rausberg, No. 141; Kain, No. 14; Siegel, No. 6; Collins, No. 97; Black, No. 27.

Delegate Dehan, No. 251, asked consent of the Convention to introduce the following motion: That on the completion of the morning session the Convention suspend the rules and adjourn to reconvene at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The motion was defeated after a short discussion.

First Vice-President Gompers in the chair.

The general discussion was continued by the following delegates: Sexton, No. 110; Joel, No. 97, and Gompers, No. 144.

President Perkins in the chair.

Delegate Gompers made a statement which, on motion adopted at the convening of the afternoon session, was ordered made a matter of request, and which will appear in the proceedings later.

At 12 o'clock the Convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 p. m.

SIXTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the Convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

Delegate Martinez, No. 460, moved that that part of Delegate Gompers' statement at the forenoon session in regard to the colored race insofar as it pertains to the cigar making industry be made a matter of record. (Motion seconded.)

Delegate Billow, No. 527, moved to amend that the entire statement of Delegate Gompers be published in the minutes. The amendment was accepted by Delegate Martinez, and after a brief discussion by Delegates Billow, No. 527, Levitzky, No. 165, and Gompers, No. 144, was put to vote and carried.

Report of Committee on Resolutions

Delegate Gompers, chairman of the committee, reported as follows:

RESOLUTION NO. 6.

By No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis.

WHEREAS, the many thousands of workers in the cigar and tobacco industry in all its branches have to a great extent been at the mercy of those in control of the industry because of the separation of the workers into so-called "trade groups" which have been unable to cope successfully with the powerful tobacco interests, and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding that the industry has grown in magnitude and has become as verified by federal statistics, an ever increasing source of revenue to those in control, the workers usually designated as tobacco workers are often working under deplorable conditions, their organization often serving merely as an advertising feature to secure the patronage of organized labor, while it is a matter of general comment that the tobacco workers had a smaller voting strength in 1918 than in 1896, nearly a quarter of a century ago; and

WHEREAS, the growth of the International Cigarmakers' Union has not kept pace with the steady expansion of this branch of the industry, our union in 1918 having a smaller voting strength in the A. F. of L. Convention than we had in 1904, sixteen years ago, and

WHEREAS, such branches as the cigarette, stogie, plug, snuff, stripping, packing, etc., etc., have no representation in the American movement at all, save for the affiliation of an occasional "federal labor union," with little hope for future development under present jurisdictional rules, and

WHEREAS, there is an ever increasing sentiment among these workers that the interests of all those engaged in the several branches of the industry are mutual, and for the purpose of establishing a more compact alignment of labor as essential to combat the encroachments of the powerful combinations in control today, to the end that real and lasting benefits be secured for the workers, be it

RESOLVED, that a special committee (Executive Board) is hereby instructed to consider and devise a plan to bring all of the workers in all branches of the cigar, cigarette, stogie, plug, snuff, and those engaged in other departments of handling and manufacturing tobacco in its various forms, under a common jurisdiction.

JOS. BRUEGGEMANN.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 6, introduced by Jos. Brueggeman, of Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis., recognizes the fact that the President, in his official report to this Convention, has gone into this subject fully and that the matter is receiving the consideration of the Committee on Officers' Reports. Your committee cannot concur in all the causes assigned by Delegate Brueggeman in support of the resolution, nor can the committee recommend the reflections contained in the preamble upon a sister organization.

We therefore recommend that the preamble be non-concurred in and that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Officers' Reports.

The report of the committee was adopted by the Convention.

RESOLUTION NO. 5.

Resolved, that our delegates use their best judgment in regard to reduction of the eight hours.

By Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis.

JOHN REICHERT

Your Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 2, submitted by Delegates Joseph Brueggeman and John Reichert, of Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis., recommends the discussion of a proposal to amend Section 199 of the Constitution so as to read:

"Every local union shall have the power to regulate the hours of labor in its respective locality, but in no case shall they exceed seven hours per day on and after May 1, 1921. Manufacturers who are members of the International Union, and members having charge of a shop shall be exempt from those regulations, providing they do not work at the bench more than 42 hours per week."

Delegate Gompers moved that the report of the committee be concurred in and that the subject matter be taken up for discussion at the convening of the afternoon session on Monday, April 19, the discussion to continue not longer than 4:30 o'clock of the same day, at which time a vote shall be taken. (Motion seconded and carried.)

Delegate Gompers stated that the Committee on Resolutions, though prepared to report further, preferred that the Committee on Constitution continue its report at this time.

President Perkins stated that any committee of the Convention had the right to ask for the floor to submit a report, in the regular order of business as provided for the conduct of the Convention, at the beginning of the morning and afternoon sessions.

The report of the Committee on Constitution was continued and the discussion resumed on the Committee's amendment to Section 61.

In reply to an inquiry by Delegate Brey, Union No. 97, President Perkins stated that he had, at the morning session, ruled that discussion of the machine proposition was in order, that he again reaffirmed that ruling, and that when it came to a question of a vote the two questions, that of abolishing the optional clause and that of the machine workers, would be voted upon separately. He ruled that debate on the all-important question of machine operators will be discussed and would be in order even after the main question had been ordered.

The question was further discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97; Spangenberg, No. 33; Hernfeld, No. 165; Chapp, No. 14; Grube, No. 39; Kain, No. 14; Sommerfeld, No. 15; Rhine, No. 90; Wackerman, No. 5, and President Perkins.

Delegate Spangenberg stated that his local union did not allow bunch breaking and rolling, but that the system had always been in vogue in the larger shops in Indianapolis. He asked for a ruling as to whether or not his local union had been violating the Constitution by enforcing that clause in their by-laws prohibiting the bunch breaking and roll-up system.

President Perkins made the following statement in making his ruling: The words, "where it has already been introduced," appearing in Section 61 of the constitution, were a legacy handed to me by my predecessor in office. It had always been interpreted to mean where recognized by the union, and that was the intent of the framers, according to my predecessor. All of us have since followed that interpretation. To be literally correct, Delegate Spangenberg, you have violated the law. If you want to retain that privilege you should use the words, "has been recognized," that is, recognized by your organization. While you have been literally violating the constitution, you have not violated the original and the generally accepted interpretation.

Upon motion debate was closed.

Delegate Joel, No. 97, requested a roll call vote. The request was supported by a sufficient number of delegates.

Delegate Gompers stated that he had an important engagement to meet and said that if he were present when the roll was called he would vote in favor of the committee's amendment to Section 61, and against all the other amendments. On motion, the secretary was authorized to so record Delegate Gompers' vote.

The secretary proceeded to call the roll, with the following result:

Vote on roll call on Section 61 by Committee on Constitution, resulted as follows:

177 against, representing 289½ votes.

Delegate Dawson, No. 17, asked to be recorded as voting under instructions.

The chair declared the committee's amendment to Section 61 defeated.

The amendment offered by Union No. 4 of Cincinnati was next taken up and discussed. Considerable confusion seemed to prevail in the minds of the delegates as to the exact interpretation of the present law regarding the optional clause, and Delegate Grube asked the following question: Are we to understand that the interpretation on that part of the section making it optional with local unions makes it compulsory on local unions to accept rollers and filler breakers where the system has already been introduced?

President Perkins—That is not the interpretation. The chair has repeatedly stated that the interpretation placed upon his law as it now reads is that the local union judges as to whether the system has been introduced or not. That is the second or third time the chair has made that ruling, and it is made a part of the proceedings of this Convention.

The question was discussed by Delegates Kindorf, No. 44, Black, No. 27, Gilliam, No. 4, Hamilton, No. 49, and President Perkins.

The Cincinnati amendment to Section 61 was defeated.

The amendment offered by Delegate Siegel, No. 6, was withdrawn.

Delegate Black's amendment to Section 61 was considered and discussed by Delegates Black, No. 27, Somerfeld, No. 15, and President Perkins. The amendment was defeated on being put to vote.

Delegate Grube's amendment was taken up. It is as follows:

Amend Section 61 by striking out all after the word "help" on line twelve and substitute the following:

"It shall be optional with local unions to permit the introduction of the roller and bunch breaking system under their respective jurisdictions wherever this system does not exist at the present time."

In answer to inquiries by several delegates, Delegate Grube stated that his amendment meant, in substance, that if New Haven, for instance, wished to have the bunch breaking and roll-up system introduced it could do so under his amendment, and if it did not wish to have the system introduced it could keep it out.

Delegate Somerfeld, No. 15, asked the following question: If this amendment should pass, would that compel the joint unions of Chicago to allow the bunch breakers and rollers to come in as 30-cent members and work in label shops?

President Perkins—Yes, that is the interpretation, that is the present law. There isn't a thing in the constitution that prevents the joint unions of Chicago—I won't say the joint unions—from taking in bunch breakers and rollers if the cigarmakers agree to that plan and system.

Delegate Sommerfeld—If that amendment is adopted that does not compel the joint unions to accept them if they don't desire to? Is that the interpretation?

President Perkins—It provides, as plainly as I can state, that it shall be optional with local unions to take them in hereafter, but if the bunch breaking and roll-up system exists in a locality now and this amendment is adopted, you have to take bunch breakers and rollers into your union.

Delegate Grube's amendment was adopted by a vote of 142 in the affirmative, 108 in the negative.

The amendment of Delegate Kane, No. 192, was declared not in order, in view of the action taken on the Grube amendment.

The amendment of Delegate Levitzky to Section 61 was then considered and adopted by the Convention.

President Perkins announced the appointment of the following:

Committee on Label

J. C. Hilsdorf, No. 213.

M. J. Stone, No. 150.

James F. Shea, No. 92.

W. A. Borden, No. 217.

D. Sugden, No. 224.

Delegate Brey, No. 97, moved that the rules be suspended at this time and that the Convention adjourn until 9 o'clock Monday morning, April 19.

The motion was seconded and carried, and the Convention adjourned at 4:25 p. m.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't. Clerk.

SEVENTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 19, 1920.

President Perkins called the convention to order at nine o'clock.

On motion by Delegate Hayford the reading of the minutes and the roll call was dispensed with.

Delegate R. Brown, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, requested the delegates to turn in their statements of railroad fares so that the committee might perform its work as soon as possible.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

President Perkins stated that all amendments to Section 61 had been disposed of on Saturday with the exception of the amendment presented by Delegate Collins, of Union No. 97.

Chairman Sexton raised the following point of order: That the amendment as submitted by the delegate from 97 did not properly come under Section 61 and that the specifications and reference to those he wished to include and exclude were covered in Section 64.

President Perkins called the attention of the convention to the fact that the exclusion of machine workers and the admission of strippers and tobacco workers were two separate questions and could not be voted on in one issue. He further stated that there was not a single line or rule in the present constitution that excludes machine operators from membership in the International Union, and that the only place in the constitution in which machine workers are mentioned is in Section 154 under the Label Laws.

Delegate Martinez, No. 460, offered the following motion: That all amendments under the heading of "Membership and Qualifications" be postponed until the report of the Committee on Officers Reports is heard. (Motion seconded and carried.)

Delegate Grube, No. 39, maintained that there was another amendment to Section 61.

President Perkins stated that all points on Section 61 with the exception of the machine question had been settled, that he had ruled on Saturday that that important question could be discussed even after the main question on Section 61 had been called for, and that therefore no further amendments to Section 61 were in order at this time.

Sections 62 to 69 inclusive were passed without change.

When discussion on Section 70 was proposed Delegate Brey, No. 70, rose to a point of order on the grounds that Section 70 was too closely related to the subject matter of Sections 61 and 64 to be considered at this time.

President Perkins ruled the point of order not well taken, Section 70 and the following sections relating entirely to dues. He further stated, however, that he would entertain a motion to defer consideration of these sections until later.

Delegate Dehan, No. 251, moved that consideration of Section 70 be deferred until the sections relating to "Membership and Qualifications" are under consideration. (Motion seconded.)

The question was discussed by Delegates Dawson, No. 17, Hohler, No. 94, Grube, No. 39, Grabenstein, No. 141, and Levitzky, No. 165, after which the motion to defer action on Section 70 (and all following sections under the heading of "Dues and Assessments") until the sections under the caption, "Membership and Qualifications" had been disposed of was carried.

Similar action was taken on all sections up to and including Section 103, and the next matter taken up was the consideration of Section 104.

Section 104.—Amendment by Union No. 141:

Amend by striking out the figures "$20.00" on line 14 and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "$10.00."

Section 104.—Amendment by Delegate Coon, No. 188:

Insert on line 14, after the words, "exceed $20.00," the words "on cards five years or under, $30.00 on cards ten years or under, $40.00 on cards twenty years and under, but in all cases the member must pay interest at not less than 8 per cent."

Section 104.—Amendment by Delegate Estabrook, No. 202:

Insert after the word "loans" on the last line the following: "and five per cent interest on amount owed at time of suspension up to the time of the new application for membership," the section to read accordingly.

Section 104.—Amendment by Delegate Dawson, No. 17:

Add after the word "repaid" on last paragraph the following: "any member drawing a loan shall pay three per cent on the dollar to cover the expense of loan."

Section 104.—Amendment by Delegate Reardon, No. 470:

Add to Section 104: "Any member wishing to draw his card during an authorized strike or lockout in which he is involved shall be granted a loan amounting to his indebtedness for stamps and assessments and two dollars, the same to be charged on his card as a traveling loan."

On the amendment submitted by Union No. 141 the Committee on Constitution reported non-concurrence.

The question was discussed by Delegates Ransberg, No. 141, Grube, No. 39, Grabenstein, No. 141, Perrone, No. 462.

The report of the committee, which was to non-concur in the amendment of No. 141, was adopted.

The amendment of Delegate Coon was divided, the chair declaring that the 8 per cent provision must be voted on separately. The question was discussed by Delegates Coon, 188 and Lee, 285, and the amendment was defeated on being put to vote. (In view of this action it was not necessary to take a separate vote on the 8 per cent question.)

Delegate Estabrook's amendment was discussed by Delegate Estabrook, Sexton, No. 110, Grube, No. 39, and Orr, No. 87. The amendment was defeated.

Delegate Dawson's amendment was discussed by Delegate Dawson, and on being put to vote was defeated.

The amendment of Delegate Reardon was adopted, after a discussion by Delegates Reardon, No. 470, Billingsheimer, No. 132, Nace, No. 192, McGregor, No. 228.

Sections 105 to 113 were passed without change.

Sections 114 and 115, involving a change in the dues, were passed temporarily, in view of the previous action of the convention.

OUT-OF-WORK BENEFITS

The chairman of the Committee on Constitution read Sections 117 to 129 of the printed report of the committee, reconstructed by the committee and based upon recommendations contained in an amendment submitted by Union No. 141 of New York.

Fifth Vice-President Hall in the chair.

The question of out-of-work benefits was discussed generally by Delegates Rhine, No. 90, Sexton, No. 110, Velleman, No. 97, Cheatham, No. 192, Ransberg, No. 141, Roman, No. 383, Brown, No. 144, Brey, No. 97, Levitzky, No. 165, Grabenstein, No. 141, and Alonzo, No. 389.

President Perkins in the chair.

The chair stated that the vote would be taken first upon the Committee's recommendation on Section 117 (Committee's Report). It is as follows:

Section 117. Any member having paid weekly dues for a period of one year, shall be granted an out-of-work stamp, which shall be credited to members, in lieu of the weekly due stamp of the denomination and in the class to which said member belongs, providing he or she shall be out of employment for at least two weeks. No out-of-work stamp shall be granted for the first week of such unemployment. Any member receiving out-of-work stamp for six weeks shall not be entitled to such out-of-work stamp for seven weeks thereafter and no member shall receive more than eighteen out-of-work stamps during the period of one year, commencing from July of each year.

Any member receiving eighteen out-of-work stamps in any one year shall not be entitled to additional stamps until after he or she shall have worked for four weeks, but this four weeks proviso, shall not include members over 50 years of age.

Members out of employment from December 16th to January 15th of any year shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp for such period.

(Section 144g provides no sick or out-of-work benefits shall be paid to members adjudged insane.)

The committee's recommendation was adopted.

Section 118. Any member obtaining employment before receiving six out-of-work stamps, who shall be discharged from employment before eight weeks have elapsed, shall be entitled to the balance of out-of-work stamps.

Any member having received four weeks' strike or sick benefit shall not be entitled to out-of-work stamps for four weeks thereafter; a sick member incapable of doing a day's work shall not be considered out of work.

Section 119. Members shall not be allowed to register from December 16th to January 8th of any year. No member shall be entitled to any out of work stamps from Dec. 16th to Jan. 15th of any year. Members out of work at such time shall obtain a certificate from the Financial Secretary of whom they received the last out-of-work stamp, which certificate shall be signed and sealed by the Secretary to whom said member has reported during such periods.

Sections 118 and 119 of the Committee's report were adopted as read.

Section 120. Any member courting his discharge through bad workmanship or otherwise, shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp for eight weeks thereafter, and shall be so recorded in his loan book; inability to hold a job shall not deprive a member of his benefit.

Delegate Velleman, No. 97, offered the following amendment to Section 120:

Strike out the words, "through bad workmanship or otherwise," balance of section to remain the same.

The question was discussed by Delegates Rhine, No. 90, Sexton, No. 110, Levitzky, No. 165, Black, No. 27, Dehan, No. 251, and McGregor, No. 228.

The amendment offered by Delegate Velleman was adopted.

Delegate Gompers asked the following question: Do I understand correctly that the only reason we have stricken out the "bad workmanship" clause is because we do not want to make such a declaration in the Constitution? Am I right in inferring that any man or woman who would court discharge by bad workmanship, by reason of our striking it from our Constitution, would not be disregarded by our Local Unions in determining that a member has courted discharge by reason of bad workmanship?

PRESIDENT PERKINS: The chair could not answer for what a Local Union might do, but in the chair's opinion a member who is discharged for bad workmanship, whether that is in the Constitution or not, is not entitled to an out-of-work stamp.

The report of the committee as amended was adopted unanimously.

Section 121. Each local union shall be provided by the International Union, free of cost, with a book or books suitable for registering the names of the unemployed entitled to an out-of-work stamp. In places where the local unions employ a secretary for his full time the unemployed shall report twice a week, at the secretary's office, between 9 and 11 o'clock a. m., or between 2 and 4 o'clock p. m., and sign their names in the book. In places where the union has no office, the unemployed shall sign his or her name in the book in the place provided for that purpose, between 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., except traveling members, who have a certificate of registration, who shall be granted the privilege of signing the book between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. Members failing to sign the book shall forfeit their out-of-work stamp for that week. In cities where the members are unable to reach the secretary's office or place of registration without incurring expense, such union or unions shall be permitted to establish a further place of registration.

Section 122. Any traveling member in search of employment arriving in a place where a union is located shall, after reporting to the Financial Secretary, be placed on the out-of-work roll and entitled to stamp as provided in Section 117. Every traveling member must provide himself with a certificate of registration; said certificate shall bear the signature and seal of the Financial Secretary as evidence of registration.

Sections 121 and 122 were adopted as read.

Section 123. By the Committee:

Any member engaging in any other occupation, domestic or otherwise, shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp.

Section 123. Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Strike out the words "domestic or otherwise" on line 2 and insert, "drawing a salary or earning wages," the section to read accordingly.

The amendment was defeated after a statement by Delegate Roman in support of it, and the report of the Committee was adopted.

Opportunity was given at the usual hour for the introduction of resolutions.

At 12 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

SEVENTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

On motion by Delegate Hayford, the reading of the minutes and the roll call was dispensed with.

President Perkins declared in order the special order of business for the consideration of the report of the Committee on Resolutions which is as follows:

RESOLUTION TWO

Resolved, that our delegates use their best judgment in regard to reduction of the eight hours.

By Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis.
JOS. BRUEGGEMANN,
JOHN REICHERT.

Your Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 2, submitted by Delegates Joseph Brueggeman and John Reichert, of Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis., recommends the discussion of a proposal to amend Section 199 of the Constitution so as to read:

"Every local union shall have the power to regulate the hours of labor in its respective locality, but in no case shall they exceed seven hours per day on and after May 1, 1921. Manufacturers who are members of the International Union, and members having charge of a shop shall be exempt from those regulations, providing they do not work at the bench more than 42 hours per week."

Delegate Gompers moved that the report of the committee be concurred in and that the subject matter be taken up for discussion at the convening of the afternoon session on Monday, April 19, the discussion to continue not longer than 4:30 o'clock of the same day, at which time a vote shall be taken. (Motion seconded and carried.)

The question involved in the Committee's recommendation was given full and free discussion for several hours, and the following delegates took part: Gompers, No. 144, Brown, No. 144; Grube, No. 39; Velleman, No. 97; Golden, No. 227; Dawson, No. 17; Levizky, No. 165; Alonzo, No. 389; Perrone, No. 462; Dallet, No. 48; Billow, No. 527; Black, No. 27; Hayford, No. 68; Riefkin, No. 129; Fischhoff, No. 90; Hernfeld, No. 165; Auman, No. 242; Schuencke, No. 8; Endy, No. 267, and Dehan, No. 251.

During Delegate Black's statement he intimated that in some cases the International President had, in some instances, granted to certain localities the right to work longer hours than specified in the Constitution.

President Perkins, in denying the statement, said that he had never given to any Local Union the right to work more than eight hours per day.

In answer to a somewhat similar assertion by Delegate Hernfeld, in which he quoted a communication of some years ago alleged to have been received from the International President and to contain the term "extenuating circumstances," President Perkins explained that if the term was used in the communication referred to, it meant it was the duty of a Union to see to it that a union manufacturer who desired help in putting union label goods on the market should have the support of the Local Union to the extent of taking their men out of non-union shops and forcing them to go into the union shops.

Upon motion, debate was closed.

Before the vote was taken, however, the chairman of the Committee on Resolutions was given an opportunity to make a closing statement.

A roll call vote was asked for, supported by a sufficient number of delegates.

Vice-President Gompers presided during the calling of the roll.

The result of the vote was as follows:

The following delegates—206—representing 378 votes, voted in favor of the Resolution in favor of reducing the hours of Labor from 8 to 7 hours:

Ayes, 206; Nays, 85; total, 291. Rep. 378 for, 102 against. Resolution adopted.

Delegate Gompers suggested, as a means of facilitating the work of the Committee on Resolutions and the work of the convention as well, that the time limit for the introduction of resolutions be set for the close of the afternoon session on Wednesday, April 21st.

Delegate Hilsdorf made a motion in compliance with the suggestion of Delegate Gompers, and it was unanimously adopted.

The report of the Committee on Constitution was continued.

Section 124. Jurisdiction members shall report to the Financial Secretary once a week in writing, countersigned by the town and shop collector, otherwise no out-of-work stamp shall be granted. In case of doubt the union may demand additional evidence. But in no case shall a member be entitled to out-of-work stamp if he remains in a place where no union shop exists.

Opportunity was given for the introduction of resolutions at this time.

Section 124.—Amendment by Delegate Brey, No. 97:

Amend Section 124 of the Committee's report by striking out the word "Union" on last line.

The question was discussed by Delegate Brey and the chairman of the committee.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, Delegate Brey moved that the rules be suspended and the question before the house disposed of before adjournment.

The motion was lost on being put to vote, and the convention adjourned at 5 o'clock to reconvene at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, April 20.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

J. M. HAYFORD, Asst. Clerk.

Herewith follows statement of Delegate Gompers on the amendment to Section 61 of the Constitution, which, on motion adopted at the Saturday afternoon (sixth day) session, was ordered printed in full:

DELEGATE GOMPERS: I just want to submit a few thoughts and facts to you. At the outset let me say that, to the credit of the members of our Union throughout the New England States, it is a historic fact that the highest paid wage workers are always those who are in the lead and the most aggressive for better conditions—and my hat off to them for what they have achieved. And none know that better than they.

May I call attention to this fact: that it is a strange coincidence that in this city thirty-nine years ago, as a delegate from the Union of which I am a member and to which Past President Cannon referred in his remarks, a proposition was made to exclude from the International Union those engaged in bunch breaking and rolling—the team system—and it was after a two days' fight in which I was practically single-handed that we succeeded in having a compromise effected by which it should be optional with Local Unions to take in and try to organize the bunch breaking and rolling workers in our industry.

In my judgment, one of the greatest difficulties in organizing our trade is the fact that a man or a woman may be a member in good standing in one locality and in good standing in our International Union, and still have his card disregarded and be recognized as a non-union member when he goes into another locality. I hold that the card of membership in a trade union is a passport into any other local union of the same trade or industry. You know that the first fight which workmen made against the introduction of machinery was upon the idea that the machinery was going to destroy their trade. You know that the Egyptians protested against a pipe line to carry water into several of their cities because it took away from the water carriers their jobs.

The destruction of the machine in the textile industry in England was with the idea that that would destroy the machine. As a matter of fact, the blue prints were there, the idea was there, and the men who invented and made the machine were living and they could construct other machines.

Let us give one illustration of our time when the strike against a division of the trade was on in and around New York City in 1867. I was on strike as a member of the union against the introduction of mould work and against the introduction of women in the industry; I was out on strike and went hungry, I didn't starve completely, otherwise I wouldn't be here, but I was on strike for a long time. I realized afterwards that that didn't go and it didn't change conditions.

Perhaps there is no better illustration than that of the International Typographical Union and the introduction of the Mergenthaler machine, the linotype. The printers even said: "You can't invent a machine to set type, you can't make a machine think." The fact of the matter is that the machine made the men think, but instead of the International Typographical Union setting its back against the machine it recognized it and now controls it. And the pay of the linotype setters, as well as the hand compositors, is more than 200 per cent beyond what it was before the introduction of the machine. If the International Typographical Union had not taken control and recognized the machine we would have had, instead of union men compositors setting the type, typewriting girls at probably five, six, eight or ten dollars per week running these machines.

Isn't the experience of the last year or two, for instance, of some interest to us? Three of the foremost factories in Boston have closed down there and transferred their factories to some other places, not only under the team system but also with machines. I haven't seen the machines, I am therefore not competent to judge as to their fitness and their ability to do the work, but they are operating and they are increasing. How many new hand-working cigar makers have we had in the International Union within these past few years? Has there been an increase in the hand work? Or has there been a decrease in the hand work? The President reports to this convention that there are 15,000 men less in the industry of making cigars now than there were eight years ago, and that there was an increase of 18,000 women in the industry in that same period. Is it not fair to say that the men were, as a rule, hand workers, and the women team workers or suction table workers, or machine workers? If the process is to go on to remove factories from the better paid localities to the unorganized, cheap localities where employers have a larger freedom of action in forcing down wages, ought we not do something to try and meet that situation?

You progressive men—and I say progressive with quotation marks and an interrogation mark behind it—you will discuss machinery and say: bring on your machinery if you will in other trades, but not in ours. I hold that it is to the advantage, not only of our own trade, but of the labor movement, a movement for justice, that we shall declare to the world, divide, sub-divide, and specialize industries; use the best machines and tools that the human mind can develop, but in the development and introduction and application of those tools and machines, we claim a larger share of the production of the men with the machines. You can't succeed in extending the organization of our International Union unless we pursue a course that shall give every man and woman an opportunity of becoming a member of our organization and making common cause with us and we with them. If there is a feeling of exclusion on the ground of inferiority, the non-union people will regard it as a personal affront and humiliation and therefore abstain from becoming part of us.

This is a big, broad question, and for our failure to solve it we have been held up to contumely and ridicule, because we have been, as they charged, narrow-minded and unwilling to accept the industrial development of our time. I am not going to appeal to you to vote for the report of the committee. I believe, however, that it is the right step to take, a step that will give the opportunity for the organization of the unorganized and not close our doors against them.

At first we had it in our own constitution that none but white cigar makers shall be permitted to become members of our International Union, and we had to fight to get for the colored man the right to become members; we had a provision in the constitution that none but white males should become members, and then we had to fight for the right of the women to become members. They were working at the trade. We simply acted like the proverbial ostrich who put his head in the sand and then, not seeing anything or any one, imagined that no one could see him.

Then you know there are some organizations, the Railroad Brotherhoods—it is common knowledge that they have a provision in their laws that none but white men shall be permitted to become engineers or firemen or trainmen. You know that there are a number of firemen in the south who cannot become members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and yet colored firemen are largely employed on the roads in the South. There were thousands of colored men brought from the South into the steel plants. Do you know that some of the leaders of the colored race in the United States have declared that, inasmuch as many Unions in the United States exclude the colored man, colored men should break strikes and enter the trades? That system, that strike-breaking plan, to have the colored workmen "scab it" in the industries is in operation, not secretly, but openly.

We have broken down that barrier in our International Union and have admitted colored cigarmakers and women. The American Federation of Labor kept one organization out of the Federation for several years—and in order to become part of the Federation it struck out the clause that only white men could become members. They conducted their business, not quite so openly as we do. They called them locals lodges and they had passwords and signs and all that sort of rigmarole. And after they became affiliated they continued the same practice but in another way. They put into their secret applications a pledge not to propose for membership any one who is not a white man.

These obstacles, artificial, must be broken down either by ourselves or they will be by our opponents, who will utilize every means at their command in order to overcome our position.

Judging from the information given me, some of our Unions have lost considerable of their membership, preferably for more than one reason, but particularly for the reason that the employers have found it to their financial advantage to remove their factories from some of the high paid districts and the membership was materially reduced on that account.

I submit to you that something ought to be done to organize our entire trade. I don't believe that it would hurt the interests or the standing of the cigar makers of New England. They have grown to that standard of efficient activity that safeguards them from being dragged down. Factories may move and accomplish that desire of the employers by that indirect means, but the standard of life of the members of the New England Unions in our trade is such that it cannot and will not be lowered.

It has been a policy which I have tried to carry out in the labor movement—I think I began it in 1907, when, at a public gathering the editor of the Wall Street Journal declared that a financial and industrial reaction was about to take place, and that therefore labor would be compelled to bear part of the brunt. And I, who had presided at that time, immediately after the conclusion of that man's statement, made this declaration; that the past industrial crisis which had occurred in the periods of 1857, 1868, 1872, 1887, 1889, 1893, 1902 and 1903 were not going to occur again the United States. In those periods, the employers reduced wages of one class of workmen, and then others, upon the pretense that because of the industrial stagnation, cutting the wages was a way out. I said then that if I could get the workers of America to follow this that I would do so, and that is, that we would resist reductions in wages at any cost, no matter what the result might be.

I went to the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Boston and then, in my report, submitted a statement of the facts, paraphrasing the old-time couplet that "it is better to have loved and lost than not to have loved at all," I paraphrased it to say that "it is better to resist and lose than not to resist at all." That slogan was taken up and adopted by a unanimous vote of the Boston convention of the American Federation of Labor, and let me say to you, as all of you will know, simply to refresh your memory, that it was the shortest industrial panic that had ever occurred in the history of the United States, because labor had declared to the employers, to the wealth-possessing classes of America, that we would resist at any cost any attempt to reduce wages.

I hold that that principle is universal, at least insofar as it applies to the workers of America and that the standard of life which we, in our organized movement, have secured is going to be held on to, no matter what the results may be. Those standards are not going to be lowered. We will resist to the uttermost any attempt to cut down our wages or lower our standards of living. And so I am fully convinced that whatever the legislation may be by this convention to open the doors to the unorganized and, at the present, ineligible to membership, will bring about a greater degree of unity and solidarity for our trade and for our standards.

Prior to the morning and afternoon adjournments the following resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper committees:

Resolution No. 25.

Submitted by Delegate John J. Ellis, No. 16.

Whereas, The joint unions of Binghamton, N. Y., have been and are still engaged in a strike against the I. Kall Cigar Company, Factory No. 256, 21st District, New York, and Alvis Krause Factory No. 695, 22nd District of New York, and

Whereas, The factories above mentioned having used the union label on their various brands, therefore, be it

Resolved, That attention be brought before the Cigarmakers' 23rd International Convention that the brands of cigars manufactured by the firms above mentioned, are unfair to organized labor, and be it further Resolved, The delegates attending this convention note this and report same to their local unions and J. A. B. C. L. U., etc., thereby helping the J. A. B. of Binghamton, N. Y., in their fight against these unfair firms.

Fraternally yours,

JOHN J. COLLIS,

Resolution No. 26.

Submitted by Delegates Eugene Escasu and D. Clarmunt, of Union No. 500, of Tampa, and R. Alonzo, No. 389:

Whereas, Owing to the fact that during the past year, at times when a great number of workers in our principal industries were engaged in struggles to better their moral and financial condition, and

Whereas, The United States government has taken unto itself to send men who are in our armed forces, to serve as strike breakers, be it

Resolved, That this convention send a written protest to the President and Congress of the United States in regards to employing our soldiers, for the purpose of betraying the cause of labor, which shows partiality towards a particular class of citizens of this, our great nation.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

Resolution No. 27.

Submitted by Delegate Tom Black, of Union No. 27, of Toronto:

Whereas, The system of piece work is a menace to the moral and material well-being of those engaged in the cigar industry, and

Whereas, The sub-division of our craft as expressed through the machine and bunch breaking, and

Whereas, The difference in the bills of prices and the difficulties in altering same, and

Whereas, A different system is required to cope with the changed conditions. Be it therefore,

Resolved, Our executive board be instructed to investigate and report through the Journal the advisability of introducing week work.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

Resolution No. 28.

By Delegate J. Billow, No. 527, Chicago:

Whereas, there are a large number of working people and those holding the views of the workers who have been deported from this country to Russia and still many more are awaiting deportation, and

Whereas, the Russian Soviet Socialist Republic has repeatedly called the attention of this government that the Russian government was not only willing but ready to transport all the alleged "undesirables" of their citizens, free of all expense to this government: therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, the Cigar Makers' International Union in convention assembled, do hereby demand of the government of the United States.

That this government accept at once the offer of the Russian Soviet Republic to transport its citizens back to their native land; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the President, each Congressman and United States Senator and to the Press and State Department.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk,

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't. Clerk.

EIGHTH DAY.

Cleveland, O., April 20, 1920.

President Perkins called the convention to order at 9 o'clock.

On motion of Delegate Hayford the roll call and the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

Chairman Sexton reported that at the close of Monday's session an amendment offered by Delegate Brey, No. 97, to Section 124 of the Committee's report was under consideration, that Delegate Brey had since conferred with the Committee and that they had agreed to substitute the word "recognized" for the word union in the last line, the section to read:

Sec. 124. Jurisdiction members shall report to the financial secretary once a week in writing, countersigned by the town and shop collector, otherwise no out-of-work stamp shall be granted. In case of doubt the union may demand additional evidence. But in no case shall a member be entitled to out-of-work stamp if he remains in a place where no recognized shop exists.

Section 124 was adopted as above.

An amendment submitted by Delegate Juner, No. 380, to insert the words "or open" after the word "union" in last line was withdrawn, in view of the action of the Committee.

The Clerk of the convention at this time announced the following as the vote of the convention on the seven-hour question (Resolution No. 2 and the report of the Committee on Resolutions): 378 votes in favor of the report of the committee; 102 against. (The vote appears in the seventh day's minutes, but had not been announced at time of adjournment.)

The chair declared the committee's report on Resolution No. 2 adopted.

Delegate McGeever, No. 257, asked to be recorded as voting in the affirmative on the proposition to strike out the optional clause, and the Secretary was instructed to so record his vote.

Sections 125, 126, 127, 128 and 129 of the Committee's report were adopted as read. The sections read as follows:

Sec. 125. Any member refusing to work in a shop where work is offered him, or who neglects to apply for work in a shop if directed by the financial secretary or any officer of the union, or shop collector, shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp until he has secured employment for at least one week. This shall apply to jurisdiction towns within a radius of ten miles. Shop collectors shall immediately report to the financial secretary (if known by name) any member refusing to work where work is offered him; failing to so report, he shall be fined $2 for each offense.

Sec. 126. The financial secretary of each local union shall report at every regular meeting the names of members having obtained out-of-work stamps, including the cause why each member has lost his employment. Where the unions do not meet weekly the financial secretary shall make his report to the Executive Board.

Sec. 127. Any member quitting a job shall not be entitled to out-of-work stamp until said member shall have again obtained employment for at least one week.

Every union shall establish a labor bureau for the purpose of designating work to the unemployed.

Sec. 128. It shall be the duty of every shop collector to report to the financial secretary such jobs as are open in this factory the same day he receives notice thereof, in order to enable the secretary to direct the unemployed to the factory. Should this be neglected by either of the above officers, they shall be subject to a fine of not less than one dollar. Any member knowing where a job is open and not reporting the same to the financial secretary shall be fined one dollar.

Sec. 129. Any member about to apply for out-of-work stamp shall, after being discharged or laid off, receive from the collector of the shop in which he has been working a certificate stating the cause of the discharge or lay-off, which shall be presented to the financial secretary before being allowed to register. These certificates shall be kept on file for inspection by the Finance Committee and international financier.

The Chairman of the Committee read the following new sections (Sections 130 to 133-b) providing for special out-of-work benefits:

SPECIAL OUT-OF-WORK BENEFITS

Sec. 130. Any member having paid weekly dues for a period of 12 years and who may be unable to work at the trade because of inability to hold a job by reason of some infirmity, shall receive the sum of $3.00 per week and 50 cents for each additional day; also an out-of-work stamp for each week during the period of such unemployment, but in case the member finds employment at some other trade or calling or shall again secure work at the cigar trade, shall then cease to receive the $3.00 out-of-work benefit or the out-of-work stamp as provided under the foregoing section. No member shall be granted more than 20 weeks out-of-work benefit in any year. This shall not include out-of-work stamps granted under this section.

Members entitled to these benefits, shall be exempt from all International or Label assessments.

Sec. 131. Any member obtaining or endeavoring to obtain any benefit under false pretenses, as provided under the preceding sections, relating to out-of-work benefit or out-of-work stamp, shall be subject to a fine of from $5 to $25 as the union may deem proper and such member shall not be eligible for any out-of-work benefit or out-of-work stamp for a period of one year thereafter.

Sec. 132. All regulations or laws affecting the granting of out-of-work stamps, protecting the union against fraud or misrepresentation on the part of any member, shall also apply in the granting of out-of-work benefits as provided in section 128.

Sec. 133. Any member about to apply for special out-of-work benefit shall be subject to the same law and governed by the same conditions as provided in Section 129.

Sec. 133-b. It shall be optional with local unions to create a local out-of-work fund by a local assessment.

The question was discussed in a general way by Delegates Velleman, No. 97, Wurrach, No. 1, Kindorf, No. 44, Brown, No. 144, Wackerman, No. 5, Kennedy, No. 140, Hernfeld, No. 165, Levitzky, No. 165, Rhine, No. 90, President Perkins and the chairman of the committee.

Delegates Brown, No. 144, and Hernfeld, No. 165, presented amendments which provided for striking out the entire subject matter. President Perkins ruled both amendments out of order on the grounds that the proposal of the committee was an entirely new one and not yet incorporated in the constitution. He stated that a negative vote on the recommendation of the Committee would accomplish the same purpose.

Delegate Levitzky, No. 165, rose to speak on the amendment after the previous question had been called for. He maintained that the speaker recognized was the proper party to call for the previous question, and that the chair had not the right to call on the body to raise their hands. President Perkins stated it was his opinion that the convention was ready to vote, and that after hearing from the chairman of the Committee on Constitution the vote would be taken.

On the request for the previous question the chair was in doubt on a viva voce vote. A vote by show of hands was taken, resulting in 187 votes in favor of the previous question, 72 opposed.

Chairman Sexton spoke on the question, and Delegate Levitzky again maintained that under the Rules of Order the chairman of the committee did not have the right to close the discussion.

President Perkins stated that the subject matter being a recommendation of the committee, it was proper that the chairman should close the discussion.

The out-of-work benefits as proposed by the committee (Sections 130 to 133 inclusive) were voted down by the convention.

Section 133-b remains unchanged.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OFFICERS' REPORTS

Delegate Hilfers, No. 138, presided during the reading of the report.

Delegate Campbell, No. 53, chairman of the committee, submitted the following report:

Cleveland, Ohio, April 20, 1920.

To the Twenty-Third Convention of The Cigarmakers' Int. Union of America:

Your Committee of Officers' Reports beg leave to submit the following:

1. We agree with, and approve the declarations of the Int. President that "the constructive trade union movement of which we are an integral part, and its wonderful achievements, its stability, and ability to cope with conditions confronting the workers, need no defense nor elucidation in this paper. The constructive trade union movement is here and is with us to stay. It was born of necessity and will be kept alive for the same reason. However, all constructive movements thrive, and grow in strength and numbers in proportion to correct principles held and methods employed, and again, prosper just in proportion to the faith the membership at large have in the institution. Organized society since the beginning of recorded time has been held together by faith in ourselves and the inherent justice of mankind. Destroy faith in mankind and in organization, and advancing civilization will falter and constructive trade unionism be retarded.

Wherever there has been faith in our union, coupled with reasonable demands, the organization has prospered. We have the foundation for a growing organization, and a well-built structure which only needs alteration to meet changed conditions in our trade.

Again we recommend these thoughts for your consideration and unanimous approval.

2. We further agree that Conventions should be held at least every two years.

3. Organization. We recognize this to be one of the big issues for this Convention to consider. Owing to the great number of people in our trade outside of the organization we urge that the optional clause be eliminated and that this question be brought to the attention of all the members before the referendum vote is taken.

On this very important question we further agree with the recommendation of the International President recognizing that it is time for us to consider the question of claiming jurisdiction over the entire tobacco industry, with the understanding that such jurisdiction be consummated through friendly intercourse with the Tobacco Workers' International Union, and we recommend that the International President be empowered and instructed to initiate negotiations with the proper authorities of the Tobacco Workers' International Union.

4. Only One Class. We favor bringing into the International Union all the cigar-makers and factory employees in one class, this to include all strippers and other employees working and preparing stock for the cigar trade. This means the elimination of Class A and the Retiring Card dues.

5. We suggest that new members be exempted from the payment of assessments for the first six months of their membership, unless it be a special assessment levied purely for strike or lockout purposes.

6. New Name. If the recommendations suggested meet with your approval it will mean a new name for our organization and we suggest "International Union of the Cigar and Tobacco Industry," as a new name.

7. Apprentices. We fully concur with the recommendations of the International President with reference to the necessity of a new apprenticeship law and their acceptance as members of the unions and recommend that immediate action be taken to modify the law, and further, regarding apprenticeship law we suggest to you that when the apprentice is working at the table and his work is being sold in the usual manner that he should receive at least 65% of the regular price paid for the job on which he is working.

8. Production of Cigars. Your committee in reading the table regarding the production of cigars and cigarettes in the International President's Report under the caption of "Production of Cigars" find that the manufacture of cigars is decreasing while the manufacture of cigarettes has increased about 24 billions in the last seven years. His reports also shows that more pounds of tobacco were used in 1918 in the manufacture of cigarettes than was used in the manufacture of cigars, and for these reasons we suggest to the Committee on Labels that they should recommend some method of agitation to change these conditions.

9. Unions in Good Standing. We believe that if the recommendations suggested by the International President can be put in operation that it will bring an increase in members and that more activity will be displayed by the local unions and will be of great benefit in wages and conditions for all of our members.

We believe that the war has had the effect of taking members out of our union, out of the cigar trade and also that prohibition has had much to do with our members going into other occupations which later on will naturally adjust itself.

10. Strikes and Lockouts. With reference to this very important matter and realizing the declarations of the International President we recommend that the following be adopted as a part of our law to be added after the 5th paragraph of Section 83.

"The International Union stands for the right to strike at all hazards, but no local union either in good or dull times shall be permitted to go on strike when their application is approved without first meeting the employers and endeavoring to settle the difficulty without strike, and no strike inaugurated before application has been made and approved and passed upon, especially in sub-normal times or periods of industrial stagnation, shall be recognized or aided morally or financially by the International Union. And whenever the members of any local unions disregard this provision they will do so with the understanding that they relinquish their strike and out-of-work privileges."

We also recommend for your approval the creation of a Special Fund to be used exclusively to defend members in lockouts and in resisting reduction of wages which may follow the first real depression and suggest to you that Five Cents out of each week's dues should be held in a separate fund for this purpose and no other.

11. The General Fund and Our Benefit System. This has been one of the features receiving the most serious consideration on the part of your committee. We know that the always increasing demands to meet our obligations with the members require a large amount of money and we are of the opinion that the only way to maintain all our present system of benefits is the increasing of the dues to the amount necessary to meet such obligations. However, we have not dared at this time to recommend an increase of the dues to the amount needed and limit ourselves to agree with the recommendation of the International President to make our regular weekly dues sixty cents weekly, which in our opinion will respond to the necessities if the extension of time to receive the death benefit is accepted as recommended by your committee, which is as follows:

Full contributing members for 2 years in good standing, $50.00.

Full contributing members for 5 years in good standing, $100.00.

Full contributing members for 10 years in good standing, $200.00.

Full contributing members for 20 years in good standing, $350.00.

Full contributing members for 30 years in good standing, $550.00.

12. The Union Label. We concur in the statement of the International President when he says that the Union Label is helpful in organizing and maintaining strictly Union Shops with fair bills of prices and should not be underestimated nor should its power in that direction be overestimated. We place our label on the box and after the cigar is taken from the box it bears no evidence that it is Union Made. The Hatters' label is placed in the hats; the Boot and Shoe Workers' label in the shoe; the Garment Workers' label on the garment and the Printers' label on the printed matter; and remains there as evidence that the hat, shoe, garment or printed matter is union work. Despite this handicap insofar as we are concerned we have made as great progress in label propaganda work as any other organization.

We learn by the President's report that the union labels of other trades have an entirely different meaning, in so far as conditions of use are concerned, from ours. That we are the only organization that makes the union label carry the making and selling prices of the article produced. In support of his declarations he cites that the Boot and Shoe Workers' label is granted to the manufacturers who agree to pay the wage scale and to employ only such as are members of the union, and that in such organization, he further states, no attention is paid to the minimum making price of the shoe or its selling price. He states that the same principles apply to all other organizations.

He further recommends that the small cigar be granted the use of the label.

In view of these facts we recommend to this convention to study the advisability of granting the label to all the shops where only members of the union are employed and where union conditions and hours have been established accordingly.

In granting labels to the manufacturers we further recommend that a standard quality must be produced in any and all of the grade for which the label is granted and local label committees shall see to it that the label in all cases stands for quality.

We heartily recommend for your consideration the following from the President's report:

"The advisability of authorizing the President with the advice and consent and full cooperation of the International Executive Board to hire an advertising expert for the purpose of devising the best means possible for advertising our label, and if the Executive Board agrees with the expert's recommendations that he or someone else versed in advertising methods or work be employed to carry on that part of our work and that the $1.00 per capita now allowed local unions be used for this purpose."

We wish to call the attention of all of our members to the closing paragraph of the International President's report quoted herein below which reads as follows:

"During the period of reconstruction and rehabilitation following the great war we must do our part and do it well. The natural evolution of workingmen and women to a higher and better life must not be interfered with. The well-being of the toiling masses and the opportunities to live their lives in freedom, decency and comfort is the paramount issue now confronting the organized workers of our times. I deem it a privilege to participate in this mighty task. May your work here result in the greatest good for the greatest number, and still further building up and strengthening and increasing the efficiency and stability and numerical strength of the Cigarmakers' International Union and the general constructive trade union movement."

With reference to the Resolution number 3 of Union No. 25, Milwaukee, referred to this committee, your committee believes no further action on the matter involved is necessary on the part of this committee on account that the whole matter is covered by our recommendation instructing the International President to negotiate with the Tobacco Workers' International Union some plan of jurisdiction and for this reason we recommend that no further action be taken on this resolution.

JOHN H. RILEY,
H. R. HAMILTON,
O. J. BUTLER,
P. RIVERA MARTINEZ.

The various sections of the committees report were read and acted upon seriatim.

President Perkins stated that any action taken by the Convention on the report of the Committee on Officers' Reports would not bind the Convention to any single thing, that any changes or additions to the law could only come up and be considered by coming in the regular way over the desk as amendments.

He further corrected an impression among some of the delegates that he had recommended certain action, particularly on the "Class A" proposition, and stated that he had merely recommended that these matters be given serious consideration.

Chairman Campbell stated that the committee had yet to consider the report of the first vice-president and that they would be prepared to report upon it on Wednesday.

The report of the Committee on Officers' Reports was adopted.

Delegate Velleman, No. 97, offered the following motion: That the Committee on Constitution be instructed to redraft the amendments to the constitution to meet the requirements of the constitution, with one dues for all people we desire to incorporate in our organization, and to seriously consider and take up the classification of benefits. (Motion seconded.)

The question was discussed by Delegates Velleman, No. 97, Sexton, No. 110, chairman of the committee, Brey, No. 97, and President Perkins.

During the statement of Delegate Brey, President Perkins ruled that he could not go into a general discussion of the changes he felt were needed, but could discuss only the question of the advisability of referring the matter to the Committee on Constitution.

Upon motion debate was closed.

At this point the chair ruled that Section 133-b, as contained in the committee's report, required no further consideration, being the same as the present provision in the constitution.

Chairman Sexton stated that the committee was now prepared to refer back to the amendment of Delegate Collins, No. 97, on the question of the exclusion of machine operators. The amendment is as follows:

Sec. 61. Amend by adding after the word "coolie" on line two the words "automatic machine operators," also insert on line three, after the word "include," the words "tobacco strippers, selectors, casers, stock handlers, banders and such other wage earners in our industry as are eligible."

The chair stated that Delegate Collins' amendment was now before the Convention.

Delegate Kennedy presided during a portion of the discussion on the amendment.

The question was discussed by Delegates Collins, No. 97, Dawson, No. 17, Heslop, No. 228 and President Perkins.

The chair called attention to the fact that the Committee on Constitution had provided in Section 64 for machine operators, and that this fact should be borne in mind in the discussion.

At 12 o'clock the Convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 p. m.

EIGHTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the Convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

On motion of Delegate Hayford the roll call and the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

Delegate Martinez, No. 460, offered the following amendment to Section 61:

Amend Section 61 by adding after the word "include" on the third line, the following: "cigar packers, tobacco strippers stripping tobacco for the making of cigars, banders, casers and all the cigar factory employees and helpers of the cigar factories, automatic machine operators, etc.," the section to read accordingly.

The entire afternoon session was taken up in the discussion of Delegate Collins' amendment to Section 61 and the machine question generally. The following delegates took part: Cheatham, No. 192, Hohler, No. 94, Martinez, No. 460, Hilfers, No. 138, Rafferty, No. 97, Rhine, No. 90, Sexton, No. 110, Van Horn, No. 14, Velleman, No. 97, Nace, No. 192, Black, No. 27, Levitzky, No. 165, Borden, No. 217, Billow, No. 527, Gompers, No. 144, Perrone, No. 462, Harnfeld, No. 165, Levy, No. 13, Campbell, No. 53, Hartman, No. 203, Golden, No. 227, and President Perkins.

Vice-President Gompers presided during a portion of the discussion.

President Perkins made the following statement: This morning the chair ruled that the mover of a motion had the right to speak even though the previous question was called for. The rule says that no motion to lay on the table, to postpone or for the previous question shall be accepted from any delegate at close of his argument on any pending motion. So that Delegate Levitzky was practically right, except that the chair had said there appeared to be almost a unanimous sentiment for the question to be put, and I put it with the understanding that the chairman of the Committee on Constitution might speak afterwards. You will understand that the rule does not apply to the previous question, it simply says that no question can be placed on the table unless the mover of it has had an opportunity to speak. I say that now, so that at any time in the future when the previous question is called it means that debate must stop.

The discussion on the machine question extended beyond the hour of adjournment, and on motion by Delegate Velleman, No. 97, the rules were suspended and the Convention agreed to remain in session until the question was disposed of, on the amendment of Delegate Collins.

Upon motion debate was closed.

A roll call vote was requested, but the request was not supported by a sufficient number of delegates.

The amendment of Delegate Collins to Section 61 was defeated.

At 5:20 p. m. the Convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, April 21.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't. Clerk.

The following resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper committees:

RESOLUTION NO. 20

Submitted by Delegate J. Billow, of Union No. 527, of Chicago, Ill.

Whereas, the co-operative movement is part of the labor movement, and

Whereas, taking all things into consideration in a general way. There is nothing at the present time which will help the workers to reduce the cost of living except through co-operative enterprises, therefore, be it

Resolved, by this Convention that we recommend to our membership that they take an active part in all co-operative movements, organized on the Rockdale plan, and be it further

Resolved, that our Journal publish co-operative news in general and about co-operative cigar factories in particular, so that the membership be guided in their actions in this line.

Referred to Committee on Constitution.

RESOLUTION NO. 30

Submitted by Delegate Phil Spangenberg, of Union No. 33, of Indianapolis.

Whereas, Union No. 33 of Indianapolis is at the present time engaged in a strike against the firm of A. Steffen, manufacturing Tish I. Mayo, Maurice Thompson, Monogram, Bedena, Abe Martin, and 402 as Class B cigars, and Faust and Gretchen, and Steffen's Bonanza as Class C. cigars, and

Whereas, the afore mentioned firm of A. Steffen refuses to pay the regular bill of prices for making and packing cigars, therefore, be it

Resolved, that delegates take cognizance of this firm's attitude and report to their respective locals the facts herein enumerated to the end that an active and energetic effort may be made to curtail the sale of the aforementioned brands wherever they may appear.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 31

Submitted by the California delegation, of Unions No. 332-225-228-469-238.

Whereas, there is now in force in the state of California an anti-syndicalism law, originally intended, union labor was told, to punish those committing violence and those advocating violence. A law similar to that drastic and vicious one recently defeated in Washington by the influence of labor's official representatives and other liberal and fair minded citizens, and

Whereas, this law is now being exploited to the extreme by the profiteers, employers and interests inimical to labor, resulting in the arrest of many and conviction of some active and prominent workers in the cause of labor, members of unions and other social workers, and

Whereas, the true intent of this law is now shown to be a denial of labor's legal rights and thereby seriously hinders its advancement by jailing its active, capable and effective officers and leaders, and

Whereas, this unjust application of this vicious law has aroused a strong resentment generally and among union labor particularly, its repeal will be asked for at the next session of the California state legislature, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Cigarmakers' International Union of America in Convention assembled at Cleveland, April, 1920, hereby strongly disapproves of said law and extends its moral support and influence to California unionists in their attempt to have this Anti-Syndicalism law repealed.

NINTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 21, 1920.

The convention was called to order at 9 o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

On motion of Delegate Hayford the roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

Mr. John J. Manning, Secretary-Treasurer of the Union Label Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor, addressed the convention. He reviewed the history of the Department, explained its aims and objects and gave concrete examples showing the many ways in which union men and women could increase the power of the label.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

The chair stated that that part of Delegate Collins' amendment to Section 61 providing for strippers, casers, banders, etc., and the amendment of Delegate Martinez to the same section were before the convention at time of adjournment on the previous day.

Chairman Sexton, of the committee, suggested that the questions involved in these amendments be deferred until the Committee submitted its report on Section 64, that the committee had arrived at an understanding through which the use of the words "Machine operators" might be eliminated.

The question was discussed by Delegate Brey, No. 97, and by the chairman of the committee. No objection was offered, and the chair stated that the questions remaining undecided in reference to Section 61 would be deferred temporarily.

Sections 62 and 63 were passed without change.

Section 64.—Amendment by the Committee:

Sec. 64. Strike out the figures 15 on line nine, page seventeen and insert 20. Strike out the figures $50 on line eleven and insert the figures $75.

Balance of section unchanged.

Section 64.—Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Amend by striking out on line 9 the figures "15" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "30." Strike out on line 10 the words, "out of work," section to read accordingly.

Section 64.—Amendment by Delegate Dawson, No. 17:

Strike out the figures "15" on line 9 and substitute the figures "40."

Section 64.—Amendment by Delegate McGregor, No. 228:

Strike out the figures "15" on line 9 and insert the figures "20"; section to read accordingly.

The question was discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97, Brown, No. 144, Grube, No. 39, Rhine, No. 90, Dawson, No. 17, McGregor, No. 228, and the chairman of the committee.

All the proposed amendments to Section 64, including the recommendation of the committee, were lost.

Under the heading, "Class A," the chairman of the committee read the following revised recommendation:

CLASS A.

Amend Class A by striking out 15-cent dues and inserting 20-cent dues. Amend by striking out $2.50 strike benefit, and insert $4.00, also strike out $1.50 and insert $2.00.

Where 30 cent dues is mentioned in the section, 30 cents is struck out and 50 cents is substituted. Amended by inserting in second line after the word therein—"and including cigar machine operators which produce cigars."

Amend by striking out $1.50 for out of work benefit and insert "members out of work for twelve days or longer shall be granted an out of work stamp as provided for in Section 117." Change the time of membership from two years to four years before being entitled to $50 death benefit. Members to receive no more than $50. Class A as amended to read:

All persons engaged in the cigar industry enumerated in Section 64 (with the exceptions noted therein), and including all those who produce cigars, working in any factory not entitled to the use of the label may become members under the following conditions:

Delegate Kain, No. 14: In voting on this question I would like to know whether it includes bunch breakers and rollers as we have it now.

PRESIDENT PERKINS: It includes any cigar maker, regardless of what method he may work under, who works in a non-label shop. It is not limited to bunch breakers and rollers.

The following additional amendments to the section "Class A" (Section 64) were read:

By Delegate Lipschitz, No. 90:

Strike out all on page 18 and substitute the following: All persons engaged in the cigar industry enumerated in Section 61 may become members under the following conditions:

1. Three dollars initiation fee, payable in six weekly installments of 50 cents each.
2. Weekly dues of 30 cents.
3. Strike benefits $8.00 per week.
4. Traveling loans not to exceed $20.00.
5. Out-of-work stamp as provided in Section 117.
6. It shall be optional with new members to join beneficiary department and pay assessments actuated by an actuary engaged by the Cigar Makers' International Union.

By Delegate Brey, No. 97:

Strike out all on page 18 and insert the following: All persons engaged in the cigar industry enumerated in Section 61 shall constitute Class A, or economic membership, under the following conditions:

1. Weekly dues.
2. They shall receive.....per week strike benefits.
3. Out-of-work stamp; members out of work shall be granted an out-of-work stamp as provided for in Section 117.

By Delegate Levitzky, No. 165:

Strike out all under the caption of Class A on page 18 and substitute the following: All men and women, regardless of race, color or nationality, engaged in the cigar and tobacco industry, and including all who handle tobacco, except as provided in Section 61, are eligible to membership in this class, known as the industrial class, under the following conditions:

1. Three dollars initiation fee, payable in six weekly installments, at 50 cents per week.
2. Weekly dues at 25 cents.
3. Out-of-work stamp as provided in Section 117.
- Strike benefits $8.00 per week.
5. Traveling loans up to $20.00.
6. Members in the industrial Class A can join the fraternal benefits, providing they comply with all laws governing the fraternal features as provided in other sections of the constitution.
7. All rules governing arrearage of dues, suspension from membership, etc., shall apply to this class.

Amendment by Delegate Fitzgerald, No. 84:

Amend Section 64 by striking out all of "Class A."

The chair stated that the amendment of Delegate Fitzgerald would be first in order, inasmuch as if it were adopted it would nullify all the other amendments.

The question was discussed by Delegates Fitzgerald, No. 84; Kennedy, No. 140; Brey, No. 97; Campbell, No. 53; Golden, No. 227; Kain, No. 14; Levitzky, No. 165; Gompers, No. 144; Velleman, No. 97; Levy, No. 13; Hernfeld, No. 165; Perrone, No. 462; Brown, No. 144; Grabenstein, No. 141; Hilfers, No. 138, and President Perkins.

Upon motion, debate was closed.

The amendment offered by Delegate Fitzgerald, which was to strike out all the provisions under the heading of "Class A" in Section 64 was adopted.

The chair declared all other amendments to Section 64 out of order.

At 12 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 p. m.

NINTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

A. McAndrews, President of the Tobacco Workers' International Union, was introduced and extended fraternal greetings on behalf of his organization. He told briefly of the efforts that had been made to organize the tobacco workers and against what great odds their organization was brought about in many localities, and urged upon the delegates the necessity of cooperation between the two organizations.

Matthew Woll, Eighth Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor, extended greetings on behalf of the Federation. He spoke of the rapidly changing conditions in industry and stated that the policies of the American Federation of Labor were the only right and proper agencies to meet these conditions and meet them successfully and in the best interests of the men and women of labor. He pointed to the history of the past and showed how the labor movement had prospered and grown under the direction of the American Federation of Labor, and he emphasized the necessity of unity and cooperation, which he said were more necessary at this particular time than ever before.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

The chairman of the committee submitted the following:

Insert after Sub-Section E of Section 64 the following:

"All members enrolled in 'Class A' previous to the adoption of this amendment shall have the privilege of paying regular weekly dues and all international and local assessments and be entitled to all benefits provided for in our Benefit Laws. The date of membership for members so transferred shall be computed upon the basis of one-half time. To illustrate: A 'Class A' member having paid 15-cent dues for five years shall be entitled to the benefits of a regular contributing member who has paid dues for two and one-half years, etc."

The amendment was adopted.

Stogie Makers.—Amendment by Delegate Rutter, No. 501:

Amend Section 64 on page 19 by striking out the figures "$3.50" on line 19 and inserting the figures, "$6.00."

After a short statement by Delegate Rutter in support of the amendment, it was adopted.

The recommendations of the committee under the heading, "Class B," were next considered. Chairman Sexton read the following:

CLASS B.

All persons engaged in the cigar industry and not enumerated in Section 64 or Class A, such as—stemmers or strippers, banders, branders, labellers and casers may become members in Class B under the following conditions:

First—One dollar initiation fee, payable in four weekly installments of 25 cents each.

Second—Weekly dues of 15c.

Third—One-half of all international assessments levied (after six months' membership) except label assessments.

Fourth—Exemption from the payment of any label assessment.

The benefits of Class B members shall be as follows:

First—Strike benefits, $4.00 per week for the first sixteen weeks, and two dollars per week thereafter.

Second—Out of work benefit—Members out of work for twelve days or longer, shall be granted an out of work stamp.

Third—A death benefit, under the same conditions of membership as applying to Class A members.

Fourth—In all other respects the laws and rules governing arrearages of dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to time in payment of benefits and all other laws governing the members paying 50-cent dues shall apply to members enrolled in Class B.

Fifth—In localities where a grievance or difficulty may arise in a factory affecting either Class A or Class B, or both, there shall be three members elected from the cigar-makers and three elected from the other class or classes involved, and such Joint Committee shall endeavor to adjust all such grievances that may arise between the employer and the members. Any failure to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of such difficulty, an application to strike would require approval by vote of local unions as provided for under Sections governing strikes and lockouts.

DELEGATE LEVITZKY, No. 165: Do you recognize consistently any other class after "Class A" has been voted down?

PRESIDENT PERKINS: So far we do not. The proposition now is to create another class of persons engaged in the cigar industry, limiting it entirely to persons outside of the Cigar Makers, regardless of the methods they work under, limiting it to stemmers, binders, branders, strippers, labellers, etc. That would, of course, create another class. The whole thing is, do you want the binders, banders and strippers to death benefits was in order at this time, come into the regular class and pay the same dues? If you want them to come into the regular class the proper mode of procedure would be to defeat Class B and then amendments could be offered. We haven't entirely passed Section 61 yet, so that if this amendment is defeated the way would still be left open to you to amend Section 61 (or 64) so as to include stemmers, binders, banders, etc.

The question was discussed by Delegates Grube, No. 39; Wackerman, No. 5; Riefkin, No. 129; Brey, No. 97; Billow, No. 527; Hamilton, No. 49; Campbell, No. 53; Cheatham, No. 192; Kindorf, No. 44; Kennedy, No. 140; Kain, No. 14; Joel, No. 97; Perrone, No. 462; Sexton, No. 110; Jumer, No. 380; Grabenstein, No. 141, and Roman, No. 383.

Upon motion debate was closed.

A sufficient number of members requested a roll call vote.

President Perkins stated that the vote would be taken only on the first paragraph under the caption, "Class B."

Vice-President Gompers in the chair during the roll call.

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The following delegates voted in the affirmative in establishing a new department—as "Class B," including stemmers, strippers, selectors, banders, branders, labellers and casers, representing 272½ votes.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Delegate Van Horn, secretary of the committee, submitted the following:

Your Committee on Resolution having before it Resolution No. 1, submitted (second day's proceedings) by Delegate M. C. Coon, of Union No. 188, of Seattle, Washington, recommends to the convention non-concurrence.

The subject matter with which Resolution No. 1 deals could only be considered in the form of a proposed amendment to the constitution of the International Union and are not merely declaratory.

As additional reasons for the recommendations of non-concurrence, attention is called to the fact that experience has demonstrated the non-workable character of the various subjects contained in Resolution No. 1. While the movement for closer cooperation among the workers and the various locals, national and international unions is desirable, no hard and fast rule can be adopted or effectively applied. The constant aim and purpose is for the closer cooperation of unions of different callings and trades that are akin or nearly akin to each other, thus maintaining the unity of a craft, trade, or industry as distinct as the billows, yet in full cooperation and support as are the seas.

While it may be true that there does not exist, that full cooperation to which the far seeing men in the trade union movement of our country aspire, yet we must bear in mind that we have made wonderful progress, and that we can make no greater progress in the achievement of our aims than the great rank and file of the workers of America will permit.

There already exists in the American Federation of Labor various departments of the trades in a given and allied interest, for instance:

The Building Trades Department,
The Metal Trades Department,
The Railway Employees Department,
The Union Label and Trades Department.

Thus there are practically five industrial units already established instead of twelve units as proposed in Resolution No. 1.

That part of the resolution in reference to a universal union label has been coupled with Resolution No. 38 and a separate report made thereon.

The question of funds and the maintenance of the International in respect to them, and the methods of organization are subjects with which the convention is dealing in the consideration of the proposals to amend the constitution.

For the above reasons and others which could be enumerated, your committee repeats its recommendation that Resolution No. 1 be non-concurred in.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions having before it Resolution No. 38 by Delegate Henry Jumer, of Union No. 380, of Wallace, Idaho, and that part of Resolution No. 1 in reference to a proposed universal union label either for industries or general calls attention to the fact that in some industries it already exists, for instance:

The Printing Trades Unions, and others.

It may not be amiss to call attention to the fact that the subject of a universal label has been considered by various conventions of the American Federation of Labor, and by the International Trades Unions issuing union labels, and each one has more or less established the character of the label as well as its general recognition, and no organization issuing a label, our Cigar Makers' International Union included, is willing to abolish or surrender the use of that label upon their various products.

In the resolution it is suggested that a universal or industrial union label should be issued and our International Union is asked to declare for a union label upon luxuries. How a label could be utilized upon cigars and luxuries which at once suggest themselves to our minds as luxuries, is most difficult to understand and thoroughly without possibility of practical application. For the above reasons your committee recommends that Resolution No. 38 and that part of Resolution No. 1 dealt with herein be non-concurred in.

Resolution No. 38 (not previously printed) is as follows:

Resolved, that this Convention go on record as favoring a universal union label for all crafts affiliated with the A. F. of L., and that the delegates of the Cigarmakers' International Union to the next Convention of the A. F. of L. submit a resolution to this effect to said Convention for its consideration.

The question was discussed by Delegates Grube, No. 39; Gompers, No. 144; and Dawson, No. 17. The motion to adopt the committee's report was carried.

Your Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 2 (second day's proceedings) in reference to political amnesty, recommends concurrence in the resolution amended so that it will read:

Whereas, the signing of the Peace Treaty finds in American civil and military prisons, or under bail pending trial or appeal, numbers of men and women whose offense is of a political nature; and

Whereas, the sole justification for such prosecution and imprisonment, that of wartime necessity, no longer exists.

Whereas, in all democratic countries of Europe which have been associated with us in the prosecution of the war, full amnesty has been granted; be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of the Cigarmakers' International Union in Twenty-Third Convention assembled, that the further prosecution and imprisonment in the United States of political offenders is contrary to the democratic idealism and the traditions of freedom to which our country is committed; and be it further

Resolved, that we accordingly urge upon the President of the United States, upon the Attorney General of the United States, the Secretary of War and the American Federation of Labor to make all efforts possible to secure the granting of amnesty to all prisoners whose political beliefs formed the basis of their prosecution, trial and imprisonment; and be it further Resolved, that we accordingly urge upon the United States Senators and Representatives to support Senator France's Joint Resolution S. J. 171 for amnesty and S. 1233 to repeal the Espionage Law.

Delegate Gompers moved the adoption of the committee's report.

The question was discussed by Delegates Levitzky, No. 165, Billow, No. 527 and Gompers, No. 144.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having before it Resolution No. 22 (fifth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Jos. Dehan, of Union No. 251, of New York City, recommends concurrence by this convention.

Delegate Black, No. 27, asked to be recorded as voting against the adoption of the resolution.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your committee having under consideration Resolution No. 4 (second day's proceedings), by Jos. Bruggemann and John Reichert, of Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Resolution No. 17, by J. Burcum, of Union No. 394, (fourth day's proceedings), Resolution No. 18, by Manuel Roman, No. 383 (fourth day's proceedings), and Resolution No. 24, by Eugene Escassi, No. 500, (fifth day's proceedings), expresses its views as to the desirability of a uniform bill of prices, but is inclined to the conclusion that the divergence of the existing bills of prices in the various localities throughout our jurisdiction are too great at this time to attempt to inaugurate a uniform bill of prices. We therefore recommend that the greatest efforts be put forth for an increase in the bill of prices in the localities which are the lowest, so that there may be less of a disparity between the high and the low bills of prices. However, we recommend the thought of a universal bill of prices to the membership for future discussion and possible determination, and the discussion of the same through our official journal.

A motion was made and seconded to adopt the report of the committee.

The question was discussed by Delegates Rafferty, No. 97, Golden, No. 227, Gompers, No. 144, Black, No. 27.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 10, (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Gus. Goldstein, of Union No. 292, of Brooklyn, N. Y., recommends concurrence.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 11, (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Gus. Goldstein, of Union No. 292.

Brooklyn, N. Y., recommend its adoption amended so that it will read as follows:

That all vice-presidents by virtue of their office attend all conventions held by the Cigar Makers' International Union, with voice, but without vote, except when regularly elected delegates to the conventions.

A motion was made and seconded to adopt the report of the committee.

It being near the hour of adjournment, a motion was made and seconded that the convention remain in session until the report of the Committee on Resolution No. 11 was disposed of. (Motion seconded and carried.)

The question was discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97; Estabrook, No. 202; Brown, No. 144, and Van Horn, No. 14.

Upon motion, debate was closed.

The motion to adopt the report of the committee was defeated.

At 5:15 p. m. the convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, April 22.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't Clerk.

During the day the following resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper committees:

RESOLUTION NO. 32

Submitted by Delegate Manuel Roman, of Union No. 383, of Chicago.

Be it Resolved by this Convention that a clear definition of the terms "closed shop," "open shop," "union shop," "organized shop" and "label shop" be printed in our constitution.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 33

Submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, of Bakersfield.

In the event that we are confronted by considerable agitation of organizations commonly known as Anti-Tobacco Leagues, organized for the sole purpose of prohibiting the use of tobacco in the United States, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the delegates assembled at this Twenty-Third Convention of the C. M. I. U. do hereby favor that the International President instruct each local union to inform the International office as to the results in their methods of fighting the use of tobacco. And that we use this information as a guidance for the protection of our craft and personal liberty which we are entitled to.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 34

Submitted by Delegates from Union No. 4, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Whereas, the union label represents one of the main ideals of the labor movement, and

Whereas, we believe we should at all times be consistent and demand the union label on any article we purchase, therefore, be it

Resolved, that no male delegate to the C. M. I. U. of A. Convention shall be seated unless he can show on his person, to the Credential Committee, at least five union labels.

FRED GEO. SCHNABEL.

JOSEPH BAUER.

JNO. L. GILLIAM.

Referred to Label Committee.

RESOLUTION NO. 35

Submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, of Bakersfield.

Whereas, it is the fundamental principal of the members of the Cigarmakers' International Union to assist and carry out the declaration and purposes of the Trades Union Label League of the American Federation of Labor, and

Whereas, that our International Union is affiliated with the label section of the American Federation of Labor, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the delegates assembled at this Twenty-Third Convention of the C. M. I. U. will assist in organizing a Trades Union Label League in every Central Labor Council recognized by the American Federation of Labor.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 36

Submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, Bakersfield.

Whereas, it has been necessary for the C. M. I. U. of A. to do considerable label agitation in advancing the sale of union labeled products and placing the principal of organized labor before the public and consumer of products, and

Whereas, that we recognize one day in each year known as "Labor Day" a holiday of the members of the C. M. I. U. of A., so therefore be it

Resolved, that the C. M. I. U. of A. in Convention assembled go on record as making special efforts on said "Labor Day" to promote and further the fundamental principal of organization of the A. F. of L.; be it further Resolved, that we also go on record as using the slogan, "Does it bear the Union Label on said "Labor Day" and whenever possible.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 37

Submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, Bakersfield.

Whereas, that in the oil fields of the state of California there are some of the largest labor organizations affiliated with the A. F. of L. and in the locality where such organizations exist, we have not got a local of the C. M. I. U. of A.; and

Whereas there are a large amount of cigar consumers in these localities and that we have not had any label agitators of the C. M. I. U. of A. working in such territory; so therefore be it

Resolved, that the C. M. I. U. of A. in Convention assembled favor that the International President shall send or appoint a special "label agitator" to visit such territory for the interest of the "Blue Label" of the C. M. I. U. of A. and to visit all central labor councils and local union meetings possible in such territory.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 39

Submitted by Delegate Eugene Escassi, of Union No. 500, Tampa.

Whereas, the G. A. B. of Tampa, representing local unions Nos. 336, 462, 464, 474 and 500 of the C. M. I. U. of A. after trying to settle the difficulties existing between the cigarmakers and manufacturers and after all efforts to adjust these differences have been exhausted, has been forced to declare a strike.

We have called out the employees of 29 shops, which involve between 4,500 and 5,000 cigarmakers, and this number will be increased to a greater extent, judging by present indications, for those who were permitted to remain at work are being made to feel the might of the oppressor; and

Whereas, these tyrannical employers are resorting to various methods to make things as unpleasant as possible so that they also will walk out.

Whereas, we are facing a serious situation and consequently compelled to fight the Manufacturers Association, composed of the most tyrannical, autocratic and unscrupulous men in this or any other country engaged in the tobacco industry.

Whereas, they not only control the box factories, thereby forcing large and small factories who do not belong to the Manufacturers Association to join said organization whether they wish to do so or not by preventing them from getting any boxes as a penalty for their refusal, but they even go further than this, the banking houses of this city are also playing in cahoots with these men, intimating to manufacturers who are still running independently that their credit will be seriously disturbed as a consequence of non-membership in the combine against us.

Whereas, as you can readily see, this combination of forces creates a powerful and destructive organization further aided and abetted by the support of every commercial interest in the city; and

Whereas, you are in a position to make the International Union a strong organization; and

Whereas, the result of this conflict will be international in its effect; be it

Resolved, that this Convention give the aforesaid strike in Tampa its most hearty support, morally, and that each and every delegate, upon their return to their local union, organize a campaign for the purpose of collecting funds to aid our brothers in distress.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 40

Submitted by Delegate I. Livitsky, of Union No. 165, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Whereas, the present rate of dues and assessments has caused discontent, destroyed the spirit of unity with members, and has kept non-members from us, and forces the consideration of the reconstruction of our laws to make them fit the conditions faced in all cigar centers; therefore, be it

Resolved, that Sections 134 to 142, inclusive, and all laws and parts thereof pertaining to sick and death benefits contained in Sections 143 to 149, inclusive, and all laws and parts thereof, the fraternal benefits be separated from the industrial organization; and be it further

Resolved, that a committee be elected by this Convention with power to call in an actuary who shall determine what must be paid per member to continue and retain the sick and death benefit.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTION NO. 41

Submitted by Delegate A. T. Gibbs, of Union No. 29, of Jacksonville.

Whereas, it has come to the members of Union No. 29 that members of the C. M. I. U. have been discriminated against on account of color in various parts of the country; therefore be it

Resolved, that the action of the unions in the various parts where this is practiced has hindered the growth of the International Union in the section where these members went out from; be it further

Resolved, that the C. M. I. U. in Convention assembled do hereby call upon those unions where this is practiced to desist, as this is one of the main forces used by the enemies to deter organization, and that wherever a member of the International Union presents him or herself and a job is open, he or she shall be employed forthwith, regardless of race, color or religion.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

TENTH DAY.

Cleveland, O., April 22, 1920.

President Perkins called the convention to order at 9 o'clock.

The roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

President Perkins stated that the remainder of the committee's report under the heading, "Class B," which had not been previously disposed of, was before the convention. He also stated that the first thing in order would be consideration of the committee's recommendation covering initiation fees for "Class B" members, which is as follows:

First—One dollar initiation fee, payable in four weekly installments of 25 cents each.

Delegate Martinez, No. 460, submitted the following amendment:

"Class B"

All persons engaged in the cigar industry (except the cigarmakers, wrapper selectors and packers who shall be eligible as regular full dues paying members as provided for by Section 61, and with the exceptions and limitations provided for therein) such as stemmers, strippers, banders, branders, labelers, casers, factory employees and helpers in general of the cigar industry, may become SEMI-MEMBERS under the following conditions:

1. Payment of one-half of the regular initiation fee, one-half of the regular weekly dues, one-half of all the international assessments levied and all local assessments levied by his union.

2. SEMI-MEMBERS will be entitled to one-half of all the benefits provided in our constitutions under the same restrictions and limitations.

3. SEMI-MEMBERS out of work for twelve days or longer shall be granted an out-of-work stamp for the amount of his weekly dues.

4. Traveling loans not to exceed $10.00.

5. One-half of one vote in questions affecting our organic law or any of its provisions or in deciding any local question in which their votes have to be added or computed with those of any local union composed of regular dues paying members.

6. In all other respects the laws and rules governing arrearages of dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to the time in the payment of benefits, and all other laws governing the regular full dues paying members shall apply to people enrolled as SEMI-MEMBERS.

7. This SEMI-MEMBERSHIP system to be in force for two years, beginning May 1st, 1920. If this system proves to be satisfactory the next coming Convention shall decide whether people enrolled as SEMI-MEMBERS should be granted the privilege of paying the full regular dues and full international assessments to be entitled to the full benefits.

8. If the next coming Convention decides that they are entitled to this privilege then the date of membership shall be computed upon the basis of one-half time.

President Perkins stated that that part of Delegate Martinez' amendment (first paragraph) enumerating who shall be eligible under "Class B" was out of order, that question having been previously decided upon by the convention.

DELEGATE RHINE, No. 90: Does that mean that these men must come in under a class for themselves and in separate unions, or will the local unions be permitted to take them into their fold under "Class B"?

PRESIDENT PERKINS: Where there are a sufficient number they should form a local union of their own. If there are not at least seven engaged in such occupations, they of course cannot form a separate union.

DELEGATE BREY, No. 97: In localities where they don't organize locals of their own, but are admitted into the regular union, how do they vote? Are they entitled to full votes and rights?

PRESIDENT PERKINS: They are unless otherwise provided for. There is an amendment here that gives them one-half vote.

In answer to an inquiry concerning the wrapper selectors, President Perkins stated that they were and always had been eligible for membership in the regular class.

The following is the committee's first recommendation under "Class B":

One dollar initiation fee, payable in four weekly instalments of 25 cents each.

To this recommendation Delegate Martinez, No. 460, offered the following amendment:

Payment of one-half of the regular initiation fee, one-half of the regular weekly dues, one-half of all International assessments levied and all local assessments levied by his union.

The question was discussed by Delegates Riefkin, No. 129; Martinez, No. 460; Ransberg, No. 141; Goodacre, No. 42, and Lipschitz, No. 90.

The amendment offered by Delegate Martinez was adopted.

Action on Section 2 of the committee's recommendations, which provided weekly dues of 15 cents, was unnecessary in view of the adoption of the Martinez amendment.

The third paragraph of the committee's recommendation reads:

One-half of all International assessments levied (after six months' membership) except label assessments.

Delegate Martinez' amendment to the above was as follows:

One-half of all International assessments levied after six months' membership, unless it be assessments levied purely for strike or lockout purposes. Also that these members shall pay the label assessments.

DELEGATE HAMILTON, No. 49: Are we to understand that the taking in of these members is limited to label shops?

PRESIDENT PERKINS: No; they are eligible from any shop.

The question was discussed by Delegates Rhine, No. 90; Keener, No. 235; Hohler, No. 94; Sexton, No. 110, and Martinez, No. 460.

Delegate Hilfers, No. 138, offered the following substitute for Paragraph 3 of the committee's report and the Martinez amendment:

One-half of all International assessments and one-half of all local strike assessments, after three (3) months' membership. Class B members to be exempt from all label assessments.

DELEGATE MCGREGOR, No. 228: Wouldn't this amendment make it possible, where the strippers, banders, etc., are operating under a separate charter, that the Cigar Makers would be legislating for the strippers' locals without their voice and consent?

PRESIDENT PERKINS: Under the laws now, all local assessments, where there are one or more unions in the town, must be or should be voted upon by all the unions and the majority vote decides, so that a local union of strippers of course could not interfere with the majority wishes of all the members in a certain town.

The substitute offered by Delegate Hilfers was defeated.

The Martinez amendment was adopted.

No action was necessary on the fourth recommendation of the committee, in view of the adoption of Delegate Martinez' amendment.

Under the caption, benefits of "Class B" members, the first recommendation of the committee was as follows:

First—Strike benefits, $4.00 per week for the first sixteen weeks, and $2.00 per week thereafter.

Delegate Martinez amended the recommendation:

One-half of the strike benefit provided for the regular, full dues paying members.

The amendment of Delegate Martinez was adopted.

The second provision of the committee's recommendation under the heading of benefits for "Class B" members reads:

Out-of-work benefit.—Members out of work for twelve days or longer shall be granted an out-of-work stamp.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Chairman Sexton explained that the wording of Paragraph 3 under the heading of benefits for "Class B" members had been changed to conform to the action of the convention in eliminating "Class A." As amended it reads:

Third—A death benefit of $25.00 at the expiration of two years' membership.

Delegate Martinez, No. 460, submitted the following amendment:

Class B members shall be entitled to one-half of the death benefit provided for by the constitution for the regular full dues paying members and one-half of the sick benefit.

On objection raised by the Chairman of the Committee on Constitution, President Perkins ruled that only that part of Delegate Martinez' amendment pertaining to and that the sick benefit question must be eliminated.

The question was discussed by Delegates Lepine, No. 112; Grabenstein, No. 141, and Goodacre, No. 42.

A motion for the previous question was carried.

The amendment of Delegate Martinez was adopted.

Recommendation of the committee:

Fourth—In all other respects the laws and rules governing arrearages of dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to time in payment of benefits and all other laws governing the members paying regular dues shall apply to members enrolled in Class B.

Amendment to the committee's recommendation by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Add to Section 4 of the article on the Class B members the following: All who are already members of the American Federation of Labor may deposit their cards with the International Union without payment of the initiation fee.

The question was discussed by Delegates Grube, No. 39, and Gompers, No. 144, and the Grube amendment was adopted.

The committee's recommendation as amended by Delegate Grube was adopted.

The following amendment was presented by Union No. 90:

This shall also include the full right of voting for local and International officers, all amendments to the constitution and all other questions.

President Perkins ruled the amendment out of order on the grounds that it was superfluous, the members having the right of full vote now.

President Perkins further ruled that the amendment of Delegate Grube would properly be placed at the end of the committee's fourth recommendation under the head of benefits for "Class B" members.

Fifth recommendation of the committee:

In localities where a grievance or difficulty may arise in a factory affecting either the cigarmakers or Class B, or both, there shall be three members elected from the cigarmakers, and three elected from the other class involved, and such Joint Committee shall endeavor to adjust all such grievances that may arise between the employer and the members. Any failure to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of such difficulty, an application to strike would require approval by vote of local unions as provided for under sections governing strikes and lockouts.

The recommendation of the committee was adopted.

President Perkins ruled that the adoption of this section would not take the settlement of a difficulty out of the hands of a Joint Advisory Board where such exists.

Delegate Martinez, No. 460, offered the following addition to Recommendation Five of the committee as already adopted:

Members of Class B shall be entitled to one-half of one vote in questions affecting our organic law or any of its provisions or in deciding any local question in which their votes have to be added or computed with those of any local union composed of regular dues paying members.

The question was discussed by Delegates Roman, No. 383; Martinez, No. 460; Rhine, No. 90; Velleman, No. 97; Campbell, No. 53; Alonzo, No. 389, and Perrone, No. 462.

Upon motion, debate was closed.

The chair was in doubt on a viva voce vote, and a vote by show of hands showed, without a count, that the amendment of Delegate Martinez was defeated.

Delegate Fish, No. 335, offered the following addition to "Class B":

All members of Class B should have the right to become full dues paying members if he or she so desires.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 164 to 63.

Delegate Brey, No. 97, stated that Delegate Collins' amendment to Section 61, providing for the inclusion of various people working at the trade, had not yet been disposed of.

President Perkins stated that this question was held over, under a ruling of the chair, and it was agreed that if the proposition of the Committee on Constitution was defeated, the convention would refer back to that question, but that this action was not necessary now in view of the action of the convention in providing a refuge for strippers, banders, etc.

President Perkins ruled out of order that portion of Delegate Martinez' amendments to "Class B" providing for the system to be effective for two years beginning May 1, 1920, on the grounds that the question must first be decided by the referendum vote.

The report of the Committee on Constitution was continued on Section 70:

DUES AND ASSESSMENTS, LIABILITY FOR NON-PAYMENT

Amend Section 70 by striking out thirty on line two and insert 50. Add at end of section by inserting new initiates who have not been such for four months shall be exempt from all assessments. This shall not be so construed as to exempt reinstated members from payment of assessments.

Amendment by Union No. 337, Key West:

Amend Section 70 to read: Every member, except as herein otherwise provided, shall pay to the local to which he belongs the sum of 30 cents per week dues, and every member shall pay all assessments that may be required by his class of membership, providing that such member has been a continuous paying member for not less than three months. That no assessment shall be levied on any member that has not been a continuous dues paying member for a period of not less than three months.

(On the Key West amendment the committee reported non-concurrence. The President ruled that only that part of the amendment pertaining to exemption of newly initiated members from payment of assessments for a specified time was in order.)

Section 70.—Amendment by Delegate Dawson, No. 17:

Strike out the section as it now reads and substitute the following:

Every member, except as herein otherwise provided, shall pay to the local to which he or she belongs, the sum of 60 cents per week for each full contributing member, 50 cents per week for each retired beneficial member, and 40 cents per week for non-beneficial members. Every member shall pay all assessments that may be required of his class of membership.

Section 70.—Amendment by Delegate Wall, No. 28:

Amend Section 70 by striking out "thirty" on line two and inserting "sixty." Add at end of section:

"New Initiates who have not been such for four months shall be exempt from all assessments. This shall not be so construed as to exempt reinstated members from payment of assessments."

Section 70.—Amendment by Delegate Groelinger, No. 90:

Amend by striking out on line five the figures "30" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "40."

Section 70.—Amendment by Delegate Goldstein, No. 292:

Amend by striking out the figures "30" on line two and inserting the figures "60."

Section 70.—Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Amend by inserting after the word "dues" the following:

For strike benefits, traveling loans and out-of-work stamp, and an additional 30 cents for the sick benefits and death benefits."

Section 70.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Add to Section 70, on line three, after the word "dues" the following: "Which shall be used for organization and strike purposes only," the rest to follow.

PRESIDENT PERKINS: All of the amendments just read are germane to the question except the amendments offered by Delegates Grube and Billow. We are now acting upon Section 70 of the constitution, which provides the amount of dues members shall pay. The amendment of Delegate Grube proposes to amend the sick and death benefit sections. The amendment by Delegate Billow provides for "organization and strike purposes only." That amends another part of the constitution—"Strikes," and "Organization." We have passed the latter, and the chair rules, as he did the other day, that we are now acting upon Section 70, in which we are to determine the amount of dues that are to be paid. When we reach strikes, sick and death benefits, your propositions can be taken up, and if they should be adopted, if it becomes necessary we shall refer back to Section 70 and make it conform to the new law if it is adopted.

Delegate Wall's amendment, which was confined strictly to the proposition of establishing 60-cent dues, was discussed first.

Vice-President Gompers presided during a portion of the discussion.

The matter was discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97, Billow, No. 527, Dawson, No. 17, and Grube, No. 39.

Before adjournment Delegate Dawson, on behalf of the local committee, announced that the official Convention photograph would be taken at noon.

At 12 o'clock the Convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

TENTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the Convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

The roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

Delegate Escassi, No. 474, moved that the privilege of the floor be extended Brother Munez, Secretary of the Joint Advisory Board of Tampa. The motion was seconded and carried, and Secretary Munez gave a brief history of the present trouble, told of the concerted effort that was being made by the manufacturers to thwart the organization, and solicited the moral and financial support of the delegates in behalf of the members on strike.

Delegate Walters, No. 473, stated that he was in need of funds to cover expenses and to purchase a ticket to his home, and read a letter from his local union authorizing him to obtain the necessary loan.

Delegate Levitzky, No. 165, moved that the International President be authorized to request Local Union No. 17 of Cleveland to advance to Delegate Walters the sum of $130.00 as a loan to his union. (Motion seconded and carried.)

The discussion on the amendments to Section 70 was resumed, and the following delegates spoke on the question: Lipschitz, No. 90; Connelly, No. 9; Black, No. 27; Kennedy, No. 140; Rhine, No. 90; Campbell, No. 53; Dehan, No. 251; Hernfeld, No. 165; Golden, No. 227; Billingsheimer, No. 132; Ransberg, No. 141; Sexton, No. 110; Velleman, No. 97; Levitzky, No. 165, and President Perkins.

To clear up some confusion created through the statements of some delegates that the chair would not permit the introduction of the question of establishing an optional benefit fund for those who desired to avail themselves of it, President Perkins stated that he had at no time denied the right of the delegates to introduce propositions to create two classes of benefits, the economic and the beneficial, if they so desired, but that any amendments or additions looking to the creation of such classes must come up at the proper time in the consideration of the report of the Committee on Constitution.

A motion to close debate was adopted unanimously.

The vote on the amendment to strike out the figure "30" in Section 70 and insert the figures "60" was carried, 149 voting in the affirmative and 102 in the negative.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Delegate Van Horn, secretary of the committee, submitted the following report:

The Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 13 (second day's proceedings), by Delegate Riefkin, of Union No. 129, of Denver, expresses its firm conviction of the usual unfair attitude which the newspapers of our country take toward the rational and natural movement of the working people of our country for their own protection and for the promotion of their rights and their interests; but in our judgment it is of doubtful wisdom to urge the masses of our people to cease reading the newspapers.

As workmen and as liberty loving citizens of our country we have always insisted and now insist upon the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech, assemblage and of the press and we cannot insist upon our own rights in respect to these without at the same time holding in the right of those even who are opposed to us having the same freedom of expression.

If the intelligence and the conscience of our people shall be able to distinguish that which is an unfair presentation of any matter effecting the working people from that which is fair and give their individual patronage or withholding it as the attitude of the newspapers may be hostile or fair, they will have accomplished a result tending to influence the newspapers to compete with each other in an endeavor to publish the truth.

We therefore recommend non-concurrence in the resolution and the adoption of this declaration in lieu thereof.

A motion was made and seconded to adopt the report of the committee.

The question was discussed by Delegate Riefkin, No. 129, and Gompers, chairman of the committee, after which the report of the committee was adopted.

Your committee having under consideration Resolution No. 14 (second day's proceedings), by Delegate W. E. Kindorf, of Union No. 44, St. Louis, Mo., Resolutions Nos. 16 and 19 (fourth day's proceedings), by Delegate N. L. McGregor, of Union No. 228, of San Francisco, while looking with favor upon the spirit of the resolutions, reports that the entire subject matter dealt with has been and is being discussed by the delegates to this convention and therefore in our judgment, no action is necessary upon the resolutions.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 21 (fourth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Wm. B. Dawson, of Union No. 17, of Cleveland, Ohio, recommend that it be amended so as to read as follows:

The Cigar Makers' International Union of America, in convention assembled in the City of Cleveland, Ohio, April, 1920, go on record as unqualifiedly placing the entire blame for the cessation of work by the Boston policemen upon Police Commissioner Edwin U. Curtiss and his advisers.

The delegates to this convention and many of our local unions having given substantial financial and moral assistance to the Boston policemen, recommend that no further action is necessary on the part of this convention.

Delegate Dawson stated that he was in accord with the action of the committee.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having before it Resolution No. 23 (fifth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Joseph Dehan, of Union No. 251, of New York, N. Y., recommends that this convention re-indorse the union label of the United Hatters of North America and pledge our organization and its membership to do everything possible to extend the power and usefulness of the union label of the United Hatters of North America.

Your committee further recommends that the subject matter of the Union Label upon the product of union millinery workers be referred to the delegates of the Cigar Makers' International Union to the next convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The report of the committee was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions, when considering Resolution No. 26 (seventh day's proceedings), by Eugene Escassi, of Union No. 500, of Tampa, Florida, invited him to appear before the committee and present the grounds upon which he based his proposed resolution. He admitted that he lacked the information upon which his resolution is predicated.

Recognizing, however, the necessity for some declaration by our International Union, we recommend the following:

Resolved, that we are opposed to a large standing army and that the spirit of militarism should be discouraged rather than encouraged in our republic, and that the armed forces of our country and states should be reduced to the lowest possible number consistent with our national defense and independence. We protest against the use of the armed forces in any manner to break the ranks or the spirit of workers who, in a normal manner, are engaged in any dispute for the protection of their rights or the promotion of their interests.

Delegate Escassi requested that the names of Delegates Alonzo, No. 389, and Claremont, No. 500, be recorded as having signed the resolution.

The report of the committee was adopted by unanimous vote.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 27 (seventh day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Tom Black, of Union No. 27, of Toronto, Canada, recommend that it be concurred in after amending it by adding the word "system" after the words "bunch breaking" and before the final word "and" in the second paragraph of the preamble, so that the resolution will read:

Whereas, the system of piece work is a menace to the moral and mutual well-being of those engaged in the cigar industry; and

Whereas, the subdivision of our craft as expressed through the machine and bunch breaking system; and

Whereas, the difference in the bills of prices and the difficulties in altering same; and

Whereas, a different system is required to cope with the changed conditions; be it therefore

Resolved, that our Executive Board be instructed to investigate and report, through the Journal, the advisability of introducing week work.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 31, (eighth day's proceedings', submitted by the California Delegation, Unions Nos. 225, 228, 238, 332 and 469, recommends concurrence.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Your Committee on solutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 32 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Manuel Roman, of Union No. 383, of Chicago, Ill., recommends that it be amended by striking out the word "constitution" and inserting the words "Official Journal" in lieu thereof.

With this amendment, we recommend concurrence.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 35 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, of Bakersfield, recommends that it be amended as follows :

In the first paragraph of the preamble strike out the words "the members of" and change the name of the "organization from "Trades Union Label League" to the "Union Label Trades Department," to conform to the fact, so that the resolution will read:

"Whereas, it is the fundamental principle of the Cigarmakers' International Union to assist and carry out the declarations and purposes of the Union Label Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor; and

Whereas, that our International Union is affiliated with the Label Department of the American Federation of Labor; therefore be it

Resolved, that the delegates assembled at this Twenty-Third Convention of the Cigarmakers' International Union will assist in organizing a Trades Union Label League in every Central Labor Council recognized by the American Federation of Labor."

As amended, your committee recommends concurrence.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 36 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, of Bakersfield, recommends concurrence.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 41 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate A. J. Gibbs, of Union No. 29, of Jacksonville, Fla., reports that it has no knowledge, nor is there any knowledge current that any such discrimination exists as indicated in the preamble to this resolution.

The constitution of the Cigar Makers' International Union not only declares, but guarantees the right to every cigar maker his eligibility to membership therein without regard to sex or color.

Your committee therefore recommends that this report and declaration be adopted in lieu of Resolution No. 41.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 42

Submitted by the committee.

The Committee on Resolutions recommends to the Convention that it authorize and request the President of the International Union to publish in the Official Journal from time to time resolutions adopted by the Conventions of the International Union and ratified by the membership.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 15 (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate W. E. Kindorf, of Union No. 44, of St. Louis, Mo., and Resolution No. 29 (eighth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate J. Billow, of Union No. 527, of Chicago, Ill., while feeling that they may have been devised with the best of intentions, doubts their practical application.

We do, however, recommend that the subject of cooperation be given due consideration by the members of locals union throughout our jurisdiction.

A motion was made and seconded to adopt the report of the committee.

The question was discussed by Delegates Kindorf, No. 44; Billow, No. 527; Gompers, No. 144; Velleman, No. 97; and President Perkins.

Upon motion, debate was closed, and the report of the committee was adopted.

Delegate Dawson, for the local entertainment committee, announced that plans were under way for an excursion for the delegates on Sunday.

At 5 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Friday morning, April 23.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't Clerk.

ELEVENTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 23, 1920.

President Perkins called the convention to order at 9 o'clock.

The roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

Delegate Sommerfeld, No. 15; asked if a resolution relative to the Tampa strike had been introduced.

President Perkins stated that if such a resolution had been introduced it was properly entered in the record and referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

President Perkins stated that the question before the Convention at the time consideration of the report of the Committee was discontinued was that part of Delegate Wall's amendment to Section 70, which reads as follows:

New initiates who have not been such for four months shall be exempt from all assessments. This shall not be so construed as to exempt reinstated members from payment of assessments.

Delegate Kennedy, Secretary of the Committee, stated that this amendment was identical with that contained in the committee's report.

The amendment was adopted.

Section 71.—Amendment by the Committee:

Amend Section 71 by striking out on last line "20" and insert "30."

Section 71.—Amendment by Delegate Dawson, No. 17:

Amend by striking out the figures "20" on line five and substituting the figures "50," the remainder of the section to remain as at present.

Section 71.—Amendment by Delegate Goldstein, No. 292:

Amend by striking out on last line the figures "20" and substituting therefor the figures "40," balance of section to read accordingly.

President Perkins stated that the vote would occur first on the amendment of Delegate Dawson.

The question was discussed by Delegates Spangenberg, No. 33; Hilfers, No. 138; Kraemer, No. 111; Hohler, No. 94; and President Perkins.

The amendment offered by Delegate Dawson was defeated.

The amendment offered by Delegate Goldstein was adopted.

Section 73.—Amendment by the Committee:

Amend by striking out "20" and inserting "30."

(No action was necessary on this recommendation, the action of the Convention on Section 71 automatically changing Section 73 to conform thereto.)

Sections 74 and 75 were passed without change.

Delegate Sexton, chairman of the committee, offered the following motion: Wherever the amount of 20c dues occurs in any part of the Constitution referring to retiring card holders, the same shall be stricken out and 40c substituted, so that all sections dealing with this matter will conform to Section 73 as adopted by the Convention.

The motion was seconded and carried.

Section 76.—Amended by the Committee: Amend by striking out the words "15-cent members" and insert "20-cent members."

Section 76.—Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Amend by striking out the figures "15-cents" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "30-cents."

After a statement by Delegate Grube, his amendment was adopted.

President Perkins stated that if there were no objections that part of Section 64 which provides for payment of dues of 15-cent members would be changed to 30-cents to conform to the amendment just adopted. No objections was offered and the change was so ordered.

It was moved and seconded that the war retiring clause of Section 76 be stricken out. This motion was withdrawn after statement by Delegate Hernfeld, No. 165, in which he stated that members of the organization were yet in the service and would be affected by such action.

The Convention at this time referred back to that part of Section 64 which provides a death benefit for 15-cent members. The committee's amendment is as follows:

Strike out the figures "$50" on line eleven and insert the figures "$75."

Amendment by Union No. 90:

Strike out on line nine the words "fifty years of age" and insert the words "forty-five years of age."

The amendment by Union 90 was discussed by Delegates Grube, No. 39; Kennedy, No. 140; and Brown, No. 144.

The amendment of the committee was adopted.

Section 76 was passed without change.

In connection with Section 77 the President made the following statement: On motion it was agreed that wherever the figures "20-Cents" are expunged from the Constitution the figures "40-Cents" are to be inserted instead. It is also understood that wherever the figures "30-cents" occur the figures "60-cents" shall be substituted.

Section 77.—Amendment by the delegation from Union No. 90:

Amend by adding on line sixteen after the words "who is sick," the following: "or doing their own home domestic work."

The question was discussed by Delegates Rhine, No. 90; Hohler, No. 94; Kennedy, No. 140; Ransberg, No. 141; Meyer, No. 233; and Spangenberg, No. 33.

The amendment was defeated.

Section 78. No change offered.

Section 79. Amendment by the committee:

STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS.

Amend Section 79. Strike benefits increased from $5 to $7, and $3 to $5 where same appears. Dues corrected to conform to foregoing sections. Last two paragraphs in Section 79 referring to strippers' union struck out.

Section 79.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Amend by striking out the rest of the first sentence of Section 79 after the words "employers" on line three and insert: "After an earnest effort is made by the union or unions or the Joint Advisory Board to have an understanding with the manufacturer or manufacturers as to conditions or the bill of prices, and the workers by two-thirds' majority decide to call a strike, the regular procedure of making strike applications, etc., gone through, whether the referendum endorses the strike or not the strike should be recognized as a legal one. If endorsed by the referendum the strikers shall get strike benefits. Strike out the figures "$5 and "$3" on line six and insert "$10" and "$5."

Section 79.—Amendment by Delegation, No. 144:

Amend by striking out "$5" on line six and inserting in lieu thereof "$8." Strike out "$3" on line six and insert in lieu thereof "$4."

The Delegation from Union No. 90 of New York and Delegate Joel, No. 97, also offered amendments to Section 79, but later withdrew them.

President Perkins stated that the amendment of Delegate Billow embodied two separate and distinct questions, that both were permissible, but that only the question involving the increase of strike benefits was a proper one for discussion at this time.

The Convention agreed to consider first the amendment of Delegate Billow providing for a strike benefit of $10 per week.

The question was discussed by Delegates Billow, No. 527; Grabenstein, No. 141; Joel, No. 97; Sexton, No. 110; Cheatham, No. 192; Brey, No. 97; Brown, No. 144; Hilfers, No. 138; Van Horn, No. 14; Grube, No. 39; Perrone, No. 62; Connelly, No. 9; Black, No. 27, and President Perkins.

The amendment offered by Delegate Billow was defeated.

The vote was next taken on the amendment offered by Delegate Brown, of No. 144, and the Chair being in doubt as to the result of the viva voce vote, a vote by show of hands was called for.

Delegate Brown before the result of the vote by show of hands was announced, demanded a roll call.

The vote by show of hands resulted as follows: 152 opposed to the amendment, 108 in favor.

Delegate Brown again insisted upon the roll call and the request was supported by 43 delegates.

The secretary proceeded to call the roll, and the result was as follows:

On the question of raising the Strike Benefit to $8.00 per week and $4.00 after 16 weeks was adopted by an affirmative vote of 106 delegates, representing 233½ votes as follows:

Ayes.—John L. Gilliam, Jos. Bauer, Fred G. Schnabel, R. G. Wackerman, J. B. Sigel, M. Schuencke, I. Sommerfeld, John J. Ellis, H. Wood, John Klevering, John Reichert, J. Brueggeman, T. Black, W. B. Robson, F. A. Grube, John Guetens, Wm. H. Goodacre, E. Kindorf, Harry Hasher, H. R. Hamilton, Chas. Kaiser, John Geary, Henry Gerow, Ed. Schrempf, Jacob Liepschitz, A. Groelinger, Jacob Rhine, P. The amendment offered by Delegate Brown was declared adopted in accordance with the above vote.

President Perkins called attention to the rule providing for roll call and stated that rule for the future guidance of the convention. He further stated that he would have been unfair if he had entertained a motion for a roll call, that under the rule a delegate may request a roll call and if it is supported by forty delegates, that is final.

At twelve o'clock the Convention adjourned to reconvene at one-thirty o'clock.

ELEVENTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the Convention to order at one-thirty o'clock.

The roll call and reading of minutes was dispensed with.

Delegate Rhine, No. 90, asked consent to introduce a resolution bearing on the ousting of five Assemblymen from the New York State Legislature. Consent was given and the resolution, numbered 43, was introduced and referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OFFICERS' REPORTS

Delegate Hilfers, No. 138, presided during the reading of the following report by Delegate Campbell, chairman of the committee:

Cleveland, O., April 23, 1920.

REPORT OF THE FIRST VICE- PRESIDENT

Your committee having examined the report of the First Vice-President, desire to say to the delegates to this convention that the amount of work done is not enlarged upon by him in his statement to this convention, very modest indeed.

The condensed tables showing how the appeals to the popular vote was decided is interesting reading.

We further wish to say we believe that a careful examination of the Report of the International President will convince any reader that our International Union has received the attention of a student of economics and our many grievances a fair and impartial hearing.

That it is natural to expect a continuance of this efficient effort and fair mindedness while he is Chairman of this Convention or serve the interests of our International Union in any capacity.

Yours fraternally,
W. A. CAMPBELL,
Chairman.

S. J. BUTLER,
H. R. HAMILTON,
JOHN H. RILEY,
P. RIVERA MARTINEZ,
Secretary.

The report of the committee was adopted.

President Perkins in the chair.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

The committee amended Section 79 by striking out the last two paragraphs in relation to union strippers.

The recommendation of the committee was adopted.

Section 79.—Amendment by Delegate Billow:

Amend by striking out the rest of the first sentence of Section 79 after the word "employers" on line three and insert: "After an earnest effort is made by the union or unions or the Joint Advisory Board to have an understanding with the manufacturer or manufacturers as to the conditions or the bill of prices and the workers by two-thirds majority decide to call a strike, the regular procedure of making strike applications, etc., gone through, whether the referendum endorses the strike or not, the strike should be recognized as a legal one. If endorsed by the referendum the strikers shall get strike benefits."

Delegate Sexton, chairman of the Committee on Constitution, raised the point of order that the amendment was a contrary one and therefore not a proper one for the consideration of the convention, calling for the recognition of strikes regardless of whether they are properly endorsed.

President Perkins ruled the point of order well taken, and in doing so said: There is an amendment to the constitution in this respect. While it is a direct contradiction, yet there is this difference, although it does not belong to Section 79. Put it in there if you like. The purport of the proposition is that even though a popular vote disproves of a strike application it may still be considered legal. The law now provides that no difficulty shall be considered legal unless approved by popular vote. The amendment as it now reads is directly contrary to Section 79 and to another section of the Constitution. If the delegate wants to accomplish his purpose he will have to try it under another section and in a different way.

Section 79.—Amendment by Delegates Rhine and Groelinger, No. 90:

Strike out in Section 79 on line thirteen after the word "months" all up to and including the word "blanks" on line twenty-four, and insert the following:

Should the reinstatement of a victimized member be desired by a majority of the members employed in that shop and after a thorough investigation by the local union or the J. A. B. wherever such exists, a strike application shall be made for the enforcement of same, subject to Section 81.

Section 79.—Amendment by Delegate Lipschitz, No. 90:

Strike out on last line on page twenty-two all after the word "report" and lines one and two on page twenty-three and insert:

Each local or J. A. B. wherever such may exist have the right to call the particular factory on strike for the reinstatement of said member where such discharge has taken place, after it has been verified by five members of said factory and after it has been proved by a two-thirds vote of the membership of said factory.

Section 79.—Amendment by Delegate Hernfeld, No. 165:

Strike out in second paragraph all on line twenty-eight after the word "assessment" and insert the words "as he may deem necessary," the section to read: "The International President shall be empowered to call for an assessment as he may deem necessary."

The question was discussed by Delegates Sullivan, No. 55; Rhine, No. 90; Escassi, No. 500; Melhado, No. 144; Sexton, No. 110; Lipschitz, No. 90 and Van Horn, No. 14.

A motion for the previous question was carried.

The amendments of Delegates Rhine and Lipschitz were defeated.

The amendment of Delegate Hernfeld was adopted after a statement by Delegate Hernfeld.

Section No. 80.—No change offered.

Section 81.—Amendment by Delegate Velleman, No. 97:

Amend Section 81 by striking out all after the words "International President" on line four and insert the following:

But no difficulty shall be considered legal unless local union approves same by two-thirds majority vote, by secret ballot. Should any difficulty arise in any locality in which more than one union exists, no statement shall be submitted or considered unless all the unions have acted conjointly and all organizations have balloted and two-thirds of all votes cast have so decided. In localities where two more unions exist, the statement submitted to the International President shall be signed by the Joint Advisory Board and three officers of the local union. And no union, submitting such statement in any locality shall have the right to declare a strike off, or perform any other material act, without the Joint concurrence of a majority vote, of all the members voting in such locality. Failing to comply with this section, they shall be suspended by the International President, but this shall not debar them from the right of appeal.

Section 81.—Amendment by Delegate Cooper, No. 336:

Amend by adding after second paragraph of Section 81 the following:

But in case the application is reported approved by the J. A. B. in question, the International President shall publish the vote of the local unions.

The question was discussed by Delegates Velleman, No. 97; Heslop, No. 228; Gompers, No. 144; Spangenberg, No. 33; Collins, No. 97; Black, No. 27; Billow, No. 527; Campbell, No. 53; Levitzky, No. 165; Brey, No. 97; Levy, No. 13; Dehan, No. 251, and President Perkins.

A motion for the previous question was carried.

The amendment offered by Delegate Velleman was lost.

Delegate Cooper discussed his amendment, which was lost on being put to vote.

Delegate Roman offered the following amendment:

Section 81. Add to section on line six, after the word "case," the words "gathered among members of the union or unions."

First Vice-President Gompers in the chair.

Delegate Roman discussed his amendment, which was defeated on being put to vote.

Section 82. No change offered.

Section 83.—Amendment by Delegate Billow, No. 527:

Strike out the last sentence in paragraph one, Section 83, and insert the following:

Strike applications should have a statement attached by the proper officers giving all facts in the case. A minority statement or protest can be attached to the same application, provided the same has been given at a meeting of the union or joint meeting. Furthermore, the protest shall carry with it a reply by the majority or a committee thereof, or their proper officers. No strike application shall have comments by international officials. A tabulated vote shall be furnished to unions on request.

The question was discussed by Delegates Billow, No. 527; Chapp, No. 14; Perrone, No. 462, and Roman, No. 383.

A motion for the previous question was adopted.

The amendment to Section 83 offered by Delegate Billow was defeated.

Section 84.—No change offered.

President Perkins in the chair.

Section 85.—Amendment by Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Members protesting against the action of local unions on making application for strike shall present a written statement of facts at the meeting where the strike is voted on. A reply shall be drawn and read at said meeting and sent, with the statement of facts, to the international office, and both may be published in the circular, but no protest shall be published in the circular if this requirement is not complied with.

Section 85.—Amendment by Delegate Brey, No. 97:

Insert after the word "capita" on last line the following:

No personal opinions of the International President or any other member, or person, or association, or firm, shall appear in connection therewith.

The question was discussed by Delegates Roman, No. 383, and Chapp, No. 14.

The amendment of Delegate Roman was lost.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, Delegate Brey moved to suspend the rules and remain in session until his amendment was disposed of. (Motion lost.)

At 5 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock Saturday, April 24.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't Clerk.

TWELFTH DAY

Cleveland, Ohio, April 24, 1920.

The convention was called to order at 9 o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

The roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with, on motion of Delegate Hayford.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

The question before the convention at time of adjournment on Friday was the amendment to Section 85, by Delegate Brey:

Section 85. Amend by inserting after the word "capita" on last line the following:

No personal opinions of the International President or any other member, or person, or association, or firm, shall appear in connection therewith.

The question was discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97; Camobell, No. 53; Hilfers, No. 138; Kindorf, No. 44; Sommerfeld, No. 15; Van Horn, No. 14; Hernfeld, No. 165, and Dehan, No. 251.

A motion for the previous question was offered and adopted by a vote of 188 to 66.

Delegate Brey asked for a roll call on the main question. The request was supported by 43 delegates.

President Perkins, before the roll was called, stated that, in his opinion, the question at issue could have been readily disposed of without a roll call, and advised the delegates to proceed with business as rapidly as possible and get back to their homes with the least possible delay. He stated that the Executive Board had practically acted upon an assessment of one dollar per member per week, chiefly to replenish the General Fund in support of several strikes, including that in Tampa, and for that reason it was to the interests of all the delegates to complete the work of the convention and return home as soon as possible.

The clerk proceeded to call the roll, with the following result:

Ayes—Jos. Bauer, Fred G. Schnabel, I. Sommerfeld, John J. Ellis, Samuel Goldhoff, Harry Koller, J. Klevering, J. Reichert, J. Brueggeman, Wm. J. Schlitt, T. Black, W. B. Robson, F. A. Two hundred and four delegates voted in the negative, representing 258 votes.

The chair declared the amendment of Delegate Brey defeated, in accordance with the roll call vote.

Section 85. Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Add after the word "capita" the following: No communication or statement of any manufacturer or corporation shall be attached to the strike application.

The question was discussed by Delegates Grube, No. 39; Rafferty, No. 97; Sullivan, No. 55; Black, No. 27; Dehan, No. 251, and President Perkins.

The amendment offered by Delegate Grube to Section 85 was adopted.

Section 86. Amendment by Delegate Golden, No. 227:

Add to Section 86 after the word "cast" on line six the following: "But this shall not deprive local unions of the right to go on strike without receiving International Strike benefits."

Section 86. Amendment by Delegate Black, No. 27:

Amend by adding after the word "fine" on line sixteen the following: "This shall not prevent local unions from striking if they wish to forego their benefits."

The question was discussed by Delegates Black, No. 27; Golden, No. 227; Chapp, No. 14, and President Perkins.

Delegate Black stated that after hearing the statement of President Perkins he wished to withdraw his amendment. The amendment was withdrawn, no objection being offered.

The amendment of Delegate Golden was defeated.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Delegate Van Horn, Secretary of the committee, submitted the following report:

RESOLUTION NO. 43

Submitted by delegates of Union No. 90, New York, N. Y.:

Whereas, five constitutionally qualified and regularly elected representatives of the Socialist party have been expelled from the Assembly of the State of New York, and

Whereas, this act, without precedent in the history of the nation, not only runs counter to the best traditions of the country but strikes ominously at the very foundations of democratic institutions, especially representative government, including the civil liberties of the people, and

Whereas, these institutions and liberties are especially dear to the working people, who have sacrificed so much in the struggle to win and maintain them, and

Whereas, if the people are deprived of the right to the ballot, they may be driven to the employment of the weapons of violence which have always been strongly condemned by the organized labor movement, and

Whereas, we recognize in the dangerous assault on political democracy perpetrated in Albany a conspicuous act in the general campaign now being waged throughout the country to destroy rights long enjoyed by the workers, including the indispensable right to strike, now therefore be it

Resolved, by the Cigarmakers' International Union in convention assembled in the City of Cleveland on the 22d day of April, nineteen hundred and twenty, that we protest against the act of the Assembly of the State of New York in the name of tens of thousands of organized workers in and out of the State of New York; and be it further

Resolved, that copies of these resolutions be sent to the Governor of the State of New York, the Speaker of the Assembly of the State of New York, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee of said Assembly.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 43, submitted by Delegates Ad. Groelinger, Jacob Rhine, J. Lipschutz and Peter Frischhoff, of Union No. 90, New York, N. Y., recommends to the convention the following:

We hold that any candidate for any office in the United States, who citizen thereof, is eligible to nomination for and election to that office, and that when a majority of the duly qualified voters elect such a candidate he is entitled to the office to which he has been elected; that if the persons designated in the resolution have been guilty of any unlawful act, they should be charged (indicted), tried before a jury of their peers in a duly constituted court of justice, and, if found guilty, sentenced to the penalty provided for such unlawful conduct; that without regard to the political party to which the five persons designated in the resolution have belonged or do belong, we hold that they were duly elected and should have been accorded the right to their seats in the Assembly of the Legislature of the State of New York.

With this declaration, your committee recommends concurrence in the resolution.

Report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 25 (seventh day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate John J. Ellis, of Union No. 16, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Resolution No. 39 (eighth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Phil Spangenberg, of Union No. 33, of Indianapolis, Ind., recommend concurrence after Resolution No. 39 has been amended by striking out all of the last part of the last paragraph after the word "enumerated."

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 8 (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegates Jos. Brueggeman and John Reichert, of Union No. 25, of Milwaukee, Wis., recommends concurrence.

The committee recommends further that this convention not only enter its protest against labor baiting provisions and the dividend guarantee provision of the Cummins-Esch Railroad Law, but that it demand the repeal of those provisions by the Congress of the United States.

The Cummins-Esch law was enacted by a Congress of reaction for reactionary purposes. The law guarantees full protection to the owners of railroad securities in the form of an assurance of a net return of six per cent for a stipulated period. It guarantees to the railroad workers only a restriction of their normal activities, fitting proof of which has already been furnished.

Your committee finds in the decisions of the newly created wage board sufficient ground for condemning the law, if there was no other ground. This board has construed the law to mean that no body of men may file a complaint or be heard before the board while on strike. Justice is denied to those who cease work.

The whole character of the law is restrictive, oppressive and destructive of the rights and liberties of the workers. It constitutes a step in the process of destroying the fundamental democracy of the land.

For these reasons your committee recommends that in concurring in the above resolution this convention also demands that the above objectionable provisions of the Cummins-Esch Railroad Law be made an issue in the coming national election, to the end that their repeal may be secured and the enactment of additional legislation of similar reactionary, restrictive and undemocratic character prevented.

Report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions recommends the following for adoption:

RESOLUTION NO. 44

Whereas, the Lever Act was drafted and enacted for the purpose of protecting the nation's food and fuel supply during the period of hostilities and for the punishment of conspiracies to interfere with the production and distribution of food and fuel during that period, and

Whereas, under definite pledges from the highest governmental sources, including the President and the Department of Justice, organized labor entered no protest against the enactment of the Lever Bill, but on the contrary, as a patriotic duty, not only withheld all objection but aided in quickening its enactment, and

Whereas, in defiance of the clear and avowed intent of the Act and in repudiation of the solemn pledges given, the government has used the Act as an instrument for the prosecution and repression of workers exercising their normal, natural and rightful functions, specifically in the case of the recent strike of the United Mine Workers, and

Whereas, this menace confronts all workers with equal force and constitutes an unwarranted, unjust and undemocratic invasion of the rights and liberties of our people, be it therefore

Resolved, that this convention denounce with the utmost vigor the misuse of war time legislation for the prosecution and oppression of workers and condemn as unworthy and contemptible the betrayal of faith and the repudiation of pledges given in time of national peril to the effect that the law would not be so construed as to menace or destroy rights of working people; and be it Further Resolved, that we call for the immediate repeal of the Lever Act.

Report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions recommends the following for adoption:

RESOLUTION NO. 45

Whereas, the Legislature of the State of Kansas has enacted a law known as the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations Law, which makes unlawful the right to cease work—to strike—a law which is in defiance of all our concepts of freedom and justice and democracy, and which nullifies the Thirteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which prohibits involuntary servitude except as punishment for crime, and

Whereas, legislation of this character is futile as well as wrong in spirit and principle and makes law-breakers of workers who exercise their rightful activities in the struggle to improve human life and the conditions surrounding it, a fact already abundantly proven in Kansas, where more than 2,000 men are now on strike in protest against the law, and

Whereas, there is a tendency toward the enactment of similar legislation in other states of the Union—legislation which the experience of other countries as well as our own has proven impotent and wrong; be it therefore

Resolved, that we condemn without qualification the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations law and pledge our support in securing its repeal; and be it Further Resolved, that we call upon the A. F. of L. and all national and international trade unions to exert every effort in aiding to carry into effect the spirit and purpose of this resolution, warning the labor movement that vital principles of human liberty, freedom, justice and democracy are in jeopardy and that the rights of the workers cannot be made safe until the concept underlying the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations is destroyed finally and completely.

The report of the committee was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions having under consideration Resolution No. 28 (seventh day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate J. Billow, of Union No. 527, of Chicago, recommends the following substitute:

Resolved, that the Cigar Makers' International Union, in convention assembled in Cleveland, Ohio, April, 1920, declare that the right of asylum for persons charged with political offenses should be maintained; that the right of citizens in the United States to political opinion is not only guaranteed but should be maintained; and deportation of non-citizens from the United States to the country from which they emigrated should only be consummated after they have been charged with and tried and convicted for violation of law; and we urge that in the deportations of aliens as herein declared for opportunity should be afforded so that the family and dependents of the deported person might have the opportunity of accompanying such person.

The report of the committee was adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 46

Your Committee on Resolutions, taking cognizance of the practices of some cigar manufacturers to take advantage of the present internal revenue laws and regulations in which classes of cigars are designated under Class A, B, C, D and E, and frequently having cigars made under one class properly coming under another, and thereby depriving the cigar makers of the just wage to which they would be entitled if properly classified; and, inasmuch as the retailers have the fullest opportunity of exploitation in charging any price they care to charge, without regard to the classification of the cigars, we recommend that this Twenty-third Convention of the Cigar Makers' International Union urge upon the Government of the United States the repeal of the law and the regulation governing the classification of cigars made in the United States, and that a uniform internal revenue tax be provided for cigars made in the United States, and that the President and the Executive Board of our International Union be authorized and directed to take such action as will carry the purpose of this declaration into effect.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 33 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, of Bakerville, recommends concurrence in the following substitute, offered with the consent of the proponent:

Whereas, there is at the present time an organization known as the Anti-Tobacco League, formed for the avowed purpose of furthering legislation, both state and national, making the use of tobacco a crime, and

Whereas, legislation of this character is but a curtailment of the personal liberty guaranteed under the Constitution of the United States to every person; and amounts to an attempt to take away from the masses of the people one of their greatest solaces, and

Whereas, such inimical legislation would throw out of employment nearly two hundred thousand bread-winners in the cigar and tobacco industry, and

Whereas, the government has recognized tobacco as one of the necessities of mankind, commandeering the entire output of large factories for the use of our armed forces during the World War, therefore be it

Resolved, that an energetic campaign be at once inaugurated by the members of the C. M. I. U. aimed to defeat the purposes of any propaganda disseminated by the aforementioned Anti-Tobacco League or kindred organizations; and be it Further Resolved, that local unions be instructed to confer with the International President as to the best methods of combatting this organized effort on the part of paid reformers to regulate the personal habits of a free and liberty-loving people.

The report of the committee was adopted.

On Resolution No. 7 (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegates Joseph Brueggeman and John Reichert, of Union No. 25, of Milwaukee, Wis., the Committee on Resolutions recommends that the subject matter be referred to the committee created by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, for the study of the subject contained in the resolution.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 3 (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate J. Billow, of Local No. 527, while recognizing the necessity for an outlet of any accumulated products in the United States, regard the statement made upon this subject in Resolution No. 3 as a gross exaggeration and that in any event the prosperity of our nation must largely rest upon the larger consuming power of our people of their own products.

We cannot recommend to our International Union the recognition of any so-called government in Russia, or elsewhere, which is founded upon physical force and compulsory labor. When a government is established in Russia founded upon the democratic principles of a government of the people, for the people, and by the people of that unhappy country, we shall not only urge, but there will be achieved their full recognition by the democratic nations of the world.

We therefore recommend non-concurrence.

It was moved and seconded that the report of the committee be concurred in.

Delegate McCullough, No. 51, presided during a portion of the discussion.

The question was discussed by Delegates Billow, No. 527; Dawson, No. 17; Perrone, No. 462, and Gompers, No. 144.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, a motion was made and seconded to remain in session until the question was disposed of. The motion was defeated by a vote of 139 to 97.

Delegate Dawson made an announcement with regard to the excursion arranged for Sunday.

At 12:05 p. m. the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

TWELFTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

On motion the roll call and reading of minutes was dispensed with.

Discussion was resumed on the report of the Committee on Resolutions on Resolution No. 3, and the following delegates took part: Velleman, No. 97; Van Horn, No. 14; Hernfeld, No. 165; Gompers, No. 144; Levitzky, No. 144, and President Perkins.

Communications addressed to the President of the International Federation of Trades Unions and signed by trade unionists who had fled from Russia for the purpose of giving to the labor movement the true facts in regard to the condition of the Russian people were read, as published in the American Federationist.

The discussion on the question at the morning and afternoon sessions continued for nearly two hours.

Delegate Levitzky offered the following substitute for the report of the committee:

Whereas, the Government of the United States is not at war with Soviet Russia, and Whereas, from a humane standpoint the people, men, women and children, must have many commodities to assist them in curing the sick, preventing disease, etc., therefore be it

Resolved, that the Cigar Makers' International Union, in convention assembled, hereby stands for the lifting of the embargo of trade relations with Russia; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the proper authorities.

Delegate Grube, No. 39, moved that the entire matter be laid on the table.

The motion was carried by a vote of 155 to 74.

RESOLUTION NO. 47

Your Committee on Resolutions recommends the following to this convention:

We have learned with pleasure and gratification of the action taken by the recent convention of the Young Women's Christian Association in the City of Cleveland, April, 1920, in going on record favorable to the movement for the right of organization and collective bargaining; a living wage; abolition of child labor; and gradual and reasonable reduction of hours of labor to the lowest practicable point.

We congratulate the organization upon its enlightened new departure, and welcome the co-operation of the Y. W. C. A. and its membership, as well as all sympathetic and humane people of our country.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 37 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate A. H. Sidler, of Union No. 469, of Bakersfield, recommend that it be referred to the International President with the view of carrying the resolution into effect so far as time, opportunity and funds permit.

The report of the committee was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 39 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate Eugene Escassi, of Union No. 500, of Tampa, Fla., although realizing that there is some merit in the purpose of the preamble, yet we cannot endorse all the declarations contained therein.

However, in full sympathy with the resolve, we recommend its adoption.

Delegate Escassi made a statement in regard to the conditions in Tampa, and after a further statement by Delegate Gompers, the report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Delegate Sommerfeld, Local No. 15, moved that the International President send a telegram to Tampa expressing the sympathy of the convention and extending moral and financial support. (Seconded and carried unanimously.)

The committee, in recommending non-concurrence of this resolution No. 20 (fifth day's proceedings), submitted by J. Billow, of Local No. 527, is without further cause convinced that it is detrimental to the best interests of the membership and of the International Union to increase or advance the number of classes of membership in the International Union.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your committee on resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 9 (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegates Jos. Brueggeman and John Reichert, of Union No. 25, Milwaukee, Wis., and Resolution No. 12 (second day's proceedings), submitted by Delegates Fred G. Schnabel, John L. Gilliam and Joseph Bauer, of Union No. 4, of Cincinnati, Ohio, calls attention to the fact that there is in existence the Socialist Party, the Socialist Labor Party, the National Labor Party, the American Labor Party, the Service Men's National Party and the Single Tax Party, all of which claim to be "the political expression of the working class," and recommends non-concurrence in the above resolutions, basing its action on the declaration of the Cigar Makers' International Union in convention at Baltimore, Md., September, 1912, and ratified by the membership, as follows:

FORMER RESOLUTIONS

1. Resolved. That the delegates elected at this convention to represent the Cigar Makers' International Union at the convention of the American Federation of Labor be and are hereby instructed to vote as a unit on all questions of principle or importance. "Any delegate violating these instructions the International President shall declare his office vacant and it shall be filled by a popular vote."

2. Resolved. That the Cigar Makers' International Union declares anew its unreserved and unqualified fealty to and faith in the trade union form of organization and the trade union movement; that we hold the trade union movement as paramount to any other in the struggle for labor's amelioration and the laborer's emancipation; therefore, the introduction of party politics of whatsoever kind into the Cigar Makers' International Union is contrary to the best interests of our craft, our organization and our cause, and should therefore be discountenanced.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions, having under consideration Resolution No. 40 (ninth day's proceedings), submitted by Delegate I. Levitzky, of Union No. 165, of Philadelphia, Pa., is of the opinion that, inasmuch as the subject matter with which it deals is being discussed and determined by the convention in the form of amendments to the Constitution, it is inexpedient for the convention to deal with it in any other way.

Your committee therefore recommends non-concurrence.

The report of the committee was adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 48

The Committee on Resolutions recommends the following:

Whereas, the Great Lakes Cigar Company, of Detroit, Mich., has been and is hostile to the workers in the cigar trades, and

Whereas, low wages, long hours and poor conditions obtain in their factory, and

Whereas, the Great Lakes Cigar Company manufactures a cigar bearing the initials "T. R." and a picture of the late Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, former President of the United States, and

Whereas, in our judgment, the use of the initials "T. R." and the picture under the conditions herein set forth are rather in derogation than an honor to the name of the late Colonel Roosevelt, therefore be it

Resolved, that the International Union communicate with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late Colonel Roosevelt, presenting this matter to him and requesting that he take such steps as to withdraw or terminate the use of the initials "T. R." and the picture of the late Colonel Roosevelt upon the cigars manufactured by the Great Lakes Cigar Company.

The report of the committee was adopted.

First Vice President Gompers in the chair.

RESOLUTION NO. 49

The Committee on Resolutions recommends the following for adoption by this convention:

That the Cigar Makers' International Union is indebted to our International President not only for his able and faithful service to the cause of our fellow-workers in the trade, but also to the International Union and the cause of labor generally, and it is keenly appreciative and grateful for the comprehensive and painstaking report which he has submitted to this convention, and desires to express its gratitude for the capable, dignified and impartial manner in which he has presided over this convention.

That the officers and delegates to this convention of the Cigar Makers' International Union express their appreciation and gratitude to the officials of the City of Cleveland and the representatives of labor for the cordial welcome extended to the convention, and especially the cordiality and courtesy toward the delegates by Local Union No. 17 of this city.

That we extend the felicitations of this convention to our venerable past International Presidents, William J. Cannon and Adolph Strasser, and wish for them renewed health and strength, so that they may give many more years of service in the common cause of humanity.

The report of the committee was adopted by a practically unanimous vote.

President Perkins in the chair.

Delegate Gompers, chairman of the committee, stated that the work of the committee was practically completed, with the exception of one additional resolution, which the committee was now considering and in which they would embody recommendations looking to the inauguration of a drive to increase the membership of the International Union. He stated this matter would be reported on later.

Delegate Grube, Local No. 39, moved that the rules be suspended and that the convention adjourn to reconvene at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Delegate Dawson, of the local committee, announced that Delegate Gompers would address a mass meeting in the Convention Hall on Sunday afternoon on an important matter, and urged all the delegates who could to be present.

Delegate Grube's motion was seconded and carried, and at 3:15 p. m. the convention was adjourned.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Asst. Clerk.

THIRTEENTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 26, 1920.

The convention was called to order at nine o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

Roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with on motion by Delegate Hayford.

Mr. James Quinn, representative of the United Hatters of America addressed the convention, urging the demand for the Hatters' label on straw and panama hats as well as felt and wool hats. His remarks were well received.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

Section 86.—Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Amend by adding after the word "cash" on line six, the following: "This shall not be so construed as to prohibiting local unions from engaging in independent strikes."

The amendment was defeated after a statement by President Perkins that the convention had already decided against independent strikes.

Section 87.—Amendment by Delegate Hernfeld, No. 165:

Amend by striking out on line three the words "three months" and inserting the following: "A local union has the right at any time to make application except as provided in Section 92."

Section 87.—Amendment by Delegate Levitzky, No. 110:

Amend by striking out last sentence.

The question was discussed by Delegate Hernfeld, No. 165; and Sexton, No. 110.

Delegate Hernfeld's amendment was lost.

Delegate Levitzky's amendment was discussed by Delegate Levitzky and President Perkins.

The amendment was adopted.

Sections 88, 89, 90 and 91 were passed without change.

The committee submitted the following new sections:

NEW SUB-SECTIONS.

Special Strike Fund.

Sec. 92 (a). A special fund to provide for the payment of strike benefits shall be created by the levying of an assessment of $1.00 on all twenty-cent and fifty-cent dues paying members. Class A and Class B members shall pay 50 cents or one-half of the full assessment levied in the months of September and March of each calendar year payable in eight weeks. This fund to be designated as a special strike benefit and shall be used for no other purpose than the payment of members on strike or lockout which has been approved by the International Union. This assessment to continue until it reaches a per capita of $5.00 of all members of the C. M. I. U.

The International President then shall notify the members of the discontinuation of said assessment until it falls below $2.00 per capita when it shall again be levied.

The funds so collected shall be deposited by Financial Secretaries of local unions in bank as provided for in Section 173 of the constitution, and all monies collected from such assessment shall be deposited in a separate fund from local and International monies, and shall be subject to the direction of the International President who may order the withdrawal of said fund in whole, or in part as the circumstances may warrant. After the same has been approved by the International Executive Board, Section 92 B, the Strike Committee or proper officials of the local unions in localities where members are on strike, shall make report to the International Union as required under the laws of the constitution in Sections Nos. 79 to 93, inclusive. This law shall become operative as soon as ratified. But any benefits that may accrue to members because of strikes or lockouts, subsequent to the adoption of this provision and prior to the payment of the first installment of the assessment for the strike fund, benefits shall then be paid out of the funds of the International Union as governed by existing laws of the constitution as above referred to.

Should no strike or lockout occur until such time as the special strike fund is sufficient to defray expenses in the payment of benefits. Then no money shall be paid out of the general funds of the International Union for such purpose until the funds that are set aside by this law become exhausted.

Chairman Sexton explained that the wording of the new sections would have to be changed to conform to the action of the convention in eliminating Class A members and establishing the Class B membership.

The question was discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97; Ludwig, No. 191; Grube, No. 39, and Sexton, No. 110.

The new sections as recommended by the committee were adopted.

Delegate Goldhoff, No. 22, moved that the International President be instructed to send to the striking cigar makers of Detroit the same sort of an expression of sympathy and support as was extended the Tampa Cigar makers. The motion was seconded and carried.

Section No. 93.—Amendment by Delegation of Union No. 90:

Add after the word "part" on line six the following: "A reduction of wages on the part of the employer shall be deemed a lockout." Strike out on last line all after the word "section."

The question was discussed by Delegate Rhine, No. 90, and President Perkins, and the amendment was defeated on being put to vote.

Delegate Kindorf, No. 44, offered the following:

Add new section to Strike and Lockout Laws. Section to be known as Section 93-A.

No manufacturer shall be allowed to manufacture cigars for another manufacturer who is put on the unfair list, or any agent or representative of such firm. No brand of cigars made in both union and non-union shops shall be allowed; nor shall a manufacturer, their agents or representatives, be allowed to manufacture cigars for former manufacturers, their agents or representatives, who have closed or should close their shop or shops or any part thereof for the purpose of having any brands made in jurisdiction where the bill of prices are lower than where they formerly operated. Local unions after having been notified by another local union that manufacturers, their agents or representatives are violating any provisions of this section shall immediately inform said manufacturer of said violation, and if said manufacturer, his agents or representatives refuse to comply with said laws within twenty days after having been notified by the aggrieved union, application to strike against said shop or shops shall be made to the International Union by the local union in whose jurisdiction shop or shops are located, said application also to contain statement reference the controversy sent to the International President by the aggrieved union. Local unions failing to comply with the provisions of this section, or furnish false information to a sister local shall be suspended by the International President.

It shall be optional with local unions who have placed manufacturers on the unfair list to enforce the provisions of this section or to enforce Section 159 of the Blue Label Laws.

W. E. KINDORF, Union No. 44, St. Louis.

The question was discussed by Delegates Kindorf, No. 44; Levy, No. 13; Hernfeld, No. 165; Collins, No. 97; Campbell, No. 53; Dawson, No. 17; Hamilton, No. 49; Brown, No. 144; Velleman, No. 97; Levitzky, No. 165; Gage, No. 231; Sexton, No. 110, and Billow, No. 527.

On motion of Delegate Sexton the amendment was referred to the Committee on Constitution for redrafting.

Section 94.—Amendment by Delegates of Union No. 4, Cincinnati:

Amend by adding after the word "arbitrate" on line three the words "When called upon by the local union." Rest to read the same. Section 94 to read: The Executive Board shall be empowered to appoint one or two members of the International Union with instructions to arbitrate, when called upon by the local union, etc., etc.

The question was discussed by Delegates Bauer, No. 4; Black, No. 27, and President Perkins.

President Perkins stated that in the past 28 years not more than three cases had been submitted to arbitration, and that in those cases it was not a question of wages. He quoted the law as it now exists to bear out his assertion that the arbitrators are not clothed with final and arbitrary power.

The amendment was defeated by a practically unanimous vote.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Delegate Van Horn, Secretary of the committee, submitted the following report:

RESOLUTION NO. 50

Your Committee on Resolutions recommends the following to the Convention:

This Twenty-Third Convention of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America declares its renewed fealty, devotion and abiding faith in our International Union and in the trade union movement of America, and we call upon the members of our International Union to ratify this fealty, devotion and abiding faith not only individually but collectively.

That we appeal to the unorganized members of every branch of our trade and industry to assume the same fealty, devotion and abiding faith in the permanency and efficiency of the Cigarmakers' International Union in its ability to bring light and improvement into their work and homes and become members of our International Union and thereby become part of the great labor movement of America at the earliest possible opportunity.

That the Cigarmakers' International Union now having opened its doors wide for the acceptance of all who are working in our trade and industry; have submitted a proposition for the reduction of the hours of labor of all who are working in our craft and industry beginning May 1, 1921, and have increased the benefits in case of strikes or lockouts, it is the duty of the unorganized to join with us and make common cause for immediate early improvement and final triumph, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the local unions throughout our jurisdiction select committees of such members as may be necessary and that the duties of the committee and the unions shall be to conduct a "drive" or "Labor Forward Movement" in an organizing campaign in the industry and that every arrangement be made for the beginning of the "drive" June 30, 1920, the fifty-sixth anniversary of the birth of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America, to last until the meeting of each union after Labor Day, 1920.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Delegate Gompers: Mr. Chairman, this completes the report of the Committee on Resolutions, which is respectfully submitted and signed:

SAMUEL GOMPERS, Chairman,
T. F. MCCOLLOUGH,
J. W. OUTTEN,
W. FINAUER,
R. E. VAN HORN, Secretary.

President Perkins expressed his appreciation of the manner in which the Committee on Resolutions had performed its duties.

Delegate Levitzky, No. 165, stated that he wished to be recorded as being opposed to the delegates to the American Federation of Labor voting as a unit.

President Perkins stated that each and every delegate to the A. F. of L. convention was given full and free opportunity to air his views and that it was only on rare occasions that the delegation held a caucus on matters coming before the convention.

Delegates Stiegerwald, No. 332, and Wood, No. 23, stated that they had voted in the affirmative on the question of Delegate Brey's amendment at Saturday's session and they had by mistake been recorded as voting in the negative:

The clerk was instructed to make the necessary corrections.

Sections 95 to 102, inclusive were passed without change. (The Delegation from Tampa had introduced an amendment to Section No. 97, but withdrew it with the consent of the convention.)

Delegate Wackerman, No. 5, moved that the committee be authorized to amend Section 103 to provide for "Class B" workers. The motion was seconded and carried.

Sections 104 to 133-b were passed, having previously been acted upon by the convention.

Section 134.—Amendment by the Committee:

SICK BENEFIT.

Section 134. Strike out $5.00 and insert $7.00 on line 7. Strike out on line eleven the word thirteen and insert ten, and after the word Canada, on line fourteen and insert, "or outside of the jurisdiction of the International Union." Balance of Section unchanged. Section to read:

Section 134. Every member who shall have been for not less than one year continuously a contributing member of the International Union, and who is not under any of the restrictions specified in these laws, shall be entitled, should such member become sick or disabled, or who may be held in quarantine by an authorized board of health, in such manner as to render such member unable to attend to his or her usual vocation, to a sum of $7.00 per week out of the funds of the union; provided, such sickness or inability shall have continued for at least one week or seven days, and shall not have been caused by intemperance, debauchery or other immoral conduct. No member shall be entitled to any sick benefit for a longer period than ten weeks in any one year, commencing from date of member's first report, whether such inability has been continuous or periodical; but no member while absent from the United States and the Dominion of Canada, or outside of the jurisdiction of the International Union. Remainder of Section not printed.

Section 134.—Amendment by Union No. 141:

Strike out all after the word "conduct" on line eleven up to and including the words "one year" on line thirteen and insert the following: "No member shall be entitled to any sick benefits for a longer period than eight weeks in any one year."

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegation of Union No. 90:

Add after the word "periodical" on line thirteen the following: "And shall not be entitled to any more sick benefits when $2bu has been drawn."

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Brey, No. 97:

Amend constitution by inserting a new Section 134 (all other sections to be renumbered accordingly) as follows: "It shall be optional for all persons who become members after the adoption of this section to avail themselves of the fraternal features as herein-after provided by paying the additional dues provided for fraternal features in Section 70."

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Burger, No. 32:

Amend by striking out "$5" on line seven and inserting "$7." Strike out the words "one week or seven days" and insert "two weeks or fourteen days" on line eight. Strike out the word "thirteen" on line eleven and insert the word "twelve." Balance of section unchanged.

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegation of Union 144:

Strike out the word "thirteen" on line eleven and insert in lieu thereof the word "eight."

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Le Vine, No. 112:

Strike out on line eight, after the word "least" the words "one week or seven days," and insert the following: "two weeks or fourteen days, when said member shall be entitled to one week's benefit." Balance of section to remain unchanged.

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Aout, No. 172:

Strike out on line seven the figures "$%" and insert: "$1 for the first week and $1 per day for each additional day for a period not to exceed ten weeks in any one year." Balance of section to read accordingly.

Delegate Brown, No. 144, moved that the rules be suspended and the convention remain in session until the amendments to Section 134 were disposed of. (Motion lost.)

At 12 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 p. m.

THIRTEENTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock.

The roll call and reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

Delegate Marxer, No. 352, proposed that permission be given him to have his local union loan him $20.

Delegate Dixon, No. 223, made a motion that his name be included for a loan of $87 with which to meet obligations.

President Perkins stated that a statement should be made for the inspection of the Committee on Mileage and Per Diem. (Motion seconded and carried.)

Delegate Coon, No. 188, made a motion in the morning session to amend Rule 4 that no delegate shall speak more than once until all who wish to talk have had an opportunity nor more than ten minutes the first time and five minutes the second time.

The question was discussed by Delegates Grabenstein, No. 141; Goodacre, No. 42; Brey, No. 97, and Delegate Coon, No. 188.

On motion debate was closed.

The amendment was defeated.

Delegate Brey's amendment to insert a new Section 134 (all other sections to be renumbered accordingly) was discussed by Delegates Brey, No. 97; Brown, No. 144; Van Horn, No. 14; Gage, No. 231; Gompers, No. 144; Endy, No. 267; Sexton, No. 110; Levitzky, No. 165; Grube, No. 39; Campbell, No. 53; Perrone, No. 462; Velleman, No. 97; Connelly, No. 9; Rhine, No. 90. Vice-President Gompers presided during a portion of the discussion.

President Perkins made the following statement at the close of Delegate Brey's remarks: "The Chair wants to state in the amendment the proposition we are now debating is the broad question of dividing us into two classes. To avail themselves of the fraternal features as hereinafter provided by paying the additional dues provided for fraternal features in Section 70. Now if you adopt this it will require a motion to change Section 134 insofar as sick benefits are concerned; a motion to amend the death benefits because of legal reasons. I want the delegates to understand that clearly. We have certain financial obligations and while you have a right to change them, to make that legal, it will require a motion, regularly made and adopted and spread on the records as the action of this convention."

At the close of Delegate Levitzky's remarks, President Perkins read a letter from the Secretary of the State Federation of Florida which commended Organizer Sonthimer on his work and stated that the Organizer is carrying out policies which he has advocated for years in handling a situation of this kind.

President Perkins stated that he was unqualifiedly opposed to Delegate Brey's amendment, that he was unqualifiedly opposed to the division. He stated that if adopted it would bring the organization square toed under the insurance laws of every state in the Union.

On motion debate was closed.

Delegate Brey requested a roll call on the main question and the request was supported by forty-five delegates.

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll with the following result:

Roll Call on Brey's Amendment to Section 134, to divide the beneficial system into optional features was defeated by 78 affirmative votes, representing 198 to 202 negative votes, representing 270 votes.

At 5 o'clock the convention adjourned to reconvene at 9 o'clock, Tuesday morning, April 27th.

F. G. HOPP, Clerk.

JOHN HAYFORD, Ass't Clerk.

FOURTEENTH DAY

Cleveland, O., April 27, 1920.

The convention was called to order at nine o'clock, President Perkins in the chair.

The reading of the minutes and roll call were dispensed with on motion by Delegate Hayford.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

Section 134.—Amendment by the Committee on Constitution:

SICK BENEFIT

Sec. 134. Strike out "$5.00" and insert "$7.00" on line seven. Strike out on line eleven the word "thirteen" and insert "ten," and after the word "Canada," on line fourteen and insert "or outside of the jurisdiction of the International Union." Balance of section unchanged. Section to read:

Sec. 134. Every member who shall have been for not less than one year continuously a contributing member of the International Union, and who is not under any of the restrictions specified in these laws, shall be entitled, should such member become sick or disabled, or who may be held in quarantine by an authorized board of health, in such manner as to render such member unable to attend to his or her usual vocation, to a sum of $7.00 per week out of the funds of the union; provided, such sickness or inability shall have continued for at least one week or seven days, and shall not have been caused by intemperance, debauchery or other immoral conduct. No member shall be entitled to any sick benefit for a longer period than ten weeks in any one year, commencing from date of member's first report, whether such inability has been continuous or periodical; but no member while absent from the United States and the Dominion of Canada, or outside of the jurisdiction of the International Union. Remainder of section not printed.

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 144:

Amend by striking out the word "thirteen" on eleventh line and inserting the word "eight" in lieu thereof.

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 141:

Amend Section 134 by striking out all after the word "conduct," on line eleven up to and including the words "one year" on line thirteen and insert the following: "No member shall be entitled to any sick benefit for a longer period than eight weeks in any one year." (Continuation of Section 134.)

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 90:

Amend by adding after the word "periodical" on line thirteen "and shall not be entitled to any more sick benefits, when $280.00 has been drawn."

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Burger, No. 32:

Amend by striking out "$5.00" on line seven and inserting "$7.00." Strike out the words "one week or seven days" and insert "two weeks or fourteen days" on line eight. Strike out the word "thirteen" on line eleven and insert "twelve." Balance of section unchanged.

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Aout, No. 172:

Amend by striking out on line seven the figures "$5.00" and insert "$1.00 for the first week and $1.00 per day for each additional day for a period not to exceed ten weeks in any one year." Balance of section to read accordingly.

Section 134.—Amendment by Delegate Le Vine, No. 112:

Amend by striking out on line eight after the word "least," "one week or seven days" and insert the following: "two weeks or fourteen days when said member shall be entitled to one week's benefit." Balance of section to remain unchanged.

The amendment by the committee was discussed by Delegates Sexton, No. 110; Brown, No. 144; Kain, No. 14; Kennedy, No. 140.

The amendment of the committee was adopted.

The adoption of the committee's amendment disposed of the amendments of Nos. 141 and 144.

The following delegates requested that they be recorded as voting in the negative: Lustig, Rausburg, Crabenstein and Mrs. M. Semerad, of No. 141; Levitzky, No. 165, and Riefkin, No. 129.

On being put to vote, Delegate Burger's amendment was defeated.

On being put to vote the amendment offered by Delegate Aout, No. 172 was defeated.

On being put to vote the amendment offered by the Delegation of No. 90 was defeated.

Delegate Aout, No. 172 stated that he had been refused the floor to discuss his amendment and President Perkins replied that this was not true as the delegate was entitled to the floor and if he had manifested a desire to speak, same would have been given him.

Section 135.—No change.

Section 136.—Amendment by the committee:

Section 136. On line ten strike out "twenty" and insert "forty." No further changes in section.

The change was made by motion of the convention.

Sections 137 and 138 were passed without change.

Section 139.—Amendment by the committee:

Strike out on first line the figures "30" and insert the figures "60." On same line strike out the figures "20" and insert the figures "40." Also strike out the last paragraph.

By the action of the convention the changes to 60-cents and 40-cents had automatically been made. Motion to strike out the last paragraph was adopted.

Sections 140, 141, and 142 were passed without change.

Section 143.—Amendment by the committee:

DEATH BENEFIT

The committee has amended the Death Benefit Law by extending the time from two to twenty years' membership, following the graduated time that the present law is based on, increasing the amount of benefit for two year members and decreasing the benefit for five, ten and fifteen year membership. The present maximum being extended from fifteen to twenty years, and the full amount of $550 that is now granted by our present law, accruing to members at the expiration of the twenty year period.

Sec. 143. Strike out on line six the word "fifty" and insert "seventy-five" and on line seven, the word "fifty" and insert "seventy-five." Balance of section unchanged.

Section 143.—Amendment by the Delegation of Local Union No. 144:

Amend by striking out the word "two" on line two of Section 143 and insert the word "three" in lieu thereof.

President Perkins stated that as the Committee's amendment was the more far reaching, that debate would be upon that amendment, section by section.

The questions were discussed by Delegates Kennedy, 140; Brown, No. 144; Ransburg, No. 141.

The proposition of striking out on line six the word "fifty" and inserting "seventy-five" and on line seven, the word "fifty" and insert "seventy-five" was adopted.

Section 144.—Amendment by the committee:

Sec. 144. Strike out the word "fifty" and insert the word "seventy-five" on first line. On line five strike out "two hundred" and insert "one hundred and twenty-five." On line eight strike out "three hundred and fifty" and insert "two hundred and seventy-five." On last line strike out "five hundred and fifty" and insert "four hundred and seventy-five." The following new paragraph has been added to this section, extending the period of time from fifteen to twenty years, when the beneficiary shall be entitled to receive the full five hundred and fifty dollars.

If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for twenty years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars. Section to read:

Sec. 144. Including the seventy-five dollars funeral or cremation expenses, there shall be paid upon the death of a member the following sums, viz: If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for five years or longer period less than ten years next preceding his death, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars. If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for ten years or longer period less than fifteen years next preceding his death, the sum of two hundred and seventy-five dollars. If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for fifteen years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of four hundred and seventy-five dollars. If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for twenty years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars.

Section No. 144.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 141:

DEATH BENEFIT

Strike out all of Section 144 and substitute the following in lieu thereof:

Sec. 144. Including the fifty dollars funeral or cremation expenses, there shall be paid upon the death of a member the following, viz: If the deceased shall have been such member continuously for five years or longer period less than ten years next preceding his death, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars. If the deceased shall have been such member continuously for ten years or longer period less than fifteen years next preceding his death, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars. If the deceased shall have been such member continuously for fifteen years but less than twenty years next preceding his death, the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars. If the deceased shall have been such member continuously for twenty years but less than twenty-five years next preceding his death, the sum of four hundred and fifty dollars. If the deceased shall have been such member for twenty-five years continuously preceding his death, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars.

The voting then came on the committee's amendment to strike out $200 and insert $125 for the first five year membership.

The Chair was in doubt on a viva voce vote and a vote by the show of hands resulted in 181 delegates voting in favor and 74 against and President Perkins declared the amendment adopted. Balance committee's report to Sec. 144, to strike out $350 and insert $275, to strike out $550 and insert $475, was adopted.

The proposition of striking out $550 and inserting $475 for the 15 year membership was adopted which disposed of the amendment by the Delegation of No. 141.

The proposition of the payment of $550 at the expiration of 20 years was put to vote and the Chair being in doubt on the viva voce vote, a vote by show of hands was taken resulting in 196 delegates in favor of the amendment and 65 against. The amendment was adopted.

The following delegates requested that they be recorded as voting in the negative: Levitzky, No. 165; Riefkin, No. 129; Delegation of No. 97; Goodacre, No. 42; Klevering, No. 24; Dallet, No. 48; Ellis, No. 16; Wagner, No. 210; Cochran, Nos. 505 and 510; Rutter, No. 501; Spangenberg, No. 33; Cooper, No. 386; Joel, No. 97; Heslep, No. 225; Laland, No. 219, and Lipschitz, No. 90.

Section 144-a.—Amendment by Delegate Dawson, No. 17:

Amend by adding the word "or" after the word "blind" on line two.

The question was discussed by Delegates Dawson, No. 17; Billingsheimer, No. 132; McGregor, No. 228, and Grube, No. 39. President Perkins stated that if a member has lost the use of both hands, even though not severed, he would be entitled to the total disability benefit. If paralyzed and unable to do manual work, the courts have held this to mean the loss of both hands.

The amendment was adopted.—

Sections 144-b, 144-c, 144-d, 144-e, 144-f, and 144-g were passed without change.

Section 145.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 141:

Abolish all of Section 145, as it is illegal to pay benefits out of the general fund for anyone who is not a member of the Cigar-makers' International Union.

The question was discussed by Delegates Ransburg, No. 141, and Grabenstein, No. 141.

The amendment was defeated.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON UNION LABEL

The secretary of the committee read the following:

Cleveland, O., April 27, 1920.

To the Twenty-Third Convention of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America:

Your Label Committee begs leave to submit the following report:

1. We are fully in accord with the views as expressed by the International President in his report on the Union Label.

Considering the handicaps under which our Label has labored from the very day of its inception; fully realizing that the enemies of organized Labor have carried on a constant and relentless war against our Label, as well as against all Union Labels, leaving nothing undone in their efforts to discredit our Label—should give us much food for thought.

The very fact that our enemies have labored ceaselessly to consummate the complete annihilation of our Label, can lead us to but one conclusion: "The Employers fear the power that lies within our Label." Realizing more keenly than we, that we have within our grasp a weapon that will eventually lead us to the very pinnacle of our hopes and aspirations.

Firmly convinced that the future holds glittering prospects for the promotion of Blue Label Cigars, and the instilling slowly but surely of that confidence in the mind of the smoking public which we have so long strived to accomplish and confidently feeling that in the future demand and popularity of our Label lies our safety, and the assurance of bringing within the folds of our organization a greater part of the workers of the Cigar Industry, we do not hesitate in recommending that steps be taken immediately to further safeguard, protect and promote our Union Label; and with the hearty and unanimous cooperation of the members we can look forward to the day in the near future when we shall be amply rewarded for our loyalty, our sacrifices, and our labor, resting safe and secure under the protection of our Blue Label.

Conditions have changed, and today we are in a position to open a campaign of Blue Label publicity "based on quality" and quality as well as workmanship should be our slogan from this day on. And the final result can be only victory for the Cigar-Makers' International Union of America.

Therefore, firmly believing that our Blue Label is today one of our greatest assets, and having faith in the future power of our Label—your committee feels no hesitancy in recommending for your serious consideration, several changes in our Constitution, and having faith in the membership and their respect for our Label—we lay our recommendations and suggestions before you secure in the thought that you will welcome the opportunity to rally to the support of our Blue Label—"Our Badge of Honor."

2. International Advertising Bureau:

Your committee having under consideration the recommendation of the International President, that there be established an International Advertising Bureau, desires at this time to call the delegates' attention to a few additional facts:

1. With the advent of prohibition, 75% of the former market for Union Made Cigars has disappeared.

2. 85% of the smoking public are indifferent to the Union Label, and 75% are not affiliated with labor organizations, consequently having no reason for calling for the Label.

3. The changed conditions in the country have made necessary new methods of advertising.

4. That delay at this time may cost us dearly, and means that we will deliberately play into the hands of the large Non-Union Manufacturers.

5. That the opportunity presented at this time, to advertise our Label as a mark of quality should not be overlooked, as the danger of having the Label placed on inferior goods is fast disappearing.

Therefore, we recommend for your serious consideration and adoption the institution of a department to be known as the International Advertising Bureau.

3. We further recommend that a clause shall be added to Section 163 making it compulsory upon each Local to appoint one or more members, as their needs may be, who shall act as local publicity committee and work under the instructions of the Advertising Bureau, and report direct to the Bureau all progress, and be responsible to the head of the Bureau for neglect of duty.

4. We further recommend the adoption and addition of the following clause to Section 163: That all advertising of the Label shall be carried out under the supervision of the Advertising Bureau when such advertising is paid for out of the publicity fund—but this shall not prevent any local doing extra advertising when such advertising matter is paid for through local assessments.

5. We further recommend for adoption an addition to paragraph 2:

A clause covering the work of the organizers more definitely in that they shall report progress of Local Publicity Committees in localities in which organizers may be working direct to Advertising Bureau.

6. We further recommend that the Advertising Bureau be granted separate space in the Official Journal, in order that they may remain in touch with the local committees and the membership throughout the country may be informed as to progress made.

7. Having in mind the changes in conditions and also the changes in the laws of the organization, we recommend to the convention the serious consideration of granting the Label to all shops thoroughly unionized, and where union conditions are observed absolutely.

8. Your committee having constantly in mind the safeguarding of the Blue Label, and realizing the possibilities of the future selling power of the Label, do further recommend that you give your serious consideration to the advisability of devising ways and means of restricting the use of the Label on inferior goods, thereby increasing the selling power of the Label, and assuring the smoker that the Blue Label is a sign of quality.

9. In view of the fact that the International President has directed our attention to what he considers defects in the present laws governing the use of the Union Label, in regards to small cigars, your committee recommends the adoption of a clause covering the small cigars, and granting the use of Label on same in shops where union conditions are established.

Delegate Borden, secretary of the committee, submitted the following report:

Delegate Billingsheimer, No. 132, submitted the following recommendation: "I recommend the advisability of starting Union Label Stores the same as we have in Brooklyn and in New York represented by local unions of Greater New York."

Your committee having under consideration the Resolution of Delegate Billingsheimer, No. 132, concurs in the spirit expressed in the resolution and recommends that all local unions cooperate with their respective Label Leagues with the end in view of inaugurating and supporting a movement to install Local Union Label Stores throughout the country.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your committee having under consideration the Resolution of Delegates Schnaubel, Bauer and Gilliam, of No. 4 (page 6, ninth day's proceedings) recommend its adoption. We believe that the Cigar Makers' International Union in convention assembled should go on record as insisting on its members demanding and promoting the interests of all Union Labels. We further recommend that this resolution be brought to the attention of all members of the different local unions by the delegates of their respective locals with the purpose and aim of making the members of the C. M. I. of N. the Union Label champion of the Union Labor movement. We recommend the adoption.

Report of the committee was adopted.

At 12:05 p. m. the convention adjourned to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

FOURTEENTH DAY — AFTERNOON SESSION

President Perkins stated that the Clerk of the Convention, Delegate Hopp, was seriously ill. With the approval of the convention, Delegate Van Horn, No. 14, was appointed to act as substitute until such time as Delegate Hopp was able to resume his duties.

Delegate Laland, No. 219, requested permission to make a loan of $15 to defray expenses. President Perkins referred the delegate to the Committee of Mileage and Per Diem.

The Chairman of the Committee on Mileage and Per Diem made the announcement that their report would be ready tomorrow and that some corrections had been made in the Per Diem due certain delegates but that if any errors had been made, the committee would give same consideration.

The report of the Committee on Union Labels was continued.

Delegate Rutter, No. 501, submitted the following:

Amend Section 150 by adding: "The International President shall have a label prepared, printed and registered. A stogie trademark label in perforated sheets of not less than ten suitable to be pasted on the outside of the box so that the label will be conspicuously displayed. The label shall be light blue color. All labels issued shall be printed in series and numbered consecutively. The wording and size to be the same as the present stogie label."

Your committee in considering the resolution and request of the delegation of Local 501 in behalf of the Stogie Makers, have given the matter considerable thought, and we believe that the Stogie Makers are justified in their demands. Your committee further believes that inasmuch as this convention has endorsed and instructed the International President to take steps toward the affiliation of all of the Tobacco working trades and taking into consideration the fact that the present color of the Tobacco Workers' Label is blue, as well as the Cigarette Workers' Label, and we believe that the affiliation of the Tobacco working Labor Unions will adopt a uniform color for their inspection labels—size and shape being the only distinction.

We further believe that inasmuch as the Stogie Makers are affiliated and a part of the International Union, their request should receive your serious consideration, and your committee recommends for adoption the resolution of the Stogie Makers.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Your committee on the Blue Label wishes to refer to Section 164 of the constitution, providing for the compulsory affiliation of any local wherever a state, provincial or district Label League may be found.

While the law is very clear (as stated in Section 164) your committee is informed that in some cases the Label Leagues complain of local unions refusing to become affiliated with the respective Leagues, and the non-enforcement of Section 164. We believe this lack of cooperation on the part of any local where a League has been officially organized is very detrimental to the active agitation for the Blue Label, and with the probable organizing of an International Advertising Bureau we submit, that the active cooperation of Blue Label Leagues will be required more than ever.

We therefore, recommend to this convention that the International President be empowered to order the affiliation of any local union with their state or district Label League whenever such League submits a protest to the International office and the International President may direct that such steps shall be taken to force compliance with the foregoing Section.

Report of the committee was adopted.

This concludes the report of the Committee on Union Labels which is respectfully submitted and signed:

W. A. BORDEN, No. 217;
J. C. HILSDORF, No. 213;
M. J. STONE, No. 150;
JAMES F. SHEA, No. 92;
D. SUGDEN, No. 224.

The report of the Committee on Union Labels was adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTION

Sections Nos. 151 to 153 inclusive were passed without change.

Section 154.—Amendment by the committee:

"THE BLUE LABEL"

Sec. 154. Strike out word "scab" on line twelve and insert "non-union." Strike out word "scab" on line sixteen and insert "non-union," and on line twenty-one strike out "$8.00" and insert "$9.00" as amendment offered by Union 218, Binghampton, N. Y., and adopted. Balance of section unchanged.

Sec. 159. Strike out on line twenty-eight the clause, "in force October 1, 1915."

Sec. 161. Correct by striking out on line seventeen "67a," and insert "64a," as this was a typographical error in the constitution, and on line twenty-three strike out "in force August 1, 1915."

Section 154.—Amendment by Delegate Craig, No. 357:

On line twenty the words "United States" add the words "or Canada." On line twenty-two strike out after the word "thousand" "and in Canada which pays less than $7.00 per thousand."

Section 154.—Amendment by Delegate Rick, No. 77:

On line twenty-eight after the word thousand insert the following: "Unions shall furnish union labels for all cigars made under union conditions. Balance of section to remain the same. Amendment defeated.

The amendment of the committee was adopted.

The amendment of Delegate Craig was adopted.

Delegate Borden withdrew his amendment, to redraft in accordance with suggestions offered.

A motion was made by the chairman of the Mileage and Per Diem Committee that the loans requested by Delegate Dixon, No. 223, and Delegate Laland, of No. 219, be allowed. (Seconded and carried.)

Section 155.—Amendment by Delegate Dehan, No. 251:

Amend by striking out on line two the words "work at the bench" and insert in lieu thereof "makes or packs cigars." Section to read accordingly.

Section 155.—Amendment by Delegate Golden, No. 227:

Amend by adding on line seven after the word "himself" "or whose foreman makes cigars." Balance of section to read the same.

Section 155.—Amendment by Delegate Kain, No. 14:

Amend by striking out after the word "employs" on second line of second paragraph the word "two" and insert the word "five."

Delegate Kain's amendment was lost.

Delegate Golden's amendment was defeated after discussion by Delegates Golden, No. 227; Kramer, No. 111; Roman, No. 383; Sexton, No. 110, and President Perkins.

Delegate Dehan's amendment was adopted.

Delegate Borden submitted his amendment to Section 154 in revised form as follows:

Insert after the word "thousand" on sixth line, Section 154, from bottom, the following:

This shall not prevent a local union from establishing a minimum bill of prices on small cigars four inches in length or less, and weighing not more than three pounds per thousand.

Subject to the approval of the International President and International Executive Board. The amendment was adopted.

Section 155.—Amendment by Delegate Grube, No. 39:

Amend by adding the following: "Wherever a foreman packs cigars, his salary shall not be less than he is actually earning according to the bill of prices.

The question was discussed by Delegates Grube, No. 39, and Goodacre, No. 42, and President Perkins.

The amendment was defeated.

Sections 156 to 158 inclusive were passed without change.

Section 159.—Amendment by the Committee:

Amend by striking out on line twenty-eight the clause "in force October 1, 1915."

The amendment was adopted.

Section 160 was passed without change.

Section 161.—Amendment by the committee:

Correct by striking out on line seventeen "67a" and insert "64a," as this was a typographical error in the constitution, and on line twenty-three strike out "in force August 1, 1915."

Section 161.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 90:

Add on line four after the word "Committee" "or Joint Advisory Board wherever such exist." Also add on line six after the word "Committee" "or Joint Advisory Board." Section to read accordingly.

Section 161.—Amendment by Delegate Kindorf, No. 44:

Amend by adding on line two, after the word "city" the words "or jurisdiction." Rest of section to remain the same.

The amendment of Delegation of No. 90 was discussed by Delegates Rhine, No. 90, and Dehan, No. 251.

Delegate Rhine requested the Chair to state if it was not compulsory to have a Label Committee. President Perkins stated that where there are two or more unions they can combine Joint Advisory Board and Label Committee.

Amendment of Delegation of No. 90 was defeated.

Delegate Kindorf's amendment was defeated.

Referring to the amendment to Section 161 by the committee, President Perkins stated that while it is superfluous, he would request that it be allowed to remain as a handy reference. He stated that he is asked to state when this law went into effect and it was for this reason that same was originally put in the section.

The committee withdrew its amendment.

Section 162 was passed without change.

Section 163.—Amendment by Delegate Borden, No. 217, to be added to the amendment of the committee:

Add after paragraph three, Section 163 (a) the following:

All advertising of the union label shall be carried out under the supervision of the Advertising Bureau—when such advertising is paid for out of the funds of the Advertising Bureau—but this shall not prevent any local union doing extra advertising when such advertising is paid for through local assessments. Amendment adopted.

Section 163.—Amendment by the committee:

Sec. 163. Strike out the entire section and substitute the following:

INTERNATIONAL ADVERTISING BUREAU

Sec. 163. There shall be established an International Union Label Advertising Bureau, which shall be located in the same city as the International Headquarters.

The functions of this bureau shall be to promote through a systematic form of advertising a greater demand for the use of the Union Label, and the distribution of propaganda and advertising matter for Union Label goods.

(a) An expert advertising agent shall be employed at a salary not to exceed thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500) per annum, whose duty shall be to purchase or secure the most practical and up-to-date advertising matter, such as calendars, display posters, novelties, and all other class of advertisement that in his judgment may be deemed necessary.

The International President shall be empowered to appoint said agent and shall have supervisory control over the agent and the bureau, with the consent and approval of the International Executive Board. The President shall advise and confer with him in all matters relating to the purchase and distribution of advertisements.

All advertisements pertaining to the Blue Label must be distributed to all local unions under the jurisdiction of the International, under such terms and conditions as may be agreed on by the President with the consent of the International Executive Board.

(b) State Federations, Union Label Leagues, Central Labor Bodies and all organizations shall be encouraged to co-operate with said bureau for the purpose of maintaining a more uniform system of advertisement and general distribution of our Union Label Products.

Organizers and Label Agitators shall be directed by the President to co-operate with and assist officers and members of local unions in promoting the work of agitation.

(c) The funds necessary for defraying the expense of the International Advertising Bureau shall be provided for from a $1.00 per capita tax on all 20-cent and 50-cent contributing members to be taken from the general fund, based upon the membership as computed from the May Report.

Add to paragraph two, Section 163 (b), the following:

And shall report direct to Advertising Bureau all progress made by Local Publicity Committee in the locality in which the organizer may be working.

Add after second paragraph, Section 163 (b), the following:

Each local shall appoint one or more members as may be required who shall be known as the Local Publicity Committee. They shall work under the direction of the Advertising Bureau and report direct all progress and shall be responsible to the Advertising Bureau for neglect of duty.

The amendment of the committee was adopted.

Section 164.—Amendment by Delegate Horne, No. 171:

Amend by adding the following: "Or charter be revoked."

Section 164.—Amendment by Delegate Borden, No. 217:

Add to Section 164 the following:

This shall be compulsory and when complaints are made against local unions for non-enforcement of the law with the International Office, the International President shall take the necessary steps to enforce compliance with the law.

Delegates Black, No. 27, and Borden, No. 217, discussed Delegate Borden's amendment.

On being put to vote, both Delegate Borden's and Horne's amendments were defeated.

Sections 165 to 167 inclusive were passed without change.

Section 168.—Amendment of Delegate Roman, No. 383:

Add to Section 168 the following:

In localities where more than one charter exists any local union by a two-thirds vote of its members may submit to a local referendum a proposition to consolidate into one union and if approved by a majority in the local referendum it shall be compulsory to form one union.

Section 168.—Amendment by Delegation of No. 4:

On line ten, after the words "highest bill" add the following: "And failing to do so the International President shall have the right to suspend said local union until this section has been complied with." Rest of section to read the same.

Delegate Roman's amendment was defeated.

The amendment by the Delegation of No. 4 was adopted.

Delegate Dehan, No. 251, requested that he be recorded as voting in the affirmative.

Sections 169 and 170 were passed without change.

Section 171.—Amendment by Delegate Wackerman, No. 5:

Amend by striking out on last line the words "including voting on strikes" and insert "except voting on strikes."

The amendment was defeated.

Section 172.—Amendment by the committee:

GENERAL FUND

Sec. 172. Strike out on line five the word "and," and on line seven the word "label," insert "and International Assessments which are levied for special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b." Section to read:

Sec. 172. The funds of the International Union shall consist of the initiation fees, dues, assessments, interest on money in bank or on bonds, as hereinafter provided, and fines specified in these laws, except fines imposed by local unions for non-attendance at regular meetings; fines imposed for failure to do committee work or attend authorized meetings in the interest of the union label, and International assessments which are levied for special strike fund as provided for in Section 92a, 92b. Such fines so imposed by local unions shall not exceed 50 cents for any one offense.

The amendment was adopted.

Section 173.—Amendment by Delegate Coon, No. 188:

Amend by adding on last line: "Except banks operated by organized labor with financial conditions satisfactory to the International President and International Executive Board."

The question was discussed by Delegates Coon, No. 188; Kain, No. 14, and President Perkins.

A division was called for and the vote by show of hands resulted in 62 delegates voting in favor and all others against. The amendment was defeated.

Section 174.—No change.

Section 175.—Amendment by the committee:

EXPENSE ALLOWED LOCAL UNIONS

Sec. 175. Strike out after the word fines on line fourteen the words "or from," and on line fifteen after the word "loans" insert "or from International Assessments for the special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b." Balance of section unchanged.

Amendment was adopted.

Section 176.—No change.

Section 177.—Amendment by the committee:

Strike out the figures "1913" on line five and insert the figures "1921." No further change in this section.

The amendment was adopted.

Sections 178 to 182 inclusive were passed without change.

Section 183.—Amendment by the committee:

At the end of section add "but this shall not apply to "special strike fund" as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b. Section to read:

The International Union shall maintain a fund to be known as the General Fund, which shall consist of the funds in the hands of local unions, and shall at all times amount to the sum of ten dollars per member.

But this shall not apply to "special strike fund" as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b.

Section 183.—Amendment by Delegate McGregor, No. 228:

Amend by striking out the words "ten dollars" on line four and inserting the words "twenty dollars." Section to read accordingly.

The amendment of Delegate McGregor was defeated.

The amendment of the committee was adopted.

Sections 184 to 201 inclusive were passed without change.

Delegate Brey asked the floor on a point of information. He claimed that any person working overtime in a strictly union shop is subject to fine under another section besides Section 200.

President Perkins stated that the member would be subject to fine under Section 187.

Delegate Dawson, No. 17, asked if a union man working in a union shop should be fined $10 and a union man working in a non-union shop should be fined only 50 cents.

President Perkins stated that he would be fined fifty cents per day or $3.00 per week. He further stated that the law provides that fine may be imposed for even five or ten minutes work done after the eight hours.

Section 202.—Amendment by the committee:

Strike out "$5" and insert "$7" on last line.

The amendment was adopted.

Section 203.—No change.

Section 204.—Amendment by the committee:

Sec. 204. Strike out on second line after the word "Journal," and up to the word "languages" on fourth line. Add to section after word "board" on last line "Proceedings may be printed in foreign languages at the discretion of the International President." Section to read:

Sec. 204. The official journal of the International Union shall be entitled Cigarmakers' Official Journal. It shall be edited in conformity with the principles and resolutions of the International Union. The International President shall be the editor and publisher, he shall be empowered to secure such assistance as may be necessary to aid him in the issuance of the Journal. The salary to be regulated by the Executive Board. Proceedings may be printed in foreign languages at the discretion of the International President.

Sec. 205. Corrected typographical error in spelling the word "each." No other change in section.

Section 204.—Amendment by Delegate Hilfers, No. 138:

Amend Section 204 by striking out on line seven the words "to secure such assistance as may be necessary" and insert "to appoint an assistant editor." Strike out on line eight the word "regulate" and insert the word "fix."

Add after the word salary on line eight the words "of the assistant editor," the last two sentences to read as follows:

The International President shall be the editor and publisher, he shall be empowered to appoint an assistant editor to aid him in the issuance of the Journal. The salary of the assistant editor to be fixed by the Executive Board.

The amendment of the committee was adopted.

Delegate Hilfer's amendment was defeated.

Section 205. Corrected typographical error in spelling of word "each." No other change in this section.

Sections 206 and 207 and 208-a, b and c were passed without change.

Section 209.—Amendment by Delegates Schuencke, No. 8; Huish, No. 131, and Fink, No. 147:

Amend Section 209 by striking out on line one after the word "within" "a radius of seven miles from" and insert in lieu thereof "the boundaries of Greater New York."

Section to read:

Members working within the boundaries of Greater New York shall deposit their card either with the union where they work or where they reside, but shall pay assessments necessary for the management of differences between the members and their employer and support of members because of such differences to the union where they work.

First Vice President Gompers took the chair.

After a statement by Delegate Fink, No. 147, the amendment was adopted.

Sections No. 210 and 211 were passed without amendment.

Section 212.—Amendment by the committee:

APPRENTICES

Sec. 212. Strike out the entire section and substitute the following:

Sec. 212. All persons learning cigar-making or packing must serve apprenticeship in the respective class of the cigar industry in which he or she may be employed, as herein-after provided:

Apprentice learning the trade and alternating between hand and mould work, shall serve two years and four months and shall be required to serve at least one year and four months on hand work during the term of apprenticeship. If only mould work is being learned then two years and two months shall be served.

Those learning packing shall serve two years and two months.

After serving at the bench one year and six months, apprentices in this case shall receive at least 80 per cent of the regular bill of prices under the jurisdiction of the union where they are employed.

They shall be entitled to strike benefits as provided in Section 79, whenever strike application has been approved.

Sec. 212a. Apprentices learning team work—bunch breaking and rolling—shall serve two years.

If a strike or lockout should occur during the period of apprenticeship in shops where such are employed, they shall be entitled to strike benefits as provided in Class A.

Section 212.—Amendment by Delegate Velleman, No. 97:

Amend Section 212 by adding to first paragraph on last line, after the word "members" "without payment of an initiation fee."

After a statement by Delegate Escasse, No. 474, opposing the committee's amendment, same was put to vote and lost.

The amendment of Delegate Velleman was put to vote and the Chair was in doubt on the viva voce vote and a vote by show of hands resulted in 116 delegates voting for the amendment and 113 against. The amendment was adopted.

Section 212.—Amendment by Delegate Burger, No. 32: Addition to Section 212:

Disabled American soldiers shall be allowed to become members of the union after 18 months' apprenticeship.

By Union No. 32, Louisville, Ky.

The amendment was defeated.

President Perkins resumed the chair.

Sections Nos. 213 to 218 inclusive were passed without change.

Section 219.—Amendment by the committee:

REFERENDUM AMENDMENTS

Sec. 219. Strike out on line three after the word "the" all up to the word "Official" on line four. Balance of section unchanged.

Amendment was adopted.

Section 220 was passed without change.

Section 221.—Amendment by the committee:

INTERNATIONAL AUDITORS

Sec. 221. Correct typographical errors after word "year" on fourth line. No member of the International Union shall be elected on the committee more than once in any one year. The committee shall publish a report of their examination in the Official Journal. Strike out on line eight "$5" and insert "$7." No further change in section.

Amendment was adopted.

Section 222.—No amendments are in order.

Section 223.—Amendment by the committee:

WHEN CONVENTION AMENDMENTS TAKE EFFECT

Sec. 223. Strike out the word "January" on line two and insert the word "August." Strike out on line six, page 53, the word "November" and insert "June." Strike out on line eight the word "December," which appears twice, and insert the word "July" in each case. Section to read:

Sec. 223. The amendments to this constitution shall take effect and remain in full force from August 1st succeeding the Convention, provided the same has been duly ratified at that time by a majority of the members of local unions under the jurisdiction of the International Union voting on the question. All resolutions adopted by the Convention shall be submitted to a popular vote of the members, and if ratified by a majority of members voting, shall be printed in the constitution.

All amendments and resolutions shall be submitted to local unions for consideration at the earliest possible moment, and not later than June 30, following the Convention.

The voting in local unions on amendments and resolutions shall commence July 1st and end July 31st, following the Convention.

The question was discussed by Delegates Gompers, No. 144; Sexton, No. 110, and President Perkins. It was agreed to have the voting begin on June 15th and end July 15th and amendments to take effect on August 1st.

With these provisions, the amendment was adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STRIKES

The secretary of the Committee on Strikes read the following report:

the constitution for the regular full dues paying members and one-half of the sick benefit.

Fourth. In all other respects the laws and rules governing arrearages of dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to time in payment of benefits and all other laws governing the members paying regular dues shall apply to members enrolled in Class B. All who are already members of the American Federation of Labor may deposit their cards with the International Union without payment of the initiation fee.

Fifth. In localities where a grievance or difficulty may arise in a factory affecting either the cigarmakers or Class B, or both, there shall be three members elected from the cigarmakers and three elected from the other class involved, and such Joint Committee shall endeavor to adjust all such grievances that may arise between the employer and the members. Any failure to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of such difficulty, an application to strike would require approval by vote of local unions as provided for under sections governing strikes and lockouts.

Sixth. All members of Class B should have the right to become full dues paying members if he or she so desires.

Section 64 to read:

Sec 64. All applicants for membership may be elected upon their own statement, upon payment of an initiation fee of three dollars ($3.00), payable in advance or in six weekly installments. At the request of any local union the International Executive Board is empowered to reduce the initiation fee, providing that the local union requesting a low initiation is conducting a campaign of organization. But in no case shall the initiation fee be less than one dollar. Applicants that are affected with chronic diseases, or that are over fifty years of age, can become members by paying the regular initiation fee and 30 cents weekly dues, but they shall not be entitled to any out-of-work, sick, and no more than $75 death benefit. The Executive Committee of each local union shall be the judge as to what class of membership the new member shall belong. But this shall not apply to suspended members, providing they apply for membership within six months from date of suspension. The name shall then be published in the Official Journal, and if it be found that said member has made misrepresentation in any particular, such membership shall be declared void, all cards that may have been issued, annulled, and all moneys paid, forfeited. All applicants for membership must present themselves for initiation; except in cases of jurisdiction towns it shall be left discretionary with the local union where application is made for membership. The initiation fee may be paid in six (6) weekly installments of at least 50 cents per week, until paid in full: the membership to commence on the date of the first payment of the first installment.

(A) A cigar maker or packer coming from a foreign country, who shall have been a member in good standing of a cigar makers' or packers' union organized on trade union principles for at least three consecutive years, shall be admitted to membership free of initiation. Application for admissions shall be made not later than four weeks after arrival within the jurisdiction of this organization. Foreign traveling cards issued by unions connected with a national organization of the trade shall be countersigned by the National Secretary of the organization. These provisions shall apply only to unions which accept cards of membership of the C. M. I. U. of A.

(B) A cigar maker or packer coming from a place in a foreign country where a trade union exists, without a union card, or having a union card less than three years old, shall not be admitted to membership by any local union until satisfactory proof has been furnished that a three years' apprenticeship has been had at the bench in a union shop.

(C) A cigar maker or packer coming from a place in a foreign country where a trade union does not exist shall give satisfactory proof of having worked at the bench at least three years before being admitted to membership.

(D) The International Executive Board to decide what constitutes a trade union organized upon trade union principles.

(E) Any cigar maker taking a packer's job, who is a packer, shall deposit his card in the Packers' Union, if one exists in said place. In places where there is a Cigar Packers' Union all members packing cigars shall be compelled to deposit cards with the Packers' Union.

Strike out the figures "$50" on line eleven and insert the figures "$75."

(Voting No. 16B.)

"All members enrolled in 'Class A' previous to the adoption of this amendment shall have the privilege of paying regular weekly dues and all International and local assessments and be entitled to all benefits provided for in our Benefit Laws. The date of membership for members so transferred shall be computed upon the basis of one-half time. To illustrate: A 'Class A' member having paid 15-cent dues for five years shall be entitled to the benefits of a regular contributing member who has paid dues for two and one-half years, etc."

(Voting No. 16C.)

Stogie Makers.

Stogies, cheroots, tobies or cigars, or anything coming within the jurisdiction of the Cigarmakers' International Union, shall be defined as follows:

First. All cigars shall be known as such when made of long fillers, or scraps, or both, with or without a binder and a paste head, whether pasted down round and smooth, twisted on or cut off.

Second. A stogie shall be defined and known as follows: When made with curl or twist head in which no paste is used in shaping or fastening the head, and which is generally known as a stogie.

That the president of the C. M. I. U. of A. shall have made and printed a label for stogies as follows:

"Issued by Cigar Makers' International Union of America. President. The stogies contained in this package are the product of union stogie makers, members of the C. M. I. U. of A."

In no case shall the stogie union labels be issued or allowed to be used on stogies made for less than $6.00 per M.

In all respects, other than in this agreement provided, the laws of the International Union shall govern all local unions and members, regardless of the branch of the industry of which they are made up or in which they are employed. In force April 15, 1915.

(Voting No. 16D.)

CLASS B.

All persons engaged in the cigar industry and not enumerated in Section 64 or Class A, such as—stemmers or strippers; banders, branders, labelers and cassers may become members in Class B under the following conditions:

First: Payment of one-half of the regular initiation fee, one-half of the regular weekly dues, one-half of all International assessments levied and all local assessments levied by his union.

Second: One-half of all International assessments levied after six months' membership, unless it be assessments levied purely for strike or lockout purposes. Also that these members shall pay the label assessment.

The benefits of Class B members shall be as follows:

First: One-half of the strike benefit provided for the regular, full dues paying members.

Second: Out-of-work benefit.—Members out of work for twelve days or longer shall be granted an out-of-work stamp.

Third: Class B members shall be entitled to one-half of the death benefit provided for by the constitution for the regular full dues paying members and one-half of the sick benefit.

Fourth: In all other respects the laws and rules governing arrearages of dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to time

In payment of benefits and all other laws governing the members paying regular dues shall apply to members enrolled in Class B. All who are already members of the American Federation of Labor may deposit their cards with the International Union without payment of the initiation fee.

Fifth: In localities where a grievance or difficulty may arise in a factory affecting either the cigarmakers or Class B, or both, there shall be three members elected from the cigarmakers, and three elected from the other class involved, and such Joint Committee shall endeavor to adjust all such grievances that may arise between the employer and the members. Any failure to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of such a difficulty, an application to strike would require approval by vote of local unions as provided for under sections governing strikes and lockouts.

Sixth: All members of Class B should have the right to become full dues paying members if he or she so desires.

SECTION 70.

Sec. 70. Amend Section 70 by striking out "thirty" on line two and inserting "sixty." Add at end of section:

"New Initiates who have not been such for four months shall be exempt from all assessments. This shall not be so construed as to exempt reinstated members from payment of assessments."

(Voting No. 17.)

Section to read:

Sec. 70. Every member, except as herein otherwise provided, shall pay to the local to which he belongs the sum of 60 cents per week dues, and every member shall pay all assessments that may be required by his class of membership.

"New Initiates who have not been such for four months shall be exempt from all assessments. This shall not be so construed as to exempt reinstated members from payment of assessments."

SECTION 71.

Amend by striking out on last line the figures "20" and substituting therefor the figures "40." balance of section to read accordingly.

(Voting No. 18.)

Section to read:

Sec. 71. Any person drawing a traveling or transfer card shall pay dues for the week in which his card is issued to the union from which he receives it, and no other union shall charge dues for the same week. Transfer cards shall only be issued to 40-cent dues paying members desiring to travel.

SECTION 73.

(Voting No. 19.)

Amend by striking out "20" and inserting "40."

SECTION 76.

Amend by striking out the figures "15-cents" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "30-cents."

(Voting No. 20.)

Section to read:

Sec. 76. Any member quitting the trade or becoming a foreman as defined in Section 61, or a continuous employer of one or more union cigar makers who has not been a member for three years, may continue to pay full dues and all assessments, local and International, and receive all sick and death benefits to which his term of membership may entitle him. When such member has paid dues continuously for three years he shall be transferred to the beneficiary class and be subject to Section 77. Members failing to avail themselves of this privilege shall, upon the payment of all union indebtedness within thirty days, be issued an absolute retiring card, which shall entitle the holder to readmission, as a new member, free of charge.

A 30-cent member desiring to leave the trade may receive an absolute retiring card, which shall entitle the holder upon his return to the trade to free admission as a new member.

The war retiring card amendment became operative March 1, 1918, and ended with the signing of peace, June 28, 1919.

SECTION 77.

In connection with Section 77 the President made the following statement: On motion it was agreed that wherever the figures "20-Cents" are expunged from the Constitution the figures "40-Cents" are to be inserted instead. It is also understood that wherever the figures "30-cents" occur the figures "60-cents" shall be substituted.

(Voting No. 21.)

Section to read:

Sec. 77. Any member who has contributed full dues for a continuous period of three years, quitting the trade, or becoming a foreman as defined in Section 61, or a continuous employer of one or more members, may be placed in the retired beneficiary class and continue to receive the sick and death benefit upon the payment of 40 cents dues per week and all International assessments. All persons in the retired beneficiary class shall be entitled to vote on all questions relating to sick or death benefits, or assessments they are subject to, but shall not be entitled to sick benefit while in a foreign country, away from the jurisdiction of the International Union. Any member failing to avail himself of this beneficiary privilege shall be granted, within thirty days, if clear on the books, an absolute retiring card, entitling the holder, upon his return to the trade, to readmission free of charge as a new member. No 60-cent member, who is sick, shall be transferred to the 40-cent list. The retiring card of any person, or the beneficiary membership of any person, violating the laws or working against the interests of the International Union shall be annulled.

SECTION 78.

Amend by striking out "85" on line six and inserting in lieu thereof "38." Strike out "38" on line six and insert in lieu thereof "34."

Amend Section 79 by striking out the last two paragraphs in relation to union strippers. Strike out in second paragraph all on line twenty-eight after the word "assessment" and insert the words "as he may deem necessary."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 22.)

Sec. 79. The International Union guarantees its moral and pecuniary support to all its members in difficulties which may arise between them and their employers and shall commence on the day when the difficulty is approved by the proper authorities of the International Union. The assistance shall be as follows: For the first sixteen weeks, $8 per week, and $4 per week until the strike or lock-out shall have terminated. In case a striker secures work and is discharged within fourteen days, he shall be entitled to his further benefits; should, however, he lose his employment after the above specified time, he shall not be entitled to any further strike benefit. No member of the International Union shall be entitled to any strike benefit unless he is a member in good standing for at least three months. The same assistance shall accrue to such members who may, in consequence of having carried out orders for their union, be discharged by their employer. The local union under whose jurisdiction such discharge of a member has taken place shall submit a verified report of the facts to the Executive Board for decision. Three signatures of officers of the local union shall verify each such report. The benefit shall begin, if the Executive Board recognize the fact as presented, from the day of the discharge from employment of such a member. The International President shall furnish the unions with strike, lockout and victimization application blanks. No union shall be allowed to hold a charter without having a bill of prices; a union having no bill shall adopt the bill of the nearest union.

"The International President shall be empowered to call for an assessment as he may deem necessary for the purpose of carrying on such strike; when 500 or more members are concerned, the same to be left to a vote of the International Executive Board, and if carried by a majority, the same to go into effect. The assessment shall be submitted to vote of local unions, the same as on strike applications."

SECTION 85.

Add after the word "capita" the following:
No communication or statement of any manufacturer or corporation shall be attached to the strike application.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 23.)

Sec. 85. The International President, when submitting an application to strike to local unions, shall set forth in the circular the statement furnished by the union making application for strike or lockouts, state the number of men already on strike in other localities, and condition of the funds per capita. No communication or statement of any manufacturer or corporation shall be attached to the strike application.

SECTION 87.

Amend by striking out last sentence: "This shall also apply to a reduction in wages."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 24.)

Sec. 87. Unions whose applications to strike were not approved, shall have no right to make a second application appertaining to the same case for a term of three months, dating from the rejection of the first. And no member or union shall be considered on strike unless said strike shall have been approved by the proper authorities of the International Union.

SECTION 92-A.

(Voting No. 25.)

NEW SUB-SECTIONS.

Special Strike Funds.

Sec. 92 (a). A special fund to provide for the payment of strike benefits shall be created by the levying of an assessment of $1.00 on all forty-cent and sixty-cent dues paying members. Class B members shall pay 50 cents or one-half of the full assessment levied in the months of September and March of each calendar year payable in eight weeks. This fund to be designated as a special strike benefit and shall be used for no other purpose than the payment of members on strike or lockout which has been approved by the International Union. This assessment to continue until it reaches a per capita of $5.00 of all members of the C. M. I. U.

The International President then shall notify the members of the discontinuation of said assessment until it falls below $2.00 per capita, when it shall again be levied.

The funds so collected shall be deposited by Financial Secretaries of local unions in bank as provided for in Section 173 of the constitution, and all monies collected from such assessment shall be deposited in a separate fund from local and International monies, and shall be subject to the direction of the International President, who may order the withdrawal of said fund in whole or in part as the circumstances may warrant. After the same has been approved by the International Executive Board, Section 92-B, the Strike Committee or proper officials of the local unions in localities where members are on strike, shall make report to the International Union as required under the laws of the constitution in Sections Nos. 79 to 93, inclusive. This law shall become operative as soon as ratified. But any benefits that may accrue to members because of strikes or lockouts, subsequent to the adoption of this provision and prior to the payment of the first installment of the assessment for the strike fund, benefits shall then be paid out of the funds of the International Union as governed by existing laws of the constitution as above referred to.

Should no strike or lockout occur until such time as the special strike fund is sufficient to defray expenses in the payment of benefits, then no money shall be paid out of the general funds of the International Union for such purpose until the funds that are set aside by this law become exhausted.

Chairman explained that the wording of the new sections would have to be changed to conform to the action of the convention in eliminating Class A members and establishing the Class B membership and in changing the dues, if this new section was approved by popular vote.

SECTION 103.

To be corrected to provide for Class B.

SECTION 104.

Add to Section 104: "Any member wishing to draw his card during an authorized strike or lockout in which he is involved shall be granted a loan amounting to his indebtedness for stamps and assessments and two dollars, the same to be charged on his card as a traveling loan."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 26.)

Sec. 104. Any member in good standing for one year in the International Union, not able to obtain employment, wishing to leave the jurisdiction under which he is, to seek employment elsewhere, shall be entitled to a loan sufficient for transportation to the nearest union in whatever direction he desires to travel by the cheapest route, provided he has not worked one week or more under the jurisdiction where he applies for loan. If the fare to such nearest union is less than $1.00, then $1.00 may be granted; if between $1.00 and $2.00, then $2.00 may be granted; and in like manner if between two, three, four, five, six, seven and eight dollars, the highest sum may be granted, and the same shall be entered in figures and letters in his loan card, but in no case shall a single loan exceed $8.00, nor the aggregate exceed $20.00. Sick members who deposit their cards shall be entitled to such loan if they desire to leave in search of employment. Members 100 miles from seat of union are exempt from the one-week employment provision, provided they travel to the seat of the union where they have been working. No member shall receive a second loan from the same union until all loans on his card, up to and including such first loan, shall have been repaid. Any member wishing to draw his card during an authorized strike or lockout in which he is involved shall be granted a loan amounting to his indebtedness for stamps and assessments and two dollars, the same to be charged on his card as a traveling loan.

SECTION 117.

Strike out and insert practically new sections. Out of work benefit.

(Voting No. 27.)

Sec. 117. Any member having paid weekly dues for a period of one year shall be granted an out-of-work stamp, which shall be credited to members in lieu of the weekly due stamp of the denomination and in the class to which said member belongs, providing he or she shall be out of employment for at least two weeks. No out-of-work stamp shall be granted for the first week of such unemployment. Any member receiving out-of-work stamp for six weeks shall not be entitled to such out-of-work stamp for seven weeks thereafter and no member shall receive more than eighteen out-of-work stamps during the period of one year, commencing from July of each year.

Any member receiving eighteen out-of-work stamps in any one year shall not be entitled to additional stamps until after he or she shall have worked for four weeks, but this four weeks proviso shall not include members over 50 years of age.

Members out of employment from December 16th to January 15th of any year shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp for such period.

(Section 144g provides no sick or out-of-work benefits shall be paid to members adjudged insane.)

SECTION 118.

(Voting No. 28.)

Sec. 118.—Any member obtaining employment before receiving six out-of-work stamps, who shall be discharged from employment before eight weeks have elapsed, shall be entitled to the balance of out-of-work stamps.

Any member having received four weeks' strike or sick benefit shall not be entitled to out-of-work stamps for four weeks thereafter; a sick member incapable of doing a day's work shall not be considered out of work.

SECTION 119.
(Voting No. 29.)

Sec. 119. Members shall not be allowed to register from December 16th to January 8th of any year. No member shall be entitled to out-of-work stamps from December 16th to January 15th of any year. Members out of work at such time shall obtain a certificate from the Financial Secretary of whom they received the last out-of-work stamp, which certificate shall be signed and sealed by the Secretary to whom said member has reported during such periods.

SECTION 120.
(Voting No. 30.)

Sec. 120. Any member courting his discharge shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp for eight weeks thereafter, and shall be so recorded in his loan book; inability to hold a job shall not deprive a member of his benefit.

SECTION 121.
(Voting No. 31.)

Sec. 121. Each local union shall be provided by the International Union, free of cost, with a book or books suitable for registering the names of the unemployed entitled to an out-of-work stamp. In places where the local unions employ a secretary for his full time the unemployed shall report twice a week, at the secretary's office, between 9 and 11 o'clock a. m., or between 2 and 4 o'clock p. m., and sign their names in the book. In places where the union has no office, the unemployed shall sign his or her name in the book in the place provided for that purpose, between 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., except traveling members, who have a certificate of registration, who shall be granted the privilege of signing the book between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. Members failing to sign the book shall forfeit their out-of-work stamp for that week. In cities where the members are unable to reach the secretary's office or place of registration without incurring expense, such union or unions shall be permitted to establish a further place of registration.

SECTION 122.
(Voting No. 32.)

Sec. 122. Any traveling member in search of employment arriving in a place where a union is located shall, after reporting to the Financial Secretary, be placed on the out-of-work roll and entitled to stamp as provided in Section 117. Every traveling member must provide himself with a certificate of registration; said certificate shall bear the signature and seal of the Financial Secretary as evidence of registration.

SECTION 123.
(Voting No. 33.)

Any member engaging in any other occupation, domestic or otherwise, shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp.

SECTION 124.
(Voting No. 34.)

Sec. 124. Jurisdiction members shall report to the Financial Secretary once a week in writing, countersigned by the town and shop collector, otherwise no out-of-work stamp shall be granted. In case of doubt the union may demand additional evidence. But in no case shall a member be entitled to out-of-work stamp if he remains in a place where no recognized shop exists.

SECTION 125.
(Voting No. 35.)

Sec. 125. Any member refusing to work in a shop where work is offered him, or who neglects to apply for work in a shop if directed by the Financial Secretary or any officer of the union, or shop collector, shall not be entitled to an out-of-work stamp until he has secured employment for at least one week. This shall apply to jurisdiction towns within a radius of ten miles. Shop collectors shall immediately report to the Financial Secretary (if known by name) any member refusing to work where work is offered him; failing to so report, he shall be fined $2 for each offense.

SECTION 126.
(Voting No. 36.)

Sec. 126. The Financial Secretary of each local union shall report at every regular meeting the names of members having obtained out-of-work stamps, including the cause why each member has lost his employment. Where the unions do not meet weekly the Financial Secretary shall make his report to the Executive Board.

SECTION 127.
(Voting No. 37.)

Sec. 127. Any member quitting a job shall not be entitled to out-of-work stamp until said member shall have again obtained employment for at least one week.

Every union shall establish a labor bureau for the purpose of designating work to the unemployed.

SECTION 128.
(Voting No. 38.)

Sec. 128. It shall be the duty of every shop collector to report to the Financial Secretary such jobs as are open in this factory the same day he receives notice thereof, in order to enable the secretary to direct the unemployed to the factory. Should this be neglected by either of the above officers, they shall be subject to a fine of not less than one dollar. Any member knowing where a job is open and not reporting the same to the Financial Secretary shall be fined one dollar.

SECTION 129.
(Voting No. 39.)

Sec. 129. Any member about to apply for out-of-work stamp shall, after being discharged or laid off, receive from the collector of the shop in which he has been working a certificate stating the cause of the discharge or lay-off, which shall be presented to the Financial Secretary before being allowed to register. These certificates shall be kept on file for inspection by the Finance Committee and international financier.

SECTION 134.

Sec. 134. Strike out "$5.00" and insert "$7.00" on line seven. Strike out on line eleven the word "thirteen" and insert "ten," and after the word "Canada," on line fourteen and insert "or outside of the jurisdiction of the International Union." Balance of section unchanged.

Section to read:
(Voting No. 40.)

Sec. 134. Every member who shall have been for not less than one year continuously a contributing member of the International Union, and who is not under any of the restrictions specified in these laws, shall be entitled, should such member become sick or disabled, or who may be held in quarantine by an authorized board of health, in such manner as to render such member unable to attend to his or her usual vocation, to a sum of $7.00 per week out of the funds of the union; provided, such sickness or inability shall have continued for at least one week or seven days, and shall not have been caused by intemperance, debauchery or other immoral conduct. No member shall be entitled to any sick benefit for a longer period than ten weeks in any one year, commencing from date of member's first report, whether such inability has been continuous or periodical; but no member while absent from the United States and the Dominion of Canada, or outside of the jurisdiction of the International Union shall be entitled to any benefit during such absence.

SECTION 136.

Sec. 136. On line ten strike out "twenty" and insert "forty." No further changes in section.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 41.)

Sec. 136. Local unions shall have the right to arrange the visiting committees to visit the sick members as may best suit their respective localities; but in no instance shall they consist of less than three officers or members, nor be visited by said committee less than once in each week; no two members of the committee to visit the member at the same time. Members must furnish the Financial Secretary with their correct address and of all changes of the same immediately; and for the failure to perform the duties as visiting committee, or failing to furnish their address, they shall be fined fifty cents. Forty cents dues paying members entitled to sick benefits shall be required to serve on visiting committees when requested.

SECTION 139.

Strike out on first line the figures "30" and insert the figures "60." On same line strike out the figures "20" and insert the figures "40." Also strike out the last paragraph.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 42.)

Sec. 139. Any 60-cent or 40-cent member of the International Union taken sick while traveling shall be entitled to the benefit by depositing his card with the local union under whose jurisdiction he is; but this shall not apply to members who desire to take treatment at Hot Springs, Ark.

Such members shall deposit their cards with the Town Collector, whose duty shall be to receive all cards, sick certificates, etc., and forward same to the nearest union which has a membership of 200 or more.

He shall also receive all sick benefits from the Secretary, supervise the distribution of same and report conditions of the sick under his supervision to the Secretary of the local union where cards are deposited.

Town Collector shall receive for his services ten (10) cents per week for each member drawing benefits. He shall pay all postage, post office lock box, etc.

Compensation of Town Collector shall not be deducted from the percentage of the local union under whose jurisdiction sick benefits are paid.

SECTION 143.

(See explanation of committee on pages 88-89 of proceedings, this issue.)

Sec. 143. Strike out on line six the word "fifty" and insert "seventy-five" and on line seven, the word "fifty" and insert "seventy-five." Balance of section unchanged.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 43.)

Sec. 143. Upon the death of a member who shall have been such for less than two consecutive years next before his death, no death, funeral or cremation benefit shall be paid. Upon the death of a member who shall have been such continuously for two years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of seventy-five dollars shall be paid toward defraying his funeral or cremation expenses. Said sum of seventy-five dollars shall be paid to such person or persons as shall have paid or become liable for such funeral or cremation expenses, and if such expenses have not been paid it shall be the duty of the officer paying such benefit to see that it is applied to the purpose for which it is intended.

SECTION 144.

Strike out the word "fifty" and insert the word "seventy-five" on first line. On line five strike out "two hundred" and insert "one hundred and twenty-five." On line eight strike out "three hundred and fifty" and insert "two hundred and seventy-five." On last line strike out "five hundred and fifty" and insert "four hundred and seventy-five."

The following new paragraph has been added to this section, extending the period of time from fifteen to twenty years, when the beneficiary shall be entitled to receive the full five hundred and fifty dollars.

If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for twenty years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 44.)

Sec. 144. Including the seventy-five dollars funeral or cremation expenses, there shall be paid upon the death of a member the following sums, viz.: If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for five years or longer period less than ten years next preceding his death, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars. If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for ten years or longer period less than fifteen years next preceding his death, the sum of two hundred and seventy-five dollars. If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for fifteen years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of four hundred and seventy-five dollars. If the decedent shall have been such member continuously for twenty years or longer period next preceding his death, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars.

SECTION 144-A.

After the word "expenses" on last line of Section 144, add the following:

Any member not mentioned in this section, and entitled to the maximum death benefit as provided in Section 144, becoming wholly and permanently incapacitated from performing any manual labor, may, if he so wishes, be paid out of the International Fund the sum of $350.00, and must sign waiver rights to all further benefits from the International Union. They shall be granted an honorary non-beneficial membership card.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 45.)

Sec. 144a. Should any member by the loss of one or both hands or by becoming totally and permanently blind become wholly and permanently incapacitated from performing any manual labor, the amounts above provided for in case of such member's death (excepting the seventy-five dollars funeral or cremation expenses) shall be paid to such member, and upon the death of such member no death benefit shall be paid except the seventy-five dollars so withheld for funeral or cremation expenses. Any member not mentioned in this section, and entitled to the maximum death benefit as provided in Section 144, becoming wholly and permanently incapacitated from performing any manual labor, may, if he so wishes, be paid out of the International Fund the sum of $350.00 and must sign waiver rights to all further benefits from the International Union. They shall be granted an honorary non-beneficial membership card.

SECTION 150.

Amend Section 150 by adding: "The International President shall have prepared, printed and registered a stogie trade-mark label in perforated sheets of not less than ten suitable to be pasted on the outside of the box so that the label will be conspicuously displayed. The label shall be light blue color. All labels issued shall be printed in series and numbered consecutively. The wording and size to be the same as the present stogie label."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 46.)

Sec. 150. The President of the International Union shall have prepared, printed and registered a trade-mark label, to be known as the Union Label, in perforated sheets of not less than ten, suitable to be pasted on the outside of the box, so that the label will be conspicuously displayed. The labels shall be of light blue color and no more than four inches in length and no more than one inch in width. All labels issued shall be printed in series, and numbered consecutively. The proportion of labels used by the Canadian unions to be printed in Canada by order and under the supervision of the International President. The International President shall have prepared, printed and registered a stogie trade-mark label, in perforated sheets of not less than ten, suitable to be pasted on the outside of the box so that the label will be conspicuously displayed. The label shall be light blue color. All labels issued shall be printed in series and numbered consecutively. The wording and size to be the same as the present stogie label.

SECTION 154.

Sec. 154. Strike out word "scab" on line twelve and insert "non-union." Strike out word "scab" on line sixteen and insert "non-union." Insert after the word "thousand" on sixth line, Section 154, from bottom, the following:

This shall not prevent a local union from establishing a minimum bill of prices on small cigars four inches in length or less, and weighing not more than three pounds per thousand.

Subject to the approval of the International President and International Executive Board.

On line twenty, after the words "United States" add the words "or Canada." On line twenty-two strike out after the word "thousand" "and in Canada which pays less than $7.00 per thousand."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 47.)

Sec. 154. Each local union shall furnish through the shop collectors or committeemen (as the case may be) to all strictly union shops, free of charge, as many of the labels as may be required from week to week for all cigars actually made by members of the union and persons holding retiring cards. All label orders shall be signed by the shop collector; the label order blanks shall be furnished by the International President at cost. No shop shall be considered a strictly union shop unless the packers of the shop are members of the International Union, and the apprentice law of the local union be complied with. Where two manufacturer deals in Chinese, tenement house or non-union cigars, it shall be optional with local unions to withhold the label from such firm. It shall be optional with local unions to grant the union label to any manufacturer or firm whose name or firm name appears in or about the box containing Chinese, tenement-house or non-union cigars, or whose name or firm name appears on or about such non-union cigars. All labels issued must bear the ink stamp. It shall be optional with local unions to paste them on the boxes. But in no case shall the union label be used in a factory in the United States or Canada which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making or less than $1.00 for packing per thousand for mold work—5 molds of 20 bunches. Nor which pays less than $10.00 per thousand for hand work, less than 4 molds of 10 bunches each with press on table, or two 20-bunch molds in shaper press, to be considered hand work. Nor shall it be allowed on any cigars sold for less than $25.00 per thousand. This shall not prevent a local union from establishing a minimum bill of prices on small cigars four inches in length or less, and weighing not more than three pounds per thousand. Subject to the approval of the International President and International Executive Board. This shall not debar local unions from establishing a price above $25.00 per thousand. No union shall be allowed to furnish the labels for cigars made in whole or in part by machinery. It shall be optional with local unions to grant labels to members who are not employing any journeyman if they have been members for less than one year. This shall not apply to members suspended who were, prior to their suspension, members of the International Union for one year or longer, provided they be reinstated within six months after suspension.

But in no event shall a manufacturer be permitted to use the label who offers presents as an inducement for the sale of his goods, but this shall not be so construed as to prevent a manufacturer from issuing coupons to the consumer which may be redeemed in presents or otherwise.

All labels must be pasted upon the boxes before the boxes leave the factory.

SECTION 155.

Amend by striking out on line two the words "work at the bench" and insert in lieu thereof "makes or packs cigars." Section to read accordingly:

(Voting No. 48.)

Sec. 155. In shops employing only union members in which the employer or foreman makes or packs cigars, the union shall allow the use of the union label on all cigars made by them; provided, they do not work to exceed eight hours per day at the bench or at the packing table.

But no labels shall be granted to any manufacturer who makes cigars himself and employs two or more cigar makers or bunch breakers unless he employs a packer or packers who are members of the C. M. I. U. if there are any packers out of work in the place.

SECTION 159.

Amend by striking out on line twenty-eight the clause "in force October 1, 1915."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 49.)

Sec. 159. Manufacturers operating more than one shop shall not be allowed the use of the union label unless all shops operated by such manufacturers are strictly union shops. Manufacturers, their agents or representatives, operating a shop or shops in any locality, establishing a shop or shops in any other locality, or removing the original shop to any other locality, shall not be allowed the use of the union label unless at least the same rate of wages, provided the new place has a lower rate, is paid in the newly established shop or shops that prevail in the original shop or shops, or the jurisdiction removed from. Manufacturers, their agents or representatives making cigars for other manufacturers, their agents or representatives, shall not be allowed the use of the union label unless at least the same rate of wages shall be paid in the shop or shops of the former as is paid in the shops of the latter, nor shall the union label be permitted on cigars made for other manufacturers whose name appears on label or box.

Nor shall a manufacturer be allowed the use of the label who sells cigars to a manufacturer who is put on the unfair list, or any agent or representative of such firms. No brands of cigars made in both union and non-union shops shall be allowed to bear the union label. Nor shall a manufacturer, their agents or representatives be allowed the use of the union label, who manufactures cigars for former manufacturers, their agents or representatives, who have closed or should close their shop or shops or any part thereof for the purpose of having any brands made in jurisdictions where the Bills of Prices are lower than where they formerly operated.

Should a manufacturer lay off part or the whole force of his employees on account of lack of work, upon resuming work he shall not be permitted to engage new help before placing all of his former employees at work first. Failing to comply with this provision, after ample warning has been given the manufacturer by the union or the label committee wherever such exists, his labels shall be stopped until it is complied with.

SECTION 163.

Sec. 163. Strike out the entire section and substitute the following:

(Voting No. 50.)

INTERNATIONAL ADVERTISING BUREAU.

Sec. 163. There shall be established an International Union Label Advertising Bureau, which shall be located in the same city as the International Headquarters.

The functions of this bureau shall be to promote through a systematic form of advertising a greater demand for the use of the Union Label, and the distribution of propaganda and advertising matter for Union Label goods.

(a) An expert advertising agent shall be employed at a salary not to exceed thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500) per annum, whose duty shall be to purchase or secure the most practical and up-to-date advertising matter, such as calendars, display posters, novelties, and all other class of advertisement that in his judgment may be deemed necessary. Amendment to committee report by Delegate Borden:

All advertising of the union label shall be carried out under the supervision of the Advertising Bureau—when such advertising is paid for out of the funds of the Advertising Bureau—but this shall not prevent any local union doing extra advertising when such advertising is paid for through local assessments.

The International President shall be empowered to appoint said agent and shall have supervisory control over the agent and the bureau, with the consent and approval of the International Executive Board. The President shall advise and confer with him in all matters relating to the purchase and distribution of advertisements.

All advertisements pertaining to the Blue Label must be distributed to all local unions under the jurisdiction of the International under such terms and conditions as may be agreed on by the President with the consent of the International Executive Board.

(h) State Federations, Union Label Leagues, Central Labor Bodies and all organizations shall be encouraged to co-operate with said bureau for the purpose of maintaining a more uniform system of advertisement and general distribution of our Union Label Products.

Organizers and Label Agitators shall be directed by the President to co-operate with and assist officers and members of local unions in promoting the work of agitation.

(c) The funds necessary for defraying the expense of the International Advertising Bureau shall be provided for from a $1.00 per capita tax on all 30-cent and 60-cent contributing members to be taken from the general fund, based upon the membership as computed from the May Report.

Add to paragraph two, Section 163 (b), the following:

And shall report direct to Advertising Bureau all progress made by Local Publicity Committee in the locality in which the organizer may be working.

Add after second paragraph, Section 163 (b), the following:

Each local shall appoint one or more members as may be required, who shall be known as the Local Publicity Committee. They shall work under the direction of the Advertising Bureau and report direct all progress and shall be responsible to the Advertising Bureau for neglect of duty.

SECTION 168.

On line ten, after the words "highest bill" add the following: "And failing to do so the International President shall have the right to suspend said local union until this section has been complied with." Rest of section to read the same.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 51.)

Sec. 168. The International Executive Board is authorized to grant charters to local unions upon application of at least seven persons employed in the trade and additional charters to persons in localities where already a charter exists; provided, the conditions are such that the seven or more making such application cannot consistently become members of the union in that locality. Such applicants must receive the same bill of prices as exists in said locality; and where two or more unions or cities join or are within a two-mile radius they shall adopt the same bill of prices, the lowest to adopt the highest bill. And failing to do so the International President shall have the right to suspend said local union until this section has been complied with. All applications to be accompanied by a fee of $5.00. When an application for a charter is received from a place where a union exists, the Executive Board shall have power to ask for information concerning applicants.

SECTION 172.

Strike out on line five the word "and," and on line seven the word "label," insert "and International Assessments which are levied for special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 52.)

Sec. 172. The funds of the International Union shall consist of the initiation fees, dues, assessments, interest on money in bank or on bonds, as hereinafter provided, and fines specified in these laws, except fines imposed by local unions for non-attendance at regular meetings; fines imposed for failure to do committee work or attend authorized meetings in the interest of the union label, and International assessments which are levied for special strike fund as provided for in Section 92a, 92b. Such fines so imposed by local unions shall not exceed 50 cents for any one offense.

SECTION 175.

Strike out after the word "fines" on line fourteen the words "or from," and on line fifteen after the word "loans" insert "or from International Assessments for the special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b." Balance of section unchanged.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 53.)

Sec. 175. No union shall be permitted to expend in any calendar year for officers' salaries, committees' expenses, hall rent, meeting room, furnishings, printing, stationery, postage, fuel and light, picketing strike shops, taxes to trade assemblies that are recognized by the American Federation of Labor, more than the following percentages of its gross receipts: Unions numbering thirty members or less, 30 per cent; from thirty-one to fifty members, 25 per cent; fifty members and upwards, 20 per cent. Should the union expend for the forenamed purposes less than the herein fixed percentage, then it shall have the privilege to spend the remainder locally for the advancement of union matters. This shall in no wise be construed so as to allow local unions percentage on money received for equalization or in aid of strikes, or from local assessments, local fines, international loans, or from International Assessments for the special strike fund as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b; but nothing in this shall prevent the representation and payment of taxes to a trades assembly in such localities where no such affiliation with the American Federation of Labor exists (provided, such trades assemblies do not admit as delegates professional politicians or men who are not actively employed at their trade, or a member of a bona fide trade union), delegates to the same, etc.

SECTION 177.

Strike out the figures "1913" on line five and insert the figures "1921."

Section to read:

(Voting No. 54.)

Sec. 177. Unions expending more than the percentage provided for in Sec. 175 must replace the amount so expended within ninety days after receiving official notice. Failing to do so, they shall be suspended. But local unions having a deficiency in their funds on Jan. 1, 1921, shall make up such deficiency upon the following basis: 50 cents per member per quarter. Any union failing to comply with this provision shall be suspended.

SECTION 183.

At the end of section add, "but this shall not apply to special strike fund," as provided for in Sections 92a, 92b.

Section to read:

(Voting No. 55.)

Entered as second class matter, Nov. 28, 1894,
at the Post Office at Chicago, Ill., under Act of March 3, 1879.

An historical review grounded upon facts may not be amiss as it is seemingly needed by some, especially those who Unjustified Criticism. joined the International Union in the last ten or fifteen years. For this purpose, Boston, Mass., will serve as a concrete example. Prior to 1882 there were mighty few union men in Boston and mighty small prices were paid for making cigars. A hand-made Seed and Havana cigar was made in Boston in 1882 for $9 per thousand. The same cigar is made today for $24 per thousand, an increase of $15, and other cigars in proportion.

And Boston is only an example of conditions prevailing all over the entire country. In 1880, we personally worked on a Seed and Havana hand-made cigar at the rate of $9 per thousand. The prevailing price for making mold cigars was $5 and $6 per thousand.

And still we hear some alleged radicals say that we want a union that will do something for the cigarmaker. Of course, the chap who joined the union in 1914, of his own personal knowledge does not know that these prices prevailed in the early eighties, but he has had heard it and knows it just the same.

It is only a few years ago that cigars were made in Pennsylvania as low as $4 to $7 per thousand for all shapes, sizes and kinds, and everybody knows what the union has done, even though not as well organized or nearly so as it should be, for the cigarmakers in that state. Even non-unionists are now getting, because of the pace set by the union shops and union men, more for the cheaper grades than was previously paid for the highest grades.

A little over a year ago the non-union manufacturers, aided and abetted by many Chambers of Commerce, started a persistent fight and effort to destroy or cripple our trade unions. They declared for the open shop, which they brazenly now term the American style shop. This fight is now being, and has been ever since its inception, persistently waged.

The alleged radicals, who are in reality destructionists whether they so intend or not, are playing right into the hands of the open-shoppers, the real definition of which is the non-union shop, just at the time when the International Union is making a terrific fight to hold its own against the Tampa manufacturers, who are seeking to destroy the union. Published and unfair criticism of the International Union is no doubt welcomed by the Tampa manufacturers and others of like disposition.

The voting on resolutions and amendments adopted at the Cleveland Convention and submitted to local unions Amendments. for vote cannot be definitely stated at the time of going to press.

Under the amended law the amendments that were adopted take effect and become operative August 1, 1920. The new constitutions in limited number, will be mailed to local unions as soon as they can be printed. Owing to the scarcity of union-made paper we could secure only enough to print a limited number of constitutions. About five constitutions will be mailed to each local union on or about August 1, and the others will be mailed as soon as we can get the union-made paper and have them printed. This will enable the officers of the local unions to have an amended constitution containing all of the newly adopted laws.

In a widely circulated paper published in the East by a member of the union, an article is published denouncing the action of the last convention and characterizing it as a failure. Among other things it says, "The Convention dared to crucify 1800 Class A members." This statement has about as much truth in it as the other stuff published in this propaganda document. The truth of the matter is that the Class A membership as a class was abolished but the convention adopted the following:

"Amend Section 64 by striking out all of 'Class A'."

"Insert after Sub-Section E of Section 64 the following:

"All members enrolled in 'Class A' previous to the adoption of this amendment shall have the privilege of paying regular weekly dues and all International and local assessments and be entitled to all benefits provided for in our Benefit Laws. The date of membership for members so transferred shall be computed upon the basis of one-half time. To illustrate: A "Class A" member having paid 15-cent dues for five years shall be entitled to the benefits of a regular contributing member who has paid dues for two and one-half years.'"

The foregoing quoted action of the convention, which went to popular vote for ratification, proves that the Class A members were neither crucified nor thrown out of the organization. It raised the Class A members to full-fledged, regular dues paying members, and made them entitled to all the rights and privileges that any other members of the International Union are entitled to.

The convention also amended the optional clause, making it compulsory upon the part of local unions to accept bunch breakers and rollers in all places where that system is already in existence.

The Class A membership provision in the Constitution was originally adopted as an experiment and largely and chiefly for the purpose of admitting to membership bunch breakers and rollers in communities where the union did not recognize this system. In the editorials and articles advocating the adoption of the Class A plan, when first proposed, it was always stated and maintained that it was merely an experiment and for the purpose of permitting bunch breakers and rollers to join the International Union at reduced dues, with the object always in mind and in intent of making them regular full contributing dues paying members as their condition was improved.

In the five years that the Class A plan has been in operation we succeeded in organizing quite a number of Class A members, many of whom, however, dropped out, so that at the time of the convention we had about 1,800 Class A members. Instead of crucifying these members, we have given them an opportunity of becoming full-fledged, dues paying members entitled to all the rights and privileges of any other member. Many Class A members complained bitterly against being singled out or put in what they called a pauper class. Those who failed to join did so for the same reason. Even the Class A delegate to the convention spoke and voted against the Class A plan and stated that it was a failure.

In any event this question went to popular vote and the membership in their sovereign capacity will dispose of it, and by one of the fairest means there is in any labor organization, the final vote of the members in their sovereign capacity.

A stock argument used by the chap who is forever preaching the necessity of "re-organization," or that we need a new union under some new plan, is that we have failed to organize.

Endless Chain

It is very noticeable that these same fellows never devote themselves to unifying the unfortunate workers for whom they express so much sympathy. In fact their efforts are usually bent toward disorganizing those already organized. Their doctrine is destruction rather than construction and by their obstructive methods they do much harm to our cause.

One can hardly blame an unorganized worker from with-holding his application for membership from an organization when he hears some of its own members say that it is reactionary and worse. The non-unionist is not in a position to know the truth nor to analyze these statements made as to their fact, therefore he is in doubt and remains a non-unionist to the detriment of the very ones who are to blame because of the seed of suspicion they have sown.

Do those who are so insistent on inaugurating a new union expect to have every one in it agreeing perfectly on the various problems that in the natural course of events they will be called upon to meet? If not, according to the reasoning of the secessionist, each minority should immediately proceed to withdraw from the organization with whose majority they fail to agree and form a new union.

How long would any form of government or society endure should each minority of disgruntled members organize a new brand whenever their particular ideas were not put in operation?

If an idea is a good one, if the reasoning is sound and the logic is good it is only a matter of time when the majority will appreciate the argument of the minority and the idea become the law. Any change for the good of the whole can be made WITHIN the organization and this becomes absolutely true and beyond contradiction when the organization belongs absolutely to the membership as does our own.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The trade union with a "kick" is all right providing the kick is directed properly and used judiciously. When it is composed of nothing but a kick, or a series of kicks, very little progress can be made, as kicks are usually directed backward. We find very little use for the man or beast that does not pull as well as kick.

* * *

The organization of strippers, banders, etc., is necessary, under proper laws and restrictions, to promote complete organization of our industry.

We are at a loss, however, to properly and consistently square up the stand taken by some of our admittedly "progressive" members on the machine proposition as reference to the two branches of the trade.

We find them unqualifiedly opposed to the machine operator who makes cigars yet entirely favorable to the machine operator who works on a stripping or banding machine.

We are loath to believe that any selfish or ulterior motive is back of their position, yet it is rather a puzzle to determine a reason for consistently differentiating between the machine workers as to eligibility for membership when nothing but the kind of machine operated is involved.

* * *

The charge that labor is not producing is true.

It is also true that non-production is an aid to high prices.

We find, however, that the reason labor is not producing is from the fact that labor is denied full time work.

One thousand woolen and cotton mill workers in New England recently were notified that a maximum of four days a week would be worked indefinitely. The reason given was that merchants were withholding orders because of the high prices asked for the manufactured goods.

The same condition exists in the shoe industry and many others too numerous to mention. This proves the charge made that "Labor is not producing," but it puts the blame where it rightfully belongs, squarely on the shoulders of the employers.

The word "progressive," when applied to the ideas advocated by some members of trades union organizations is positively a misnomer.

Section 61 of our Constitution defines eligibility for membership. Let us consider the position taken at the late convention by a group of self-styled progressives on this vital question, a question of extreme importance at this time from the fact that we are attempting the complete organization of the trade, including machine workers.

The eighth day's proceedings will show a brother (wherefrom emanates much so-called progressive thought) introducing an amendment to EXCLUDE the automatic machine operator from membership in the International Union. We find this "progressive"? group standing pat against the admission of machine operators under any plan or provision; standing pat against their becoming members in the face of the fact that what were formerly the best factories of their own city are today operating with machine work; standing pat against the admission to membership of a part of the trade that may in time revolutionize the entire industry.

Progressive—No—positively reactionary and contrary to every teaching of industrial evolution.

The automatic machine is here and really progressive members are not closing their eyes to the fact that its advent means something to the future of the trade.

To the credit of the delegates let it be said that not even the forty necessary for roll call were imbued with this brand of "progress" and the amendment proposed was overwhelmingly defeated.

* * *

Your union has raised your wages; shortened your hours of labor; made your workshop more sanitary; equalized the pay envelope of the sexes; in fact your union has made possible the privileges you now enjoy.

There is no limit to the amount of good that may be accomplished through united action.

It is our province and it should be our aim to extend organization to the end that all tobacco workers may be enabled to secure for themselves these things that through organization we have accomplished.

Large employers have launched a nation-wide campaign against organized labor and in favor of the open shop.

Thousands of dollars have been pledged by manufacturers, the lists are still open for subscriptions to the so-called "American idea of shop management," which is an appropriated name for the non-union shop.

The American idea as expressed by the A. F. of L., which is distinctly American, should be the idea backed solidly by labor. It should be financed so well that its success may be assured and its propaganda should become the text book of all who toil with hand or brain.

Any disintegration of the labor movement through the formation of dual organizations is only ammunition for the enemies' guns and workers whose interest is really favorable to the trades union cause will not indulge in any traitorous schemes.

Cigar and tobacco workers should become a unified, organized power.

Organized power lessens oppression and increases freedom.

Organized power, properly applied, will palliate any discouraging conditions that we have to meet now or may have to meet in the future.

No organization can hope to grow and to flourish unless the combined force of its members is directed at all times toward its expansion.

It is the bounden duty of every member of our International Union, for the betterment of his own condition if for no other reason, to exert every effort toward furthering organization.

The resolution pledging the members to favor and put into action a "drive" for new members should not be still-born. The purpose of the resolution is clear and the results aimed for are necessary.

Local unions should immediately select a committee who are able and willing to put into operation some plan of organization that will get results in their immediate locality. Individual members should be willing and ready to act as a committee of one to do his or her share of the work.

It can be done; it has been done in the past; it will be done again. Let each one of us individually and collectively resolve to put our shoulder to the wheel and go to it.

Late issues of cigar and tobacco trade journals have given quite a little publicity to the "Menace of the tenement workshop." Manufacturers and others condemn this style of work and point out the danger of demoralization being accomplished through these some time moon-shine places. Many of them insist that a law be passed prohibiting the licensing of such factories.

This menace has been fought by our International Union for many years and our stamp of approval has always been denied such manufacturers. Continued label agitation will do much to remedy the evil which is not at the present time nearly as common as it was in the years gone by. We have done good work along these lines and should keep up the fight until the evil is entirely eradicated.

There is often heard a demand for legislation making for a universal bill of prices.

Some of the arguments used are not without logic and a more nearly uniform bill, especially at this time when the cost of living is very nearly the same in all localities, would perhaps tend to stabilize the trade.

We can never hope for anything near a universal bill, however, as long as the unions with low bills remain stationary or secure relatively small increases while many unions with the high bills are continuously securing increases thereby widening the breach rather than unifying the prices paid.

It is left for the membership to determine some middle course to pursue if they are sincere in their demand for a universal bill. If the argument of the proponents of this legislation is based on sound judgment it must be based, as well, on a plan of action to secure the end in view.

The manufacturers of Tampa are said to be in a conspiracy to withhold cigar boxes from any manufacturer who would be willing to make terms with the union, and it is claimed that they not only cover Tampa but have reached out to all portions of the state, and are said to be crippling wherever possible, by withholding boxes, any manufacturer that they can reach, who is conducting a union factory.

Recently a circular was sent out from the alleged radicals of Chicago, with substantially the following recommendations: First Centralizing our activities under the Cigar Makers' Propaganda League, to be located at Boston, Mass., with C. G. Bray as secretary; second—reorganization of the International Union under a nominal dues and strike benefit only plan; third—calling a conference of local unions willing to formulate a concrete plan of reorganization; fourth—that the central office circularize all local unions explaining the work done at the last convention and pointing out why it was a failure; fifth—providing an assessment of 5 cents per month per member on all local unions in sympathy with this move.

In a letter accompanying this circular the secretary stated that twelve unions had already subscribed to this plan, and among the twelve named was Tampa, Fla.

In this connection we received a telegram from Organizer Sol Sontheimer, representing the International Union at Tampa, which reads as follows: "Tampa, Fla., July 9. G. W. Perkins, Chicago, Ill. Official action Joint Advisory Board—no permission has been given anybody to use the name 'Tampa Unions' on any circular and hereby repudiates same. (Signed) Sol Sontheimer."

We have also received a communication signed by Jose M. Muniz, secretary of the Joint Advisory Board, which reads as follows: "Tampa, Fla., July 12, 1920. Mr. G. W. Perkins, Chicago, Ill. Dear Sir and Brother: There is nothing in the records of our local unions or in this Joint Advisory Board, that would authorize anybody to use the name of Tampa in connection with any movement whatsoever. The Tampa local unions favor any amendments to our constitution that would make a most progressive organization out of our union for so far we have not taken any steps to endorse any circular issued by any union to this effect." (Signed) Jos. M. Muniz, Sec'y, J. A. B.

Tampa Situation.

Response to the cigar manufacturers' plans for breaking the strike by opening under the open shop yesterday, inviting all workers to return to their benches, was gratifying both to the union leaders and the manufacturers, according to statements issued by both sides last night. The union leaders submitted figures showing that only about thirty men reported for work to fill the close to 10,000 benches, while the manufacturers stated that no figures were available but the turnout exceeded all their expectations and they will be prepared today to handle an even greater number of workers.

The industry has been closed down here since April 17, by strike and lockout, which has kept 10,000 cigarmakers and 6,000 in other allied crafts idle.

Joe Muniz, secretary of the Joint Advisory Board of the four unions here, stated that at least twenty-four of the largest factories in the city didn't have a worker respond to the call, while ten other factories has a total response of less than thirty men, with several factories unreported by union scouts. They figured that the scouts who did not report, did not because there were no workers to report.

According to Mr. Muniz the list of factories that failed to get any workers included Lozano, Bustillo Brothers & Diaz and branch; Moises Bustillo, Sanchez & Haya, F. Garcia & Bros., Corral-Wodiska and branch, Havana-American Company's Stackleberg factory, Lovera, Salvatore Rico, Berriman Brothers, Arguelez, Lopez & Bros., Celestino Vega, Garcia & Vega, Samuel I. Davis, Salvador Rodriguez, Perfector Garcia, V. Guerra & Diaz, Cuesta-Rey Co., Andres Diaz, Henriquez Cigar Co., J. W. Roberts & Son and Francisco Torre.

His list of factories which secured workers, and the number, headed by Jose Escalante with 12, follows: Havana-American, 2; Morgan Cigar Co., 1; A. Santaella, 2; Marcelino Perez, 1; Francisco Arango, 2; San Martin & Leon, 1; and Rengensburg (three factories), 3.

There were no disorders and no signs of any attempt to disturb. The Joint Advisory Board has issued instructions to all strikers to stay away from the factories and threatening punishment for any who attempt to interfere in any way with any workers exercising his right to work or remain idle, as he saw fit.—Tampa Tribune.

Stating that the principle of the open shop cannot be arbitrated, the cigar manufacturers yesterday practically told Joseph R. Buchanan, United States Commissioner on Conciliation, that outside assistance was not desired. He had asked for a conference with them to discuss the situation.

The manufacturers contend that there is nothing to be gained by any accession or half-way measures. They say they will open the factories only on their own terms—a widely open shop basis—or not at all.

There were some accessions to the factory forces yesterday, and some who worked the day preceding failed to show up, while both sides say they are satisfied at the way the workers are accepting the manufacturers' efforts to break the strike by opening "to all who are willing to work on the open shop basis."

The manufacturers claim that many workmen held off the past three days because they desired to collect the week's benefit which was due last night. They say that there will be a rush tomorrow morning.—Tampa (Fla.) Daily Paper.

CORRESPONDENCE

Union No. 282 wishes the publication of the following in current issue of the Journal.

We wish to notify all secretaries and members that E. F. Hulschin No. 27177. Initiated by No. 139, Long Hill, April 20, 1915, is a defaulter to the amount of about $300 from Union No. 274, Pekin, Ill. He was delegate from Bridgeport, Conn., at the recent convention at Cleveland, Ohio. He is about 5 feet 10½ inches tall and very slender and usually wears a brown suit of clothes. His right name is Galon B. Ricketts, former secretary of No. 274.

Hulschen learned of the information we received and he hurriedly left town. We annulled his card at last meeting. Will send you card later. Your fraternally,

GEO. ENGLEHARD,
Secretary No. 282.

The El Pano Cigar Company, formerly a non-union shop, but now running as a union factory of about 20 men, has been advertising in the Eastern and Florida papers for union cigar makers, of which the following is a fair sample. The ad reads as follows:

Wanted—400 union cigar makers at once. Apply El Pano Cigar Co., Inc., 554 and 556 Commercial street, San Francisco, Cal.

It is our belief that his intentions are not good, and therefore all cigar makers are warned not to pay any attention to his misleading newspaper campaign.

St. Elmo Shop of Los Angeles, Cal., is now an unfair shop. Your fraternally,

PHIL HANLAN,
Secretary No. 228.

REPORT OF DELEGATES

Fortieth Annual Convention of the A. F. of L., at Montreal, Canada, June 7 to 23, 1920, Inclusive.

The Fortieth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Labor was held at Montreal and is now inscribed on the pages of history. The outstanding transactions of constructive legislation enacted are second to none in importance to any of the preceding gatherings of labor's group of representatives. Big questions, vital to the political and economic interest affecting the laborers were met and disposed of and important issues decided. Keen interest was manifest in all resolutions coming before the convention and spirited debates were indulged in by those contending for and against the subject matter before that body, all of which was gratifying. Intense earnestness and constructive thought marked every decision arrived at and laid the foundation for molding and carrying out the policy of labor's program for the ensuing year. The non-partisan political program of the American Federation of Labor that has been enunciated by the Executive Council was endorsed by the convention.

The Executive Council prior to the meeting of the convention had decided that a committee should visit the Republican National Convention, which convened in Chicago on June 7, to go before the platform committee and lay before them labor's political demands and ask that they be incorporated in the Republican national platform. That committee consisted of President Samuel Gompers, Vice President Matthew Woll. They appeared before the Chicago convention and made their demands and then returned to Montreal and made report to the convention of the A. F. of L. It was then moved that a like committee should appear before the Democratic National Convention, which was to convene at San Francisco June 28, for the purpose of making the same demands before that national political organization.

The convention was opened by an address by the mayor of Montreal, and it may be interesting to note here that the mayor is a cigarmaker and has been a member of the Cigarmakers' International Union for thirty-five years. This report will necessarily be made as brief as possible for the purpose of economy in curtailing space in the Journal because of the scarcity of union made water-marked paper and the difficulty in obtaining; but the proceedings of the convention should be read by every member of organized labor and can be procured from Secretary Morrison, as they will be ready for distribution within a short time.

The credentials committee reported 570 delegates in attendance, representing 98 international and national unions, three department state branches, 112 central bodies, 91 local trades and federal labor unions and five fraternal delegates. There are represented in and affiliated to the American Federation of Labor 110 national and international unions with a paid up membership for the fiscal year of 1920 of 4,078,740; five departments, 46 state federations, 682 local department councils, 926 city central bodies, 36,741 local unions, 1,286 local trades and federal labor unions. There were introduced 115 resolutions, of which 60 were concurred in, 18 were non-concurred in, 25 were referred to the Executive Council and 12 were acted on jointly or were passed over because the subject had been covered by other resolutions.

The Executive Council's report was more voluminous this year than ever before, covering 239 pages. All of the various subjects contained therein were referred to various committees and received consideration by the convention after being acted on by the committees. Every degree and scope of labor's interests was touched on in that report. We suggest that members of our union avail themselves of an opportunity to read the proceedings.

A few of the most important resolutions will be presented in this report. The following resolutions were concurred in:

Resolution 79: To concentrate on Detroit and vicinity for the purpose of getting nonunion workers into the ranks of organized labor.

Resolution 110: That salaried and volunteer organizers of the American Federation of Labor pay particular attention to the organizing of workers in the laundry industry.

Resolution 113: Pledging aid and assistance to the longshoremen who are on strike and who are being opposed by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association for the purpose of compelling submission of the members of organization.

Resolution 120: Pledging the rights of organization of government employees to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

Resolution 71: That the American Federation of Labor should lend every assistance to the postal employees to gain a higher standard of wages for its members than now existing in the postal service.

Resolution 24: Asking for amnesty for political prisoners.

Resolution 46: That freedom and democracy fought for in the late war be dispensed, regardless of race, creed or color.

Resolution 118: That the actions of those who are giving moral and financial aid to the secessionists in the railroad employment be condemned for their attempt in trying to disrupt the organizations of the railroad.

Resolution 65: Asking for a more thorough study in the United States of the social and industrial problems and technical research in all branches of science.

Resolution 66: Asking for the operation of railroads under government ownership and democratic control.

Resolution presented by the Cigar Makers' delegation, as follows (unanimously adopted.):

There is now taking place in Tampa, Fla., one of the large industrial cigar centers of the United States, a conflict between the members of the Cigar Makers' International Union and the combination of cigar manufacturers which form a part of the gigantic American Tobacco Trust, and an aggregation of citizens in that community who have allied themselves with the manufacturers for the purpose of exterminating the Cigar Makers' Union in that locality, and are waging a determined and relentless war to the end that they might destroy membership in the Cigar makers' organization. The conflict is on, the members of Cigar Makers' Union are arrayed on the industrial battle front waging with equal determination to maintain the right to organization, the privilege of securing humane treatment, a living wage and better industrial conditions, yet struggling against great odds and a determined group of manufacturers who are wielding their political economic and financial powers to defeat them.

There are 7,000 members of the Cigar Makers' Union who have been on strike since April 18, who are standing steadfastly against the tyranny and oppression of the manufacturers, with a determination to maintain their organization and secure humane conditions and other just treatments. The manufacturers of Tampa are using every method of coercion known to unscrupulous employers in trying to break the strike by preventing cigar box manufacturers from furnishing goods to independent manufacturers who have reached an agreement with the strikers and are willing to employ members of the union. They are using the force of the black list against all manufacturers who refuse to enter their combination and take sides with them against members of the union. The Cigar Makers' International Union has unqualifiedly endorsed the strike and commends the position taken by the employees, and are financing the struggle to the amount of $30,000 per week paid in benefits to the strikers, and will continue to lend aid and assistance, both morally and financially until victory has been won.

Your committee therefore recommends that the delegates to this convention go on record as reaffirming the endorsement of the Cigar Makers' International Union Label and pledging their support to the principles of the International Union to the end that the morale of the cigar makers involved in strike may be encouraged and their conditions be helped and strengthened by the action of this convention and that every assistance possible be rendered by delegates, and that they be requested when returning to their respective localities that international and local organizations be encouraged to give every possible support morally and otherwise to the cause of the cigar makers at Tampa.

Resolutions referred to Executive Council:

Resolution No. 15: That there be the privilege of transferring from one organization to another while working at reasonable occupation.

Resolution No. 45: That the workers in the food and catering industry be investigated for the purpose of establishing, producing and distributing departments under the A. F. of L.

Resolution No. 62: For the purpose of distributing organizers throughout the West for a thorough campaign and general organization.

Resolution No. 48: For the purpose of more general organizing the negro workers and giving equal recognition to them as members of trade unions.

Resolution No. 114: That the American Federation of Labor recommend the creation of a federal workers' insurance fund for maritime employment.

Resolutions Nos. 2, 13, 22 and 32 jointly considered: With instructions to co-operate with organized labor bodies of Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado to secure repeal of existing non-strike laws and defeat similar proposed laws in other states.

Some of the other interesting actions taken were re-endorsing distributive co-operation and earnestly urging every local union to contribute one dollar to put the newly established co-operative bureau of the A. F. of L. in proper working order; endorsing the Irish Republic, and endorsing the League of Nations in principle.

On resolutions No. 14, 28 and 105, all bearing on the same question: Asking for the complete and final lift of all blockades, obstacles and barriers of any character that in any way encroach upon the rights of the Russian people, the committee offered the following substitute, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the American Federation of Labor is not justified in taking any action which could be construed as an assistance to or approval of, the Soviet government of Russia as long as that government is based upon authority which has not been vested in it by a popular representative national assemblage of the Russian people; or so long as it endeavors to create revolutions in the well-established, civilized nations of the world; or so long as it advocates and applies the militarization of labor and prevents the organizing and functioning of trade unions and the maintenance of a free press and free public assemblage.

Resolutions non-concurred in:

Resolution No. 25. Calling for the establishment of a clearing house in the Department of Labor to handle all legal affairs affecting organizations by injunction.

Resolution No. 109: Asking that the Executive Council be instructed to prepare and send to all international unions an initiative and referendum provision providing for the election of their officers.

Resolution No. 84: Asking for the change of the date for holding the A. F. of L. conventions.

The convention was fully alive to the importance of shaping the American labor movement to conform to the growing and enlightened spirit and constructive progress of the present time. It, however, was not swept off its feet by Utopian dreams, but seemed de-terminated to adopt new methods that experience and judgment indicated were necessary. The spirit of conserving and centralizing, in so far as possible, our efforts was always manifested, but the old adage of "Make haste slowly" was not ignored. The true spirit of fraternity and "the concern of one is the concern of all" was broader and deeper than it ever was before.

The one big union and secession movement were practically unanimously denounced and frowned down. Due notice was taken of the attempt of chambers of commerce and non-union manufacturers in their fight against, and efforts to destroy, the trade union movement, through the so-called open shop system. And back of it all was the keen spirit of determination to continue the battle for labor's rights economically, socially and politically, and justice for all mankind.

Our fellow craftsman and member, the physically battle-scarred, but mentally keen and alert veteran, Samuel Gompers, was re-elected for the thirty-seventh time, on a standing vote, with but one dissenting vote.

With the assurance of appreciation for the honor and privilege of representing the Cigar Makers' International Union in the convention of the World's Greatest Federation of Labor, we are fraternally,

G. W. Perkins,
Samuel Gompers,
J. Mahlon Barnes,
W. A. Campbell,
R. S. Sexton,
Delegates.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

J. S. Owen appealed against No. 90, New York, reference manner and method of the local union in holding regular meetings. The appeal was not sustained.

W. E. Matthews appealed against No. 232, Sellersville, for fining him $50.00. In view of the circumstances in the case the fine is reduced to $25.00.

S. J. Bowers appealed against No. 129, Denver, for refusing to permit him to take a job as foreman in the Humburg Mechantile Company, cigar factory, on the grounds that he had been an accomplice in the position of foreman in another factory, and the members had refused to work under him. Having once paid the penalty for this offense he can not be deprived of his right to take foremanship in some other factory. The appeal was sustained.

H. F. Michaels and other members appealed against No. 5, Rochester, in reference to making a change in the bill of prices. No irregularity is shown in the action of the union. The appeal was not sustained.

M. Sandberg appealed against No. 192, Manchester, for fining him $25.00 for violating the union rule in reference to packing cigars. The appeal was not sustained.

E. Haering appealed against No. 77, Minneapolis, Minn., for refusing to permit him to work at the bench at cigar making while regularly employed at nights at another occupation. The appeal was not sustained.

DECISIONS OF EXECUTIVE BOARD

Washington, D. C., July 9, 1920.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by Union 481, Bayamon, Porto Rico, against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—None.

Negative—Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was the International President notified the secretary of Union 481 as follows: "The payment of $5.00 a week strike benefit ended with the sixteenth week of the strike. This includes members who were on the 90-day list at the beginning of the strike, and those who had not completed a three months' dues paying membership at the time the strike started." The union claims that this is discrimination between certain members which is not warranted by the constitution; that Section 79 is not very clear on the subject, and requests a decision from the International Executive Board thereon.

The International President bases his decision upon substantially the following grounds:

Section 79 of the constitution provides "The assistance shall be as follows: For the first 16 weeks, $5.00 per week, and $3.00 per week until the strike or lockout shall have terminated"; that although the section does not state for the first 16 weeks of the strike, there is no doubt that this is what it means; that the appeal of Union 481 is made on behalf of a member who had not been a member long enough at the time the strike started to enable him to draw a strike benefit, but became entitled to same before the 16 weeks had elapsed. The union claims that he is entitled to $5.00 a week for the 16 weeks following the time of his becoming a beneficiary instead of $5.00 a week for the balance of the 16 weeks remaining since the strike started. The International President believes that his decision is in accordance with the constitution and should be sustained.

In accordance with the votes cast and above recorded the decision of the International President is sustained

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

Washington, D. C., July 9, 1920.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by J. J. Frederick of Louisville, Ky., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—None.

Negative—Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was, the appellant wrote for and received a retiring card, which he understood entitled him to continue in membership and to continue to pay dues, the retiring card being issued when he was no longer working at the business. He claims that he received this under a misapprehension and desired to be reinstated. He appealed to the International President, who sustained the action of the union. He therefore appealed to the Executive Board against the decision of the International President.

The International President bases his decision upon substantially the following grounds: That the appellant was a 20-cent insurance retiring card member, which is one who has left the trade but continues to pay 20 cents dues as an insurance for sick and death benefits; that he applied for an absolute retiring card in order to avoid paying dues. This was granted him, and after finding out that he lost benefits thereby, requested reinstatement. Under the constitution he could not be admitted except as a new member. He claims that he was not familiar with the law in the case, which claim cannot be considered since each member should have a copy of the constitution and be able to protect his rights.

In accordance with the votes cast and above recorded the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

Washington, D. C., July 9, 1920.

In the case of the appeal to the Executive Board, C. M. I. U. of A., by P. E. Primeau, St. Louis, Mo., against the decision rendered by the International President, the vote was as follows:

Affirmative—None.

Negative—Hoffman, Garlepy, Reichert, Hall, Stack, Stevens, Gompers.

The basis of the appeal was, the appellant claims that he was discharged for calling attention to conditions in the factory and that the Joint Arbitration Board made a compromise with the employer, which did not include his reinstatement. He claims that he was victimized for acting for the union and was entitled to reinstatement.

The International President sustained the action of the joint unions of St. Louis. The appellant thereupon appealed to the Executive Board against the decision of the International President.

The International President bases his decision on substantially the following grounds: That the reply of the Joint Advisory Board discloses the fact that this member was discharged for apparently good and sufficient reasons, and that his conduct toward the employer was such that the union could not reasonably insist upon his reinstatement.

In accordance with the votes cast and above recorded the decision of the International President is sustained.

Fraternally,

SAMUEL GOMPERS,
First Vice President.

Labor and Other Costs.

The shortage of houses is acute. The housing problem is one of the burning questions of the day. Various theories are advanced as to the reasons for the present distressing situation. An interesting sidelight is thrown upon this matter in a circular lately sent out by a Boston insurance firm (Hollis, Perrin & Co.). It says:

Important.

Have you enough insurance to repair or replace your property in case of fire?

From the following list you can readily see that costs have doubled.

The following is the comparative cost of material and labor for building construction compiled by the American Institute of Architects Oct. 1, 1919:

	Cost, 1914.	Cost, 1919.	Inc. Pct.
Lumber—
Spruce, per M.....	$30.00	$ 70.00	133
Hard pine, per M.....	30.00	45.00	50
Oak, per M.....	90.00	250.00	178
Nails, per C.....	2.40	6.10	154
Brick, common, per M.....	8.50	19.00	123
Cement, per bbl.....	1.62	3.04	87
Paint—
Lead, per lb.08	.14	75
Linseed oil, per gal.....	.60	2.60	333

Shellac, per gal.....	1.75	8.00	357
Turpentine, per gal.....	.65	1.90	192
Heating and Steel Work—
Structural steel, per ton.	45.00	90.00	100
Erection of steel, per ton	10.00	25.00	150

Plumbing—

Pottery	75 to 100
Soil pipe	125 to 150
Brass pipe and fittings.....	100 to 125
Enameled goods	100
Roofing materials	100
Freight rates	40 to 50

Wages in building trades average increase of 57 per cent from Oct. 1, 1914 to Oct. 1, 1919.

Household furniture has increased at least 100 per cent.

Better be safe than sorry.

Let your broker protect you with additional insurance.

The business firm that sent out this circular was not trying to prove any point, except the wisdom of increasing one's amount of insurance. But incidentally it shows that the main item in the higher cost of building is not the higher wages of labor. Almost every one of the materials used in putting up a house has risen more than wages have. There is systematic effort going on in the press, inspired by the profiteers, to make the public believe that the main cause of high prices is high wages. Here is a case where that evidently is not so, and this case is typical.—The Woman's Citizen.

OFFICIAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

G. W. PERKINS, President.
Monon Building, Chicago.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, 318 W. 51st St., New York City, First Vice President.

L. P. HOFFMAN, 729 N. Diamond St., Jacksonville, Ill., Second Vice President.

A. GARIEPY, 239 Ave. Hotel De Ville, Montreal, Canada, Third Vice President.

JOHN REICHERT, Brisbane Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., Fourth Vice President.

E. G. HALL, 4124 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn., Fifth Vice President.

E. J. STACK, 412 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland, Ore., Sixth Vice President.

CHAS. H. STEVENS, 205 Southampton St., Buffalo, N. Y., Seventh Vice President.

GIBSON WEBER, 1710 N. Gratz St., Station C, Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 30c to the 20c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union. Union when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

SPECIAL.

Section 134 distinctly and plainly states: "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to be insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

The International Union will not authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

In order to avoid confusion when a Class A member changes from 15-cent dues to 30-cent dues secretaries under the law are to give such members one-half time in length of membership, and write the following in ink in the due book: "Change from Class A to 30-cent due paying class. Time on full benefits commences * * * (computed on basis of one-half time)." Should such member desire to travel, he should be given a new due book and traveling card, both of which should give the date of initiation, computed on the above mentioned basis, and the words "Changed from Class A" written on both due book and traveling card. Whenever a Class A 15-cent member changes to a 30-cent membership secretaries should always so state on their monthly reports, and record the transaction on their books.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges in dues unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 149, give full record of membership as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 144c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal will" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 144c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person on persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there is no widow then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of $1.00 to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 50c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on May 17.

In compliance with Section 184 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 20c to replenish the General Fund, on each 30-cent 20-cent and 15-cent member, and 10c on Class A members. The assessment commenced on Feb. 3, 1919, and continues until the General Fund reaches the constitutional requirement.

Section 73 provides that "all dues and assessments of members receiving benefits shall be deducted from such benefits." This means any benefits and all dues and assessments. If a member has $5.00 sick benefit coming and owes 8 dues and assessments he would receive just $1.00 in cash and credit for 8 dues and assessments.

Expenses for June$ 8,571.10
Balance June 30 2,901.53

Total$11,872.63

Correction.

The financial statement of expenses for this office, published in the month of May, shows, through a typographical error, J. A. Sullivan, salary and expenses as organizer, $30.00 instead of $300.00. However, the full amount, $300.00, is included in the total and makes no difference in so far as the balance is concerned.

Special Financial Examination of Union 238, Glenn Falls, June, 1920.

UNION NOTES

In a letter dated July 1 the secretary of Union 370, Jamestown, N. Y., says there are ten or twelve jobs open in that town.

Secretary holding the card of John Ness, 27831, is requested to collect $1.90 due No. 129, Denver, Colo.

Notes by No. 97, Boston:

No student of economics could possibly be indifferent or unconcerned to the prevalence of an extensive and general effort to undermine the International Union by the employers of Tampa with the assistance of a Venal tobacco press in the interest of their advertisers.

Tampa is on the firing line and Union 97 is with them, for the boys are giving 1 per cent of their wages to our brothers who are in this struggle for the maintenance of their union and collective bargaining. Is there any man or woman with a union card who is not?

Once more, trade unionism means more than paying your dues, it means fraternity.

For forty-five years a former manufacturer of this city did not advertise their product as hygienically made. Why now?

Every time a profiteer is arrested prices go up.

Strike out the one-half day Saturday. Give us five days a week instead of the one hour a day for five days.

Money is the ammunition needed to win the Tampa strike. Give aid—give now. This strike will show how many men who have due books are union men.

We are passing through a reconstruction period and will emerge all right.

Pay your dues and pay up to date all assessments and the C. M. I. U. of A. will come out all right. There is no law says you must owe eight weeks.

When we receive an order from our International President to send money to Tampa our secretary-treasurer sends it the same day.

When a man works by the week he knows what he is going to get Saturday, but when he works by the piece he don't. Do you get me? Piece work is the curse of the labor movement.

Demand all labels.

Raise the school age.

Keep your child at school till he graduates—he will be worth more to you and himself.

HENRY ABRAHAMS.

Enclosed please find a complete report of the amounts received as donations from the different sources as specified therein, and which shall be published every month in our Official Journal to the satisfaction of all concerned.

We are sending the amounts received through Local 474 last May, as they were missed in the last report.

We wish to call the attention of all donors, that if there is any error, we certainly will appreciate it if we are notified of such. We thank you.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

(An amendment takes effect the first of the month following the publication of notice of its adoption in the Official Journal.)

Amendments adopted since July 15, 1919, edition of the constitution:

By Union 39, New Haven, Conn.

Amend Section 50 by striking out the figures "$40.00" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$50.00". The remainder of the section to read as heretofore. This amendment to go into effect upon its adoption.

By Union 218, Binghamton, N. Y.

Amend Section 154 by striking out on line 21 the figures "$8.00" and inserting the figures "$9.00," the section as amended to read: "But in no case shall the Union Label be used in a factory in the United States which pays less than $9.00 per thousand for making," etc. In effect March 1, 1920.

By Union 500, Tampa, Fla.

Amend Section 6 by striking out on line 2 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 4 the figures $5.00 and inserting the figures $7.00; striking out on line 5 the figures $3.50 and inserting the figures $5.00; the section amended to read as follows:

The International Union shall allow every delegate $7.00 per diem for time necessarily spent in going to and from the convention, and transportation rates by the shortest route; and $7.00 per diem, including Sundays, for the first fifteen days, and $5.00 per diem for each additional day the convention remains in session. No other appropriation from the general fund shall be made in favor of the delegates.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments together. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment that you wish to endorse.)

The amendment of 129, Denver, Colo., as published in the June Journal, as follows:

"That an assessment of $1 be levied on all 30c and 15c dues paying members in aid of the Tampa strike."

Received the endorsement of 179, Bangor; 274, Pekin, and 383, Chicago.

The amendment of Union 97, Boston, Mass., as published in the June Journal, as follows:

Amend Section 184 by adding: "All members on strike or lockout, same being approved by the Cigar Markers' Int. Union of America, shall be exempt from all Int. assessments levied after said strike or lockout has been approved."

Received the endorsement of Unions 90, New York; 179, Bangor; 383, Chicago.

The amendment of 97, Boston, Mass., as published in the June Journal, as follows:

Amend Section 73 by adding after the word "benefits" the following: "This shall not be construed to mean members involved in a strike or lockout who shall, in accordance with Section 184, be exempt from all Int. assessments levied after said strike or lockout has been approved by the C. M. I. U. of A."

Received the endorsement of Union 179, Bangor; Union 99, Ottawa; Union 383, Chicago.

Union 336, Tampa, proposes the following amendment:

"Provisional amendment to be applied to the Tampa strike—That the President be authorized to continue the payment of the $5 strike benefit per week until the Tampa strike shall have terminated. The above amendment was adopted by Union 336 of Tampa, Fla., and has been approved by the Joint Advisory Board of Local Unions 336, 462, 464, 474, 500."

Union No. 383, Chicago, Ill., hereby proposes the following amendment to the constitution of the C. M. I. U. of A.

Amend the constitution by inserting a new section to be known as Section 133 C., section to read as follows:

Ninety days after the adoption of this section, sections 134 to 142, inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to sick benefits and sections 143 to 149 inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to death benefits shall be stricken from the constitution.

Upon the adoption of this section the international president shall appoint a committee of not more than 10 members, whose duty it shall be to draft a plan for the reorganization of the sick and death benefit features in conformity with the fraternal insurance laws of the United States, Canada and Porto Rico. The committee shall have the power to engage the services of an actuary and legal counsel to assist them, the same to be paid out of the general funds. The committee shall receive for its services the same remuneration as the International Canvassing Board.

The committee shall report their plan to the international president, who shall submit the same to the referendum vote of the members within 10 days after said committee makes its report.

It shall be optional with all members of the International Union to avail themselves of the sick and death benefit features after the reorganization has been completed.

The international president shall, after the reorganization has been completed, pay into the treasury of the new organization the sum of $4.00 per capita for each member in said organization. The same to be paid out of the general funds not later than ninety days after the adoption of this section.

To illustrate, for sick and death benefit, also for full traveling loan they shall be considered as new members.

Members having paid full dues prior to the adoption of this amendment, or subsequently thereto, cannot be transferred to this class.

Union No. 90, New York, offers the following amendment to Section 64 of our Constitution in place of the present Class A Membership.

All persons engaged in the cigar industry enumerated in Section 64, with the exceptions noted therein, may become members under the following conditions:

1. Two dollars initiation fee, payable in four weekly installments of 50c each.
2. Weekly dues of 30c.
3. All international strike assessments.
4. All label assessments.

The benefits of Class A members shall be as follows:

1. The full strike benefit, the same as the full paying members.
2. Out of work stamps.
3. Traveling loans not exceeding $10.00.

In all other respects the laws governing arrearages in dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to time in the payment of strike benefit and all other laws governing the full paying membership shall apply to members enrolled in Class A.

The present Class C membership shall transfer to this class as soon as adopted or to the regular class if they desire.

Members enrolled in Class A shall have the privilege of paying full dues and all international and local assessments and be entitled to all the other benefits from the time of transfer.

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring car? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149 inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

March 3, 1879.

The legislation proposed in the amendment of Union 383, Chicago, is destructive in character. The only thing A Leap in the Dark sure to happen, if it is adopted, is that ninety days thereafter our entire system of benefits, except strike, will cease to exist and the entire membership will be automatically deprived of any fraternal benefits whatsoever, unless the committee of ten provides a suitable substitute and the same is approved by popular vote, all within ninety days' time. Legislation intended to be of greater good should first provide a suitable and adequate substitute for the law it is to supercede. The legislation as proposed in this amendment first nullifies the present law which safeguards our benefits and then proposes a committee of ten whose duty it shall be to draft some new-hatched scheme to take the place of what we now know to be safe and sane.

What assurance have we that the proposed committee will be able to devise a plan acceptable to the membership? If they are not, what happens? At the expiration of the time limit of ninety days we are left without a law or authority to defray the expense of illness, to provide a suitable burial for our dead, and without anything in the way of insurance for the loved ones left behind. In other words, we are stripped bare of all that we have for years paid to perpetuate.

Let us grant that the proposed committee does complete a plan within the time given. What assurance is given us that it will be as safe, as cheap, or in any respect more satisfactory than the present law? No matter what the plan may be the membership must either accept that which they do not want, swallow a dose that they feel will result in serious complications, or be outlawed by the ironclad proposals of the amendment of Union 383, which strikes out of our Constitution all of the sick and death benefit protection we have so long enjoyed, and moreover, if a new plan is adopted it arbitrarily must contain the optional clause.

The amendment instructs the committee to draft a plan which will conform to the fraternal insurance laws of the "United States, Canada, and Porto Rico." The United States as such has no fraternal insurance law that operates within the States. It has one that operates in the District of Columbia and places under territorial form of government. The proposed new organization (and it is new in the fullest sense of the term, although the expense of the formation and the starting of the reserve fund is to be paid out of the funds collected from members who can not possibly become beneficial) must be by charter under one of the States, but it must apply to each State for permission to do business within that State and must comply with all conditions imposed by the law of each such State. For such a permit, substantially it amounts to obtaining a charter in each State. This includes the formation and keeping up of a reserve fund, differing in each State, the result being that the new organization must have on hand a reserve fund the highest among those prescribed by any one State, and it is a serious question whether four dollars from each member would be sufficient to form such reserve.

Physical Tests! In all States there is a limit to the age within which a man may obtain fraternal insurance. With the regulation life insurance companies the time comes that when a person states his age, even the agent knows that he is not insurable. This would bar all or nearly all of the real veterans in our movement, and if age did not wholly debar them, then impairment of the physical condition, occurring since they joined the International and during the time that they were paying dues and supporting the International Union, would render them incapable of undergoing a physical examination, the result of which would pass them as desirable or permissible risks.

What would happen to the member or the prospective member whose age or physical condition precluded the possibility of being able to pass the prescribed test? Not our own test, mind you, but the test imposed in conformity with the insurance laws of the land! No provision is mentioned, so we are left to draw our own conclusions. A safe guess would be that he or she, as the case might be, would be out of luck in so far as any protection in the way of sick and death benefits is concerned.

Our trade is, always has been, and should remain one in which a handicapped person has a chance to earn a livelihood. We should make our laws governing benefits elastic enough to furnish reasonable protection to such persons.

Any proposition making our benefit system any safer than it is under our present laws is hard to conceive. One making it less costly is impossible from the fact that we now enjoy protection at absolute cost. As time goes on changes can and will be made to suit the will of the membership, but our benefit system is too far reaching, too much a part of our actual being, to permit its being jeopardized by a leap in the dark.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States and nearly all of its subsidiary affiliated branches are now engaged in an unholy attempt to destroy the "strictly union shop" and with it, they hope, the labor movement, and to inaugurate in its stead the "open shop system," which in reality means the non-union shop. A reference to a clipping from the New Orleans Times Picayune, published elsewhere in this issue, will show that the Chamber of Commerce at least of that city, which is affiliated with the United States Chamber of Commerce, is now engaged in an effort to maintain a "strict union Chamber of Commerce." The article shows that the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce has filed suit against five of its former members to compel them to pay their dues and remain in good standing in the association. All of this goes to prove that the Chamber of Commerce believes in the strict union shop (or so-called closed shop) of manufacturers, who are fighting the union's efforts to maintain the strict union shops. It seems these people believe in the strict union shops only for manufacturers. They believe in one-hundred per cent organization for manufacturers and in the same breath oppose it for the workers.

The so-called amendment of Union 383, Chicago, but characterized by the Propaganda League as "our amendment," having received the required number of endorsements, goes to popular vote for decision.

Whether you believe in this attempt to legislate the sick and death benefit features of our organization out of existence, you should at least know exactly what the amendment submitted says and means. Take particular note that the amendment says "Ninety days after the adoption of this amendment Sections 132 to 142 pertaining to sick benefits, and Sections 143 to 149 inclusive, pertaining to death benefits, shall be stricken from the constitution. Or we have it then in plain English—that if you adopt this amendment in its entirety, just remember that you have entirely wiped out of the constitution the sick and death benefit laws.

It then provides that the International President shall appoint a committee whose duty it shall be to draft a plan for the reorganization of the sick and death benefit features in conformity with the fraternal insurance laws of the United States, Canada, and Porto Rico. This committee is vested with the power to engage the services of an actuary and legal counsel.

Take further particular note that they then provide in the amendment, after knocking out the sick and death benefit laws and creating a committee to draft a new plan—"It shall be optional with all members of the International Union to avail themselves of the sick and death benefit features after the reorganization has been completed. In plain English this means, if adopted, that the sick and death benefit laws are destroyed, entirely taken out of the constitution, and the provision then made that no matter what kind of a plan the proposed committee of ten shall draft, that it shall be optional with all members to avail themselves of the sick and death benefit features. In other words they seek in this amendment and in advance of whatever the committee may do, to embody in the law the optional feature. They actually separate the funds before the new law, regardless of what it may be, reference sick and death benefit, is adopted. They don't wait for the committee of ten, which they propose, to draft the law and the provisions of its enforcement, but seek to tie the hands of the committee even before it is created.

It moreover provides that "The International President shall, after the reorganization has been completed, pay into the new organization the sum of four dollars per capita for each member in the organization. Another attempt to draw hard and fast lines to guide the committee in its work! Suppose that thirty thousand of the present membership should decide to hold their claim on sick and death benefit on which they have paid for years, it would require one hundred twenty thousand dollars, which must be immediately paid into the new organization, whatever that means, and with the present state of the funds and protracted Tampa strike, if the law was enforced it would probably require a four-dollar lump sum assessment, if we are to maintain the strike benefit fund, which all members are, of course, interested in.

The proponents of this new departure, which has been before the membership for the last year and was brought before the last convention and was there emphatically defeated, put forth the false claim of separating the fraternal features, that is separating the sick and death benefits from the strike benefit feature. As a matter of fact this is impossible. Surely the member who stands by the sick and death benefit features will have to be a member of the strike benefit features of the organization. There is no separating then, in its fullest sense, these features.

It is an ingenious attempt to destroy the sick and death benefit features of the International Union without having the courage to specifically say so. Everybody knows that the sick and death benefit features can not exist without it being compulsory for all members of the International Union to be a party thereof. The honorable method to get rid of the sick and death benefit is to come out straightforward in an amendment to that effect. We venture the assertion that we could not continue to pay death benefit especially under the optional or voluntary law such as proposed.

The self-styled propagandists and the Tampa manufacturers are thinking and talking along the same lines.

Thinking, Both are fighting the Cigar
Talking Makers' International Union.
Alike. It is but natural to suppose that the Tampa manufacturers would do so, but the propagandists, who are members of the International Union, are nothing short of traitors, and would be destructionists in their attitude and actions at this particular time. This is a bold statement, but it is borne out by facts.

The deadly parallel! The Cigar Manufacturers' Association of Tampa, which has been fighting the International Union for the last four months, in a page advertisement in the Tampa Daily News, says: "Will the cigarmaker allow himself to be led by false friends? The Joint Advisory Board will never win the cigar strike.

They know it; everybody who is well posted knows it, too." The propagandists in a widely circulated, printed circular bulletin, say "The Tampa strike is lost, and still you pay $1.00 per week assessment to the bankrupt C. M. I. U. of A., and there are less than 700 drawing strike benefit in Tampa. The C. M. I. U. of A. is now bankrupt. We must have a new union; we must organize one big union in the tobacco industry." The Propaganda League, in a circular, say "The membership of the International Union is melting away like snow in the spring time. We have absolute proof that our membership has materially decreased in the last few months and is still decreasing at an alarming rate." All of this must be at least comforting to the manufacturers. Again we find in a widely circulated mimeograph propagandist circular: "There are taxes, and taxes, and more taxes, and taxes again, and yet other and more taxes upon the pauper cigarmaker. We have been betrayed and deceived so often that we are determined not to be deceived and betrayed again. A call to a convention will be sent out in the next communication, to be held not later than the last week in October, to organize right."

We could go on quoting the treacherous, contemptible lies which bolster up the manufacturers' side of the fight, which the propagandists are flooding the country with. However, the foregoing will suffice.

The real facts in the case, as every honest, sane member knows, as well as the destructionists also know, are that the Tampa manufacturers entered into a conspiracy to destroy the organization in Tampa, Fla. It is claimed that this conspiracy is carried to the extent of depriving any union manufacturer or one who could sign up with the union, from getting credit, raw material, and especially boxes. The cigarmakers determined to accept the challenge and to fight back in an effort to maintain their organization. They made application to strike. This application went to popular vote and was practically unanimously approved. It involved all told twelve or thirteen thousand people, seven or eight thousand of whom were cigarmakers and members of the union. To pay the constitutionally guaranteed strike benefits required an outlay of between thirty and forty thousand dollars per week and has cost the International Union up to date nearly six hundred thousand dollars. To meet this obligation, which we in our sovereign capacity voted to assume requires assessments, which the propagandists harp upon as "taxes and more taxes." The very latest reports from Tampa indicate that not a member of the International Union has deserted or gone back to work, and that out of the thirteen thousand originally involved, which includes all classes of workers, not over four hundred have returned to work.

There never was a more righteous and determined strike, and no man with real red blood in his veins or a spark of unionism in his makeup will do or say one single thing to assist the bosses in winning the strike. The propagandists say "We only want a strike benefit union" and yet they are hollering their heads off against paying assessments to win this strike.

Bankruptcy means broke and unable to pay. The International Union has discharged every financial obligation it has assumed. It is still paying promptly the strikers in Tampa. They don't even have to wait a minute for the money due them.

A few have permitted themselves to be suspended, alleging as a reason the payment of the assessment to pay the strike benefits in a strike officially endorsed by a practically unanimous vote of the members at large. Most of those suspended were beneficiary retiring card members, who were getting the cheapest insurance in the world. Many of the others, or regular contributing members, were looking for an excuse to get out of the union, and they have accepted the spurious, lying statements of the propagandists as their excuse to avoid payment of their just obligations in the biggest strike the International Union has ever undertaken.

Any feature of the trade union movement that tends to endear the organization to the membership is not a deterrent to lasting and substantial growth. Nearly all the successful substantial trade unions with a substantial membership pay either a sick or a death benefit. Some of the organizations that started in with the optional fraternal plan of benefits have now changed to the compulsory benefit feature. The bakers formerly had the optional benefit feature, but found that it would not work and changed to the compulsory system. Workers will cheerfully and uncomplainingly pay to profiteering industrial insurance companies ten times the amount that they have to pay into a labor organization, for much less benefits. The benefit features hold the organization together in times of depression. Despite this the self-styled radicals want to destroy this sustaining feature. The sick and death benefit features of the International Union have never interfered with its economic features. It has never prevented the International Union's maintaining one strike after another. The Tampa strike is proof of this statement. Truth is worth a world of fiction.

There is no logical reason why our dues should not increase. We know that the dollar of today is little more than the fifty cents of a few years ago. We know that everything under the sun has increased in price. We cannot expect our dollar to be worth one hundred cents at the union office and only fifty cents at the grocery store.

When we raised our dues to 30c per week our average wage was less than $6.00, low. According to the figures furnished by local unions the average price is now $11.63, low. The added 30c per week that we are asked to pay the organization has been placed in our pay envelopes many times over by virtue of the fact that we were organized and it is only fair and just that we perpetuate and safeguard the thing that has been mainly responsible for the advantages we now have.

An organization that has been successful in raising wages over one hundred per cent in a few years and has at the same time protected its membership against sickness, unemployment and above all, provided an adequate death benefit, is far from being a failure in its avowed mission. As an organization we have done these things. We have done them successfully since 1879, and we will continue doing them despite the mouthings of "Industrial propagandists" who have no plans to offer except those smacking of disruption and whose every comment on our activities, past and present, is befouled with personal abuse and filled with glaring misstatements of facts.

There are very few, if any, cigarmakers, union or non-union, under our jurisdiction who have not enjoyed a decided increase in wages during the past few months.

Taxes.

Wherever a union has raised its bill of prices the non-union shops in that vicinity have had to follow suit. Wherever an organizer for the International Union has been sent into an unorganized district there has invariably been an increase in wages given the unorganized cigarmakers to offset the campaign of organization. This was sufficient in most cases to halt the work of organization and the non-unionist satisfied himself with the "voluntary raise" given by the firm. He accepted the half loaf grudgingly "given" by the employer in lieu of the independence offered by the organization despite the fact that the organization was the direct cause of his employer's generosity.

This line of reasoning is wrong. The non-unionist never refuses the increase in wages which is brought about by the activities of the union. He accepts the increase which he was unable to secure as an individual and he should be willing to accept the organization that is his benefactor.

Our Government, State, County or Municipal, never concedes the right to the individual or the minority to decide for themselves as to whether they shall join such government and become a part of it by paying just taxes. When the individual accepts its conditions by living under its protection he automatically accepts his proportionate part of the cost of upkeep.

Our duty as organized cigarmakers is to see that this fact is driven home to the unorganized. Insist that they become a part of the organization that makes their wage and working conditions possible. With the resolve to get at least one new member, let each of us become a working force for organization. This, after all, is the quickest, cheapest and best method of organization known.

Agreement With Cuba.

The International Executive Board appointed a committee consisting of P. Rivera Martinez and Francisco Valdes for the purpose of negotiating an agreement with the Cuban Federation of Cigarmakers. The committee proceeded to Habana, Cuba, met the representatives of the Cuban Federation of Cigarmakers, and negotiated the following agreement:

"1. The Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio recognizes the Cigarmakers' International Union of America as the sole and only one bona fide organization of the cigarmakers and cigar industry employes of the United States of America. The jurisdiction of the Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio, as a National Association comprises and is limited to the boundaries of the territory of the republic of Cuba and its possessions, and this national association shall have full and exclusive jurisdiction over all the Cuban territory and its possessions to organize the cigar industry employes.

"2. The Cigarmakers' International Union of America recognizes the Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio as the sole and only one bona fide organization of the cigarmakers and cigar industry employes of Cuba. The jurisdiction of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America, as an international union, shall comprise the same territory or territories as comprised or embraced at the present by its Constitution, excepting the Island of Cuba, where, on account of this agreement all jurisdiction of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America cease henceforth.

"3. The Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio agrees not to accept as a member, or permit him to work in any of the factories controlled by this organization, any person coming from the United States of America, unless such person can show a certificate by which it is proven that he or she was a member in good standing of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America up to the time of leaving its jurisdiction.

"4. The Cigarmakers' International Union agrees not to accept as a member, or permit him to work in any of the factories controlled by this organization, any person coming from the Republic of Cuba, unless such person can show a certificate by which it is proven that he or she was a member in good standing of the Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio up to the time of leaving its jurisdiction.

"5. The Cigarmakers' International Union of America agrees to accept as members without the payment of the initiation fee the members of the Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio, pursuant to paragraphs A, B and C inclusive of Section 64 of the Constitution of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America, at the presentation by such members of the certificate referred to by clause No. 4 of this agreement.

"6. The Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio agrees to accept as members without the payment of the initiation fee the members of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America under the same conditions provided by in paragraphs A, B and C inclusive and referred to in clause No. 5 of this agreement, and at the presentation by such members of the certificate mentioned in clause No. 3 of this agreement.

"7. Both organizations agree to maintain and remain firm for the apprenticeship laws upon bases of safeness and guaranty to protect our trade, taking into consideration the necessities of the industry and the different systems of work established elsewhere to make cigars, to select wrappers and to make the packing.

"8. Both organizations for the sake of their own morality and interests pledge themselves not to give refuge in themselves to those who have betrayed the cause of labor.

"9. The President of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America and the President of the Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio shall prepare and cause to be printed sufficient copies of a Special Certificate to provide with them the members of their respective unions who leave the jurisdiction of any of these organizations to come under the jurisdiction of the other and in accordance to what is provided for in clause No. 3 and 4 of this Covenant.

"10. The Cigarmakers' International Union of America in giving up jurisdiction over the Island of Cuba shall also give up the charter or charters of any union or unions subordinate to the International Union in operation in Cuba at the time of this agreement becoming effective, and the cards of the members of such union or unions shall be deposited with the union nearest to Habana.

"11. Both organizations agree that these articles constitute by themselves a Covenant of Friendly and Reciprocal Relations for the best protection of the trade and the practice of solidarity.

"12. Prevented, as we are at this time, to go further in what refers to an agreement of this nature, because of our constitutional limitations, we do recommend the advisability of discussing in the official organs of both organizations the practicability of studying and enacting a plan more ample and complete in which, by special legislation it might be stipulated in some other form all what relates to benefits, manner in which the members might be able to keep and preserve in one or both organizations the benefits actually acquired, duties, dues and obligations with the unions for the maintenance and preservation of such benefits, and all other details in relation with this subject-matter.

"That in order to initiate such discussion according to this recommendation, if the executives of both organizations deem it to be convenient, both executives shall agree on the date that they believe to be more advisable.

"13. This Covenant will be in force and full operation, if approved by the executives of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America and Cigarmakers' Federation of Habana and Pinar del Rio, after duly ratified by the referendum vote of the members of both organizations."

The foregoing agreement was unanimously approved by the Executive Board of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America.

G. W. Perkins,
Int. President.

The past has gone forever. Autocracy and militarism are buried with it. The future is our immediate concern. Ignoring what has gone before except so far as the lessons taught, we shall build along the lines of reason, judgment and the experiences gained.

Typifying democracy and its true spirit, the labor movements the world over, if they be true to themselves and to the best interests of the masses for which they speak, must recognize that democracy in its truest sense and act on the fundamental principles of justice, equity and humanity.

All elements of society are necessary for the highest development and great progress in civilization, economically, socially and politically.

The world's war recently brought to a triumphant conclusion has probably made the world safe for democracy on the political field. The mere ending of it, however, has not insured democracy and justice for the workers on the industrial field in any country. It has not materially changed working and living conditions, but it has aroused fresh hope and quickened aspirations and labor's ambitions.

It has created the opportunity whereby the workers, regardless of abode can, if functioning through trade unions, more readily, more freely and more effectively carry forward the work of securing justice and safeguarding for labor a full measure of industrial democracy. It is the first duty of our own trade union movement, and it should be that of the movement of other countries, to see to it that this opportunity is not destroyed by diverting the minds of the workers or by delving into the alluring realms of practices and theories which experience and sound judgment have proven to be false and destructive in their nature.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Labor cannot speak as an individual. Personal opinions are molded into collective, concrete demands and in this way, through our organized voice, we are able to get a hearing.

Dooley once described the open shop as one having a front door and a rear door; the union man walked in at the front door and as soon as it was discovered he was a union man he was kicked out of the rear door.

A Novel Experiment.

The New Orleans Association of Commerce is trying out an experiment that undoubtedly will be followed with interest by similar organizations throughout the country. It has filed suit against five of its members and is contemplating similar action against 127 more, in an effort to collect membership dues, the payment of which, it complains, has been "persistently and consistently" refused.

Just what effect the new move will have on the association's membership as a whole is difficult to forecast, though there would seem no good reason to believe that it will have any influence one way or another on the rank and file of the men who are really interested in the work of the organization and feel that by their memberships and their work in it they are actually working in the interest of the entire community. It should, however, clothe an Association of Commerce Membership with a new significance to many who heretofore have taken their responsibilities lightly; and it undoubtedly will prove an effective means of ridding the organization of "dead timber."

The man who joins an organization of that kind and then fails to maintain enough interest in it to even pay his dues, generally turns out to be "a non-working" member who refuses to lend either his influence, his time, or a little thought to the association and the work it is trying to do. He is seldom an asset and often a liability.—The Times-Picayune.

TRADE NOTES.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, Department of Labor, has received reports from forty-five cigar factories showing their employment and payrolls for the months of July, 1919, and July 1920.

According to the figures of the bureau there were 12,690 persons employed in these establishments in July, 1919, increasing to 13,944 in July, 1920, or an increase of 9.9 per cent. The pay rolls also showed an increase from $201,116 in July, 1919, to $295,663 in July, 1920, an increase of 47 per cent.

The bureau also received reports from forty-eight cigar factories showing the comparison between the employment and payrolls in these establishments in June and July of this year. There were, according to these figures, 14,519 persons employed in June, decreasing slightly in July to 14,505, a decrease of 1 per cent. The pay rolls also decreased from $322,076 in June to $307,840 in July, or a decrease of 4.4 per cent.

It has the following to say in connection with the changes in wages during the period from April 15 to May 15, in the tobacco industry:

Cigar manufacturing—All the employees in one establishment received an increase of 15 per cent. An increase of 12 per cent, affecting 30 per cent of the men, was reported by one concern. Sixty-seven per cent of the force in one factory received an increase of 10¼ per cent, while 60 per cent of the force in another factory received an increase of about 9 per cent. In one firm all the departments except the office were given an increase of 6.5 per cent, while 4 per cent of the force in another firm was given an increase of 5 per cent.

For more detailed information in reference to the production of cigars in the various districts for the month of July, though incomplete, we refer to the following table:

You will see by reference to the Official Department, under the caption "Official Notes," that the Executive Board has reduced the $1.00 weekly assessment to a 50c weekly assessment. The new rate of 50c takes effect September 27.

Including the $1.00 assessment, which will be due on September 25, nineteen $1.00 assessments have been levied. All members eligible to pay the $1.00 assessment should finally show nineteen $1.00 assessment stamps.

Under the new law members who join after August 1 don't have to pay assessments for the first four months of their membership, and Class B members don't have to pay any assessments for the first six months of their membership.

The following is the total vote for and against each resolution submitted. All were adopted.

The "open" shop policy, which means "open" only to non-unionists, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce is exposed in its true light and vigorous style. Mr. Gompers says:

The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor at its recent meeting had under consideration certain propositions just adopted by the United States Chamber of Commerce through referendum vote. These propositions were adopted by the chamber in two reports made to the membership by committees of the chamber.

The first was a report by the Committee on Industrial Relations and is entitled "Principles Underlying the Employment Relation." It contains a declaration in favor of the so-called "open shop," which is in reality a closed shop against union men.

Contained in this report are twelve planks. Plank II is as follows:

"The right of open-shop operation, that is, the right of employer and employee to enter into and determine the conditions of employment relations with each other, is an essential part of the industrial right of contract possessed by each of the parties."

This is a direct challenge to the trade union movement coming from the heart of America's financial power. The proposition set forth by the United States Chamber of Commerce in this plank involves no principle. On the contrary, it is merely a statement of what the United States Chamber of Commerce hopes the employers of the United States will do if they have the power to do it. The spirit of it coincides exactly with the spirit of the jungle man who started out to kill. The effort to make it appear that the so-called "open shop" involves the "individual right of contract" is so far outworn and aged as to be pitiable. The right of an individual to undermine and destroy the standards of living and the industrial safety of his fellow workers has been so long since exploded as to be unworthy of further discussion. The individual has no such right and no enlightened society anywhere today recognizes such a right.

The United States Chamber of Commerce itself discredits its own position in that regard by the next plank in its industrial platform, which is as follows:

"All men possess the equal right to associate voluntarily for the accomplishment of lawful purposes by lawful means. The association of men, whether of employers, employees, or others, for collective action or dealing confers no authority over, and must not deny any right of those who do not desire to act or deal with them."

It is here clearly set forth that the right of voluntary association is a right possessed by all. Of course, the Chamber of Commerce finds it necessary to protect the greed of its membership and the reactionary character of its desires by the insertion of a dubious clause about "lawful purposes" and "lawful means" and by making provision for "those who do not desire" to associate with their fellows.

In plank IV the United States Chamber of Commerce evidently has something in mind which it does not care to set forth specifically and in plain language. The plank is as follows:

"The public welfare, the protection of the individual, and sound employment relations require that associations or combinations of employers or employees, or both, must equally be subject to the authority of the state and legally responsible to others for their conduct and that of their agents."

Of course all Americans, all organizations of Americans, are equally subject to the laws of the land. What the Chamber of Commerce doubtless means, but does not care to say for reasons of its own, is that it would like to have trade unions subjected to law in a manner not applicable to chambers of commerce and associations of employers. It is obviously seeking to devise some method by which organizations of workers may be disadvantageously subjected to the desires of employers through the machinery of state.

The entire declaration is a cunning device calculated to create the impression of fairness while wielding the favorite weapons of treachery. It is calculated to banish trade union organizations while creating the impression of acquiescence in the actual desires of the workers.

The document is a dishonest document. Its dishonesty will be apparent at once to those who read planks II, III and IV, and who then read in connection with these planks VIII and IX, which are as follows:

VIII.

"Adequate means satisfactory both to the employer and his employees and voluntarily agreed to by them, should be provided for the discussion and adjustment of employment relations and the just and prompt settlement of all disputes that arise in the course of industrial operation."

IX.

"When, in the establishment or adjustment of employment relations, the employer and his employees do not deal individually, but by mutual consent such dealing is conducted by either party through representatives, it is proper for the other party to ask that these representatives shall not be chosen or controlled by, or in such dealing in any degree represent any outside group or interest in the questions at issue."

The American labor movement has achieved a strength which cannot be destroyed by methods such as those adopted by the United States Chamber of Commerce. It has contributed a record of service to the development of our country which cannot be denied or undermined by the dishonesty and deception of such attacks. That the Chamber of Commerce has gone outside of its legitimate field in launching this attack upon the trade union movement is not surprising because the membership of the Chamber of Commerce is overwhelmingly an employing membership, a membership long in opposition to the trade union movement and a membership not above using any instrument with which it thinks the progress of the trade union movement may be impeded and its beneficial work retarded.

It is to be regretted that there are those in America who care so little for human progress, who have so little of the real idealism of the Republic, who have so small ability to express themselves in anything but the terms of greed and exploitation, who have so slight regard for the welfare of humanity, as to make declarations of this character possible in this period of our history. But so long as there are those to whom greed is a watchword, to whom the principles of liberty and justice make no appeal, who have no shame in the practices of modern barbarism, who know no humility in the face of humanity's suffering and who have no concept and no longing for a better and brighter day for humanity to struggle against these forces will be necessary.

There is no movement in American life so well equipped to make this struggle and so filled with willingness to sacrifice for its sake as the American trade union movement which is the American Federation of Labor. It was with all of this in view and with a profound sensibility of the crucial nature of the time in which we live, that the executive council gave consideration to the action of the employers in the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Whatever sacrifice may be required for the advancement of our people will be made. Whatever sacrifice may be required for the safeguarding of the rights and the liberties of the working people and of the great masses of all our people will be made. Those who believe in liberty never hesitate in its defense.

Special Committee on Cheaper Dues.

The Cleveland convention adopted and the popular vote ratified the following resolution: "We recommend that the International President shall be authorized to appoint a committee of five from the delegates to this convention who shall investigate the advisability of a cheaper class of membership for the unorganized districts. The report to be made to the International President by the committee and that it be referred by him to the International Executive Board and when approved in any form, the subject matter be submitted to the membership for referendum vote."

In obedience to the foregoing resolution I appointed Henry F. Hilfers of Newark, N. J., John C. Hilsdorf of New York, N. Y., S. J. Butler of Jacksonville, Fla., Philip Wagan of McSherrystown, Pa., and R. E. Van Horn of Chicago, Ill., who have submitted the following report, which I submit for your consideration and action.

Dear Sir and Brother: We, a committee appointed to investigate the advisability of a cheaper dues paying class for the unorganized districts (as provided for under Resolution 51, Cleveland Convention), beg leave to submit the following report:

Acting under your written instructions of July 30, 1920, your committee convened in New York Aug. 9, 1920. Organization of the committee resulted in the election of Henry Hilfers chairman and R. E. Van Horn secretary. After a general discussion of the subject matter on which the committee was instituted a survey of ways and means as to how best accomplish the purpose resulted in the decision to hold hearings in the various unorganized districts thereby giving all who might so desire an opportunity to place their views on organization before the committee for its consideration.

Hearings were held in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania and correspondence was directed to other unorganized districts asking for information and opinions along the line of our investigation.

Your committee made a special investigation of the automatic machine shop situation and found in Newark, N. J., three such shops in operation, the largest of which is employing some 600 girls on 150 machines and occupying three large buildings, one of which having been but recently opened. Girls in these shops claim to average $25.00 a week and there is no semblance of organization in this branch of our industry.

Proponents of a cheaper dues paying class in the various localities investigated were divided as to what form of law or system of organization should control in the event of the establishing of any plan providing for cheaper dues for the unorganized districts. Some few advocated the resurrection of the Class A, while others were unalterably opposed to this plan and heartily in favor of dividing the union into an Industrial and Beneficiary class. Not a single new thought or plan was advanced, the only claim made being that "the unorganized will not join at the present rate of initiation and dues. They (the unorganized) want strike benefit only and are not willing to pay for the beneficiary part of our organization." The question was asked proponents of these plans, "If cheaper dues is wanted why was the late Class A plan a failure in so far as organization of these districts was concerned?" Answers were evasive, many excuses were offered but none of them proved valid on examination. Proponents of the plan for dividing the union into an Industrial and Beneficiary class were asked "What reason have you to believe that the unorganized will now pay 30c a week for Industrial organization, carrying strike benefit only, when they have refused to pay 15c a week for benefits as well as strike, as heretofore provided, or the same amount, 30c a week, which would have given them full beneficial standing as regular members?" This, too, was evaded and no assurances were offered by any one in any of the unorganized districts as to what might be expected in the way of organization should any plan of cheaper dues become operative.

Cognizant of the necessity of organization, yet in view of the action of the convention in disapproving of the plan of dividing the union into Industrial and Beneficial classes and also mindful of the overwhelming sentiment as expressed through the referendum in the abolition of Class A, your committee offers the following plan as intermediary, feeling that it will meet the objections as to an initial high cost of membership as well as provide a plan under which organization may be stimulated to the end that these districts may become permanently organized under our beneficiary system which we hold to be paramount in the labor movement of today.

Plan Proposed.

Section 61a—Special.

All members engaged in the cigar industry, enumerated in Section 61, with the exceptions noted therein, working in any factory not entitled to the use of the label, and which does not pay the regular established bill of prices, may become members under the following conditions:

First—An initiation fee of $1.00, payable in four weekly installments of 25 cents each.

Second—Weekly dues of 30 cents for the first three months of membership, 40 cents for the second three months of membership, 50 cents for the third three months of membership, and regular dues of 60 cents after nine months of membership.

Third—Exemption from all assessments for the first four months of membership. After four months of membership such members shall pay one-half of all local and International assessments, except label assessments, except as hereafter provided.

The benefits of all members initiated under the foregoing provisions shall be:

First—Strike benefit of $3.00 per week for the first sixteen weeks and $4.00 per week thereafter. In the event of an authorized strike, involving members who have been such for three months, a member wishing to draw his card shall be granted a loan amounting to his indebtedness for due stamps and assessments and to $2.00, the same to be charged on his card as a traveling loan. No member accepting this privilege can return to the local and again be placed on the strike list.

Second—In all other respects the laws and rules governing arrearsages of dues, suspension from membership, limitation as to time in the payment of benefits, and all other laws governing the members paying sixty-cent dues, shall apply to members enrolled under this special law.

Third—Members enrolled under this special law shall have the privilege of paying sixty-cent weekly dues and all International and local assessments, and be entitled to the full benefits.

Fourth—Any member initiated under Section 61a, securing employment in a factory using the label or which pays the regular scale of prices (or should the factory in which he is employed become entitled to the use of the label, or pay the regular scale of prices), shall automatically advance to the full dues-paying class.

Fifth—Members, having paid the full contributing weekly dues prior to the adoption of this amendment, or subsequently thereto, can not be transferred to come under Section 61a, except as provided in the following paragraph.

Sixth—All former fifteen-cent Class A members now in good standing may have the privilege of transferring to the class of membership provided for in this special law. All former fifteen-cent Class A members who have become suspended may rejoin under the provisions of this special law, without the payment of an initiation fee.

Seventh—All members initiated under the provisions of this special law, at the expiration of nine months shall be transferred to the full regular dues paying membership and be entitled to all benefits provided for in the constitution, with the constitutional time limits. A member having paid the weekly dues of thirty-cents and forty-cents and fifty-cents and the stipulated assessments, transferring to the full contributing dues paying membership shall be given credit for time on benefits for one-half of the time he may have paid such dues. For example—a member having contributed the dues specified in Section 61a for nine months shall be credited on time allowance for sick, out of work, and death benefits, with nineteen weeks. Fractions of a week shall not be counted.

Eighth—This special law to remain in force until four months after the next convention of the International Union.

(Signed)

HENRY HILFERS, Chairman.

S. J. BUTLER.

JOHN C. HILSDORF.

PHILIP WAGAMAN.

R. E. VAN HORN, Secretary.

The foregoing report of the special committee was submitted to the International Executive Board, who approved it by the following vote:

Affirmative—Gompers, Garlepy, Hall, Stevens, Weber, Perkins.

Negative—Hoffman, Reichert, Stack.

Yours fraternally,

G. W. PERKINS,
International President.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Cigar Makers' Journal:

I notice that an amendment by Union 333, of Chicago, proposes to abolish the sick and death benefit features of our Constitution. True, they call it "reorganization," but first the amendment proposes to do away with our beneficial system; then, having abolished the sick and death benefit, they propose that a committee of ten, together with an actuary and legal counsel, shall draft a new plan in conformity with the fraternal insurance laws of the United States, Canada and Porto Rico. Those of us who know something about actuaries will realize that it will be no idle task for an actuary to figure out a proposition so vague and indefinite as implied in this proposed amendment. Then when we consider the legal talent to draw up a law in conformity to the laws of the various states in the U. S.—all having different laws—and also the laws of a foreign country and make them fit into legal conformity.

Verily some job!

Under the time allowed an attorney would scarcely find sufficient time to permit him to read, examine, analyze, dissect and then rearrange and draft a law that would fit in, dovetail to and harmonize with the various laws of our states let alone those of foreign countries. But admitting legal talent could bring forth an abortion and it were to be submitted, then after the time of the committee's finding, after the time occupied by the legal gentleman and its submission and defeat, there would be no laws to govern the payment of such benefit. This proposed amendment would thus automatically wipe from the books all 40c beneficiary members and it remains to be seen whether the membership want to take such drastic action now that the beneficiary members are paying their way.

Then the final joke is that the plan of the committee whatever it may be must be submitted to a referendum vote within 10 days after being submitted to the president. No publication in the Journal, no provision to permit the general membership to see and study the plan. Here it is, take it or leave it alone.

The amendment is destructive rather than constructive.

JOHN R. OGRAIN.

Tampa, Fla.

To the Officers and Members of the Cigarmakers' International:

Fellow Craftsmen—We have been advised through official correspondence, that reports are being circulated in Chicago and other large cigar industrial centers which seriously reflect on the status of the cigarmakers' strike in Tampa. To the effect, "that a dual organization through a committee of its representatives from Tampa, are spreading the news that only about two thousand members remain in the International Union here, and the rest have deserted because they could not live on $4.50 a week, and also that only 40 per cent of the $1.20 assessment went to the strikers and 60 per cent went to replacing the International fund. They further state that they were denied initiation into the International Union, that is why they are outside in a dual organization."

If that statement was allowed to go unchallenged, there is no telling what mischief it might create among the members at large, or to what extent a like band of disruptionists would extend their work in casting aspersions on the International Union, and sending broadcast such nefarious reports with the avowed purpose of undermining the Cigarmakers' Union and defeating the strike in Tampa.

Therefore, we, the Joint Advisory Board, duly assembled and representing the combined local unions of Tampa, Nos. 336, 462, 464, 474 and 500, take this method of going on record for the purpose of circularizing all locals of our craft in a most emphatic denial of the foregoing erroneous statements.

We charge that there is not a scintilla of truth in one syllable of the entire fabrication, and brand it as unqualifiedly and maliciously false, circulated by the hirelings and paid agents, in all probability, of the manufacturers' association, and those imbued with the "dual movement" who are bent on the destruction of the International Union and the collapse of our strike.

We are not surprised to hear of such reports being circulated, as the manufacturers here are using every device known to the art of unscrupulous tricksters to deceive the public relative to the situation of the strike. Every medium that can be grasped is readily employed by the manufacturers in their desperation to break the morale of the strikers and whip them into submission, then back into the factories in an unorganized condition with a reduction of wages staring them in the face—under the "open shop" plan.

Full-page ads in the subsidized daily papers of this city have appeared from time to time, teaming with misstatements ever since the manufacturers precipitated the strike by discharging 150 of the representatives of the union and blacklisting them through the combination of their association from obtaining employment in any other factory in Tampa, such propaganda has been carried on with a vengeance, aided and abetted by such business organizations and civic clubs as the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis, Merchants' Association, Automobile and Business Men's Club, passing resolutions in an endeavor to strengthen the hand of the manufacturers in their program for the open shop, all of which was prejudicial to the interest of the workers, and against the right of collective bargaining; that right which the manufacturers hope to destroy.

The committee of a "dual organization" referred to above are perhaps members of a renegade nondescript aggregation of tobacco workers here that style themselves "Sociedad de Torcedores de Tampa," whose organization consists of approximately 200 people (while they lay claim to about 1,800 members). It is alleged on very good authority that these gentry are being financed by the Association of Manufacturers for the purpose of breaking the strike; whether that be a fact or not it has not been successfully disproved up to date, and there is very little room for doubt. But this much we do know, that they are the stupid "tools" for the manufacturers, playing squarely into the hands of the employer who is seeking to crush the independence out of the worker.

Members of this so-called clique of "Sociedad de Torcedores de Tampa" and their element have mixed up in every radical, dual and disruptionist movement that could be conceived to destroy the legitimate trades union organization.

Hence, the Joint Advisory Board of Tampa wishes to repudiate all such statements emanating from such a source conjured with malicious intent in the hope that the righteous cause of the strikers might be perverted and defeat snatched out of the jaws of victory. We do not stand for rival or dual organizations, and we wish to herewith assert our fealty and loyalty to the Cigarmakers' International Union, for we know that when the strike is won it will be because of the great assistance rendered through the membership of that organization and the combined trades union movement affiliated with the A. F. of L.

Now, just a word in conclusion to set forth some of the truthful conditions of the situation here, and to refute the false statements quoted in the foregoing lines of this circular letter.

In brief, the facts are as follows: The strike occurred on April 14, and shortly afterwards the remainder of the trust shops locked all employees out, throwing on the street by strike and lockout about 13,000 workers. It is now going on the seventeenth week and our lines are holding firm as the Rock of Gibraltar. Only about 150 have turned traitor and returned to work, and they are composed of all the "culls" and scrapings that associate themselves with the trade.

Not a single member of our union has deserted or returned to work and we do not expect them to. There are no pickets in front of the factories to keep the cigarmakers from going to work; they are not needed. There has been no violence or intimidation offered on the part of our members to prevent a handful of unprincipled strikebreakers from going to work; they will cut but very little figure in the settlement of this difficulty; we know that, and so do the bosses—that is why they are sweating blood.

All of the men and women that were members of our union when the strike occurred are still members. There have been no desertions or backsliding in the ranks.

However, there have been about three thousand, five hundred cigarmakers, packers and selectors which the joint unions have assisted by paying their fares to Cuba, and other cities of the North. They have left Tampa in search of work, all of which is a great assistance to those remaining here, as the heavy burden of benefits is gradually being reduced, and the work of shipping members out of this city is going on; each week from 300 to 500 find a way to leave town; that also makes the bosses shudder, for many of their best workmen are leaving, perhaps never to return again.

Every dollar of financial obligations that is pledged to the members of our union by the constitution has been liquidated, and there is no complaint heard here that the $1.00 assessment levied for the specific purpose of financing the Tampa strike is not being appropriated strictly in accordance with the full letter of the law.

In addition to that our fellow cigarmakers in Cuba alone are responding most generously to our needs, with a contribution of approximately $10,000 per week. Other local unions have helped some by contributing their mite; in addition to that the appeal which was sent out by the A. F. of L. to all affiliated unions has brought forth some assistance; however, not as much as we had hoped for, as the strain and burden on our members is great, and the sacrifice and privation is a bitter yoke to bear. Remember there are still 9,000 or more to take care of, many of whom are not entitled to benefits, but must be looked after. Brothers, think deeply and considerably of the conditions that confront our members here, respond cheerfully, willingly, and with a generosity that will do credit to the name and principle of unionism; this is not alone our fight, but your fight as well, as the fight of all organized labor against the onslaught of hysteria for the open shop and the annihilation of the trades union movement. We should win, we must win, and by your help we will win. We are determined to fight to maintain our organization to the last agonizing ditch of resistance, even though we have but a crumb of bread and a sip of water to sustain our courage in this most uneven contest, with the knowledge that we are right, with principle and justice as the weapons of our defense to keep the lamp of hope aglow, we will never yield, we will never surrender, we will never quit the fight until victory crowns our struggle.

Now, just a few more words in answer to the charge of the so-called dual organization who style themselves the "Sociedad de Torcedores de Tampa," who make the charge that "the reason that they are out in a dual organization is because the doors of the International Union are closed against them."

Permit us to say in reply that the joint unions of Tampa adhere to the constitution and by-laws of that instrument: all persons engaged in the cigar business "who are eligible" are entitled to become members of our union.

We have no recollection of these people seeking membership in our locals; such firebrands and seditionists would not be content; neither would they fit in any conservative trades union movement. In other words, if some one would put them in, the question is, would they stay put?

In closing, we wish to thank all for past favors, and assure you that we heartily appreciate every effort that has been made in our behalf; we also thank you for your indulgence in giving time and ear to the reading of this somewhat lengthy communication, but we could not condense it any more, as there is so much to say about this important situation, and the "half is yet untold."

We are in fine shape to win, all we need to turn the trick is your brotherly consideration and the substantial things that go with it. The manufacturers are aghast at the solidarity displayed in the ranks of the workers. They are weakening. The end is not far distant.

The Federal Trade Commission has its investigators here with a view to unearthing conspiracy in restraint of trade on the part of the manufacturers. There is a closed shop agreement among the association and none can operate unless he belongs to the combination. "A ray of hope dawns on the horizon."

Yours fraternally.

JOS. M. MUNIZ, Secretary.

Paterson, N. J.

Local No. 3 is submitting the following amendment for your consideration:

Strike out Section 56 and insert the following section, to read: That all organizers and sub-organizers and label agitators be called off for one year. After the adoption of the amendment and after one year it must be left to popular vote of all local unions, and a majority must decide to replace them.

We propose this amendment because we do not think that the money is well spent at this time. Section 56 of the constitution reads that they shall hold these officers, provided the International funds will permit. Now, we feel that while they may be working faithfully, we cannot see that they are necessary at this time, because there is so much unrest in all local unions on account of high dues and assessments. That the members in general are somewhat discouraged. The way the money is spent we also feel that the amount of the money they are spending at this time could be spent for strike benefits and may be the cause of us winning the greatest strike we have ever had in the history of our International Union. The man that is striking for higher wages and better living conditions is the man who needs all the money we can give him. We also think that this will encourage the membership in paying the $1 weekly assessment, and they will know the money is being spent wisely and for a good purpose.

Think this matter over, and give us your moral support, as we can put them back any time we see fit, and if the fund will permit there will be no harm done to anyone.

The organizers are spending $30,000 a year. That amount would go a long way in helping to win our big strikes. Also consider: Is our membership increasing or decreasing? Are the organizers showing the results that they should? We cannot see it.

REPORT OF INTERNATIONAL FINANCIER.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 4, 1920.

Since last report I have examined the accounts of the following unions:

No. 22, Detroit, Mich.

The books and accounts here had not been given the necessary attention. The death of ex-Secy. Wolf complicated matters still further, as he had depended upon his memory more than is advisable. His memory left with him. As a result it made it almost impossible for inexperienced men to handle the office, and until Tom O'Dea stepped in everything was going from bad to worse, but O'Dea knew what to do and when to do it. You were lucky to have him on the job. He straightened out your strike benefit lists and saved you some money in benefits. The old ledger was complicated; result, numerous mistakes in dues accounts. This made it necessary to call in the due books. Few members except those in the larger shops could be notified immediately, and it will take some time to get to the members that bought the stamps at the home of Mr. Wolf and those he called upon or did business with by mail. All this means work; and worse still, personal argument by officials that can not possibly be acquainted with the personal viewpoint of these members. President McCormick will go along reasonably with any one that is inclined to be fair. He and O'Dea will give the new secretary the needed help and if he does not make good it will be his own fault. Your officers have started an International ledger and day book, also International vouchers for expense. The International and local accounts will be entirely separated. If the members will do their part, assist the officers in their work (your work), you will create harmony and a pull-together spirit that is badly needed in Detroit now and will be still more needed in the immediate future, as we are facing at this time unusual conditions, not only in our trade, but generally, and we must get together for our own protection.

Secy. Jones has the accounts of this local in much better condition than they are usually found in. Showed him how to balance each member's account with every credit given and requested him to secure endorsed vouchers for all expense. He said he would comply with both requests—he can if he will and I believe he will.

Statement as follows:

Balance for April 1, 1919$ 377.58
Receipts to Sept. 1, 1920 1,607.65

Total$1,985.23

OFFICIAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

G. W. PERKINS, President.
Monon Building, Chicago.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, 318 W. 51st St., New York City, First Vice President.

L. P. HOFFMAN, 729 N. Diamond st., Jacksonville, Ill., Second Vice President.

A. GARIEPY, 239 Ave. Hotel De Ville, Montreal, Canada, Third Vice President.

JOHN REICHERT, Brisbane Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., Fourth Vice President.

E. G. HALL, 4124 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn., Fifth Vice President.

E. J. STACK, 412 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland, Ore., Sixth Vice President.

CHAS. H. STEVENS, 205 Southampton St., Buffalo, N. Y., Seventh Vice President.

GIBSON WEBER, 1710 N. Gratz St., Station C, Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 60c to the 40c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Out of work stamps are ready and can be had upon application for them.

Your attention is directed to Sections 11, 12, 13 and 14 of the International Constitution, which, in part, reads as follows:

Sec. 11.—The officers of the International Union shall consist of a President, First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Vice-Presidents and Treasurer, who are hereby constituted the Executive Board. Every member of the International Union, provided he has been a continuous member in good standing for not less than five years prior to election, shall be eligible to any office in the International Union. The President and the Vice-Presidents TO BE LOCATED AT DIFFERENT PLACES. The Third Vice-President to be a resident member of a Canadian union.

Sec. 12.—The election of officers for the Cigar Makers' International Union shall take place by a popular vote of the members thereof; an absolute majority of all votes cast being necessary to an election.

At the same time and place the full quota of delegates to which the International Union shall be entitled at the conventions of the American Federation of Labor shall be elected, except as herein-after in this section provided, and all rules and regulations of this constitution shall apply in the nomination and election of delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention that obtain in the election of officers of the International Union. When the International Union is entitled to four delegates, local unions may nominate four candidates as delegates. If four are to be elected, the twenty candidates who receive the largest number of nominations of local unions shall be placed upon the official ballot.

The International Union is entitled to 5 delegates. However, Section 12 provides "The International President shall by virtue of his office be a delegate to the Convention of the American Federation of Labor and the Union Label Trades Department." Hence only 4 delegates are to be nominated.

All candidates for delegates must be members of the International Union for at least five consecutive years.

Sec. 13.—Between September 15 and November 1, preceding the time for the election of International Union officers, each local union shall nominate one candidate for each of the offices to be filled. The nominations in local unions to be taken by secret ballot. Unions failing to nominate shall be fined $10.

Sec. 14.—Within twenty-four hours after the nominations taking place in a local union the corresponding secretary shall notify the International President of the names of members nominated, of which local unions they are members and to which offices they have been placed in nomination. The International President shall furnish local unions with blank lists for this purpose. Corresponding secretaries failing to mail nominations within the time herein prescribed, shall be fined $5. At 12 m., precisely, on November 8, after the nominations have been made, the International President shall close the nominations, and any nominations received after the above time shall not be considered.

You will notice by the foregoing that the law provides that each local shall nominate one (1) candidate for the office of International President, one (1) candidate for First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Vice-President, and International Treasurer; and that the President and Vice-Presidents shall be located in different places and that the Third Vice-President shall be a resident member of a Canadian union, and that each local union shall nominate four (4) candidates for election as delegates to the American Federation of Labor; and that it provides a fine of $10.00 for failure to make nominations as provided in the foregoing. The law also provides that all members who desire to be candidates must be members for five consecutive years.

Candidates for delegate to the American Federation of Labor can also be nominated for any other office.

All nominations have to be made by secret ballot.

SPECIAL.

Section 131 distinctly and plainly states: "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to be insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

The International Union will not authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members, secretaries had granted the thief loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 145, give full record of membership, as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 141c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 140c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there is no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

In accordance with Section 180 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of $1.00 to replenish the General Fund on each 60-cent, 40-cent and 30-cent member, and 50c on Class B members. The assessment commenced on May 17.

Correction.—Union 396 Northampton, Mass., in a letter dated August 31, states that Union 396 Northampton's vote on Section 50, President's salary, was six for and one against, while the tabulated vote through mistake records them as not voting upon this question.

Official Notice.

In compliance with Section 180 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 50c, to replenish the General Fund, on each sixty-cent, forty-cent and thirty-cent member.

This assessment takes the place of the $1.00 assessment, which is discontinued Sept. 25.

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149 inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 129 Denver, Colo.—Mrs. Lidde Scheelke 44474, who died July 3.

Union 129, Denver, Colo.—Manuel Tamargo (48053), who died Sept. 1; and George D. Thomas (94506), who died Sept. 6.

LETTER BOX

Note—Letters remaining uncalled for at the office after being advertised in the Journal for one issue must be returned to carrier of Chicago postoffice by order of Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C.

Returned the following to Postoffice Department since the last issue of the Journal: None. Union 469 Bakersfield, Calif., for Harry Beyers.

The union label is the inspiration, the guide post, and the rallying point of the energetic and conscientious woman in every community: it assisted in the organization of Women's Union Label Leagues throughout the whole country. It organizes the purchasing power upon lines of fair conditions of labor as against those conditions that destroy the health and morality of the producer and endanger the well being of the purchaser. It is an appeal to principle that is above price; the principle that the dollar expended in the maintenance to fair labor is worth more in the end than a dollar saved at the bargain counter. It is the modern crusade to rescue the child from the work-shop, factory, and mill; the woman from the sweatshop and tenement house, and the millions of labor from the clutches of greed, degradation and poverty.

The amendment of Union No. 383, Chicago, Ill., as published in the July Journal, as follows:

Amend the constitution by inserting a new section to be known as Section 133 C, section to read as follows:

Ninety days after the adoption of this section, sections 134 to 142, inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to sick benefits and sections 143 to 149, inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to death benefits shall be stricken from the constitution.

Upon the adoption of this section the International president shall appoint a committee of not more than 10 members, whose duty it shall be to draft a plan for the reorganization of the sick and death benefit features in conformity with the fraternal insurance laws of the United States, Canada and Porto Rico. The committee shall have the power to engage the services of an actuary and legal counsel to assist them, the same to be paid out of the general funds. The committee shall receive for its service the same remuneration as the International Canvassing Board.

The committee shall report their plan to the International president, who shall submit the same to the referendum vote of the members within 10 days after said committee makes its report.

It shall be optional with all members of the International Union to avail themselves of the sick and death benefit features after the reorganization has been completed.

The International president shall, after the reorganization has been completed, pay into the treasury of the new organization the sum of $4.00 per capita for each member in said organization. The same to be paid out of the general funds not later than ninety days after the adoption of this section.

Received the endorsement of Union 44, St. Louis.

Amendments Proposed.

Local No. 3, Paterson, wish to submit the following amendment:

Strike out Section 56 and insert the following section, to read:

That all organizers and suborganizers and label agitators be called off for one year. After the adoption of the amendment, and after one year it must be left to popular vote of all local unions and a majority must decide to replace them.

Amendment to the Constitution of C. M. I. U. of A., proposed by Union 129, Denver, Colo.: On or before December 31, 1920, all local unions having less than 25 members, and located within a radius of 200 miles of a local of 25 or more members, shall be dissolved and all property and funds turned over to International office or as the International President may direct to deposit same. The members shall deposit cards with nearest local. In case of dispute of nearest local, the International President shall decide. Each locality where no local exists and has union shop shall have a town collector, who shall receive five cents a week from each member, and shall transact the shop collector's duties. He shall keep on hand twenty dollars' worth of dues and assessment stamps at all times, which shall be mailed to him on credit by secretary of jurisdiction local. Town collector to be elected annually or appointed by secretary if members fail to elect.

The town collector shall receive applications for membership, retiring cards, etc., and forward same to secretary. In each case a fee of 10c shall be paid by member to shop collector. All sick, death, out-of-work and strike cases shall be reported by town collector to secretary of jurisdiction, and a fee of 10c in each case shall be paid by the jurisdiction local to town collector.

In localities where no local exists, seven members may organize a new local as provided in the constitution, but shall dissolve at the expiration of one year, if the membership does not reach 25; such dissolution shall be in manner as provided above.

All constitutional provisions not in accord with this amendment are hereby declared void, or shall be changed by International President in such manner as to harmonize with this amendment.

UNION NOTES

Will the secretary holding the card of John Ness, 27831, tell him to correspond with the secretary of 129, Denver, Colo.?

Union 129, Denver, writes: "Union 129, Denver, has a $1 weekly local assessment in aid of the Tampa strike. So far we have sent them nearly $6,000. If all locals would send a proportionate amount they could in a short time have their strike won. 'A stitch in time saves nine.' If you do not give the $1 now you will have to give it some other way later."

Charles Baumer is requested to remit to Union 335, Hammond, Ind., the 50c deficiency due that union.

Union 83, Nashville, Tenn., states that there are forty jobs open there.

Notice by Union 225, Los Angeles: "Union 225 of Los Angeles recognizes no open shop and has placed a two hundred dollar fine on the following members for disobeying its orders: Ernest Haase, Manuel Lopez, Thomas Bartle, B. B. Beaupre, A. Brodhag, Emanuel Martinez and Juan Risoto."

Union 129, Denver, Colo., has sent $7,711.35 to Tampa to Sept. 8, in aid of their strike. Nineteen weeks at $1.00 per week per member, besides some collections received from outside unions, is the way we did it. Some are holding jobs on account of the idleness of the Tampa members no doubt, so show your appreciation by sending them aid now when they have their strike almost won, they will do as much for you should the occasion ever require. J. W. Sanford, Secy. 129.

Union Notes, by H. Abrahams, Boston: Some manufacturers like to delude the strikers and the public when they see scabs at work to make all believe their shops are filled.—The United States Chamber of Commerce has decided to destroy the trade unions of America. I bid them pause, for if they are successful they would involve capital as well as labor in common ruin. It would destroy the only conservative force in America. How much of a military force would it require to maintain order from the Rio Grande to the Gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific?—Trade is good.—Does the Chicago writer (Barnett) who is continuously issuing circulars believe that by dividing labor he will improve the condition of the worker? The trade union has reduced the hours of labor, raised the school age, and got better conditions for the worker—what other force has done as much?—While I believe that the A. F. of L. will go further along the line of political action, I am of the opinion that agitation along the lines suggested by Wendell Phillips would be of greater advantage, viz.: "Educate, Agitate and Organize."—Female labor is on the increase in our craft.—It is time to grant amnesty to all political prisoners.—Evolution not revolution is the aim of the trade unions.—C. C. A. and Quincys are non-union made.—97 gave the secretary a two weeks' vacation. The boys always do the right thing.—Tampa is on the firing line. In order for them to win we must furnish the cash to buy food and pay rent.—If every trade unionist would demand the label on all commodities the labor movement would be settled.—What is Democracy, anyway?—When will we do away with Saturday as a work day?

Peru, Ind., Sept. 8, 1920.

Please mention in your next publication of the Journal that trade in Peru, Local 235, is good. Also if there are any cigar makers in Chicago that are not working or that would like to make a change, send them here. Jobs open.

A. P. GRIMES, Secretary.

The Propagandists in a recent issue, more or less scurrilous communication issued over the signature of the secretary of the Cigar Makers' Propaganda League, are still trying to bolster up the cunningly devised, but palpably misleading amendment to separate the funds and to make optional the benefit features of the International Union.

What follows can have no bearing whatsoever upon the bulk of Local Unions—upon the Union 383 amendment—as most of them will have voted before this is printed and circulated.

The Propagandists seem quite angry because of the expose of their pet scheme and uncovering of its true meaning.

We, of course, believe that any Union has a right to propose an amendment and that every member has a right to his opinion on any question, important or otherwise, that comes up for action.

The Union 383 amendment has a few hidden features, which those who understood and knew them, would be derelict in their duty if they did not expose.

The amendment is written and printed and its true meaning cannot be successfully covered up or denied.

The amendment provides:

"Amend the Constitution by inserting a new section to be known as Section 133C, section to read as follows:

(Mark well this provides a new section. It then provides:)

"Ninety days after the adoption of this new section, sections 134 to 142 inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to sick benefits and sections 143 to 149 inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to death benefits, shall be stricken from the Constitution."

It then goes on to provide for the appointment of a committee to draft a plan for the reorganization of the sick and death benefit features in compliance with fraternal insurance laws, with the advice of an actuary and legal counsel, and further provides that the committee shall report their plan, which shall be submitted to a referendum vote.

If this amendment had been adopted there would still have been in the new section 133C this significant law:

"It shall be optional with all members of the International Union to avail themselves of the sick and death benefit features after the reorganization has been completed."

The proponents of this subtle and cunningly devised law did not wait for the committee's report, but they sought to put the optional clause into the law regardless of what plan the committee would report.

They further sought to combine and to be incorporated in section 133C the following paragraph:

"The International President shall, after the reorganization has been completed, pay into the treasury of the new organization the sum of $4.00 per capita for each member in said organization. The same to be paid out of the general funds not later than ninety days after the adoption of this section."

This last paragraph would also be in the law regardless of what the committee may have reported.

An ingenious attempt was made to fasten the optional feature upon the members when they were not looking and because this was exposed in the Journal, a volley of insinuations was hurled against the editor of the Journal.

This amendment, if it had been adopted, would have dropped, ninety days after its adoption, the sick and death benefit feature from our Constitution, and if the report made by the committee was not adopted, we would have had by referendum vote no sick or death benefit features in our Constitution, and if the committee's report would have been adopted, we would have had the optional feature in the law, regardless of the committee's report.

There is only one fair and proper way to amend the Constitution and that is to amend by striking out and inserting.

If the amendment had provided simply for the appointment of a committee to draft a law to take the place of the present sick and death benefit laws, no criticisms would have been made except as against or for any changes.

We commend for your consideration and admiration the following telegram just received from the Secretary of the J. A. B., Tampa, Florida:

Heroic Sacrifice.

"Tampa Fla., Oct. 14, 1920.
"G. W. Perkins, Monon Bldg., Chicago, Ill. Today after six months on strike four thousand strikers, in most enthusiastic meeting, unanimously decided to continue strike as long as necessary, until recognition of our Union is won. We assure you international assistance is not in vain."

(Signed) JAS. M. MUNIZ, - Sec.

For the last three months the Manufacturers' Association has been vigorously claiming that the strike is being prolonged by the J. A. B. and a few officials; that the leaders would not and dare not permit a vote of the strikers on the question of continuing the strike and that if a mass meeting or a meeting of the strikers was called that the strikers would declare the strike off and that we did not dare to call such a meeting.

The foregoing telegram is the answer to the Manufacturers' Association and the bosses' challenge. We can assure the Manufacturers' Association that the members at large of the International Union who are paying the freight are just as staunch in their determination to continue this fight, forced upon us for maintenance, of the right to organize and collective bargaining and that we are just as ready and willing, aye, even anxious to pay assessments necessary to do so, as we were the day this onslaught was made upon the right of the workers to organize for self protection.

The courage and fighting spirit of the Tampa strikers challenges the admiration of all loyal, real Union men and women and their name is legion in the International Union.

All honor and credit to the Tampa strikers for their heroic sacrifice in the present long drawn out strike.

They deserve to win and they will win.

No form of organization could have carried forward the Tampa strike and met all financial obligations without a reserve fund and the assessment plan.

The Tampa strike in 25 weeks has cost far more in strike benefits than the other beneficial features all combined cost in the year 1919.

Suppose we had only a strike benefit organization with no other beneficial features, how many would have dropped out to avoid paying the assessment, knowing they could have come back at any time and without the loss of time in benefits or the benefits themselves.

Whether some like it or not, the beneficial features of the International Union are among its sustaining features and helps to make the organization staple and permanent.

In a frenzied appeal by circular letter to the membership to "Separate the funds," the Propaganda League takes Separationists issue with our editorial in Trying to the September Journal with Cover. the amendment offered by 383.

In their circular we are charged with distortion of the truth and worse. They charge that we have dragged in the question of "Physical test * * * as a bogey to scare the membership into voting against this amendment." Let us see by calm analysis of the proposed amendment whether this is a "bogey" or an absolute truth. The amendment says, first, "Ninety days after the adoption of this section, sections 134 to 142, inclusive and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to sick benefits and sections 143 to 149, inclusive, and all laws or parts thereof pertaining to death benefits shall be stricken from the Constitution."

There can be no doubt in the mind of any member as to what this means. It is plain and convincing proof that all laws pertaining to benefits will be null and void 90 days after the adoption of the Amendment. This means also that whatever protection may be provided under the further provisions of the Amendment must come as a new proposal from the committee of 10. Now let us proceed to the last paragraph of the Amendment where we find "The International President shall, after the reorganization has been completed, pay into the treasury of the new organization the sum of $4.00 per capita for each member in said organization. * * *

This portion of the Amendment is also clear and we direct your attention to the admission contained therein that it is a new organization. What else could it be? The old organization, in so far as benefits are concerned, is as dead as legislation can possibly make it.

The circular says first, "No physical tests are necessary for any member that is now within the organization." We are sure the membership can see that this statement is misleading from the very fact that we would have no organization left in so far as fraternal features are concerned. You would have nullified the law that provides benefits so it naturally follows that no one can belong to something that no longer exists. The very next statement contained in the circular is one of the very few that are correct. It is—"The physical test would apply to new members only." Now remember that the Amendment admits that the proposed organization is "new" and intends to finance it as such so just how the propagandists can claim that any member could come into a new organization in any other way than as new member (and thereby amenable to the physical test), is beyond the reasoning power of any one who is accentuated with a desire to know the truth in the matter, and we leave it to the good judgment of the membership as to who is injecting a "bogey" or a bogus argument into the case.

As an example of the misinformation disseminated by the Propaganda League we call your attention to the following statement, in a recent circular letter. "There are only two plans possible under existing fraternal insurance laws. * * * * The law allows a Step Rate Plan, or the Equal Payment Premium Plan * * * *"

The truth is that the Knights of Pythias alone have not less than four distinct plans which are further subdivided into three or four more through the injection of special features. The four main plans are: (a) Straight Life, (b) 20 Payment Plan, (c) Step Rate, (d) Term Insurance. The Modern Woodmen have not less than three separate plans. The Maccabees have some three or four and so on through the many fraternal insurance societies.

Many of you belong to fraternal insurance societies and know that any statement that there are but two plans under existing fraternal insurance laws is incorrect. We should like each of you who are affiliated with fraternal insurance organizations to investigate for yourselves the laws under which your particular society holds charter and we believe you will then be in a position to determine whether the propagandists are as wise in fraternal insurance law as they would lead you to believe.

Agents, organizers, and steering committees are visiting cigar centers agitating for their particular brand of Dual Unions. dual union.

A committee claiming to represent the N. Y. dual movement as well as another committee from the Tampa strike-breaking "Sociedad de Torcedoros" have recently visited Chicago.

Agitation of this kind costs money. Traveling expenses as well as wages must be found to further the activities of these usually self-appointed "leaders." Just who is paying the bills is problematical and open to suspicion but in view of the service these agents of disruption are rendering the Manufacturers Association if they are not on the payroll they are scabbing the job.

The aim of the so-called leaders of these various dual movements is plain to be seen and easily catalogued both as to remuneration and motive but for the workers, duped and misled, the ending has a more serious aspect. They are the ones that are injured where their hopes are for better things.

For their consideration we offer the following truth. Irrespective of the flaws you may pick in our organization it is, has been and will continue to be the one factor that makes your condition endurable. All that you may enjoy in the way of higher wages, shorter hours and better shop conditions has been made possible by the consistent agitation waged by the C. M. I. U.

Based on this indisputable fact it must follow that the hope of the unorganized cigar-worker lies within the regular recognized union of his craft rather than within a dual union that has for its purpose the disruption of the very thing that is your proven benefactor.

You may not agree with our present laws, there are some of us who do not in their entirety, but you can not change the law by remaining outside our household and making faces.

Had all of those who went on strike during the year 1919 joined the International Union they could have gone into the Cleveland Convention and made our organization just what they claim to want it to be.

Our doors are open. Become one of us and then arrange the furniture to suit yourselves.

Read what the editor of a paper issued by the Propagandists, who is an extreme radical, has to say about his Expert radical comrades:

Testimony. "We never had in mind to eliminate the radical comrades from our ranks. We believe that everybody is sincere. All our fellow workers, we think, are desirous of creating harmony and do constructive work. If we disagree with our radical comrades once in a while it is because we maintain that most of the time they ignored the principles of logic and reason and we want them to apply these high principles in all affairs concerning the welfare of the workers.

"We have established what is really a free organization, free debate, free speech.

All our discussion and conclusions are based in the free determination of the will of the people. For we believe in free, open discussion.

"But at the same time we request from our radical comrades that if they know how to destroy a great deal that they should know how to be constructive once in a while.

"Be constructive, be conscious and have common sense."

The old adage, "Divide and Conquer," which was so successfully used by hostile employees ever since the Divide and Conquer. Trade Union Movement started, is as true today as ever, although not as effective.

Formerly manufacturers sought to divide us on religious and racial lines, and for a time were more or less, but never wholly, successful. This time-worn method is not now necessary in some instances, for the simple reason that the Propagandists and self-styled radicals are doing that part of the work for the employees.

In our own case, we have a set of hirelings who are scattering slanderous insinuations and false statements in a riotous effort to gain political advantage; to disrupt the International Union and to start dual organizations.

Like all efforts of the past, however, we are sure that their efforts will prove abortive, but no doubt is highly appreciated by the Manufacturers' Association at Tampa and other hostile manufacturers.

The Propagandists are applying the manufacturers' method to "Divide and Conquer."

The Propagandists are still circulating the false rumor that we are rapidly losing membership and trying to make it appear that the Malicious Propaganda. Union is on the point of collapse.

The real truth in the matter is known by each Local Union and every member thereof knows just how many members they have lost and they also know for just what cause. In a few places we have lost a few members, but it was not because of the International Union or any of its laws.

In a certain few places the action of the Local Union in connection with its bill of prices, its hire and fire laws have been the chief contributing causes to the falling off in membership and last, but not least, in some of the poorly organized districts the slanderous attacks upon the International Union and the false and malicious misstatements concerning its stability has influenced some of the deserters.

The Tampa strike, which was authorized by a practically unanimous vote of the membership at large, has caused the levy of assessments which has been seized upon by some as an excuse for quitting the Union.

There is no such word as "FAIL" in the real Union's man's vocabulary; all such are found with their shoulder to the wheel, boosting, in a loyal, honest way to build up and strengthen the Union.

Forty years ago, when the successful attempt was being made to reorganize and build up the Union, there were plenty of weaklings and Propagandists who were saying, "It can't be done."

The dues at that time—'79 and '80—were 10 cents per week; in 1881 when the dues were raised to 15 cents, a cry went up, saying, "They won't pay"; it will destroy the growth of the Union; but we adopted the 15-cent due.

In 1882 the dues were raised to 20 cents per week and the same old prophesy was heard, but the membership kept on increasing.

In 1890, when the dues were increased to 25 cents, the dissenters were loud in their denunciations and prophesied that it would stifle the organization. The 25-cent per week went into effect and the Union lived on.

In 1897 the dues were increased to 30 cents per week with the same sing-song that it would destroy the Union and prevent others from joining, but the Union kept on in the even tenor of its way, and increasing membership.

Today, or forty years from the time when we first heard the cry, "It can't be done," it is being repeated; some of whom unmindful of, or not familiar with past history, may honestly believe what they say and hear; some say it because they do not know any better; some say it for propaganda purposes.

Despite what they said then and are saying now—the Union lived on and will continue to do so.

Where Local Unions are paying strict attention to purely Trade Union Methods and boosting the Union and its label, they are holding their own and actually gaining in membership.

Such Unions have faith in themselves and faith in the International Union. They are loyal to themselves, to their own best interests, as well as to the Union. They are not looking to increased dues, division of the funds, separation of the benefit system, or any other alibi as an excuse for dropping out of the Union, or for the purpose of slandering the Union or its officials.

The Deadly Parallel.

The Tampa Citizen, a labor paper endorsed by the Florida State Federation of Labor and the Tampa Central Trades and Labor Assembly in its issue of October first says:

To what extent are strike-breakers allowed to go in the possession and display of deadly firearms before they are considered in violation of law?

This is a question the Joint Advisory Board will seek to have answered by the courts in the trial of one Edwardo Barada, secretary of the manufacturers' non-union organization which has been styled the "Torcedores," who is working for and under the direction of the manufacturers as a general right-hand man in the fight to establish the non-union shop in the cigar industry of Tampa, and who during intervening periods works at the Berriman Bros. factory, on Eighteenth street between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues.

The cause of the investigation is brought about through the boisterous and bulldozing attitude of Barada upon the occasion of a visit to a coffee shop near the factory where he is employed Wednesday morning, when he, after standing before a mirror and arranging his toilet for some time in an effort to attract the attention of a number of bystanders and loiterers, withdrew from the bosom of his shirt a large and dangerous revolver, and after carefully and conscientiously displaying same, he placed it upon a table, and then pulling another revolver about the same size from his hip pocket, he placed it alongside the other, and quietly and calmly seated himself to a cup of coffee.

It was plain to be seen that the display of the revolvers was staged in a spirit of bluff and rowdiness and for the purpose of daring any would-be enemies to "knock a chip off his shoulders."

Some of the members of Union (Progressives) No. 527, Class A of Chicago, which has recently returned its Charter with the statement that all members except three had allowed themselves to become suspended from the International Union for non-payment of dues and assessments, were among our leading Propagandists.

This same (progressive) Union while affiliated with the International Union started sending assessments to the Torcedores, strike breaking Union of Tampa. After they were exposed and denounced for this action, they tried to cover their infamy by sending Secretary Muniz, of the J. A. B. of Tampa the following statement:

"It was after considering both sides, that the Executive Board of Local No. 527 recommended the reconsideration of the motion made July 26th, to the effect that the one dollar per member per week be sent to the Torcedores Union of Tampa."

Since they are now out of the International Union, we suppose they feel free to make their donations direct to the Torcedores. Any little contribution will help that progressive (?) Union to buy revolvers to shoot Union strikers.

This Union (progressive) No. 527, just before it deserted, in a circular, under date of September 16, 1920, said:

"All strikes were lost in the past—what hopes to win any struggles in the future?"

One of the self-suspended leaders in former Union No. 527, which has now turned its back on the International Union, while engaged in its desperate fight with the Tampa Manufacturers' Association, is a leading contributor to the Bulletin of the Cigar Makers' Propaganda League.

The Manufacturers' Association of Tampa and elsewhere claim that the strike is a failure and that the strikers are being misled by false leaders.

The Propagandists and the manufacturers are in harmony in their actions and statements. A man that fights the Union in times of peace is not necessarily viciously bad, but the fellow who knocks and lies about the Union and attempts to destroy confidence under any guise, while it is in a desperate fight with a powerful combination of employees, is a traitor to himself and his fellowmen.

The Propagandists are even right now industriously circulating a statement that this Union and that Union has lost members.

What would be thought of a man, or a number of men, who in the course of a fierce battle, raised the false cry of "Boys we are lost, Company A has quit, Company C has deserted, Company D is losing members?"

The International Union will continue its organization regardless of what open shop Non-Union manufacturers may say or do and moreover regardless of what little assistance and help may be given by the alleged Progressive radicals and Propagandists, within or without our own ranks.

There is no "easy way" in labor's struggle for better conditions. Freedom's rights come only as a result of organized effort directed through a centralized plan of procedure. Theories and short cuts while appealing in form have proven barren of results. Our full force and strength must be thrown behind our present organization. Improvement is always possible and he who helps to improve serves the workers, while he who decries and destroys helps the employer.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Forces of various kinds directed toward the disruption of organized labor have a powerful ally. He is an unscarred veteran of many industrial battles, unscarred from the fact that he is not a fighter and is never found on the firing line. His name is General Apathy and his number is legion.

Our organization is infested with a few such "Generals," loud in their condemnation, weak in their support and absolutely negligible in the efforts to improve.

Our system of laws enables us to become just what the membership desires.

To provide work, and thereby making its citizens self supporting, should be one of the functions of Government. In this particular our own Government is lame. We find a way to loan Europe millions of dollars without interest, which may be all right as a measure of world reconstruction, but we are slow to finance any plan that will provide work for our own citizens.

There apparently is approaching a period of slack times and even now thousands of men are idle through a slump in their own particular line. Especially is this true in the automobile industry.

Harold Lord Varney, who for several years was an active propagandist for the I. W. W., and who is certainly well acquainted with the intent of its leaders, declares that the paramount aim and ambition of the "Wobblies" is to destroy the A. F. of L.

While this is not news to the observant trades unionist, it does bear out our oft repeated charge that the I. W. W. and the O. B. U. are enemies, rather than friends, of Labor. Any force of whatever character that has for its aim disruption is, and should be considered the enemy of the man or woman who toils whether they are actually members of a union or not, for in the final analysis we know that organized Labor is the factor that makes the lot of the non-unionist more endurable.

Right thinking men and women should carefully consider the ultimate aim and intent of dual organizations before they join in singing their International Anthem, "Hallelujah I'm a Bum."

Organization is the fountain-head of Labor's hopes and aims. Labor, unorganized, is but an inert mass moving without heed or direction, becoming prey for the unscrupulous employer against whose organized power it is defenseless.

As a trade we are not organized to that extent that gives us the full measure of justice that is our due. Much remains to be done and much must be done before we may hope to enjoy the better things possible.

How best to accomplish organization is the problem that we must solve. That we have not solved it completely is no reason for saying, "It can't be done." That we have failed in the past to see certain conditions and to recognize certain facts is no reason that we should remain blind and continue a course of reckoning that does not include all of the angles in the case.

Any attempt to wholly organize our trade without taking cognizance of the team-work system and machinery will prove abortive insofar as general results are concerned. We can not hope to thoroughly organize so long as a part of the trade insists on protecting(?) themselves behind a wall of exclusion.

We must recognize Evolution and shape our plan of organization to provide for its forward movement. Unless we do this Evolution will proceed along other routes than ours and we will be only spectators as the procession passes by.

Self-appointed "Saviors" (usually under the leadership and guidance of well paid professional reformers) are persistent in their attempts to separate mankind from its recognized solace, tobacco.

Any movement of this kind is for the most part only an opportunity for restive men and women who have too much unoccupied time on their hands to indulge in some imaginary uplift work.

It is passing strange that we find many of those who during the war were actively engaged in backing "tobacco for the boys over there" funds now bewailing the injury tobacco is doing the human race. Just what reason they have for declaring a thing that was recognized as a benefit in war time now a menace is beyond the analysis of the average mind, but they are doing it.

If these people are really sincere in their desire to "Reform" why do they not exercise their energies toward accomplishing something that will really benefit mankind?

There are surely more fertile fields to till, if they are out for the purpose of doing good, than to spend their days and nights in decrying the use of tobacco which has never broken a home nor cracked an ambition.

We opine that the same energy directed toward an effort to improve the housing situation of our workers, the child labor laws, sanitary workshops or a thousand and one other recognized defects of our present-day civilization would in its general effect for the common good be worth far more than the banishment of tobacco from the face of the earth.

Labor Unions or What?

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce with its various state, city, and local branches has declared war on organized labor by issuing a decree intended to destroy the union shop.

Entrenched at present in temporary quarters in Washington, D. C., they are spending some two or three millions of dollars in the erection of a permanent home there and it will be from our National seat of Government that the coming war will be directed. The Wall Street Journal in a recent editorial said: "No law can prevent strikes. But law firmly enforced can prevent unions," so the selection of Washington, D. C., as their citadel no doubt has a motive behind it.

While we recognize the harm this organization is capable of doing Labor, organized and unorganized, in their attempt to consummate their unholy desires, we are in no way presuming that success will crown their efforts. However, let us visualize for a moment what might happen should such a reactionary step be taken by Capital.

First, let it be understood by this Autocracy of Greed that the Labor Movement as we know it was born of necessity and has been nourished on injustice and tyranny. We have been starved, beaten, shot and jailed by the same forces that now demand our annihilation and we have thrived on the diet. We have suffered and marched on smiling but we have not forgotten a single abuse heaped upon us. Our treasuries have been depleted and our individual membership dented but our spirit has ever remained above par. The inherent justice of collective bargaining is too plain a principle of right to succumb to any attempt on the part of self-appointed Czars and Kaisers who may hope to strangle it.

Organized labor, after all, is the ruler of our destinies. Shall that ruler be awayed by emotion or shall it be controlled by calm judgment? Shall it blindly follow passion's dictates or shall it with seeing eyes and measured tread follow a course mapped out by careful judgment?

The spirit and the voice of Labor is now expressed through the orderly, constructive channels of the A. F. of L. Destroy the A. F. of L. by destroying the union shop and you have destroyed the safety-valve on the seething caldron of men's hopes, aims and ambitions.

Europe, especially Italy, should afford a picture well worth the scrutiny of Organized Capital and we trust enough sanity remains among our captains of industry to counsel against a plan that if carried out as announced means, Labor Unions or What? with Hades to pay in the attempted transition.

Correspondence

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 14, 1920.

G. W. Perkins,

Monon Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Today after six months on strike, four thousand strikers in most enthusiastic meeting, unanimously decided to continue strike as long as necessary, until recognition of our Union is won. We assure you International assistance is not in vain.

(Signed) JOS. M. MUNIZ,

Sec'y.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 15, 1920.

Mr. Jose M. Muniz, Sec'y J. A. B.,
Box 133, Ybor Sta., Tampa, Fla.

Dear Sir: I am enclosing for your information and perusal an editorial which will be published in the forthcoming issue of the Official Journal.

In addition to what I say in the editorial, permit me to say through you to the strikers, that their heroic attitude and sacrifice in this fight against their right to organize and maintain collective bargaining, has my profound admiration and I congratulate them upon their magnificent stand.

I know the sufferings they have endured and are enduring. I know the sacrifices they are making and I feel keenly for them and their families.

With the assurance of good wishes and the solid backing of the International Union, I am,

G. W. PERKINS,
Int. Pres.

October, 1920.

Dear Sir and Brother: The "Open Shoppers" as represented by the National Chamber of Commerce, through a referendum vote taken by that organization, have served notice on the Trade Union Movement that they are opposed to and intend to destroy all forms of industrial democracy as represented by the trade agreement.

This challenge to the exercise of fundamental rights can not be ignored by the workers, and the best way to meet it is by a concerted and united movement where each union in affiliation to the American Federation of Labor can use its purchasing power to help every other Union.

The organized workers of this country receive more than $5,000,000,000 each year in wages, and despite the fact that this vast amount of money comes to us through organized effort, a large portion of it is spent for the commodities made and sold by our avowed enemies, thus giving them financial aid to continue their hostility to us.

All this must be changed and every Trades Unionist must learn that the most effective way to hit back at our enemies is through their pockets. This can be done very easily when we confine our purchases to Union Labeled Goods only from stores and shops where Shop Cards or Working Buttons are used.

The Union Label, Shop Card and Working Button are the hall marks of industrial freedom and democracy. Given the support which is justly theirs, there is no more potent weapon that can be utilized to maintain and improve the social and economic standards of the workers.

Join the ranks of the live ones! Line up and be counted with all real Trades Unionists who refuse to spend money earned under union conditions for anything not made or sold under union conditions.

Be true to yourself and your brother unions by giving preference to the Union Label, Shop Card and Working Button of his craft, and at the same time deal an effective blow at the pocketbook of those who are seeking to destroy your working conditions and the Union through which they were secured.

With best wishes, I am,

JOHN J. MANNING,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Union Label Trades Department.

REPORTS OF ORGANIZERS.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 2, 1920.

The situation in Tampa remains about the same as noted in my last report. I am in daily conference with the J. A. B. and have attended various meetings of citizens who are trying to bring about a settlement of the strike. The manufacturers are making use of the daily press to place their cause in a favorable light before the public, but the J. A. B. is on the job, meeting their every attack. Our ranks are standing firm and the members declare that they will stay out indefinitely in order to win. While there are many rumors afloat throughout the country claiming that a large number have deserted the union and gone back to work, yet this is not borne out by facts, and is being spread broadcast by our enemies in order to discredit our union and its efforts.

Legal proceedings have been instituted in the Supreme Court of Florida seeking the dissolution of the cigar manufacturers' combination, and the outcome of this case is causing widespread interest not alone amongst our members but the public in general. The strikers are as firm today as they were the day they went out. Not ten members have gone back to work.

Fraternally yours,

SOL. SONTHEIMER,
Organizer.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 4, 1920.

Since my last report I have been engaged principally in Hamilton and Windsor. In Hamilton I assisted a committee of our local in the label campaign by making addresses at various union meetings, visiting cigar stores and dealers; also assisted in the distribution of advertising matter, which I believe will bring about a healthy demand for union label cigars.

At Windsor I attended the convention of the Dominion Trades Congress, also visited cigar stores and dealers and addressed a number of local unions in the interest of our craft. If our locals will continue this plan of boosting the union label good results will be obtained.

Fraternally,

JAS. A. SULLIVAN,
General Organizer.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 2, 1920.

In submitting this report I desire to state that the greater part of my work has been the adjusting of differences between the members and the shops in which they are employed regarding the payment on certain classes of work, etc. Attended a number of organization meetings at several shops and believe good results will be obtained. Had a conference with the president of the Women's Trade Union League in reference to organizing the women in our trade and was promised the hearty co-operation of this organization. Here and there I find some of our members complaining about the number of assessments levied, but after explaining the reason for the assessments at this time most of those complaining appear to be satisfied. This is hardly a proper time to complain, as we are face to face with extraordinary conditions, such as the Tampa strike, for instance. These men and women involved in this struggle are making a heroic fight for the maintenance of our organization and it is our duty to give them the support to which they are entitled. Their fight is ours, and it must be won, and with the proper support they will be victorious.

Fraternally,

MAURICE SIMONS,
General Organizer.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 1, 1920.

This city is one of the stogie centers and I find that stogie makers are in demand, some of the manufacturers being unable to fill their orders. There appears to be a slowing up in other lines of industry, but as yet this has had no effect upon our trade in this vicinity. At Bethesda, O., I attended meetings of our local. There is a possibility of adding a number of new members and the organization of several shops and I have been working with that end in view. Also assisted the officers of the union in conducting the business in accordance with the constitution. At Rochester, N. Y., I found trade good with jobs open. I visited cigar stores in the interest of our label and attended meeting of Union No. 5. They are doing some label agitation, but in order to be successful it must be done continuously. In Albany, N. Y., I found a healthy demand for union label cigars. Attended meeting of Central Labor Union and spoke on the labor movement in general. Also addressed a meeting of striking tailors and other local unions and visited various cigar stores in the interest of the label. At Syracuse, N. Y., trade is good. A number of former cigarmakers are coming back to the trade and the same can be said of Buffalo, N. Y.

Fraternally,
W. M. A. McCABE,
General Organizer.

Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 3, 1920.

In this section of the country there is a good field for organization work, but requires constant effort in order to be successful. At Shenandoah a reduction of $1 per M has been made and another reduction is contemplated. It remains to be seen if the cigarmakers will submit to this without a protest. Pottsville local is struggling along, due to a lack of interest in union affairs, which is also true of Reading. At Lancaster I attended the meeting of our local and also spoke at the Central Labor Union meeting. Lock Haven and Williamsport locals are not as active in union affairs as they should be and as a result our interests are suffering to some extent. At Warren our members secured an increase in the bill of prices, while Corry showed no improvement since my last visit. At Erie I attended a meeting of executive board and met a number of our members; spoke to them upon the importance of making greater efforts in behalf of the union label, etc., among the fifty different labor unions in this city. I also visited Allentown, Lebanon, Harrisburg, Manheim, York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Yours fraternally,

J. P. KEENEN,
General Organizer.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 2, 1920.

I have continued my efforts in this city. I addressed meetings of the Metal Trades' Council, Label League and Central Trades' Council concerning the Tampa strike and the necessity of union men demanding union made goods. An effort is being made to organize the female workers in our trade and the J. A. B. will hold a number of organization meetings and I expect to see good results, as the members here seem to think that an active campaign for organization is necessary to combat the efforts of the large employers of the various crafts in trying to force upon the employees the open shop principle in the south. The fight at Tampa is a part of this plan and our members should make every effort to defeat this plan, the open shop idea, which every union knows is but a plan to disrupt the American labor movement. The only way to defeat this plan of disruption is to maintain our organization by paying all dues and assessments promptly so that the members who are now fighting for the principle of trades unionism, may receive the support which is necessary to win.

Fraternally submitted,
HENRY M. HEIDT,
Organizer.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 3, 1920.

Since my last report to you I examined the label accounts of Unions 28, Westfield; 42, Hartford; 299, Middletown; 484, Meriden; 321, New Britain, and 39, New Haven, and spoke at regular and special meetings at above named unions; also addressed regular meeting of the Metal Trades' Council of New Haven. At Washington I attended a conference at the conclusion of which I proceeded to Jacksonville, Fla., as per instructions, where I assisted in straightening out some financial difficulty and instructed the new officers in their duties. Attended meeting of Union 248; also addressed meeting of Central Trades and Labor Council and other unions in the interest of our label.

Yours fraternally,

J. E. FARRELL,
Organizer.

REPORT OF INTERNATIONAL FINANCIER.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 4, 1920.

Since last report I have examined the accounts of the following unions:

No. 14, Chicago, Ill.

The books here so far as figures are concerned are accurate. The amount due to International Union on examination is illegal sick benefit. There has been an unusual mix-up in the J. A. B. accounts; as a result, hard feelings. Too bad, but many of the records necessary to unravel the tangle are missing—both of Union No. 14 and the J. A. B. As a result the examination is not as I would like to have it, but is the best the records will permit. Statement as follows: Financier's balance for Sept. 1, 1917..$ 6,440.86 Receipts to June 1, 1920..... 91,232.98 Expended over percentage in 1918..... 231.63 Due to International Union on this examination 122.10

Possible International fund shortage of ex-Sec'y N. F. Lentz..... 2,203.55

Deficiency of union in International funds$3,364.40

Ex-Sec'y Lentz claims he never received proper credit in local accounts of Union 14 for an amount turned over to the J. A. B. for which he holds a receipt dated May 13, 1915, amounting to $4,438.38. Various officers and ex-officials helped me try to locate records of either the J. A. B. or Union 14 that would cover the date mentioned, May, 1915. We could not find them—made it impossible for me to render a statement that would determine if this voucher is of any value now. If these records are ever recovered we may find out who was guilty of either hiding or destroying and clear up the whole thing that is making a lot of trouble.

No. 15, Chicago, Ill.

The books and accounts here are in good order, funds in bank and a separate account for International, J. A. B. and local accounts. Small surplus of stamps and cash.

 No. 217, South Chicago, Ill.

The books and accounts here would be in much better condition if some of the members would get the stamps they pay for, then put them in their due books, where they belong. Some day somebody will have trouble because of this. The secretary and treasurer report the business fairly and honestly. This local should have an increase in membership now. Trade looks better in South Chicago—to me—than it ever did before.

No. 227, Chicago, Ill.

The books and accounts here are in very fair order. Quite a few of the members do not take stamps bought. As a result there appears to be a surplus. These stamps must either be given to members who bought them or reported on hand. The deficiency is because of an error in reporting funds on hand for Aug. 1, 1917, and I am told it will be corrected at once.

 No. 3-3, Chicago, Ill.

The books and accounts of this union are in very fair condition at this time—better than usual. The unusual amount of money in possession of the secretary was because of a correction in the accounts.

The books and accounts here are in better condition now than I ever found them in before. An honest effort has been made to have this union's business conducted along business lines and the secretary has succeeded very nicely.

No. 447, Kenosha, Wis.

The books and accounts here are in better condition than I ever found them in before. The only fault is that the ledger has not very recently been indexed—other than this they are fine.

OFFICIAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

G. W. PERKINS, President.

Monon Building, Chicago.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, 318 W. 51st St., New York City, First Vice President.

L. P. HOFFMAN, 729 N. Diamond St., Jacksonville, Ill., Second Vice President.

A. GARIEPLY, 239 Ave. Hotel De Ville, Montreal, Canada, Third Vice President.

JOHN REICHERT, Brisbane Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., Fourth Vice President.

E. G. HALL, 4124 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn., Fifth Vice President.

E. J. STACK, 412 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland, Ore., Sixth Vice President.

CHAS. H. STEVENS, 1530 Railway Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., Seventh Vice President.

GIBSON WEBER, 1710 N. Gratz St., Station C, Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer.

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 50c to the 40c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

Section 131 distinctly and plainly states: "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to be insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

The International Union will not authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members, secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 145, give full record of membership, as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 141c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 140c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there is no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

Official Notice.

In compliance with Section 180 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 50c, to replenish the General Fund, on each sixty-cent, forty-cent and thirty-cent member.

This assessment takes the place of the $1.00 assessment, which is discontinued Sept. 25.

LETTER BOX

Note—Letters remaining uncalled for at the office after being advertised in the Journal for one issue must be returned to carrier of Chicago postoffice by order of Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C.

Returned the following to Postoffice Department since the last issue of the Journal: None. Union 206, North Adams, Mass., for John Kennedy, from Springfield, Mass.

International Office—Earnest Boege.

Union 447, Kenosha, Wis., for Harry Beyers.

Union 325, Spokane, Wash., for John P. Courtney.

111, Des Moines, Ia., card for E. Bearer, 20, Decatur, Ill., for Jerry Sheely.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

George Ponto appealed against No. 139, Long Hill, reference time for putting its new bill of prices into effect. The appeal was not sustained.

George Haycock appealed against No. 146, New Brunswick, reference packer who was not a member of the union. The appeal was sustained.

No. 282, Bridgeport, appealed against No. 139, Long Hill, for permitting the journeymen to brand their cigars. The union replied that this action was by and with the consent of the union, which had ruled that it was an included part of the compensation for making cigars. This being a purely local matter, the appeal was not sustained.

Meyer Wittenboun appealed against Union No. 4, Cincinnati, for fining him for working below the bill of prices. Mr. Wittenboun strongly denies this. The decision is that he be given a new trial.

Henry Theobald appealed against No. 4, Cincinnati, for fining him $10.00 for the offense of making a remark which caused the discharge of a member. Mr. Theobald strongly denies that he did anything of the kind; that he did not know that the boss or anyone else heard any remarks that he made in the shop. The appeal was sustained.

A. R. Ulrich appealed against No. 250, Belleville, for declaring him on the 90-day list. The member shows that he sent check in time to pay his dues which became lost in the mails. The appeal was sustained.

Hub Cigar Manufacturing Company appealed against Joint Unions of St. Louis for forcing them to reinstate two members who were discharged without cause, and to pay time lost by members who were discharged. That part of the appeal against the Joint Unions for holding that the members who were discharged without cause should be re-employed was not sustained. The part telling the firm to pay lost time for the members is sustained.

Mrs. Bridget Devitt, appealed against No. 218, Binghamton, for suspending her for non-payment of dues. The appeal was not sustained.

Mr. Ed. Jericho appealed against Union No. 41, Aurora, for suspending him. The appeal was not sustained.

Mr. Sig. Rottenstein appealed against No. 48, Toledo, for holding that W. J. O'Connor had bought two twenty-cent assessment stamps while his, Secretary Rottenstein's, books showed that he only bought one. O'Connor submitted his due books showing that he had the full number of stamps. Since the dates on the stamps were mutilated, it is difficult to show just who is right in this matter. Since the union holds that he really paid for the stamps and had them in his book, this office is unable to determine who is right in the matter. For that reason the appeal was not sustained. This, however, implies no prejudice against the Financial Secretary, who we believe was absolutely conscientious in what he has said and done in this connection.

INTERNATIONAL FINES

The International Executive Board approved the application of 407, Norwich, to fine Alfred Guilbeault, 46491, $50 for working for the Conn. Trolley Co., which is an unfair road. Vote: Affirmative—6; one member favored $25.

Approved the application of 3, Paterson, to fine David Oldham $25 for conduct unbecoming a union man. Vote: Affirmative—7, one member voted no on the fine.

Approved application of 4, Cincinnati, to fine Wm. H. Theler, 19718, $100 and annul his card for quitting a union job making cigars and taking a job in a machine shop as a strike breaker. Vote: Affirmative—3; negative—0.

Approved the application of 462, Tampa, to fine Gustavo Xiquis, 14876, $100 for strike breaking in the El Sidelco factory. Affirmative—5, one member approved $50.

Approved the application of 24, Muskegon, to fine Paul Medema, 38495, and Charles M. Black, 37380, $100 each for working in the closed shop of F. Jiroch. Vote: Affirmative—5, one member approved $50.

Approved the application of 153, Sioux Falls, to fine H. C. Geiger, 30843, $50 for running a non-union factory. Vote: Affirmative—6; negative—0.

Approved the application of 220, New Orleans, to fine Manuel Fastina $25 for working in a strike shop; and to fine L. Raphael $50 for acting as foreman and soliciting cigar makers to help break the Tampa strike. Vote: Affirmative—6; negative—0.

Approved the application of 47, Quincy, to fine Frank Mumme $25 for going to work in a factory where the foundry helpers and laborers are on strike. Vote: Affirmative—6; negative—0.

Approved the application of 205, Battle Creek, to suspend Charles Unger, 24311, $50 for working in non-union shops. Vote: Affirmative—6; negative—0.

Approved the application of 3, Paterson, to fine T. Quinn, 103652, $25 for trying to get one of our manufacturers to run a non-union shop, and other conduct unbecoming a union man. Vote: Affirmative—6; negative—0.

Approved the application of 54, Evansville, to fine A. Null, Wm. Kennedy, 62353; Charles K. McDonnal, 16323, and Frank Allis, 1228, each $50 for operating an unfair cigar shop. Vote: Affirmative—5; negative—0.

Approved the application of 113 Tacoma to suspend A. M. Sonntag, 87416, and fine him $25 for working in a strike shop. Vote: Affirmative—6; negative—0.

Approved the application of 292 Brooklyn, N. Y., to suspend J. M. Brown, 95759, and fine him $50 for working in the strike shop of the Central Cigar Company. Vote: Affirmative—5, one member disapproved the suspension.

Fines of $10 or Less.

Union 22, Detroit, Mich., fined Mary Grabowski, 58022, $10 for going to work in Swift's strike shop.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments together. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment that you wish to endorse.)

The amendment of 129, Denver, as published in the August issue, as follows: That a $1.00 weekly assessment be levied on all 60c and 30c members in aid of the Tampa strike.

Received the endorsement of Union 44, St. Louis.

Not having received the required number of endorsements it can not be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of 3, Paterson, as published in the September issue, as follows:

Local No. 3, Paterson, wish to submit the following amendment:

Strike out Section 56 and insert the following section, to read:

That all organizers and suborganizers and label agitators be called off for one year. After the adoption of the amendment, and after one year it must be left to popular vote of all local unions and a majority must decide to replace them.

Received the endorsement of 218, Binghamton; 129, Denver; 90, New York; 402, Quaker-town; 118, Peoria; 126, Ephrata; 274, Pekin; 16, Binghamton; 201, Rock Island; 353, Brooklyn; 49, Springfield; 99, Ottawa; 154, Lincoln; 54, Evansville; 38, Springfield; 69, Three Rivers; 8, Hoboken; 228, San Francisco; 429, Niagara Falls.

The amendment of 129, Denver, Colo., as published in the September issue, as follows:

On or before December 31, 1920, all local unions having less than 25 members, and located within a radius of 200 miles of a local of 25 or more members, shall be dissolved and all property and funds turned over to International office or as the International President may direct to deposit same. The members shall deposit cards with nearest local. In case of dispute of nearest local, the International President shall decide. Each locality where no local exists and has union shop shall have a town collector, who shall receive five cents a week from each member, and shall transact the shop collector's duties. He shall keep on hand twenty dollars' worth of dues and assessment stamps at all times, which shall be mailed to him on credit by secretary of jurisdiction local. Town collector to be elected annually or appointed by secretary if members fail to elect.

The town collector shall receive applications for membership, retiring cards, etc., and forward same to secretary. In each case a fee of 10c shall be paid by member to shop collector. All sick, death, out-of-work and strike cases shall be reported by town collector to secretary of jurisdiction, and a fee of 10c in each case shall be paid by the jurisdiction local to town collector.

In localities where no local exists, seven members may organize a new local as provided in the constitution, but shall dissolve at the expiration of one year. If the membership does not reach 25; such dissolution shall be in manner as provided above.

All constitutional provisions not in accord with this amendment are hereby declared void, or shall be changed by International President in such manner as to harmonize with this amendment.

Received the endorsement of Unions 41, Aurora; 218, Binghamton; 32, Louisville; 38, Springfield; 228, San Francisco.

Union No. 14 of Chicago offers the following amendment:

Strike out Section 144 and insert the following:

In the event of the death of a member entitled to one hundred and twenty-five dollars, and said member not having any person to take charge of his remains, the President of the local union shall take charge of the same and provide for a decent burial, the expense not to exceed one hundred and twenty-five dollars. If the deceased was entitled to two hundred and seventy-five dollars or more, a sum not to exceed one hundred and seventy-five dollars may be expended in like manner.

Union No. 218, Binghamton, offers the following amendment to Section 150 of our constitution:

Amend Section 150 by striking out on line 20 the figures "$9.00" and insert the figures "10.00"; and on line 23, strike out the figures

"$10.00" and insert the figures "$11.00," the section as amended to read:

But in no case shall the union label be used in a factory in the United States or Canada which pays less than $10.00 per thousand for mould work, or less than $11.00 per thousand for hand work.

UNION NOTES

Local Union No. 33, Indianapolis, Ind., wishes to thank the following locals for donations in aid of our strike:

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149, inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 326, Taunton, Mass. Joseph J. Rose, 111565.

Union 129, Denver, Colo. Frank Virella, 7356, who died September 11.

According to a recent report of the Insular Bureau, the Philippines exported 392,339,462 cigars during the year 1919, of which number the States received 263,942,555.

A branch factory operated in New Orleans by A. Santailla & Co. since the inception of the Tampa strike was closed by the firm on August 23. The reason given, according to The Tobacco Leaf, was that the class of labor available was not equal to the making of their Optimo cigar.

Through a circular letter we learn that at last cigar workers are to attain emancipation through applied

Scientific (?) science.

Unionism. A part of Class A Local 527, Chicago, who recently turned in their charter because as one member put it. "The members of Progressive Local 527 refuse to pay the $1.00 per week Tampa assessment," have organized this latest dual movement which is described as "An industrial organization based on scientific lines" and known as The Amalgamated Cigar-Tobacco Workers' Union.

Just what new science they are going to apply is not made clear. However, it must be of a very potent nature as it must necessarily overthrow the regularly applied calculations of mathematics, that we, who have not beheld the new vision, must use in our every day affairs. The only conclusion our arithmetic reaches is that if a group of workers, organized for self protection and mutual welfare, agree to pay to a part of their membership on strike to further their well being $5.00 per week in strike benefits that part of the group not on strike and working must provide an amount of money sufficient to meet the weekly payments.

This is just what these self-styled scientists refuse to do. Instead of accepting the four square principle of solidarity they refuse to contribute their individual share of the expense and dissolve their local to form a more scientific (?) one.

They also claim "The action of Perkins, the work of the delegates at our late convention, makes it impossible for any self-respecting member of the working class to remain a member of the old union."

We shall not comment on any action of

Perkins, but the work of the delegates at the last convention seemed to have met the approval of the vast majority of the membership, although they be void of self-respect in the eyes of the Benedict Arnolds who now desert the cause rather than pay to help legitimate organization work and to further the principle of collective bargaining.

To show just where this scientific, dual bunch of disruptionists stand on the Tampa matter we refer to the following statements taken from a letter to the J. A. B., Tampa, under date of August 26, 1920: "We wish it clearly understood that we do not condemn the Torcedores for their position . . . because the evidence, if it be such, does not prove anything against them in the many charges made by the J. A. B." (Referring to the charges made by J. A. B., Tampa.) "If the C. M. I. U. were organized right then it would be different. But as it is who is it that can successfully defend such an organization?" Who, indeed, can NOT defend the C. M. I. U. which is paying each week the regular lawful strike benefit and which by almost unanimous vote recently taken agreed to continue paying the maximum of benefit until the termination of the strike? We leave it to the membership to judge as to whether we can defend our union, which is doing these things, against a newly hatched, dual organization who openly declare their sympathies lie with the strike-breaking Torcedores who are helping to make the struggle for unionism in Tampa so much the harder.

Let us analyze, also, the relationship of the Amalgamated Cigar-Tobacco Workers and the Torcedores as to their declaration of principle. It will be remembered that in a manifesto issued by the Torcedores De Tampa they declared for the principle of "Open Shop," stating, in substance, that they did not intend to become a part of the C. M. I. U. but demanded the right to work in the shops we were endeavoring to organize. Now we find the Amalgamated Cigar Tobacco Workers in their circular letter demanding of Chicago that their members be allowed to work in International shops. In other words they ask us in each instance to make our shops open to the membership of absolutely dual organizations whose open declaration is that "The C. M. I. U. is no good" and whose aim is disruption.

It can be safely said that whatever may be lacking in the newly organized dual union in the way of science is more than counterbalanced by a surplus of pure, unadulterated gall. We do not fear that the cigarmakers of either Tampa or Chicago will allow these demands to be met. Neither do we have any doubt as to the final disposition of the two dual organizations so closely allied in principle and so completely harmonized in spirit.

Chicago knows just about how large the dual movement will grow here and who will become a part of it. We know that the movement has a few sympathizers among the members of the International Union and while some of these have been bitterly assailed as double-crossers for not going into the movement at its inception we are watching closely their actions toward furthering the strength of this newly born offspring of the I. W. W. brand of unionism.

The incessant, never-ending wail of the chap who in fact is an emissary of disruption and a proponent of the Benefits. O. B. U. idea but who attempts to hide beneath the cloak of progressiveness is Taxes, Taxes, and more Taxes.

The right of taxation, in principle and fact, is based on the promotion of the general welfare. This principle is the groundwork of every government on the face of the earth, always has been, and in some form must forever remain.

Let us see how it applies in our own organization. From the revenue derived from taxes, against which the propagandists of disruption rail, we paid in 1919 $317,441.86 in death benefits. Will any honest critic decry the worthiness of furnishing life insurance at absolute cost? We paid in the same year $165,584.39 in sick benefits. Can any one who claims to be human justly object to a principle that succors the brother whose earnings, upon which his very existence is dependent, are curtailed by sickness?

We also paid in the year 1919 $285,387.92 in strike benefits, and have paid so far this year in the Tampa strike alone over $700,000. What principle of the general welfare is more worthy of attention, more entitled to support than the member who is willing to sacrifice his all that the banner of unionism may remain unsullied and the doctrine of collective bargaining be safeguarded?

These things we have done in the interests of the general welfare of our membership and these things we shall continue doing despite the slanderous attacks of the I. W. W. O. B. U. element in and out of our ranks who are at present using every known trick to disorganize us and further their own pet schemes.

The amendment of Union 129; Denver, Colorado, which should be termed "An attempt to legislate small unions out of existence," in part reads as follows:

More Destructive Legislation. "On or before December 31, 1920, all local unions having less than 25 members, and located within a radius of 200 miles of a local of 25 or more members, shall be dissolved and all property and funds turned over to International office or as the International President may direct to deposit same. The members shall deposit cards with nearest local. In case of dispute of nearest local, the International President shall decide. Each locality where no local exists and has union shop shall have a town collector, who shall receive five cents a week from each member, and shall transact the shop collector's duties. He shall keep on hand twenty dollars' worth of dues and assessment stamps at all times, which shall be mailed to him on credit by secretary of jurisdiction local. Town collector to be elected annually or appointed by secretary if members fail to elect."

A close-up view of this amendment discloses more than is shown on its surface. At the Cleveland convention a strenuous effort was made by certain delegates representing certain large unions to deprive the small local unions of the right of representation by delegates in the convention by compelling them to combine with the nearest sister unions. After a thorough and exhaustive debate all of these propositions were defeated by decisive majorities. What failed of accomplishment in the convention is now sought through this amendment under a new dress, which is a thousand times more destructive than the proposition that was defeated in the convention. Since they were unable to rob the small unions of representation in the convention they now seek by legislation to dissolve these unions. Simply because we have local unions in small towns, and consequently of twenty-five or less number, and for no other reason they are to be thrown out of existence and the members compelled to deposit their cards in the nearest sister union.

Destroy the unions in these small towns and you at once practically destroy label agitation and agitation of any kind and leave the field clear to be exploited by the trust, the General Cigar Company, and the other big non-union concerns. There is not one single constructive, trade union reason for the presentation or adoption of this piece of destructive legislation, and we defy the proponents to show to the contrary.

What is the purpose, fellow members? Think it over and draw your own conclusions. An attempt is being made to form a dual organization. Do these self-styled radicals and would-be destructionists want us to disband our loyal unions in these small towns and leave the field clear for the dual unionists?

The Paterson amendment, having received the required number of endorsements goes to popular vote. The Paterson Amendment. It reads as follows:

"Strike out Section 56 and insert the following section, to read:

"That all organizers and suborganizers and label agitators be called off for one year. After the adoption of the amendment, and after one year it must be left to popular vote of all local unions and a majority must decide to replace them."

We don't charge Union 3, Paterson, with intentionally playing into the hands of the open shoppers, the Chamber of Commerce, the avowed enemies of the trade-union movement, hostile manufacturers, and the O. B. U. dual union outfit, but their proposition does so regardless of what they meant.

We think that some of the local unions that seconded this amendment did not give it proper consideration. Much stress is laid on the cost of keeping the organizers in the field. The facts in this connection are that it cost the organization from September 1, 1919, to September 1, 1920, one year, the sum of 2½c per month per member to keep six organizers on the road, or a fraction over 33c per member per year. No member can truthfully say that this is extravagant or that the money is wasted. We are sure that no right-thinking member, who is square with his own conscience and the union, will knowingly for the trifling cost of 2½c per month dispense with the services of the organizers and in effect say to the open shop advocates, to the hostile manufacturers, to the autocratic employers of Tampa, the Chamber of Commerce, the secessionists, and dual unionists,—"We are going to lay off our organizers for one year, thereby giving you a clear field to work out your plan of destruction and to put into operation your open-shop policy."

Don't overlook the fact that the wonder workers have issued a call for the formation of a dual union. Are you going to give them a clear field in the process of organization by retiring your organizers for the period of one year and then, by law, providing that no organizer can be put to work again except a referendum vote so orders?

There is no one of the present organizers on the road that does not more than save his salary and expense by his helpfulness and experience in settling trade disputes. One of the organizers in a communication published in this issue shows where he saved the organization in one instance enough to pay the salaries and expense for all the organizers for one year, and at the same time the union got all that it asked for. This is only one instance of many where these men of knowledge, gained from experience, diplomatically bring the local warring elements together and effect an honorable settlement and thereby save the organization thousands and thousands of dollars.

The intelligent, constructive work of Organizer Martinez more than saves the International Union what it costs annually to pay a half dozen organizers.

In plain English, the adoption of this amendment would be in the interests of the open shoppers, hostile manufacturers, the O. B. U., and the dual organization outfit, and for that reason, if for no other, it should be defeated. Remember these are crucial times. A nation-wide effort is being made to establish the open shop, which means the non-union shop. The big interests with their millions of dollars are back of this drive. For this reason we should be adding organizers instead of dispensing with them. To dispense with the organizers during this crisis is equivalent to taking the crutch away from a cripple while he is crossing a crowded street.

Among the objections raised against the C. M. I. U. by those who do not (and Craft or Trade. would not under any circumstances) agree with our policies we note the claim that we are a "Craft Union." This objection, like many so far raised, falls to the ground lifeless under the scrutiny of truth. The facts are that we claim, and have been granted, jurisdiction "Over all persons engaged in the cigar and tobacco industry who are not entitled to be regularly affiliated with the A. F. of L. in some other organized industry." Were we a craft union our limitations would end with the organization of cigarmakers, while under our present plan of organization our doors are open to the stogie makers, the packer, the stripper, the selector, the bander, the caser, and in fact, to all those whose work in and around the shop who are not directly liable through the nature of their work to other regularly organized industries.

The fact that the self-styled radical propagandists are flooding our local unions with false, malicious statements, Destructionists slander, and misrepresentation of conditions fully proves and justifies our oft repeated statement that they are would be destructionists and that they are fighting the employers' battle, in an effort to cripple and if possible destroy the only Simon-pure genuine organization—the Cigar Makers' International Union, that has done so much and has been so helpful in raising wages, reducing hours of labor, relieving the sick and out of work, and burying the dead and caring for the loved ones left behind, and raising and maintaining the standards of life, and in short making the life of the cigarmakers better worth while living.

If the statement of this crew of wreckers (we refer only to the leaders) reference the number of unorganized in the trade were only half true (and it is not) there would be plenty of material for them to work upon for recruits for their dual organization, without going into the ranks of the International Union. The fact that they are making their big drive with their slanderous manifestos overloaded with falsehoods, misstatements, and misrepresentations, in the organized districts, proves conclusively that these people are destructionists and that they are playing right into the hands of the open-shop, Chamber of Commerce, and hostile manufacturers' associations.

We note the many and widely diverging accounts in various trade papers as to the number of workers who have Solidarity. returned to the Tampa factories. A careful and truthful survey shows that the actual number working is far less than is claimed by these papers, whose statements are no doubt compiled from figures furnished by the manufacturers.

We find that in five representative factories that prior to the strike employed 2,700 cigarmakers, packers and selectors there were employed on November 1, 1920, but 265 workers, and this includes all departments, apprentices and dependents.

This percentage will hold good for the entire Tampa situation and is without doubt the greatest manifestation of solidarity ever shown in any strike of such magnitude in our history. Here is held a brief for the C. M. I. U. that should forever shame the disruptionists and separatists who have so cunningly, yet so assiduously, attacked us during this time of trial. These unbroken ranks should prove to all cigar workers, in or out of the organization, that we are able to defend our position on the economic field.

You will find published in this issue of the Journal a table showing the result of the nominations of officers, and delegates to the American Federation of Labor, and a list of the eligible nominees for each office. This list is not complete. The law provides that the five receiving the greatest number of nominations shall be the eligible candidates. Should any of those on the eligible list decline those next highest will be eligible and they will be notified and their names published in the December Journal.

The Propagandists, self-styled progressives, have issued a call for a convention to be held in New York in December for the purpose of forming a dual organization, through which they hope, and expect, to accomplish the disorganization of the only simon-pure potential organization of cigarmakers we have in this country—The Cigar Makers International Union.

Business, big and little, daily recognizes the principle of what they term, when speaking of unionism, the "Closed Shop."

A manufacturer agrees to use a certain line of material in his product and draws a contract to that effect after agreeing on prices, terms, etc. The wholesaler or retailer agrees to handle a certain line or brand of goods and draws a contract covering the agreed stipulations. We find then that it is a matter of regular business to contract for a certain thing to the exclusion of other things of the same general kind. This policy is accepted and we hear no raving on the part of any one as to the divine right of the individual to sell his wares. In other words when Smith has a contract with Jones to handle his line exclusively Brown does not attempt to force his goods on Smith by either legislation or injunction. Just why differentiate when the contract calls for union labor?

The foundation of civilization is organization. Organization in its broader sense means co-operation or team work.

* * *

Savages did not practice team work. Each one supplied his own food, built his own shelter and was strictly an individualist. It was not until we began to co-operate that we find any trace of advancement. In the change from the individualist to co-operation we find the birth of civilization.

* * *

It is the co-operation of labor that supplies us with every necessity and comfort we enjoy. Organized effort makes our very existence possible, yet we find those who wish to revert to savagery by substituting the individualist regime again, holding that labor is a commodity and its purchase should be made in the open market and between employer and employe alone.

* * *

Bombs are not created from speeches but from conditions. The most rapid red orator could never arouse passion to the degree of bombing unless conditions in the mine, furnace or sweatshop were such as to prepare the soil for his sowing.

* * *

Inhumanity begets inhumanity. The treatment received by the worker reflects on his attitude toward society as a whole. Make it a hell on earth and we may expect violence in return.

* * *

Democracy in government will not suffice to curb the passions of men. We must have justice in industry as well in order to maintain the hoped for balance and insure domestic tranquillity.

* * *

We are informed through the press that "Farmers strike." The National Wheat Growers' Association of Kansas recently issued a proclamation to its 70,000 members asking them to refrain from selling the 96,000,000 bushels of wheat they control until such time as the price has reached a minimum of $3.00 per bushel. The same stand has been taken by other groups of producers in other locations and with regard to various products. We are awaiting with interest to note any action that may be taken by Judge Anderson or Governor Allen, for surely the public must be protected against this radical (?) element, the American farmer.

* * *

The I. W. W. in its propaganda says "Do not join the A. F. of L.; it loses its strikes." The propagandists say, "The international union has never won a strike." Such a similarity of language must be based on a common ground of thought and we feel safe in saying that it is the I. W. W.'s and O. B. U.'s who are guiding the present campaign of disruption.

Census officials state that for the first time in the history of this country more people now live in cities and towns than on the farms. The nation is no longer rural. Agriculture takes a second place in the number of people employed. To meet these changed conditions a general readjustment is necessary and is at the present time in progress.

On the Labor movement of today rests the responsibility of successfully consummating this readjustment to meet the requirements of the workers and to see that justice is their due. It is a time for sane reasoning and careful procedure. A misstep now means that not only the workers of today are injured, but those that are to follow will be placed into industry under unfavorable conditions and will have to do the things we should have done for them.

* * *

The National Industrial Conference Board, composed of manufacturers, recently conducted a nation-wide investigation of profit sharing, bonus, etc., and its report said, "Profit sharing is no panacea. It is no solution of the wage problem."

Labor leaders who have given these questions careful consideration during the past years have said the same thing many times and we feel that their conclusions as to the inadvisability of these many make-shift schemes will finally be accepted as facts.

So far no better solution of the wage problem has been offered than that of the A. F. of L. It is safe, sane and practical. It works to the advantage of the employer and the employee. It makes neither the employer nor the worker an autocrat and provides a means of collective bargaining that insures for both parties a square deal at all times.

The union shop is always "open." All that is asked of those who may secure employment therein is that they assume their proportionate share of the expense and responsibility of the organization, that is making the wage scale and the conditions under which they work. This they do by joining the union.

The non-union shop is always "closed" to union men and women. An applicant is usually subjected to an investigation that will lay bare any ideas he may have of unionism and if he is inclined to even favor organization he is not employed. If by chance he gains entrance to the shop the first intimation that he belongs to a labor union is cause for his dismissal.

A cardinal principle of capitalism and one that is being more generally applied from day to day is to never compete when you can co-operate.

Co-operation, too, is the basic foundation upon which has been built the fortifications of organized labor. However, in spite of the many lessons we have learned in the school of experience we find our own trade failing to co-operate.

The Tampa situation is but one illustration. There where the greatest battle we have had to fight in years is in progress, we find a dual organization inimical to the principle of collective bargaining, openly advocating the non-union shop, decrying the International Union which is making their future wages and conditions secure and doing all they can to break the solidarity of labor. To the shame of those who are sponsors for it, there are in other sections of the country cigarmakers advocating this dual organization and sending the collections weekly to further their work of disruption.

Among this class of renegades we find many who claim to be "Progressive" and who are forever shouting that we are a failure as an organization. It will be interesting to watch the development of their "progressive" organization under the leadership of such parasites as are now trying to break the Tampa strike.

* * *

Trades unionism must be first of all purely practical. Any procedure not grounded on sensible practicability will fail of its purpose. A theory may be seemingly perfect, but unless it will apply to the every-day, common-sense problems that we have to solve it is less than worthless. We are not yet living under conditions that will allow the idealist to follow fancy free his dreams of a perfect day and we are compelled to build and plan to meet conditions as they are. Adequate benefits are still an essential in trades organizations and will be until superceded and made unnecessary through some form of Governmental provision.

* * *

The Consolidated Cigar Company, which was a year old June 1, 1920, has increased its factories to thirty-one.

The report of the Tobacco Survey by the United States Tariff Commission may favor Government control of the industry on some plan similar to the prevailing fashion in certain European countries.

The July forecast just issued by the Department of Agriculture shows an estimated decrease, based on present crop conditions, of 1,200,000 pounds of cigar tobacco in Massachusetts and Connecticut, 3,000,000 pounds in Pennsylvania, 8,000,000 pounds in Ohio and 5,000,000 pounds in Wisconsin.

Domestic cigar exports for May totaled 13,362,000, as compared with 5,607,000 for the corresponding month of last year, an increase of 7,755,000.

The American Cigar Company has decided on Petoskey, Michigan, as a location for a new factory which they claim will employ from 250 to 600 people.

Leaf tobacco suitable for cigar wrappers held in bonded warehouses on June 30, 1920, amounted to 4,066,064 pounds, compared with 3,909,202 pounds in the same period last year, showing an increase of 156,862 pounds. All other leaf tobacco held in bonded warehouses at this time amounted to 74,011,498 pounds, compared with 50,642,920 pounds, an increase of 23,368,578 pounds.

The total amount of leaf tobacco held in bonded warehouses on June 30, 1920, was 78,077,562 pounds compared with 54,552,122 pounds, an increase of 23,525,440 pounds.

Cigar production in the Lancaster County, during the first seven months of the present year, according to the Internal Revenue office, is as follows:

January	22,081,740
February	19,220,183
March	24,993,980
April	20,552,950
May	21,551,730
June	21,880,400
July	19,499,925

The Internal Revenue Statement of the First District of Ohio for the month of July as compared with the same month in 1919 shows the following figures:

	Cigars.
	1919.	1920.
Class A	5,303,000	2,150,530
Class B	7,793,635	7,600,081

An experiment of a big English firm in allowing its employes to smoke for stated periods during the day should give some of the well known efficiency experts on this side of the water something to think about. Smoking is generally strictly prohibited in factories, especially those in which the nature of the work calls for steady labor, in the belief that time is saved.

A firm in Preston, England, which had been experimenting in allowing employes to smoke while at work, found the results so noticeable in making for increased output, that the scheme has been developed, and the workers are now allowed to smoke for an hour and a half morning and afternoon. This concession has resulted in a bigger factory production and greater contentment among the workers. Other factories are adopting similar rules.—Canadian Cigar and Tobacco Journal.

With the "purchasing power" in her pocket and the union label in her heart, woman reigns with the olive branch. She is mistress of the situation.

Correspondence

Statement by Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, Nov. 5, 1920.

The non-partisan political policy of the American Federation of Labor is more completely justified than ever and the futility of separate party action more convincingly demonstrated.

Every man in the House whose record of service was perfect has been re-elected.

Incomplete checking already shows that fifty congressmen who were inconsiderate and hostile have been defeated.

This is one of the most impressive features of the entire election. Fifty time servers have been beaten.

Against these fifty who were defeated the working people have elected from fifty-five to sixty men whose records show fair and considerate service.

This represents a clear grain for integrity in government.

The new Congress also will show an increased number of men who hold union cards. Incomplete checking up of the results so far shows fifteen elected to the new Congress with the probability that final counting will show more than twenty, possibly twenty-five.

It is not to be said that the election was satisfactory in every respect. Every forward looking man and woman must feel some deep regret because of the great plunge toward reaction. But democracy will right itself at the proper time and meanwhile the actual tabulation of results in Congress, the law-making body, shows a definite and specified gain for all that makes for progress and a response to the needs of our time.

The non-partisan campaign of the American Federation of Labor was primarily and most effectively a campaign in congressional districts. Its results were gained in the primaries and in the election. These results will serve as a constant reminder to all servants of special privilege and the ever-present and always impressive fact will be before the new Congress that fifty of the unfaithful and the hostile were defeated by the organized workers of our republic.

A notable American has said: "I would rather be right than be president." To be engaged in a righteous cause, to fight for freedom, for justice, for peace and human brotherhood, is of greater concern to the human family than is a passing success. The labor movement of America recognizes the tremendous struggle of the masses of the people in all history to obtain the right, and the setbacks they have often had to endure and the sacrifices they have had to make, decade by decade, cycle by cycle, in the march and the trend of the cause of freedom of America, forward, onward and upward.

Shortly the names of the men who have been fair and just and who have been re-elected and of those who have been unfair and antagonistic and defeated will be published by the American Federation of Labor.

Senator Harding has been elected president of the United States. He will be as much my president as of any other citizen in our country. In any way that the American Labor Movement, including myself, can be of service it will, of course, be our duty and our pleasure.

Boston, Oct. 30, 1920.

On March 6, 1920, 350 men employed at the Hallet & Davis Piano Company's factory in Neponset, Mass., were forced to go on strike to prevent a lockout.

This concern is at the present time operating their plant with scabs.

Thanking you for any assistance in our behalf, I am,

IVER B. RUNSTROM,
Secretary Local 30.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1, 1920.

Mr. G. W. Perkins, Int'l Pres.

Dear Sir & Bro.:

Please inform me when issuing out of work stamps if the regular out of work benefit cards, in duplicate, are to be filled out for each stamp issued, the same as when the old benefits were paid, or if any voucher has to be made out for the member to sign. Also are members registering out of work entitled to the 16-week privilege in dues and ass't according to Sec. 78, while drawing the out of work stamp.

Yours fraternally,

WM. RENTSCHLER, Sec'y.

Nov. 4, 1920.

Mr. Wm. Rentschler,

Sec'y Union 32,

Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I have yours reference out of work stamps. Members receiving out of work stamps under the amended law do not have to sign a voucher receipt card as formerly under the old law. You issue out of work stamps instead of paying out so much money. The out of work stamps are charged against your union and are so reported to this office and are checked up the same as any other stamps.

A member out of work is entitled to the sixteen-work privilege in dues and assessments even while drawing out of work stamps. The old rate of thirty cents in dues applies however, right up to August 1, and a member should not place the sixty-cent out of work stamp in his due book prior to August 1.

Yours fraternally,

G. W. Perkins,
Int. Pres.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 6, 1920.

The membership of Division 746 Amalgamated Associated of Street and Electric Railway Employees, after one of the most memorable and heroic struggles ever known in the annals of the many industrial controversies which have occurred in Colorado, have voted to call off their strike against the Denver Tramway Company and apply for their old positions as individuals without a trade union agreement.

This decision was only reached after all hope for a successful termination of the controversy has been lost. The members of organized labor of this state, and the entire country, have done most splendidly in giving their support to the men who were engaged in this struggle for industrial justice, but we have realized that there is a limit to all things and we have felt that we could not in justice ask for any further contribution when it was plain to us that success was impossible at this time.

However, at the present time we are sorry to have to inform the members of organized labor, and their friends, there is still need for financial assistance to defend the members of the Tramway Union, and other members of organized labor, against prosecution and persecution in the courts for their activity in carrying forward this struggle against the attempt of the foes of organized labor to fasten the so-called "OPEN SHOP" upon the workers of this country.

Send all money to the Colorado State Federation of Labor who will receipt for same, and submit an itemized report of all receipts and disbursements.

Fraternally yours,

J. C. BULGER, President,
Colorado State Federation of Labor.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 4, 1920.

Under the heading AMENDMENTS PROPOSED I note that Union No. 8, of Paterson, N. J., has proposed the following: Strike out Section 56 and insert the following: That all organizers and suborganizers, and label agitators be called off for one year. (In writing the following I have only one thought in mind, that is the welfare of our International union—no thought of myself personally, and I want the members to so consider it.)

In my judgment there never was a time when the membership of our union needed the advice and council of men acquainted with the movements and actions of the Manufacturers Associations in their effort to establish the open shop in our trade more than they do today, with two fights on at the present time, both against the open shop, one at Tampa and the other at Milwaukee. This amendment would ask you to withdraw your men from the field; this to my mind would be an actual surrender on our part, an invitation to the manufacturers to go as far as they like, "We will put up no fight against you."

I have heard some talk of the expense of organizers. Let me mention one case of many that I could mention. This one will suffice to explain what I wish to say: In Union 4 of Cincinnati some time ago about 600 of our members were on strike for a period of about three weeks at an expenditure of about ($3,000) three thousand dollars per week in strike benefits. The members of the union refused to ask for assistance, but the strike committee seeing the necessity of getting an outsider who could bring the contending parties together, sent to the International office for a man. An organizer was dispatched at once and in about two days a satisfactory settlement was effected. At the conclusion of the negotiations with the manufacturers the president of the association (a manufacturers association had been formed during the strike), asked to be allowed to say a few words, and this in substance is what he said: "It is too bad that the organizer could not have been here on the day that this strike started, if he had been we would not have had a strike, and the same settlement could have been made." The organizer answered: "And the International Union would not have had to spend nine thousand dollars in strike benefits so far and the Lord knows how many more thousands they would have to spend if he had not come. Members, think those matters over and do not be carried away with a penny wise and pound foolish proposition."

Yours fraternally,

J. E. FARRELL,
Organizer.

A. F. of L. News Letter.

The clothing industry in New York is about at a standstill because, according to manufacturers, of the failure of manufacturers and unions to negotiate a contract; 45,000 of the 60,000 workers on men's clothing are idle because of a shutdown of plants.—N. Y. Times, Nov. 4.

Radical changes in labor conditions under which men's clothing is manufactured will soon be announced by a joint committee of manufacturers and representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, says John J. Leary; tentative agreements insure a reduction of 35 per cent in the labor costs of production; these changes provide for the equivalent of the piece-work system, elimination of restrictions on an employer's right to "hire and fire" and abolition of all rules by which production has been arbitrarily held down.—New York World, Nov. 5.

Slackening business in the steel trade is resulting in closing down of many blast furnaces and in declines in pig iron prices.—New York Times, Nov. 4.

Mayor Hylan of New York City puts himself on record as being opposed to paying salaries to public school teachers who absent themselves on sacred holidays.—New York Times, Nov. 4.

Ida M. Tarbell declares in a lecture that scientific management of industry will conquer the problem of unemployment and eliminate the unsettled labor conditions at present existing in America.—Denver Rocky Mountain News, Nov. 2.

REPORT OF ORGANIZERS.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4, 1920.

Since July, 1918, I have not been actively engaged in the service of the Cigarmakers' International Union except in the capacity of delegate to the convention of the A. F. of L. as a representative of the International and of delegate to the Cigarmakers' International Convention held last April at Cleveland. I have in nowise been out of touch with the cigar industry or any of the vital intricacies pertaining to the trade. During the intervening period I was called on by President Gompers to act as legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor, where a broader opportunity presented itself to come in closer contact with legislation affecting labor and all measures economic, organic and legislative concerning the labor movement, which I shall always respect as a privilege enjoyed and a benefit derived from the experience. In that vocation my time was devoted until October 15 last, when circumstances changed the course of events and the even tenor of the way was divided to serve a more fruitful purpose, as all goes on well and happily to a satisfactory conclusion, as the pathway led back to the Cigarmakers' Union and the appointment by President Perkins to take up the duties in the field as organizer.

Having arrived in Kansas City and having conferred with officers of Local 102, the question was discussed as to what methods could be employed to assist in revising the stagnant condition that has prevailed here in the cigar industry for several years and lift it out of the rut of indifference by injecting new energy into the work of agitation to create a greater demand for union label cigars and a more generous consumption of products made by local manufacturers under fair conditions.

Several local unions of the various crafts were visited by our committee and meetings addressed in advocacy of label cigars. A special meeting of the cigarmakers was held to exchange ideas and bring out the best thought in the interest of promoting the trade and rehabilitating the industry and restoring it into the hands of union factories from whence it has been allowed to slip away under the domination of trust control which now rules the local market. This city long has been the terminus for scab cigars, the trust having played up strong on the advantage gained in landing their child-made goods, largely due to the laxity on the part of our members in combating with a ceaseless fight of agitation, and the encouragement among the members of organized labor for a consistent recognition of the label. Conditions are not what they should be, but the evil is not beyond redemption, and it is not too late to "gird on the armor," get a fresh grip and minister the knockout punch to the trust-made goods.

There is a splendid foundation of organized labor to appeal to which will assist in the fight. In giving this city a careful survey it appears that there is ample room for a "live one" who has capital to invest in the business and is energetic enough to make a real bid for the sale of union-made goods on legitimate terms. It is here for the asking.

Members of Local Union 102 will soon start preparation for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary since charter was granted to them.

May success and good fortune attend every effort in that direction.

R. S. SEXTON,
General Organizer.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 4, 1920.

At the last convention of our International Union held in Cleveland a plan of membership to be known as Class B was adopted and the same was approved by popular vote of our membership. Class B admits Stemmers or Strippers, Banders, Labelers and Casers to membership in our union. As there are several organizations of strippers who are now chartered directly by the American Federation of Labor as Federal Unions, President Perkins made formal demand on the A. F. of L. for this membership. The matter was taken up by the Executive Board of the A. F. of L. and our president's request was allowed. That is to say, that the highest body in the labor movement has decided that this class of unions belong in the Cigar Makers' International Union and must in the future be chartered by our union.

I was instructed to visit the above named unions of tobacco strippers and to acquaint them of the facts and to ask them to transfer from the A. F. of L. to the Cigar Makers' International Union. In the tobacco strippers' unions so far visited I find some very serious objections both on account of the way the cigar makers of that particular district have treated the strippers and on account of the increased dues and assessments we are asking them to pay. As I will have visited about all of those unions before my next letter, I will make a more detailed account in that letter.

J. E. FARRELL,
Organizer.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 6, 1920.

Since my last report I have visited many of the local organizations and the central body in the interest of the Blue Label, and believe that some good has been accomplished along this line. At a well attended meeting of the Union Label League plans have been made to try and interest different manufacturers in this city, who carry a Union Label upon their product, in getting together for the purpose of "boosting" all the labels. The plan is to put a man in the field under the direction of the Union Label League who will devote his entire time to the proposition. The manufacturers have already expressed a willingness to bear the greater part of the expense of this plan. Among the crafts interested are the Cigar Makers, Tobacco Workers, Coffee and Spice Workers and Tailors. Our organization should receive good results from this work.

On October 19 we held an open meeting for male Cigar Makers, which was well attended, and no doubt good results will be attained. We are to hold another open meeting for lady Cigar Makers on November 8. Some printed matter has been distributed in connection with this meeting and we look for a good sized crowd.

I have attended all meetings of the J. A. B. and am pleased to report that the Board is now working in absolute harmony and believe we now have the best J. A. B. in this jurisdiction that we have had for a long time.

I trust that before another month rolls around that I will be in a position to report an addition to our list of union shops in New Orleans.

Fraternally,

Tampa, Fla.

For seven months the Cigar Markers' Unions of Tampa have put up one of the greatest battles in the history of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America. The manufacturers have had the backing of the Tampa Board of Trade and every other civic organization in the city, the paid press, the merchants, the business men, all politicians, the police, petty court magistrates, in fact, everybody has been at the beck and call of the manufacturers. There have been a few exceptions, but the petty ward heeling politicians have used their influence against the strikers, at the behest of the manufacturers, to try and break the strike, but in this respect they have failed. Nothing has been left undone by these people to goad the strikers into some unlawful acts. But in all these efforts they have failed. The manufacturers are very powerful here in Tampa. It has been shown time and again that our people have been framed against, haled into court. The real offenders are permitted to go free, while the innocent strikers have been fined heavily. We have no other resource than to pay these fines. Some are permitted to carry revolvers without let or hindrance. These strike breakers have violated every law flagrantly. Yet judges have permitted these offenders to go free. In many instances informations have been lodged against these law breakers for carrying revolvers, but no arrests have followed these complaints. So it is quite easy to see the disadvantage we are under here in Tampa. The strikers have borne all of these injustices with a great deal of patience and forbearance, but it has been a great strain. Notwithstanding all this we are in splendid shape. We have very few strike breakers. The factories in nearly all instances are unable to operate. We have these arrogant cigar manufacturers with their backs to the wall. They are whipped to a standstill, but they are loath to admit defeat. In the long run they will have to admit this whether they like it or not, and then they will be compelled to make their peace with these union men and women who are among the best fighters I have ever seen. These union men and women have made many great sacrifices and stand ready to make still greater ones. In order that the International Union shall win the greatest victory it has ever won. The members of our International Union are entitled to great credit for the great assistance they have given in paying assessments to maintain this great strike. Every cigar maker here in Tampa appreciates the generosity of our membership of our International Union. But all this has been done for a great cause. Thousands of strikers have left Tampa. Many have gone into the northern cities and to Cuba. All of which has been very helpful. The manufacturers have a combination consisting of the manufacturers, the cigar box manufacturers, the cigar leaf jobbers. This combine we have complained of to the Federal Trade Commission at Washington and supplied the evidence in the form of affidavits. Action has been begun against them in the supreme court of Florida by the attorney general. Nothing is being left undone to bring these arrogant cigar manufacturers of Tampa to terms. After seven months of the hardest kind of fighting it is a great sight to pass these big cigar factories—some employed as high as 700 and 800 people before the strike—to see them with a handful of strike breakers trying to operate these big plants, some having ten, others twenty. We have no use for pickets here in this strike; we do not need them. This ought to show the union cigar makers of the International Union how well we have the situation in hand. The International Union is entitled to great credit for the manner in which this great struggle has been financed. This should convince every member of the International Union that our financial system is simply wonderful. The union has met its every obligation, thus proving beyond dispute that no matter how great the struggle may be, that our members may become involved in, the International is at all times equal to the emergency. The Joint Advisory Board of Tampa is also entitled to great credit for the executive ability it has shown in the management of this gigantic struggle. They are worthy of commendation. The powers that be have left nothing undone to besmirch the reputations of these men. The daily press, aided by the manufacturers, have charged them with every conceivable crime under the sun, but without results. I cannot close without extending the sincere thanks to those union men and women not only in the United States, but in Cuba and Porto Rico, for their splendid generosity in voluntarily making these weekly contributions, thus making it possible for the Joint Advisory Board to pay benefits to those who were not legally entitled to them, realizing as you all must that these people had to be taken care of. Again thanking all members of the International Union on behalf of the joint unions of Tampa, I remain,

SOL. SOUTHEIMER,
Organizer.

Detroit, Nov. 4, 1920.

While working in Ohio I was directed by International President Perkins to take up the work of organizing some shops if possible in towns in Illinois and Missouri. I visited Mount Vernon, Ill., where I found a shop operating with girls since May, 1920, under the bunch breaking and rolling system. Few organizations find life in this town, for it is said it is noted for being an unorganized town. I was informed that several attempts were made to organize a federal union but hardly had a start been made when the organization went to pieces and the workers lapsed back to the old unorganized conditions. Having learned while in Mt. Vernon that another attempt was being made to form a federal union I attended the meeting of the new union and found men of all crafts as members. I addressed the meeting on organization, laying particular stress on the necessity of organizing women and girls brought into industries. At this meeting I learned the daughters of a number of the members were working in the new cigar factory and received an invitation to visit their homes to talk with the girls on organization and joining the Cigar Makers' Union. Some girls favored a union, while many would say, "Why, the men of this town are not organized." This demonstrates that if the men workers of other crafts would organize the women and girls of the cigar industry might think something about organizing. If this federal union will continue and live as an organization there will be hopes of organizing some of the unorganized industries of the town. There are several, namely: Shoe workers, textile workers, candy workers, canning workers and steel car works. I proceeded to St. Louis and placed the facts found in Mt. Vernon to the joint board of the unions of St. Louis. With the president of Union 44 I visited St. Charles, Mo., where another shop went from St. Louis. This shop is not so large as the Mt. Vernon shop and we may be able to get some cooperation there, for there are several crafts organized in that town. Union 44 has under consideration a proposition to change the system of working and if these girls find that when they join the union their cards will be good to work in St. Louis or other places, providing they want to change, they may come into the union and help to organize.

In submitting this report I desire to state that the greater part of my work has been in this city trying to organize the male and female workers in non-union and trust factories. In this city there is a good field for organization work, but it requires constant effort in order to be successful. There is a possibility of adding a number of new members and the organization of several shops and I have been working with that end in view. Had a conference with the organization committee of the Women's Trade Union Label League in reference to organizing the women in our trade and was promised the hearty cooperation of this organization. I assisted the committee of our local in the label campaign by making addresses at various union meetings and assisting cigar stores and dealers. If our local will continue this plan of boosting the union label good results will be obtained. Some of our members are not as active in union affairs as they should be and as a result our interests are suffering to some extent. As long as there is one person working at our trade under adverse conditions there will be work for us all to do. I am of the opinion that in the minds and hearts of some the feeling exists that we are nearly perfect and all-powerful, and where such feeling exists, if it does, the inclination is to rest content and depend upon our reputation and supposed impregnable position. There may exist some with perverted inclinations to belittle, who profess to see and probably think they see no hope in present form of organization. Always looking on the darker side, they see nothing but disaster and the mistakes and the shortcomings of the International Union, all of which they magnify into unsurmountable obstacles to future progress. To my mind both are clearly wrong. Those who are standing still should be aroused to a realization that additional activity and a determined effort, progressive laws and broad tolerance must at all times be indulged. To those who belittle trade union activity and sneeringly refer to its achievements and profess to see no hope for future, we advise that they study former conditions and the accomplishments so far secured, which we assert unquestionably point to the fact that all has been accomplished in the past and much more can and will be accomplished and placed to the credit of the International Union in the future. Organize, federate and move forward. We cannot stand still and prosper; we never have and we probably never shall. The non-unionists in our trade must be organized. Those employed by the trust and other non-union large manufacturers must, can and will be organized.

Since the general strike of 1919 in New York City has come to an end the bill of prices which was adopted at the settlement of the strike has been practically shot to pieces by the cigarmakers receiving increases here and there. The increases not being uniform, left the union without a regular bill of prices, the different prices being paid in the various shops for a like class of work caused some confusion and unrest. To this condition I called the attention of the J. A. B., which body saw the wisdom of selecting a committee to draft a new bill of prices in order to create a uniform and settled condition. When this committee had completed their work the J. A. B. sent the new bill of prices to the members to either adopt or reject it. The members voted to adopt the bill. I then took one shop at a time and classified the cigars and presented the classification to the manufacturer, and am very pleased to say that I have been successful in gaining substantial increases for the cigarmakers and packers without practically any loss of time to the cigarmakers in New York. There are so many different shapes and grades of cigars that it required quite an effort to bring about satisfactory adjustments. I have also used my best efforts in trying to establish a fair working condition, and adjust the different grievances that had long existed in New York, that has been keeping me pretty busy, and continuously on the run from shop to shop, adjusting conditions and prices, and make it possible for the cigarmaker to earn a living wage under fair working conditions. I am hopeful for a better organized effort in New York and I feel safe in saying that the unorganized will realize that it is upon the practical and constructive work of the International Union that the future destinies of the industry depend.

In this report I wish to draw our members' attention to the activities in behalf of the union label by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, who have started a campaign for the label on their work, and particularly ask the members of the labor movement to demand their label when purchasing furniture and office fittings. Our members should give every assistance to this request and bring the carpenters' label to the front. All locals of carpenters that I have visited in the interest of our label have pledged themselves to purchase only Blue Label cigars. In Toronto members of 27 have opened a co-operative cigar factory and if the proper label agitation is carried on they can curtail the sale of non-union cigars in Toronto and give employment to members who were locked out by the Wilson Co. While in Toronto I will assist in a general label campaign which is being organized by Mr. Marks, Secretary of Labor Education Association. The label department of the A. F. of L. will also take part in the campaign. As per instructions I went to St. Thomas and adjusted some local matter for Union 420. Instructed new secretary in his duties. While there I attended various meetings in the interest of the label. Trade is quiet here. Union shops expect to open in a couple of weeks. In London I found conditions much improved since my last visit here, as all members are working and there is a good display of label goods in the stores.

London is the second largest cigar center in Canada, and excepting the Tuckett's strike shop all others are label shops. Members are realizing that the trouble in Tampa is their trouble and it must be won, and are meeting their financial obligation to the union. There are a few who are dropping their cards and expect to save the assessments by joining again for $5. Union 278 has decided to place a fine on those who allow themselves to be suspended. After fighting the C. M. I. U. for years, some of the non-union cigar manufacturers in Montreal have formed a merger. This combine should awaken an interest in our members. The cigar trust has come to Canada at last and we should be prepared to meet it. Cigar makers' locals in Canada are asking the Dominion to enact a law compelling all manufacturers of cigars to state on the box if cigars are made by hand, mould or by machines, as a protection to the public and fair manufacturers. While in London I addressed various unions, including the Central Body, on the label question. Also assisted in organization meeting of retail clerks.

In continuing my visits to local unions throughout the state of Pennsylvania I find very little difference in the attitude of the members of the union. There is an indifference embedded in their minds that is very hard to dislodge as to the necessity of organization. The non-unionists are basking in the belief that prices for making cigars will only be reduced as a natural sequence, with or without organization, and of which the manufacturers are already taking advantage by imposing lay-offs preparatory to a general reduction in wages. In my last letter I stated the General Cigar Co. in Shenandoah made a reduction of $1 per M; it should have been $1.50 per M, $1 for rolling and 50c for breaking. Lay-offs are becoming a common thing with the firms in some localities, as in Lancaster and Ephrata, where one week loaf was forced; in Ephrata one firm shut down indefinitely. South Bethlehem also reported one shop closed, it being an independent firm, leaving nearly 100 employees to be consumed by the General, Bayucks and Consolidated firms, in which shops a few weeks ago there was a strike for an increase of 75c per M which lasted just three days, after which all returned to work without their demands even being negotiated or even a collective bargaining agreement worked out, due altogether to a lack of or no organization whatsoever. While the members in most localities realize what they are confronted with, no arguments to the contrary can make the non-unionists realize the conditions that are bound to affect their weekly income unless they affiliate with the International Union and consolidate their efforts to prevent a wholesale reduction all along the line during the readjustment period or thereafter. Since my last report on Oct. 3rd I visited Manheim, Philadelphia, Allentown, Shenandoah, Pottsville, Scranton, York, Lebanon, South Bethlehem and Quakertown, Lancaster and Akron. Label agitation is at a very low ebb in all sections, which is to be deplored, as there can be no legitimate excuse advanced for not taking advantage of this opportune time for this all important fundamental principle that had and has much to do with the establishment, stability and the unquestionable ability of the International Union. I most earnestly appeal to all locals and their membership in Pennsylvania, and especially those to whom I am unable to see personally, to establish an agitation for all union label products.

The One Big Union.

Tampa, Fla.

We, the members of the Joint Advisory Board, representing the unions of Tampa, find that it is our duty to answer those who are responsible for the attacks made, not only upon the officers of the International Union, all of whom are doing everything possible to help lead us to a glorious victory against the combined efforts of the cigar manufacturers of Tampa, but against the Board as well.

Never before in the history of the Cigar-makers' International Union has it been confronted with such a determined set of unscrupulous employers as in the present fight. We are unable to find words to express our appreciation for the splendid financial support we are and have been receiving at the hands of the International Union, and we further say that we would be recreant in our duty and obligations to the International Union if we, the members of the Joint Unions comprising Locals 336, 500, 462, 464 and 474, did not resent the pusillanimous insinuations made against our International Union and its officers.

The "Bulletin" goes on to say that the Tampa strike is lost. This is an absolute, willful and malicious falsehood, and those who are responsible for such a statement can properly be consigned to the Ananias Club. This is in line with the deliberate attempt to create dissension in the International Union. This kind of propaganda aims at destruction, which the enemies of the International Union can never accomplish. We, the members of the Tampa unions, will never allow ourselves to be made parties to any such despicable methods. The International Union has expended hundreds of thousands of dollars and is still paying the strike benefits, as it has in the past. Our strike here in Tampa is in as good, if not better, condition than the day it was started. The slurs and insinuations against the International officers are without foundation.

This One Big Union bunch are the renegades, ostracised from the bona fide labor movement. They are outlaws who have at all times been the Judas Iscariots of the organized labor movement. Here in Tampa, as elsewhere, we have to contend with them. What few scabs we have to fight here are of the One Big Union outfit. In fact, everywhere in this country where decent, honest workingmen are struggling to increase their wages or endeavoring to improve their conditions, you will invariably find the One Big Union monster scabbing it. They would, if they could, destroy the Labor Movement of America. Gradually, slowly but surely, these inhuman monsters are bringing about their own downfall. These One Big Union demons are the willing tools of the employers, who, for a mess of pottage, betray the honest union men at every opportunity. Who ever heard of the One Big Union bunch doing anything for the uplift of the worker? They never did and never intend to do anything for the workers. Their One Big Union idea is to get the money. Past experience proves this beyond contradiction. They say: "Come and join us and get better wages and better conditions," and at that there is no head and no tail to this One Big Union outfit. It is composed of the flotsam and jetsam of our country. No one knows who they are or where they come from, and what's still worse, they are afraid to come out in the open and declare themselves. They are fully aware that their reputations would not stand inspection or investigation. Of all the brutal atrocities ever committed in this country the One Big Union bunch was generally at the bottom of it all. These sneaking, servile tools of the employers could reveal much if they desired to do so. So the C. M. I. U. of A. is the "Buckeye Union"? Well! well! And the One Big Union is the union of progress? Come out of your shell and tell the Tampa union cigarmakers who you are, and where you can be located. You hide behind the signature of the One Big Union. This guerrilla warfare is cowardly. The writer of the "Bulletin" does not dare to come out in open and give the striking cigarmakers an opportunity to give him the once over. But we have a fair idea of the crowd he is training with. We know they are trying to injure the Tampa strike by circulating false rumors to the effect that the Tampa strike is lost, that there are but 700 cigarmakers drawing strike benefits. This is being done for one purpose: to try to defeat us. When they see that victory is in sight for the Tampa cigarmakers and also the International Union.

In conclusion, be it known that we are still paying to our members over $40,000 per week in strike benefits.

JOINT ADVISORY BOARD,
Locals 336, 462, 464, 474, 500.

The union label signifies merit in the article—the merit of good, clean workmanship—as well as the principles of fair play in the treatment of employees.

State of Trade November 1, 1920.

REPORT OF INTERNATIONAL FINANCIER.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2, 1920.

Have examined the accounts of the following unions since last report, viz.:

Union 25, Milwaukee, Wis.

There is a big improvement in the affairs of this local. The present secretary has a day book that is very complete. The expense account in particular is properly entered and he also has endorsed vouchers for all items of expense. The benefit cards are all on file, but for some time the ex-secretary did not have vouchers, and many of those he did have, a few years ago, are not filled out. The strike benefit held against this local amounting to $208.36 was known to the strike committee and officers as illegal, but they felt that they were compelled to pay it to hold the strikers in line, and that it would perhaps be more convenient to settle later on than when the strike started, as they thought the strike would only last a short time. $821.60 in illegal benefit, sick, out of work and death, which I held them for under the old secretary; also corrections in dues, assessments, etc., amounting to $17.53,—total $1,047.49. The new secretary has a big job: correcting dues accounts, also because many members were taken in as Class "A" members, that he found were not entitled to Class "A" membership. Not having been in office when they were initiated, makes it more difficult for him. Statement as follows:

Balance on hand Dec. 1, 1912.....	$ 4,446.49

Secretary Kammer deposits funds in bank just as soon as he can get into the bank after collections are made, both International and local. Safety first is his motto—and a perfectly good one at that.

Union 41, Aurora, Ill.

The present officers pull together and they intend having the accounts correct. Am quite sure they will have them that way. Statement as follows:

Union 135, Appleton, Wis.

The secretary and treasurer are both attending to their duties and the results are shown in their accounts. Splendid work. Cash and stamp accounts correct. Benefit cards and vouchers nicely filed and the ledger shows every member's standing complete. They assured me that the October, 1920, report would show their deficiency replaced. It is amounts expended over percentage. Statement as follows:

Balance for Sept. 1, 1912.....	$ 262.62
Receipts to Oct. 1, 1920.....	9,959.59
Over percentage	39.12

Union 157, Rockford, Ill.

The books and accounts here at this time are in good order. Cash and stamp accounts correct. Ledger correctly posted; accounts balanced at the end of each month in the day book; benefit cards and vouchers on file. Statement as follows:

This deficiency is illegal sick benefit paid to a member while on the 90-day limit during January and February, 1920.

Union 168, Oshkosh, Wis.

I never found accounts more accurate than here. With this exception, Section 73 has not been complied with, the amount due to International Union on examination. Their deficiency is illegal sick and death benefits, failure to comply with Section 73 is the reason for this. Their day book and ledger is complete. Cash and stamp accounts correct. Benefit cards and vouchers for expense—every one on file. It seems a shame that accounts so accurate in other respects should be less so in this one particular—so important a part of our constitution. Statement as follows:

Balance for Sept. 1, 1912.....$ 681.84
 Receipts to Oct. 1, 1920..... 16,980.51
 Due to International Union on examination 434.29

Union 304, Racine, Wis.

The cash and stamp accounts here are correct. All benefit cards and vouchers for expense on file. The ledger correctly posted. The monthly reports always show a correct statement. The amount due on examination is overdrawn. Sick benefit and funeral expenses a mistake, pure and simple. Statement as follows:

Balance for Dec. 1, 1912.....$ 634.85

For several years the accounts here have shown improvement. At this time they are in very nice condition. The present officers are the sort that we need—dependable. Statement as follows:

Union 329, Fond du Lac, Wis.

The books and accounts here are in splendid condition. Cash and stamp accounts balanced at the end of every month in the day book. Ledger posted to show each member's standing complete. Benefit cards and expense vouchers on file. In fact the constitution is the official guide in this local. Statement as follows:

Balance on hand Sept. 1, 1912.....$ 528.26
 Receipts to Oct. 1, 1920..... 10,804.00

Union 363, Waukesha, Wis.

The books and accounts of this local are in better condition than I ever found them before. They never had a day book, ledger, benefit cards and vouchers for expense like they have now. Cash and stamp accounts also correct. There is some friction here, quite natural, as the membership is mostly small shop bosses. Am in hopes they will get together. There is room here, or should be, for a few journeymen, but they will be compelled to revise their bill of prices to secure men, now or in the future. Statement as follows:

Balance for March 31, 1913.....$ 106.25
 Receipts to Oct. 1, 1920..... 983.85
 Over percentage in 1914..... 23

Total$1,090.33

 al Bank$ 1.00
 In possession Sec.-Treas. S. P.
 Malagain 52.16

Total $ 53.16

The funds have been reported to show just the amount the bank book did. The secretary deposited $35 in bank three weeks before I got there. This is the straightforward way of doing business.

Union 381, Watertown, Wis.

The books and accounts here are in fine shape. Cash and stamp accounts correct. Benefit cards and vouchers for expense nicely filed. Ledger posted to show each member's standing complete. The accounts balanced at the end of every month in the day book. Statement as follows:

Balance for Aug. 1, 1914.....$ 125.97

Union, 394, Sycamore, Ill.

The present secretary is making a good try and is doing fine. The accounts are in very fair order. Explained to him how to balance every member's dues account with each credit given and why the accounts should be balanced each month in the day book. He likes the system. Statement as follows:

Balance for March 1, 1915 $ 309.59
Receipts to Sept. 1, 1920 4,484.41
Expended over percentage in 1915 18.74
Due to International Union on examination 1.50

Union 477, Manitowoc, Wis.

Had this local refunded the amounts expended over percentage their condition would have been just about right. Secretary Goldie has developed into a first-class secretary. I did not find an error in his accounts. His stamps and cash are balanced each month in the day book. Ledger posted to show every member's standing complete. Very nice work. Statement as follows:

Balance for Sept. 1, 1912 $ 311.26
Receipts to Oct. 1, 1920 4,393.12

Expended over percentage in 1912-13 and 1914 24.50

Deficiency of union Oct. 1, 1920 $ 24.50

This deficiency must be refunded, commencing at once. I call your attention to Section 173 of the constitution.

Union 530, Ludington, Mich.

The manner in which they have the money deposited in the bank is a real indication of the class of girls and women in this local—new members, but quick and willing to learn. They are the sort of women that command the respect of the people of Ludington. This strike shows their courage is the kind that wins battles. They intend to make a decent living if they ever go back to a cigar factory to work. They are deserving of any help we can give them. Statement as follows:

Receipts from organization, February, 1920, to Oct. 1, 1920 $1,857.45
Expense to Oct. 1, 1920 1,434.12

Balance for Oct. 1, 1920 $ 423.33

When a member changes from the 50c to the 40c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

Section 131 distinctly and plainly states: "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to be insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

The International Union will not authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members, secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 145, give full record of membership, as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 141c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 140c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there is no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

Official Notice.

In compliance with Section 180 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 50c to replenish the General Fund, on each sixty-cent, forty-cent and thirty-cent member.

This assessment takes the place of the $1.00 assessment, which is discontinued Sept. 25.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

A. Margulies appealed against Union 97, Boston, for suspending him for non-payment of dues. The evidence shows that the member sent money to pay the dues but the letter and money were stolen, hence the member's suspension. The appeal was sustained.

John Blum appealed against Union 1, Baltimore, for suspending him for non-payment of the one dollar assessment. Appellant shows that through a mistake, which is admitted by the union, he neglected to pay enough to keep him within the limit on assessments, while he was away within the limit on payment of dues. The appeal was sustained.

Tampa manufacturers. What is your local doing for the worker?—Credit Union a brilliant success.

Union notes by H. Abraham, Boston: There are no secessionists in Boston. Divide and conquer has always been the motto of the employer.—Organized labor will find plenty of opposition, due to the propaganda of the United States Chamber of Commerce. — Cigar box makers in New England are now on strike.—We are in a transition period.—We will never return to the wage prior to the war, because it was not a fair wage.—Telephone girls are doing good work for Union 97.—Label committee have issued a circular to all organizations in New England thanking them for their support and asking for a continuance of same.—The shorter workday, the living wage and the raising of the school age to 16 are still good slogans.—Union collars and neckties are on sale here.—Members of our label committee, Frank McCarthy and Austin Kareney, are doing good work for the label.—President of New England Conference working hard.—Boys, don't forget Tampa.—If all or the great majority of workers were on the inside of their unions conditions would improve.—Are any working in auxiliary Tampa factories. Trade unionism means more than paying your dues.—Now for a reserve fund.—There is more democracy now than in the days of Federalist and Republicans before the Civil War.

Attention of secretary holding card of William Degan, or Deegan: Hold his card and notify Albert Welland, secretary of Union 222, Peru, until you receive notice from him to release same. Call his attention to this notice, as he will know the reason why the members of Union 222 desire prompt action on his part. Unless we receive such action at once we will take further action. I am holding letter from J. C. Clark for him.—Albert Welland, Secretary.

Tampa, Fla., October, 1920.

UNION NOTES

Union notes by H. Abrahams: Despite the fact that the United States Chamber of Commerce has determined to break up the trade unions by throwing men out of work and starving them into submission, the labor movement is suffering from general apathy. Agitate, educate, organize.—Divide and conquer is their motto, and some of the workers are playing into their hands.—We must maintain our standard of living.—We will never go back to conditions existing in pre-war times, for the wage then was never sufficient.—Union 97, though heavily handicapped, is still doing good work.—Former Boston firms are endeavoring to place their unfair goods in the middle west.—Injunction granted this week against the Shoe Workers the most drastic ever granted.—Organized labor will have to fight their battles all over again.—Boom the label; boom all labels.—Let every member of organized labor feel that the fight for a shorter workday and a living wage is his fight.—Why this cry for greater production when all the large concerns are laying off their employees?—Don't forget Tampa.—New England Conference, with its limited resources, are doing very effective agitation.—The label is your only weapon; demand it; it means fair conditions.—All the interests are supporting the

IN MEMORIAM

In reporting deaths kindly comply with the following and you will save time and unnecessary work: Give full name, number, date and place of initiation of member. Has member held retiring card? If so, did he pay his dues? This information relates only to such as you can obtain from the record of your own union. If admitted by card, state when and where from, and, in addition, send in such cards, but place in your letter the information necessary, as the letter is filed as a matter of record. Before paying death benefits study Sections 148 to 149, inclusive. Send in a death blank properly filled out for all death benefits paid.

The following unions adopted a resolution of respect and condolence relative to death or deaths as follows and ordered charter draped in mourning for thirty days:

Union 6, Rochester, N. Y.—Richard O'Grady, 6357, who died August 30, 1920.

LETTER BOX

Note.—Letters remaining uncalled for at the office after being advertised in the Journal for one issue must be returned to carrier of Chicago postoffice by order of Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C.

Returned the following to Postoffice Department since the last issue of the Journal: P. Ressler, Aug. S. Reachard.

Union 20, Decatur, Ill., for Jerry Sheely. International Office for Wm. Ende, Garland J. Bennett, E. Boege, Augustus S. Reachard, Mark Hyams, Edward Erhart.

Union 44, St. Louis, Mo., for Sam Thompson, James Bishop, John McCormick, Geo. Barnett, A. L. Carlton, J. I. Smith, Henry J. Hess, John Gehle.

Union 311, Auburn, for Jos. Stadler 3486.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

(Do not endorse two or more amendments on the same sheet of paper. Send in a separate endorsement for each amendment, as they have to be filed separately.)

The amendment of 3, Paterson, as published in the September issue, as follows:

Local No. 3, Paterson, wish to submit the following amendment:

Strike out Section 56 and insert the following section, to read:

That all organizers and suborganizers and label agitators be called off for one year. After the adoption of the amendment, and after one year, it must be left to popular vote of all local local unions.

The amendment of 129, Denver, Colo., as published in the September issue, as follows:

On or before December 31, 1920, all local unions having less than 25 members, and located within a radius of 200 miles of a local of 25 or more members, shall be dissolved and all property and funds turned over to International office or as the International President may direct to deposit same. The members shall deposit cards with nearest local. In case of dispute of nearest local, the International President shall decide. Each locality where no local exists and has union shop shall have a town collector, who shall receive five cents a week from each member, and shall transact the shop collector's duties. He shall keep on hand twenty dollars' worth of dues and assessment stamps at all times, which shall be mailed to him on credit by secretary of jurisdiction local. Town collector to be elected annually or appointed by secretary if members fail to elect.

The town collector shall receive applications for membership, retiring cards, etc., and forward same to secretary. In each case a fee of 10c shall be paid by member to shop collector. All sick, death, out-of-work and strike cases shall be reported by town collector to secretary of jurisdiction, and a fee of 10c in each case shall be paid by the jurisdiction local to town collector.

In localities where no local exists, seven members may organize a new local as provided in the constitution, but shall dissolve at the expiration of one year, if the membership does not reach 25; such dissolution shall be in manner as provided above.

All constitutional provisions not in accord with this amendment are hereby declared void, or shall be changed by International President in such manner as to harmonize with this amendment.

Received the endorsement of Unions 41, Aurora; 218, Binghamton; 32, Louisville; 38, Springfield; 228, San Francisco; 8, Hoboken; 16, Chicago; 37, Fort Wayne; 39, New Haven; 42, Hartford; 49, Springfield; 57, Urbana; 97, Boston; 144, New York; 149, Brooklyn; 179, Bangor; 192, Manchester; 383, Chicago; 474, Tampa; 500, Tampa.

Having received the required number of endorsements it will be submitted to a vote of local unions.

The amendment of 14, Chicago, as published in the October Journal, as follows:

Strike out Section 144 and insert the following:

In the event of the death of a member entitled to one hundred and twenty-five dollars, and said member not having any person to take charge of his remains, the President of the local union shall take charge of the same and provide for a decent burial, the expense not to exceed one hundred and twenty-five dollars. If the deceased was entitled to two hundred and seventy-five dollars or more, a sum not to exceed one hundred and seventy-five dollars may be expended in like manner.

Received the endorsement of Unions 402, Quakertown; 218, Binghamton; 44, St. Louis; 179, Bangor; 168, Oshkosh; 383, Chicago.

The amendment of 218, Binghamton, as published in the October Journal, as follows:

Amend Section 150 by striking out on line 20 the figures "$9.00" and insert the figures "$10.00"; and on line 22, strike out the figures "$10.00" and insert the figures "$11.00," the section as amended to read:

But in no case shall the union label be used in a factory in the United States or Canada which pays less than $10.00 per thousand for mould work, or less than $11.00 per thousand for hand work.

Received the endorsement of 383, Chicago; 44, St. Louis; 402, Quakertown; 242, York; 168, Oshkosh; 8, Hoboken.

Union 358 of Brooklyn offers the following amendment to the Constitution: To levy a 50c assessment on all 60c, 40c and 30c members for one week, in aid of the Tampa strike.

Union 37, Fort Wayne, proposes the following amendment to Section 150 of the constitution:

"It shall be optional with local unions to compel union cigar manufacturers to place the union label on all cigars manufactured in such shops."

March 3, 1879.

Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year to all.

The Honorable Van C. Sweringen, Attorney General of the State of Florida, has brought suit for an injunction against M. Alvarez & Co., a Corporation, Carlos Cosiano Cigar Co., a Corporation, M. Stachelberg & Co., a Corporation, M. Valle & Co., a Corporation and Celestino Viga & Co., a Corporation, members of the Cigar Manufacturers Association of Tampa, for conducting an organization and entering into conspiracy in violation of the laws of Florida.

Among the other allegations set forth and charged by the Attorney General against the Manufacturers Association is the fifth account, which deals with the conspiracy on the part of the Manufacturers Association to deprive any manufacturer in the City of Tampa, who would make terms with the Union, from obtaining boxes in which to pack the cigars. It reads as follows:

"Your onitor further represents unto your honor that in further pursuance of the conspiracy of the said The Cigar Manufacturers Association of Tampa, Florida, some time during the month of March 1920, in order to control and monopolize for its members the entire cigar manufacturing business of the city of Tampa, and to require the entire industry of the City of Tampa which is an industry of vast proportions employing under ordinary conditions between fifteen and twenty thousand workers manufacturing over a million cigars a day, the value of which during the year amounts to many millions of dollars, to submit to its domination, the said association contracted and agreed to purchase the entire output of cigar boxes made by the three cigar box factories of the city of Tampa, and after said date no cigar factory that was owned by any corporation, individual or partnership that was not a member of said association would be supplied or could obtain by any means whatever any cigar boxes that were made by any of the said three box factories. That the cigar manufacturing industry of Tampa is almost entirely dependent upon the said three box factories for boxes, and that prior to the monopoly of the output of the said three box factories by the Cigar Manufacturers Association as above set forth, the manufacturers who were not members of the said association could procure boxes from the companies operating the said three box factories on the same terms as the manufacturers who were members of the said association. That although the said Cigar Manufacturers Association did not own any cigar factory or as an organization have any use for cigar boxes, yet it purchased the output of the said three box factories in the name of the association and not in the name of any person, firm or corporation manufacturing cigars, and no person, firm or corporation manufacturing cigars could procure any boxes made by any one of the said box factories without first obtaining the approval of the secretary of the said Cigar Manufacturers Association. That by reason of the said monopoly of the supply of boxes in the city of Tampa, the said Cigar Manufacturers Association forced manufacturers of cigars in the city of Tampa to join said association and to submit to the arbitrary Articles of Association and By-Laws, which are hereto attached, entirely contrary to the will and desire of such manufacturers who although such manufacturers realized that they were surrendering the control of their factories and the management of their business to the Board of Directors and a majority of the membership of the said Cigar Manufacturers Association in violation of law. That if a manufacturer refused to join said association, its supply of boxes was immediately cut off, and it was forced to close its factory notwithstanding the supply of available boxes was ample to meet all of the demands at the time. That there are about fifty cigar factories in the city of Tampa that are not members of the said The Cigar Manufacturers Association of Tampa, Florida, and as a result of being deprived of boxes by the methods of The Cigar Manufacturers Association, the loss sustained by such factories has been very heavy, perhaps aggregating a million or more dollars. That for some time after The Cigar Manufacturers Association monopolized the output of the box factories, the supply of boxes very greatly exceeded the demands of the factories that were owned by members of the said Cigar Manufacturers Association, and the surplus supply of boxes was caused to be shipped by the said association out of the city of Tampa rather than allow the manufacturers of cigars in the city of Tampa who were not members of the said association to get them. That owing to the methods of the said The Cigar Manufacturers Association of Tampa, Florida, the cigar industry in Tampa has been greatly injured, and the output of cigars manufactured in the city of Tampa at the present time does not exceed one-third of the output at the time that the said Manufacturers Association monopolized the supply of boxes and prevented the manufacturers who were not members of the association from procuring boxes. That not only have the methods of the said Manufacturers Association seriously injured the cigar manufacturing industry of the city of Tampa, Florida, but your orator is informed and believes, and upon information and belief, alleges the truth to be that the demand for cigar boxes has decreased very greatly and that by some combination and agreement with the companies owning the three cigar box factories aforesaid, the output of such factories has been decreased so that at the present time, such factories are only operating about one-half of the time which results in the reduction of the employment of labor and indirectly an injury to the general business activity of the city of Tampa."

Among other charges set forth is one in particular that shows that practically no meeting has been held by the Manufacturers Association and that the business and the alleged conspiracy is carried on by the Board of Directors. He also shows that many of the cigar manufacturers would gladly resume friendly operations and agreements with the Union, but that the Manufacturers Association have made it impossible for them to do so by making it inconvenient for them to obtain credit, raw material and cigar boxes.

The Attorney General also lays stress on the fact that no member of The Cigar Manufacturers Association of Tampa can withdraw from membership in said association while any disturbance, stress or strike is pending in the factory of any other member of said association. Several attempts have heretofore been made by the local unions of Tampa to reach these autocrat law-breaking manufacturers through quo-warranto proceedings by lodging charges with the Federal Trade Commissions, but so far to no avail. So far these autocratic manufacturers have proven that they are greater than the laws of the city of Tampa, of the state of Florida, and the laws of the United States. So far they have beaten everything, except the C. M. I. U., and that they can never accomplish.

The result of years of agitation for a dual union cul-
The Dual minated in the city of New Organization. York on December 7 in the formation of the Amalgamated Tobacco Workers' Union of America. There were about 117 delegates present. One hundred and ten, however, were from New York City. Instead of the delegates representing unions each shop in New York that wanted to sent all the way from one to ten delegates. The only local union of any kind that was represented there by a delegate was the seceding Progressive Union of Chicago, formerly Class A Union 527, which was represented by Jake Billow, whom the delegates to the Cleveland Convention will remember.

Billow was elected as the key-noter and he proceeded to key-note by an attack upon the International Union, which was interspersed by an endorsement of Sovietism, the Soviet Government of Russia, and many Utopian and get-there-quick schemes, all warranted to lead to the millennium and to condition, particularly in the cigar trade, where you could own your own job in a factory where the employer has nothing to do except to furnish the raw material, sell the goods, pay the rent, and pay off.

There were only five delegates from out of town actually in the convention—Billow of Chicago, who represented the Amalgamated Tobacco Workers, recently seceded from the Cigar Makers' International Union; Davis and Smith of Reading, Brown of Philadelphia, and Roman of Chicago, who is it said represented locals of the Propaganda League. There were two or three visitors from Boston and one from Chicago, and a man by the name of Polano from Porto Rico, and a representative of the Amalgamated Garment Workers, Mr. Yost, from Springfield, Mass., who told the cigarmakers all about it. The visitors spoke at the convention but did not participate as delegates proper. Delegates were admitted from a shop employing two hundred people in New York, which was closed by the International Union because they were turning in cigars to the strike-bound firms in Tampa. Dues were fixed at 25c per week.

Some of their basic principles which sound nice are week work, forty-four hour week, shop committees to rule, shop chairmen, equalization of work, a social educational committee, and political action of the soviet type.

These hand-picked, so-called radicals, all of whom came from one city, with the exception of four or five, could not agree among themselves. The usual amount of fireworks, hair pulling, and denunciation among themselves, characteristic of such gatherings, was indulged in. The convention started December 4 and ended around midnight December 7, in a blaze of confusion. Many of the delegates started leaving in disgust as early as Sunday, more left on Monday, and a goodly number left before the adjournment on Tuesday. One delegate in particular denounced the convention and its purposes in more vigorous language than any of the other delegates were capable of employing while denouncing the International Union.

Following the logic of events and the policy of the would-be disruptionists, those who were dissatisfied with the New York fiasco will now have to roll up their sleeves and proceed to form a Progressive Amalgamated Tobacco Workers' Union of America.

Organized capitalists through their subsidized press have made a strong effort to put labor in the light of being a slacker. They howled all last spring and summer "that labor was not producing."

They were horrified at the sight of a straw man of their own construction and prophesied dire calamity for the nation, playing all the time to make labor the scapegoat.

We now find that labor was producing, as it always does, more than was being consumed at the prices charged for its product.

What happens now? Factories close their doors, and employers absolutely refuse to produce. No attention is paid to the thousands of idle men and women who are dependent on their day's pay for the next day's bread. The press is strangely silent on criticising the employer who "refuses to produce." Labor is told it must expect a reduction in wages before we can hope to reach "normalcy."

It is to be hoped that we never reach normalcy, for that does not mean progress, but we are going to reach a point some day where labor will not be the foot-ball of capitalists. We are going to reach a point where big business will not be allowed to make millions by selling goods produced under low wage conditions at war-time prices and then close the factory door in the face of labor rather than suffer the loss of a single penny when readjustment comes.

History depicts no creature more contemptible than the deserter. As an example of craven cowardice he stands alone.

The Deserter. All nations of the world declare that the man who deserts under fire is not fit to live and commune with his fellow-countrymen, and the firing squad at sunrise mercifully ends an existence that is unfit to contaminate the earth.

Labor unions do not use the firing squad to the end that the life of the deserter is demanded but we do brand with the mark of shame and infamy those who betray our cause by desertion.

The man or woman who deserts their regular organization whether in time of strike or to form a dual destructive organization deserves the contempt and enmity of every decent member of society.

Deserters are welcomed by the boss and used for the present only. He is neither loved nor is he a hero. The employer knows that he is a deserter from his own ranks and is therefore a creature void of dependence and wholly untrustworthy.

The deserter not only helps to destroy his own army on the industrial field, but he destroys his own economic life as well. He willingly, because of his cowardly, inhuman attitude, destroys the conditions under which he and his fellow workers have a degree of independence. He would throw the entire trade into a position of absolute chaos and would leave all who toil at the mercy of the employer's greed.

The right to propose amendments to our Constitution and to advocate them in the Amendments, Journal is a constitutional right and privilege, and in so far as we are concerned has never been denied or disputed. Section 213 provides "Each local union shall have the right to propose through the columns of the Official Journal amendments to the International Constitution." Section 200, which created the Official Journal and makes the International President the editor and publisher, provides—"It shall be edited in conformity with the principles and resolutions of the International Union"

Under our system of initiative and referendum the President by virtue of the law and necessity acts as the chairman just the same as though we were in convention. This does not rob the chairman of his right to be heard upon any question and to express his opinion and recommendation, and he indeed if he did not would be a coward and a traitor and derelict in his duty. In exercising this right and duty no unparliamentary adjectives have ever been applied to anyone when discussing amendments to our Constitution, and we defy successful contradiction of this statement.

We have said and will continue to say that propagandists within or without the organization who deliberately falsify facts and figures as to the state of membership, our finances, etc., are traitors to our cause and are lending their aid to the enemy which is at present, as always, the non-union, open shop, employer.

We have said and will say again that the action of a certain local in withdrawing from the International Union at this time when our every effort should be directed toward the winning of the Tampa strike is traitorous.

We have said, and offer no apologies for the language used, that the formation of a dual union is playing directly into the hands of the forces who wish to destroy us. We know that there are those holding membership in our own organization furthering these plans of disruption and we leave it to your own good judgment as to the brand that should in justice to our principles of trades unionism be placed upon them.

There is no organization in the world that is fairer or more liberal in so far as democracy and self-government are concerned than the Cigar Makers' International Union. We have the initiative and referendum in its entirety, which include the initiative and referendum in the making of our laws, and the initiative and referendum in the nomination and election by popular vote of the officers to execute them.

We have the representative form of government. Our delegates to the convention propose alterations and changes in the laws and constitution. All such, however, must go to popular vote for approval. This means democracy and the rule of the majority in its fullest concept. Any good sport or real union man or woman will accept what is done under these conditions.

Now is the time to grit the teeth, close the ranks, and present a united, determined front to the advancing hosts and onslaught of open-shop-pers. There is no gainsaying the fact that a determined effort is being made by non-union employes to establish the open-shop, which means the non-union shop in all crafts or trades where they can possibly do so.

It is not so much a question of personnel or even system as it is organization and unity of purpose, and maintenance of living wage, reasonable hours and shop conditions. The first essential is organization, as without a going organization we can have neither benefits, separate funds, nor anything else of an abiding or helpful character. The sensible thing to do is to first organize and then put the house in order in compliance with the will, wishes, and best judgment and experience of the majority. Any attempt to build an organization predicated on what non-unionists like or dislike would prove as futile as an attempt to build an edifice on a foundation of quicksand. Nobody knows what the non-unionists want in the first place. As individuals some may have expressed their opinions, but collectively, no. They have not been organized and consequently can not so express themselves.

Men and women who have been trade-unionists all their lives at least know better what they want and how to get it than those who have been non-unionists all their lives, and must not be expected to cast aside their own judgment for that of others. When non-unionists come into the organization they will have just as much to say in making its laws and shaping its policy as anyone else.

The vast majority of non-unionists don't know the first principles of unionism. They don't know nor do they understand the difference between a union with fraternal

Subterfuge. benefits, such as sick, death, and out of work benefit, etc., and the one that pays only a strike benefit. The minds of many non-unionists, however, have been poisoned against unionism and the International Union by false doctrines and preachings and denunciations of the International Union, its officers and members, by the so-called, self-styled, radical progressives.

The self-styled progressives and dual union outfit in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred are more concerned in creating a kind of organization that is dedicated to political action, socialism, communism, or sovietism. The afterthought and excuse of these would-be wreckers for finding fault with the old union and starting a new one is the fraternal features, sick and death benefits, separate funds, and the optional clause, and is purely subterfuge of the rankest kind.

Let us look the matter squarely in the face. The membership gain a livelihood by making cigars. This being indisputable it matters little, in so far as our organization is concerned, whether the form of government in Russia, Germany, Italy, or here, or elsewhere, is a republic, or a soviet. Our first concern then should be to build up a strong, formidable, united, effective, one-hundred per cent organization of the workers along industrial lines. There is plenty of room for socialists, communists, or the soviets in their purely political organizations, where they may give expression to their hopes and aspirations along political lines, to their hearts' content.

The rule and underlying thought of some of our alleged progressive members is not so much as to a system of benefits, separate funds, etc., as it is the kind of brand of politics, particularly of the soviet type which they insist we shall adopt.

Last but not least just keep in mind that what we have got in the shape of better wages, shorter hours, better health, longer life, and better working and living conditions was obtained solely and wholly through the power and efficacy of the International Union.

Militant Unionism.

An organization that can maintain a strike involving ten thousand people for eight months is militant, progressive, permanent and sound—our propagandists to the contrary notwithstanding. To maintain the Tampa strike has cost the International Union about $900,000, and has caused a steady weekly assessment on the members, who have, like real militant, loyal trade-unionists, paid with scarcely a murmur. Aside from the $900,000 officially paid from the General Fund hundreds of thousands of dollars have been contributed through local assessments and voluntary contributions. Those who have shouted the loudest for solidarity and progress and militancy, which they claim we do not possess, were among the few who refused to pay the assessment and forfeited their membership.

Indications on every hand point to a show down between Capital and Labor.

Collective Effort. Labor's salvation is dependent largely on the relative strength of its organization.

Even at this time in industries largely unorganized there has been a sharp cut in wages and an increase in hours.

The better a trade is organized the harder it will be for the forces of organized greed to defeat it.

There has never been a time in the history of our country when the need of organization was more apparent than at present.

This applies to all trades in general and to our own trade in particular. That we may meet the test imposed upon us by those who seek to destroy our union, that we may further the organization of those engaged in the cigar industry, it is necessary for us to come to a spirit of understanding, co-operation and mutual helpfulness. We must discuss fundamental principles openly, frankly and without malice. We must finally accept the will of the majority. We should all do our individual share. We must, individually and collectively, accept the responsibilities that arise. This necessitates attendance and active participation in the meetings of our local unions. It further necessitates co-operation of local unions in advancing our cause in their respective localities. In fact we must practice team work based on the cool, calculating deliberations of all our members.

Get in the game. It is your own affair and its success or failure is dependent on your willingness to play. It may be something of an effort, but those who follow the path of least resistance usually find it leads to the land of least reward.

The proverbial "rainy day" appears to be approaching; at least it is sprinkling and darker clouds loom on the horizon. Business and manufacturing activity in many lines is on the decline.

Business activity and prosperity depend largely on universal employment. It is not Supply and Demand. We always demand the necessities of life, but unemployment forces us to forbear even these to the extent that many are actually impoverished. Only when we are generally employed can we gratify our desires for commodities, essential or luxurious.

The period of readjustment becomes labor's rainy day. It is made worse from the fact that in the scheme of readjustment, as mapped out, there appears to be a determination on the part of capitalists to force labor to make the first concessions. In the face of continued profiteering prices to the consumer, this is unfair and unjust. When it becomes manifest that all must bear their share of the unavoidable loss incident to readjustment it also becomes fair and equitable that those who received the greater profits should bear the greater loss. It is also fair that when the paring down process begins it should first become operative at the top.

Take the price of foodstuff for example. Big concerns inform the public that they can not reduce prices to any extent at this time because they are loaded up with high priced raw material.

What of the profits they exacted from the public when they advanced the prices of commodities which were made from the low priced material they had on hand at the beginning of the war? We know prices were advanced by leaps and bounds. We know it was not because of an increase in wages. In fact the labor cost of a loaf of bread, produced with modern machinery, is less today than it was a few years ago.

The same thing holds true clear down the line and we feel that clearing skies will come only when captains of industry realize that labor can not always be made the goat.

The present world-wide unrest and discontent are not, as many believe, deplorable. Contentment, when absolute, means stagnation. Discontent is the driving force of progress. Necessity is said to be the mother of invention. To complete the natural law of parentage we can as truthfully say that dissatisfaction is the father of invention and improvement as well. We are not satisfied with the first machine and improve upon it. Present unrest and reasonable discontent will prove the benefactor of mankind for much good will finally come from it.

It is claimed, and by those in a position to know, that the big trusts in our trade are helping whenever occasion presents itself to destroy union shops. Those who have come into contact with the situation in Tampa hold that the trust is the backbone of the manufacturers' resistance and the stumbling block in negotiations and an honorable settlement of the difficulty.

By Samuel Gompers,

President, American Federation of Labor.

The American Federation of Labor sends Christmas greetings to the working people of America.

There is much that calls for an expression of gratitude at this time as we approach the coming of another year, and there is much that causes thoughtful men and women to be apprehensive.

The labor movement must not and cannot deceive itself. It must face the facts and fight its fight in the light of conditions as they are.

Numbers of employers, out of harmony with the great dominant thought of our time, blind to the lessons not only of the immediate past but to that which is transpiring in all other countries, bent only upon greed and willing to encompass destruction to gain profits, are placing obstacles in the road to progress.

Extreme reactionary joins hand, in effect, with extreme radical, to make more difficult the constructive work of the trade union movement, the greatest agency for progress in our Republic.

The American Federation of Labor sends a Christmas greeting in which it pledges itself to the fight to maintain that struggle for humanity and for the betterment of humanity, so fitting at this season.

Let all have courage to fight wrong and intolerance and tyranny. Let the ranks be close and firm. Let the might of right and justice stand solidly against the aggressive efforts of unfreedom and destruction.

The right will triumph only if those who believe in the right assert their belief. Working men and women, unite for justice and progress.

CORRESPONDENCE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11, 1920.

The Montreal convention directed the president to secure a wider distribution of the History, Encyclopedia and Reference Book of the American Federation of Labor. In order to carry out this purpose it is necessary for the officials of the national and international unions to aid in giving publicity to the work. Circulars have been printed to send to all local unions in America, urging that at least one copy be secured by each of them for the use of the organizations.

Those who have examined the work declare it to be the most complete and interesting publication ever issued by any labor movement in the world. Many questions arise in local unions that require much correspondence with national, international and American Federation of Labor officials. With a copy of the book in their possession the officials of unions could refer to it for decisions on most of the issues that might be raised.

New members of unions will find it invaluable in explaining to them the reasons for the attitude of the American Federation of Labor on all questions of importance to labor. It is an educator and will be valuable as an official guide to those who desire absolutely correct information about labor as the dictionary is to those who need its guidance.

Permit me, therefore, to urge upon you the necessity of giving assistance for a more extensive circulation of this work. Editorials in official journals will be helpful. Letters to affiliated local unions setting forth the necessity of each of them obtaining a copy of the book would also be of important aid.

If the officials of the national and international unions will kindly give their help in this most important matter there is no doubt but that the wish expressed by the convention will be fully carried out.

The expense involved in research, in gathering data, printing, binding, postage and expressage made it impossible to sell the book at a lower price than that set, $2 per copy, postage prepaid.

Send check or money order to Frank Morrison, Secretary American Federation of Labor, A. F. of L. Building, Washington, D. C.

Fraternally yours,

SAMUEL GOMPERS.

President American Federation of Labor.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 6, 1920.

If you will give the following article publicity in our Journal I think it will be of benefit to our organization.

On November 11 the Joint Unions amended their bill by adopting the bunch breaking and rolling system under the present scale of prices. This was done for the purpose of giving us or the International Organizers a chance to organize the unorganized. This Local, however, has not been bothered with these kind of factories, until recently we had a union factory to move to St. Charles, a jurisdiction town of this Local, to open a non-union factory under the bunch making and rolling system. The Joint Unions at once took up the matter and had a committee to visit St. Charles. The committee in their report said they had no inducement to offer the employees or girls along the lines of organizing them as long as the Joint Unions forbid the bunch making and rolling system. Afterward you instructed Bro. McCabe, International Organizer, to come to St. Louis, and he with a committee of this city visited St. Charles with the intention of organizing these girls, but met with the same obstacle, having nothing to offer or no way of accepting them into the organization, consequently two weeks later this union adopted the bunch making and rolling system for this jurisdiction. As soon as this action became known this factory was closed and I believe the boss, anticipating the probability of organizing his factory, closed the same before we had a chance of organizing these employees. It is my opinion if the locals throughout the country would permit the bunch making and rolling system and start a general campaign of organizing we would automatically do away with the bunch making and rolling system, because the bosses, in my opinion, don't want this system, but are looking for cheap labor, and as long as we bar this system the bosses have one of the most powerful weapons they could possibly have to keep us from becoming a 100 per cent organization. The Organizers are certainly handicapped when they go into a locality and try to organize the unorganized and the Local won't accept them.

At the last regular meeting the body voted to exonerate Mr. M. Sandberg of the charges for which he was convicted last December. The body respectfully recommends that the fine of $25.00 be rescinded and Mr. Sandberg's name be cleared of the stain against it, on the books in your office. It is further recommended that notice of same be published in the Official Journal.

Report of Organizer.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 4, 1920.

To serve the best purpose in carrying out the work of organization in every locality and each community, and to be as helpful in promoting conditions in the trade by assisting the increasing of the output of union made cigars bearing the label, by encouraging the demand for same, and by stimulating a greater activity on the part of members of the union to work in harmony and union to the end, that better conditions might prevail, and the ranks of the union become augmented by gathering into the fold the large number of unorganized workers that still remain outside the pale of organization in the cigar industry.

Such are the paramount requisites among the duties of organizers and the International Union has directed that labor and energy be devoted in this community in so far, and so long as consistent with time and purpose accomplished.

This center is one which for long years has caused grievous contention in our trade where large non-union manufacturers have flourished in abundance, flooding the market with the products of cheap labor and child-made goods. Situated advantageously as it is, having the resources of man-power to draw from districts that are known as "cheap belts" of Pennsylvania, employers have taken every unfair advantage within their grasp to depress the workers and hold at the lowest possible ebb the scale of wages paid.

Whatever success they have met with in that method of doing business is due to the failure of those engaged in our craft to organize under the banner of the Cigar Makers' International Union, and receive the succor and protection that is accorded them under its sustaining laws, and become a potent strength in determining wages, hours, and conditions under which they shall work.

Environment has much to do with shaping the course of individuals, and groups, and the evidence of that is sadly conspicuous in the lack of the true spirit and principle of organization in this industrial center.

Too much assumed leadership through propagandists with diversified preachments in by-gone years is responsible for destroying confidence in the International union and undermining the foundation of that structure, until old members become confused, new ones were no longer attracted because of false representation and a strong and powerful organization has dwindled to a state of weaklings, both in numbers, aggressiveness and militancy.

There is visible indication here of great absence of harmony and unity of purpose among the members in concentrating upon a plan for healthy growth, and the constructive upbuilding of organization and development of trade.

Agitation for the "Union Label" has not been indulged in with an interest for years, and the fruits of that apathy is clearly shown, for label cigars are nearly as hard to find in this city as a needle in a haystack, about the only brand to be found is the 7-20-4, which is carried by several dealers.

Manufacturers are ever ready to detect weaknesses in the ranks of the unorganized, and strong indications point to a conspiracy on the part of the employers here to further grind down the workers by enforced reductions. When workers desert the protection of their organization they surrender the power of resistance.

Fraternally,

R. S. SEXTON,
General Organizer.

Shenandoah, Pa., Dec. 8, 1920.

Since my last report I have been trying to keep in touch with the ever changing condition throughout the section of the state where they are most apt to develop to the disadvantage of the worker.

The dissatisfaction of these conditions prevail to a large extent among the non-unionists, who seem very anxious for the union members, who are in a minority by large numbers, to take the initiative in protesting against the methods used by the employers to reduce prices, but they will not realize that through their own methods by keeping aloof from the organization, they are as much responsible for these conditions, yea, more so than the employers, for just so long as they do not affiliate with the International Union just so long will the manufacturers take advantage of them.

I have been making myself very plain on the matter in reference to the layoff method used by the firms, contending that instead of laying off half the force the cigar makers should negotiate for half time and keep all working.

This so called depression can be handled to advantage if past experiences are taken into consideration by properly applying the power we unitedly possess and by giving the trade union movement a free hand. I mean by this that all the members are duty bound to exert all their united power to use all honorable means with that of the International to the end that there shall be no let up until all the tobacco workers are in a position to adjust any and all differences arising between themselves and their employers.

Just so long as we have the open shoppers and disruptionists to contend with, just so long will we have to contend with forced conditions which prevail and have prevailed in the past, that are so obnoxious to the willing worker, regardless of our calling.

I have visited the following localities since last report and find little improvement—the indifference has not abated any. Attended meetings in Lebanon, Sellersville, Parkside, Quakertown, Pottsville, Lancaster; visited Akron, Mannheim and Allentown. Have also attended meetings of Metal Polishers, Railway Clerks and Lancaster Central Labor Union on label agitation, as well as assisting the grievance committee of Lancaster, C. I. U., in their negotiations with Brewery Workers and the Columbia Brewing Co. Respectfully submitted,

J. P. KEENEN,
General Organizer.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 4.

Since my last report I have continued my efforts in organizing the females in this city. I have called at homes of many of the girls and women with results in our favor. The sudden drop in labor in unfair cigar factories has put many of the girls out of work. Some, I understand, have been discharged for talking in favor of the union. A few weeks ago these same women got what they demanded. Conditions at the present time allow employers to be independent.

The organization committee of the Women's Label League, in conjunction with the organization committee of the Central Trades Union, are giving free dances every Saturday night in the council hall. An effort is being made to organize the female and male workers at various trades, and I expect to see good results, as the members here seem to think that an active campaign for organizing is necessary to combat the efforts of the large employers of the various crafts in trying to force upon the employes the open shop principle.

We have distributed pamphlets and have others to distribute in a short time. We will then invite these women to an open meeting, after which we expect to have a better field for organization.

Our local is laying particular stress in label agitation. I have assisted the label committee by attending various union meetings, making addresses and passing our cigars. I also visited many of the cigar stores and dealers. This kind of advertising I am sure will bring about a healthy demand for union label cigars.

There seems to be a slowing up in many of the unfair and trust cigar factories and other lines of industry, but as yet this has had no effect on the union cigar factories in this vicinity.

MICHAEL GAZELLA,
Special Organizer.

Ludington, Mich., Dec. 4, 1920.

While in Detroit I was instructed by President Perkins to proceed to Ludington, Mich., where the girls and women of that town had been on strike for more than six months, battling for the rights to organize and to present their demands through the proper committee of their union.

The cause of their strike, or the circumstances which led up to it, briefly are as follows: A factory was started here some three or four years ago and girls learned to make cigars. The proprietor asked the city to secure grounds for him to erect a modern cigar factory. This was done; the factory built. After the plant was in operation a short time along came the Consolidated Cigar Co. and bought the new plant; not the building, not the grounds. Well, what they did buy, they bought the labor of a number of human beings, thinking it was an article of trade or commerce, but they got fooled, for these girls organized and demanded an increase of prices per thousand, also better conditions. This the firm refused, and a strike took place in June, 1920, and is still on. Several attempts have been made to get the girls back to work at the old prices, but they have failed up to date.

On my arrival here I found that many of the business men were trying to have the girls meet the firm to if possible settle the strike and get the girls back to work. The girls stood ready to meet the firm if any reasonable proposition could be brought forward, but would not

LETTERS OF ACCEPTANCE.

Nearly all of the members who were nominated for the various offices to be filled at the coming election and who have declined requested that the unions nominating them should be thanked, through the Official Journal, with assurances of appreciation for the honor conferred. This notice, then, may be accepted as such letter of thanks and appreciation for all concerned.

Sec. 16. Within three days after the nominations have been closed the International President shall issue a circular letter to all the eligible candidates, notifying them of their nomination and the office to which they have been nominated. In the circular he shall also require the candidate to send a letter within twenty days accepting the nomination, and in said letter to give his views of the methods and aims of the International Union. These letters shall not contain more than 500 words each, and shall be published in the December and January issues of the Official Journal, immediately succeeding the nominations. Should any candidate not send in the letter as prescribed herein, and within the specified time, his name shall be stricken from the list of eligibles for the election.

Agreeable to the foregoing constitutional proviso, the following sent letters of acceptance:

INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT.

Chicago, Ill.

Fellow Workmen: With deep appreciation and a stern realization of responsibility, I accept the nomination for President. Periods of readjustment impose tremendous responsibilities. Trade unionism is attacked upon all sides. A mighty task lies just ahead. To successfully bear the burden requires stout hearts and an abiding faith in our movement.

The economic problem is the greatest problem, and doubly so during times of rehabilitation. The paramount issue is sound organization and a formidable structure to maintain it. A firm determination to adopt and maintain fundamental principles is essential, and an equally firm determination not to be led from the path of duty by false issues. Organization of the workers is not an easy task. There is no rosy pathway to success. Those who think otherwise are doomed to disappointment. Work, confidence and faith in the justice of our cause, with a realization of proper economic organization leads to success. Lasting values were never obtained without hard work. I believe in righteous discontent and in progress but not in destruction.

High dues are necessary for permanent, effective organization. Fraternal benefits constitute one of the strongest links that hold us together. Anything that is cheap is worthless. Cheap dues make for ineffective unions. The higher the dues the stronger the union.

I oppose repudiation, the separation of the funds, and an optional sick and death benefit membership class, which means final repudiation of benefits.

We should have more effective arbitration laws, such, however, as will maintain the fundamental right to strike as a last resort.

Conventions at least every three years are necessary in order to make laws to keep us in step with changing conditions.

The majority should rule. Leadership should always courageously stand for principle and real progressive advancement and should accept the will of the majority regardless of personal consequences.

Our membership is composed of men and women holding various political opinions, and since the indisputable necessity is industrial organization it would be the summit of folly to declare for partisan politics of any kind. We can agree upon wages, hours of labor and conditions in our economic organization, and should leave our membership fancy free on the political field of endeavor.

Justice must take the place of viciousness and greed. Constructive trade-unionism points the way to success. Confusion, conflicting emotions, hatred and passion should have no place in our movement. Social justice follows industrial equity. The only potent force standing between tyranny and greed and the producing masses is the trade-union movement.

Experience has demonstrated the necessity of united action and proved the efficacy of trade-union activity.

I believe in the International Union, its principles, aims and objects, and declare it the means by which we can function best in our efforts to obtain a realization of our just hopes and aspirations.

Our union, conceived in righteousness, born of necessity, and dedicated to love of mankind, can not perish. It will grow in proportion to correct methods applied.

Yours fraternally,

G. W. PERKINS.

New York, Dec. 1, 1920.

Fellow Members of Cigar Makers' International Union:

I hereby accept nomination for International President.

The purpose of our union is clearly stated in the preamble to the Constitution, to which I subscribe.

To realize that principle, you must elect as your officers those who have the vision, the knowledge and the conviction as well as the confidence of the members.

Our organization is losing members daily; the unorganized will not join as long as we retain our present official staff. The unorganized does not only question the ability, but the honesty of the present staff.

I want to say emphatically no man is qualified to serve as an officer who has not been employed at the trade in the past five years, for it has undergone extensive and intensive changes that disqualify an officer from a true expression of conditions who has not personally participated in the changed condition.

I have worked continuously at the trade for 30 years in the U. S. and Canada. I know from personal experience the extreme difference in shop conditions, east and west, north and south. I know the cigar makers want an organization that will protect in raising their environment to civilized standards which they do not occupy today.

Our organization is a joke in many localities today because of the apathy of the cigar maker, the treachery and lack of executive ability of the official.

Our organization is bankrupt financially and mentally. To make it function financially we will have to radically change our beneficiary system, to appeal to the unorganized. The death benefit will have to be reduced to not over $100.00.

We should immediately make provision for co-operative shops to be owned by organized labor.

I stand unconditionally for industrial organization of the tobacco industry, cigar makers, bunch makers, right and left handed rollers, suction table rollers and bunchmakers, machine workers, packers, strippers, casers, banders, and stampers, and all employees handling tobacco in any form in a tobacco factory.

My experience in the past general strike in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Boston proves the trade can be organized if you elect officials who have vision and the confidence of the unorganized, and unless we do proceed at once to organize the unorganized, our organization is not worth the paper it is written on.

Should you select me as your next president, you can expect a complete change in policy and principle, and should I fall in my first term to produce more practical benefits to the industry than has been accomplished in the past 25 years, it is up to you to remove me at once.

Mr. Cigar Maker, whatever your decision is, I will stay with the ship until it sinks.

Fraternally,
JAMES A. De BEILL.

Comrades of the C. M. I. U. of A.:

There are a number of questions within our organization which await a proper solution, and probably the most pressing one of all is the organization of the unorganized men and women in our industry.

Though many attempts were made in the past to bring them into the fold, so far but little has been actually accomplished. For many years it has been our dream that some day we may succeed in this, but instead we find ourselves farther away than ever before. Surely there must be something wrong somewhere. Either the form of our organization fails to appeal to them or else we have failed to win their confidence. If it is the fault of our organization that keeps them from casting their future with ours, I believe we should lose no time in making the necessary changes in the benefit laws that we may fully conform to their desires. If it is the latter, then I believe that if approached with a spirit of true comradeship we will have no trouble in gaining their confidence.

I have an all abiding faith in the men and women of our industry outside the organization. I believe that their hearts beat true to the principles of unionism if only shown our willingness to stand or fall with them. I shall leave nothing undone that may hold us from welding the workers in our line into a living and compact fighting force, because if there is strength in unity there must be more strength in larger unity. If elected I shall bend all my energies to smooth away whatever difficulties may stand between us, as I consider the full organization of our craft as of the highest importance.

Of course, it is but natural that to maintain the International Office it is necessary that funds be provided to carry on the work, but I believe that the president should not be permitted to spend such funds to the point of extravagance. Our International Office is costing the organization entirely too much. I am utterly opposed to reckless expenditure of the hard earned money of the membership unless the returns shall warrant it. I shall always consider it a crime to spend more than is absolutely necessary so long as the growth of our union remains stationary.

I hold that it is not in keeping with the democratic form of our organization for the president to assume autocratic powers. I am not a believer in the idea that a president may with impunity insult members by calling them traitors and cowards simply because such members may hold an opinion upon matters of laws or amendments to the laws. I believe that the humblest member shall have the right to freely submit his views upon any question and be helped by the president, rather than hindered, in submitting views or opinions to the judgment of the membership. The initiative and referendum was embodied into our laws for this purpose and no officer must be permitted to vilify a member and use coercion to deny him this most fundamental right.

A presiding officer is valuable to an organization only when he is willing to co-operate with the membership in every way and stand ready to accept the advice and judgment of their intellect. Such a communism and co-operation of officer and membership can not fail to bring strength and unity into our organization.

Nothing has hurt us so much in the past as the total absence of a spirit of good will and comradeship in our ranks and nothing is so sadly needed just now when we find ourselves so beset by problems of organizing the unorganized, finding a solution of the question of benefits to overcome the objection of those whom we must have within our body and provide better facilities to finance the struggles we will encounter in so doing, as well as our own strikes.

If elected I shall either make good or give way to some one who will.

Fraternally yours for a higher and nobler life for the workers.

JAS. S. SMITH.

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 26, 1920.

FIRST VICE PRESIDENT.

Washington, D. C., 1920.
To the Officers and Members of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

Fellow Cigar Makers:

If ever unity of action and spirit was necessary by every person working at our craft, that time is now. The forces of reaction are endeavoring to drive back the advantage ground which the workers have won in recent years.

The Cleveland convention laid the plans for the thorough organization of every worker in our industry. Every facility should be used to bring all of them into the International Union, and it can be done and will be done if we are all true to each other and to our own interests.

Progress is not made by leaps and bounds. Our International Union affords the ways and the means by which the lot and condition of the cigar makers and of all the workers in the cigar industry can be protected and promoted.

As a member of our International Union, as one of its officials, as its representative in the great labor movement in America, I have endeavored to carry the principles of our organization to the fullest fruition. If elected by the membership I shall deem it not only an honor, but a mandate to help carry on the work of organization, education, the attainment of the justice to which we are all entitled, and the abolition of every wrong which we have too long endured.

Fraternally yours,

SAMUEL GOMPERS.
First Vice President.

FIRST VICE PRESIDENT.

New York, N. Y., 1920.

Fellow Trade Unionists:

In accepting the nomination for First Vice President, I have to say that one of the burning questions is the fraternal benefit feature in our organization—the sick and death benefit.

I believe that we have reached a climax, and that something must be done. I do not believe in doing away with the benefit because I feel that the members who have paid so many years into the union and who have been told through law that they will reap the benefit have the right to receive same, but what I do claim should be done is, that a sufficient fund should be created in the International Union so that the members who are entitled to the endowment should receive same.

I do not deny the fact that it is a beautiful feature to assist our fellow men, but we have been trying all these years to do something that is impossible—which is to serve two masters at one time. We have been trying to function as an economic organization, also a sick and death benefit society, and we find that both cannot be run with success—either one may suffer and the possibilities are that in the end both will suffer, and therefore I maintain that there must be a division of funds—one to serve the economic interest and the other to protect the members that are entitled to the death benefit feature. We must not forget that the cigar makers have been organized into an International Union for their economic interest first, and that should be uppermost in the mind, because it is only through our economic strength that we can combat the economic enemy of labor.

I believe also there should be home rule for all large cigar centers. What I mean is, if there are any grievances in a factory or factories that a competent committee of the Joint Advisory Board should investigate the matter, and that after all had been done or could be done through negotiating with the employer, and if all this has failed and a strike is called through a referendum vote and when regulated, then the members would get their strike benefit from the day the strike had been declared by a referendum vote in the locality where the trouble may exist and same to be reported to the International President.

I also believe that the International President and the Executive Board of the C. M. I. U. of A. should outline plans for education along industrial lines, and I also believe that our Official Journal should not only be used for trade statistics, which I realize are of vital importance, but also to give sufficient space for the members to learn where real economic interest lies. It may be, then, through those sources that they will understand that the organization is really for their interest as far as wages and conditions are concerned, more so than for sick and death benefits—so we would become a militant organization.

Yours fraternally,

JACK MELHADO.

SECOND VICE PRESIDENT.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 27, 1920.

Fellow Members:

In accepting the nomination for Second Vice President of the C. M. I. U. of A., which has been tendered me by so many of the local unions, I wish to repeat my views as expressed in past elections for International officers.

Five more years have been added to the history of the labor movement, not without results. We may not see them as yet, but I am firmly convinced that these results are in the making, and that before many months we will see our industry organized as it never was before. The idea of a proper organization was given to the Cleveland convention, but the majority of the delegates voted it down. I believe that the membership eventually will put the idea into action. The destinies of the industry from the employers' point of view are shaping on a co-operative basis. Why should not the destinies of the employees' point of view? Just compare the psychology of the custom tailors with the garment workers and later the amalgamated clothing workers. Let's take heed from that. Why should the balance wheel of a watch be the only part to consider? Other parts of a watch are just as necessary. Other parts of our trade are just as necessary to our welfare.

I favor a 100 per cent organization, but if I see we can not get it with our high dues and assessments, then let us make these reasonable to them. Let us make the inducement to them such that they can not refuse to come in. Then in a co-operative spirit emancipate our craft, our industry.

In this spirit should all crafts be fully organized and through this we would find the means for the final emancipation of labor.

Fraternally,

L. P. HOFFMAN.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20, 1920.

Fellow Craftsmen:

I accept the nomination of Second Vice President and thank the local unions who have honored me by placing my name in nomination for that office.

In stating my views of the aims and purposes of our organization, I desire to say that upon the completion of my apprenticeship I became a member of the Cigar Makers' International Union because I believed in its principles. Today my faith in our organization remains unchanged, for, although we have met with some reverses, history proves that through our organization we have increased wages and decreased the working hours of our craft, fulfilled every obligation to our members and contributed much toward the advancement of the labor movement. Moreover, the only successful labor movement is built upon the solid foundation of trade unionism, hence my firm belief in our present form of organization. Although our union has been and is of incalculable benefit to our members, the full measure of its possible benefits cannot be enjoyed until all workers in the trade are within our ranks, for the unorganized members of our industry selling their labor for less than the union rate constitute the chief obstacle to our complete success.

Therefore, I favor conducting an intensive campaign of education and agitation among the unorganized and I believe in admitting to membership all workers engaged in the cigar industry, because it is by solidarity and unity of action alone, such as has been shown by the Tampa strikers, for example, that we can enjoy the full benefits of trade unionism.

I favor a continuance of the sick and death benefits, because experience has shown that many members have remained such in times of business depression and adversity only because they valued these benefits. Again, in time of sickness and infirmity, thousands of our members have been entirely dependent upon the sick benefit received from our union and without it must have asked for charity to furnish medical aid.

Still further, in many instances deceased members would have been buried in Potter's field and their families subjected to humiliation and distress had it not been for the receipt of their death benefit from our unions. Among the chief obligations of humanity are to care for the sick and to bury the dead. Therefore, I favor the continuance of our sick and death benefit plan until a better one has been proposed and adopted.

In addition to our regular strike benefit feature, I favor the maintenance of a special strike fund to be used in lockouts and prolonged strikes.

In conclusion I would say that I believe we are facing the most critical period of our history, for the enemies of organized labor are even now making war against us to the end that they may destroy the only barrier that stands between the workers and wage slavery. Therefore, let us resolve that we shall face the enemy with a united and increased membership, firm in our conviction that trade unionism cannot and will not be destroyed.

Yours fraternally,

I. M. ORNBURN.

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 2, 1920.

Dear Sir: For the last 30 consecutive years I have acted to the best of my ability trying to organize the cigar makers and other workers with whom I had the opportunity to associate and address.

The future policy of our organization depends upon the knowledge of the majority members. Before we can evolve to idealism mental laziness must be abolished. It is not in accord with the intellectual welfare of our craft, or the import of our union. To free ourselves mentally will reduce our physical efforts to the minimum. Therefore, the study of economics and history, biology, astronomy, geology, sociology and metaphysics, should be encouraged if we wish to harmonize with future civilization.

Knowing that poverty and crimes, wars and revolutions, mental confusion and strikes, are born of an economic division, I favor a vigorous campaign among the people, hoping to organize them strong enough to eliminate the economic division that has caused so much anxiety in the past. To guarantee supremacy to the people, we must educate and make them economically secure. To do it we must lay our foundation upon the invulnerable rock of industrial democracy. Stupendous as our task may be, it is the solution of the labor problem.

I will accept the nomination for Second Vice President of the C. M. I. U. of A., with the hope that our union shall be in the vanguard of industrial democracy. Yours truly,

WILLIAM KELLY.

THIRD VICE PRESIDENT.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 22, 1920.
To the Officers and Members of Our International Union.—Fellow Craftsmen:

In accepting the nomination for Third Vice President, I wish to tender thanks to my nominators and to express a few thoughts which will, in my opinion, assist in maintaining the prestige of the International Union and assuring greater strength for the future.

I strongly favor our laws which provide the machinery to levy international assessments whenever any portion of our members are assailed by a combination of vicious employers, such as are now waging a war against our Tampa brothers.

I also approve of a rate of dues sufficient to pay all our present chain of benefits, because I believe the beneficial features have greatly assisted in maintaining the stability of our international while undergoing the strain of the Tampa struggle. All honor to the Tampa strikers for their determination to win. We must continue to supply the ammunition, because the fight of the Tampa members is also our fight.

The individual and collective status of our local unions will determine just what effective work may be accomplished to uplift our craft on the American continent, because our democratic laws give every opportunity to the members to strengthen our International Union.

We must not only talk, but we must practice "co-operation." If we expect greater results we must have greater "cohesion"; we must therefore avoid and beware of any proposed "dual movement."

We must also have a greater "continuity of action" in our label agitation to overcome the increasing power of the trust made products.

Our present laws, or more properly the lack of same and up to date laws, to advance the sale of union label cigars, is to be regretted. I have the greatest respect and admiration for the brilliant advertising work of Boston union and several other locals in the "eastern states," because they practice with good effect that "continuity of action." How many score of smaller locals have failed to obtain advertising results from the International funds expended? The present method of individual local action is responsible. The local interest is contracted instead of being expanded. State or provincial label leagues are doing good work, but many large districts under our International jurisdiction are without label leagues, some times by reason of the scattered small locals and also by the indifference shown by larger locals.

Therefore, I would strongly advocate the creation of an International Advertising Bureau, to issue and circulate up to date label advertising over the North American continent.

Fraternally yours,

D. W. KENNEDY.

Toronto, Nov. 20, 1920.

To Members of C. M. I. U. of A.

Having received the nomination for Third Vice President, I take the constitutional method of informing the membership of my opinion in regard to our present International Union.

There seems to be a great amount of dissension among our membership, and sorry to say our organization has been made the "goat" of and held up as the real reason for the dissension. There are some who seem to think that we need a new union. I wish to point out that unless we have more solidarity we will in a short space of time have no union.

I believe, and I am absolutely certain, that we have at the present time the most democratic organization in existence. It is true our union is not quite what we would like it to be. But remember the majority of the members have the power to change the Constitution and make the organization just as they want it. What more can an organization offer its membership?

Our benefit system has been held up to ridicule by large numbers of our membership as being responsible for big dues and assessments. The International President has pointed out to the membership several times in our journal that it was the large number of members out on strike that was responsible for heavy assessments. Nobody can deny this statement. Look up the financial statements for the past two years and see amount paid out in strike benefits.

Fellow members, above all let's have unity, and with a thorough campaign to organize the unorganized and the return of normal times. I firmly believe the time will come when the workers in our industry will stand second to none. I appeal to you members, no matter what officers you elect this time, give them your respect and support and our organization will again push onward. If I am elected to your International Executive Board or not, I will always fight for solidarity and the International Union.

Yours fraternally,

A. McDONALD.

FOURTH VICE PRESIDENT.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 2, 1920.

Fellow Craftsmen:

Having been officially notified by the International President of my nomination for the office of Fourth Vice President of the C. M. I. U. of A., I herewith accept the honor conferred upon me by the unions that have placed my name in nomination. My views as to the aims and objects are expressed by the preamble of the constitution, which says organization being necessary for the amelioration and final emancipation of labor, etc., in order to ameliorate our lot we must endeavor to thoroughly organize our craft not only along protective and fraternal lines but also as class conscious wage workers to take advantage of all opportunities to improve our conditions and educate ourselves in order that we may realize our final emancipation, i. e., the final abolition of wage slavery.

The paramount issue confronting our organization at the present time should be uniform bills of prices and uniform interpretation of them. This could be done by dividing the country into sections and have one bill of prices for each section, with a board of control to interpret them. This would eventually lead up to a universal bill of prices instead of a multitude of bills of prices, as we now have throughout the country.

Again thanking those unions that have placed me in nomination and assuring the members that should I be re-elected that I will use my best efforts to fulfill the duties of my office in a fair and impartial manner, strictly in accordance with the constitution adopted by the Cleveland convention and ratified by a referendum vote of the members of the C. M. I. U. of A.

Yours fraternally,

JOHN REICHERT.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22, 1920.

Fellow Members:

Having been nominated by 44 local unions for Fourth Vice President, I deem it my duty to accept these nominations and I do so with a feeling of gratitude, and I thank the unions for the honor conferred upon me.

I have been a member of the Cigar Makers' International Union for 19 years, and I am a firm believer of the policy of our organization, and the only organization that can and that will better our conditions. I feel satisfied that without our chain of benefits our organization, and no other, would exist any length of time.

I believe in amending our constitution when necessary, but do not believe in destroying our organization to afterward try and construct another. I do not believe in fooling my fellow workers with dreams of cheap dues and large benefits—this cannot be done.

I believe that our trade should be completely organized, and that this should be done at the earliest time possible. A special campaign should be continued, especially in the cheap districts. This will give the organized cities a better opportunity of maintaining their conditions and bettering their standard.

If elected, will do my best to advance the welfare of all members of our International Union, and not particularly a section or district. I will always comply with our constitution. We should respect our laws.

I wish it to be understood that I will be and will act as a true blue member and officer of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

With best wishes for all of our members, I remain, yours fraternally,

MANUEL GONZALEZ.

Eau Claire, Wis., Nov. 24, 1920.

Dear Sir and Brother:

In reply to your notification of my nomination for Fourth Vice President, would advise that I will accept same, and in compliance with Section 16 I am writing these few lines.

I am making no criticism nor suggest any changes at this time, but to accomplish any great purpose in the cigar and tobacco industry there must be organizing efforts under competent leaders, sympathetic co-operation from all organized trades and a due regard for the rights and welfare of all engaged in the undertaking are important elements of success, but organization must be maintained and responsible leadership acknowledged.

Fraternally yours,

GUY J. JOHNSON.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 19, 1920.

Having been honored by Local No. 17 of Cleveland, Ohio, with the nomination to Fourth Vice President of our International Union, I hereby beg to inform you that I accept to be a candidate.

I regret that it is almost impossible for me to comply with the constitutional provisions for this case, as I have not time to devote in writing my viewpoints regarding the development of our International Union.

The strike in which I am directly affected has taken and is still taking all my time, and it will be a very hard task for me to turn my attention over to any other matter just now, so I hope that my position will be fully understood.

As a member of the ranks I am fighting since April 14th last and have devoted all my will and little knowledge to the betterment of our class as an organization, and will continue to do so to the utmost of my ability, no matter what the result of the election may be.

Fraternally yours,

NICHOLAS LARA.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 25, 1920.

Dear Brother:

Having been placed in nomination by Local No. 46 of Grand Rapids, Mich., for the office of Fourth Vice President, I wish, in compliance with Section 16, to notify you of my acceptance of same.

I have been a continuous member of the cigar makers for 30 years, consequently I know that I am in a position to realize the aims and objects of our supreme body and all of its locals. It has always been my contention that affiliation with the Cigar Makers' International has always meant the betterment and uplift of our craft. It also means that being a member and living up to the oath taken at time of initiation leads the way to better manhood, both physically and mentally; better workers, brotherly love, sanitary shop conditions and assisting our officers, both local and international, in every way possible.

In this immediate jurisdiction I feel that we are sadly in need of organization, and in case I am fortunate enough to be chosen Fourth Vice President I will do everything in my power to remedy the situation here and will at all times be ready to submit to the will of my superior officers.

The organizing of girl cigar makers seems to be the hardest nut to crack here. They seem to be satisfied with present conditions and remain in "scab" shops, completely ignoring all appeals made by officials of No. 46. As a remedy, I would suggest that all locals elect or appoint a delegation of live wires to each central body and that that delegation ask for a committee to visit all locals affiliated with said central bodies and insist that union men refrain from buying cigars, tobacco, cigarettes and wearing apparel that do not bear the union label. I believe a campaign along the above line would mean a greater demand for Blue Label cigars, consequently a greater demand for men to make them, and an increase in membership. I have also, noticed, by close observation, that a number of members of other unions pay no attention whatever to the Blue Label when purchasing a cigar. Those men should be taught to respect all labels, and thereby prove that they are union men in the true sense of the word.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of No. 46 for the great honor they have conferred upon me by selecting me as its choice for the Fourth Vice Presidency of the International.

Wishing all members of the Cigar Makers' International Union, together with its supreme officers, a prosperous and successful holiday season, I beg to remain,

Fraternally yours,

ADRIAN E. PICKETT.

FIFTH VICE PRESIDENT.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 25, 1920.

Dear Sirs and Bros.:

Yours of recent date advising me of my nomination as Fifth Vice President by a number of unions received, and in accepting same it is with the realization of the responsibilities which devolve upon me, if elected.

As in the past, I assure the membership that I am a trade unionist and believe in not only the officers being active in every line of endeavor that will bring to the worker that which he is entitled to, but that every member should be the same. "Activity of all is what is most needed in every organization." I am for a thorough organization of the industry and know that it can be done with the co-operation of all—this from observation through my work as chief organizer of the State Federation of Labor.

I maintain that the sick and death benefit should be maintained, not only for the present membership, but it is an inducement, if properly understood, and put to the unorganized. And the same applies to a large percentage of the membership, who I am sure do not realize that it is just as important to insure themselves for a little income should sickness overcome them, and in providing their dependents with enough to defray funeral expenses, and at a cost of a fraction of little over 3 cents a day. These benefits are, in my opinion, just as important as strike benefit, which is, of course, necessary in our industrial struggles, both in protecting our conditions as well as establishing newer or better ones.

There is no reason now, or has there ever been any danger, as to the future of our International Union, unless it be the lack of interest upon the part of the membership, i. e., agitation for the patronage of the label, or from the boring from within by certain elements who are opposed to our trade union form of organization that has weathered every storm in the past and will do the same in the years to come. I believe in progress in every sense of the word, but that progress that will add to and build up permanently, not that which will give today and take away that gained and more too on the morrow, by destroying the machinery that made it possible—"the union."

The movement of labor of our time has no apologies to make; it has done wonders considering the obstacles it has had to overcome, i. e., the inactivity and lack of interest of fully 75 per cent of the membership. The great army of unorganized workers that are unwilling to co-operate and give, and at all times the united opposition of the employer. And still we have gone on and on, and I am hoping from day to day that the awakening will come, at least among the workers in our own industry, the obligation that they owe their dependents, as well as fellow workers, the need of affiliating with our International Union. And it will be my aim, if re-elected to this important office, to bring about as near a 100 per cent organization as possible.

Thanking the many unions and members for their confidence reposed in me by their nominations. I am, with personal wishes to all,

Fraternally yours,

E. G. HALL,
Fifth Vice President.

Cleveland, O.

Fellow Members:

Having accepted the nomination for Fifth Vice President my views in reference to our International are as follows:

The present laws as adopted at the last convention and sanctioned by the majority vote of the members stand for the same principles as when first organized, to benefit the workers in obtaining better wages, shop sanitation, stock conditions and through collective force and solidarity to make this life more worth living.

I am therefore heartily in accord with the constitutional laws, believing them to be the best presented thus far.

Internal differences and dissension in our union is a menace to our organization and could and should be eliminated for the best interest of all. All questions can be settled by our own referendum provisions.

I am in favor of our laws being changed at any time by amendments submitted—that spells progress—but am opposed to any proposition that will, in my opinion, retard if not actually disrupt our union. I am opposed to the methods of the self styled propaganda league; it is but giving ammunition to our enemies, and in my opinion it has helped to prolong the Tampa as well as other strikes in the country. Our enemies read these pamphlets and use them accordingly. I am opposed to any laws or benefits being taken out of our constitution until something tangible is submitted to take its place.

I will not discard my old clothes and go in a nude state until I get new ones. I will get the new ones first and then do the discarding.

I surely am not in sympathy with any of the secession moves now in progress; moves of this character cause only disruption and accomplish nothing; it is music to the ears of the open shopers and American plan bosses. In voting on appeals my judgment will be based upon the evidence submitted and not upon friendship and bias.

I wish to thank the locals that nominated me for Fourth Vice President, also for delegate to the A. F. of L. convention. I surely appreciate the honor of having their confidence and good will.

A member 28 years May 26, 1921, and in all these years have believed in that old saying, but slightly changed, "My union, may she ever be right, but right or wrong, my union."

The verdict is in your hands.

Fraternally submitted,

WM. D. DAWSON.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 28, 1920.

Your notification of my nomination for Fifth Vice President received and am highly gratified, and will say that I will accept it.

Will say that am for a greater, better and far more effective unionism. I think this statement covers all salient points.

Yours fraternally,

CHAS. HORNBERG.

Oshkosh, Wis.

Local 168 of Oshkosh, Wis., nominated me for the office of Fifth Vice-President, which I have accepted, and wish to say that I have been a member of the Cigarmakers' International for the past 17 years and a member of the Executive Board of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, now serving my third year. If elected to the office of Fifth Vice-President of the C. M. I. U. will assure the members that I will do all in my power to serve our members in the future as I have in the past. The drive that is being made by the organized employers of this country for their open shop system is very vital to the workers in all trades. It is only to bring down the wages and lengthen the hours and to create unemployment of the American workers. To prevent unemployment in this country it is the duty of every organized worker to agitate unemployment insurance in every state in the union. When once unemployment insurance becomes a law in every state it will take away the hardship and suffering among the working classes of this country and give them more steady employment.

Closing with best wishes. Candidate for Fifth Vice-President.

Fraternally yours,

F. J. JANDA.

SIXTH VICE PRESIDENT.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 28, 1920

To the Officers and Members of the Cigar Makers' International Union.

Greeting:

In accepting the nomination as a candidate for Sixth Vice President I do so with the knowledge that great changes are taking place affecting our trade and organization. It is scarcely necessary to repeat the things that every member of the Cigar Makers' Union knows regarding the aims and objects of the International Union, because they are set forth in a few words, namely, better working conditions, more adequate pay, full and complete organization of all workers in the industry and co-operation with all other trade unions, looking to the final emancipation of wage workers. I desire to be very frank in stating my position, as it may have a bearing upon the views of the various members of locals affiliated with the Cigar Makers' International Union. I have not for some time worked at the bench, although I have been in close connection with the labor movement as an officer of the State Federation of Labor. I mention this because many have said that members of the Executive Board should be men or women who are actually engaged at the trade.

If elected to succeed myself, I will endeavor at all times and places to further the interest of the Cigar Makers' International Union.

Fraternally yours,

E. J. STACK.

Nevada City, Cal.

Fellow Craftsmen:

In accepting the nomination for the office of Sixth Vice President I do so with the hope that the great Pacific slope may continue to be represented on the International Executive Board, and with nothing but the best interests of the International Union at heart. I believe the most sought for characteristic in selecting either local or International officers should be the real trade union principle, regardless of political views or affiliations.

In compliance with the constitution I submit as briefly as possible my views of the methods and aims of the International Union. I wish to call your attention to a few things which I consider of grave importance if our International Union is to be continued as a healthy, fighting, militant organization.

The first and most essential factor is the complete organization of all workers in the tobacco industry, including cigar machine operators, under one head.

The establishment of a minimum day's pay for all cigar makers and packers. A shortening of the term of apprenticeship, with a graduated minimum day's pay also, and a uniform bill of prices throughout the jurisdiction of the International Union.

I also believe the hours of labor could and should be reduced from 48 to 44 hours per week, followed by a rigid enforcement of the eight-hour law.

But above all things am I opposed to the separation of funds or a division of membership, and I believe we can best build up our union by preserving or increasing our present chain of benefits, rather than reducing or destroying any of them.

I am satisfied all these things and even more may easily be accomplished by united effort or co-operation on the part of the members by pulling together instead of pulling apart, and by boosting our International Union and its officers instead of knocking them, which seems to be the favorite pastime with a good many of our members today.

And as a parting shot, let me say I am always willing to work with the construction gang, but never with the wrecking crew.

Yours Fraternally,

ALEX. RAMSEY.

Nov. 18, 1920.

SEVENTH VICE PRESIDENT.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18, 1920.

I am pleased to accept the nomination for Seventh Vice President, and in accordance with Section 16, Constitution. C. M. I. U., I herewith submit my declaration of principles:

I have implicit confidence in the officers and members of the C. M. I. U. I am in hearty accord with its policies and I am in favor of continuing its chain of benefits, knowing that it has been of great benefit to its members, has strengthened the organization and kept it intact.

No man nor set of men has shown me anything better. When he does I shall be for it and him.

Fraternally yours,

C. H. STEVENS.
Seventh Vice Pres.

Philadelphia, Pa.

Fellow Workers:

With appreciation and gratitude I accept the nomination of Seventh Vice President, and in giving my opinion pertaining to conditions as I see them in our industry, I desire to state first of all, I have always given the first consideration to the interest of our International Union, and after a thorough study I find that on account of the changes in our industry we have gone backwards with leaps and bounds because we have not kept pace with the changes. The result is we have not been able to organize the unorganized workers in our industry and we have not only remained stationary, but we have actually went backwards to an alarming state.

Now, there must certainly be a reason for such a state of affairs when we have approximately about 150,000 workers in our industry unorganized, although the workers in our industry are no different than others.

First of all, being in an unorganized section, I find that the high dues and numerous high assessments are one of the main causes. While I am in favor of reasonably high dues, I am not in favor of prohibitory dues. Secondly, it is imperative that we change our fraternal features so that a cigar maker can choose whether he wants to pay for insurance or not. In other words, we must have a fraternal feature separated from the economic feature; that shall be optional with an applicant.

I desire to state at this time that on account of the top heavy condition of our beneficiary system we have forced good old members out of the union because they could not bear the terrible heavy burden. Some may say that when we had cheaper dues it was also hard to organize the cigar makers, and I believe the statement to be a fact. However, we can not look at the past, but to try to get them into our organization in the future, and I am firmly of the belief that if our present high dues and assessments are to continue, and I am sure we are going to have assessments continuously if we only have a small strike, because it takes all of our present income to pay our fraternal obligations, and any other expenses, namely, organizers and the running of the International office, and anyone having the interest of the International Union at heart can see where we are drifting to.

I am also opposed to the present system of placing our organizers. When conditions warrant the same, I am a firm believer in local autonomy. That is, in a locality where an organizer is needed, the locality shall have the right to say whom they want for that most essential work.

Therefore, I can assure my fellow workers that if elected that I will do everything in my power to work and strive for legislation that will enable us to organize those outside of our International Union and for the ultimate goal—industrial freedom.

Yours for an effective and a greater International Union. Fraternally yours,

L. HERNFELD.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 20, 1920.

Fellow Craftsmen:

In accepting the nomination for the Seventh Vice President I do so with a knowledge of the responsibility of an executive officer.

The period of reconstruction is bringing us face to face with an opposition which threatens our very existence and the consolidated forces of our organization will be needed to hold our present position.

The special strike fund created by the March and September assessment is a step in the right direction and while the amount is limited to $5 per capita for this purpose, I am of the opinion that the larger such a fund the less liable we are to need it for the purpose specified.

In the event of opportunity this fund might be diverted toward the gaining of the control of our industry, by what method is a matter of detail and should be worked out if possible by the Executive Board. The control of the raw material, the introduction of the machine, the large distributing agencies and the declining profits of the independent manufacturers are slowly but surely strangling union factories and I feel that the opportunity for many of our members to continue in the trade is growing smaller unless they resort to working for the very agencies who are crushing them. Thus the money, instead of being used for strike, should be used for control.

I am a strong believer in our chain of benefits, but I also believe that certain amounts should be set aside for investment so that the fund of the International Union might help pay the cost, instead of assessing all of it on the membership, as at present. Our funds as at present arranged draw very little interest, and certain sums should be invested to assist in paying our obligations and at the same time gain a larger and larger influence in the control of the industry.

As to the aims of our union, it is stated very well in the preamble of the constitution. When the final emancipation will take place "God only knows," but the amelioration is taking place and must continue, but can go no faster than the conditions and the membership will permit.

I believe that the Journal should be the medium for exchanging ideas in relation to trade affairs, but should be free from personal attack in such discussions.

The organized attack by the National Chamber of Commerce, manufacturers' associations and kindred associations, should be met by all of our purchasing power being used for union label goods and employing union men and women, and that the International Executive Board should employ the organizers in advertising work during their spare time, as strangers often help the home efforts.

In 34 years of continuous membership I have seen many changes for the better and we have given inspiration to others, and by a solid front we will not only break down the efforts of our enemies, but will continue to advance under the banner of the C. M. I. U. of A.

Fraternally,
JAMES F. MANEE.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 24, 1920.

Yours of the 8th inst. received and contents noted regarding the nomination of International officers, and in answer will say I accept the nomination for the office of Seventh Vice President and if elected I promise to work for the best interest of the International Union, and when called upon to vote on any question of appeals or otherwise I will do so to the best of my ability without fear or favor to anyone. I believe it should be the duty of the International Executive Board to make every effort in trying to bring about such legislation that will enable the International Union to more completely organize the vast number of unorganized workers of the craft. I also believe that this section of the Pacific coast should be represented on the International Executive Board for several reasons. One in particular is that this section of the country has been the dumping ground for many years for the trust made non-union goods and now some of these firms are contemplating opening branch shops in this locality. So by having a member on the International Executive Board we would be able to meet direct with the other members of the Executive Board and thereby be in a position to fully explain and discuss existing conditions here, and which might be a great help to us in forming some plan whereby we might more fully organize the workers in this section of the country.

Thanking the members for my nomination, and wishing everyone the compliments of the season, I beg to remain,

Yours fraternally,
WM. HESLOP.

TREASURER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 26, 1920.

To the Members of the International Union.

Greeting:

Having received from Union No. 1 and 326

other locals the nomination for International Treasurer, so in compliance with Section 16 of the International constitution I am to give my views of the methods and aims of the International Union. "It is not a theory that confronts us, but a condition"—and a condition that will require the wisdom of the ablest minds to meet and overcome, in the struggle that is now going on, in order to find the best methods in this crisis, to hasten our movement to its final goal—the emancipation of labor. Of course, we will meet all obstacles that confront us with a steady courage and a will to conquer which will end in victory, but the gravity of the situation must be met calmly and the means to be taken to avoid disaster.

Had the International Union had the foresight and taken the steps advocated by the International Treasurer in his letters of acceptance of 1895, 1900 and 1905 the present conditions would not be confronting us now. The old saying is, "Opportunity knocks once at every door," so in these years now gone by it knocked at the door of the International Union, but the knock was not answered and Opportunity passed us by and knocked at the door of the "trust," who opened and are now reaping the harvest that should have been ours. We are still striving for our aims with the same obsolete weapons that should have been discarded long ago. We are still wasting millions in strike benefits which never will bring our aims to fruition.

The "talk" of raising a million dollar defense fund is an abortive measure, as our oppressors can raise ten millions to defeat us. It were a million times better to raise that amount and invest it in establishing International Union factories and jobbing houses.

Twenty-five years ago, when the above method was advocated by the International Treasurer we had within our ranks about three-fourths of the skilled hand and mold workers and we would have had a monopoly of the trade, and would have steadily advanced from then on, until the International Union would have become one grand co-operative association, with all the advantages accruing thereto, and our aims would long since have been reached. As we let Opportunity pass by, we are now confronted by a combination of capitalists whose sole aim is to squeeze the last cent out of labor by its monopolistic power, so it is self-evident that there can be no industrial emancipation without political unity, so in our onward march to our final aim and goal let united labor stand together politically and industrially and the doom of capitalistic tyranny will be sealed, labor's emancipation proclaimed, and a new era dawn on earth.

Thanking the members for their generous endorsement of my course, I will, if elected, discharge the duties of the office with fidelity.

Fraternally yours,
GIBSON WEBER.

FOR DELEGATE TO A. F. OF L.

Washington, D. C., 1920.

To the Officers and Members of the Cigar Makers' International Union.

Fellow Cigar Makers—It is a great compliment and honor to be nominated by so many local unions as delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. I accept the nomination with a full appreciation of the responsibility which goes with it.

The modern labor movement of America expresses the best thought and highest ideals for the attainment of the rights and the promotion of the interests and welfare of the toiling masses.

Impatient as I am with the progress made, yet I realize that it is the fastest which can be made continuously, to the attainment and realization of all that to which earnest and enlightened men and women aspire.

In the American Federation of Labor we have four and one-half million organized trade unionists. Perhaps a half million more in the railroad organizations will enter the ranks at no distant time. The most important task before us is the organization of the yet unorganized, to instill the spirit of unity and solidarity and to press forward day by day, year in and year out, for improvement in the standards of life and work, making for the betterment of all and the cultivation of that spirit that shall make for the universal brotherhood of man.

Fraternally yours,
SAM'L GOMPERS,
First Vice-President.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 25, 1920.

In accepting the nomination for Delegate to the American Federation of Labor and in compliance with Section 16 of the constitution, I herewith submit the following:

To the Officers and Members of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

Fellow Members:

Our country—the world—just now is in the midst of an unusual governmental and industrial condition. Cool heads, strong hearts and experience are more than ever needed to lead us. We have them. In my opinion the American Federation of Labor stands out and above any other labor organization that now or ever did exist in this or any other country. Has helped to bring into our lives many of the things necessary for our comfort and is today in better condition than previously (and just as willing) to lead labor's forces as nearly to a safe harbor as the human family will permit. Our good old union can and will weather the storms from within or without. Industrial struggles of the past are ample proof of this. An instance, the 1893-4 panic. We came out of that panic with an increase of more than 4,000 members—and besides maintained our bills of prices. Not another national or international union can say as much, and yet at this time we are facing an element in our trade that is doing more to divide our ranks—befog present day issues—than any combination of employers would hope to accomplish by themselves. Industrial conditions of today lead wise men to prepare for a storm. If that time comes those who now are feeding up on fanciful theories and ever ready scandal, attempting to tear down the only organization that ever benefited the workers in our trade, will come back—as they did in a previous progressive movement that some of us lived through and will remember. They failed then, as they will now, because of faulty structure, while our Cigar Makers' International Union, with a constitution made by a referendum vote of our members—its financial system—benefits-wise leadership and our loyal union members, can and will land our grand old ship into harbor safely. We have the structure and a foundation that endures—the rocks of fair dealing, bound by the bonds of unionism.

I believe that union members should elect union men to apply our referendum made union laws—not men in sympathy with other movements possibly in opposition to our international Union—and if I be elected a delegate to the American Federation of Labor it will be with the understanding that thoughts and feelings such as these will govern my actions.

I want to express to Union No. 1, Baltimore, and the 168 other locals my appreciation for the nominations so generously given me.

Yours fraternally,

W. A. CAMPBELL.

Int'l. Financier, Member of Union No. 53, New Orleans.

Washington, D. C.

Fellow Workers:

I am in receipt of notification informing me that I have been placed in nomination for Delegate to the A. F. of L. convention, by Union No. 1, Baltimore, and 108 other local unions.

I accept the nomination with full appreciation of the honor conferred by the unions, and mindful of the deep responsibility that is incumbent on him who is chosen to represent the International Union in that capacity. In compliance with Section 16 of the constitution, I herewith set forth briefly some of the principles that shall guide my course in the event that I am returned to office as one of the delegates.

In the reconstructive period that lies ahead of us, and the onward march of civilization, it has become obvious to the enlightened workers that organization is most essential to their welfare, and that it is necessary to extend the scope and possibilities of the organized movement so that it may embody all of the workers in every field of labor and industry, and become a greater potential force and beneficent safeguard in protecting the rights of collective bargaining, as well as the individual against the exploitation of unjust employers and the tyranny of greed and oppression.

The standard of fair compensation must be maintained by the worker, and the basic wages paid to labor not be permitted to descend below the purchasing power of the dollar—or that which is equivalent in compensation to the procuring of necessities and comforts of life, in accordance with the American standard of living.

"In union there is strength." The Cigar Makers' International Union is an integral part of the parent body—the American Federation of Labor, the recognized labor movement, which holds among its fundamental principles the amelioration and alleviation of the burdens of the workers.

It should be the endeavor of those who represent our union to at all times strive to build up and broaden the general labor movement, and especially promote and strengthen the hand of the Cigar Makers' Union in gathering into the fold the unorganized in all branches of the industry.

There should be no hard and fast rule which would destroy a better understanding between the employer and employee, towards the accomplishment of that end, but the militant work of organization and educating the public, and stimulating the ranks of labor by molding them into a more cohesive and formidable body, along co-operative, comprehensive and constructive lines of trade unionism should be diligently pursued.

We are confronted with stern realities in the economic plan of industry, and no amount of theorizing or chasing the "will-o-the-wisp" under the guise of "progressivism" or some new and untried plan which is heralded as a panacea can extricate the worker from the task which involves his labor. The issue must be met in a formidable way and combatted by practicable methods through economic and legislative efforts which will insure permanent relief and a lasting benefit to humanity on its triumphant march to a better plane of equality.

Respectfully,

R. S. SEXTON.

Local Union 110, Washington, D. C.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 25, 1920.

Dear Sirs and Brothers:

This will advise you that in accepting the nomination as Delegate to the American Federation of Labor that I do so at the request of many friends, and that if elected it will be my aim to bring together all of the interests of labor as closely as possible, that the producer may get a greater share of that which he produces than they receive now under our present system.

I believe in organization of the workers in their various trade unions, but believe that there should be a closer affiliation of all those unions, i. e., the building trades, metal trades, mining trades, railway workers, as well as miscellaneous trades, and shall work to that end; as well as work to that end of a most thorough organization of all of the workers, and having at all times the interest of our International Union and its membership.

Thanking the membership for their confidence in behalf of my candidacy and assuring all of my best efforts at all times in behalf of the Cigar Makers' International Union of A., I am

Fraternally yours,

E. G. HALL.

Fifth Vice President.

Chicago, Ill.

Fellow Members:

With deep appreciation I accept the nomination for delegate. I have always held to the view and advocated that the American Federation of Labor should be a close bound organization of workers for offensive and defensive purposes. The need for such unity was never more apparent, with open shop campaign of the Chambers of Commerce in full swing. The bosses fight en masse, so must the workers.

However, we can be honest and say it is a fight between the producing class and the job owning class; while the profiteers, always hypocritical, call the open shop the patriotic American plan of industry.

As a delegate I have always opposed the Civic Federation, which happily, I think, has now been exposed to all as a crafty servant of the interests. I opposed the League of Nations, holding it to be a major organization designed to defend profits and the profit system and to provide an international police force to take care of unruly workers wherever found.

I have opposed the policy of labor's representatives bowing into and being bowed out of capitalistic political party conventions. The promises made to labor during the war and the subsequent actions of "political friends of labor" should, in my judgment, put a stop to such foolishness forever. In the above positions, most times I have been in the minority, yet happy to be so, believing that I was making a stand against the forces of mammon in the interest of the working class.

The tide of reaction is now at its flood, but the age-long fight for freedom cannot fail, and moreover the renewed war will be for control of the world by the workers. With the end of that war, will be peace.

Fraternally yours,

J. MAHLON BARNES.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 27, 1920.

Fellow Members:

In accepting the nomination for Delegate to the A. F. of L. given me by so many of our locals, I wish to say that I believe in energetic organization of all branches of labor into a closer knit industrial form of organization. The employing class is showing you that it is a more effective form for them. So it is to us. Therefore, I favor revision of the basic laws of the A. F. of L. so as to make it an effective central organization, not merely an advisory one.

Whether a man is English, Russian, French, German or any other nationality, his labor is needed in the co-operative social thing he works at. His mind has been neglected, in that he has been told that it is radical, foreign, to think of organizing industrially; that he must join the union of his craft, but ignore rights of others in intercourse with employers. That is how we have lost so many strikes. Let experience teach us to get away from this and start building an industrial organization which is to occupy its rightful place in the labor movement. For my part I do not care to be a delegate to conventions just to have a good time and without a real interest for the uplift of my class. I am for real progress, and will work for it if elected.

Thanking the members for their support,

Fraternally,

L. P. HOFFMAN.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 28, 1920.

To the Officers and Members of the Cigar Makers' International Union.

Greeting:

I am herewith accepting the nomination as Delegate to the American Federation of Labor to represent the Cigar Makers' International Union in that body. The same rule that applies to the accepting of a nomination for any other office in the International seems to hold good in regard to a delegateship to the American Federation of Labor, and in response to the requirements that my views shall be given as to the aims and objects of the American Federation of Labor. I have this to say, that I believe that the American Federation of Labor should continue its policy of organizing into trade unions all the workers within its jurisdiction, and its objects should be the closest federation without interference with the autonomy of internationals or local unions. I am in favor of eliminating wherever possible jurisdictional lines by the amalgamation of organizations within an industry, but am not now, nor do I believe that shall be convinced, that there is any logic or reason in the one big union idea. I believe that education is the chief means of raising the standards of the American working people, and I consider the greatest mission that the American Federation of Labor has is to continue in spite of all opposition to educate, agitate and organize until the wholesome and necessary changes affecting the lives of working people will be consummated.

Fraternally yours,

E. J. STACK.

To the Officers and Members of Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

Dear Sirs and Brothers:

I herewith accept the nomination for Delegate to the American Federation of Labor conventions of the Cigar Makers' International Union.

I am heartily in accord with the aims and objects of the American Federation of Labor and the trade union principles of organization as expressed.

I believe in adhering strictly to the trade union principles as now advocated by the American Federation of Labor, with such changes from time to time as may be deemed necessary.

If elected, I promise to represent the interests, laws and policy of our International Union as expressed by the constitution and resolutions adopted, and assure the members that I will use my best efforts to further the trade union movement in general and the interests of the Cigar Makers' International Union in particular, if I should be elected and have the honor to represent our organization at the American Federation of Labor conventions.

Fraternally,

HENRY F. HILFERS.

Chicago, Nov. 20, 1920.

In accordance with constitution, I am hereby notifying you of my acceptance of the nomination for Delegate to the A. F. of L.

Permit me to express sincere appreciation of the honor bestowed by the various locals who have seen fit to present my name as their choice as one of the Delegates to the A. F. of L.

To be deemed worthy to serve the interests of your fellow craftsmen in any capacity is an honor. To be deemed fit to serve in the capacity of delegate to what I consider the foremost labor council in the entire world becomes a distinction.

The C. M. I. U. has played more than a passing part in the formation and perpetuation of the American labor movement. It should be our aim, and it would become my duty, if elected, to lend our best efforts toward the expression through the A. F. of L. of those ideals of constructive trades unionism that has put American labor in the forefront of the world's progress.

We must provide for the expansion of our hopes. We must legislate to retain the good things so far accomplished. We must inaugurate new and better things for the future. This can be accomplished only through solidarity and my efforts in any capacity I may in the future serve will be to the end that makes for but one union in our industry. Our policies must be so shaped that we may serve the best interests of all those who work in our industry and our goal must be the organization of every person in the industry under the banner of the C. M. I. U.

Yours fraternally,
R. E. VAN HORN.

San Juan, P. R., Nov. 22, 1920.

Realizing the responsibility involved, I gratefully accept the 26 nominations so spontaneously tendered for the office of Delegate to the American Federation of Labor.

I firmly stand for the preamble of our constitution and will continue to strive to make effective such principles by enlisting in our union all the workers of our industry, regardless of the branch in which they are employed. Class B members legislation shall powerfully help in the accomplishment.

If we want to perpetuate our organization we should maintain undividedly all the benefits we enjoy at the present, and also grant the unemployed member an out of work stamp in lieu of the weekly due and assessments from the first week of unemployment and until such member shall have secured employment.

I believe in an adequate due without splitting up our strength so that we can meet all our obligations and spend our money when and where more urgently needed.

In my letter of acceptance for this same office in the last election, published in the issues of our Journal for December, 1915, and January, 1916, I stated, among other things, what follows:

"I have a strong conviction that we shall enjoy much more progress and that this will be much better if the necessary efforts are made to succeed in organizing the cigar makers in Cuba."

Such efforts were made with splendid results. Cuba has at this time a strong national organization of the trade firmly based upon trade union principles. The ideals cherished by me were accomplished.

In May of this year I was appointed by President Perkins to visit Cuba for the purpose of negotiating an agreement with the Cuban Cigar Makers' Federation and it was my pleasure and privilege to draft and negotiate the "Covenant of Friendly and Reciprocal Relations for the best protection of the trade and the practice of solidarity," as published in the September, 1920, issue of our Journal, and which was unanimously approved by our International Executive Board. Kindly read it.

Results of this covenant have been already felt. Thousands of our members on strike in Tampa have been welcomed in Cuba and work provided for them by the Cuban Cigar Makers' Federation because of membership. Those reading our Official Journal for June to September of this year know how the Cuban Federation of Cigar Makers is practicing solidarity. Those Journals briefly tell you that in the neighborhood of $125,000.00 have been generously donated by them to the Tampa strikers up to that date.

Now, why should we not intend connection by similar bonds of solidarity with Cigar Makers' Federations of South and Central America and Mexico for general defense of the trade, and a simultaneous action with the United States, Canada and Cuba to abolish piece work?

Don't you care for the always increasing importation of millions of cheap cigars from the Philippine Islands, where the trust controls? Wouldn't you favor with me a resolution in the A. F. of L. convention to make a thorough investigation of the cigar industry in the Philippines by a competent committee appointed and paid by the A. F. of L.?

P. RIVERA MARTINEZ.

Danbury, Conn.

In accordance with the constitution, in accepting the nomination as a delegate to represent the C. M. I. U. of A. at the conventions of the A. F. of L., will briefly state my views on three important things necessary to success—Organization, Education and Legislation.

Organization.

First we must organize all the workers in our craft. And in order to do this every member of the C. M. I. U. of A. should become an organizer and build up that which is ours and ours alone, the C. M. I. U. of A. We have too many tearing down our organization. They should cease, as we have enough on the outside; until this is done all efforts will be in vain.

Education.

We should educate our members as to their duty to their organization and also other organizations. As we do not live by ourselves alone, as we produce something but do not consume it, and we depend on others to help in making our conditions. The Union Label Department should be a greater factor than they are at the present time. We should all demand goods bearing the Union Label. And some plan should be adopted to regulate the use of the Union Label. We should not only look for shop conditions and the bill of prices but should also pass on the quality of the goods that are to bear the Union Label and that we are to ask our friend to purchase same. This holds good for other organizations, but we should remedy this at once if we hope to make our Union Label the factor it should be.

Legislation.

Legislation beneficial to the C. M. I. U. of A. can only come when we are thoroughly organized and our members educated, when they know their strength and have a good organization at their back. Not till then can we hope to accomplish the things we organized for. Our present bill of prices is not all, shop conditions and a minimum rate of wages, or in other words, an earning power. When we can show those outside our organization what can be done by becoming members of the C. M. I. U. of A. A union shop should have a greater earning power than those not entitled to the Union Label. The Union Label has class in many sections of the country and the goods should have class also if they carry the Union Label.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN H. RILEY.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 16, 1920.

I accept the nomination for Delegate to the American Federation of Labor and thank the locals who have placed me in nomination.

In order to improve the conditions of the worker the first step is organization; next, the shorter work day. The raising of the school age and the maintaining of an American standard of living. The A. F. of L., realizing we are all links in the same chain, was organized for the purpose of promoting unity of action and is the only force in the labor movement that has accomplished anything. It is evolutionary. It changes with changed conditions. Its laws are those enacted by the majority. Every organization of wage earners should affiliate with it. It is composed of the representatives of American labor. We are part of it. Its success means ours. It is democratic. It is what we make it. I believe in its policy and if elected will do what I can to promote the interest in organized labor and the union label, which is the keystone of the arch.

Yours fraternally,
HENRY ABRAHAMS.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 22, 1920.

I accept the nomination as Delegate to the American Federation of Labor for the following reasons: Its motto is "Labor Omnia Vincit," which means in plain English, "Labor conquers all." For labor to conquer all it must do so economically and politically. The first it is doing. The second it must begin to do. Organize a national labor party along the lines of:

1st. To make the trade union state the state of the nation as a whole.

2nd. That all the land and workshops and public utilities be conscripted for the control by the A. F. of L. in the interest of all the people.

3rd. That the hours of work be six per day, or in proportion so that all male and females, 18 years of age or over, shall have the right to work, who so desire.

4th. That each respective national union shall designate what shall constitute an average day's work, when working day work. Piece workers to so decide for their own best interests what shall constitute a day's work, or their bill of prices.

5th. That the remuneration shall be $1.00 per hour.

We must put human rights above property rights in the fields of wealth production. We must organize a state where the youth of the nation will be able to enter the married state with a guarantee of steady work, so that prostitution and all diseases flowing from it shall cease, giving us a nation of strong men and women, intellectually and physically. We must stand for the complete elimination of poverty, with all its woes and anguish and suffering. The A. F. of L. must be the only positive force opposing war with all its horrors and destructiveness to the people. We are the only great force in the nation today which carries within our unions the great co-operative spirit of the working millions of all the ages. Seeing in every man and woman a part of the supreme being of the universe, we should organize to usher in to the very life blood of the nation health, joy, justice and plenty for all, the whole nation smiling in happiness and contentment. These must be some of the aims of organized labor through the A. F. of L. to bring into daily existence "Labor Omnia Vincit." For labor to conquer all the A. F. of L. must be made the vanguard of labor's highest aspirations. Thanking the members of the various locals for the honor bestowed in nominating me as a delegate, I ever remain, yours in the great cause of labor.

Fraternally,
CHARLES F. CLAUS.

Denver, Colorado.

Having been officially notified that my name has been placed in nomination for Delegate to the American Federation of Labor, beg to say that I accept the nomination and declare a general adherence to the policies of the A. F. of L. as set forth in its platform which, among other things, stands for the shorter work day with adequate pay, sanitary work shops, the right of collective bargaining with the employer, protection of women in industry; more stringent immigration laws, compulsory educational laws, the elimination of children in factories and mills as employees, arbitration of difficulties with the employer before the difficulty starts, with the aim of avoiding long drawn out, disastrous strikes, if possible, yet reserving the right to strike on short notice when unfair advantages have been taken of the working men and women. Better and more thorough preparation for strikes and more deliberation on matters that lead up to strikes. I believe that the question of strikes should first be referred to a competent committee, whose duty it should be to investigate every phase of the situation or grievance, after which it should be submitted to a referendum of the members involved and their decision be final. I favor any workable system of co-operation in the production and sale of the necessities of the working men and women and their families. The restriction of any class of immigration that there is not hopes of raising to the American standard of citizenship. I do not look with favor on the so called progressive ideas that would tear down what we have built before having better material to replace it. Nor do I favor the one big union idea that would destroy the autonomy of craft unions. I advocate more loyalty on the part of the members of organized labor in the purchase of label goods or goods that are known to be the product of organized labor, and that less perfection should be required of our officers and more aimed at by the critics.

The foregoing remarks are a few of my sentiments relating to the labor movement and are herewith submitted for the consideration of the membership at our coming election for International officers and delegates to the A. F. of L., Feb. 12th, 1921.

Fraternally,
J. W. SANFORD.

Reading, Pa., 1920.

To the Officers and Members of Cigarmakers' International Union.

I have accepted the nomination for delegate to the A. F. of L. and in compliance with the constitution I hereby state my views on policies that should govern the A. F. of L. I have attended several conventions of the Federation and my observation has been that the Federation is "top-heavy." The officers and the Executive Council make reports and recommendations that are referred to committees, who in turn report, and in nearly every instance recommend that the policies and recommendations and even changes in the constitution be adopted by the convention. Many questions that should be settled by action of the convention are referred to the Executive Council. This has resulted in placing a great deal more power in the hands of the Executive Council than I believe that body should have. I believe that the A. F. of L. should be a democratic organization not only in name but in fact and that the policies and activities of the organization should be changed from time to time as conditions change. That more time and attention should be given to the educational work, so that the members of the various unions will have a clearer understanding of just why they are trade unionists. This, I think, could be accomplished by reducing the number of organizers and appointing men who are qualified to teach and lecture on economic subjects. I think that more attention should be given to the development of the co-operative movement. That the departments of the Federation should be reorganized and the various unions grouped on the basic industry plan.

I am in full accord with the present position of the Federation in the matter of dual organizations. Every delegate representing an organization should be given the fullest opportunity to assist in defining and fixing the policy of the organization, and when a policy has been agreed upon, all members of the organization should support that policy. I have no sympathy with the element that stands for a fixed, definite thing, and if they fail to have it adopted, refuse their support, and in some cases actually knock and create dissension within our ranks. We should all be democratic enough to support the opinion of the majority.

If I am elected to represent the Cigarmakers International Union, I shall consider it my duty to support the constitution of the American Federation of Labor and to work for the cause of labor through that organization.

Yours fraternally,

A. P. BOWER.

Buffalo, 1920.

Fellow Craftsmen:

While the views expressed below may not be in strict accordance with Section 16 of our constitution, calling on me, as a candidate for Delegate to the A. F. of L., to express my views as to the aims and objects of the C. M. I. U., I wish to state briefly that:

If the C. M. I. U. would live and thrive as it should, the element of destructive membership must be eliminated in its entirety.

The constitution provides benefits, all of which I approve, that will be cast to the four winds unless the conservative forces within our organization exercise extreme caution.

Some of the questions that have recently arisen have accomplished the only result they so richly deserve—defeat. I have no patience with the man who would destroy me, and whatever influence I may possess I shall use in an effort to defeat him; for ultimately it is either he or I who must be wiped off the books.

I stand with the conservative element of the C. M. I. U., and have so stood ever since my initiation in 1890. I have always voted "yes" on all constructive measures and always will until such time as it can be proved to me that I may be of some benefit to humanity by voting for destruction.

It is my firm conviction that the influence exerted by the A. F. of L. upon the labor movement is of a highly beneficial character, tending always to the uplift of the man who toils, and I am just as firmly convinced that without that influence the plight of the working man would indeed be a sorry one.

Fraternally yours,

JOHN HADIDA.

St. Louis, Mo., 1920.

In accepting the nomination as Delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention permit me to state that I have been a member of Cigar Makers' Union No. 44 of St. Louis, Mo., since Jan. 10, 1886, and have had and still have the honor of being secretary and treasurer of the said local since April, 1898. My principles are trade unionism first, last and all the time, but I think the time has come when organized labor must organize in the political field as well as in the economic field. I believe in organizing the unorganized and I believe in the American Federation of Labor, and I think some great changes can be made in the said body. For instance, the creation of a strike fund of at least $5.00 per capita so the said body will be in a position to fight the battles of organized labor with the same weapon that capital is using, namely money. It is my firm belief that if organized labor had a backing of this kind we would have less strikes to contend with. Some say this can not be accomplished because a great number are not willing to stand the gaff. This may be true in the beginning, but it will be overcome. I hold a cock that is not willing to stand the gaff has no business in the pit. Some say, how are you going to handle and regulate this strike fund? Answer, let us get the law creating it and we will get the laws to govern it. I do not believe in the manner and the mode of the A. F. of L. at the present by approving a strike and sending out begging letters in its support, as the willing ones come to the assistance and others pass it up. The feeling of the cause of one should be the cause of all and all stand the burden alike.

Respectfully yours,

ED. H. HEILMAN.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 27, 1920.

Fellow Members:

The notice of my nomination for delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor impressed me deeply, and whether successful or not in the candidacy, it will stand as an inspiration to me of a great duty by everyone to do his part to the extent of his ability in promoting the welfare and standards of his fellow human beings. With this ideal in mind the nomination is accepted.

If elected my actions will be in accord with my positive belief that the American trade union movement, as typified and co-ordinated under the American Federation of Labor, has been, is now and will continue to be the one sane, effective and progressive movement promotive of the best interests of the working class. This because it is never revolutionary, but always evolutionary, by taking into consideration ever changing conditions of industry and of human needs, ambitions and standards, legislating with the purpose in view of expanding opportunities for the acquirement by the man and woman of labor of all things material and otherwise that enter into enlarged and fuller lives.

At this time I am fully conscious of the organization of the reactionary part of employers and financiers to nullify all of the past successes of the trade union movement, so that their greed and selfishness may be fully satisfied without hindrance, in the control not only of industry, but of the lives and standards of living of the working people. Their activity is carefully timed to the period of readjustment incident to the recent greatest destruction of human life and property known to mankind. The trade union movement, and no other, can successfully meet this powerful organization, so if elected I will firmly stand for every right, benefit and advantage thus far acquired in the interest of the working man and woman, and I will work and vote for every change found necessary, after full and free discussion, to place the trade union movement in position to defend and promote the welfare of the men and women of labor.

Fraternally yours,

CARL KRAEMER.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 25, 1920.

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Having been favored with the nomination of Delegate to the American Federation of Labor, it becomes my duty to say a few words giving my views and methods in which to still further push forward the movement of the International Union and its constant partner. It has been my privilege to have been a member of the Cigar Makers' International Union for upwards of 28 years and during that time have done in my humble way those things which would assist our organization and organized labor as a whole. Through my affiliation with the Central Labor Council of Cincinnati I have been enabled to enlist the services of some 50,000 trade unionists of this city in our behalf. That my efforts have not been in vain is attested by the fact that at the present time non-employment of our members is the lowest for many years. The work of educating the general public along the line of asking for and demanding the union label upon all products has met with signal success in Cincinnati, and the assistance given by myself in the movement has materially assisted in the creating of a greater demand for the union label upon our product. I have been an active member of the Trade Union Label League and have received the unqualified support of all the trades unions of this city and thousands of men who do not hold membership in the ranks of organized labor.

Should I be elected to the position to which I have been nominated it is hardly necessary for me to say that it will be my privilege to do my utmost to still further spread the gospel of greater opportunities for all men and, especially those who are affiliated with our International Union to forge ahead. Eight hours for work, eight hours for recreation, eight hours for sleep and a wage which will permit the enjoyment of all three. In the 28 years with which I have been associated with you and the labor movement I have found that co-operation with other organizations has been of great value and that in giving publicity to conditions as they affect the unorganized worker has shown hosts of men that the men and women affiliated with the Cigar Makers' International Union are worthy of the support, and in the Queen City of the West we have received the support to a very considerable degree.

If elected I will do all that is in my power to further the cause of all affiliated organizations of the A. F. of L. That means his freedom, his liberty and his union rights to work as a free man. Fraternally yours,

JOHN L. GILLIAM.

New York, 1920.

Fellow Workers:

In accepting the nomination for Delegate to the A. F. of L., I desire to state that my sole aim and object is to try my utmost to help perfecting the organization in accordance with modern views and ideals that we have been confronted with in the last few years. I believe that the A. F. of L. should have the power to supervise agreements entered upon by unions under its jurisdiction wherever more than one craft is involved, to the end that the interests of all concerned are safeguarded, and not allow a single craft to sign up with the employer to the detriment of the others.

Furthermore, the same principle should also apply to strifes and struggles within a national or international organization, to the end that the wish of the majority of its members should prevail. This would prevent the many secession movements that have occurred from time to time.

I do not believe that justice to the toiling masses can, nor that it was ever achieved, at the banquet table or at social gatherings. Events of the last few years have proven conclusively that whatever promises were made to labor by those in power when they needed labor, support were all repudiated the moment they had to make good their promises.

Organized labor must fight on for its existence at all times and should never expect anything from others nor surrender any of its achieved rights upon the request of others.

Labor has no friends outside of its own ranks, therefore the policy "to reward your friends and punish your enemies" politically is absurd. The existing political parties (excepting the socialist) are all subsidized by the employing class—friends and foes alike must do their bidding.

The example set forth by the British trade union movement in establishing a labor party should be encouraged and followed by the American labor movement.

Space will not permit me to go into details about the many changes necessary to make the A. F. of L. the aggressive and abreast of the times organization it should be. Suffice it to say that if elected I will endeavor my best to work to that end in conjunction with the numerous others already there. In conclusion I thank the locals that honored me with this nomination.

Yours fraternally,

JACOB RHINE.

The following became eligible as candidates by reason of the declination of nominees with a greater number of nominations, after the issuance of the November Journal:

Members who became eligible as candidates by reason of the declination of some of those on the eligible list, published in the November Journal, were notified and given an opportunity to qualify by writing letters of acceptance for publication in the December and January Journals in compliance with Section 12, paragraph 4, and Section 16, of the Constitution. Those who sent letters of acceptance are the eligible candidates and their names will go on the official ballot.

Those who were eligible but did not qualify by sending letter of acceptance, decline with thanks and appreciation to the unions that nominated them.

CORRECTION.

Union 329 states that through an oversight on their part, Mr. Samuel Gompers was recorded as one of the delegates nominated as delegate to the A. F. of L. instead of H. Abrahams.

Correction—The number of nominations received by Mr. L. P. Hoffman for Second Vice-President, was erroneously published in the November issue as 376; it should have been 276.

It has occurred in a few instances where a member was nominated and the place of residence plainly given on the nomination blank, and a notice of nomination and eligibility mailed to the nominee in care of the secretary of the local union, that the notice has been returned to this office, just before the Journal went to press, with the statement written on the envelope, "Not here."

Always refer to your Constitution when your interests are involved.

When a member changes from the 60c to the 40c list or retires absolutely, all previous cards should be returned to the International Union.

Unions when notifying this office of change in secretary will please at once give the new secretary's address.

Section 131 distinctly and plainly states: "No sick or out of work benefit shall be paid to members adjudged to be insane." All amounts so paid are illegal. No dues shall be collected from any insane member.

The International Union will not authorize payment of death benefit except in strict compliance with the law. Several cases have occurred in which there has been no will, no widow, no minor children, and no dependent relatives, but other relatives have stepped in and demanded the death benefit. No such claims have been recognized for the payment of benefits authorized. The International Union furnishes the designation blanks free, and where members refuse or neglect to fill out such designation blanks the responsibility for the non-payment of benefits rests entirely with such members.

Secretaries may use the numbers of deceased and suspended members for new members—except numbers belonging to those owing loan accounts.

In several instances where cards have been stolen from members, secretaries had granted the thieves loans without demanding to see the due books showing their standing. No loans should be granted unless the party has both card and due book and in proper condition.

Members out of work are not entitled to the sixteen weeks' privileges unless they notify the secretary weekly before the eighth week. This includes traveling members, who should always carry a certificate and have same signed weekly.

In reporting the death of a member, secretaries should send in with such reports the card of the member, if he had one, having previously, however, taken a record of all necessary information thereon for future reference.

Also, as per Section 145, give full record of membership, as far as your own records show. If there is a will on file send it to the International office. In order that you may fully understand the necessity of complying with the request carefully study Section 141c of the Constitution. Remember that "verbal wills" do not comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

Section 140c of the Constitution first distinctly provides that members may designate the person or persons to whom the death benefit shall be paid. Secondly, it provides that if there be no such designation the death benefit shall be paid to the widow of such deceased member; if there is no widow, then to the minor children of such deceased member, and if there be no widow and no minor children of such deceased member, then to any relative of the deceased member who at the time of his death was dependent for support in whole or in part.

Official Notice.

In compliance with Section 180 of the Constitution, the International Executive Board levied a running weekly assessment of 50c to replenish the General Fund, on each sixty-cent, forty-cent and thirty-cent member.

This assessment takes the place of the $1.00 assessment, which is discontinued Sept. 15.

NOTICE TO SECRETARIES.

Many requests are received for blank monthly reports about this time. Monthly blanks are mailed from Jan. 13 to 16 to the corresponding secretary of each union and contain the following supplies for the year:

- 24 Financial statements.
- 12 Label reports.
- 12 State of trade.
- 12 Sick and out of work.
- 2 Officers' reports.
- 10 Supply orders.

Secretaries who do not receive the package within a reasonable time should make inquiries at the post office, and if it is not there, they should notify this office at once so the proper inquiries may be made.

DECISIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

J. Nathan and Henrietta Nathan appealed against 129 Denver, Colo., for fining them $100 and expelling them from the union. The appeal against expulsion from the union is sustained. On the appeal against the fine the decision is that the fine be reduced to $25.

J. Blum appealed against 1 Baltimore, Md. for suspending him. The appeal was sustained.

C. Hathaway appealed against 10 Providence for making a change in one of its clauses in its bill of prices. The appeal was not sustained.

W. J. Hevey appealed against 27 Toronto, Canada, for withdrawing him as a delegate from the Central Labor Union for some difference over politics. The decision is that Union 27 Toronto has a right to elect its own delegates as per the will of the majority, but should not withdraw a delegate except for a specific violation of strictly trade union matters.

Mrs. J. J. Lynch appealed against 14 Chicago for suspending her for nonpayment of dues and assessments. The appeal was not sustained.

M. Palmer appealed against 480 Sanford, Fla., for fining him. The appeal on advice of the union is sustained.

W. Hier appealed against 278 London, Ont., for compelling him to pay in cash a fine of $100.00. The appeal was sustained. The constitution specifically permits the payment of fines on a percentage plan.

Fred Gerrard appealed against 333 Eureka, Calif., for fining him $10 for calling a fellow member a scab. The union states that the charge was false and maliciously made. The appeal was not sustained.

Peter DeJong appealed against 92 Worcester for fining him for failure to parade on Labor Day. The appeal was not sustained.

H. M. Kaiser appealed against 25 Milwaukee for suspending him for nonpayment of dues and assessments. The appeal was not sustained.

R. H. Smith appealed against 123 Hamilton, O., for refusing him the use of the union label. The appeal was not sustained.

A. Hurtado appealed against 97 Boston for suspending for nonpayment of dues and assessments. The appeal was not sustained.

J. C. Penser appealed against 498 Everett, Wash., reference the non-enforcement of the eight-hour day. The union replies that the matter has been corrected and that the appellant is satisfied. The appeal was not sustained.

Albert Metzger appealed against 187 Covington, Ky., reference the minimum selling price of cigars. The appeal was sustained.

H. E. Reinich appealed against 168 Oshkosh, Wis., for holding him for an illegal sick benefit. The appeal was not sustained.

INTERNATIONAL FINES

The International Executive Board approved the application of Union 222, Peru, Ill., to fine the following $100 each: Charles Dorf, Theo. Blum, and Peter Blum, for operating a non-union factory; Nate Nicoli for working in a non-union factory, and Thomas Daugherty for working in a non-union factory after taking a retiring card; also to annul the card of Thos. Daugherty. Vote—Affirmative, 5; one member approved fine of $50, and one member approved fine of $25.

Approved the application of 98, St. Paul, to fine Dennis Garvey, 104338, $100 for selling non-union cigars. Vote—Affirmative, 7; one member approved only $50.

Approved the application of 202, Portland, to fine F. L. Wilcox, 64779, $100 for taking a job in the Jorgen Hansen closed shop at Eugene, Ore. Vote—Affirmative, 7; one member approved only $50.

Approved the application of 32, Louisville, to fine Miss Olivia Hagan, 2553, for working in the F. R. Rice strike shop, but reduced the fine from $200 to $100. Vote—Affirmative for $200, 4; three members approved $100, and one member approved $50.

Approved the application of 22, Detroit, to fine Abe Zimmerman, 21531, $25 for going to work in a non-union cigar factory. Vote—Affirmative, 7; negative, 0.

Approved the application of 184, Bay City, to fine John Jan Koviak $25 for working in the non-union factory of the General Cigar Co. Vote—Affirmative, 7; negative, 0.

Approved the application of 25, Milwaukee, to fine the following members $50 each and annul their cards for going to work in a strike shop: Steve Hudec, 27469; Fred Wagner, 8654; Ben Spier, 8585; Ella Meyer, 8480; Emma Meyer, 8481; Herman Eckhart, 8832; Jac. Ulrich, 8624; H. Simmert, 8579; Chas. Zastrow, 8696; Wm. C. Zeigler, 8699; Pauline Bienat, 8282; Sylvester Pokorney, 8870; Sam Samuels, 8871; Chas. Cohen, 8325; Sam Berlin, 8289; Isidor Brisgall, 8302; Jac. Bureta, 2702; Anton Fuchs, 8852; Louis Grapentin, 8853; Val. Kuzba, 8383; Jac. Kronenburger, 8823; Fred Klefer, 8906; Jac. Muehnick, 8449; Chas. Maske, 8491; Mary Ross, 8589; Wm. J. Wilson, 8657; Fannie Sbrill, 8873; Edw. Hallisch, 8903; Max Dittrich, 8909. Vote—Affirmative, 6; one member approved the fine, but not annulment of cards.

UNION NOTES

At the last Regular Meeting Union 193, Manchester, voted to exonerate Mr. M. Sandberg of the charges for which he was convicted last December. The Body respectfully recommends that the Fine of $25.00 be rescinded and Mr. Sandberg's name be cleared of the stain against it, on the books in your office. It is further recommended that notice of same be published in the Official Journal.

Fraternally yours,

R. B. HAYES, Secy. No. 192.

Traveling members are requested to stay away from Denver, Colorado, as there are no jobs open and a number are out of work. No cards will be accepted until all are employed again.

The secretary of Union 20, Decatur, Ill. would like to have the address of Frank Eaton, 63047.

Attention—Secretaries are requested to please inform Union 25, Milwaukee, Wis., if any of the following brands of cigars are sold in your jurisdiction:—Mi Lola, Alcasar, Mi Carman, M. A. C., Lovita, Old Q.

Union 97, Boston, Mass. Yes, we donated $114.96 to the Tampa kiddies for Christmas. Go thou and do likewise.—Yes, we donated $50 to Carney hospital aid, $51 to the news girls locked out by the Elevated R. R. These are some of the things that has given 97 its prestige.—We did not forget the boys in Tampa, for we have sent over $10,000.—These are not the times to form a dual organization and employers say divide and conquer.—No reduction, no lowering the standard of living.—Who is financing the Tampa kiddies for Christmas. Go thou and do likewise.—New England Conference doing good work.—New England is loyal.—Label Committee has some good ads in all of our papers. As usual, we are distributing calendars. This is a 12 months' ad.—While you boom your own label be consistent, don't forget the other fellows.—There will be some hard sleighing but we will reach the goal.—Manufacturers have tried in the past to destroy the trade union, but they failed and will do so again. If they succeeded, we would need an army in every city.—We used 4,000,000 labels this year.—Henry Abrahams.

J. W. Sanford, Secretary-treasurer of 129, Denver, Colo., notifies H. D. Althouse (23401) that he gave Mr. Althouse $1.50 too much change when he gave him his card Nov. 6.

The amendment of 37, Fort Wayne, as published in the November issue, as follows: Add to Section 150: It shall be optional with local unions to compel union cigar manufacturers to place the union label on all cigars manufactured in such shops.

Received the endorsement of Unions 92, Worcester; 218, Binghamton.

Union No. 353 proposes the following special amendment in aid of the Tampa strike:

As soon as any amendment in aid of Tampa strike is endorsed by the required number of unions, it shall be put to a popular vote under the same regulations as govern strike applications.

Union 74, Poughkeepsie, offers the following amendment:

Amend Section 117 by adding after the word due stamp on third line, or assessments levied, so as to read:

Sec. 117. Any member having paid weekly dues for a period of one year shall be granted an out of work stamp, which shall be credited to members in lieu of the weekly due stamp and assessments levied, of the denomination and in the class to which said member belongs, providing he or she shall be out of work for at least two weeks. No other change.

Union 97, Boston, offers the following amendment to the constitution: Strike out Sections 117 and 118 and insert the following. Section 117 to read:

Any member having paid weekly dues and assessments and in good standing for a period of one year losing his or her job shall report to the secretary of the local union at least twice a week and said member shall be exempt from all dues and assessments until such time as the member shall be again employed. No benefit will be granted for the first week of unemployment.

Section 118 to read:

But in no case will a member receive other benefits provided for in the constitution until he or she has paid 52 weeks dues and assessments.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 29, 1920.

Union 74, Poughkeepsie. Amendment to Section 117: In framing the new law to Section 117 the intent no doubt was to at least keep the member out of work in good standing so as to retain his membership, but something had been overlooked—for certainly if he cannot pay the dues he cannot pay any assessments or anything else while out of work, so it behooves those more fortunate and possessing an honest intent to forbear with his unfortunate brother by supporting this amendment.

GEO. F. HITZ,
Secy.-Treas., Union 74.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29, 1920.

Union 97 is submitting two (2) amendments to the International constitution, namely, Sections 117-118. Herewith are a few reasons why we want other locals to second and finally vote for same:

The "out-of-work" benefit today is unfair and unjust to the members who are unfortunate enough to be out of work. Just think, a member must report twice weekly for seven weeks and in return gets credit for six weeks' dues; then wait for six more weeks before he can sign the "out-of-work" book, and so on until he receives 18 "out-of-work" stamps in one year.

How about the other 34 weeks that he is on the bricks? And in addition to this injustice, he is compelled to pay all International assessments and only allowed 16 weeks limit on dues and assessments.

Where is a member going to get money to pay dues when he has no job? Getting something to eat, I think, is hard enough.

Now, fellow members, our amendment means this: As long as a member is out of work he shall be exempt from all dues and assessments by reporting twice a week. We increased the dues, which was necessary, and took away the out-of-work benefit. The least we can now do is to make it possible for the unfortunates to remain members of the International Union.

Let me illustrate the condition here: We pay ten (10) cents carfare each way, making 80 cents per week, 7 weeks, total $5.60. In return we get credit for six dues, making $3.60, thereby losing $2. Is this fair? We say NO! Give the man without a job a chance.

And inasmuch as we are facing an unemployment problem that will try the mettle of our International Union, especially in the cities where thorough organization does not exist, there is that danger of losing those members of but recent membership and that is the condition we desire to prevent.

We feel a space in the Journal on this amendment would be advisable and would possibly call forth further suggestions in favor of the amendments to safeguard the growth of our International Union.

Fraternalty yours,

WILLIAM F. KINDER,
Fin. Sec. & Treas., Union 97.

The Tampa Situation.

At this writing, December 8th, the news from Tampa, Florida, is meagre. We have received a telegram from Organizer Sontheimer stating that the Tampa Citizens' Committee have called upon him and warned him that he would be held responsible for the future conduct of the strike leaders and "agitators." I have just received the following clipping taken from The Artisan of Jacksonville, Florida, under date of Dec. 4th:

Just ten years ago to a day, December 4th, the Tampa Citizens' Committee has again taken the laws in its own hands by applying the same methods as in 1910.

This self-constituted band of law violators who committed nearly every offense ten years ago against the union cigarmakers in that memorable fight, who have been on strike since last April, opposing a decrease in wages and increasing hours of work, has again been re-organized and has visited the labor temple in Ybor City threatening that if the leaders did not stop the strike that they would be held responsible for the future conduct of the strikers.

About 50 business men, including bankers, merchants, and a general representative body of men, responsible for the upbuilding of the city and protecting its interests, called upon Sol Sontheimer at the Eighth Ave. labor hall, Wednesday morning, and with J. A. Griffin acting as spokesman, put Mr. Sontheimer on notice that he would be held responsible for the future conduct of the strike leaders and agitators. Mr. Sontheimer is the representative of the International Cigarmakers' Union, and is also a walking delegate of the American Federation of Labor. Many business men feel that Sontheimer is primarily responsible for some of the acts of intimidation towards the men who want to return to work.

Mr. Griffin, in his statement to the labor leader, informed him that the strikers had used every resource at hand to win the strike, but in failing had resorted to intimidation and the business people of Tampa would not stand for anything like that, saying that he, unless such intimidation ceased, would be called to task for the results.

To hold one man responsible for any acts that the citizens' committee or any individual might do places a responsibility upon Mr. Sontheimer that no officer of the law, including the sheriff, could shoulder.

There are still 13,000 union cigarmakers out of the Tampa factories and some have left the city, and if the citizens of Tampa think they can intimidate the union workers to return to their benches under present conditions, all remaining cigarmakers in Tampa will leave the state where better working conditions exist.

Our latest information is that despite the drastic action of the Citizens' Committee, which in plain English is a warning to Sontheimer to get out of the city, the strikers are standing firm, and just as determined as ever to win the strike.
